A PROPOSAL TO RAISE LICENSE FEES

So That Havelock Will Probably Have To Go Dry

Havelock, Ont., Jan. 30.—Havelock was very sorry when it did not vote on local option this year, so the ratepayers have taken another way of securing temperance in this town during this year until they can vote on local option next January.

They have petitioned the council to allow them to vote on a bylaw to raise the hotel license to $750, or over $500 more than last year.

The hotelkeepers will not pay such a high license, so it is likely Havelock will go dry on May 1st.

It is altogether likely that Havelock will carry local option next year.

GRAVE DISEASES, DUE TO STANDING

Facts About Miss Merkley's Dangerous Illness and Complete Cure.

Have you ever thought why so many women or girls rather walk an hour than stand still for ten minutes?

Miss Margret Merkley

It is because most women suffer from some derangement of their delicate organism, the discomfort of which is less trying when they are in motion than when standing.

In some states laws compel employers to provide resting places for their female employees.

But no amount of law can regulate the hard tasks of these women. They must get the strength which this work demands or run the risk of serious diseases and the surgeon's knife.

Read about the experience of Miss Margret Merkley, 275 3d Street, Milwaukee, Wis:—

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Gradual loss of strength, nervousness, bearing-down pains and extreme irritation compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor said I had diseased organs and ulceration, and advised an operation if I wanted to get well. I objected to this and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. I soon found that all the good things said about this great medicine were true. The ulceration soon healed, backache, headache and nervousness disappeared, and in a short time I was strong, vigorous and perfectly well. I wish every working girl who suffers would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a vegetable tonic which invigorates and strengthens the entire female organism, and will produce the same beneficial results in the cases of other sick women as with Miss Merkley.

you would be saved from complete ruin, and that you would become the Marquis of Edam.'

"'Oh, that is how you have worked it out, is it?' Arthur cried. 'And for me to become Lord Edam was it necessary that the woman should die, too?'

"'They will say,' Lyle answered, 'that she was a witness to the murder—that she would have told.'

"'Then why did I not kill the servant as well?' Arthur said.

"'He was asleep, and saw nothing.'

"'And you believe that?' Arthur demanded.

"'It is not a question of what I believe,' Lyle said gravely. 'It is a question for your peers.'

"Before we could stop him he sprang out of his cot and began pulling on his clothes. When the nurses tried to hold him down, he fought with them.

"'Do you think you can keep me here,' he shouted, 'when they are plotting to hang me? I am going with you to that house!' he cried at Lyle. 'When you find those bodies I shall be beside you. It is my right. He is my brother. He has been murdered, and I can tell you who murdered him. That woman murdered him. She first ruined his life, and now she has killed him. For the last five years she has been plotting to make herself his wife, and last night, when he told her he had discovered the truth about the Russian, and that she would never see him again, she flew into a passion and stabbed him, and then, in terror of the gallows, killed herself. She murdered him, I tell you, and I promise you that we will find the knife she used near her—perhaps still in her hand. What will you say to that?'

"Lyle turned his head away and stared down at the floor. 'I might say,' he answered, 'that you placed it there.'

"Arthur gave a cry of anger and sprang at him, and then pitched forward into his arms. The blood was running from the cut under the bandage, and he had fainted. Lyle carried him back to the bed again, and we left him with the police and the doctors, and drove at once to the address he had given us. We found the house not three minutes' walk from St. George's Hospital. It stands in Trevor Terrace, that little row of houses set back from Knightsbridge, with one end in Hill Street.

"As we left the hospital Lyle had said to me, 'You must not blame me for treating him as I did. All is fair in this work, and if by angering that boy I could have made him commit himself I was right in trying to do so; though, I assure you, no one would be better pleased than myself if I could prove his theory to be correct. But we cannot tell. Everything depends upon what we see for ourselves within the next few minutes.'

"When we reached the house, Lyle broke open the fastenings of one of the windows on the ground floor, and, hidden by the trees in the garden, we scrambled in. We found ourselves in the reception-room, which was the first room on the right of the hall. The gas was still burning behind the colored glass and red silk shades, and when the daylight streamed in after us it gave the hall a hideously dissipated look, like the foyer of a theater at a matinee, or the entrance to an all-day gambling hell. The house was oppressively silent, and because we knew why it was so silent we spoke in whispers. When Lyle turned the handle of the drawing-room door, I felt as though some one had put his hand upon my throat. But I followed close at his shoulder, and saw, in the subdued light of many-tinted lamps, the body of Chetney at the foot of the divan, just as Lieutenant Sears had described it. In the drawing-room we found the body of the Princess Zichy, her arms thrown out, and the blood from her heart frozen in an tiny line across her bare shoulder. But neither of us, although we searched the floor on our hands and knees, could find the weapon which had killed her.

"'For Arthur's sake,' I said, 'I would have given a thousand pounds if we had found the knife in her hand, as he said we would.'

"'That we have not found it here,' Lyle answered, 'is to my mind the strongest proof that he is telling the truth, that he left the house before the murder took place. He is not a fool, and had he stabbed his brother and this woman, he would have seen that by placing the knife near her he could help to make it appear as if she had killed Chetney and then committed suicide. Besides, Lord Arthur insisted that the evidence in his behalf would be our finding the knife here. He would not have urged that if he knew we would not find it, if he knew he himself had carried it away. This is no suicide. A suicide does not rise and hide the weapon with which he kills himself, and then lie down again. No, this has been a double murder, and we must look outside of the house for the murderer.'

"While he was speaking Lyle and I had been searching every corner, studying the details of each room. I was so afraid that, without telling me, he would make some deductions prejudicial to Arthur, that I never left his side. I was determined to see everything that he saw, and, if possible, to prevent his interpreting it in the wrong way. He finally finished his examination, and we sat down together in the drawing-room, and he took out his notebook and read aloud all that Mr. Sears had told him of the murder and what we had just learned from Arthur. We compared the two accounts word for word, and weighed statement with statement, but I could not determine from anything Lyle said which of the two versions he had decided to believe.

"'We are trying to build a house of blocks,' he exclaimed, 'with half of the blocks missing. We have been considering two theories,' he went on; 'one that Lord Arthur is responsible for both murders, and the other that the dead woman in there is responsible for one of them, and has committed suicide; but, until the Russian servant is ready to talk, I shall refuse to believe in the guilt of either.'

"'What can you prove by him?' I asked. 'He was drunk and asleep. He saw nothing.'

"Lyle hesitated, and then, as though he had made up his mind to be quite frank with me, spoke freely.

"'I do not know that he was either drunk or asleep,' he answered. 'Lieutenant Sears describes him as a stupid boor. I am not satisfied that he is not a clever actor. What was his position in this house? What was his real duty here? Suppose it was not to guard this woman, but to watch her. Let us imagine that it was not the woman he served, but a master, and see where that leads us. For this house has a master, a mysterious, absentee landlord, who lives in St. Petersburg, the unknown Russian who came between Chetney and Zichy, and because of whom Chetney left her. He is the man who bought this house for Madame Zichy, who sent these rugs and curtains from St. Petersburg to furnish it for her after his own tastes, and, I believe, it was he also who placed the Russian servant here, ostensibly to serve the Princess, but in reality to spy upon her. At Scotland Yard we do not know who this gentleman is; the Russian police confess to equal ignorance concerning him. When Lord Chetney went to Africa, Madame Zichy lived in St. Petersburg; but there her receptions and dinners were so crowded with members of the nobility and of the army and diplomats, that among so many visitors the police could not learn which was the one for whom she most greatly cared.'

"Lyle pointed at the modern French paintings and the heavy silk rugs which hung upon the walls.

"'The unknown is a man of taste and of some fortune,' he said, 'not the sort of man to send a stupid peasant to guard the woman he loves. So I am not content to believe, with Mr. Sears, that the servant is a boor. I believe him instead to be a very clever ruffian. I believe him to be the protector of his master's honor, or, let us say, of his master's property, whether that property be silver plate or the woman his master loves. Last night, after Lord Arthur had gone away, the servant was left alone in this house with Lord Chetney and Madame Zichy. From where he sat in the hall he could hear Lord Chetney bidding her farewell; for, if my idea of him is correct, he understands English quite as well as you or I. Let us imagine that he heard her entreating Chetney not to leave her, reminding him of his former wish to marry her, and let us suppose that he hears Chetney denounce her, and tell her that at Cairo he has learned of this Russian admirer—the servant's master. He hears the woman declare that she has had no admirer but himself, that this unknown Russian was, and is, nothing to her, that there is no man she loves but him, and that she cannot live, knowing that he is alive, without his love. Suppose Chetney believed her, suppose his former infatuation for her returned, and that in a moment of weakness he forgave her and took her in his arms. That is the moment the Russian master has feared. It is to guard against it that he has placed his watchdog over the Princess, and how do we know but that, when the moment came, the watchdog served his master, as he saw his duty, and killed them both? What do you think?' Lyle demanded. 'Would not that explain both murders?'

"WHY IN THE NAME OF COMMON SENSE," HE CRIED, "SHOULD I HAVE CHOSEN THAT MOMENT?"

"I was only too willing to hear any theory which pointed to any one else as the criminal than Arthur, but Lyle's explanation was too utterly fantastic. I told him that he certainly showed imagination, but that he could not hang a man for what he imagined he had done.

"'No,' Lyle answered, 'but I can frighten him by telling him what I think he has done, and now when I again question the Russian servant I will make it quite clear to him that I believe he is the murderer. I think that will open his mouth. A man will at least talk to defend himself. Come,' he said, 'we must return at once to Scotland Yard and see him. There is nothing more to do here.'

"He arose, and I followed him into the hall, and in another minute we would have been on our way to Scotland Yard. But just as he opened the street door a postman halted at the gate of the garden, and began fumbling with the latch.

"Lyle stopped, with an exclamation of chagrin.

"'How stupid of me!' he exclaimed. He turned quickly and pointed to a narrow slit cut in the brass plate of the front door. 'The house has a private letter-box,' he said, 'and I had not thought to look in it! If we had gone out as we came in, by the window, I would never have seen it. The moment I entered the house I should have thought of securing the letters which came this morning. I have been grossly careless.' He stepped back into the hall and pulled at the lid of the letter-box, which hung on the inside of the door, but it was tightly locked. At the same moment the postman came up the steps holding a letter. Without a word Lyle took it from his hand and began to examine it. It was addressed to the Princess Zichy, and on the back of the envelope was the name of a West End dressmaker.

"'That is of no use to me,' Lyle said. He took out his card and showed it to the postman. 'I am Inspector Lyle from Scotland Yard,' he said. 'The people in this house are under arrest. Everything it contains is now in my keeping. Did you deliver any other letters here this morning?'

"The man looked frightened, but answered promptly that he was now upon his third round. He had made one postal delivery at seven that morning and another at eleven.

"'How many letters did you leave here?' Lyle asked.

"'About six altogether,' the man answered.

"'Did you put them though the door into the letter-box?'

"The postman said, 'Yes, I always slip them into the box, and ring and go away. The servants collect them from the inside.'

"'Have you noticed if any of the letters you leave here bear a Russian postage stamp?' Lyle asked.

"'From the same person, would you say?'

"'The writing seems to be the same,' the man answered. 'They come regularly about once a week—one of those I delivered this morning had a Russian postmark.'

"'That will do,' said Lyle eagerly. 'Thank you, thank you very much.'

"He ran back into the hall, and, pulling out his penknife, began to pick at the lock of the letter-box.

"'I have been supremely careless,' he said in great excitement. 'Twice before when people I wanted had flown from a house I have been able to follow them by putting a guard over their mail-box. These letters, which arrive regularly every week from Russia in the same handwriting, they can come from but one person. At least, we shall know the name of the master of this house. Undoubtedly it is one of his letters that the man placed here this morning. We may make a most important discovery.'

"As he was talking he was picking at the lock with his knife, but he was so impatient to reach the letters that he pressed too heavily on the blade and it broke in his hand. I took a step backward and drove my heel into the lock, and it burst open. The lid flew back, and we pressed forward, and each ran his hand down into the letter-box. For a moment we were both too startled to move. The box was empty.

"I do not know how long we stood staring stupidly at each other, but it was Lyle who was the first to recover. He seized me by the arm and pointed excitedly into the empty box.

"'Do you appreciate what that means?' he cried. 'It means that some one has been here ahead of us. Some one has entered this house not three hours before we came, since eleven o'clock this morning.'

"'It was the Russian servant!' I exclaimed.

"'The Russian servant has been under arrest at Scotland Yard,' Lyle cried. 'He could not have taken the letters. Lord Arthur has been in his cot at the hospital. That is his alibi. There is some one else, some one we do not suspect, and that some one is the murderer. He came back here either to obtain those letters because he knew they would convict him, or to remove something he had left here at the time of the murder, something incriminating,—the weapon, perhaps, or some personal article; a cigarette-case, a handkerchief with his name upon it, or a pair of gloves. Whatever it was it must have been damning evidence against him to have made him take so desperate a chance.'

"'How do we know,' I whispered, 'that he is not hidden here now?'

"'No, I swear he is not,' Lyle answered. 'I may have bungled in some things, but I have searched this house thoroughly. Nevertheless,' he added, 'we must go over it again, from the cellar to the roof. We have no real clew now, and we must forget the others and work only it.' As he spoke he began again to search the drawing-room, turning over even the books on the tables and the music on the piano.

"'Whoever the man is,' he said over his shoulder, 'we know that he has a key to the front door and a key to the letter-box. That shows us he is either an inmate of the house or that he comes here when he wishes. The Russian says that he was the only servant in the house. Certainly we have found no evidence to show that any other servant slept here. There could be but one other person who would possess a key to the house and the letter-box—and he lives in St. Petersburg. At the time of the murder he was two thousand miles away.' Lyle interrupted himself suddenly with a sharp cry and turned upon me with his eyes flashing. 'But was he?' he cried. 'Was he? How do we know that last night he was not in London, in this very house when Zichy and Chetney met?'

"He stood staring at me without seeing me, muttering, and arguing with himself.

"'Don't speak to me,' he cried, as I ventured to interrupt him. 'I can see it now. It is all plain. It was not the servant, but his master, the Russian himself, and it was he who came back for the letters! He came back for them because he knew they would convict him. We must find them. We must have those letters. If we find the one with the Russian postmark, we shall have found the murderer.' He spoke like a madman, and as he spoke he ran around the room with one hand held out in front of him as you have seen a mind-reader at a theatre seeking for something hidden in the stalls. He pulled out old letters from the writing-desk, and ran them over as swiftly as a gambler deals out cards; he dropped on his knees before the fireplace and dragged out the dead coals with his bare fingers, and then with a low, worried cry, like a hound on a scent, he ran back to the waste-paper basket and, lifting the papers from it, shook them out upon the floor. Instantly he gave a shout of triumph, and, separating a number of torn pieces from the others, held them up before me.

"'Look!' he cried. 'Do you see? Here are five letters, torn across in two places. The Russian did not stop to read them, for, as you see, he has left them still sealed. I have been wrong. He did not return for the letters. He could not have known their value. He must have returned for some other reason, and, as he was leaving, saw the letter-box, and taking out the letters, held them together—so—and tore them twice across, and then, as the fire had gone out, tossed them into this basket. Look!' he cried, 'here in the upper corner of this piece is a Russian stamp. This is his own letter—unopened!'

"We examined the Russian stamp and found it had been cancelled at St. Petersburg four days ago. The back of the envelope bore the postmark of the branch station in upper Sloane Street, and was dated this morning. The envelope was of official blue paper and we had no difficulty in finding the two other parts of it. We drew the torn pieces of the letter from them and joined them together side by side. There were but two lines of writing, and this was the message: 'I leave Petersburg on the night train, and I shall see you at Trevor Terrace after dinner Tuesday evening.'

"'That was last night!' Lyle cried. 'He arrived twelve hours ahead of his letter—but it came in time—it came in time to hang him!'"

The Baronet struck the table with his hand.

"The name!" he demanded. "How was it signed? What was the man's name?"

The young Solicitor rose to his feet and, leaning forward, stretched out his arm. "There was no name," he cried. "The letter was signed with only two initials. But engraved at the top of the sheet was the man's address. That address was 'The American Embassy, St. Petersburg, Bureau of the Naval Attache,' and the initials," he shouted, his voice rising into an exultant and bitter cry, "were those of the gentleman who sits opposite who told us that he was the first to find the murdered bodies, the Naval Attache to Russia, Lieutenant Sears!"

A strained and awful hush followed the Solicitor's words, which seemed to vibrate like a twanging bowstring that had just hurled its bolt. Sir Andrew, pale and staring, drew away with an exclamation of repulsion. His eyes were fastened upon the Naval Attache with fascinated horror. But the American emitted a sigh of great content, and sank comfortably into the arms of his chair. He clapped his hands softly together.

"Capital!" he murmured. "I give you my word I never guessed what you were driving at. You fooled me, I'll be hanged if you didn't—you certainly fooled me."

The man with the pearl stud leaned forward with a nervous gesture. "Hush! be careful!" he whispered. But at that instant, for the third time, a servant, hastening through the room, handed him a piece of paper which he scanned eagerly. The message on the paper read, "The light over the Commons is out. The House has risen."

"Hurrah!" he cried. "The House is up! We've won!" He caught up his glass, and slapped the Naval Attache violently upon the shoulder. He nodded joyously at him, at the Solicitor, and at the Queen's Messenger. "Gentlemen, to you!" he cried; "my thanks and my congratulations!" He drank deep from his glass, and breathed forth a long sigh of satisfaction and relief.

"But I say," protested the Queen's Messenger, shaking his finger violently at the Solicitor, "that story won't do. You didn't play fair—and—and you talked so fast I couldn't make out what it was all about. I'll bet you that evidence wouldn't hold in a court of law—you couldn't hang a cat on such evidence. Your story is condemned tommy-rot. Now my story might have happened, my story bore the mark—"

In the joy of creation the story-tellers had forgotten their audience, until a sudden exclamation from Sir Andrew caused them to turn guiltily toward him. His face was knit with lines of anger, doubt, and amazement.

"What does this mean?" he cried. "Is this a jest, or are you mad? If you know this man is a murderer, why is he at large? Is this a game you have been playing? Explain yourselves at once. What does it mean?"

"I am not a murderer, Sir Andrew, believe me," he said; "you need not be alarmed. As a matter of fact, at this moment I am much more afraid of you than you could possibly be of me. I beg you please to be indulgent. I assure you, we meant no disrespect. We have been matching stories, that is all, pretending that we are people we are not, endeavoring to entertain you with better detective tales than, for instance, the last one you read, 'The Great Rand Robbery.'"

The Baronet brushed his hand nervously across his forehead.

"Do you mean to tell me," he exclaimed, "that none of this has happened? That Lord Chetney is not dead, that his Solicitor did not find a letter of yours written from your post in Petersburg, and that just now, when he charged you with murder, he was in jest?"

"I am really very sorry," said the American, "but you see, sir, he could not have found a letter written by me in St. Petersburg because I have never been in Petersburg. Until this week, I have never been outside of my own country. I am not a naval officer. I am a writer of short stories. And to-night, when this gentleman told me that you were fond of detective stories, I thought it would be amusing to tell you one of my own—one I had just mapped out this afternoon."

"But Lord Chetney is a real person," interrupted the Baronet, "and he did go to Africa two years ago, and he was supposed to have died there, and his brother, Lord Arthur, has been the heir. And yesterday Chetney did return. I read it in the papers."

"So did I," assented the American soothingly; "and it struck me as being a very good plot for a story. I mean his unexpected return from the dead, and the probable disappointment of the younger brother. So I had decided that the younger brother had better murder the older one. The Princess Zichy I invented out of a clear sky. The fog I did not have to invent. Since last night I know all that there is to know about a London fog. I was lost in one for three hours."

"But this gentleman," he protested, "he is not a writer of short stories; he is a member of the Foreign Office. I have often seen him in Whitehall, and, according to him, the Princess Zichy is not an invention. He says she is very well known, that she tried to rob him."

The servant of the Foreign Office looked unhappily at the Cabinet Minister, and puffed nervously on his cigar.

"It's true, Sir Andrew, that I am a Queen's Messenger," he said appealingly, "and a Russian woman once did try to rob a Queen's Messenger in a railway carriage—only it did not happen to me, but to a pal of mine. The only Russian princess I ever knew called herself Zabrisky. You may have seen her. She used to do a dive from the roof of the Aquarium."

"And I suppose yours was a cock-and-bull story, too," he said. "Of course, it must have been, since Lord Chetney is not dead. But don't tell me," he protested, "that you are not Chudleigh's son either."

"I'm sorry," said the youngest member, smiling in some embarrassment, "but my name is not Chudleigh. I assure you, though, that I know the family very well, and that I am on very good terms with them."

"You should be!" exclaimed the Baronet; "and, judging from the liberties you take with the Chetneys, you had better be on very good terms with them, too."

The young man leaned back and glanced toward the servants at the far end of the room.

"It has been so long since I have been in the Club," he said, "that I doubt if even the waiters remember me. Perhaps Joseph may," he added. "Joseph!" he called, and at the word a servant stepped briskly forward.

The young man pointed to the stuffed head of a great lion which was suspended above the fireplace.

The giant steamship tossed and pitched. The decks were wet with spray from the angry waves, and you could count the passengers on deck on one hand. Two husky men lurched against each other as they turned the corner, both muffled to their ears, puffing vigorously at their pipes to produce a welcome speck of warmth.

"Beg pardon—didn't see you in this rotten fog," said the younger of the two.

"Rotten don't describe it, sir. It's—well, I'll be hanged! My pipe went out in that collision, I guess. Got a match?"

"Sure I have! But what good is it out here? A torch wouldn't stay lighted in this wind. Come inside a minute and light her up."

They were back on deck in a moment and, as so often happens on board ship, in that time seemed to have made friends. Arm in arm this time they braved the wind and weather. The older man was talking.

"I suppose you think a man of my age ought to be in his cabin a night like this. But, you see, my wife is sick in one bunk and my daughter down and out in another. Guess you and I are about the only ones to venture out, aren't we?"

"Guess we are, sir, unless, of course, the girl with the sable coat is on deck. Nothing keeps her below."

"Girl in sable coat. Who's she?" demanded the elderly man, his attention somewhat aroused.

"Well, I don't know. She is the usual mystery found aboard a boat of this character. Captain says she's a titled woman from the continent going over to see the States. Whoever she is, she's a stunner, old man. Here she is now," he whispered as the figure of a woman passed them.

The old gentleman turned, but too late to see anything save the outline of a woman, clad in a long sable coat, which enveloped her from head to heels.

"Looks pretty good in the dark, young man. I'll take a better peek in the daylight, and in the meantime I guess I'll go below and look after my sick. Good night, sir."

Eaton Hollis, representing an English syndicate and bound for New York, was not ready to turn in. He had no one below to look after and fell into a long, steady stride around the deck. He puffed at his pipe and wondered what the girl in the sable coat was doing. He didn't want to appear officious, but he could not help wondering, and as he walked he kept his eyes well open for the fur clad figure. He did not have to look long, for she passed him very soon. Try as he would he could find no plausible excuse for speaking to this evidently self reliant young woman of title, so on he strode.

Just amidship he heard a voice—such a voice that today he can shut his eyes and hear it in his dreams—saying:

"Oh, I beg your pardon, but would you help me to open this door? I simply cannot do it."

He sprang to her side in an instant, but the door did not yield so easily.

"Do you want to go in? You know the moon is just coming up, and I think the storm is all over." Hollis had grown bold of a sudden.

"Well, really, I do not want to go in, but you know my maid is dreadfully ill, and it seems cruel to leave her alone," answered the sweet voice.

"Oh, bother the maid! Take my arm and let's see how it goes driving double—you can fight the wind so much better with two abreast," urged Hollis, as he extended his left arm.

She looked up at the strong features and then at the glimmer of the moon breaking through the clouds, hesitated for just a moment, then without a word took the proffered arm, and off they went.

The next morning broke clear and bright, and the girl in sable had changed her raiment to a suit which bespoke the art of England's best tailor. That her gown was of soft, clinging material which showed her figure to perfection, while the cloak that covered her shoulders was the envy of the women passengers. With every gown were bits of jewelry that seemed to belong to them and to just suit her who wore the gorgeous raiment. Hollis stared as did the rest, then shut his eyes and lived over again the walk of the night before, with her frail arm clinging close to his strong one and that sweet, distracting voice chatting in his ear.

He started up as from a reverie as the purser passed him. Hollis offered him a cigar.

"I say, purser, who's the woman over there that nobody speaks to and every woman on the ship envies for her clothes?"

"Oh, that is the Countess of Brienne. Beautiful creature, isn't she? Gad, but she'd make a good show piece for some of those newly rich Americans!" he murmured as he passed on with the cigar in his mouth.

Hollis turned in disgust at the last remark, to be confronted by the "beautiful creature." His attempt at an explanation was cut short by her rippling laugh.

"Oh, don't!" she cried laughingly. "I was tickled to death to hear it. You see I had no idea I was going so well—making such a big hit, as it were. I am going out for a few turns on deck. Shall it be single or double breasted?" she asked naively.

"Don't you want to change your wraps?' suggested Hollis as he glanced at the beautiful drapery that was about her.

"Oh, no, it doesn't matter," carelessly remarked the countess.

They circled the deck only once, because the crowd was inconveniently large, and soon they were seated side by side in their chairs. The air was chilly, and Hollis offered to go for extra wraps, but just then the maid came up and asked if she would be needed again that night. The countess asked for a coat. The pale faced servant soon returned and heedlessly threw the sable lined wrap over the feet of her mistress. Hollis was dumfounded with this display of extravagance, yet stared in blind adoration at his companion.

"I suppose all men are fools," he ventured to remrak.

"Oh, are they?" answered the countess, with a ring of disappointment in her voice. "You see, I am very young and I don't know, but now you are a man of the world, a man of experience, and I suppose you know. I thought some day I might meet a man who was not a fool, and then I should fall in love with him."

"Lucky man," murmured Hollis, but his throat seemed to go dry and his pipe went out. "Do you think I am a fool?"

"Well, really, I don't know you so very well, but I think you're dreadfully stupid. You seem to have so little to say."

Hollis was just going to say something, but he looked at the sable coat and the beautifully gowned figure of the woman within it and he closed his lips firmly.

Thereafter they met at rare intervals—not oftener than Hollis could help, and the day the boat docked in New York he went over to say goodby.

"I wish I could call—just once," he pleaded as she hesitated.

"This is my card, Mr. Hollis, and if you will come—you may," she added as she handed him a neat little envelope with a card inclosed.

"Hollis slipped in into his pocket and once more said goodby to his lady with the silvery voice. How queer that sounded, "If you will come—you may." What had she meant?

The next night Hollis hailed a hansom at the corner of his hotel and gave the driver the address. When they drew up in front of a little apartment house he wondered, but went in. Everything connected with the girl seemed a mystery, so he did not hesitate. The card had read, "Ask for Miss Tousley." He did so, and the maid said she would be in directly. He glanced about the room. Nothing elegant, yet of exquisite refinement. He looked at the pictures. There she was as a child, here as a young girl, and there again she was standing in flesh and blood in the door with two hands outstretched.

Somehow she seemed more real, more alive than ever before as she held out her hands, and he took them. She was dressed in some simple gown, and they sat on the couch together while he told her of his hopeless love, his longing for her and of his salary of a few thousand a year.

"My darling, I want you, and by heavens, I'll have you, even if you are a countess! Won't you let me try to win you? Oh, if you only knew—if you only knew!"

"I know too well," the sweet voice said. "But I'm not a countess at all. I'm a poor girl, and my name is Tousley, just Sarah Tousley. There's nothing royal about that, is there? I am not a countess, and all those fine clothes were not mine. You see, we lost all our money, and I had to do something. Well, I could speak French and knew good clothes, so a big firm sent me over to buy model gowns. I wore them to avoid duty. Of course I sold them some, but the model was just as good to copy, and—oh, please, please don't hold me so tight, dear," she almost sung into his ear.

But he did not seem to hear her. He was saying to himself over and over again:

"Not the Countess of Brienne, but Mrs. Eaton Hollis."

The Poor Sick Boy.

Mark Twain, on a visit to his birthplace—Hannibal, Mo.—told to the school children a true story about a schoolboy.

"This boy," he said, "awoke one morning very ill. His groans alarmed the household. The doctor was sent for and came posthaste.

"'Well,' said the doctor as he entered the sickroom, 'what is the trouble?'

"'A pain in my side,' said the boy.

"'Any pain in the head?'

"'Yes, sir.'

"'Is the right hand stiff?'

"'A little.'

"'How about the right foot?'

"'That's stiff too.'

"The doctor winked at the boy's mother.

"'Well,' he said, 'you're pretty sick. But you'll be able to go to school on Monday. Let me see, today is Saturday, and'— "'Is today Saturday?' said the boy in a vexed tone. 'I thought it was Friday.'

"Half an hour later that boy declared himself healed and got up. Then they packed him off to school, for it was Friday, after all."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Market Value of Flies.

The market value of flies in Brazil is $700 a ton. England buys flies at that price and uses them to feed chickens and captive birds and fishes. There are almost no flies in England.

Scotland Yard.

The headquarters of the London metropolitan police force is called Scotland Yard on account of the fact that a palace was built there for the kings of Scotland, to be used by them when visiting England. It is said to have been originally given by King Edgar to Kenneth of Scotland when he came to London to pay homage.

Gold Bricks.

A common brick weighs about two pounds. A gold brick 2 inches by 4 by 8 would weigh more than forty pounds and be worth some $11,000. Few men could carry a bag of $50,000 in gold very far.

Title Stenography.

The earliest printed book on stenography in English or perhaps in any other language is "Character and Arte of Shorte, Swift and Secrete, Writing by Character, Invented by Timothe Bright. Doctor of Phisike. Imprinted at London by J. Windet, the Assigne of Tim Bright, 1558. Cum Privilegio Regiae Majestatis. Forbidding All Others to Print the Same."

Flag Colors.

Red seems to be the most popular of national colors if flags may be used as criterions. Of the twenty-five leading national flags nineteen have red in them. The same cannot be said of any other color.

Displacement.

"Displacement," in naval use, means the weight of water displaced by the vessel, the weight of water displaced being, of course, the same as the weight of the vessel.

To wash white coral place the coral in soft water and let it soak twelve hours. Then make a solution of chloride of lime. In it immerse the coral and leave it for a day. Finally wash the coral thoroughly in clear cold water and bleach it in the sunshine.

Chinese Matchmakers.

The custom of arranging matrimonial contracts through agents of matchmakers has been practiced in China for ages. This business receives support from all classes, for, although the high caste men in some instances select their first wives themselves, the additional wives are all secured through the agents.

There is a little shop in London which makes a specialty of idols. All sorts and conditions are kept there, and it is possible to secure one which represents about any of the known religions.

Fond of Fine Clothes.

Persians are fond of fine clothes. The usual costume for men includes a collarless shirt of light, pretty material, cut low at the neck and with long, loose sleeves, and a vest that fits closely to the figure, also with wide, flowing sleeves.

Ostrich Plumes.

Ostrich plumes as they arrive in the market look like bedraggled turkey feathers, and they pass through a score of hands before they become the well known fluffy and graceful adjunct to feminine attire.

BRITISH MID SNOWY ALPS.

English Mountain Climbers Discussed by German Tourists.

Here, at the "Berliner Hut," nearly 7,000 feet above the sea and eight hours' uphill tramp from the nearest village, in this modestly named "shelter house," one finds the comfort of a good hotel. Mountain ponies alone serve to establish the connection with the world, but they do their work unceasingly and with such success that physical comfort finds nothing lacking. Last night the hum and buzz of life, the talk on many topics, kept up the illusion that we were at some great international hotel; and though the plans for the morrow, for breaking the sleep at unearthly hours to gross the glaciers betimes, occupied more than their due share of the talk, the greater questions of individual and national life and culture were discussed with equal zest.

Two diversions break the monotony of the snowy day and the snowy talk. A keen eye has discovered a weasel quickly gliding over the snow. In a moment everybody has rushed to the window; everybody is eagerly watching and reporting the movements of the dainty little animal with raucous German voices. The second diversion is the arrival of the two pack-horses with provisions from the valley—relief brought to a starved garrison could not excite greater stir and more eager questioning. And then the talk resumes its normal snowy course—yet with a difference, for hope has now given way to resignation.

Still the flakes descend. Now a group has gathered around a large table, and over their wine and beer and coffee the heroes from Berlin and Dresden discuss the quaint antics of British Alpinists. A Berliner, with truly Imperial moustaches, tells of an English lady whom he has seen "doing" a easy ascent in the Dolomites, accompanied by no fewer than five guides and carriers.

"Now, that is strange," puts in another climber from the Athens on the Spree, "when I came up yesterday I met an English lady going down quite by herself on this easy path, and she was clinging on to the rocks with one hand and holding up her umbrella on the other side so as to shut out the view of the slope."

"Did you see the three English youths who arrived last night with their mother?" chimes in a Saxon voice. "They were dressed in flannels, brown boots without nails, and Panama hats?"

At this moment the door opens to admit a wanderer, whom the first glance betrays to be English, and moreover, an English country parson. He bears the traces of exposure; his boots are still covered with snow, his hands are dirty and torn, his face is almost raw, and the skin is peeling off his nose. While the brave Berlin mountaineers have been sitting in the cosy guestroom to wait for the passing of the snow, he has crossed the glacier alone, without a guide, in a blinding snowstorm! He was the only Englishman we met in this glorious Alpine region, preferable though it be for grandeur of nature and comfort of shelter to any part of Switzerland.

Boys the More Defective.

Lecturing the other day before the Child Study Society, Dr. Francis Warner said that, although in 1905 57 per cent. of the births in this country were boys, the death rate among boy babies was so much higher than among the girls that of the five-year-old children alive at that time only 43 per cent. were boys.

Further statistics quoted by Dr. Warner showed that 27 per cent. of boys born died in their first year, whereas only 22 per cent. of the girl babies succumbed in the same period.

Dr. Warner accounted for the preponderance of females over males in England and Wales by the fact that, although more boy babies were born, a much larger proportion of males than females had some physical defect. From minute examination of thousands of children Dr. Warner found that 9 per cent. of the boys had some physical defect as compared with only 7 per cent. in the girls.

The lecturer pointed out that in a children's medical ward practically all the children had some physical defect, as compared with only 7 per cent. in the girls.

The lecturer pointed out that in a children's medical ward practically all the children had some physical defect, and among these children with defects the mortality was apt to be higher in the case of the girls than of the boys.

From this it was deduced that, while the female sex apparently approaches closer to normality than the male, yet when abnormalities are found equally in the two sexes the lesser vitality of the girl will cause her to break down under any added strain sooner than the boy.

Dr. Warner said that, whereas the male sex supplied the great majority of criminals, yet in the number of murders complicated by lunacy women greatly exceeded the men, even leaving out entirely cases of infanticide. Among incorrigible criminals who had been convicted ten times or over women were more than twice as numerous as men.

It Wasn't Funny.

"I don't call that funny; I call it tragic," he said. (Somebody had told the story of the woman who declared that lovemaking was not what it used to be, that you never heard of men tearing their hair and going down on their knees nowadays and that "I know my husband didn't go down on his knees when he proposed to me," whereat her dearest friend said "Didn't he? He did when he proposed to me.") "Tragic for whom?" asked somebody. "For the husband," said he.

On the Wings Of Pegasus.

By MARTHA COBB SANFORD.

Copyright, 1907, by M. M. Cunningham.

"A foine day f'r a canter, miss," commented genial Mike as Marcia, one hand on his shoulder, the other on the pommel, sprang lightly into the saddle.

"Heavenly!" agreed the girl, but the wistful expression in her eyes belied her gayety.

"It looks that way," laughed Marcia, "unless I meet Lochinvar on the highway.

"I was only thinkin', Pegasus is pretty fr-risky the day, owin' to shtandin' so long in the shtall. He's loikely to run wid ye, Miss Marcia. But av coorse if Misther Lock—pardon, miss, I f'git the rist av 'is name—is goin' to meet ye"—

Marcia interrupted him with a merry laugh.

"Oh, Pegasus and I will get along all right. How his coat shines! No one ever took such good care of him as you do, Mike. He'd win the blue ribbon at any horse show."

Mike grinned appreciatively and tipped his cap.

"Now don't ye be goin' any jumpin', Miss Marcia," he cautioned, as Marcia, her proud chin held high, gave Pegasus a smart flick with her silver tipped crop and trotted off along the smoothly raked drive.

There really was no guesswork about it. Since a certain memorable day nearly a month ago no other road had held for Marcia any charm—and yet for three long weeks she had persistently taken another direction.

Now, as she turned toward the highway that led into the old winding road, her thoughts galloped ahead of her horse's hoofs, and already in imagination she had brought Pegasus to a halt at the edge of the wood and was watching, spellbound, a man and horse take jump after jump over the meadow wall.

How she longed to try it herself! Pegasus vaulted beautifully, she knew. She had seen him take the bars many a time when out at pleasure. But she had promised her father that she would never attempt it. That was the condition, in fact, by which Pegasus was her very own possession.

Then she remembered with a thrill how Pegasus had suddenly started and before she could control him had followed the lead of the other rider and bounded with the grace of a greyhound over the meadow wall. The unexpectedness of it had quite taken her breath away. But, oh, was there ever any sensation so exquisite?

Before she could recover from her surprise the unknown rider had galloped up beside her and, dispensing with even an apology for his lack of conventionality, exclaimed: "A magnificent performance! Please accept my compliments."

And she, conscious of the rising color in her cheeks, had answered smilingly.

"The praise belongs all to Pegasus. I didn't know he was going to do it."

How incredulous the man had looked!

"You mean?" he asked, doubting his senses.

"That I never took a jump before. My horse followed your lead. I was never more astonished in all my life."

"In that case allow me to pay my compliments over again," the man had then said, looking at her with undisguised admiration. "Pegasus has a wonderfully clever rider."

And then—Marcia blushed to recall it—she had spent the rest of that glorious morning in taking vaulting lessons from an unknown riding master. And if further truth be told she had let the accident of one day dictate the programme of the next. But after that discretion had come to the rescue, and romance was forced to beat a reluctant but absolute retreat. In other words, every day for three long monotonous weeks Marcia had resolutely avoided the vicinity of Tanglewood road.

But today she had closed her ears to the prosaic arguments of prudence and literally given rein to her fancy. The air was as crisp and the sky as blue as on that other day. Her heart thumped with excitement.

When the edge of the wood was reached she drew rein and with eager, shining eyes looked out expectantly over the brown meadows. There was no one in sight. Well, she would have one jump anyway.

Pegasus was as keen for the sport as Marcia herself. He took the wall handsomely—not only once, but again and again. Then, a gate of bars farther down in the wall catching Marcia's attention, she decided to put her horse at that. It was higher than the wall and would be glorious to fly over.

Just as Pegasus sprang for the leap the sound of hoofs galloping hard behind her caused Marcia to look back. She recognized Mike on her father's saddle horse, and the next moment, how she never knew, found herself hurled high over Pegasus' head.

As luck would have it, she landed on a heap of dead leaves blown by the winds against the flank of the wall and so was only badly stunned. When at length she recovered consciousness some one was kneeling beside her and bathing her forehead with cold water.

"Don't tell father, Mike," she pleaded faintly, her eyes still closed.

"No, miss."

Then again after a few minutes' silence:

"Am I badly hurt, Mike?"

"Not the ghost of a scratch, Miss Marcia. I couldn't have picked out a bether place f'r ye to land myself—a pile av soft leaves and a shtrame of water-r close by. Faith an' it's luck was ridin' wid ye the day, Miss Marcia."

"But how did you happen to follow me, Mike?"

"I was afraid ye might not be matin' that Misther Lock—pardon me f'r f'rgittin' his name ag'in—afther all. Did Pegasus run wid ye, miss? How came ye to be jumpin'?"

"But I can jump, Mike. You should see me," she said in a tone full of pride in spite of its faintness.

"I have many's the toime," was Mike's unexpected reply.

Marcia's eyes opened wide. She raised herself on one arm and stared at him.

"Why, you're not Mike at all! I must be dreaming. You're"—

"Lochinvar, dear," he answered, smiling upon her lovingly and taking her gently into his arms.

And then, while her head rested on his shoulder, the unknown knight explained to his lady of the saddle how he came to be Mike and Lochinvar and Kendall Lee, Esq., architect by profession, all rolled into one. It was partly her fault of course, for she had dismissed him heartlessly from her service, and he had had to get back into it by hook or by crook.

"It's used up pretty nearly all my fall vacation, this groom of my lady's stable business," he concluded humorously. "Still I haven't neglected my profession entirely, for I've spent all my leisure moments, dearest, planning a dream of a little house for two."

He paused and waited for Marcia to speak, but never a word said Marcia. She didn't even raise her eyes to look at him, but then she did not lift her head from his shoulder, either.

So Kendall kissed her.

At that Marcia sat bolt upright.

"Tell me, sweetheart," he urged, holding her so close that she couldn't escape if she would, "you do forgive me, don't you, and you do love me and you will be my bonnie bride?"

"What a lot of questions to be answered at once!" exclaimed Marcia, willfully dodging them all.

"But it takes only one little word to answer them all," urged Kendall, and before he could kiss her again Marcia had spoken it.

A plaintive whinny from Pegasus broke the silence at length, and the lovers came back to earth with a start.

"Which role do you think you'll like playing better, Mike," asked Marcia mischievously, "groom or bridegroom?"

Stops Itching, Heals the Skin

AND FOR THIS REASON THERE IS NO CURE FOR ECZEMA SO SATISFACTORY AS

There is always a certain amount of mystery about all medicines that are taken internally, but not so when Dr. Chase's Ointment is applied to raw or inflamed skin, for the benefits are self-evident.

It is because Dr. Chase's Ointment possesses in a remarkable degree the ability to stop itching and heal raw skin that it has become known the world over as the most successful treatment for such diseases of the skin as eczema, salt rheum and psoriasis.

By all means tone up the system by the use of such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, but also cure the eczema by the local application of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

The wretched stinging, itching sensations will soon disappear under this treatment and gradually and naturally the raw sores will become smaller and smaller until they entirely disappear.

But there are scores of ways in which Dr. Chase's Ointment is useful in every home, and especially so where there are children who suffer from teething eczema, chafing, insect bites, hives, poisoned skin or any form of skin irritation or eruption.

Mr. C Wiley, who is employed as cooper by the Kennedy & Davis Milling Company, Landsay, Ont., states: "I used Dr. Chase's Ointment for eczema on my little girl some few years ago, and soon brought about a thorough and permanent cure. She had suffered for considerable time, and though we tried a great many remedies, Dr. Chase's Ointment was the only preparation to prove effective. I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Chase's Ointment, as it certainly effected a prompt and permanent cure in this case."

Test Dr. Chase's Ointment in any case of itching skin or on a sore that refuses to heal, and you will be surprised at the results.

Not Necessary.

He laughed loud and long as he put aside the paper.

"What's the matter?" asked the man who was sitting at the next window of the club.

"Here's an article about training a dog," replied the man who had been reading the paper. "It says the first thing to do is to attach the dog to you."

Thereupon the man laughed some more.

"Why, hang it all," exclaimed the man who was so amused, "it seems so absurd, you know. My experience is that a dog will attach himself to you if you give him any provocation."—Exchange.

GREAT PEACE VALLEY

LONG TRAIL FROM EDMONTON INTO FAR NORTHERN ALBERTA.

Wet Roads and Mosquitoes—Spruce-clad Banks of the Athabasca—On Lesser Slave Lake—Splendid Territory for Grain Farmers—Bushes Loaded With Luscious Fruit—Very Rich Region.

It was early August when we left Edmonton on the long trail to the Peace River, writes a correspondent describing a recent journey, for wet roads and mosquitoes make it inadvisable to travel earlier in far northern Alberta. On the afternoon of the fourth day out, our wagons rumbled merrily into Athabasca Landing, the frontier post of civilization, situated on the Athabasca River at that point where it approaches most closely to Edmonton. Here we bade our teamsters farewell, as our next stretch was to be made by water. At sunset, four days later, we steamed out of the Landing westward into the deep solitudes of the river valley, over which the veil of evening was being drawn. At dark we moored to shore, waiting for daylight. All next day we steamed through an utter wilderness, now gliding across smooth stretches, now struggling up the swift rapids. When evening was just descending on the sombre spruce-clad banks of the Athabasca, we glided into the mouth of the Little River, completing the first portion of our water trip. From here a portage of fifteen miles was made around the numerous rapids of the lower stretches of the river to the landing where we boarded the little steamer that was to take us to the head of Lesser Slave Lake.

Settlement Has Taken Root.

A broad expanse of prairie around the end of the lake has afforded settlement for a good many farmers and ranchers, and feeds hundreds of cattle winter and summer. Here, too, is grouped a considerable town, populated mostly by half-breeds, with seven or eight stores and even a boarding house. After a delay of some days caused by rains, we proceeded on the last portion of our journey—the long portage to the Peace. It is an execrable trail, cut merely wagon-width through the towering timber, which never permits the rains of spring to dry and is worn by the narrow-tired wagons of the freighters into a continuous succession of mudholes. As you near the Peace the dense forest gives way to pleasant openings from time to time, till at length you emerge from the last timber and there below you, her purple valley stretching far into the west, the stream running through it like a silver band, lies the Peace River.

Scene Was Striking.

The scene the morning we crossed was very striking—the broad river laughing in the sun, the measured plash of the sweeps as the ferry bore her cargo to the distant shore, the call of the rowers, and around us those mighty banks rising well-nigh a thousand feet. Our trip on the north side of the river, while free from difficulties, was filled with interest. Along the valley bottom runs the trail, through pleasant bluffs of poplar and saskatoon bushes loaded with luscious fruit, past farm houses and gardens and fields of ripening grain. Even a mission, with its outlying buildings and fields and garden—for here a mission must be self-contained—was seen. At length the narrowing of the river valley and its steep banks prevent further passage in this direction, and the trail leaves the valley for the upland. Here one finds alternating prairie, covered with thigh-deep grasses and flowers of the most beautiful kinds, the woodland groves of small poplar, as clean and free from underbrush as a park. Such was the country we passed through for sixty miles west to Dunvegan, a trading post lying in the bottom of the river valley, which here assumes the proportions of a canyon.

Fertility of the Soil.

This park country is fully as beautiful as the clean prairie of the south, and of much greater economic value. The trees will afford windbreaks for buildings and crops and shelter for cattle, at the same time helping to conserve the moisture. Grass flourishes here as nowhere else on the plains, and wild fruits of many kinds. The fertility of the soil and the extreme length of the days in the growing seasons are the reason assigned for this. The extraordinary growth of grasses, combined with the very moderate winters, make the country ideal for the raising of stock. Its agricultural possibilities have not been extensively exploited. Wherever farming is carried on the crops are usually profitable. This year crops were everywhere a success, including wheat, oats and potatoes. Vegetables of nearly every kind are grown at many points, while in the valley of the Peace settlers can even raise such difficult garden produce as corn, tomatoes and cucumbers. Those who raise crops of almost any kind are sure of a good market and top prices.

High Prices for Crops.

Wheat is bought by the Hudson Bay Company at $1.25 a bushel, while oats are in great demand for winter freighting at $1.50 to 2 a bushel. The high prices are due to the fact that only within the last few years has grain been raised, and even today there are very few engaged in growing crops. Mr. Brick, M.P.P., is about the only one on the Upper Peace who grows grain in any quantity. The missions raise a little, and a few of the half-breeds, but Mr. Brick told us that there was room for twenty more grain farmers at Peace River Crossing.

What are the country's drawbacks? The mosquitoes, the lack of good water, and at present the country's isolation. These can only be duly appreciated by those who have been there. The mosquitoes are a torment to man and beast in summer. The last is at once the most serious drawback and the one most sure to be overcome.

The Nautch Girl.

The position of the nautch girl is no longer what it was in the Indian social system. Not merely Europeans, but some of the best among the natives, feel that in view of the gradual raising of the tone of society, the evils associated with her profession should cease to enjoy the toleration accorded to them in the past.

This view, however, is by no means universal, and the conflict of opinion is strikingly illustrated by the experience of Gauhar Jan, a well-known nautch girl of Calcutta, and one of the finest native singers in India. A rich Marwari family of Bombay recently engaged her to perform at a marriage ceremony, paying her a fee of Rs 15,000 ($5,000). Later she visited the Lady Northcote Hindu Orphanage, and consented to sing in its aid gratis in the town hall. The citizens of Bombay, male and female, flocked in large numbers to listen to her, as the gramophone has made her name a household word in India. The handsome sum of $2,000 was collected on the spot for the orphanage. At the close of the assembly Hon. Sir M. Peroozshah Mehta pinned a medal on her breast.

Hearing this, Mr. Justice Chandravarkar of Bombay, a well-known social reformer and Brahmin leader, ceased his connection with the managing committee. A hot newspaper discussion has followed. Mr. Tilak and others have written in defence of Sir M. Mehta, while other correspondents are against him. On another occasion Gauhar Jan sang in aid of the Mohammedan College of Aligarh, but Nawab Mohsan-ul-Mulk refused to receive any profit from that source. —London Telegraph.

The Peasant Water Doctor.

At Velbeck, a little place near Munster, Germany, one of the notable figures has been for several years the water doctor, a peasant named Josef Garthaus. His "practice" is so great, says a Frankfurt paper, that he will see patients on three days in the week only. The "doctor" was recently summoned before the tax officers, to whom he had never made a statement as to his income. Even before that body he would make no statement and paid the tax on the authorities' estimate of 14,000 marks income a year. "And this man," says the report, "practices at the very gates of Munster, where there are sixty physicians in good standing and where a medical faculty is being organized. The surprise becomes greater when it is known that the 'doctor' never charges more than 50 pfennigs for a consultation. How many thousands of people must seek his help? At the low estimate of the tax board Garthaus must be consulted by 28,000 a year."

An Arabian Barber.

The usual Arab instrument for shaving, declares Mr. M. W. Hilton-Simpson, the author of "Algiers and Beyond," is the ordinary sheath knife, on which the Arab gets a very fine edge. He adds that when in camp in the Haouamed country he has seen a man kill and skin a sheep and be shaved with the same knife in less than half an hour.

"The barbers in the market place at Biskra are certainly a most rough and ready lot, and the sight of one of them shaving a head is not easily forgotten. One day I saw a camel driver go up to one of them with a head of hair quite as long and thick as an ordinary well groomed Englishman's. He took a seat upon a rickety chair, and the barber, having moistened the hair with water, proceeded to shave him as bald as a coot with an old European razor without making the very slightest cut upon his skin. No soap was used, and the operation took only about three minutes."

Easy.

Weggie—I say, old chappie, the papah says there will be a lot of meteors this month. How do these astronomer Johnnies know that?

Willie—Dear me, how dense you are! They look in the almanac.—Cleveland Leader.

Often the Case.

Little Clarence (who has an inquiring mind)—Pa, what is the rest of the old saying about the wages of sin?

"The wages of sin is"—what, pa?

Mr. Calipers—Well, upon occasion, my son, the stenography.—Puck.

ATTACK MADE ON THE PARK SALE

Site For Grand Trunk Hotel Opposed in the House.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER REPLIES

Intrusion on Major's Hill Park Resented By the Opposition—Sale of Western Timber Limits Also Discussed — Conservative Government Gave Large Tracts to Their Political Favorites.

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—The sale of a portion of Major's Hill Park to the Grand Trunk for a hotel was vigorously attacked by the Opposition yesterday afternoon. Major's Hill Park is a part of the general scheme for the beautification of Ottawa, and it is one of the scenic wonders of the capital. A portion was sold to the Grand Trunk for $100,000. Mr. Pugsley moved to confirm the sale, but the property is now vested in the railway, so that after all Parliament has no say.

The main point of attack was the unwisdom of alienating a desirable park for a hotel. When the Government itself bought the property for departmental business in order to preserve the beauty of the spot.

Mr. Pugsley explained before he became Minister of Public Works that negotiations had been concluded between the Prime Minister and Grand Trunk on the sale and transfer of a part of Major's Hill Park to the company for the purpose of erecting a large modern and up-to-date hotel. The agreement was embodied in an order-in-council passed on Sept. 26 last. The property contained 25,398 square feet. The price was $100,000, and the money was to be given to the Ottawa Improvement Commission to be applied to park improvements, subject to the approval of the Government.

"Members of the House are aware," said the Prime Minister, "that for a long time the City of Ottawa has been in need of a modern hotel, and that all classes of the citizens of Ottawa have been giving their attention to this matter. They are aware also of course that the City Council of Ottawa has been in negotiation with the Grand Trunk Railway Co. since that company acquired the Canada Atlantic Railway for construction of the station on the site of the present temporary Canada-Atlantic station.

"The plan at first was to have a hotel and station on the same ground, but after giving the matter the best consideration possible they thought there was not more than enough room to afford proper accommodation for the hotel alone, and so the railway had to look elsewhere for a site for a hotel. Then they approached the Government and asked for a site. The Government offered to give them a site on Nepean Point and to give it gratuitously, the only condition being that they should erect a hotel. But the authorities of the Grand Trunk came to the conclusion that Nepean Point was too far from the business centre. They asked the privilege of building in Major's Hill Park. After giving our best attention to the matter we came to the conclusion that it might be done. But instead of giving a site free of charge we exacted what might be fair compensation, fixing the price at $100,000."

Sir Wilfrid explained that the monument to soldiers who fell at Cut Knife in 1885 was not included in the hotel site, and that there would be an entrance to the park of 120 feet. It was proposed that the loss of part of the park to be alienated should be more than made up by taking in land on Nepean Point and extending the park to the Ottawa River. That is, it is proposed, that the $100,000 the G.T.R. Co. is to pay the Government for their land should be handed to the Ottawa Improvement Commission in view to extending the park as proposed.

"Of course I am sorry that we — to loose even an inch of the park," said Sir Wilfrid, "but on the other hand we shall be more than compensated, I think, by the extension of the park that is proposed. On the whole I think the proposition is a good one."

R. L. Borden followed. To make this bargain without consulting Parliament was treating Parliament with that contempt which was so characteristic of a great many actions of the Government. "I am sorry for a great many reasons," continued Mr. Borden, "that they have done so in this case. I have no doubt the G.T.R. Co. will build a hotel there which will be a fine modern building and will supply the city with what it needs in that respect. I am not objecting to it because the hotel is not necessary. The hotel is necessary. I am not objecting to it because the G. T. R. propose to build it, because I have no doubt they will put up a good hotel and run it in a credible manner. But I object to it because that hotel will be intruded into the grounds of this park, and as I have said you might as well place it on one of the lawns in front of this Parliament building. There are other good sites not very far away when that station will be located as to which suggestions might have been made. I think the Government has acted with great unwisdom and unnecessary precipitancy, and I believe it will be a matter of regret to us and to those who come after us that the Government should have seen fit to adopt this course."

The administration of the Interior and the alienation of valuable timber lands in the Northwest formed the topic of discussion in the House last night, when the Opposition made a demand for an investigation. It was shown that large tracts of timber lands were allowed to pass into the hands of speculators, and that the method of advertising for tenders was such as to further this evil.

The answer of the Government side was that the late Government had given away many large tracts of timber land to their friends.

MUST PROTECT THE PUBLIC.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Replies to Deputation of Railway Men.

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—Harvey Hall, legislative representative of the railway employes, introduced a delegation of railway men to the Premier and Minister of Labor yesterday. There were about 80 in all. They represented the engineers, firemen, conductors, trainmen and telegraphers. The delegation asked that the penalty section 415, of the Railway Act be amended by striking out the words "or negligently" violates any of the bylaws, rules or regulations of the company or its directors." The railway employes feel that the two words "or negligently" are now too literally interpreted, with the result that unreasonable and unjust prosecution followed in a number of cases. If the clause was amended it would conform to sections 283 and 284 of the criminal code.

Sir Wilfrd Laurer did not feel that the request should be granted, although he recognized that the railway men had a grievance, and he would ask the Minister of Justice and the Minister of Railways to look into the matter. The protection of the public had to be safeguarded.

Mr. Lemieux spoke in a similar strain.

London, Jan. 31.—Sir Gorell Barnes, president of the Divorce Court, yesterday fixed the hearing of the suit brought by the Countess of Yarmouth, who was Alice Thaw of Pittsburg, against her husband for the annulment of her marriage for next Wednesday afternoon.

South Africa Solves Problem.

Johannesburg, Jan. 31.—The Asiatic difficulty has been settled, the Government deciding to accept the signatures instead of the finger prints in the registration of Indians coming into the country. Those arrested in contravention of the law will be liberated.

Britain Satisfied.

London, Jan. 31.—The British Government, which has been kept fully informed as to the tenor of the German proposals for the maintenance of the territorial status quo in the North Sea, has given its full assent

THAW HAD A MOTIVE IN MURDER

Murder of White Was Deliberate Says District Attorney.

NO INSANITY WAS SHOWN

District Attorney Jerome Offers No Defence For White In His Speech—Picks Flaws In Insanity Plea—Says Good Word For Evelyn—Addressed Jury In a Quiet and Convincing Tone.

New York, Jan. 31.—William Travers Jerome, representative of the people, made a masterly plea yesterday that justice be done in the case of Harry Kendall Thaw. Vindictiveness, sneers, insinuations, all were lacking; logic, analysis and a calm consideration of the facts ware their substitutes. It was no blind appeal for the vengeance of the law that Mr. Jerome addressed to the jury, but ever and always there was a note of fairness, even at times of mercy.

Denounces Both.

The climax came, however, when Mr. Jerome denounced both Thaw and White in one breath and classed them as "two degenerates" quarreling over a woman! And the woman, the prosecutor declared, knew no more —had been taught no more by the world—than to play one against the other, until in jealous rage, in blindest hatred, in vengeance of "an undeniable gross wrong done to his wife," Harry Thaw shot and killed the architect.

The case goes to the jury to-day, and Thaw may know his fate before the setting of another sun.

Justice Dowling will begin his charge as soon as court convenes at 10.30 o'clock. He postponed the reading of his instructions until to-day in order that the jury might have all the day for consideration of the evidence before being locked up in the stuffy little jury room at the courthouse for the night.

Emphasizes Thaw's Insanity.

District Attorney Jerome turned a willing ear to the testimony of insanity placed before the jury and emphasized it in a number of instances.

He admitted that Thaw had always been physical weak and that at times his mind had been unstrung. And while at no point was there the direct offer of compromise in the prosecutor's speech, there was notably an indication that he would not feel that justice had been misdirected if a verdict of some lesser guilt than murder in the first degree should be the culmination of the jury's deliberation. Mr. Jerome carefully explained the elements that enter into a verdict of primary murder, the penalty of which is death, and then he pointed the way to two other findings, which he declared were possible under the circumstances.

Mr. Jerome said he could not see how under their oaths as jurors the twelve men in the box could go outside of these three verdicts.

Thaw's Shame.

Coming to the conclusion of his long address, Mr. Jerome denounced Harry Thaw in bitterest terms as "a coward skulking beneath the petticoats of his wife, attempting to shield and save his worthless life behind her shame."

"Twice in his sanity," declared the prosecutor, "he has sat in this court room and had her bare her shame, in all its pitiful nakedness, to all the world. Is such a man worthy of even the slightest consideration at your hands?"

POVERTY IN KINGSTON.

Intense Cold Responsible For Much Privation and Sufferings.

Kingston, Jan. 31.—The extent of destitution in this city at present may be realised from two recent cases. One is that of two young girls who left their homes Wednesday morning in the western part of the city to go to the cotton mill in the east end without breakfast, and, moreover, took nothing with them for a lunch at noon, because there was no food in the home to take.

The second case is that of a young English officer who drifted to South Africa at the time of the Boer war, and at its close came to Canada. He has a wife and four children. They live in miserable quarters, and a lady hearing of their need made up a basket of sandwiches and cake, took it to the house Wednesday, saying, as she entered, that it was for the children, not wishing to hurt the mother's feelings. The children seized the food like hungry wolves, and the mother exclaimed: "Oh, forgive them. They are very hungry, and I must have some too," and hurriedly helped herself, putting aside some for her husband, who, she explained, had just gone with their last 18 cents to get a little coal.

Cuts Throat With Glass.

Detroit, Jan. 31—William Headford, aged 35, of London, Ont., who formerly worked as a carriage trimmer in the Welch factory in Pontiac, Mich., took his life in the Hotel Hodges in that city by breaking an ice pitcher and cutting his throat with a jagged piece. He was found dead in his room yesterday morning. Headford had been out of work.

No One Blamed.

St. Catharines, Jan. 31.—At the inquest into the death of E. A. Campbell, brakeman on the G. T. R., who was killed at Merritton Monday night, the jury brought in a verdict "that E. A. Campbell was killed by an accident by the car leaving the track, and from the evidence no blame can be attached to any person or persons."

Pinned Down; Froze to Death.

Montreal, Jan. 31.—A Grand Trunk fireman met a horrible death Wednesday at St. Martin's Junction. He was at work on an engine on a siding when something went wrong, and he got down to fix under the engine. The engine moved and pinned him down, and though he was not seriously hurt he froze to death.

THE CATTLE RAIDS IN IRELAND

Heated Charges Against Government by British Peer.

AFRAID OF NATIONALISTS

Marquis of Londonderry Accuses Ministry of Cowardice—Are Afraid to Suppress the Outrages — Government Declines to Revive Crimes Act — Exaggerated Pessimism Is Reply—Judges Paralyzed.

London, Jan. 31.—Heated charges of cowardice in turning a blind eye to the "reign of terrorism" in Ireland, in order to keep the Nationalists in good temper and assure a continuance of their support in the Commons, were launched against the Government in the House of Lords yesterday. The Marquis of Londonderry, who was viceroy of Ireland in 1886-9, led in the attack, and so infectious were his sentiments that even Lord Langford, who has been a representative peer of Ireland since 1884, broke his silence of 24 years and devoted his maiden speech to a recital of his personal experiences with cattle-driving outside his own gates.

The Marquis of Londonderry declared that the present state of Ireland is worse than in the dark days of the early eighties, when murder and outrage were rampant, and he attributed the conditions entirely to the cowardice of the Government. The law-breakers, he asserted, had the audacity to declare that they had at their backs members of the Government, and it was even reported that the constabulary had been ordered not to come into actual contact with them.

He pointed out that when the Right Hon. James Bryce vacated the chief secretaryship, Mr. Bryce reported that the condition of Ireland was reassuring, but shortly after Mr. Birrell's advent, cattle-raiding was inaugurated, and it had now spread to ten counties. The judges were paralyzed in the sections subject to coercion by the Irish League and trial by jury was a farce, out of 237 prisoners tried only eight being convicted. Even the Government's own Irish Attorney-General had declared that if the present conditions continued anarchy would result.

The Marquis of Londonderry concluded by charging the Government with cowardice and with being terrorized by the Nationalists into permitting a state of things disgraceful to any civilized Government.

Lord Beauchamp, replying in behalf of the Government complained of the exaggerated pessimism of the Unionist peers, and resented Lord Lansdowne's comparison between Ireland and Macedonia. He admitted that cattle-driving had increased during the past year, but said that this was the sole sign of agrarian conditions becoming worse. The Government deplored the cattle raids, but he declared, the country was no more lawless than during certain periods of Premier Balfour's administration, and, following Gerald Balfour's precedent when he was Chief Secretary for Ireland in 1895-1900, the Government had no intention of reviving the Crimes Act, as suggested.

Censured Chief of Police.

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—The coroner's jury to enquire into the death of James Callighan, in the county jail last Saturday night, returned a verdict censuring the chief of police. The result is remarkable, as no blame was attached to the chief in any way, nor did the man receive anything but kindness in the police station previous to being sent to the county jail.

Found Frozen to Death.

Ely, Nev., Jan. 31.—The body of Harry Norwood, aged 44 years, was found frozen to death. His only known relative is Alfred Norwood of Montreal.

PETERBOROUGH FRIDAY JANUARY 31 1908

SURPLUS OF OVER SEVEN THOUSAND DOLLARS IS THE VERY SATISFACTORY REPORT OF WATER COMMISSIONERS

Business Meeting Of Yesterday Afternoon Has Many Interesting Figures for the Citizens—Four Months Leave of Absence For Mr. Matthews

29 MILES OF PIPES LAID

Record of Mr. Butler's Conservation of The Water—Mr. W. Henderson, Supt., Presents Exhaustive Report

The annual business meeting of the Water Commissioners was held yesterday afternoon in the committee rooms of the Council. The reports presented are most encouraging and should please the citizens by the good work the Commissioners have done in 1907. The net profits amount to $7,520.43. The water works system was run last year without a hitch and over 66 million gallons of water was pumped in excess of the previous year. The various reports speak for themselves, and are sufficient proof of the attention the commissioners have paid the work as well as the care shown by others in charge of different departments.

It was moved by Mr. W H Hill and Mr. W H Moore, that the chairman, Mr. T F Matthews, be given leave of absence of four months. Mr. Hill was appointed chairman for the interim.

Recognition of Services

In recognition of the conservation of the head waters of the Otonabee during the past year giving Peterborough a splendid supply, a motion of thanks was passed to Mr. Butler, C.E.

Moved by Messrs. Hill and Moore, That the Water Commissioners of the City of Peterborough desire to place on record their sincerest appreciation of the manner in which the water in the Trent Canal above Peterborough has been regulated and conserved under the direction of the capable Deputy Minister and Chief Engineer of the Department of Railways and Canals, Mr. M J Butler, C.E., affording as it has a regular flow at all times during the year, thereby enabling the water works department to operate their pumping station throughout the year without interruption for want of power and not even necessitating the changing of a stop log in the water works dam during that time.

We also approve of the policy of the Department in building new dams and renewing old dams on the Gull river, Burnt river, Mississaugua creek and other tributary waters recently taken over from the Ontario Government by the Dominion Government, and we hope it may be the determination of the Department to continue this satisfactory policy of conserving the waters.—Carried.

Superintendent's Report

Mr. W Henderson the superintendent of the water works presented a most comprehensive report of the work he has been in charge of during the year. The past year was a busy one for the men employed on the water works and Mr. Henderson had many duties to attend to, and the universal consensus of opinion is that he has performed his duties in a workmanlike and businesslike manner, and with an eye to the best results.

C. P. R. EARLY MORNING TRAINS WERE DELAYED FIVE HOURS TO-DAY BY AN ACCIDENT AT IVANHOE

Freight Train Blocked The Line by Accident to the Engine—Second Accident at Kennebec Later in The Morning

THE EXPRESS WAS DELAYED

Frost Said to be Causing Trouble—Mist From Engines Hides the View at Times

Two minor accidents on the C. P. R. east of Havelock caused the company a little trouble to-day, and delayed the passenger trains until the road was cleared. The two early trains this morning and the local were held east of Ivanhoe by an accident to an engine of a freight train.

The first passenger train arrived in the ocity shortly after nine o'clock and was five hours late. The second train came in at 9.30, and the third, the local, about 10 o'clock. The auxiliary from Havelock was called into service, the truck of the tender having met with a mishap.

Later in the morning the van of the way freight left the rails near Kennebec and blocked the track. The auxiliary was again called out. This accident must have delayed the first section of the noon train which passed through Peterborough on time at 11.10 o'clock.

The ocold snap of the last couple of days is believed to have had a material effect on the trains and the causes of these accidents are said to be due to the severe frost. The engineer and fireman in many of the engines must have trying times these days. With the steam escaping from the engines the caboose is enveloped with a mist, which is said to be impenetrable. As one of the men said, you might as well put your head in a bag for all that can be seen at times.

BIG DIPPER MINING PROPERTY IS BEING GREATLY IMPROVED

An Examiner reporter interviewed Mr. H. W. Eaton, president of the Big Dipper Mining Company, regarding the development of the company's business and its properties, which are in a fine state of development. Over 700 feet of shafting and tunnelling has been done on the property, with 1,000 tons of ore ready for the mill. A new camp has recently been built which far exceeds the first one. A large 100-ton mill has been purchased and will be put on the property as soon as the building, which is in course of erection, is completed.

The mill was purchased from the Pulverizer Limited, of Toronto. This company made a test of 1,200 lbs. of Big Dipper ore at the Toronto Fair last autumn and extracted gold to the value of $18, and other values of about $7. The purchase price of the mill was $17,500, but owing to the fact that the Big Dipper had the reputation of being the greatest gold and copper property in the Dominion of Canada, they gave a flat price of $15,000, with $3,000 down and the balance, $12,000, to be paid by 30 per cent. of the weekly output of the mines.

Mr. Eaton expressed himself as highly pleased with the growing interest manifested by the citizens of Peterborough in a mine that is so near their own doors.

THE CATTLE STILL GRAZING ON THE PRAIRIE LANDS OF THE WEST

Mr. John Hardwicke returned to his home Wednesday evening after a seven months' absence in the West, where he was employed at Revelstoke, B. C., by the C. P.R. He states that at present work in the West is rather slack, but that such conditions are not likely to last long. Several men were laid off recently by the C.P.R. on account of the falling-off in trade, but it is not anticipated they will long be out of work.

Mr. Hardwicke, like many other young men, is in love with the West. "That's the place to live," he said to the Examiner, "and I'm going back again." He will remain in the city, however, at his home for some time before his departure.

Coming through the West the amount of snow was conspicuous by its absence. Cattle were seen grazing on the prairie all along the line and apparently were living well on it. At North Bay, however, a change was experienced, both on account of the abundance of snow and the lowness of the temperature.

HORTICULTURALISTS ASK ASSISTANCE

Mr. D. W. Dumble Addresses the County Council This Afternoon

OLD COUNTRY MEN ARE GOING HOME

The Reduced Fare Has Tempted Many To Return Home

The second section of the noon C. P. R. train passed through the city at half-past one to-day with most of the passengers ofdcountrymen returning homes. They were to embark on the liner "Lake Erie." The reduced rates going from Canada to Liverpool has allured many back to the more friendly winter of Old England. The present fare going over is $17 and about double that rate returning. A fairly large number were on their way back to-day.

WAS RUN OVER BY A CUTTER

Little Daughter of Mr. F. C. Freeland Was Injured To-day

Vera, the little daughter of Mr. F. C. Freeland, London street, met with a painful accident at noon today, from the effects of which she is recovering nicely. At the corner of McDonel and George street she fell while trying to get a ride on a passing cutter, and the rear runners went over her leg, bruising it badly. The little one was picked up and taken to her home where her injuries were attended to.

The several reports presented at the meeting of the Water Commissioners yesterday afternoon obtain some figures which are of interest to the citizens. The profits of 1907 are $7,520.43; there were 8,163 feet of pipe laid during the year and 495 services laid. Twelve hydrants were set in various parts of the city.

The total length of pipe now laid in the city is 153,066 feet or 29 miles in round figures. The length laid in 1907 was 1 1-6 miles. Total number of hydrants, 213; total number of stop valves, 245. The total services put in is 2,236. The total quantity of water pumped in 1907 was 571,146,920 gallons, an increase of 66,097,840 gallons over the previous year. The contingent fund is now $16,870.

THE SPLENDID BAND CONCERT WARRANTED LARGER AUDIENCE AT HARTLEY BENEFIT CONCERT

Held in Market Hall Last Night—The Weather Was Too Cold For Many Sympathizers

MR. J. H. SCRIVER SANG

The 57th Regimental Band certainly excelled itself if such were possible, at the complimentary concert to Mr. David Hartley in the market hall last evening, given by the citizens of Peterborough. The programme was, indeed, worthy of an audience that would have filled the large hall, but which, owing to the Arctic nature of the weather, was of rather meagre proportions. Mr. H. J. Scriver, tenor, of Toronto, was also a contributor to the most excellent programme and his solos were well rendered and highly appreciated.

Many complimentary remarks were passed upon the playing of the band, under the leadership of Mr. R. Gliddon. Every number was rendered in the old-time fashion and made the concert a rare treat to those who braved the frosty weather to attend and who had not heard the band for some time. In fact it was one of the best band concerts ever presented by the 57th Regimental Band in Peterborough and one that will long be remembered by those fortunate enough to be present. Too much praise cannot be given to Mr. Gliddon, who had spared no pains in perfecting a musical programme of unusual merit.

Financially, the concert was not what was anticipated, but the weather must be blamed for this. The size of the audience, however, did not represent the number interested, as many tickets were disposed of which were not presented at the door, indicating that a large number of the citizens of Peterborough sympathize with the proposal to send David Hartley to Kansas City and to assist him in a manner befitting the honour he has brought to Peterborough by his recent achievements in pedestrianism.

Mr. F. D. Kerr, before the opening of the concert, addressed the audience briefly. He was glad to see that such a number had turned out to the concert, but regretted that owing to the inclemency of the weather the market hall was not filled to honour Mr. David Hartley, who, in his long walk from Oshawa to Toronto and back to Peterborough, and again in his 12-hour walk against Jimmy Reynolds in Toronto had broken all records and had made a name for himself. A large number of citizens who were not present had purchased tickets, showing their desire to assist with the object.

All were aware that Mr. Hartley had received the unusual distinction, as a Canadian, to take part in a six-day walking contest in Kansas City, Mo., to decide the championship of the world. The feeling in Peterborough is that if he goes to Kansas City he will be first in the race, but whether first or last, we know he will be doing his best, not for the honour that will come to himself, but for the credit he will bring to Peterborough.

Mr. Kerr referred to the excellent concert to be presented by the band, and on behalf of the management regretted the unavoidable absence of Miss Julia Choate, violiniste, who, on account of the lateness of the train, from Toronto, was prevented from being present.

Among the selections presented were the regimental "Lass o' Gowrie," the march "High Pride," and the "Zampa." The first mentioned was the opening number and foretold the unique character of the selections following. "Zampa" brought out with good effect the resources of the band, while "Creole Queen" was a particularly fascinating number. But the "piece de resistance" of the evening was "Love Me, and the World Is Mine," which called forth loud applause and an encore.

The tenor solo, "Island of Dreams," by Mr. J. H. Scriver, was not the least appreciated number of the programme. Mr. Scriver is the possessor of a refined tenor voice and he was heard to advantage last night. For an encore he sang in splendid style "Love Me, and the World Is Mine." Mr. H. Nichol was the accompanist.

"The Whistler and His Dog" was another of the appreciated selections by the band. The music is bright and swinging and suitable to such an occasion. "Mumblin' Moses" and "A Hunting Scene" were the remaining numbers by the band, of different characters, but both nevertheless most delightful.

The excellent concert in aid of Peterborough's long distance walker was brought to a close by the singing of "God Save the King."

LOCAL "MEN OF AFFAIRS" TO APPEAR TO-MORROW

The Examiner has made arrangements for the securing of pictures of Peterborough "Men of Affairs" in caricature, which, it is believed, will prove a popular series with Examiner readers. A couple of these have already been secured and the first will appear in to-morrow's issue. This is a new feature in Peterborough and before the series is completed there will be many caricatures of Peterborough "Men of Affairs" illustrating a particular business each is engaged in. Watch for the leader to-morrow.

THE ICE MAN AND THE WEATHER

Have Joined Hands For the Present—King Frost Holds Sway

The cold spell, if it did no particular good to the city as a whole, it at least brought the glad smile to the ice man's face. It was just what he had been hoping for. The ice is coming out now in fine thick cakes, almost as large as last year, and about twice as good as it was ten days ago. The restaurant people will have no chance of making chocolate sundaes another five centsdearer next summer through a scarcity of ice, for the ice men should reap an abundant harvest from now on.

THE WORK OF WOMEN IN CANADIAN NORTH WEST

Shown by Paper Read at St. Andrew's Missionary Prayer Meeting

At the monthly missionary prayer meeting at St. Andrew's church last night a very interesting article from a recent issue of the Pioneer was read by Mrs Potter. It showed that a splendid work is being done by a band of faithful medical missionaries, and nurses, that will reap a rich harvest of good results. At Atlin, Dauphin, Clifton, Vegreville, Alta., Wabaw and Teulon, hospitals have been erected and capable nurses are in charge.

At Teulon Dr. Hunter is the medical superintendent and missionary, and Miss Elizabeth Bell is the efficient head nurse. It will be remembered that Miss Bell was formerly of St. Andrew's manse, Peterborough.

Prayers were then offered on behalf of the hospitals, missions, physicians and nurses engaged in this particular part of the church's work.

THE REVIEW EVICTS ENNISMORE

To the Editor of the Examiner:

In the Review of yesterday evening I noticed an item giving a list of the municipalities that comprise West Peterborough for political purposes. The Review, in giving the names of the municipalities, does not mention Ennismore. I have no doubt that the local Conservative organ would prefer to have Ennismore disfranchised, but it will take more than the mere wish of the Review to do this, as they will find out when Ennismore is heard from at the next general election.

Yours truly,

AN ENNISMORE BOY.

DELIGHTFUL AT HOME WAS HELD

Mr. and Mrs. C. Rutherford Entertained Their Friends Last Night

Mr. and Mrs. C. Rutherford were the host and hostess of a delightful "at-home" last night in honour of the nuptials of their niece, Miss Sadie N. Rutherford, the guests including those from outside points who had been present at the wedding. A very enjoyable time was spent in cards and music, and refreshments were served at the conclusion. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hardill, Hamilton; Mr. E. Rutherford, Cedarburg, Wis.; Miss Pearl Osborne, Penetanguishene; Miss Jessie Weir, Galt; Mrs. E. H. Fogarty, Port Hope; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Richardson, Dr. Galvin, Misses. M. McFadden, C M Blewett, J. Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. McQuillan, Mrs. M. McFadden, Miss Annie Hardill, Miss Daisy Robson, Miss May Anderson, Mrs. M. Fadden, Miss Mary McCarthy, Miss J. McCarthy, Miss Nevin.

WEDDING BELLS.

HURL-SANDERSON

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. David Sanderson, Caroline street, was the scene of a pretty wedding at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, when the marriage was solemnized of their eldest daughter, Miss Annie, to Mr. Wesley Lawrence Hurl, son of Mr. E. Hurl. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. Sutherland Burns, B.A., pastor of the Presbyterian church, in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The bride, who was brought in and given away by her father, was prettily attired in a blue cloth dress with white net waist over silk, with lace trimmings. She carried a bridal bouquet of white carnations. Miss Annie Tucker of Peterborough, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. Mr. Wesley Leonard ably assisted the groom. After the ceremony and congratulations and good wishes had been given, the guests sat down to a delicious wedding supper in the dining-room, made festive with decorations for the occasion. Later in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Hurl left amid showers of rice for Peterborough to take the late train for Toronto and thence to Niagara Falls, the bride travelling in a blue suit with white hat. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Hurl will reside in Lakefield. The groom's present to the bride was a beautiful drawing-room suite. It was only necessary to look at the array of numerous beautiful and costly presents to conclude that the youthful bride and groom hold a very high place in the love and esteem of many friends, and for a bright day and good wishes are harbingers of a happy married life, Mr. and Mrs. Hurl will be so favoured.—Lakefield News.

Messrs. E. L. Goodwill and George Cochrane Looking up Statistics —Plans On Which They Are Working

TO PROVIDE MEALS DAILY

It is a well-known fact that there are many men in Peterborough out of work at the present time and not in a position to earn the daily bread for their wives and families. There are also a number of women and children who might with propriety be given assistance in obtaining their daily food, and a movement is on foot, novel to Peterborough, to provide something for such persons every day during the cold weather in the way of a daily meal.

The originator of the idea is Mr. E. L. Goodwill, the secretary and solicitor of the Children's Aid Society, who is one of the most prominent citizens engaged in the assistance of the homeless children.

A Daily Meal

He proposes to establish food stations in Peterborough, the number of which will be decided upon if the scheme he has in view is acted upon. The food kitchens will be for the purpose of preparing soup in quantity and will also be the headquarters for distribution.

Where Most Needed

Mr. Goodwill's proposal is that two or perhaps three of these be instituted where they will be most needed and that every morning they be open to the public who need assistance. Tickets will be printed and distributed among several responsible men and women throughout the city whose duty it will be to find out those deserving of aid. The tickets will be given out to the poor and must be presented at any of the stations in order that a meal may be obtained. It will also be arranged that no person will be permitted to obtain two meals in the same day. Plenty of soup will be provided for all who come and present their tickets.

May be Sent for

It will not be necessary for those wishing to obtain soup to apply personally at the food kitchens. They may send a messenger or any member of the family with a tin pail or other vessel and receive as much as they desire. The soup may probably freeze on the way home, but it is something which does not lose much of its flavour after being heated a second time.

Lunch counters will be constructed wherever the stations are situated, and possibly, if enough assistance is given the project by the public other provisions such as bread and biscuits may be added later. Soup can be provided at a very small cost and large quantities can be distributed at little expense.

Mr. Goodwill has been considering this scheme for some days and would like to have opinions expressed on it. He is securing statistics as to the number of families who require assistance and will have these prepared in a short time to determine the number of soup stations necessary to provide a meal each day for those who are not in a financial condition to maintain themselves and their families.

Mr. Geo. Cochrane, agent of the society, is another interested in the proposal and this afternoon he went down to the south end of the city to make preliminary arrangements for the opening of a soup kitchen.

A PLEASANT EVENING IN MONAGHAN

The Birthday of Miss Ina Spilsbury Was Celebrated

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Spilsbury was the scene of a pleasant gathering last Friday evening, Jan. 24th, when they celebrated the birthday of their daughter, Miss Ina Spilsbury, in honour of her aunt, Miss Stewart and daughter, of North Dakota. A jolly sleigh load of young people drove out from the city and were entertained with games and music. A most elaborate supper was served by the hostess and all returned home very highly pleased with the night's enjoyment.

THE WEATHER.

Although the weather has moderated greatly to-day, last night was very sharp. During the night the thermometer went down to 18 degrees below zero. At 7 o'clock it was 4 degrees below. By noon it had moderated greatly and stood at 12 degrees above.

"Kaze yo' jes' minds me whar I lef' mah overcoat," replied the devout worshiper as he hurried off.

A Poor Prophet.

Conan Doyle told of an experience which he had when leaving school. His teacher must have been one of those noble old Romans such as Thackeray describes as roaring at young Pendennis when the major, his uncle, called to take the boy away. When Conan Doyle had finished his course in school the head master called him aside and, after eying him with ominous disfavor, spoke to him in measured tones as follows: "Doyle, I have known you now for seven years, and I know you thoroughly. I am going to say something which you will remember in after life. Doyle, you will never come to any good."—Bookman.

ACTION CALLED FOR

The action of the Board of Trade in passing a resolution endorsing the course of the Government in relation to the conservation of the waters tributary to the Trent Canal system, was both timely and broad-minded, indicating that the members of the Board are alive to the necessity of promoting our navigation and power-producing interests. The tribute paid to Mr. M J Butler, Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals and Chief Engineer, was also well deserved, and the fact that he takes an interest in water conservation indicates that it is a proper thing to do. Mr. Butler is a practical man and finds out for himself—takes nothing at second-hand—what conditions demand the action of the government. While the Board of Works approves of the work done, and in process of doing, the exercise of its functions should not be confined to mere approbation. The conservation of waters contributing to increased development of power, is valueless unless practical use is made. It might be well for the Board to urge the City Council to quicken its activity in the matter of inducing the location of new industries to which a necessary complement would be the development of economical power supply. Nature, primarily, and the government as an auxiliary, have placed abundant water, at our disposal and it only remains for Peterborough to become a beneficiary by the practical employment of the means made available.

A WELL-MANAGED TRUST COMPANY

The eleventh annual general meeting of the Trusts and Guarantee Company, Limited, held on Wednesday was well attended. The reports presented showed that the business of the company was flourishing and profitable and that there was a steady gain in stability and strength. The assets of the company now amount to $1,830,482.13, to which the operations of last year contributed $1,104,458.62, a gain of about twenty-five per cent. The increase in permanent or fixed-date deposits was $490,895.17, almost double the figures of 1906, indicating growing public confidence. The gross earnings, $142,466.18, were equivalent to 12.7 per cent. on the paid-up capital stock. Of the net earnings of $86,000.87 the sum of $65,567.83 was used to pay two semi-annual dividends, at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, leaving $20,442.04 to bring up the profit and loss account to $160,612.10. During the year 1907 $591,349.38 was added to trust funds, etc., placed with the company, making a total of $1,851,013.16.

In all respects the company shows prosperity and expansion. The steady and rapid increase of its transactions made its new and larger premises necessary. Its branches at Brantford and Calgary show satisfactory progress, and the Province of Alberta in appointing the company public administrator for several districts of that Province exhibits a gratifying official confidence in its standing and business methods.

The report generally shows the Trusts and Guarantee Company to be a prosperous, well-managed and growing financial and fiduciary institution, and the Managing Director, Mr. J J Warren, was heartily congratulated by the shareholders.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Though the proverb assures us that the good die young, yet there are exceptions. The good old Review has survived and in its old days is becoming dangerously good. It declares that its party has two candidates that they can "honestly cheer for." To insist on injecting honesty into the matter of cheering indicates a stage of morality high enough to be worthy of being well watched.

Mr. Carstairs, the Dominion Conservative organizer, is not so grandly optimistic as Sir Charles Tupper, who never saw a general election loom up without seeing the Conservatives "sweeping the country." Speaking in the opera house on Wednesday night, in the pauses of the sacrificial rites, Mr. Carstairs foresaw in the coming general elections the bare possibility of the Conservatives coming into power in the Dominion—if enough seats were won.

On this are set 213 hydrants and 9245 stop valves.

Services laid, 1907, 195. Total services, all sizes, from 1-2 inch to 8 inch, 2,230.

During the year eleven services were repaired on which leaks occurred, and repairs made on four cast iron mains. Sixty cast iron stopcock boxes were set in place of old wooden ones and fifteen valve chambers had new concrete stops set in place of wood at pump house. Timbers under suction and force mains having become decayed through dry rot, were replaced by steel girders and cast iron columns where girders could not be utilized. The pump house was repainted and new concrete window sills were built in to replace decayed oak ones.

Water pumped during 1907: 571,146,920 gallons, an increase of 66,097,840 gallons over previous year.

Respectfully submitted,

W. HENDERSON,
Superintendent.

CHINESE TIDBITS.

The Way Vegetables and Meats Are Preserved by the Natives.

In China turnips, several varieties of cabbage and seaweed are often prepared for winter by giving them a coat of salt and drying in the sun. A vegetable resembling cabbage is sometimes dried in the sun without salt and put away in shallow baskets until ready for use. They have a way also of making a kind of sauerkraut very much as Americans do. The treatment of certain vegetables in this way is a common practice. The best native hams come from a region known as the Kinhua district, in Chekiang province. The hams when dressed and ready for curing are carefully placed in vats. A kind of pickle is then prepared of salt, water and a sauce from the soy bean, which is poured over the fresh hams. After the hams have been in the pickle a sufficient length of time they are taken out and hung up to dry and occasionally, but not often, smoked, when they are ready for the market. Sometimes a little nitrate of potash is also added to help preserve them, but this addition is the exception and not the rule. It is reported that in the south hams are cured by means of an alkaline earth and common salt, but so far as can be learned no earth of any kind is employed in the middle and northern provinces. The famous pickled eggs of China are preserved with a pickle made of common mud, salt, saltpeter and soy bean sauce, all mixed together. The eggs are coated with a plaster of this mixture and laid away until ripe, when they are ready for the table. Prepared in this way they will keep several months.

The Great White Ants.

The termites, or great white ants, which are highly esteemed as food in Central Africa, live in great colonies and build enormous hills. As soon as the rainy season begins, when the termites are full grown and about to leave their nests, they are regarded as choice edibles, and the man ant eater then goes forth with his axe and chops his way into their dwelling place in order to kill them.

The President moved the adoption of the report and said:

Gentlemen,—

It affords me very great pleasure to welcome so large an attendance at this, the eleventh annual general meeting of the company, to consider and pass upon the report of the directors as submitted.

This report, which has been placed in your hands, is accompanied by the report of the auditors, certifying to the correctness of the records of the various transactions of the year, and to the correctness of the several accounts.

I am sure you will be pleased with the report, as you have good reason to be. A consideration of the figures presented discloses a satisfactory showing. The gross receipts, under the items of interest, commission and rental of vaults, aggregate $142,466.18, equivalent to 12.7 per cent. earnings on the paid-up capital stock, with an expense [illegible] in connection therewith of $56,456.31, leaving the handsome sum of $86,009.87 as net profits on the operations of the year. Of this the sum of $65,567.83 has been apportioned to the payment of two semi-annual dividends, at the rate of 6 per cent., leaving a balance of $20,442.04 to be added to Profit and Loss, increasing the total at the credit of this account from $140,170.00—the figures of 1906—to $160,612.10.

To illustrate the satisfactory result of the operations of the company for the year, as revealed by the figures cited, a comparison may be made with those of the preceding year. For instance, the permanent, or fixed date, deposits of last year show an increase over those of 1906 of $490,895.17, an evidence of a corresponding increase of the public confidence in the stability and soundness of the company.

There has been a similar notable growth in the amount of trust funds placed. The total amount of the trust funds in the hands of the company in 1906 was $1,259,603.78. At the close of 1907, they amounted to $1,851,013.16, an increase of $591,349.38. This indicates a substantial general advance for last year over that of the preceeding year, a most satisfactory record of the results of efficient management. The growth of the assets of the company is also a matter of congratulation, being more than 25 per cent. The total in 1906 was $3,726,023.51, and in 1907 it was $4,830,482.13, an increase of $1,104,458.62.

The advance made by the company under the present management, involving courtesy, attention and prompt methods of business transaction, is satisfactory, winning the favour of the public, and consequently that of the Board.

It was intimated in my remarks at the annual meeting last year that the rapid expansion of the company's business made the provision of more commodious office premises necessary. Provision for this has been made by the purchase and fitting up of the premises 43 and 45 King street west. While these premises are conveniently situated, and adequate and excellently adapted to serving the present purpose of the company's business, their acquirement was made under conditions which would permit of their disposal if desired, at a figure in excess of their cost, and the value will grow with the growth of the city.

The establishment of branch offices has been amply justified. That opened at Calgary, in the new Province of Alberta, forms an important centre for the expansion of the business of the company, in keeping with the great growth of the west. A further justification of the enterprise of the company in effecting a business invasion by the company of Western Canada is to be found in the fact that the Provincial Government of Alberta has shown its confidence in the Trusts and Guarantee Company by appointing it, under Order-in-Council, Public Administrator for several districts of the province. The branch established in Brantford is also doing a satisfactory business.

This cursory review of the successful outcome of the operations of the company, under conditions of considerable general contraction of the scope of financial, industrial and other activities during the past year, encourages the hope that the present satisfactory conditions of prosperity and rate of progress will be continued.

Mr. D. W. Karn of Woodstock, Vice-President of the company, seconded the adoption of the report, and congratulated the shareholders on the splendid showing made by the company during the past year.

The report was adopted unanimously.

The following directors were elected for the year 1908:—

Had Been There.

"Here's a firm advertises for a general man, not afraid of good pay, one willing to start at 10 and quit at 3. You have all the qualifications to land that job."

"All except the $10,000 to invest in the business."

Not Qualified.

"Did you intend to drown yourself?" asked the magistrate at Marylebone police court when a cab driver was remanded on a charge of attempted suicide.

"No, I cannot swim," replied the man.

Half Caught in Machine.

Guelph, Jan. 24.—While working at one of the machines in the carpet mills yesterday, Miss Beatrice Thompson, a girl of 19 years of age, met with a painful accident, which might easily have been attended by fatal results. She went around to the back of the machine to adjust a part known as the collar-box, when he hair caught in a set screw on a revolving shaft. The girl's hair wound round the shaft, and in an instant her face was against a fast moving pulley. One of the men working near heard her screams and had the machinery promptly stopped, but not before an ugly cut had been sustained and the girl's ear split open.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Jan. 31.—The stock market to-day opened considerably stronger than might have been expected and fair gains were recorded throughout the list. Trading at no time was above the proportino recently prevailing, and the advance was brought about under the leadership of Reading and U. P. The Steel stocks were firm, while in the late trading a sharp advance occurred in these issues, although the supply of stocks at the high point was considerable. The buying was based on the more optimistic views expressed at the recent conference of steel officials.

Following the publication of the President's message the market was strong and advanced to the highest point of the day on support extended from banking quarters and a fair amount of short covering. The shorts counted on this message to bring about a lower range of prices, and when the market failed to develop weakness the bears displayed considerable nervousness and ran to cover.

In our opinion no great attempt is being made to advance the market at present, although there are good supporting orders at hand. The general market should move in an irregular manner for a time, and we would not advise taking a permanent position on the long side, but feel that profits should be secured on the rallies as there will be ample opportunity to rebuy stocks.

POPULAR MANAGER WAS PRESENTED

Employees Present Mr. T. F. Matthews With Pair of Marine Glasses

(At noon to-day a very pleasant function took place in the shipping room of the Geo Matthews Company, when Mr. T F Matthews was presented with a handsome pair of marine glasses by the employees of all the departments. Mr. and Mrs. T F Matthews will leave on Monday on the Mediteranean trip which will occupy a period of three months. The presentation was made by the foreman Mr. Fred Beard, and the following address was read by Mr. A. P. McLean:—

Mr. T F Matthews, City:

Dear Sir,—We, your employees, representing the different departments—office staff, travellers, retail stores and factory—desire on the eve of your departure on a prolonged tour in the East, to wish you and Mrs. Matthews a pleasant outing and a safe return. To emphasize this sentiment and to add, possibly, in some small degree to the better enjoyment of the trip, we desire you to accept at our hands this pair of marine glasses, selected with a view to their usefulness to Mrs. Matthews as well as yourself. The occasion also affords us an opportunity of acknowledging your many acts of kindness to us as your employees and our deep sensibility of your many courtesies. Again wishing you both bon voyage and safe return.

The above address was signed by all of the employees.

Mr. Matthews made a suitable reply thanking the men for their kind words.

A Good Loser.

"But," said the girl's father, "what qualifications have you? What is there about you to make you consider yourself worthy of my daughter? Why do you think I ought to accept you as a son-in-law?"

"Since you pin me down to it, I will tell you candidly," the young man replied, "that I have never had a very high opinion of my qualifications. I am here strictly because I hate to give pain. Your daughter accepted me before I had a chance to finish what I had started to say, which was not what she seemed to think it was going to be. If you do not think I am worthy of her and if you are convinced that I am not the man you desire for a son-in-law I will inform you right now that I am one of the best losers you ever saw."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Vague Idea.

During his first visit to a farm little Willie came into the house crying softly.

"What is the matter, dear?" asked his mother.

"I went out to see the cows, and they didn't give nothing but milk," sobbed the boy.

"What did you expect?" inquired the mother.

"I'm not sure what I expected," replied Willie. "But, mother, where does beef tea come from?"—Judge.

Righteous Indignation.

"Colonel," said the reporter, "I am told that you once made a fortune in hay. Would you mind telling me the story?"

"The only foundation for the story, suh," responded Colonel Hankthunder, "is that I married a rich grass widow some years ago, and I can lick the man that sent you to ask me that question, begad, suh!"—Chicago Tribune.

Proving the Case.

"I believe in the perversity of inanimate things."

"Why?"

"Look how people have tried to get to the north pole by airship. Now an airship breaks loose and it starts straight for the pole."—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Cream Gone.

"Yes. Still burglars haven't half the chance the trust companies did."—New York Life.

Indians and Beards.

We know that, as compared with the white race, the Indians are a beardless people, but to say why this is so is impossible. It is one of the physiological mysteries that have never been cleared up.

The Eskimo Sneeze.

The Eskimo is said to delight in sneezing. Indeed, it is his one form of dissipation, which he produces by snuffing a mixture of powdered quarts and tobacco.

An Exalted Yawn.

"When I went to church last Sunday," said a young woman visiting Washington, "I sat directly behind a high executive officer for whom I have always had the greatest veneration and whom I have regarded as almost more than mortal. I tried hard not to be rude and stare at him too much, but I could not help my eyes wandering toward him occasionally. I glanced at him just once, near the end of the sermon, and what do you think he was doing? He was yawning, and he yawned a large and vigorous yawn, which came to him so suddenly that he did not have time to hide it behind his hand. I must confess that I was delighted. My veneration for the executive officer is just as great as it ever was, but I am glad I found out with my own eyes that he is subject to ordinary human weaknesses and cannot help yawning during a sermon."—Washington Star.

Heat Tests of Clothing.

An interesting experiment made in June by a physician proved conclusively that for the sake of coolness only white should be worn in hot weather. The physician spread out in an intense sunshine a large piece of white cloth, another of dark yellow, another of light green, another of dark green, another of blue and another of black. Then, with the help of six thermometers, he made the following table of the various heats which each color received from the sunlight: White, 100 degrees; dark yellow, 140 degrees; light green, 155 degrees; dark green, 168 degrees; blue, 198 degrees; black, 208 degrees. Thus the physician proved that in July or August the man in white is a little less than twice as cool as the man in blue and a little more than twice as cool as the man in black.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Country Mouse.

By TEMPLE BAILEY.

Copyright, 1907, by M. E. Daley.

Felicia packed into a little trunk her one white party dress, a pretty gray dinner gown, a half dozen shirt waists and an extra hat, and away she went to town to visit her cousin, Mary Barnes.

Mary's brother Roger met her at the station.

"Mary is planning no end of things for you," he told Felicia when he had settled her in the carriage. "She is going to give a luncheon and a tea and a theater party and a dance, and half of her friends are enlisted to make you have a good time. It will be a lively existence for you, little girl."

"Oh," Felicia leaned forward, "I shall love it! My greatest excitement for a year has been a church social or a sleigh ride, and I am longing for society."

"Mary spells society with a big 'S,'" Roger told her. "She is a slave to it, and she needs a rest. She is as thin as a wafer and as pale as paper."

"But think what a lovely time she has!" Felicia said, all pink and white with enthusiasm.

"Humph!" Roger said. "You don't know when you are well off, little Felicia."

But Felicia fell on Mary's neck when she reached the great stone mansion.

"I can stay two weeks," she said. "The school board gave me a vacation, and I am going to have the time of my life."

"Indeed you are," Mary said and carried her away to a delectable bedroom, where rose leaves drifted across the wall paper.

"I'll get into my kimono, and then we can talk," Felicia said joyously as she opened her little black bag. But Mary shook her head dubiously. "The girls are coming for luncheon in just a half hour. There are ten of them, and the table decorations are to be in pale pink, because that is your favorite color."

"What shall I wear?" Felicia asked. "I have a gray gown and a white one, and the white one is for evening."

"The gray will be all right with a ducky little knot of pink carnations and lilies of the valley. The florists are doing them that way now, and Roger can get you some."

Roger got the flowers, but the gray gown was not gorgeous, and beside Mary's shimmering chiffon creation Felicia felt depressingly shabby.

But the luncheon was exquisite, and the girls were friendly, and Felicia did not have much time to think of herself, for there was a tea on immediately after, and she was carried off by Mary and Roger, wearing a long and splendid wrap of Mary's, for her own simple tailor made jacket was out of the question.

"No one will notice that it is mine," Mary assured her, "in the crush," so Felicia, feeling very elegant, swept through the crowded rooms and talked as fast as she could to dozens of people and came out breathless.

"Wasn't it awful?" Roger asked her. "I shouldn't have gone a step if it hadn't been for you."

"It was delightful, Felicia gurgled—"the pretty women, the lights, the music, the ices and everything."

"Humph!" Roger grumbled, and Felicia made a little face at him and said, "You're an unsociable bear, Roger," and Roger said, "Oh, it's such a waste of good material for you to spend your time with such people when you might be talking to me, Felicia."

Felicia opened her eyes wide at that. "Do you like to talk to me, Roger?" she questioned, and Roger laughed and said, "Yes, but you don't deserve it." And Felicia, feeling very much flattered, leaned back in the carriage and peeped at Roger now and then, while Mary mapped out the programme for the next day.

"We will go to the hairdresser's early. Roger, don't you think Felicia will look dear with her hair marceled?"

"I think Felicia looks dear with her hair any way."

Mary laughed and went on.

"There are the Deering luncheon and three teas and the art exhibit and the Colburns' dinner and a box party after, and then the cotillion."

"Oh, stop!" Felicia pleaded, looking at her cousin with startled eyes. "Do you expect me to do all that in one day, Mary?"

"She does," Roger asserted, surveying his country cousin with melancholy eyes, "and where, oh, where in all that programme will you have a minute to spend with me?"

"I am not worrying about that," Felicia told him, dimpling, "but what am I going to wear, Mary? What am I going to wear?"

"There's your white dress," Mary said slowly.

"But I can't wear that one dress to a luncheon and three teas and a theater party and a dance. What are you going to wear, Mary?"

"My pale blue broadcloth will do for the luncheon and the tea and the view. Then I shall wear white lace to the dinner and the rest of the evening."

"When in all that rush will you find time to change?" was Roger's question.

Mary leaned back in the corner of the carriage. She was very pale, and there were dark circles around her eyes.

"Oh, I don't know; I don't know," she said. "Sometimes I feel as if I were on a treadmill and no one would let me stop."

Felicia looked at her with startled eyes.

"Why, I thought you liked it," she gasped.

Mary straightened up at that.

"Oh, when I get into it," she said, trying to speak lightly, "it's not so bad, but I have felt the strain this winter awfully."

Between rushes that night Roger caught Felicia for a moment alone in the library. "Mary is dreadfully blue," he told her. "She broke her engagement with Bob Carruth in the summer, and she hasn't seen him since, and she misses him."

"What did she break it for?" Felicia asked.

"He wanted her to go south with him and settle in a little town where he could practice medicine, and she wouldn't give up society, and now I think she regrets it."

"Oh," said little Felicia, "if I loved a man I would go to the end of the world with him!"

"Would you?" Roger asked.

"Yes."

"Well, I am leaving for Japan next week," ingratiatingly.

Felicia gazed at him with intense indignation for a moment; then she turned her back on him. "Silly!" she said.

When Felicia went to bed that night she was so tired that she could not sleep. The next morning she was as pale as Mary. For a week the two girls dragged their engagements, finishing up on Saturday night with another cotillon.

"Felicia wore her white dress. It was mussed, and she knew that she was not looking her best, but she was so tired that she did not care. Roger had sent her a bunch of violets, and her dance card was filled with names, but the fact gave her no satisfaction.

The fourth dance was Roger's.

"Enjoying it?" he asked briefly as he swung her out into the floor.

"Oh, I am so tired I shall drop," she said. "Can't I go home, Roger?"

She looked so like a little weary child that Roger laughed.

"Baby," he teased and then tenderly, "I'll hunt Mary up, and we will cut the rest of it."

In the carriage Mary collapsed. "I didn't dream I was so tired," she sobbed, with her head on Felicia's shoulder, and Roger, surveying the pair with twinkling eyes, said, "Let me prescribe."

"Well?" came back in muffled agreement.

"You pack your trunk, Mary," he planned, "and go home with Felicia. It's lovely in the country now, and I'll come up and bring Bob Carruth with me."

Mary sat up, with her face ablaze.

"Bob Carruth?"

"Yes. I had a letter from him yesterday. He's coming up for a visit."

Faint pink tinged Mary's cheeks.

"Do you think he will want to see me, Roger?" she asked wistfully, and Roger said gently, "I know he will, Mary."

So Felicia packed her little trunk, and Mary packed a larger one, and away they went to the country, where the trees were crimson and gold and brown and where the air was like wine. And there Bob Carruth and Roger followed them.

"So she is really going to marry him and live in a country town," Roger commented, and he and Felicia followed Mary and her lover along a path that seemed to end in a golden sunset.

"Yes," Felicia said.

"And you are going to marry me and come and live in the city," Roger ventured.

"I haven't promised yet," said little Felicia. "I am afraid that some day I should be saying, 'Give me again my hollow tree, my crust of bread and liberty.'"

"You aren't afraid of anything of the kind," Roger told her. "You know we would live happy ever after."

"Oh, well, if you are so sure," said Felicia as she tucked a confiding hand through his arm and looked up at him with happy eyes, "I guess I shall have to say yes, Roger."

Humor

ACCEPTED THE CHALLENGE.

But the Pensive Young Man Was More Than Vexed Over the Result.

"I'm in love!" sighed the pensive young man as he threw himself into a morris chair in his friend's apartment.

"I know it," calmly replied his friend.

"You don't know anything of the kind! Why, I didn't know it myself until last night!"

"Nevertheless, I know it. Furthermore, I knew it the minute you came in the door. One look at your face told me all about it. And I can describe the girl."

"Suppose you try," challenged the young man, settling back defiantly in his chair.

"To begin with, she's neither short nor tall, but just the right height. Her figure is slender and perfectly well proportioned. Her eyes—why, when one looks into those eyes he thinks of all the shameful, wicked things he has done in the past and resolves to execute many brave, manly deeds in the future for the sake of those two eyes, which seem to stretch clear back to her beautiful white soul. Her cheeks! Ah! They flame instantly into wonderful crimson when by accident you touch her trembling hand—crimson that would make a tropical sunset blanch with envy. And her hair! Why, my boy, her hair is the most beautiful sight on the face of this old earth! To secure a lock of it any fellow would endure the world's bitterest hatred and scorn"—

"Stop!" cried the young man, his face livid with jealousy. "What right—why, how long have you known Marguerite?"

"Known her? I never saw her!"

"Then, how"—

"That's easy," said the friend. "Once I was in love myself."—Dwight Spencer Andeman in Puck.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, Jan. 30.—Receipts of live stock at the City Market on Wednesday and Thursday, as reported by the railways, were 96 carloads, composed of 1388 cattle, 931 hogs, 1811 sheep and 44 calves, with 1 horse.

Exporters.

Few export steers were offered and they were reported as being bought for butcher purposes. Export bulls sold from $3 60 to $4.25. Properly finished export steers are worth from $5 to $5.30 per cwt.; medium would sell around $4.75 per cwt.

Butchers.

Choice picked lots sold from $4.60 to $5, and one lot of 3 weighing 1160 lbs. each, sold at $5.12½; loads of good, $4.35 to $4.55; medium butchers' and good cows, $3.60 to $4.15; fair cows, $3.20 to $3.50; common cows, $2.40 to $2.90; canners, $1 to $1.90; bulls, $2 to $4 for butchers' purposes.

Feeders and Stockers.

H. & W. Murby report few stockers or feeders as being on the market this week, owing to light receipts of cattle all round. Messrs. Murby bought about 40 steers this week, weighing from 800 to 1000 lbs. each, at $3.30 to $3.60 per cwt. The Messrs. Murby are open to buy a considerable number, but they want them to be good quality.

Milkers and Springers.

As will be seen by sales reported below, there has been a fairly active market this week for cows, but prices were not any higher. Good cows generally ranged from $45 to $55 each, with an odd one of extra quality at $60. Common light cows are not wanted, and sell from $30 to $35 each.

Veal Calves.

Veal calves were scarce, and more of the good kind are wanted. Prices ranged from $3.50 to $4.50, and one extra fine, well-finished new milk fed calf brought $7 50 per cwt. More of the latter class would have found ready sale, as there is a good demand for that class.

CONFESSES TO MURDER.

But Percy Bowins Says Killing Was Not Wilful.

Detroit, Jan. 31.—Percy Bowins, or Boyne, as he is otherwise called, when charged in the police court yesterday with the murder of Mrs. Cornolia Welch, pleaded guilty to the crime. "I did not kill her wilfully," he said in reply to the question of the clerk, "but I was the cause of her death."

There is no capital punishment in Michigan.

Attorney Keanes, pointed by the court to defend young Bowins, decided to ask the recorders court to set aside Bowins' plea of guilty, so that Bowins may have the benefit of a new trial. Bowins will appear again on Thursday.

It seems that when he was located at Woodville, Ont., by a Detroit detective, the latter said he wanted Bowins as a witness to assist in tracing the murderer, and the boy willingly accompanied the officer under the delusion that some one else was under suspicion.

Went Over Embankment.

Woodstock, Jan. 31.—Early yesterday morning a G. T. R. freight train started out from Woodstock station west with three flat cars directly behind the engine, followed by some heavily loaded box cars. When considerable speed had been attained the brakes were suddenly applied. The momentum of the heavy box cars shoved them up against the flat cars with so much force that it raised them up and toppled them down a 50-foot embankment, where they were smashed to kindling wood. No person was injured.

EXPRESS DERAILED.

Engineer Leach Has a Marvelous Escape—Hurled 20 Feet.

Smith's Falls, Jan. 31.—The C.P.R. Winnipeg express, eastbound, jumped the track at Almonte Wednesday, but no one was injured, and the damage to railway stock was slight.

An accident occurred to the Ottawa-Brockville express Wednesday, in which Engineer Samuel Leach had a marvelous escape. The train was being hauled by two engines, and the driving rod of the first one broke, when a short distance out from the station here. Engineer Leach was leaning out of the cab window at the time and was hurled through it and into a field a distance of twenty feet. He landed in a snowbank and thus escaped serious injury, though his leg got a bad wrench.

Eleven Men Entombed.

Charleston, W. Va., Jan. 31.—A dust explosion occurred yesterday in the New River Valley mine near Hawk's Nest. Only twelve men were employed in the mine. One man, Superintendent Coles, was taken out seriously burned. The fate of the other eleven men is not known. All the dynamite and powder in the mine was ignited by the explosion, destroying the shaft.

Tricking a Jeweler.

A fashionably dressed woman once alighted from a brougham in west London and stepped into a hairdresser's shop. She informed the barber that she had a son who was of unsound mind and that the doctor had ordered his head to be shaved.

Her son, she said, was violent, and she instructed the barber to get a couple of assistants and seize him when he was brought round, to tie him in a chair and shave his head in spite of anything he might say. The barber did not relish the job, but an advance fee of a guinea tempted him, and he fell.

Then the lady drove to the jeweler's, bought some expensive rings and jewelry and expressed surprise at having left her purse at home. She offered to drive the jeweler home with her, together with the jewels, and pay him at her residence.

On arriving once more at the barber's the two alighted, and the unfortunate jeweler at a sign from the lady was seized and bound to a chair, and in spite of his angry yells and expostulations his head was shaved. Meanwhile the lady drove off with £300 worth of gems and was never heard of again.—London Mail.

Austria's Provinces.

So many languages are spoken in the provinces of Austria-Hungary that interpreters are employed in the various parliaments to interpret the speeches of the delegates and make them intelligible to all the members.

Foiled Again.

The stout man opened the door of the small waiting room at Bushby station and looked cautiously into the room. As he saw it was apparently empty, he entered, closed the door softly behind him and tiptoed over to the weighing machine. "I guess I've got my chance at last," he muttered as he hastily thrust a cent into the slot and stepped gingerly on the platform at the same instant.

He settled himself firmly and was adjusting his glasses to decipher the number of pounds registered when the door of the ticket agent's room opened, and out he came, rubbing his chilled hands.

"Have to warm up at the stove once in awhile," he said genially and was surprised at the answer he received.

"Any excuse does 'em, I notice," muttered the stout man, and he stepped heavily from the weighing machine without having deciphered the figures.

"You won't find out how much I weigh today!" he said louder, with a hostile glance at the ticket agent. "This is the forty-fifth time I've tried to use one o' these machines in peace, but now I give it up. If 'tisn't an imposition, I don't know what is!"—Youth's Companion.

Tactful.

Elderly Husband (lately married to young wife, to his friend)—And what do you think of my wife?

Friend—Lovely. She will make a perfectly stunning widow.

APPOINT UNDER SECRETARIES.

Hon. G. W. Ross Leads Debate In the Senate.

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—The resolution of Senator G. W. Ross, declaring that the time had arrived for supplementing the executive Government of Canada by the appointment of under secretaries to the more important Departments of the public service, with duties and privileges as near as may be similar to those of the corresponding officers in the Parliament of Great Britain, was discussed in the Upper House yesterday afternoon. Senator Ross said he had lively recollection of the time a Minister had to give to detail work. It was the duty of political leaders to watch the trend of events and to make use of his experience and capacity to lead the people in the way they should go.

With six months Parliament and heavy Departmental duties, the Canadian Ministers could not find the leisure for this higher leadership. A wide outlook was required for the treatment of large things. To-day a man could gain more votes by the judicious filling of a postoffice than by moving men's minds on a great question like the French and Japanese treaties, the national transcontinental railway, the Georgian Bay Canal or the all-red route project.

That was not the case in England, where large questions engaged the attention of electors during a contest. This should not be the case in Canada. The consideration of large questions could be promoted among the people, both by the press and the Government.

Senator Ross said the entire burden of the Finance Department in Canada devolved upon one man. In England there were eight men, Ministers and under secretaries, with the Lord Chancellor at their head to look after this department of the country's business. The business of the Justice Department in Canada was looked after by two men—the Minister of Justice and the Solicitor-General. In England there were nine men, and, in consequence, the English acts were among the finest pieces of legal literature in the world. Canada, with six million people, he declared, was no longer a small country.

The State Department had large questions brought to its attention. Canada had made a treaty with France and canceled one with Germany; and might make one with the United States. There were boundary, water questions, relations with Newfoundland and many other great questions, and the head of the State Department should have freedom from detail to study.

Senator Ross would have an under secretary for the Public Works Department, for Railways and Canals, for Interior, for Agriculture, Labor, Justice and Marine and Fisheries.

Provincial Governments Help.

Secretary of State Scott observed that he had failed to notice that idea had elicited any enthusiasm on the part of the press. The comparison of the duties of British and Canadian Ministers could hardly be compared. Senator Ross had pointed to the multifarious duties of Canadian Ministers, and the many aids in the way of under secretaries provided for the British Ministers. He had, however, neglected to call attention to the fact that there were nine provincial and legislative Governments in Canada, which took care of a large proportion of the affairs which, in the Motherland, had to be looked after by the Ministers and the Parliament. Then while Canada had a growing relation with other states it was absurd to intimate that it could be compared with the British foreign interests and that Canada's affairs required any such study or attention.

Election by the People.

Hon. Mr. Scott said that more than once with Minister absent from Ottawa he had alone looked after the business of the Government, and his opinion was that the affairs of the Departments were so organized that they could run smoothly in most cases without Ministerial scrutiny of details. He declared his belief that if the Senate would have an important status it must be elected by the people. There was a very desirable simplicity in the Canadian system of Government, the Ministers were closely in touch with the people, as was shown by the fact that if Governments give reasonably good administration the people will continue to keep them in power. This was shown by the eighteen years of Conservative tenure, and the thirty-two years of existence of the Ontario Government, of which Senator Ross had been a member. Hon. Mr. Scott said he would be sorry to see any part of the American system copied by Canada. No one who observed the arbitrary power exercised by the American President and Senate could say that it was a modern or desirable system.

In conclusion he said that if the Senate was ever to have more importance its members must be elected by the people.

St. Catharines' Boy Sent to Jail for Three Months.

St. Catharines, Jan. 31.—James L. Karr, the Beamsville boy convicted of administering poison in candy as a joke, to a young companion, Russell, was sentenced to three months' in Central Prison. The father of the boy accompanied him to jail, and endeavored to have the sentence revoked, but was told nothing could be done beyond appeal to the Minister of Justice, which course will be adopted.

Request was made by Karr that no proceedings be taken against the other boys, as all had learned a lesson. It is unlikely any new prosecutions will be begun.

Sell Liquor Through Dispensaries.

Edmonton, Alta., Jan. 31.—C. D. Hiebert, member for the Rosebud district, moved yesterday in the local Legislature "The Liquor Dispensary Act," which in general confines the selling of intoxicating liquors to regularly licensed dispensaries. A board of three commissioners shall be appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-council, the duties of which will be to establish wholesale and retail dispensaries, as provided by the act, and to engage dispensers.

Scalded to Death.

Comber, Jan. 31.—On the Michigan Central Railway at Ruscombe, four miles from here, one of the flues of the locomotive boiler gave way, and Fireman McNish was frightfully scalded, death resulting shortly afterwards. The engineer escaped.

Boy of Ten Years of Age Became An Opium Fiend

But Doctor at The Victoria Industrial School Is Gradually Curing Him

HE CRIED FOR THE DRUG

Toronto, Jan. 31.—(Special.) — The grip which the opium habit takes on the addicted to its use is exemplified in a striking way in a child of ten years who is at present under the care of the Victoria Industrial School at Mimico.

The details of the case were given to the trustees of the school at a meeting held yesterday afternoon.

The child was put in charge of Superintendent Chas. Ferrier two weeks ago, and Mr. Ferrier described him as "a veritable opium fiend." He became addicted to the drug from his earliest days, practically within a few days after birth. The mother, not being able to give the child the attention it deserved ,gave it in charge of another woman. This person was herself addicted to the drug, and to quiet the peevish infant, gave it small doses. The drug proved a wonderful sedative effect, and in the many outbursts of infantile crying, some more of it was given to keep the youngster quiet.

When put in charge of the school, so badly was the boy addicted to the use of the drug that it was found impossible to deprive him of it altogether. He cried and begged to have some given to him. The school doctor was called in, and under his direction a little of the drug was administered and this amount gradually diminished day by day.

A great change has come over the boy since his entrance to the school. He is not yet completely weaned from use of the drug, but it is expected that he will in a short time have entirely forgotten it.

How Christmas is Spent At "Hazel Brae" Girl's Home

The Last Issue of Ups and Downs Contains Interesting Article on The Subject—Turkey And Plum Pudding

TALKS BY THE MINISTERS

The last edition of "Ups and Downs," published under the auspices of Dr. Barnardo's Canadian homes, contains the following article by A. H. Harris, on Christmas at Hazel Brae:

Any of our girls who have spent a Christmas at "Hazel Brae" knows just what it was this time, for our programme is the same year after year, only the faces around us change. Sometimes fresh plans are suggested, but in the end nothing seems pleasanter than the old way.

We were quite a large party. Besides those in residence we had several visitors for the holiday week; Maud Paris, Sarah Freestone and Margaret Marshall were among the number. Nora Connor and Martha Scott deferred their visit to the New Year. Many others just came in for the day. Our three little invalids in the Nicholls Hospital were all well enough to enjoy their share of gifts. I don't know at what hour Christmas began for the girls. Some of us were wakened quite early by sweet voices of the tinies singing carols in the hall. Then shouts of "Merry Christmas" at each door and off they scamper, and then great excitement oversome presents to and from various people, the result being evident later on table spread with pretty gifts.

Mr. Smith had once more made hall, dining room and school room gay with flags and evergreens. A party of visitors and younger girls started in spite of the snow storm for the service at St. John's. By the time they returned tables were spread and there was just time to put on white pinafores and new ribbons before the dinner bell sounded.

Friends in town had sent up several fine turkeys, and the Christmas pudding was all a pudding should be, and blazed up finely. It wasn't only plums that pudding contained! Some people rose from the table richer than when they sat down. And last of all we pulled our crackers and donned the enclosed headgear. I wish some one had taken a "snapshot" then for "Ups and Downs." During the morning Mrs. Foster and willing assistants had dressed the tree, and all agreed the result was charming. So many gifts from friends in town and from our older girls had come in that we were able to distribute quite lavishly to all. A large box of dolls and pretty fancy articles from girls in Toronto was the largest consignment, and was much appreciated. The doll was dressed by Laura Addis, and so excelled in beauty it was hard to decide on the recipient; but all, I think, were pleased to see it handed to little Ada Harford.

Rev. Canon Davidson and Rev. E. A. Pearson kindly spared time to be with us in the afternoon and gave a little "Christmas talk" to the children. Then began the distribution of gifts from the tree, and a pretty sight it was to see the children's bright faces and full hands. Some more sweet singing followed, a cantata, sung by the older girls, winning flattering comment from our visitors.

At six we gathered again for tea, and at eight began our evening entertainment. Some "tableaux vivants" had been prepared by the girls, and every one was a success. Mary Prendergast, Maud Smith, Maud Catterick, Lily Weaver, Florrie Slee, and others took part in "The Seasons" and "The Days of the Week," and there were some really beautiful representations. The tinies, too, had their share, and Emily Cayger as "Little Boy Blue" and Lillie Nockles as "Tom TTucker" brought down the house. Soon after ten good nights were said with the pleasant reflection that New Year was still to come.

PETERBOROUGH MEN AT TWEED

Attend an Interesting Function in Honour of a Banker

Little did those in control of the Sovereign Bank dream that the demise of that institution would bring to Tweed a most interesting social event but once again the old adage about ill wind blowing good, has been verified, because the At Home given in honour of Mr. W A Parker, the manager of the Tweed branch of the late Sovereign, was one of the most happy events of its kind that has been given in Tweed.

When word was received that Mr. Parker might shortly leave Tweed, the local bachelors and benedicts decided to show their appreciation of his worth, by giving a reception. Invitations were at once sent to the many friends of Mr. Parker announcing an At Home in his honour in Murphy's Opera House on Friday last.

On Friday night the bachelors, benedicts and their lady friends assembled in the opera house, and the social evening spent with dancing and cards, will be remembered long by those who were in attendance.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr .and Mrs. D Armstrong and Dr. and Mrs. Burrows, of Marlbank, the Misses McWilliams, Mrs. Fred Bleaker and Mr. Ed. Gladney, of Marmora; Miss Sherry, of Norwood; Mrs. McDowell of Kingston; Mr. P O Dumble and Mr. L Bowes, of Peterborough.

TOOK SUDDENLY ILL IN THE PULPIT

Tweed Minister Had To Give up The Sermon on Sunday

On Sunday morning last, Rev. Robt. Burns was taken suddenly ill while in the pulpit of St. Andrew's church. Although he was quite ill with lagrippe, he decided to conduct the service in St. Andrew's, as Rev. Binnie was out of town on an appointment. Just before the sermon, however, he found that he could not proceed with the service and he left the church. The congregation also left as there was no one present to conduct the service. There was no service in St. Andrew's on Sunday night.

Rev. Mr. Burns is progressing nicely and although suffering from a bad attack of lagrippe, he will no doubt be able to conduct the services in the Methodist church on Sunday next.—Tweed News.

THEIR CHINA WEDDING WEDNESDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Doughty at Home To Their Friends

On Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Doughty celebrated their china wedding at their home on Chamberlen street. They were married twenty years ago, but have lived in Peterborough only about fifteen months. Previously they resided in Norwood and longer in Havelock. Many of their friends from Norwood, Warsaw, Havelock and Hastings were present, together with friends from the city. The evening was spent in games and dances and an enjoyable time was the result. Luncheon was served in the dining room and was not the least pleasant event of the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Doughty were recipients of many beautiful presents of chinaware presents from their friends on the twentieth anniversary of their wedding. Those present from outside the citywere Mr. and Mrs. A. Mitchell, Warsaw; Thos. Doughty and two daughters, of Warsaw; Mr. and Mrs. S. Hatherly, of Hastings; Mrs. J. Spinks, of Havelock; Mr. Jas. Blain, Hastings; Mrs. Herbert Mitchell, Lakefield.

TRACES OF COPPER FOUND

Some ore was left at the Examiner office a few weeks ago by a lady, which yesterday was tested by Mr. W. P. Eakin. He found a trace of copper in it and also iron pyrites. The copper is, of course, the most valuable portion of the rock, and the value of the find will depend upon the formation.

Mr. Eakin states that in the case of copper, a slight trace on the surface usually signifies that the formation is good, and that by digging into the rock the metal is more abundant than the indication at the surface would indicate.

THE MAYOR SPEAKS

To the Editor of the Examiner:

It has occurred to me that as there may be many citizens who think they cannot afford to contribute to this fund, may I suggest that those who are so disposed might procure due bills from the coal and wood merchants for, say one-half ton of coal or one-half cord of wood, which would only involve an outlay of say $3.75. These due bills might be handed the relief officer, Mr. Miller, Water street, and he would see that they were used in a judicious manner. I may say that the regular city charity wood pile is disappearing rapidly.

N. B.—Since writing the above I am pleased to be able to gratefully acknowledge the following additional contributions to the above fund:

Mrs. M. A. Hazlett. $20.
Mrs. Ellen Walsh, $20.
Miss Charlotte Dickson, $5.
Miss Martha Dickson, $5.

The Wasting Process of Disease

Disease is a tearing down, wasting away and a destroying of the tissues of the body and a shrivelling up of the nerve cells and blood corpuscles. Nature demands assistance to overcome this dreadful wasting process and the needed help is best supplied by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the great blood builder and nerve restorative.

CONTROLLING NATURE

Everybody knows that of late years natural forces have been wonderfully subjected to man's need. We are dazzled by the spectacular achievements in steam and electricity, but are likely to forget the less noisy but no less marvellous conquest of animal and plant life.

Horses are swifter, cattle heavier, cows give more milk and sheep have finer fleeces than in days gone by. In plants the transformation is even more marked. People now living can remember when the number of edible fruits and vegetables was far less than at present, and even those that could be grown were vastly inferior to what we now have. For example, our parents knew nothing of the tomato except as a curious ornament in the garden. Sweet Corn was hardly better than the commonest field sorts. All oranges had seeds. Celery was little known and poor in quality. In the flower bed the magnificent Pansy has replaced the insignificant Heart's Ease, from which it was developed, and the Sweet Pea in all its dainty splendour traces its origin to the common garden vegetable.

This progress has been made in spite of the great tendency manifested in all plants and animals to go back to the original type. It is indeed, a battle to keep strains pure and up to the standard they have already attained, let alone any improvement. The practical results are accomplished by man operating largely for love of the work, like Luther Burbank in California, and Eckford in England, as well as by the great seed merchants, D. M. Ferry & Company, of Windsor, Ont., who are not only eternally vigilant to hold what ground has been gained, but have a corps of trained specialists, backed by ample means, to conduct new experiments. The results of their experiences can be found in their 1908 Seed Annal, which they will send free to all applicants.

CONTRACTOR EXPLAINS POSITION

The Bridge Was Built According to Plans And Specifications, He Says

Peterborough, Jan. 31, 1908.

To the Editor of the Examiner,
Peterborough,—

Dear Sir,—My attention has been directed to some anonymous letters in the local papers, apparently written by some residents of Douro who are using the press to get at each other in reference to the conduct of local representatives in the County Council, and intimating that the contractors for the construction of the Keene and Evans bridges, by the favour of the county engineer, were not required to build the wingdams to these bridges, and so profited to the extent of $1,600. I am the contractor for these bridges—the insinuation made is a slander. I built the bridges according to the plans and specifications. If I did not build any wingdams it was because none were called for. Had they been required I would gladly have built them, but the county would have certainly paid for them.

If these gentlemen will fight out their personal matters without impunging the honour of respectable men it will be more to their credit, and may save their bank accounts, if they have any.

Yours truly,
D. CONROY.

LAST O.H.A. GAME OF SEASON WILL BE PLAYED TO-NIGHT

To-night will see the last O.H.A. game of the season in Peterborough, and in view of this fact the contest between Cobourg and Peterborough at Brock street rink should be greeted by a large crowd. The game promises to be one of the hardest fought of the year as Cobourg with their greatly strengthened team will take a lot of beating. Their forward line has been made much more formidable by moving Crossen, the great shooting cover-point, up to rover. The Strathconas will have a strong team and are confident of a victory over the last visitors. No matter upon whose banner victory perches, the fans will see one of the best exhibitions of the year. The teams are evenly matched and both are determined to win.

The game will be called at 8.15 o'clock sharp and it is likely that W A McOord, of Toronto will referee the contest.

Goal—Dercsher.
Point—Meagher.
Cover—McWilliams.
Rover—Parnell.
Centre—Long.
Right—Rose.
Left—McMillan.

ROUGH RIDERS IN SKIRTS WILL PLAY LADIES NEXT THURSDAY

The Peterborough Ladies' Hockey Club will play the Rough Riders on Thursday night next from 8 to 9 o'clock at Brock street rink in a novelty hockey match. The Rough Riders will be encumbered with skirts of the latest cut from a leading Montreal dressmaking shop. The boys have not announced the colour scheme, but it will either be a dainty wine with box plaits, brocaded with Persian trimmings, or, as it is whispered, a dainty tailor-made brown, with Corticelli sheering. Whatever it will be, the people are assured of a surprise. The Rough Riders disdain the usual pads.

The ladies are playing good hockey, and as far as the game goes a good exhibition will be seen. In the first half the boys will use both hands, but in the second will play with only one. The game should be one of the most unique of the season and should be attended by a large crowd. The 57th Band will be present and at half-time, by request, will play "Waltz Me Around Again, Willie," and two selections from the "Prince of Pilsen," "He Didn't Know Exactly What to Do" and "Keep It Dark."

The line-ups will be published later. The admission will be 10 and 15 cents and there will be skating for an hour afterwards with the band in attendance. The proceeds will be given to the Children's Aid Society.

SPORTING NEWS AND VIEWS.....

Edmonton Bulletin—For the Edmonton team, Whitcroft let himself out a few and did stunts he did not bother about in other events, scoring four of the first five goals and doing it after a fashion that opened the eyes of his most ardent admirers. He had speed to burn, and when he got away there was nothing to it. Deeton, Miller and Boulton were always on the spot, and their work was immeasurably superior to the Battleford men. They played better combination, checked back better and used their heads to good advantage when in tight corners. They are individually, and as a line, the best forwards that have put foot on the ice in the neck of the woods.

Crowley was a stonewall and when he loomed in the immediate vicinity there was haste on the part of the possessor of the puck to dispose of it to one supposedly out of the danger line.

The Irish-Canadian Athletic Club suffered its first serious set-back to-day when Claude Allen, the American champion pole vaulter, announced that he was going back to New York this evening. Allen's departure, coming upon Tom Coley's request yesterday for his release from the club in order to join a Hamiltno club, presumably St. Patrick's, is a very heavy blow to the celebrated club which has done so much for athletics in Toronto during the past year. The circumstances leading up to the decisions of these two men are many and rather unfortunate.—Toronto News.

A SNOW SHOVELLING CHALLENGE

Arrived at Examiner Office in Letter "Edged in Black"

The sporting editor of the Examiner received a letter this morning "edged in black" and it affected him rather seriously before the envelope was hastily torn open. Here's how it read:—

Sporting Editor, Examiner:

Dear Sir,—James Murphy of Peterborough, challenges Wm. Benton, of the Montreal House, to shovel snow for any stake he desires. This is a bona fide challenge. So put up or shut up.

JAMES MURPHY,
Champion of Peterborough.

It is suggested that during each snow storm that visits Peterborough during the remainder of the season, these famous shovellers perform in front of the Examiner office and when spring arrives the award will be made—by a competent judge—to the champion.

THE BASKETBALL GAMES TO-MORROW

The Tongolas of Toronto Will be Here—Two Games on The List

The basketball games at the Y.M.C.A. to-morrow evening promise to be of an interesting character. At 7.45 the Collegiate I. play Collegiate II., and afterwards the Tongolas of Central Y. M. C. A., Toronto, will meet the Y.M.C.A. Seniors. Both these teams are playing fast basketball and there is much speculation as to the result. There should be a large attendance out to see the games as it will be one of the best ever seen in Peterborough.

HAVE FINISHED COURSE OF INSTRUCTION

The two officers of the 15th Battery, Lieuts. Leary and McDonough, who left the city two weeks ago for the barracks at Kingston, have completed their course of instruction in artillery drill and field manoeuvres. The officers have had a splendid time and have benefitted greatly by the instruction given. The examinations take place to-morrow, and in all probability the officers will be home to-morrow or Monday. Both men have grasped the work, and it is likely they will stand high in the list of successful competitors.

QUARTER OF CENTURY OLD

Great Care Which Has Governed The Proceedings of This Honourable Organization

This is not a story in natural history, and certainly not one of those that might excite a controversy between President Roosevelt and Chas. G. D. Roberts, or Professor Long.

It is instead, despite its title, an account of business foresight, of human perseverance and fidelity to trust, that the commercial world has seldom, if ever, seen equalled.

The "made" beaver is the standard or medium of trade with which for nearly two hundred and forty years the Hudson's Bay Company has been conducting its trade with the Indians of Canada.

It is with the passing away of this system and the wonderful conversion of the company's business from a purely Iddian trade to one that is modern and meets the requirements of the civilization that has so largely of late spread over the greater part of the territory formerly occupied by Indians alone, that this story has to deal.

It has been suggested to the writer by the perusal of some documents, more particularly the Collected Reports of the Company published since its reorganization in 1863.

the Indians, in the territory watered by the rivers that flow into Hudson's Bay, the principal object in their search for fortune was the beaver skin. The many other beautiful and valuable skins that so largely adorn the fashion of the day were then not thought of. For many years the beaver alone was the chief article traded. As other furs and articles were purchased and as all were acquired by barter, it became necessary to adopt some standard or medium of exchange.

Earliest Form of Reckoning

Obviously, each article of merchandise could not have a corresponding value in the various kinds of furs, placed upon it. The standard of the "made beaver" was therefore adopted, the "made beaver" being one properly dressed of prepared. Each article of merchandise was valued on this basis, as were also the furs traded. At first, so it is said, the simple plan of making notches upon pieces of wood was adopted. Thus, when an Indian brought in a bale of furs he received a piece of stick, and upon this was cut a notch for each "made beaver's" worth of fur that he had brought in. With this stick in his hand, knowing how many "made beaver" he had to his credit, he went to the trading shop, where the goods, which his eyes looked longingly at, were all valued in the "made beaver" tariff, and he was enabled to make his selection according to his means. As time went on the system was improved upon by the introduction of a coinage called "made beaver," and though these coins have now been discontinued, there are still parts of the interior where the trade is conducted on the nominal basis of the "made beaver," or as it is more popularly called, the "skin." The intrinsic value of a "made beaver" it will be seen is an indeterminate quantity, depending upon the value of the furs received and the cost of the goods exchanged for them.

The further the goods had to be transported inland, the more expensive they became and the less could be given for the furs. The Indian, therefore, became a keen student of the value of the purchasing power of the medium of exchange, he learned of the selling and buying prices at other posts.

Dollars and Cents Tariff

Later on, the use of the sterling currency was adopted at the posts on Hudson's Bay, and still later, as the Indians came within the treaties formed with the Canadian Government, the dollars and cents tariff came into use. Various tariffs were thus formed, and it was said that where more than one tariff was in use the Indian became such an adept in the manipulation of them that as an adherent of the bi-metallism policy he would have been the envy of William Jennings Bryan.

These different tariffs appear to have been adopted for different purposes, such as the payment of labour, boating and other than the trading of furs, for which latter alone the "made beaver" was retained. It was impossible to maintain the same standard of value throughout these various tariffs, and the Indian, who had only to bear in mind that he was to receive the most possible for what he had to give, would often get into debt under one tariff, and make payment under the other, taking advantage of the lower prices for goods in the one and the better prices for his commodities in the other.

The "made beaver" has served its purpose and the few specimens that are extant are becoming valuable to antiquarians and numismatologists. In some parts of northern Canada the trade is still carried on on the old basis, but the march of civilization has carried with it the almighty dollar, and few are the Indians left, whether Chipewyan, Loucheux, Cree or Saulteaux, that do not know its value.

With the passing of the "made beaver" has of the same time come the passing away of a great deal of the trade that was formerly done with it.

Disappearance of the Buffalo

The vast plains of the middle west of Canada are no longer covered with immumerable herds of buffalo and the elevator and harvester are instead everywhere to be seen. Where only the industrious work of the beaver could formerly be found the axe of the lumberman is laying low the hitherto almost unexplored forest. The miner and the fisherman carry on their occupations where only the "teepee" could formerly be found, and even the magnificent "falls" that for myriads of ages have poured their thundering waters over their brinks, unknown to all but a few primeval savages and dreaded by them, are now harnessed and made to serve the purposes of man.

How the Hudson's Bay Company has altered its conditions so as to meet with success the altered character of the trade, is the object with which the writer sought the perusal of the volumes of the reports to the shareholders of that ancient corporation known as "the Governor and Company of Adventurers trading into Hudson's Bay."

He had previously seen an extract from the Money Market Review of July, 1867, and had compared it with the recent utterances of Lord Strathcona at the last general meeting of the company when the profits for the year were given as £450,567, or over 45 per cent. on the capital of the company.

Forty years ago the Money Market Review said in the article in question. "Like a wheezy worn-out steam engine this ancient company still drags its slow length along," and sardonically referring to the dividend then declared, calls it "the magnificent dividend of 4 per cent."

Fears Which Were Baseless

A great many of the shareholders were also imbued with the idea that the days of the company were numbered and the impending parting with its so-called monopoly and the giving up of its territorial rights in Rupert's Land that was shortly afterwards effected, strengthened the impression that the prosperous days of of the Hudson's Bay Company were over and ended.

Yet this remarkable company has added 40 years to its then long existence of two centuries, and to-day ranks pre-eminent among the commercial companies of the world, not only on account of the market value of its shares, but the dividends it earns upon its trading capital.

But little more than a generation has passed away since the trade of the Hudson's Bay Company was conducted on the principle of the "made beaver." To-day there stretches from the Ottawa river to the Pacific ocean a chain of retail stores owned and conducted by the "Hudson's Bay company and many of them, such as those at Winnipeg, Fort William, Calgary and Vancouver and a dozen or more other places, are palatial departmental stores that vie with the best in the world.

It may be a profitable study to see how this change, which to a very large extent has been effected during the past seventeen years, has been brought about. How the capital invested in the trade has been converted and its investment changed from log buildings, wooden sailing ships and Indian trading goods to its present moderized occupation forms an interesting history.

More remarkable, however, is that this change has been effected without impairment or increase of the capital employed. In these days when the improvement or re-organization of any commercial concern is generally accompanied by an increase of the capital stock, limited only by the rapidity of promoters and their power of multiplication, this is still more remarkable.

When in 1863 the old Hudson's Bay company that had been in existence since 1670 was purchased by the International Financial Society for £1,500,000 and subsequently placed on the London maret for £2,000,000, the sole trade was with Indians, with the exception of that done in British Columbia at Victoria and in the gold fields of Caribod.

In the transaction then effected, the capital invested in the trade was taken that which the stock of goods, ships and other accessories of trade, stood upon the books of the old company, approximately £1,000,000, and the remaining million pounds were paid for the goodwill and real estate of the old company and the flotation of the new company.

To-day that trading capital stands not increased by much more than 10 per cent., and yet, though the value of furs traded is even larger than it then was, there are annual sales of goods of many millions of dollars made through the retail stores of the company.

The remarkable influx of immigration to the northwest has resulted in sales of the company's land with such advantage that while only a small proportion of them has been disposed of, the company's capital has been reduced by return of capital to £1,000,000 and of this sum only £100,000 represents the nominal value at which the landed interests stand.

Big Earnings From the Land

The earnings from the land department which afford such wonderful results upon this nominal capital have, of course, had a direct effect upon the value of the shares, but at the same time the earning power of the capital employed in trading has shown a remarkable expansion. The last annual report gives this profit as £179,688, a result approximating 20 per cent. of the capital invested.

That a company 240 years old, should, after a long period of depression, when its profits and prospects were at low ebb, show such wonderful results forms a remarkable chapter in the commercial history of the world.

The early history of the company has been often written and many are the writers, some of very great ability, who have dealt with the romance of its earlier days. The intrepidity of its first and earliest pioneers has been often the subject of literary ability, but the patience and perseverance of those who have quietly and unostentatiously brought about its modern achievements have yet to be described. This conversion from old to new is a commercial romance that in unique in its character.

Shareholders are proverbially not given to patience and many have been the attempts on their part to bring about changes in the management of the company when its affairs did not seem to them to be satisfactorily conducted. Good counsel and conservative administration, however, prevailed, and the fortunate holder of Hudson's Bays, who has not purchased in recent years, must view with great satisfaction the conduct of its business.

The late Lord Goschen, in 1875 says "The officers are availing themselves of opportunities, as they arise, of extending the general business of the company, the prospects of which are expected to improve with the progress of settlement and the extension of railways." In 1880 Lord Goschen was still the governor and the first great departure towards conducting the "new" trade was made.

When Gochen was Governor

He says, "The general business of the company continues to occupy the attention of the committee, and arrangements are now being made for the erection of new buildings upon suitable sites at Winnipeg, West Lynne and Portage la Prairie, where, with the large influx of settlers, the nature of the trade has greatly changed during the past two years."

QUARTER OF CENTURY OLD

Great Care Which Has Governed The Proceedings of This Honourable Organization

Ruin of Fort Prince of Wales—Churchill.

This is not a story in natural history, and certainly not one of those that might excite a controversy between President Roosevelt and Chas. G. D. Roberts, or Professor Long.

It is instead, despite its title, an account of business foresight, of human perseverance and fidelity to trust, that the commercial world has seldom, if ever, seen equalled.

The "made" beaver is the standard or medium of trade with which for nearly two hundred and forty years the Hudson's Bay Company has been conducting its trade with the Indians of Canada.

It is with the passing away of this system and the wonderful conversion of the company's business from a purely Idian trade to one that is modern and meets the requirements of the civilization that has so largely of late spread over the greater part of the territory formerly occupied by Indians alone, that this story has to deal.

It has been suggested to the writer by the perusal of some documents, more particularly the Collected Reports of the Company published since its reorganization in 1863.

When his late Majesty, King Charles the Second, granted to his beloved cousin, Prince Rupert, and his associates the sole right to trade with the Indians, in the territory watered by the rivers that flow into Hudson's Bay, the principal object in their search for fortune was the beaver skin. The many other beautiful and valuable skins that so largely adorn the fashion of the day were then not thought of. For many years the beaver alone was the chief article traded. As other furs and articles were purchased and as all were acquired by barter, it became necessary to adopt some standard or medium of exchange.

Earliest Form of Reckoning

Obviously, each article of merchandise could not have a corresponding value in the various kinds of fure, placed upon it. The standard of the "made beaver" was therefore adopted, the "made beaver" being one properly dressed of prepared. Each article of merchandise was valued on this basis, as were also the furs traded. At first, so it is said, the simple plan of making notches upon pieces of wood was adopted. Thus, when an Indian brought in a bale of furs he received a piece of stick, and upon this was cut a notch for each "made beaver's" worth of fur that he had brought in. With this stick in his hand, knowing how many "made beaver" he had to his credit, he went to the trading shop, where the goods, which his eyes looked longingly at, were all valued in the "made beaver" tariff, and he was enabled to make his selection according to his means. As time went on the system was improved upon by the introduction of a coinage called "made beaver," and though these coins have now been discontinued, there are still parts of the interior where the trade is conducted on the nominal basis of the "made beaver," or as it is more popularly called, the "skin." The intrinsic value of a "made beaver" it will be seen is an indeterminate quantity, depending upon the value of the furs received and the cost of the goods exchanged for them.

The further the goods had to be transported inland, the more expensive they became and the less could be given for the furs. The Indian, therefore, became a keen student of the value of the purchasing power of the medium of exchange, he learned of the selling and buying prices at other posts.

Dollars and Cents Tariff

Later on, the use of the sterling currency was adopted at the posts on Hudson's Bay, and still later, as the Indians came within the treaties formed with the Canadian Government, the dollars and cents tariff came into use. Various tariffs were thus formed, and it was said that where more than one tariff was in use the Indian became such an adept in the manipulation of them that as an adherent of the bimetallism policy he would have been the envy of William Jennings Bryan.

These different tariffs appear to have been adopted for different purposes, such as the payment of labour, boating and other than the trading of furs, for which latter alone the "made beaver" was retained. It was impossible to maintain the same standard of value throughout these various tariffs, and the Indian, who had only to bear in mind that he was to receive the most possible for what he had to give, would often get into debt under one tariff, and make payment under the other, taking advantage of the lower prices for goods in the one and the better prices for his commodities in the other.

The "made beaver" has served its purpose and the few specimens that are extant are becoming valuable to antiquarians and numismatologists. In some parts of northern Canada the trade is still carried on on the old basis, but the march of civilization has carried with it the almighty dollar, and few are the Indians left, whether Chipewyan, Loucheux, Cree or Saulteaux, that do not know its value.

With the passing of the "made beaver" has at the same time come the passing away of a great deal of the trade that was formerly done with it.

Disappearance of the Buffalo

The vast plains of the middle west of Canada are no longer covered with innumerable herds of buffalo and the elevator and harvester are instead everywhere to be seen. Where only the industrious work of the beaver could formerly be found the axe of the lumbermen is laying low the hitherto almost unexplored forest. The miner and the fisherman carry on their occupations where only the "teepees" could formerly be found, and even the magnificent "falls" that for myriads of ages have poured their thundering waters over their brinks, unknown to all but a few primeval savages and dreaded by them, are now harnessed and made to serve the purposes of man.

How the Hudson's Bay Company has altered its conditions so as to meet with success the altered character of the trade, is the object with which the writer sought the perusal of the volumes of the reports to the shareholders of that ancient corporation known as "the Governor and Company of Adventurers trading into Hudson's Bay."

He had previously seen an extract from the Money Market Review of July, 1867, and had compared it with the recent utterances of Lord Strathcona at the last general meeting of the company when the profits for the year were given as £450,567, or over 45 per cent. on the capital of the company.

Forty years ago the Money Market Review said in the article in question. "Like a wheezy worn-out steam engine this ancient company still drags its slow length along," and sardonically referring to the dividend then declared, calls it "the magnificent dividend of 1 per cent."

Fears Which Were Baseless

A great many of the shareholders were also imbued with the idea that the days of the company were numbered and the impending parting with its so-called monopoly and the giving up of its territorial rights in Rupert's Land that was shortly afterwards effected, strengthened the impression that the prosperous days of of the Hudson's Bay Company were over and ended.

Yet this remarkable company has added 40 years to its then long existence of two centuries, and to-day ranks pre-eminent among the commercial companies of the world, not only on account of the market value of its shares, but the dividends it earns upon its trading capital.

But little more than a generation has passed away since the trade of the Hudson's Bay Company was conducted on the principle of the "made beaver." To-day there stretches from the Ottawa river to the Pacific ocean a chain of retail stores owned and conducted by the "Hudson's Bay company and many of them, such as those at Winnipeg, Fort William, Calgary and Vancouver and a dozen or more other places, are palatial departmental stores that vie with the best in the world.

It may be a profitable study to see how this change, which to a very large extent has been effected during the past seventeen years, has been brought about. How the capital invested in the trade has been converted and its investment changed from log buildings, wooden sailing ships and Indian trading goods to its present modernized occupation forms an interesting history.

More remarkable, however, is that this change has been effected without impairment or increase of the capital employed. In these days when the improvement or re-organization of any commercial concern is generally accompanied by an increase of the capital stock, limited only by the rapidity of promoters and their power of multiplication, this is still more remarkable.

When in 1863 the old Hudson's Bay company that had been in existence since 1670 was purchased by the International Financial Society for £1,500,000 and subsequently placed on the London maret for £2,000,000, the sole trade was with Indians, with the exception of that done in British Columbia at Victoria and in the gold fields of Caribod.

In the transaction then effected, the capital invested in the trade was taken that which the stock of goods, ships and other accessories of trade, stood upon the books of the old company, approximately £1,000,000, and the remaining million pounds were paid for the goodwill and real estate of the old company and the flotation of the new company.

To-day that trading capital stands not increased by much more than 10 per cent., and yet, though the value of furs traded is even larger than it then was, there are annual sales of goods of many millions of dollars made through the retail stores of the company.

The remarkable influx of immigration to the northwest has resulted in sales of the company's lands to such advantage that while only a small proportion of them has been disposed of, the company's capital has been reduced by return of capital to £1,000,000 and of this sum only £100,000 represents the nominal value at which the landed interests stand.

Big Earnings From the Land

The earnings from the land department which afford such wonderful results upon this nominal capital have, of course, had a direct effect upon the value of the shares, but at the same time the earning power of the capital employed in trading has shown a remarkable expansion. The last annual report gives this profit as £179,008, a result approximating 20 per cent. of the capital invested.

That a company 240 years old, should, after a long period of depression, when its profits and prospects were at low ebb, show such wonderful results forms a remarkable chapter in the commercial history of the world.

The early history of the company has been often written and many are the writers, some of very great ability, who have dealt with the romance of its earlier days. The intrepidity of its first and earliest pioneers has been often the subject of literary ability, but the patience and perseverance of those who have quietly and unostentatiously brought about its modern achievements have yet to be described. This conversion from old to new is a commercial romance that in unique in its character.

Shareholders are proverbially not given to patience and many have been the attempts on their part to bring about changes in the management of the company when its affairs did not seem to them to be satisfactorily conducted. Good counsel and conservative administration, however, prevailed, and the fortunate holder of Hudson's Bays, who has not purchased in recent years, must view with great satisfaction the conduct of its business.

The late Lord Goschen, in 1875 says "The officers are availing themselves of opportunities, as they arise, of extending the general business of the company, the prospects of which are expected to improve with the progress of settlement and the extension of railways." In 1880 Lord Goschen was still the governor and the first great departure towards conducting he "new" trade was made.

When Gochen was Governor

He says, "The general business of the company continues to occupy the attention of the committee, and arrangements are now being made for the erection of new buildings upon suitable sites at Winnipeg, West Lynne and Portage la Prairie, where, with the large influx of settlers, the nature of the trade has greatly changed during the past two years."

In 1882, after referring to the trade done in the new store at Winnipeg, Mr. Colvile says, "A careful investigation has been made into the business and the system under which it is now conducted, and the company are glad to find that the prospects are sufficiently satisfactory to justify an extension of the trade in the districts west of Winnipeg which are now being opened up for settlement."

A prominent physician, famous for his success in the treatment of kidney and bladder diseases, attributes a great deal of his success to the following simple vegetable prescription:—

One ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion;

One ounce Compound Balsams;

Four ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla;

Mix, shake well, and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

Your druggist can supply the ingredients, and the mixture can be prepared at home at very little expense.

This, the doctor says, acts directly on the kidneys, assisting them to filter the poisons from the blood and expel same in the urine, at the same time restoring the kidneys to healthy, normal action.

We feel that a great many readers will be pleased to learn of this simple prescription, and knowing the ability of the physician whose formula it is, we do not hesitate to recommend it to any sufferer.

THE "MOUNTAIN AIR" CURE.

Many people who can afford it are sent to the mountains every year by their physicians, when the physician knows perfectly well that a little common sense applied to their daily life at home would be equally valuable. As a matter of fact the high altitude and the rarity of the atmosphere has a stimulating effect on the circulation, causing the blood to flow more freely and the heart to beat stronger. This overcomes the sluggishness caused by overeating, over-working, loss of sleep, etc. The same result may be attained at home, however, and Nature has provided the cure in the herbs that grow neglected in our country lanes. «King Palmetto Compound is a preparation of these herbs, made in accordance with a prescription adopted after much experimenting by the leaders of the medical profession, and as no real scientist keeps his methods a secret, the makers of King Palmetto Compound print the formula plainly on the wrapper, trusting to their skill in compounding it and the purity of the ingredients to protect them from imitation. If your bowels are irregular, your appetite poor and your stomach easily deranged, you will find immediate relief and eventually cure by the use of King Palmetto Compound, and it will so invigorate the entire system that you will be able to throw off any disposition to colds, coughs or grippe. A STORY OF LOVE AND ADVENTURE

BY BERTHA RUNKLE.

Copyright by The Century Co.

Mayenne seized monsieur's wrist.

"As safe, monsieur, as the king's protection can make her."

"Pardieu! Is she with the king?"

"She is at my lodgings, in the care of the saddler's wife who lets them. I left a stanch man in charge—I have no doubt of him."

"You answer for her safety?" Mayenne cried huskily, his breath coming short. He was flushed, the veins in his forehead corded.

"When she came last night it happened that the king was there," monsieur went on. "Her loveliness and her misery moved him to the heart."

"The king," monsieur went on, as immovably as Mayenne himself at his best, "with that warm heart of his pitying beauty in distress, is eager for mademoiselle's marriage with her lover Mar. But he did not favor my venture here; he called it a silly business. He said you would clap me in jail, and he told me flat I might rot my life out there before he would give up to you Mlle. de Montluc."

"Well, then, pardieu, we'll try if he means it!"

"He gave me to understand that he meant it. The St. Quentins out of the way, there is Valere, stout Kingsman, to succeed. The king loses little."

"Then, are you gone mad that you put yourself in my grasp?"

"I was never saner. I come, my friend, to make you listen to sanity."

I had waited from moment to moment Mayenne's summons to his soldiers. But he had not rung, and now he flung himself down again in his armchair.

"What, to your understanding, is sanity?"

"If you send me to join my son, monsieur, you leave mademoiselle without a protector, friendless, penniless, in the midst of a hostile army cursing the name of Mayenne. Have your reared her delicately, tenderly, for that?"

Mayenne sat silent, his face a mask. It was impossible to tell whether the shot hit. Monsieur went on:

"You can, of course, hold us in durance, torture us, kill us; but you must answer for it to the people of Paris."

Still was Mayenne silent, drumming on the edge of the table. Finally he said roughly, as if the words were dragged from him against his will:

"I shall not torture you. I never meant to torture Mar. The arrest was not my work. Since it was done, I meant to profit by it to keep him awhile out of my way—only that. I threatened my cousin otherwise in heat of passion. But I shall not torture him. I shall not kill him."

"Monsieur"——

"I put a card in your hand," Mayenne said curtly. His pride ill brooked to concede the point, but he could not have it supposed that he did not see what he was doing. "I give you a card. Do what you can with it."

"Monsieur, you show what little surprises me — knightly generosity. It is to that generosity I appeal."

"Is the horse of that color? But now you were frightening my prudence."

"Ah, but how fortunate the man to whom generosity and prudence point the same path!"

It may have been but pretense, this smiling bophomie of monsieur's. Mayenne doubtless gauged it as such, but, at any rate, he suffered it to warm him. He regained of a sudden all the amiability with which he had greeted his guest. Smiling and calm he answered:

"St. Quentin, I care little for either your threats or your cajoleries. They amuse me alike, and move me not. But I have a care for my sweet cousin. Since you threaten me with her danger you have the whiphand."

Now it was monsieur's turn to sit discreetly silent, waiting.

"I went last night to tell the child I would not harm her lover. Lo! she had flown. I had a regiment searching Paris for her. I was in the streets myself till dawn."

"Monsieur, she made her way to us at St. Denis to offer herself to our torture did you torture Mar."

"Morbleu!" Mayenne cried, half rising.

"God's mercy, we're not ruffians out there! I tell it to show you to what the maid was strung."

"I never thought it great matter whom one married," Mayenne said slowly; "one boy is much like another. I should have mated her as befitted her station—I thought she would be happy enough. And she was good about it; I did not see how deep she cared. She was docile till I drove her too hard. She's a loving child. You are fortunate in your daughter, St. Quentin."

"You need not flatter yourself, Monsieur, that it is your doing. I laugh at your threats. 'Twere sport to me to clap you behind bars, to say to your king, to the mob you brag of, 'Come, now, get him out.'"

"Then," cried monsieur, "I must value my sweet daughter more than ever."

He was standing over Mayenne with outstretched hand, but the chief delayed taking it.

"Not quite so fast, my friend. If I yield up the Duc de St. Quentin, the Comte de Mar, and Mlle. Louise de Montluc, I demand certain little concessions for myself."

"By all means, monsieur. You stamp us churls else."

My duke sat again, his smile a shade uneasy. Which Mayenne perceived with quiet enjoyment, as he went on blandly: "Nothing that I could ask of you, M. de St. Quentin, could equal, could halve, what I give. Still, that the knightliness may not be, to your mortification, all on one side, I have thought of something for you to grant."

"Name it, monsieur."

"Another point in your favor I had forgot," Mayenne observed, with his usual reluctance to show his cards even when the time had come to spread them. "Last night I laid on this table a packet, just arrived, which I was told belonged to you. When I had time to think of it again it had vanished. I accused my lackeys, but later it occurred to me that Mlle. de Montluc, arming for battle, had purloined it."

"Your shrewdness does you credit."

"You see, you have scored a fourth point, though again by no prowess of your own. Therefore am I emboldened to demand what I want."

"Even to half my fortune"——

"No, not your gear. Save that for your Bearnais's itching palm."

"Then, what the devil is it you want? You will not get my name in the League."

"I am glad my nephew Paul bungled that affair of his," Mayenne went on at his own pace. "It might have been a blunder to kill you; it had certainly been a pity. Though we Lorraines have two murders to avenge I have changed my mind about beginning with yours."

"You are wise, monsieur. I am, after all, a harmless creature."

Mayenne laughed.

"Natheless have you done your best here in Paris to undermine me. Did I let you carry on your little works unhindered they might in time annoy me. Therefore I request that so long as I stay in Paris you stay out."

"Oh, I don't like that!"

The naivete amazed while it amused Mayenne.

"Possibly not, but you will consent to it. You will ride out of my court, when we have finished some necessary signing of papers, straight to the St. Denis gate. And you will pledge me your honor to make no attempt hereafter to enter so long as the city is mine."

Mayenne was smiling broadly, monsieur frowning. He relished the condition little. He was enjoying himself much in Paris, his dangers, his successes, his biting his thumb at the power of the League. To be killed at his post was nothing, but to be bundled away from it to inglorious safety, that stuck in his gorge. For a moment he actually hesitated. Then he began to laugh at his own hesitation.

"Well, ma foi! what do I expect? To walk, a rabbit, into the lion's den and make my own terms to Leo? I am happy to accept yours, M. de Mayenne, especially since, do I refuse, you will none the less pack me off."

"You mistake, St. Quentin. You are welcome to spend the rest of your days with me."

"In the Bastille?"

"Or in the League."

"The former is preferable."

"You may count yourself thrice fortunate, then, that a third alternative is given you."

"It needs not the reminder. You have treated me as a prince indeed. Be assured the St. Quentins will not forget."

"Every one forgets."

"Perhaps. But when you need our good offices we shall not have had time to forget."

"Pardieu, St. Quentin, you have good courage to tell me to my head my course is run!"

"My dear Mayenne, none punishes the maunderings of the court jester."

Monsieur laughed out with a gay gusto; after a moment, Mayenne laughed, too. My duke cried quickly, rising and walking the length of the table, to his host:

"You have dealt with me munificently, Mayenne. You have kept back but one thing I want. That is yourself. You know you must come over to us sooner or later. Come now!"

The other did not flame out at monsieur, but answered coldly:

"Better his than Spain's."

"Well, I am no astrologer to read the future."

"But I read it, my friend. I see a French land under a French king, a Catholic and a gallant fellow, faithful to old friends, friendly to old foes. I see the dear land at peace at last, the looms humming, the mills clacking, wheat growing thick on the battle-fields."

Mayenne looked up with a grim smile.

"I have still a field or two to water for that wheat. My compliments to your new master, St. Quentin. You may tell him from me that when I submit I submit. When I have made my surrender, from that hour forth am I his hound to lick his hand, to guard and obey him. Till then let him beware of my teeth! While I have one pikeman to my back, one sou in my pouch, I fight my cause."

"And when you have none you yet have three pairs of hands at Henry's court to pull you up out of the mire."

"I thank their graciousness, though I shall never need their offices," Mayenne said grandly. He stood there stately and proud and confident, the picture of princeliness and strength. Last night at St. Denis it had seemed to me that no power could defy my king. Now it seemed to me that no king could nick the power of my Lord Mayenne. When suddenly, precisely like a mummer who in his great moment winks at you to let you know it is make-believe, the general-duke's dignity melted into a smile.

"After all," he said, "it's as well to lay an anchor to windward."

CHAPTER XXX.

Occupied in wrangling with the grooms over the merits of our several stables, with the soldiers over politics and the armies I awaited in a shady corner of the court the conclusion of formalities. I had just declared that King Henry would be in Paris within a week, and was on the point of getting my crown cracked for it, when, as if for the very purpose—save the mark!—of rescuing me, entered from the street Lucas. He approached rapidly, eyes straight in front of him, heeding us no whit; but all the loungers turned to stare at him. Even then he paid no heed, passing us without a glance. But the tall d'Auvray bespoke him.

"M. de Lorraine! Any news?"

He started and turned to us in half-absent surprise as if he had not known of our presence, nor, indeed, quite realized it now. He was both pale and rumpled, like one who has not closed an eye all night.

"Any news here?" he made Norman answer.

"No, monsieur, unless His Grace has information. We have heard nothing."

"And the woman?"

"Sticks to it mademoiselle told her never a word."

Lucas stood still, his eyes traveling dully over the group of us, as if he expected somewhere to find help. At the same time he was not in the least thinking of us. He looked straight at me for a full minute before he awoke to my identity.

"You!"

"Yes, M. de Lorraine," I said with all the respectfulness I could muster, which may not have been much, considering our parting, I was ready for any violence. But after the first moment of startlement he regarded me in a singularly lack-lustre way, while he inquired without apparent resentment how I came there.

"With M. le Duc de St. Quentin," I grinned at him. 'We and M. de Mayenne are friends now."

I could not rouse him even to curiosity, it seemed. But he turned abruptly to the men with more life than he had yet shown.

"You've not told this fellow?"

"We understand our orders, monsieur," d'Auvray answered, a bit huffed.

Now this was eminently the place for me to hold my tongue, but of course I could not.

"They had no need to tell me, M. de Lorraine. I know quite well what the trouble is. I know rather more about it than you do yourself."

He confronted me now with all the fire I could ask.

"What mean you, whelp?"

"I mean mademoiselle. What else should I mean?"

"What do you know?"

"Everything."

"Her whereabout?"

"Her whereabouts."

He had his hand to his knife by this. I abated somewhat of my drawl to say, still airily:

"Go ask M. de St. Quentin. He's here. He'll be so glad to see you."

"Here?"

"Certes. He's closeted now with M. de Mayenne. They're thicker than brothers. Go see for yourself, M.—Lucas."

"Where is mademoiselle?"

He stared at me for one moment, weighing whether this could be true; then without further parley he shot into the house.

"Is that true?" d'Auvray demanded.

Their tongues loosened now, they flooded me with questions concerning mademoiselle, which I answered warily as I could, heartily repenting me by this of baiting Lucas. No good could come of it. He might even turn Mayenne from his bargain, upset all our triumph. I hardly heard what the soldiers said to me; I was almost nervous enough, wild enough, to dash upstairs after him. But that was no help. I stayed where I was, fevered with anxiety.

At the end of five minutes he came out of the house again, and without a glance at us went straight through the gate with the step and air of a man who knows what he is about. I was no easier in my mind, though I saw him gone.

Soon on his steps came a lackey to order M. de St. Quentin's horses and two musketeers to mount and ride with him. On reaching the door with the nags I discovered I was not to be of the party; our second steed must carry gear of mademoiselle's and her handwoman, a hard-faced peasant, silent as a stone. Though the men quizzed her, asking if she were glad to get to her mistress again, whether she had known all this time the lady's whereabouts, she answered no single word, but busied herself seeing the horse loaded to her notion. Presently, in the guidance of Pierre, monsieur appeared.

"You stay, Felix, and go to the Bastille for your master. Then you will wait at the St. Denis gate for Vigo with horses."

"Is all right, monsieur?" I had to ask as I held his stirrup. "Is all right? Lucas"——

His face had been a little clouded as he came down the stairs, and now it darkened more, but he answered:

"Quite right, Achates. M. de Mayenne stands to his word. Lucas availed nothing."

He stood a moment frowning. Then his countenance cleared up.

"My faith! I have enough to gladden me without fretting that Lucas is alive. Fare you well, Felix. You are like to reach St. Denis as soon as I. My son's horse will not lag."

He sprang to the saddle with a smiling salute to his guardians, and the little train clattered off.

Pierre came to my elbow with an open paper — the order signed and sealed for M. de Mar's release.

"Here, my young cockerel, you and d'Auvray are to take this to the Bastille, and it will be strange if your master does not walk free again. His Grace bids you tell M. de Mar he remembers Wednesday night underground."

"And I remember Tuesday night in the council-room, Pierre," I was beginning, but he cut me short. Even now that I was in favor he risked no mention of his disobedience. He packed me off with d'Auvray on the instant; I had no chance to ask him whether he suspected us yesterday. Sometimes I have thought he did, but I am bound to say he gave us no look to show it.

D'Auvray and I walked straight across Paris to the many-towered Bastille. It seemed a little way. Before the potent name of Mayenne bars flew open; a sentry on guard in the court led us into a small room all stone, floor, walls, ceiling, where sat at the table some high officials, perhaps the governor of the prison himself. He was an old campaigner, grizzled and weather-beaten, his right sleeve hanging empty. An interesting figure, no doubt, but I paid him scant attention, for at his side stood Lucas.

"I come on M. de Mayenne's business," he was expostulating, vehemently, yet civil. "I suppose he did not think it necessary to write the order, since you know me."

"The regulations, M. de Lorraine"——The officer broke off to demand of our escort, "Well, what now?"

I went straight up to him, not waiting permission, and held out my paper.

"An order, if it please you, monsieur, for the Count de Mar's release."

Lucas's hand went out to snatch and crumple it; then his clenched fist dropped to his side. It seemed as if his eyes would blacken the paper with their fire.

"Just that—the requisition for M. de Mar's release," the officer told him, looking up from it. "All perfectly regular and in order. In five minutes, M. de Lorraine, the Comte de Mar shall be before you. You may have all the conversation you wish."

"I am a soldier, and a soldier's orders must be obeyed," the officer went on to explain, evidently not caring to offend the general's nephew. "Without the written order I could not admit your brother of Guise. But now you can have all the conversation you desire with M. de Mar."

Lucas's face did not change save to scowl at the very name of his brother Guise. He said curtly, "No, I must get back to His Grace," and, barely bowing, went from the room.

"Now, I don't make that out," the keeper muttered in his beard. That Lucas should be in one moment cured of his urgent need of seeing the Comte de Mar was too much for him, but no riddle to me. I knew he had come to stab M. Etienne in his cell. It was his last chance and he had missed it. I feared him no longer, for I believed in Mayenne's faith. My master once released, Lucas could not hurt him.

What was as much to the point, the officer had no doubt of Mayenne's good faith. He went with his paper into an inner room, where we caught sight through the door of big books with a clerk or two behind them, and in a moment appeared again with a key.

"Since the young gentleman's a count I'll do turnkey's office myself," he said, his grim old battlement of a face smiling.

This was our day; from Mayenne down everybody went out of his way to please us. I was suddenly emboldened by his manner.

"Monsieur, perhaps it is preposterous to ask, but might I go with you?"

He looked at me a moment, surprised.

"Well, after all, why not? You too, Sir Musketeer an you like."

So the three of us, he and d'Auvray and I, went to rescue the Comte de Mar.

We passed through corridor after corridor, row after row of heavy barred doors. The deeper we penetrated the mighty pile the fonder I grew of my friend Mayenne, by whose complaisance none of these doors would shut on me. We climbed at last a steep turret stair winding about a huge fir trunk, lighted by slits of windows in the four-foot wall, and at the top turned down a dark passage to a door at the end, the bolts of which, invisible to me in the gloom, the veteran drew back with familiar hand.

The cell was small, with one high window through which I could see naught but the sky. For all furniture it contained a pallet, a stool, a bench that might serve as table. M. Etienne stood at the window, his arm crooked around the iron bars, gazing out over the roofs of Paris.

He wheeled about at the door's creaking.

"I go to trial, monsieur?" he asked quickly, not seeing me behind the keeper.

"No, M. le Comte. The charge is cancelled. I come to set you free."

I dashed in past the officer, snatching my lord's hand to kiss.

"It's true, monsieur! You're free. It's all settled with Mayenne. Monsieur's seen him; he sets you free. He said, 'In recognizance of Wednesday night.'"

Incredulous joy flashed over his face, to give way to belief without joy.

"Now I know she's married."

"Nothing of the sort!" I fairly shouted at him, dancing up and down in my eagerness. "She's to marry M. le Comte. She's at St. Denis with monsieur. She's to marry you. It's all arranged. Mayenne consents—the king—everybody. It's all settled. She marries you."

Will be continued next Saturday.

ENGLAND

During a sacred lecture in a church schoolroom at Bridgend near Cardiff, Glamorgenshire, a panic was occasioned amongst a closely packed audience of children by the explosion of an acetylene reservoir used for the magic lantern. In the darkness the children rushed to the door, where they blocked the exit. Their agonising cries brought out the congregation of a neighbouring chapel, who smashed the windows and helped out many of the little ones. By this and other means the panic was allayed and all the children were got out without having sustained serious injury.

The famous Red Lion Inn at Hampton-on-the-Thames is in danger of shortly becoming a thing of the past, as plans for reconstruction have been lodged with the local justices. So long ago as the time of Henry VIII. the inn was celebrated. A list of the people of note who by their visits contributed to its fame would make an interesting volume, and it may be mentioned that on such a list would have to be inscribed the names of King Charles II., Pope, Swift, Bolingbroke Peg Worlington, and Kitty Olive. In the coaching days the Red Lion was a noted posting house.

William Oliver, who under the name of Marquis de Leuville, tried to get into New York society in 1886, died recently at Brighton. Oliver was the son of a barber. He arrived in New York with seemingly proper credentials and was welcomed heartily. He was finally exposed, however, and had to leave the city. He went to Paris, where he had a successful career posing as the Marquis de Leuville until the fraud was discovered. He then established himself in London, where for a long time he held the leadership of the local Bohemia.

Robert Wood, the young artist who was the central figure in the recent trial for the Camden Town murder, has been engaged at a large salary to appear in a London music hall in a turn reminiscent of his terrible experience. He will make rapid sketches in black crayon on sheets of white cartridge paper, including caricatures of the judge (Sir William Grantham), his counsel, Mr. Marshall Hall, and the prosecutor, Sir Charles Mathews. Wood will not himself address the audiences, but a short descriptive lecture will be given.

Where a sum of £8 entered in his books could not be traced, Francis John Withers, cashier to a firm of solicitors in London, became frightened and confessed to a long series of defalcations. It was afterwards discovered that the £8 had simply been entered in the wrong place. Withers, who had been employed by the same firm for 20 years, had recently been presented with a gratuity in recognition of his services. He was sentenced to six months' imprisonment.

Some interesting statistics have been collected and were recently issued regarding the amounts spent annually for tobacco in various forms in England. Cigarettes lead us men and women spent yearly £75,000,000 for them. Forty-five million dollars' worth of pipes and tobacco are purchased and $5,000,000 worth of cigars every year. Eighty per cnet. of the men smoke, and 20 per cent. of the women. The cigarette has gradually superseded even the workman's clay pipe.

IRELAND

At a recent meeting of the Galway County Council, the chairman, Mr. J. A. Glynn, brought forward a resolution authorizing him to summon a conference of all public bodies in Connacht, with a view to some practical steps being taken to organise the province and to consider the advisability of establishing sanatoria, etc. Preparations have been pushed ahead since then, and now all the public bodies in Connacht have appointed delegates to the proposed Conference, which has been very warmly taken up. Invitations have been sent to the Archbishop and Bishops, Catholic and Protestant, several of whom have accepted; the doctors have appointed three delegates from each county, the County Councils two, and the Urban and Rural District Councils one each. The Conference is to meet in Athlone. The agenda will consist of five resolutions, dealing with the entire question of tuberculosis.

A shooting affair of a remarkable character is reported from Killenaule, Co. Tipperary. The Rev. George Perself White, junior, son of the Dean of Cashel, was driving home after having officiated at the morning service at Ballingarry church, when he was overtaken by the Rector of Ballingarry (the Rev. T. S. Gibbings,) who has lately been suspended. Mr. Gibbings drew a revolver and fired two shots at Mr. White. Both took effect, one bullet entering the thigh and the other an arm. Mr. White was taken to a neighbouring hostilry, where two doctors attended him, and Mr. Gibbings surrndered subsequently to the Ballingarry police. It is alleged that the origin of the affair is that accused considered Mr. White was in some way connected with his dismissal.

Reports of a grave nature come from all the districts of Co. Leitrim, with regard to the total failure of the potato and oat crops, and it is the opinion of many that the failure has not been equalled since the famine period. The small farmers and labourers have practically no food, and many are on the verge of starvation, owing to want of employment. The relieving officers in the Mohill, Manorhamilton, Rawnboy, and Carrick-on-Shannon Unions have made house-to-house visits. The clergy are earnestly working, by distributing alms from the charitable funds at their disposal, in helping those sorely in need.

At the Bray (Co. Wicklow) Petty Sessions, a few days ago, the resident magistrate stated that motorists attending against the provisions of the Motor Act, which gives summary jurisdiction, might defeat justice in Ireland because there is no process by which they can be made amenable once they leave Ireland. The circumstances were different in England, he added, for there was full provision for enforcing summary jurisdiction against defendants there.

SCOTLAND

A peculiar case, which has interested a number of medical men is reported from Aberdeen. On the 19th of December, 1877, a needle, with thread attached accidentally entered the left foot of Mrs. Walker, the wife of a consulting engineer, residing in Aberdeen; and, when an attempt was made to extract the needle the threadbroke, and the needle disappeared. Apart from a slight pain between the shoulders, Mrs. Walker never suffered any inconvenience by the presence of the needle in her body, but to her great surprise the other morning she felt something sharp catching the right sleeve of her nightdress, and on investigation she discovered the point of a needle protruding from her right forearm. A little pressure sufficed to release the needle, which had been for thirty years and seven days in her body. Many years ago Mrs. Walker had the misfortune to lose her left leg and thought that the needle had gone along with it.

A brass tablet has just been erected in the private chapel at Clova, Aberdeenshire, in commemoration of the recent visit of Her Majesty the Queen of Spain. Her Majesty, when staying at Fyvie Castle, motored across country to Clova House on 15th August, 1906, visited the chapel and remained to luncheon with a Clova family. At the top of the tablet are the arms of King Alfonso and Queen Victoria Eugenie surmounted by the Spanish royal crown; and in the border are the different emblems of Spain, England, Scotland and Germany. The coats of arms are authentic, being copied from a sketch lent by H. R. H. the Infanta Isabel. It is a beautiful piece of decorative work and has been carefully executed.

At the annual general meeting of the Clan Macnab Association held in Edinburgh recently, a letter from Major A. H. Macnab, of Lippook, Hants, was read, in which he traced his genealogy, andclaimed to be the XV chief of the clan. Since the death of Archibald XIV no one has produced a title showing that he is entitled to the honour of chieftein and the members are to a large extent in the dark as to how matters stand. A committee was appointed to collect information in regard to the rights of parties claiming the honour of chief, and ultimately submit such information to the Lyon King at Arms.

Sir Donald Curre has agreed to defray the expenses of the restoration of the choir of Dunkeld Cathedral, Perthshire. The roofless nave and the tower will not be touched, but the reconstructed choir will again be restored by the removal of the galleries and the chancel wall and by uncovering the window tracery and raising the roof.

Glasgow Labourites are making great preparations to entertain Mr. Kier Hardie on his return from his tour round the world. A meeting will be held preparatory to his taking up his duties at Westminster.

LOVE ME AND THE WORLD IS MINE

Trouble? Surely I've a pack;
No relief as yet I've found;
I'm a shattered nervous wreck,
Trembling at the slightest sound,
Shaking as I look around.
Chills are running up my spine,
You have heard it, I'll be bound:
"Love me, and——"

Truly I have suffered woe.
Pray excuse these falling tears,
You'll excuse me, too, I know
If a madman soon appears,
Slew a hurdy organ grinder;
Cruelty they thus refine;
Wait until I stop my ears.
"Love me, and——"

Every sentimental maid,
Every mawkish, mush youth,
With some cracked piano's aid,
Has to sing that song, forsooth,
Every little ten-cent booth—
Even where I go to dine—
I, too, learn it—that's the truth.
"Love me, and——"

ADAM AND EVE DIDN'T WEAR HATS

And Neither Does Mr. Ruff—One of His Health Fads—Walking Another

HATLESS ALL YEAR ROUND

Rochester, Minn., (Special). — Emil Ruff, who twenty-five years ago registered a vow to entirely dispense with head covering and so far as known has lived up to his resolve, is about to leave for the Pacific coast.

For thirteen years Mr. Ruff has been superintendent of the Rochester Gas Company and has resigned his position to move to California, where he will endeavor to inaugurate a hatless cult in that State.

Mr. Ruff has no particular prejudice against hats, per se, but as a personal adornment he has no use for them. He can find no record in the Bible where Adam and Eve indulged in silk hats of the latest style of mushroom millinery, and after a careful perusal of the latter pasts of the same authority he still finds that from Noah down hats were not popular.

Following his Biblical researches further, Mr. Ruff finds a plentiful scarcity of hatless heads which he correlates with the fact there were no corresponding hatted craniums.

He is accordingly a firm believer in the usefulness of the hatless cult as an exterminator of the hair-restoring advertisements.

On the warmest days of summer, or when the Minnesota zephyrs have blown with an accompanying temperature of 20 below, Mr. Ruff has appeared hatless upon the streets of Rochester sans confusion, sans self-consciousness and sans-hairlessness.

Another one of his health fads is the desirability and advantages of long walks. He is the champion walker of his time, and his daily pastime is to walk to Oronoco and back, a distance of twenty-five miles. A walk from this city to Winona or Owatonna, a distance of forty miles, is also a trip frequently taken by him.

Small Necked New Yorkers.

Statistics furnished by manufacturers of shirts and collars indicate that the average New York man has a smaller neck than his out of town brother. Comparison of orders shows that out of a given volume of business booked Boston and Chicago led in the matter of big sizes. Inquiry at several haberdashery shops in Manhattan resulted in the information that any number larger than sixteen and a half would have to be specially called for from the factory or had through the selling agent. In other cities it is an everyday experience to sell as high as size eighteen over the retail counter. Of course the element of snug fit is a factor, but as a regular proposition eastern and western men are more "bull necked" than is the case with their New York brethren.

COLD SETTLED ON THE LUNGS

Mrs. Irwin Bennett, Parrsboro, N. S., writes: "I feel it my duty to write a few words in praise of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I took a bad cold which settled on my lungs, and made it almost impossible to breathe at times. I coughed constantly and could not sleep at nights. A friend told me how Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup had helped her, so I procured some, and before I had taken one bottle my cough was gone and I could lie down and sleep at night."

"Violet"

By CECILY ALLEN.

Copyright, 1907, by E. C. Parcells.

"Bring on the hot rolls, Violet," said Mrs. Brent in her sharp, decisive tones.

The tall, angular girl thus admonished returned to the kitchen—and then the deluge of merriment!

Young Graham, the superintendent of the beet sugar factory, bit his lip, then choked over an infinitesimal scrap of breakfast food. Professor Hinds of the high school faculty cleared his throat, then, with fork and knife upraised in an attitude much decried in the modern books on etiquette, stared blankly after the retreating figure. Bessie Layton, the stenographer at the Sampson implement offices, she of the fluffy pompadour and retrousse nose, giggled, then hastily swallowed a spoonful of coffee which promptly went down her "Sunday throat," and this on Thursday morning! And simultaneously a gale of laughter swept around the circle of boarders at Mrs. Brent's select and "homelike" establishment.

To the accompaniment of this laughter Violet passed the hot rolls from boarder to boarder, little dreaming that she was responsible for the untoward merriment. Not that laughter and merriment were uncommon at Mrs. Brent's. The cheerful atmosphere of her boarding house as much as her own good cookery kept the same circle of guests there year after year. Only Professor Hinds, the new principal of the high school, and pretty Grace Saunders were newcomers this season. And Violet—yes, Violet was the new waitress. Violet!

As she thrust the delicious rolls under Fred Graham's shaking shoulders he remembered, coughed and exclaimed:

"That was the best story you ever told, Mrs. Brent."

Grace Saunders shot him a grateful glance, but Professor Hinds looked up blankly as if trying to remember the story that had never been told. Then, as Violet again disappeared through the kitchen door, he murmured:

"Most incongruous. Never saw anything further removed from a shrinking, delicate violet in my life—six feet, if she's an inch. Funny how parents do select such inappropriate names for their children! Violet! Ought to have called her Sunflower!"

"But, professor, you must bear in mind that the name was bestowed when the girl measured perhaps twelve inches. Babies measure about a foot, don't they?" And young Graham gazed inquiringly at his fellow boarders. "Probably was one of those dainty, fragile sort of babies that shoot up like bean poles later on. Did that myself, my mother tells me."

Half an hour later Grace Saunders returned to the dining room intending to ask Mrs. Brent some questions regarding the best stores in the town. She found Violet darting about the table clearing away crumbs, setting back chairs, etc., with a worried look on her face. Mrs. Brent came in from the kitchen.

"There, Violet, don't you try to straighten up the whole place. You'll be late to school. It's five blocks to the business college, you know, and you've got your dress to change yet."

"Oh, are you going to the business college?" inquired Grace. The tall, slender girl stopped untying her apron at the cordial note in the boarder's voice. "I am so glad, because I am going there too. Today is my first, and it will be so nice to see a familiar face."

Then as suddenly as it had awakened the expression of delighted anticipation died in Violet's face. She remembered. She was the waitress at Mrs. Brent's, waitress for her board and room, and Miss Grace Saunders was the daughter of a millionaire ranch owner and cattle raiser in the southern part of the state. Mrs. Brent and the rest of the "help" in the kitchen had said it was most remarkable that a girl with such a father should not be studying in an eastern college instead of an unknown business college in an obscure western city.

But Grace Saunders was not the sort of girl to be snubbed. When school closed that afternoon Violet Andrews found that Grace could keep pace with her and would not accept the excuse that there was work awaiting the pupil waitress in the Brent home.

"Come into my room tonight and we will go over those dreadful curlycues together," Grace urged as she turned into the front door at the Brent house, while Violet wheeled to the walk leading to the kitchen. Something told her that a shadow had come into that girl's life since morning, that here was a chance where she herself might be helpful, and Grace Saunders belonged in the class of girls who simply must be of cheer and service to their fellow creatures.

The curlycues were not gone over, however, for within two minutes after Violet had entered Miss Saunders' room they were talking of more personal matters.

"I know now why the men all laughed at the table this morning. It was me. They laughed at the business college too! What is wrong with me?"

Grace glanced up at the angular yet passionate, quivering figure. A high pompadour crowned a long, narrow face, and enormous black bows stood out on either side of her long, thin throat like bat wings. Her frock was absolutely tight fitting, accentuating every angular line.

"Sit down, my dear, and let's talk," said Grace gently.

"It isn't fair," sobbed Violet, flinging herself into the proffered chair. "Here you are with money, beauty and everything. And I've slaved and scrubbed and done washing to earn money enough to pay for my course. But even if I do learn stenography, who will hire me? What do they want with me when they can get girls like you and Miss Layton? There's something wrong with me. What is it?"

Grace laid a friendly hand on the heaving shoulders.

"I think it is your name—and your hair."

Violet sat up very straight.

"My what?"

"Your name and your hair. You see, one always thinks of a violet as something small and shrinking and delicate, and you—well, you are six feet tall with that pompadour. You cannot change your name, but you can change your hair."

The weeks that followed were like fairyland tripe to Violet, whose mother had read herself into mental and physical inertia on a diet of novels, while her father had tried to wrest gold from the sphinxlike mountains. She learned that Grace Saunders was merely studying bookkeeping and stenography in order to help her father, whom she adored, and that she had time between studies to do the most wonderful sewing Violet had ever seen. But first she taught Violet how to dress her hair, low and soft in puffs above her ears and a low knot at the nape of her neck; then how to do Delsarte exercises to acquire ease and to feed certain angles with massage cream.

The change was gradual, but one day when Violet waited on the table in a frock made with deep ruffles that broke her height and soft frills at throat and wrist young Graham looked puzzled.

"Seems like violets do bloom sometimes rather late in life," he remarked as he took the entire circle of boarders into his confidence. "But I would like to know how she became shorter."

"Some girls are born with femininity," remarked Grace Saunders gently, "like Miss Layton, for instance." Whereat the little stenographer dimpled delightfully and young Graham beamed approval. "And some girls have to acquire it, like Violet. Just as soon as she dropped exaggerated high heels, lowered her pompadour and wore fluffy frocks instead of straight lines she became feminine and attractive. Such is the psychological influence of frocks. But under it all she's new and always a most charming nature and a brilliant mind."

"Yes, and she makes such good fudge. I never tasted better in my college days."

It was Professor Hinds who spoke, and in the sudden silence every one stared at him. Who would have thought the man behind the glasses cared for fudge? And then somehow it dawned upon the circle of boarders that the professor was looking very young and bad—yes—he had some wild violets, the first of the warm early spring, in his buttonhole. He took off his glasses and glanced around with amusement.

"Why not? I always was partial to violets."

Mrs. Brent slipped her hand under the tablecloth and found Grace Saunders' palpitating finger tips.

"You knew all the time," she whispered.

"Rather! It was my idea, but the professor took to it with amazing alacrity."

And then pretty Miss Layton sprang from her chair and pushed the astonished young waitress, who had just entered the place, beside the professor.

"The idea of announcing an engagement with the bride to be out of the room! I insist upon passing the hot cakes this morning."

And then, with the memory of that first day and the wave of amusement that had gradually changed to respect and admiration for the girl and her pluck and her adaptability, the boarders of Mrs. Brent's select and homelike establishment rose and solemnly drank a toast in the coffee for which Mrs. Brent was famous:

"To Violet!" cried young Graham.

And this time no one laughed, but the tenderness which comes when love's wings flutter close seemed to soften every eye that looked upon the happy professor and the happier girl.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" SAVED HIS LIFE

Mr. Dingwall was Superintendent of St. Andrews Sunday School in Williamstown for nine years and License Commissioner for Glengarry — and Tax Collector for Charlottenburg—for fourteen years continuously. Read how strongly Mr. Dingwall comes out in favor of "Fruit-a-tives."

Williamstown, Ont., April 5th., 1907.

I have much pleasure in testifying to the almost marvellous benefit I have derived from taking "Fruit-a-tives." I was a life long sufferer from Chronic Constipation and the only medicine I ever secured to do me any real good was "Fruit-a-tives." This medicine cured me when everything else failed. Also, last spring, I had a severe attack of bladder trouble with kidney trouble, and "Fruit-a-tives" cured these complaints for me, when the physician attending me had practically given me up. I am now over eighty years of age and I can stronghly recommend "Fruit-a-tives" for Chronic Constipation and bladder and kidney trouble. This medicine is mild like fruit, is easy to take, but most effective in action. 147

CONQUEST OF THE AIR

Flying Machines Were In Use Long Before the Gas Bag.

HISTORY OF THE BALLOON.

Its Invention Followed the Discovery of Hydrogen by Cavendish in 1767—The First Ascension and the First Victim to the Science.

In view of the recent experiments with the dirigible balloon and the consequent interest taken at the present time in the progress of aeronautics, it is surprising to find how completely the early history of this science has been allowed to drift into obscurity.

There appears even to be a widely spread belief that balloons are the primitive means of aerial navigation, while flying machines of various types are a later development. But, whereas the earliest use of balloons, at all events in Europe, can be fixed with tolerable certainty, the origin of mechanical devices for achieving the conquest of the air is lost in the mists of antiquity.

That the legend of Daedalus and his ill fated son had some foundation in fact seems to be shown by the stores of Archytas of Tarentum and his kites four centuries before our era; of Archimedes, the defender of Syracuse; of Simon the Magician, who broke his neck in the Forum, and the Saracen at Constantinople. So we come down to Dante, the mathematician of Perouse, who rose on wings above Lake Trasimene; to Oliver of Malmesbury, the monk; to Bernouin, Besnier and Lana, and finally to the Marquis de Bacqueville, in the middle of the eighteenth century.

About this time events occurred which practically turned the attention of inventors for a hundred years from flying machines. In 1767, following immediately on the discovery of hydrogen by Cavendish, Dr. Black of Edinburgh, pointed out that a vessel filled with this gas would rise in the air, and on June 20, 1782, Professor Tiberius Cavallo read before the British Royal society a paper which proposed the use of hydrogen for aerostats.

Almost simultaneously the brothers Etienne and Joseph Montgolfier, who were paper manufacturers, as a result of reading Priestly's "Experiments Relating to Different Kinds of Air," invented the hot air or fire balloon, and on June 5, 1783, the first Montgolfier ascended at Annonay, Auvergne, France. To commemorate their invention a yearly festival was established, of which the chief feature is the dispatch of a huge Montgolfier.

On Aug. 27 of the same year Professor Charles of Paris seems to have sent up the first balloon filled with hydrogen or "inflammable air," which after, traveling fifteen miles was torn to pieces by the superstitious peasantry. In September at Versailles, in the presence of Louis XVI., Joseph Montgolfier sent up a fire balloon carrying a sheep, a cock and a duck, but the first human being to ascend appears to have been the famous Pilatre de Rozier, who on Oct. 15 went up from a garden in the Faubourg St. Antoine. Louis had decided to make the first experiments with criminals, but De Rozier petitioned the king that he might go, asking why so great an honor should be deputed to a criminal.

On Nov. 21 the first voyage was made in a fire balloon by De Rozier and the Marquis d'Ariandes and lasted twenty minutes. In the same month quite independently James Wilcox, a carpenter, went up over the Schuylkill river, his balloon being made by the scientists Rittenhouse and Hopkins of Philadelphia. In December the brothers Robert traveled from Paris to Neale, a distance of twenty-seven miles, and an ascent was also made in a hydrogen balloon by Robert and Dr. Charles, who suggested the valve and sand ballast.

In the next year, 1784, ballooning had become more popular, and more than fifty voyages were made.

Ballooning now began to excite much attention and soon became a fashionable craze. The first ascent in Great Britain was made by James Tytler from Comely gardens, Edinburgh, his fire balloon descending about half a mile from the start. On Sept. 15 the first ascent in England was made by a Venetian, Vincenzo Lunardi, secretary to the Neapolitan embassy in London. He started in the presence of the Prince of Wales from the royal artillery grounds, Moorfields, and descended in the parish of Standon, near Ware.

De Moret, to whose venture Dr. Johnson subscribed, had tried to anticipate Lunardi, but his balloon fell on the fire and was destroyed by the mob. On Oct. 12 James Sadler accomplished a successful voyage from Oxford to Hartwell, near Aylesbury. In later years his son crossed from Dublin to Holyhead. In the same month—Oct. 16, 1784—Professors Sheldon and Blanchard made an ascent from Chelsea, the latter having had as early as 1782 a "flying boat," in which he had remained some minutes suspended in the air eighty feet above the ground.

On Jan. 7, 1785, the English channel was first crossed by occupants of a balloon, when Blanchard and Dr. Jeffries, an American, traveled from Dover castle cliffs to the forest of Guines, near Calais. Blanchard received a pension of 1,200 livres per annum, and it is said that Marie Antoinette presented him with her card winnings on the night he was introduced. In the same month Crosbie ascended in Ireland. He afterward tried to cross St. George's channel, but fell in the sea from which he was rescued. On March 23, 1785, Count Zambeccari, an Italian, who was killed in 1812, made his first ascent in England, accompanied by Admiral Sir Edward Vernon, when they traveled from London to Horsham, about thirty-five miles. He had been one of the first to send up a hydrogen balloon toward the end of 1783. In July, 1785, Major Money ascended after failing into the sea, an experience which was also undergone by James Sadler and by Lunardi.

Ascents were also made this year by Windham and Colonel Fitzpatrick. On June 15, 1785, the cause of aerial navigation by balloon claimed its first victims, when Pilatre de Rozier and M. Romaine were killed while trying to rival the feat of Blanchard and Jeffries by crossing the English channel. —Baltimore Sun.

SNAKES AND THEIR PREY.

An Observer Says the Reptiles Do Not Hypnotize Their Victims.

Do snakes hypnotise the birds and animals which they wish to capture and swallow? A correspondent denies this. He had shut up a large number of rattlesnakes and moccasins in a barn and then introduced birds and small mammals into the place for the snakes to seize as they chose. "Within two feet of a coiled rattler a blackbird would alight on the rim of the drinking trough and adjust the defects of his toilet, splashing water in the very face of the reptile that watched him with piercing eyes. Then after repeated sips he would condescend to notice the crawler, that had uncoiled by that time, and would finally hop aside just far enough to avoid a dispute about bathing privileges, but still within easy reach of a strike. Nor had the restlessness of rats anything to do with the dread of immediate danger. They were trying to gnaw out, but in the intervals of such efforts were apt to run straight into the pile of straw that formed the favorite rendezvous of the serpents.

"Indeed, the snakes were in no hurry to abuse that confidence. When they did get ready they scorned hypnotic artifices. A gradual elevation of the head, a noiseless approach, with a short halt in reach of the bird that was picking crumbs in his feeding corner, then a slow contraction of coils, a snaplike dart and a leisurely retreat as from a task accomplished. The bird had taken wing, thoroughly alarmed now, and fluttered about the wire screen in the desperate hope of finding a loophole of escape.

"In less than thirty seconds the poison began to take effect. The bird clutched at the screen, with its head hanging farther and farther back, then relaxed its grip, dangled by one foot for awhile and came flopping down on the floor. It was not dead yet, but dazed, looking this way and that and fluttering about in a strange, aimless fashion, and more than once right toward the destroyer, who at last began to manifest an interest in its antics.

"The bird was still on the floor, staggering to and fro, when a sideward collapse marked the beginning of the end. Its foe watched it with lifted head. The chance had come—no risk of a rough and tumble fight now. The victim had ceased to flutter, and the old rattler quickly dragged it off to the straw pile. A full hundred experiments repeated this same sequence of maneuvers in all essentials."

The Famous Pedestrian

Gentlemen:—

"I was a martyr to catarrh of the head, throat and stomach. I was so bad the doctors feared consumption. I tried many physicians and medicines. A friend suggested Psychine. I tried it and it was the only thing ever did me any good. I am now perfectly well. It is the greatest remedy the world has ever known. I do not need it for my health now but I use it as a strengthener for my walking matches. I owe much of my physical endurance to Psychine."

JAMES REYNOLDS,
Port Hope, Ont.

Psychine is the greatest cure for catarrh of the head, throat or stomach in the world. It is a wonderful tonic and strengthener of run down system, acting directly on all the vital organs, giving youthful vigor and strength to the system. At all druggists 50c. and $1, or Dr. T. A. Undigested Food

When any portion of food remains in the stomach and refuses to digest, it causes the torments of indigestion. This undigested food rapidly ferments, irritating the sensitive coating of the stomach, while other parts of the body, particularly the head, suffer in consequence.

So long as this undigested food remains in the stomach, the discomfort continues. A few doses of stop all fermentation, sweeten the contents of the stomach and give natural assistance that relieves the stomach of its burden. The use of Beecham's Pills gradually strengthens the stomach nerves and soon restores them to a normal, healthy condition.

Beecham's Pills have been used and recommended by the general public for over fifty years.

THE CALENDAR, AS IT IS KNOWN TO OTHER COUNTRIES

The Length of the Jewish Year—Chinese Year Founded on the Lunar Months.

WHEN ROMAN YEAR BEGAN

Ever since man knew enough about astronomy to divide time into years which more of less agreed with the earth's annual revolution around the sun, he has in various characteristic ways regarded the first day of the new year as a day of rejoicing and well-wishing.

It was the great day for exchanging gifts until, in some Christian countries, Christmas Day was substituted. While in America New Year's Day is generally observed as a holiday and as an occasion for paying ceremonial social calls, in France, even now, New Year's presents have not entirely disappeared.

New Year's Day is not observed on January 1 in every country, although most nations nowadays use the Gregorian calender, and consequently begin their new year on that day. In Russia the Julian calendar is still in use, and as a quarter of a day in each year is lost by that system, there is now an accumulated loss of thirteen days. January 1 in Russia, then, corresponds to January 14 of our calendar. The Mohammedan New Year, the Jewish New Year and the Chinese New Year, owing to the peculiar systems of keeping time by those people, are very elusive dates, or seem so to persons familiar only with the Gregorian Calendar.

As to the Calendars

The Jewish year is solar-lunar, and may consist of as few as 353 days and as many as 385. New Year's Day usually falls in September. The Mohammedan years usually consist of 354 days, being purely lunar, and the leap years, which occur in certain twelve months of a cycle of thirty years, contain 355 days. The first day of Muharrem— New Year's Day— may in course of time make a whole revolution of the seasons. An instance of this may be given. The first of Muharrem, 1304, fell on February 25 while the Mohammedan New Year last year began on March 7, inasmuch as it is purely lunar, the Mohammedan year is almost unique in the calendars of the world. While the Chinese year conforms to the Eastern idea, being founded upon lunar months, a month is added to every thirty, to make time conform with the solar year. Consequently the Chinese New Year may begin any time between January 21st and February 28th.

A Revolving New Year

The ancient Egyptians hadd a year more or less conforming to the Julian style, inasmuch as it contained 365 days. In course of centuries this made New Year's made a complete revolution of the seasons. This fact, only recently properly appreciated by Professor Petrie, the Egyptologistt led to many misconceptions and retarded the solution of mysterious feasts and rites which now are perfectly well understood by archaeologists.

Anciently, in Rome,, the new year begay in March, ion the neighborhood of the vernal equinox, which would seem to be a reasonable, if not logical time to begin the annual cycle, March 25 was, until the latter part of the sixteenth century, the day when the new year began in most Christian countries. Numa is said to have made the Roman year begin on January 1, the day held by pagan Rome sacred in honour of Janus, who was thus supposed to turn at once back upon the old year and forward into the new, and Xsubsequently New Year's Day was, at various times and in different Christian countries, celebrated on the present Christmas, March 1 March 25th, (the Feast of the Annunciation) and Easter Day.

RESEARCHES OF THE BRAIN UNFOLDS INTERESTING FACTS

Astounding Results Shown by Dr. Albert Wilson — Photographed Brains of Various Types of Men and Animals.

EXISTANCE OF THE SOUL

"The mystery of the Brain," is the subject of a recent interview in Black and White with Dr. Albert Wilson, whose researches upon the subject of mental development and diseases have given astonishing results. The interviewer, Raymond Blathwayt, writes—

If is only comparatively recently that people have begun to realize the immense importance that the brain exercises in all the functions of the human life. Within that small grey matter hidden beneath a thin coating of bone lie the tissues of life and death, of time and eternity, of all the goings in and going out of humanity—the joys and sorrows of life, its tragedies, and its transcendent happiness, the thought of the ages, the great structures, the stupendous works of mankind. All society depends upon the human brain, and no understanding is possible which has not the brain behind it to guide and control it. The multitudinous avenues of life are opened up to humanity only by and through the human brain.

Seated at a table strewn with the photographs of the most terrible types of degenerates ,and with photographs not only of their own brains, but also of the brains of animals, besides which their sank into insignificance ,Dr. Albert Wilson—who is shortly publishing the results of his researches into the brain which he has been carrying on for the last twenty years—and I discussed the physical basis of character, the physical basis of all this mysterious life of thought and deed, of mentality and conduct, yea, even of the soleman and mysterious after-existence of that soul. "You see," said Dr. Wilson, as he took up the photograph of the brain of a healthy and normal human being, "at the top of this brain is the superstructure which has to do with instinct and intelligence. The active part of the human brain is a thin coating of a quarter of an inch deep. This is the cortex. Now this is made up of rows of cells which can be divided into three principal portions. Of the three layers the deepest is represented in the lower animals as instinct, and this guards the natural instinct of man. That instinctive layer is no better in us than it is in the rabbit, whereas our outer layer, which is the intellectual layer, is six times thicker than it is in the rabbit, and that is the strength of man. Upon the healthy activity of the cortical layer, and its proper number of cells, depends our success in this world and our happiness in the next.

The Mind and the Brain

"Remember this, there is no separation between the mind and the brain, and the whole question of responsibility depends upon the pyramidal layer or the cortical department of the brain. This knowledge enables us to understand and unravel the mysteries of crime to a greater or less degree, and it should be used as a new measurement in dealing with the punishment of the wrong-doer. It does not mean that we should excuse crime, but that it should be treated entirely on new lines. The antiquated law methods of so much punishment for so much wrong-doing is too fossilised to deserve any toleration. There are criminals so constructed that they can never go straight under any circumstances, and they should be dealt with specially and humanely by the State. It is as absurd to send a boy of the poorer, ill-fed class to Borstal for a term of imprisonment as it would be to limit hospital treatment for a chronic invalid. There are moral invalids, who are invalid owing to their heredity. Very few people reach normal or perfect development. Alcoholism and dissipation in our ancestors leave a scar on their progeny. Alcohol has been proved by experiment to exert a most deteriorating influence on progeny, as I have known a pyrmidal layer so destroyed by alcohol as to be less than half its proper depth. Alcohol put out of action the prefrontal arc of the brain which is the last and highest piece of architecture. It is the seat of control. Destroy that, and you have as the result a person who cannot help being a criminal. There is, in fact, no such thing as free-will except in the perfectly normal brain, and as a normal brain is more a matter of theory and speculation, so we ought not to demand full responsibility in those whom we style the criminal classes, who are drawn from every class of the community. We cannot look for normal brain amongst the poor, who are devastated by alcohol, disease and starvation. Therefore, it is a mistaken idea to expect as much responsibility from a working lad as from a properly brought-up, well-fed young man of the upper classes. The question of the formation of the brain is the most serious in human life, for if the brain goes, the mind goes with it—for ever. The brain feebleness of the working classes of to-day is largely due to State methods of education. No longer are the lads of the working classes full of fire and capable of entering into the competition of life. The case is due to the destructive influence of enforced education on the ill-nourished poor. I lately examined eight children of a family who should have weighed 3½ stone instead of the 2½ stone which they actually weighed; so that they had only two-thirds of their proper vitality distributed amongst them. The child at four or five is thus only equal to the child of two and a half or three of the better classes, properly nourished and fed, and yet the State compels it to enter the intelligence-destroying machine."

"I Want The Proof" You Say

What is more discouraging and disheartening than trying to cure nervous exhaustion and prostration by means of ordinary treatments? Because you do not look sick and are suffering great pain, and because they cannot realise your feelings of weakness, helplessness and discouragement, your friends fail to show much sympathy for you, and most doctors are simply helpless in the face of exhausted nerves.

Of course you need not expect Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to work a miracle and cure you in a day or a week, but you can be absolutely sure that you will be benefitted, to at least some extent, by every dose of this great restorative that is taken into the system.

The dreadful weakness and helplessness which makes life miserable to you and leads to all sorts of dark forebodings, will gradually and certainly give way to strength and vigour under this treatment, headaches will disappear, your appetite will improve, you will sleep and rest better and you will find that day by day your nervous system is being built up to health and strength.

That Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is actually bringing about just such cures is proven in thousands of cases of which records are kept on file in these offices. The invigorating, upbuilding influence of this great medicine will surprise you if you only persist in its use.

Mrs. D. O'Connor, 278 Simcoe street, Peterborough, Ont., states: — "My heart has given me a great deal of trouble lately. The least undue exertion affected it, and brought on weakness and fainting spells. My nerves were also very unsteady, and I became so bad that I decided to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which was highly recommended to me. Now I am happy to be able to say that I am completely restored to health. My nerves are strong and steady, the action of my heart regular and the dizzy spells have ceased to trouble me."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

"And now, Dr. Wilson," I said. "I should like to ask you a question which, it appears to me, is of the very first importance. In your researches into the brain for all these years, have you been able to discover any physical basis for the soul or spirit of man on any tangible reason why that spirit should go on living after the brain itself, together with the physical body of which, after all it is part, has crumbled into the dust of the grave?"

Existence of the Soul

"I consider it the most hopeful part of all my researches," replied Dr. Wilson, "that they have helped to demonstrate both the existence of the soul and the possibility and probability of its continued existence after death. And I will explain how I come to this conclusion.

"The soul is a superstructure of the mind, and so, according to the laws of the conservation of energy, the soul is bound to go on living. We must treat the soul as the highest form of energy. One begins at the lowest forms of vital energy in the shape of muscular movement, which can easily be measured. Then comes nerve motion ,and we can measure its velocity but we have no power of estimating what nerve motion is, although we can see the effort of motion in the further changes in the nerve cells, consisting in the altered appearance of the stainable granules. We there pass from the nerve cells which receive impressions, and from others which emit motion, to a new type of cell, the association cell. This is feebly represenged in the lower creation, but it is a special feature of the human brain, and is connected with mind, thought, memory, emotion, ideation. The question now arises —has the Great Architect completed His work? Is He finite? Can He do nothing except what is easily understood by the human mind? The human mind is a miracle, but is it the end? We have every reason to believe it is not, because there is no science in which we have reached the ultimate goal of its capacity. There is every reason, then, to believe that there is something beyond the mind, and something built on the mind, just as the mind is built on the brain. We have such remarkable psychological experiences of what we term spiritual and religious phenomena that there must be a basis for them. The only hypothesis or basis is what we term the soul, as an actual vital force.

"The soul means the higher development of man or the ego. If there is no such thing as soul, that means that we are the finality of what is falsely and unscientifically termed "Creation," which is an absurd notion, scientifically untenable, because we know that in physical science we are only on the outer fringe of knowledge. I have always held that from the religious point of view we are like a seed of corn. There is nothing in the seed to indicate life, any more than there is in the pyramidal cells of the brain. At the same time there is life in the corn if it has its proper environment —moisture, light and heat. And in the same way, if the human mind possesses its proper environment, the soul breaks forth into vitality."

"Yes," I replied, "but a corn seed has to be cultivated; its environment must be kept up to its vital requirements."

"Exactly," replied my host, "and that is the most solemn part of it all. The body and mind must be fed, nourished, warmed and exercised, or atrophy ensues. The same is true of the spirit. If a man neglects the nourishment of his soul, how can it possibly live?"

THE DEVELOPMENT OF HARDINESS

What it Means to the Race Horse and the Cow—It Is a Secret Force

IT'S ABSENSE MEANS MUCH

This is the element that produces endurance under great strain of any sort—in the race horse under the strain of terrific speed, in the milch cow under the strain of enormous production. Under the strain of a severe climate it is called hardiness. The presence or absence of this element is especially manifest in the growth and development of the young of the different breeds. Of the one they live and grow without special care or attention; of the other they perish easily if they do not have the best of care. The difference is simply in constitutional vigor or vital force born in the calves of the one and not in the calves of the other. The difference continues throughout the lives of these animals. It may not be manifested so conspicuously in after-life, yet it affects all their relations to their food, care and productions. In what does it consist? Is it in possessing what is sometimes called the nervous temperament? Not unfrequently we find the offspring of breeds that lay especial claim to this temperament, especially lacking in the ability to live and rapidly develop without special care. It is a secret force hidden in the race, in the breed and in the animal. Perhaps it may be properly called the vital temperament. The bulls of the Holstein-Friesian breed possess this vital force or temperament more strongly than those of any other improved dairy breeds. The breeders in Holland and Friesland have always avoided in-and-in breeding. In proof that this breed has maintained a high standard of vital force we point to its use in almost every climate, including that of Northern Russia nearly up to the Arctic Circle. Its calves are raised without difficulty. Taken from their dams when three days old, and reasonably fed on skim milk and a little oil meal, they grow like weeds. Given plenty of food, no matter if most of it is roughage, they develop rapidly. The heifers usually drop their calves at about two years old, and henceforward are profitable to their owners.

RIFLE ASSOCIATION DANCE

Was a Brilliant Success — Orchestra Present From Peterboro'. C.O.F. Concert Postponed

THE SKI CLUB IS TO MEET

Examiner Special:

Warsaw, Jan. 30—The second annual assembly of the Warsaw Rifle Association held on Tuesday evening of last week proved to be a delightful affair. Though the weather was not what might be considerable favourable, it proved no barrier to some 230 guests.

The music which was furnished by the Howarth Orchestra of Peterbor., and the managing of the dances under the supervision of Mr. Archie Moore, was of the finest quality and this coupled with the fact that the guests were familiarly known to each other nearly all being of this community, made the assembly one of solid enjoyment. The committee deserves great credit for the able management of the affair.

Owing to the heavy storm of Sunday and Monday the committee in charge of the C. O. F. concert were obliged to postpone this event which was to have taken place on Monday evening, until some date in the near future.

A meeting of the Ski and Snowshoe Club was held on Friday evening at which several new members were entered on the roll. The erection of a club house is being considered by the members.

The heavy fall of snow this week left the skating rink in rather bad condition. It is expected the ice will be ready again about Wednesday.

Miss Ethel Conway, Lakefield, was a guest of Mrs. A. McQuaige last week.

Miss Kline and Mr. G. Kline, Lakefield, were guests of Mrs. S. R. Payne on Sunday and Monday.

Mr. Easson, of Norwood, was in town on Monday and Tuesday.

storekeeping. Only by careful and prudent changes had the possibility of this important step been brought about, and though during the few succeeding years the company does not seem to have enjoyed exceeding prosperity, yet considerable advances and improvements in the mode of doing business appear to have been made.

A new era commenced in 1899 when Mr Donald A Smith assumed the governorship of the company, and from that time the vigorous and progressive policy that has been followed, founded upon the carefully and cautiously prepared platform of his predecessors, has been a most successful one. In 1891 Mr. Chipman was appointed to the administration both of trade and land matters of the company over the whole vast Dominion of Canada.

The changes that have been made in the period since then are many. Routes for the transportation of goods to the interior have been altered as railways reached different points, steamboats have replaced York boats, canoes and rafts on inland waters; mills have been built in the far north, and modern and handsome stores have been erected. The facilities afforded by the railways have brought about, and in some cases necessitated, these changes. Almost the whole character of the goods traded with the Indians has altered, for with approaching civilization and keen competition for his furs, he is no longer satisfied with the old simple articles of trade.

Competition has perhaps not in all respects improved the welfare of the Indian, though he has learned to look to the highest purchaser before selling his furs; but in spite of this, judging from the remarks at recent of the company's meetings, the fur trade is still profitable.

TAKES ENGAGEMENT WITH MERRELL AND MEREDITH

Mr. F. C. Freeland, Late With Grafton & Co. Accepts New Position

The clothing firm of Messrs. Merrell and Meredith has been fortunate in completing an engagement with Mr. Fred C. Freeland of this city, whose sixteen years' experience with the retail branch of the W. E. Sanford Company of Hamilton has qualified him for any special position in the clothing trade. Mr. Freeland will take charge of Merrell and Meredith's clothing department, and begins his duties on Monday next. Because of his recognized ability and experience Mr. Freeland will no doubt prove a strong acquisition in his new position. Being a clever stock-man and an original window-dresser, the large plate glass show windows of Merrell and Meredith's store will afford him unequalled opportunities for the development of smart "trims." Socially, Mr. Freeland has a large circle of acquaintances in Peterborough, who will be pleased to learn of his advancement, especially his music-loving friends.

GROWING GIRLS NEED PINK PILLS

This Tonic is Necessary for Their Proper Development and to Insure Health and Strength

There are throughout Canada thousands and thousands of young girls who are in a condition approaching a decline. The complexion is pale or sallow. Appetite fickle. A short walk, or going upstairs, leaves them breathless and with a violently palpitating heart. Headaches and dizziness often adds to their misery. Doctors call this anaemia—which, in common English, means poor blood. There is just one sure and certain cure for this trouble—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills make new, rich, red blood, strengthen every nerve and bring a glow of health to pale faces. Do not waste time and money experimenting with other medicines. Do not delay treatment until you are in a hopeless decline. Get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at once and see how speedily they will restore your health and strength. Here is the proof. Mrs. Joseph M. Lepage, St. Jerome, Que., says: "My daughter Emilia began to lose her health at the age of thirteen years. She suffered from headaches and dizziness. Her appetite was poor. She was pale and apparently bloodless. She had no strength and could neither study nor do any work. Doctors' medicine failed to cure her and I thought she was going into a decline. She was in this condition for several months when a neighbour advised the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I decided to give them a trial. It was not long until an improvement was noticed and the continued use of the pills for a month or more completely cured her and she has since enjoyed the best of health. I feel sure that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure any case of this kind."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure all troubles due to poor and watery blood, such as rheumatism, sciatica, indigestion, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, and the ailments that make the lives of so many women miserable. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SOME COLD AND PRECARIOUS WEATHER IS PREDICTED FOR THE MONTH OF FEBRUARY

But Thunder and Lightning May Also Happen Along at One Stage —What Professor Hicks Says

FROST COMING NEXT MAY

Professor Irl Hicks did some good figuring on January weather, and according to him, February will be a cold, unpleasant month, as well as March and April. He even predicts that even far on into May the weather will be cold and precarious. In his official organ, "Word and Works," he gives the following on February weather:

A regular storm period, having its centre on January 31, will reach its culmination during the first three days of February. We pass the moon's perigee and new on the 1st and 2nd, which facts will intensify storm conditions growing out of the combined Mercury and "Vulcan" perihelia. Southern parts of the country may reasonably expect heavy and general rain storms at this time. To the northward rains will turn to general and destructive sleet, followed by snow, and stormy boreal gales from the northwest.

A reactionary storm period is central on the 5th, 6th and 7th, with the moon's passage over the celestial equator on the 6th. The crisis of the Mercury period is co-incident with this reactionary storm centre, making it almost a certainty that threatening, stormy weather will be continuous during the first week in February. Great and general sleet storms will be a marked feature of these disturbances, winding up with blizzardous cold and snow squalls over almost the entire country. We believe that severe cold for the season will follow these storms, dominating the weather in all extremes of the country —or, for that matter, in most parts of the northern hemisphere from

The Stranger Took Them In

The following letter was handed last evening to the Examiner and serves to illustrate how easy it is to gladden the hearts of little children. The letter explains itself:

Editor Examiner:

Sir,—Will you be so kind as to place this in your valuable paper. Many thanks to the gentleman who so kindly took two poor children in the boot store and bought them rubbers for their feet, as he little knew the joy he gave the little ones by his kindness.

Many thanks, from the

LADIES BIG HOCKEY GAME ATTRACTING MUCH ATTENTION

Great interest is being taken in the game between the young ladies' hockey club and the Rough Riders on Thursday night, which promises to be the most unique hockey event of the decade. The Rough Riders, one of the fastest junior teams in the city, will be clad in long skirts, according to the conditions of the game, and in the second half will be allowed to use only one hand. The young ladies have been practising faithfully and will surprise the public when they make their debut Thursday night. They are fast skaters and have learned to handle their sticks well and play combination, so that the boys, handicapped as they will be, will have their work cut out for them.

The game will be played between 8 and 9 o'clock and there will be skating afterwards with the 57th Regimental Band in attendance. No one who wants to see the most novel and interesting game in years should miss this attraction. If you don't believe girls can play hockey, a visit to the rink Thursday night will cure you of your scepticism. The admission fee will be 10 and 15 cents, and the proceeds will be handed over to the Children's Aid Society.

TWO GREAT MATCHES FOR CITY LEAGUE PATRONS NEXT WEEK

High Lifes v. Norwood.

Strathconas v. Lakefield.

Can you imagine a better bill than that for the usual weekly double-header in the City League series? That is what will be handed out to the fans next Wednesday night and the rink should be crowded to the doors. The games are the most important in the series so far, and there will be excitement throughout the whole 120 minutes. High Lifes and Norwood are both confident of victory in the first game and the opinion in the city is pretty well divided as to the result. The losing team is out of the running, so that the teams will go at each other from the drop of the hat.

A win for the Straths in the second game will give them a good grasp on the championship as they will only have Bridgenorth to defeat afterwards. However, Lakefield will not be beaten without the hardest kind of a struggle, and the game will be worth going far to see. If Lakefield win, Strathconas and either Norwood or High Lifes will be tied for the championship, so that everything depends upon the result of Wednesday's games.

BLAZE AT WEAVING COMPANY'S MILL EARLY THIS MORNING

A fire which proved very awkward for the fire brigade to handle, broke out in the Colonial Weaving Company's mill at Auburn, at five o'clock this morning, but was extinguished before a great deal of damage was done. The blaze started in the wall at the rear of the boiler room between the iron sheeting and woodwork and was very hard to get at, the firemen having to tear off the tiles before they were able to get at the fire, which proved hard to locate.

The greatest damages will be done by the smoke which permeated throughout the mill and will injure the stock to some extent. Mr. A. E. Coulthard, the managing director of the company, was unable to ascertain the exact amount of the damage. The building itself is the property of the Auburn Power Company and was not damaged to a very great extent.

The fire brigade had a three-hour job as the result of the blaze, being called out at 5 o'clock and returning to the hall at 8 o'clock. The alarm was sent in by Mr. Coulthard who was notified from the mill that there was smoke in all parts of the building. The origin of the blaze is not known.

ASSESSORS WILL HAVE TO WORK TOGETHER THIS SEASON

The regular meeting of the City Council will be held on Monday night the most important business will be the appointing of assessors for the year. The council has been advertising for men to fill the position and to-day is the last day for receiving applications. It is understood that quite a large number of names have come, including those of some who are now to the position and the council will have to decide on Monday night to which of the applications the position will be awarded.

One thing is certain, according to the views of several aldermen, at least that whoever may receive the appointment will have to do their work together this year, instead of dividing up the city for assessment purposes, as was done last year. The council feel that the work can be done better when the assessors are working together.

Soup Will Be Given To Poor On Monday From Stewart St. Home

Mr. E. L. Goodwill's Plan Carried Out With Despatch — No One Need Go Hungry

CONTRIBUTIONS REQUESTED

On Monday morning between 11 and 12 o'clock soup will be given to the poor and needy of the city, and especially to those who are hungry and have nothing to eat. Mr. E. L. Goodwill's proposal to provide one meal a day to those who are in want was quickly consummated, and yesterday afternoon Mr. Geo. Cochrane made arrangements with Mrs. Aikens, of 24 Stewart street south, to make the soup. Her home is south of Perry street, in the neighbourhood of the Cordage Works and the Shovel Factory, and is easily found, remembering that Mrs. Aikens lives on the south-eastmost section of Stewart street.

Free Distribution

This is but the initial effort to assist in relieving any districts that may exist, and if conditions should warrant it the scheme will be enlarged. However, on Monday and Tuesday this soup will be distributed without restriction. All that is necessary on the part of those who desire to obtain some of the invigourating liquid is to bring a vessel to carry it to their homes. If it becomes cold on the way it may be heated again, as it loses none of its flavour or strength.

After Tuesday a different scheme will be inaugurated, and tickets will possibly be necessary.

Another Centre

If those who have begun the work learn that the north end of the city requires a similar distributing centre, the Children's Shelter will be pressed into service. The existence and development of the relief restaurant depends on its use. If the conditions are such as to manifest that it is necessary then the scheme will be broadened and other eatables will be given with the soup, and possibly lunch counters instituted.

Contributions Necessary

All those who wish to assist the society in this movement can do so in several ways. Money contributions will be received by himself or Mr. P. Campbell. If people desire to send food they should telephone, or leave their addresses with either of these gentlemen or with Mr. Geo. Cochrane. A man will be sent to collect it. This is an opportunity to help the poor and to know that women and children will receive benefit from the gifts presented.

Evelyn May Have To Study Domestic Economy To Live

Harry K. Thaw is Acquitted—He Leaves the Prison But Open Doors of Asylum Receive Him

FAMOUS TRIAL IS ENDED

Examiner Special.

New York, Feb. 1.—All fears that a third trial would have to be begun in the famous Thaw murder case are now at an end. Harry K. Thaw, the self-admitted slayer of Stanford White, was this morning acquitted by the jury on the supposition that he suffered mental aberration at the time he murdered White, the admirer of his wife, Evelyn.

The case was placed in the hands of the jury yesterday morning at 11.30 o'clock, and after waiting for twelve hours for their answer, Justice Dowling last night at 11 o'clock ordered the doors of the jury room locked for the night, and adjourned court until 11.30 to-day, when he offered to hear any reports they had to make. The rumour persisted throughout the evening that the jurymen were hopelessly divided, eight to four.

This morning, however, it was different when the jury presented its report. Thaw was acquitted, and as the sound of the foreman's voice rang out the decision through the crowded court room an indescribable scene followed.

The bystanders were wildly excited.

To an Asylum

Thaw, however, does not go free, but has been committed to the Matteawan insane asylum for an indefinite period. The great Thaw trial—one of the most famous in modern times, in any country—is now over—with what to look back upon? Stanford White is dead; Thaw is an insane asylum, with his past history, as well as that of his wife and the ancestors of both families, laid bare to the world. Evelyn may yet have to study domestic economy.

THE CHAIRS AND BEDS WERE BURNED TO PROTECT FAMILY FROM FREEZING TO DEATH

THE MOTHER ILL IN BED

A well founded report comes from the north end of the city showing the difficult straits in which a family on Smith street, were on Thursday evening when the mercury almost dropped through the bottom of the glass. So far had their wood pile been disappeared that the father was forced to break up their chairs to keep the frosty weather from freezing themselves and their two little children. It is also stated that even they were at last compelled to burn their beds in order to raise the temperature of the house in which they live.

Thursday night was severely cold. The mercury went down to 18 degrees below and on the same morning it was 29 degrees below so that unless something was done the family would have possibly frozen to death.

Woman Tells the Story

The story of the case was told by a woman to Mr. F. T. Elliott, the George street confectioner. She said the family lived at 17 Smith street, not far from the corner of Smith and Harvey streets, and that they were forced to burn the furniture from a lack of natural fuel. She also stated that the mistress of the house was ill and that the husband was out of work. There are two children in the family.

The pitiful character of the story appealed to Mr. Elliott and he sent a delivery wagon up to assist the family. The driver, however, could not locate the house and he had to return without relieving their wants. Mr. F. A. Oke also heard of the trouble the family were in and sent up some provisions, including wood.

Obtaining Relief

It was learned this afternoon that some good Samaritans had taken hold of the case and that for the present at least their wants will be attended to. It was also stated that there were three families in the one house in financial distress.

Assistance By County Council

The Children's Aid Society received a very generous grant of two hundred and fifty dollars from the County Council yesterday. No hesitation was made in moving that the grant to the Society be at once offered. The Council appreciates the work done by the society and the generosity of the members in proffering this large sum to the society to assist in the work must be gratifying to the officers. In their annual report the Children's Aid Society expressed their gratitude to the County Council for their liberal grant and next year the Secretary will have the same pleasant duty.

Were Photographed At The C.P.R. Station This Morning

The local on the C.P.R. was about on time this morning, but when it reached Peterborough it was decided to add another engine in anticipation of drifts in the cut between here and Toronto. A freight was standing in the yard at the time, and the engine was taken from it and attached to the local, which left the station about 8.20 o'clock.

TO RELIEVE OUR DESTITUTE

The brotherhood of man is the essential element of Christian society, and in so far as we neglect or ignore its claims and obligations so far are we at fault. The same divine authority that established it, tells us that the poor we have with us always and His example in His relations to the poor are an everlasting lesson to us, whose teaching in these bitter winter days we have abundant opportunity to practice. Happily we, more or less, lay the lesson of Christ's example to heart and act upon it. Pessimists tell us that the world is bad, that people are hard-hearted. Possibly to some extent, but the heart of man is not as black as it is painted—is not so closed to kind influences as many think. Within recent days we have had proof to the contrary. Our hearts, crusted over with the distraction of every-day occupations, the claims of business, the claims of social life, or engrossed in the pursuit of pleasures, have only to be pierced with some direct appeal which stirs their depths in order to respond. In Toronto the winter, combined with enforced idleness, has brought pitiful conditions of destitution and consequent suffering which exist in the neighbourhood of happy homes, whose occupants, secure in the enjoyment of the comforts ample means afford, do not know of the suffering with which they are surrounded. The Globe newspaper carried a graphic pen picture of its existence into ten of thousands of Toronto homes and made an appeal to the dormant—thank God, only dormant, seldom never completely dead—kindness in human hearts, and in the short space of three days the noble sum of $6,819 was contributed to the relief of winter suffering, not to speak of plentiful gifts in kind—food and clothing.

In Peterborough there is a proportionate degree of destitution and suffering. Who that has been comfortably housed, warmly clad and fully fed, has not in the last cold snap shuddered pityingly over the sufferings that must have come to those who lacked food and raiment and shelter, sufficient for below zero weather; and some of us have done something, done a little, far too little, in view of the need and our ability. The city authorities with their weekly dole of food have done nobly in the relief of suffering from lack of food; and lack of fuel is also remedied to some extent by the city. The fact, however, that a family on Smith street had on Thursday night to burn the furniture to prevent freezing indicates that the supply of fuel is not excessive. The Children's Aid Society, on the initiative of the secretary, Mr. Goodwill—his name might be amended to Gooddeed—and Mr. George Cochrane agent, propose a wider distribution of food relief. In this they should be warmly supported.

But this is not enough. In our stern Canadian winter weather there is a keener pinch than hunger—cold. There is need for blankets, shoes, stockings and clothing. But there is no necessity to go into detail; any man or woman of sense who reflects but a moment, can fancy the needs that arise where there is sickness, or no work for the bread-winner, no income and no fuel, no fire, no bread, no meat, and no drink. There is also another need, need of organized effort if the measure of of Christian kindness, for which the hearts of well-to-do people are ripe, is to be filled. There is need of organization, not only to arouse the great warm heart of the public to its privilege and duty, through a communicated knowledge of need, but to collect and distribute the overflowing material response which we have faith to believe will be forthcoming. In every household almost, almost in every attic or closet, there are cast-off clothing, out-grown children's clothing, boots and shoes, forgotten or ignored, of no present or future use if not sooner utilized, except to the moths. What mother is there who will not respond when she is told and knows that there are hundreds of children in the city to whom such articles of apparel would bring comfort, which, to the thoughtless life of childhood, is happiness. Let her in fancy put her own darlings, her own well fed, well clad, well housed children, in the place of these destitute children. Will she hesitate to ransack wardrobe and lumber-room for such articles of clothing? In hundreds of cases the only hesitation will be as to how to reach the suffering—as to where to send the articles. This indicates the necessity of system, of the establishment of depots, and means of collection. In Toronto, the work of relief has been splendidly organized; relief districts delimited, and stations established in every part of the city. All the city churches have united to become relief agents. This is right. If Christ's church is to be anything more than a socio-moral club, it must feed Christ's poor in body as well as soul. It boots nothing in the warmth and glow of upholstered ecclesiastical environment to put up unctuous prayers for the poor, unless faith, the fundamental essence of prayer, is translated into works. Not long since the churches in Peterborough nobly united in what was called a Week of Prayer. Now let them, peradventure, more nobly unite in a Week of Works.

What nobler sermons could be preached in the city churches to-morrow, than an appeal, thrust home to the hearts of their congregations, for a systematic and concerted and organized action to relieve the suffering we know exists all around us? The text might be, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, My little ones, ye have done it unto Me." Tell them the story of St. Francis, of Assisi.

THE TRADER'S BANK

The annual statement presented by the Traders' Bank of Canada, printed in another column, discloses very satisfactory conditions in the matter of earning power, standing and effective management. The rest account, which now stands at the important figure of $2,000,000, is forty-six per cent. of the paid up capital. The stock of the bank is well placed, being distributed amongst some 1,800 shareholders. The net profits for the past year, after full allowance for losses and depreciation of values, as $522,822.31. This permitted of the employment of $100,000 to increase the rest account to $2,000,000, the writing off bank premises of $100,000, $30,000 off bank equipment, devoting $304,328.29 to the payment of four quarterly dividends at the rate of seven per cent. per annum, strengthening the officers guarantee and pension funds by $5,000 each, and leaving a comfortable balance to be credited to profit and loss account.

The liquid assets amount to more than six and one-half millions, and the total assets amount to $33,700,000. The statement shows the affairs of the bank to be in capital condition, in earning capacity, and sound standing, conditions emphasized by careful and capable amanagement, especially in the direction of safeguarding the interests of shareholders and the public.

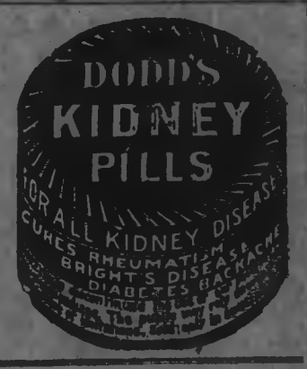
WARRANTED ENTHUSIASM

Mr. C. C. Ballantyne, one of the most active of Canadian manufacturers, says, as reported in the Financial Post of Canada: "I see nothing in the existing trade which would warrant any doubt about Canada's continued prosperity and future national development. True, we have experienced in the last few months a dropping off of business and a right desire to retrench, due altogether to the financial stringency. Canada to a large extent, due to wonderful prosperity and development during the last few years, and also owing to the more acute financial stringency in the United States, has temporarily suffered. This condition of affairs is being rapidly overcome, with the aid of our excellent banking system, which has again proven its efficiency and adaptability to the needs of the country.

"With improved financial conditions there is nothing, as I view the situation, to cause us to entertain any other but our well-warranted enthusiasm and belief that Canada and her rich resources are only beginning to be developed; that the new year which we are about to enter will be full of prosperity and happiness for all who do their full duty faithfully and well; that Canada's future is assured."

A GOOD REPORT

The twenty-third annual meeting of the Toronto Savings and Loan Company, held January 30, in the company's offices, 437 George street, reveals another year's satisfactory operations and general improvement of the company's sound and thrifty condition. The net profits amounted to $108,965.48. This added to $26,739.70, the balance forward from last year, made a sum of $135,725.18 available for distribution. Of this sum, $80,000 was employed to pay four quarterly dividends at the rate of six per cent. per annum; the sum of $40,000 was added to the Reserve Fund, swelling this account to the very satisfactory figure of $620,000, equal to 62 per cent. of the present paid-up capital of $1,000,000, leaving $35,725.18 to be placed to the credit of Profit and Loss. This represents a gratifying condition of stability. The year has been marked by prosperity in all departments. Maturing payments on the company's investments have been most satisfactorily met, and the rentals for the company's properties have been promptly paid. Altogether the annual report discloses generally satisfactory conditions, the fruits of good management.



EDITORIAL NOTES

Hon. Mr. Foster spoke in the House of the Pacific as Canada's "front door." We always thought that the Atlantic was our front door; but perhaps, suggests the Ottawa Free Press, since the member for North Toronto has been compelled to abandon the Atlantic seaboard as a field for his political talents he feels that it is no longer our front door.

A SOUND AND THRIVING BANK

The statement presented at the twenty-third annual general meeting of the shareholders of the Traders Bank of Canada indicates, not only a year of prosperous operations but a stability that places it in the ranks of the foremost financial institutions of Canada. It is to be noted that through recent years have brought prosperity and progress to this bank the profits for the year just closed have been the largest in the twenty-three years of its existance. The net profits for the year, with all the usual deductions have amounted to the gratifying sum of $522,822. These earnings have permitted the payment of four quarterly dividends of $76,000 each, at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, and the addition of $100,000 to the rest account. This addition brings the total of this account to $2,000,000; about 46 per cent. of the paid-up capital of $4,352,310. The liquid assets of the bank show a substantial increase over those of last year and are in a satisfactorily healthy condition. In a word the statement shows an advance in practically every account, in every department, and every interest of the Traders' Bank. A system of improved inspection inaugurated by this bank and represented by the appointment of a new officicial, called the directors' auditor, means the most minute inspection and examination of every account, transaction and interest of the bank. The statement, in a word, was in every way satisfactory. Mr. C. D. Warren was elected president and Hon. J. R. Stratton vice-president.

COLD WEATHER PREDICTIONS FOR MONTH OF FEBRUARY

about the 6th to the 10th of February. Rain and thunder, in southern parts especially, will be quite natural on and touching the 6th, but sudden blasts of boreal waves out of the northwest will quench the electric fire and deck the land in icy drapery.

A regular storm period is central on the 12th, covering the 12th to the 15th. In western parts of the country the barometer will begin to fall and the temperature rise as early as the 10th, and as these conditions pass eastward, cloudiness and rain will appear, growing into regular storms of rain and wind in western sections by the evening of the 12th. During the 13th to 15th these storms will grow more severe as they reach central and eastern parts of the country. Meantime western sections will have had northwesterly tangents of cold and snow, and such conditions will follow rains in their eastward passage to the Atlantic—the change to colder and flakes of snow keeping close on the western rim of the storm area quite to the Atlantic seaboard. Cold, frosty weather will continue generally after these storms up to about the 17th.

Lightning and Thunder

A reactionary storm period is central on the 17th, 18th and 19th. Full moon on the 17th, and the entrance into the earth's vernal equinoctial period about the same time, will intensify storm and seismic possibilities during this period. We should have also said in the proper place that seismic shakes will be natural within 70 hours of new moon on the 2nd. The moon being on the celestial equator on the 20th, threatening conditions, with high temperature and possibly lightning and thunder, will naturally tend to prolong the reactionary disturbances central on the 17th, 18th and 19th, pushing unsettled to stormy weather quite into the storm period following.

A regular storm period is central on the 23rd, prevailing from the 21st to the 26th. The storms of this period will culminate in central and eastern sections from Sunday the 23rd to Tuesday the 25th. The barometer will fall in western extremes by the 21st, followed by cloudiness and rain in those sections by the 22nd; but these conditions will widen and intensify as they pass eastwardly across the country during the 23rd to 26th. The vernal equinox will add force to the storms, especially in the southern parts of the country, through all the last half of February, and secure to dangerous equatorial storms will be quite possible, beginning about the 17th, toward the West Indies and working up to our South Atlantic and gulf coast regions about the 22nd to 25th. In the event of such storms in the south, we may confidently count on rough, boreal storms, and cold, disagreeable weather over most parts of the interior. We believe that such will be the case and so warn and counsel tghe readers of these forecasts.

A reactionary storm period will be in progress as we pass from February into March, the culminating stages of which will fall on March 1st and 2nd.

Heavy Storms in April

Taking a somewhat longer look ahead, we do not hesitate to say that we expect much cold, unpleasant weather in February, March and even up to the end of April, especially in central to northern extremes of the country. The last half of April forebodes heavy storms with sudden revulsions to colds and frosts sufficient to endanger fruits and growing vegetation. If the rule governing the Mars periods holds good, the weather will be cold and precarious far into May. Let us hope for a slip in the cogs.

At 4.15 o'clock to-morrow afternoon Rev. J. G. Potter will give an address in the school room of the Charlotte Street Methodist Church on "The Progress of Local Option." A POSSIBILITY

That Became a Fact, and Pleases Many People

A. R. Lewis, M.D., in a lengthy article in the columns of the American Journal of Health, says concerning hair: "Its deterioration is a constant source of worriment to humanity, consequently bald people are readily deceived by 'fake' hair restoratives. The wish that a hair preparation will 'fill the bill' is father to the fancy that it is likely to do so. A rare case in point is that of Newbro's Herpicide, which actually does 'fill the bill.' It destroys the parasite that attacks the hair root, and prevents dandruff, falling hair and baldness." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Sir Jameson Resigns.

Cape Town, Cape Colony, Feb. 1.—Dr. Leander Starr Jameson, Premier and Secretary for Native Affairs of Cape Colony, has resigned. He assumed these offices in February, 1904. The resignation comes as a result of the defeat of his party in the Cape Colony Parliamentary elections, which are now in progress.

Dr. Jameson probably will be succeeded by J. I. Merriman, leader of the African Bund.

Shot by Her Daughter.

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 1.—Mrs. C. J. Shanahan, wife of a contractor on the extension of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, 15 miles south of Birmingham, Thursday night shot and killed her mother, Mrs. Raphael McKillam of Canada, who was here on a visit. The killing was accidental. The body will be sent to Toronto for burial.

Three Boys Drowned.

Nyack, N.Y., Feb. 1.—While walking out on the thin ice which had formed in the Hudson off this place yesterday, Evans Steele, aged 12, Hans Kraft, aged 12, and Harold Dixon, aged 11, broke through and were drowned.

There's Danger in Every Cold

Once you come to realize the danger of neglecting coughs and colds, you will not run the risk of neglecting your cough and depending on any cough medicine" the druggist may choose to hand you out, and will insist on getting a medicine with a reputation, such as Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. Croup, bronchitis, asthma and coughs and colds are promptly and thoroughly cured by this treatment.

TIMBER LIMITS TALKS IN PARLIAMENT

Opposition Claim Friends of Government Were Favored.

MR. PERLEY'S CRITICISM

Mr. McIntyre, in Reply, Shows What Conservatives Did—Gave Away Timber Berths For Nothing — Every Tory Got One — Mr. Haggart's Experience — Mr. Pringle Explains in Regard to Banks.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—The debate on Mr. Lake's motion for an investigation into the alienation of public lands since 1896 was continued in the House yesterday.

Mr. Perley (Conservative, Argenteuil) commented upon the silence of the Ministers. He congratulated the Government upon having accepted the advice of Conservatives for the improvement of timber limit regulations. The Opposition had last year urged a longer notice before limits were put up for sale, as well as more knowledge of the value of the timber. During the last Christmas holidays, regulations had been improved in this respect, but they were capable of still further improvement. The upset price should not be advertised, but, as in Ontario, the reserve should be in an envelope and handed to the auctioneer at the time of the sale. No timber limits in the Northwest should be put up for sale until the timber was needed. There should be no permission to select from large areas, and all offerings should be advertised in The Canada Gazette.

Mr. Perley next dealt with a sacrifice of timber limits near the Pass, on the Saskatchewan. The Government put up the whole 125 square miles there at once, offering it in the dead of winter, and giving only thirty-eight days for exploration—an utter impossibility. The limit fell into the hands of the Saskatchewan Lumber Co. for $18,165, and the company held it now at $375,000.

Vast Areas For a Trifle.

But a still worse case was the gobbling up of 500 square miles in the country beyond Prince Albert, where for years saw mills had been doing good work. In January, 1903, the Government offered the selection of 500 miles out of an area of 60,000 square miles, giving only thirty-eight days in which to explore and estimate that immense tract, and that in the dead of winter. Nobody could make an intelligent bid under such conditions, unless he had previous knowledge. The very terms of the advertisement itself cast suspicion upon the transaction. A man could not travel from Ottawa to the confines of the district and back in thirty-eight days. The first choice of 250 square miles went to the Big River Lumber Co. for $5,000; the second choice went to a Winnipeg lawyer (whether he was connected or not with the Big River Co. did not appear) for $1,000, or $8,000 for 500 square miles that was now said to be worth $500,000. Nor was this all, the purchasers were given five years in which to make selection and survey, thus locking up the whole 60,000 square miles for that period of time. Surely there was some sinister influence at work that caused the Government to offer such immense tracts so many years in advance of requirements. It was also to be borne in mind that the timber in that country mostly grew in clumps, thus giving the person having the privilege of selection to pick out all the best timber in the country.

Awarded to the Bidders.

Continuing, Mr. Perley quoted Mr. Sifton's explanation of regulations in the session of 1903, when the Minister said that the advertisement was inserted once in a paper in the locality, and printed slips distributed, that tenders were opened in the Interior Department by the commissioner of lands, generally alone, but sometimes in the presence of another official, and then awarded the limit to the highest bidder.

"Who," asked Mr. Lalor, "was the Dominion lands commissioner at that time?"

"The present member for East Assiniboia (Mr. Turriff)," replied Mr. Perley.

"Surely," said the member for Argenteuil, "the transactions carried on under such a system demand investigation by a committee of the House."

Mr. Turriff had been going up and down the country saying that Liberals had disposed of timber limits by open competition. That had an honest sound, but could hardly be applied to these transactions.

In his speech on Thursday, Mr. Turriff had not attempted to justify the methods of the Department in dealing with timber limits. Quoting from an answer of Mr. Oliver, the speaker said of 307 licenses for limits in force in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta only fifty-six were in force prior to 1896.

"The Ames papers," declared Mr. Perley, "pointed to something crooked in the Department and to clear their names they should grant the investigation asked for."

Dr. McIntyre (Liberal, Strathcona) cited the case of a lumberman in his district, who had paid $31 for a limit of six square miles and had, after proving it, come back to the Department and asked for his money back, saying he would not give $31 for it. He discussed the Ames original documents and claimed that there was nothing wrong about a solicitor putting in half a dozen tenders. Using the technic argument, if present Government pilfered, Conservatives pilfered more. Dr. McIntyre would support an investigation if Mr. Lake would make a definite charge.

Hon. John Haggart said he had heard no defence of the scandalous transactions of the present Government. "If we did wrong," said Mr. Haggart, "it is no justification for the action of the present Government. What ought to be applied are business principles. The most contemptible thing in the world is a political flesh fly dying on the House."

Mr. Conmee declared that Conservatives parcelled up three million square miles in fifty square miles apiece, and "every Conservative up our way" got one. Mr. Haggart himself got one.

Mr. Haggart denied this.

"Then the only reason why they did not get them," was Conmee's rejoinder, "was because the Premier of Ontario stepped in and drove the hon. gentleman and his gang off."

Mr. Pringle on the Banks.

Rising to a question of privileges in the House yesterday Mr. Pringle said it had been represented in a portion of the press that he had made an attack on banks and the banking system during his speech on Wednesday. He thought he had handled the banks with kid gloves and was careful not to say anything which in anyway would disparage the banking systems of the country. Mr. Pringle believed the banks were in a stronger position than ever, and there was no reason why people should lose confidence in them. What he did say was that there should be a law restricting contractual rate of interest to borrowers. He had, however, been told that there was no use bringing in any amendments to the banking account, as he would have the majority in the House and the press against him.

Dr. Sproule also had a grievance. Some of the papers had charged his speech as an improper attack on the banks. He denied this.

Mr. Bennett declared that some original papers brought down in the House accounts committee were not there now for inspection, and Mr. Pugsley promised to locate them.

After recess Mr. McCarthy (Calgary) resumed the debate. He dealt with the peculiar circumstances under which timber limits had been acquired in 1902-4, which he termed the "reign of the timber barons." A committee of the House of Commons last session found that a lumber combine existed in Alberta, with the result that after a delay of six months local authorities entered prosecutions against those whom they considered responsible for the combine. Much of documentary evidence was honored. Nevertheless, one of the defendants was fined $500.

Mr. McCarthy said the previous Government had been punished for its misdeeds and it was no argument to say now that they had done wrong. But as evidence of the way the Mackenzie Government dealt with the public domain, Mr. McCarthy mentioned a berth of 900 square miles, spread all over the Saskatchewan Valley, and the purchasers had three years to make their selection. Mr. McCarthy defended previous Governments for doing everything possible to encourage the manufacture of lumber by sacrificing limits at the time the mills were cut off from the supplies of British Columbia.

SITUATION IN PORTUGAL.

Government Resort to Stern Repression.

Lisbon, Feb. 1.—The Minister of Justice left here yesterday for Vicosa to secure the signature of King Carlos to a decree authorizing the adoption of the most severe measures of repression. Such steps are considered necessary by the Cabinet for the preservation of public order.

One of the Government organs published in Lisbon calls for the sternest measures and now admits that numerous arrests have been made and that depots of revolvers, poignards, rifles and bombs have been discovered in different parts of the city. Continuing, this paper says that the instigators of the recent abortive attempt at an uprising will be sent to the frontier and expelled.

Newspapers Must Quit.

Lisbon, Feb. 1.—The Government has ordered suspended the publication of three more newspapers for printing seditious articles.

Motorman Sentenced.

New York, Feb. 1.—Paul Kelly, a motorman on a Ninth avenue Elevated Railroad train, which was wrecked in September, 1905, killing 14 persons, yesterday was sentenced to not more than two years and six months, and not less than one year and six months in prison. He had been found guilty of manslaughter in the second degree.

Thomas McDermott, motorman on a surface car which ran over and killed Louis Konsman, also was found guilty and sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.

French Steamer Wrecked.

Tokio, Feb. 1.—It is reported here that the French steamer Charles Tiberghien was wrecked Dec. 10, near the Island of Hainau, on the Chinese coast.

The steamer Charles Tiberghien was built at Rouen in 1900. She was 2,440 tons net register and owned by C. Tiberghien of Dunkirk. She left New York Oct. 17 for the far east, by way of Cape Town.

Foreshadows Intervention.

Brussels, Feb. 1.—It is believed here that the reference made yesterday by King Edward of England to the Congo Independent State in his speech from the throne at the opening of Parliament foreshadows British intervention in the Congo if the present project for the annexation of the State of Belgium should fall through.

Catarrh of Digestive Organs and Bowels.

MRS. MARY M. MARSHALL, Tipton, Mo., writes:

"I suffered three years with catarrh of the digestive organs and bowels. I was unable to find relief, until as a last resort I was induced to try Peruna.

"I began the use of Peruna when I was confined to the bed and can say that I experienced benefit from the first dose.

"I have taken five bottles in all and believe that I am cured of my trouble.

"I am enjoying as good health as an old lady of my age could expect. My age is 77.

"I recommend your medicines to sufferers whenever I meet them, and some of my friends are using them with great success.

"I will always feel grateful to you for your grand medicine and kind advice and trust that many others may be as greatly benefited as I have been."

Pe-ru-na For Bowel Trouble.

Mrs. L. S. Tinker, 852 Second street, Macon, Ga., writes:

"Two years ago my grandson suffered with hemorrhages of the bowels and he was treated by different doctors, but without cure.

"We quit all other treatment, and began the use of Peruna, and after the use of three bottles he seemed to be quite well. He is able now to walk six miles to school every day.

"Peruna has certainly worked wonders for him, and I shall not hesitate to recommend it."

Miss Anna Carsten, Clayton, Ill., writes:

"Your medicine, Peruna, did me so much good. I believe I should have been dead by this time if I had not used it.

"I am feeling so well now and have no trouble with my stomach. I have not taken any medicine for four or five months.

"If I am ever troubled with anything of the kind again, I shall take nothing but Peruna. I can cheerfully recommend it to my friends."

A Severe Cough.

Mrs. Emma Martin, Odessa, Mo., writes:

"I cannot thank you enough for curing me. For two years I doctored my cough which cost me many dollars, but still I seemed to get worse. My cough was so bad I could not sleep.

"Finally I purchased a bottle of Peruna. I took it according to directions, and in a short while I felt better, and after I had taken a second bottle I felt entirely well.

"After the use of six bottles I feel that I am cured, and therefore recommend this grand medicine to all who suffer with a cough as I did."

A Household Remedy.

Mrs. Celia Ebling, R. R. No. 8, Payne, Ohio, writes:

"I have better health now than I have had for years, and am fleshier than I have ever been. I am so thankful to you for what you have done for me.

"I cannot praise Peruna enough. I keep it in the house. You have my sincere thanks for your advice.

"My husband is taking Peruna, now. He had such a cough he thought he had consumption, but he is getting better.

"He has taken it only one week and it has done him good."

Miss Eva Schelle, 197 N. Quincy St., Topeka, Kas., writes:

"I unhesitatingly recommend Peruna as a splendid specific for catarrhal affections. I was a sufferer with this trouble off and on for a number of years and each fresh cold added to the difficulty.

"Finally I began taking Peruna for a cold and was glad to note that it was ridding me of the catarrh also.

"I continued to use it faithfully and the result was a complete cure in a very few months."

Mrs. Christina Clow, 411 S. Platte Ave., Colorado Springs, Col., writes:

"I have taken Peruna off and on for six years and have found it very beneficial in a great many ways.

"I took it for a cough and a cold, also for catarrh of the head, and it cured me. I took it for a tonic and it gave me strength. I have every reason to speak well of your medicine."

FAITH THAT CANNOT BE SHAKEN.

Despite everything that sensational magazines may say, the women of the United States continue to have faith in Peruna.

These women know a great deal more about Peruna than the editors who have, for selfish purposes, written against it.

These women have tried Peruna in their families. They have taken it themselves. They know it will help them.

They have suffered from various ailments and Peruna has come to their relief, even when the doctors failed to cure them.

Such women cannot be convinced by any editorial spasm that their favorite household remedy is a humbug.

Peruna goes right on in its conquest over disease. Its fame is spreading all over the earth.

It is entirely useless for anyone to try to dissuade them from the results of their own experience.

Peruna is a remedy for the mucous membranes. It therefore has a beneficial effect upon the internal organs of the body that are lined by mucous membranes.

The testimonials concerning Peruna are given in the language of the people. We do not change or add to anything they may say concerning it.

Headache and Backache.

Mrs. Franziska Gaengel, Dominion L, Old Bridgeport Mines, C. B., Canada, writes:

"I thank you for the benefit which I derived from Peruna. There may be many who are suffering from the same disease that I had, for which they have not yet been able to find the correct remedy.

"For the benefit of such persons I wish to say that I suffered with headache and backache and had a severe cough. I was in bed several weeks and could not do my work. I tried many remedies in vain.

"Then I consulted Dr. Hartman, who advised me to take Peruna and gave me further instructions, which I carefully observed.

"I felt better after taking the first bottle. I have taken several bottles now and am feeling so well that I can do all my work.

"I will never be without Peruna again, and recommend it to all."

Catarrh of the Stomach.

Mrs. Mary Allen, Route 6, Franklin, Tenn., writes:

"I am glad to be able to tell you that I am well of catarrh of the stomach, and am sincerely thankful to you for your advice.

"If it had not been for Peruna I would never have been well. I had three physicians. One of them told my husband that he could not cure me.

"I had been sick about nine months when a friend asked me to try Peruna to gratify her; so I commenced taking it. I can eat and walk and work.

"Everybody says I look as well as I ever did. Oh, you don't know how thankful I do feel to you! I have got several other people to take Peruna. I praise it to everybody."

OLD AGE PENSIONS PROJECT

Scheme of British Government Would Cost $65,000,000.

CABINET MINISTER A BEGGER

John Burns Tells House of Commons How He Got Free Meal—Was in Court Dress But Looked Miserable—Condemns Indiscriminate Charity—Says It Is Unscientific—Gets to Wrong People.

London, Feb. 1.—Participating in the debate in the House of Commons Thursday night on the question of the unemployed, John Burns, president of the Local Government Board and Labor leader in the House, denounced the unscientific distribution of religious, philanthropic and private charity, which he declared was usually misapplied and diverted to the wrong persons. He told one of his own experiences recently when, after an official function, he joined 2,000 of the unemployed at the Victoria Embankment.

"I was in my court dress," he said, "but pulled my bowler hat over my eyes and looked miserable, and I got my bowl of soup and hunch of bread."

Mr. Burns admitted that pauperism in London is on the increase, and said it would continue to grow as long as indiscriminate charity prevailed.

An incidental remark made by Mr. Burns during his speech, that the scheme of Herbert H. Asquith, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, for old-age pensions would provide for a million people, attracted much attention afterwards. Nothing hitherto had leaked out with reference to the intentions of the Government, but it was generally assumed that it would propose a pension of 5s. weekly in certain cases. If so, Mr. Asquith's scheme would entail the annual expenditure of $65,000,000.

THE JURY WAS OUT FOR TWELVE HOURS

Disagreement Now Looked For In Thaw Case.

JUSTICE DOWLING'S CHARGE

Murder Always Murder—Character of Slain Person Does Not Affect the Crime — Sanity Means Responsibility — Summing Up Favored Insanity Plea—Thaw Waits in Cell to Know His Fate.

New York, Feb. 1.—After waiting for nearly 13 hours for the jury in the Thaw case to report, Justice Dowling shortly after 11 o'clock last night ordered the doors of the jury room locked for the night and adjourned court until 10.30 a. m. to-day, when he will hear any report they have to make.

The rumor persisted throughout the evening that the jurors were hopelessly divided—eight to four. Mr. Littleton of the defence expressed the belief that the majority favored a verdict of not guilty on the ground of insanity and when he left for his home was still hopeful that a decision eventually would be reached.

District Attorney Jerome said: "Nobody can tell what a jury will do, so what is the use of speculating."

Thaw Disconsolate.

Thaw retired disconsolately to his cell in the Tombs. He expressed the fear that a third trial would be necessary. This was the general opinion held by the court attaches. The attorneys in the case all were deeply disappointed by the trend of affairs as everyone had hoped that some definite conclusion might this time be reached.

Mr. Jerome would not discuss the probability of a third trial, but said if there was one it might be in some other jurisdiction of the state than New York County.

After the jury went silently to dinner and returned, the guards at the doors heard no sounds of arguments from the jury room. The jury called for all the exhibits in the case before it retired, and is evidently determined to reach its verdict without asking for information or further instructions from the court.

Harry Thaw sat up late in his cell in the Tombs, hoping to hear some encouraging word, but his attorneys could offer him no hope of anything better than another disagreement. Martin W. Littleton, the chief counsel for the defence, insisted late last night that he was still of the opinion that a favorable verdict would be reached, but his associates were sure there would be no decision.

Mrs. Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw remained at the criminal courts building waiting for the jury to come in, but Mrs. William Thaw, the mother, and Mrs. Carnegie, the sister of the defendant, went home at noon, after having listened to Justice Dowling's charge. A large crowd remained in the court-house corridors, anxious to witness the closing scenes of the noted trial.

Justice Opens the Charge.

In opening his charge, Justice Dowling impressed upon the jury the responsibility which was theirs, telling them that they should bear in mind that upon their verdict depended the life or liberty of the prisoner:

"Your verdict must not be influenced by any matter outside the record," said he. "Neither passion nor sympathy should sway you in your deliberations. You must not speculate or guess as to matters in evidence here, but must decide the issue solely upon your calm, dispassionate judgment as to the weight, credibility and meaning of the testimony. Nor are you concerned with the punishment which may follow a verdict of guilty at your hands. Your sole function is to determine if any crime has been committed, its grades, and leave the question of penalty to those responsible for its imposition."

The district attorney must prove every material element in his case. It was for the jurors themselves to judge of the credibility of witnesses, and Justice Dowling referred to the so-called Hummel affidavit. If a witness had been convicted of crime they might consider that fact in weighing his testimony.

Degrees of Insanity.

The various degrees of homicide were defined.

"A sane man, a voluntary agent acting upon motives, must be presumed to contemplate and intend the necessary, natural and probable consequences of his own acts," he continued. "If, therefore, one voluntarily or wilfully does an act which has a direct tendency to destroy another's life, the natural and necessary conclusion is that he intended to destroy life. You are not to be prejudiced by any testimony which reflects upon the character of the defendant. The general bad character of a person slain can neither tend to show that the party is not guilty of homicide or in any sense mitigate the taking of human life. In the eye of the law, to murder the vilest and most abject of the human race is as great a crime as to murder its greatest benefactor."

Possible Verdicts.

(1) Murder in the first degree; penalty, death.

(2) Murder in the second degree; penalty, life imprisonment.

(3) Manslaughter in the first degree; penalty, not to exceed twenty years' imprisonment.

(4) Not guilty on the ground of insanity at the time the crime was committed; probably commitment to Matteawan Asylum.

SERIOUS SITUATION.

Trouble In Tabriz Assumes a Serious Aspect—Insurgants Looting.

Odessa, Feb. 1.—A despatch has been received here from Julfa, on the Russo-Persian frontier, saying that the situation at Tabriz is extremely critical. The revolutionaries are in possession of the town, and their numbers are constantly increasing. Bands of insurgents march through the streets of Tabriz, looting and terrifying the people. The Government has no control of the situation. The European residents have barricaded themselves in their houses and have appealed to the Russian consul for Cossacks. The viceroy of the Caucasus has ordered Russian troops to Julfa to be in readiness for any emergency.

A BOYCOTTING FEVER.

Irish Children Threatening to Close Up Schools.

Dublin, Feb. 1.—The children of members of the United Irish League of the west of Ireland, who are carrying on an anti-grazing campaign, are rapidly becoming infected with a violent form of the boycotting fever and are threatening to close up the national schools if the children of the hated occupants of grazing lands are permitted to attend the schools.

As an earnest of their determination to do this, 60 pupils attending a national school near Boyle, County Roscommon, yesterday walked out in a body because the teachers refused to dismiss four small sons and daughters of men who have been boycotted.

Suffered From Heart and Nerve Troubles FOR THE Last Ten Years.

The heart has supplied to it two sets of nerves, one set which quickens, the other which slows its action. The proper action of these nerves, so important to the well-being of the heart, depends upon the general condition of the nervous system. If there be any disarrangement of any kind it is bound to produce all the various phenomena of heart derangement.

Knowing the intimate structure of the heart, and having cured hundreds of the nerves called the heart, we have combined in Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a treatment that will cure all forms of nervous disorders as well as cure the heart itself, and it is due to the thousands of their cures in curing the many cases of heart trouble which have defied all other treatment.

Mrs. John Riley, Bonny, Ont., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from heart and nerve trouble for the last ten years. After trying many remedies and doctoring for two years, without the least benefit, I decided to give Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a trial. I am thankful to say that, after using nine boxes, I am entirely cured, and would recommend them to all sufferers."

Will Lose Money To Gain Money

Dolly Varden Seeks Wider Acquaintance—For One Month These Famous Shoes Will be Sold in Canada at Less Than Cost to Make 10,000 New Friends

Dolly Varden Shoes have been sold in Canada for two years. The sales have been large, exceeding the best hopes of the Dolly Varden Shoe Company.

But the wish to widen the acquaintance of the ladies of Canada is father to the thought of a great month's sales—when for once—and for once and only once—the standard price of the Shoe will be sacrificed in order to make ten thousand new friends in as short a time as possible.

Every Dolly Varden Shoe has the price labelled on it—and it is worth that price just as sure as the mint-mark on the gold coin.

When a lady can see that price and can know just how much she is actually saving there is a real sense of satisfaction and surety.

For one month every buyer of Dolly Varden Shoes will get a dollar returned to them on every purchase.

In the Montreal Dolly Varden Stores $10,000 will be returned to the customers next month for there will be ten thousand bargains in the store.

The sale begins on Monday next. There is no need to herald the Dolly Varden Shoes; their class is known. It will be the first, last and only sale—for it's an introduction sale in the true sense of the word.

Fuller particulars will be published by the Dolly Varden Shoe Store from day to day. Some of the rare and fine styles will be shown and some exceptionally fine bargains or odds and ends in broken lines are promised. There is not a shoe, style or model in the store which will be held back for the month of February — the full twenty-five shopping days of the shortest month in the year.

The Dolly Varden Shoe Store already enjoys a high-class trade. They want to prove to everybody that a fine, classy $5 shoe is the cheapest shoe to wear. And they are going to pay a dollar to every customer, who seeks an introduction to the Dolly Varden Shoes, but this was thought to be unfair to the thousands who do know. In this case it is like buying $4 and $5 gold pieces right from the new Canadian Mint for $3 and $4.

Don't blame the child; the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

The Coming Exhibition of Famous Dutch Pictures

FIRST IN PETERBOROUGH

There will be shown next week under the auspices of the Peterborough Branch of the Women's Art Association of Canada, in the old Bank of Montreal Building, a fine collection of water colours, by the well known painters of the School of the Netherlands which ranks as the greatest of present day art. No exhibition, whether local, national or international, is complete now adays without a room devoted to the "Dutch." In the galleries of the peture dealers in Paris, London, The Hague and New York. A large proportion of the chef d'oeuvres offered for the inspection of the connoisseur are Dutch pictures by collectors of a Josef Israel, W M Mesdag, B J Bloomers. Z Thromp, F J der Chattel, A Bosboom, Van Mastenbroeck, Van der Wadt, Van Driesten, Westerbeek, Kerlman, Gidding and others who by their fidelity to nature, their great grasp of the principles of art go well known to the artists of the Italian and German renaissance and rediscovern by the Dutch painters of to-day.

This is the first exhibition of the works of the greatest living masters ever shown in the City of Peterborough, and the enterprise and energy of the Woman's Art Association should be well rewarded by a large attendance, and interest. The responsibilities of the Foreign Exhibitions which are brought out to Canada each year by the head association in Toronto is to create interest, and through an aroused interest to have intelligent appreciation of the value of art in a new country like Canada, with no art traditions, museums or means of arousing artistic instinct.

Every artist when he shows his pictures is familiar with the person who says: "Of course I don't know anything, and can't criticise, (but I know what I like." If we wish to be successful in our intercourse with pictures as with men, we must accept them as they are. We must put our minds into a receptive state so that we can enjoy the many painters of other lands, take what each offers when good of its kind and cultivate an interest for which such an exhibition as this is an invaluable aid.

Progress of Art

The most distinctive achievement of the art of the latter part of the last century was the development of aquarelle painting. A wave of enthusiasm passed over the modern art world, and painters of note investigated for themselves the possibilities of water colour painting. Many societies were organized and many methods formulated, until gradually it was realized that the artist could produce in water-colour the same phase of art as in oils. The eminent suitability of the medium for easel pictures for the home aided its development and popularity. In 1893, at the World's Fair in Chicago, the aquarelles shown by the Netherland painters, brought them into great prominence on the continent. The renowned Frenchmen, Corot, Diaz, Millet, Bonnean and Daubigny, of the Barbizon school, had passed away. But there was another group of painters ready to take their place; there was another great movement in the art of the Netherlands, where, like the Barbizon painters, not so much the grandeur of the subject represented was insisted upon as the grandeur of the work done upon these subjects.

There was no tendency towards sensationalism as in the modern French school, in the works of Josef Israels, Johannes Bosboom, Anton Mauve, W. H. Mesdag and their followers, but there is an indisputable dignity in the way they render the every-day life of their people and country. Twenty years before the Dutch artists had exhibited in a group in the Glas-Palast, Munich, and since then their works have been eagerly sought for by art-lovers in Germany, England, Scotland and America. Honours have been heaped upon the Dutch artists by all civilized countries. Gradually they began to paint more and more in water-colour, until they created a distinct school in which water-colour triumphed, there being no effect or quality attained in any medium which was not possible to them.

A Rare Opportunity

A study of the pictures in the exhibition will be readily convincing, and an opportunity is afforded for the exercise and cultivation of artistic appreciation and sensibility never before presented in so complete a manner to this community. No one whose knowledge entitles him to an opinion will deny the importance of this exhibition in the development in Peterborough of art, and the appreciation of it.

Another exhibit is united with the picture exhibition. The Home Industries of Canadian Women, as developed and encouraged by the head association, throughout Canada. Laces will be shown in needle and bobbin grilse, such as Duchess, Maltese, Clones, Limerick, etc., habitant homespun linens, and dress materials, Persian, Russian embroideries, tufted coverturres, Afghans, etc., all the home hand work of women in different parts of Canada. The exhibition will open Monday evening at 8 o'clock, and remain open until Friday.

A MESSAGE FROM MARS

The products of playwrights are as uncertain as the fortunes that follow prospectors for the rich ores. A case in point: When Richard Ganthony, the author of "A Message from Mars," which will again be seen here at the Grand Opera House next Thursday evening, completed his comedy, he went to New York with the hope of interesting some manager or producer to take his play and present it to the public. Mr. Ganthony, being wholly unknown as a playwright, encountered many obstacles, none of which he overcame in this country. His greatest hardship was to get audiences with managers. When he would send his name in to a manager, word would usually come back that the manager was too busy to see him—the real reason being that no one knew him and because he was unknown. This went on for some three or four months, which was naturally discouraging to any ambitious playwright. He had about reached the limit of his possession of the coin of the realm. In other words, Mr. Ganthony was financially embarrassed and about "broke." Fortune, however, smiled upon him when he least expected it. A friend from the West, who had known Ganthony as a newspaper writer, and who had been favoured by him in his political aspirations, "staked" the author with enough funds to take him to London, where he could perhaps meet with better treatment by theatrical managers than he had at home. Within less than three days after his arrival in London he was accorded audiences with five managers, and to all of these he read his play, and the he was not able to do in New York in five months. In about four weeks the play was brought forth, and it was successful from the very beginning. It has made Mr. Ganthony a rich man, as well as several others who were interested with him in his production.

Strathconas Lost Last Game Of The Season To Cobourg

Locals Were Defeated in a Ragged Exhibition Last Night by 5 Goals to 3—Game Dragged All The Way

WERE FOUR AHEAD ONCE

Although in the latter stages of the game they looked pretty nearly good enough to win, the Strathconas could not overcome the lead that Cobourg secured in the earlier period of the match with that aggregation last night and the visitors won the contest by a score of 5—3.

With the score 4—1 against them the Straths took a brace and ran in two in quick succession, affording the only really exciting portion of the play. However, Cobourg scored another with only a couple of minutes to play and the game was theirs.

Neither team showed very good form and the contest was not an interesting one from the spectators' standpoint.

Cobourg took the lead in the first half and had the Straths blanked at the conclusion of the initial period, the tally standing 2—0. For a long time it looked as though the locals chances were good and for the first ten minutes the play was mostly in Cobourg's territory. After sixteen minutes playing the lakeside septette notched the first goal, and landed three more before the Strathconas found the nets for their first tally.

The game was by no means a tame exhibition in the matter of strenuous play, owing to some extent to the fact that Referee Wilson of Cobourg found it impossible to control the players. The task of looking after the men proved rather too heavy a one for him. His work was not up to the standard.

How They Were Scored

Rorbeck got the next in 3 minutes. 2—0.

McCallum and Parnell were each benched a minute for slashing.

Moffatt used the gad too freely and was handed a minute penalty. Parnell, McCallum and Moffat were each given a minute in order named for rough play.

Second Half

Rorbeck scored in 20 minutes. 4—0.

McWilliams scored on a neat wrist shot in 2 1-2 minutes. 4—2.

McMillan secured the locals' last goal on a shot from close to the nets, 1 minute. 4—3.

Parnell and Moffatt roughed it and were both boarded for a minute.

Chieftains Proved Too Much For The Cementville Seven This Afternoon

The chieftains exacted sweet revenge from the Snowflakes, the Lakefield intermediate team, in a rattling good game of hockey at the Brock street rink this afternoon. The local juniors were ahead at the final 14—3, and were five up at the breathing spell, the figures reading, Chieftains 7, Lakefield 2. It was the Chieftains game all the way, their speed and combination sweeping Lakefield off their feet, while the visitors seemed lost on the big rink. Crane was the star of the contest. Leo Quinn, captain of the Lakefield City League, refereed the game satisfactorily and the teams lined up as follows:

Guelph, Feb. 1.—One of the foremost Presbyterian divines of Canada, in the person of Rev. He was born in Armagh County, Ireland, in 1822 and graduated in arts and theology from universities at Belfast and Edinburgh. He was licensed to preach when 22 years of age, and upon arriving in Canada he declined a call to a Toronto congregation, and entered actively into missionary work among the early settlers, travelling through Western Ontario from Toronto to Goderich on horseback, holding services in the log cabins of the settlers.

Clerk a Baronet.

As no estates go with the baronetcy, Sir Edward will not likely change his present position for the present.

Storm Cost His Life.

Montreal, Feb. 1.—The verdict of the coroner's jury, which enquired into the death of W. J. Scott, a G.T.R. brakeman at Strathmore, found that the engineer of the International Limited was in fault in disobeying the rules by running past the local on the opposite track at full speed, but he was excused owing to the claim that he could not see the train on account of the storm which prevailed at the time.

Scott was the man who saved a woman passenger's life and lost his own in the effort.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS HOLD CHRISTMAS TREE

Many Presents Distributed — Splendid Programme Presented

The Sunday school of First Church of Christ, Scientist, had a very successful and enjoyable entertainment and New Year tree in the church, 378 Aylmer street. After the rendering of a very nice programme by the children and young people of the church, consisting of recitations, dialogues, songs, piano solos, duets, etc., came the unloading of the tree, which was prettily decorated and heavily laden with good things for the children. Each child received a well-filled bag with an orange, candy and nuts, also one or more useful presents. The superintendent of the school, Mrs. Todd, received an envelope well filled with silver, as an expression of the good will of the school, which she appreciated very much. A quantity of oranges, candies and nuts being left, the audience was then treated, during which time they enjoyed a social chat. The entertainment closed with the singing of the Doxology.

TORONTO SAVINGS AND LOAN COMPANY

Proceedings of the Twenty-third Annual General Meeting.

The adjourned Annual General Meeting of the Shareholders of the Toronto Savings and Loan Company, was held at the Head Office of the Company, No. 417 George Street, Peterborough, on Thursday, the 30th day of January, 1908, at three o'clock, p. m.

The President, Hon. Geo. A. Cox, having taken the chair, the Managing Director, Mr. W. G. Morrow, was requested to act as Secretary to the meeting.

After reading the notice convening the meeting, the Secretary read the Twenty-third Annual Report, and the accompanying Financial Statement.

DIRECTORS' REPORT

The Directors submit herewith their Twenty-third Annual Report, showing the results of the business for the past year, accompanied by the Balance Sheet to the 31st December, 1907.

The Gross Earnings for the year amounted to $308,845.73, and, after the payment of Interest on Deposits and Debentures, and all expenses of management, there remained a New Profit of $102,986.45. To this amount has been added $36,739.70, the balance carried forward from last year, which makes a total sum for distribution of $139,726.15.

This amount has been disposed of in the following manner—

1—By Payment of four Quarterly Dividends of 1 1-2 per cent. each, equal to 6 per cent. for the year, amounting to	$60,000.00
2—By Addition to the Reserve Fund	40,000.00
3—By Amount carried forward to Profit and Loss Account	39,726.15

The above addition to the Reserve Fund increases that account to $670,000.00, making it now 67 per cent. of the present Paid-up Capital of $1,000,000.

All payments maturing during the year on the Company's investments have been most satisfactorily met, and the rentals from the property owned by the Company have also been promptly paid. The books, accounts and securities of the Company have been carefully examined by the Auditors, and their Report is attached to the Financial Statement.

Methods of Reckoning Time Employed By Astronomers

The Peterborough branch of the Royal Astronomical Society held an important meeting in the green room at the Y. W. C. A., when Mr. F. L. Blake, O.L.S., D.L.S., gave a lecture on methods employed in reckoning time. Mr. Blake has the responsible position at the Provincial Observatory at Toronto, of ascertaining the time for this section of the Dominion. While his address was particularly technical, his explanations were clearly presented and by the aid of limelight views and drawings he dealt with his subject in a lucid manner. Mr. Blake has been employed at the observatory since 1884, and in the intervening years has sent out the time to the whole province.

The local astronomical society has shown since its institution that it is progressively managed and the members are given every assistance by Rev. Dr. Marsh to make careful studies and has assisted the members personally, and is always aiming at bringing to the city the most learned astronomers of the country that the members may advance rapidly in their studies. All those who are interested in astronomy and mathematics should be a member of the society, as there are many advantages to be gained and assistance individually can more easily be gained.

Outside of the regular routine business, Dr. Marsh first made a few references to the present condition of the heavens. Jupiter in the east and Venus in the west are particularly brilliant about now. The best time to observe them is in the evening just at dark. Dr. Marsh said that there is a fallacious idea that Venus is but an electrical balloon and he hoped the members would rectify this error if they heard it expressed. At present there is nothing worth mentioning on the sun.

The Lecture

Mr. Blake was introduced to the members by Rev. Dr. Marsh, who assisted the lecturer by skillfully presenting the calcium light drawings on the screen. Mr. Blake explained that time by our watches is standard time. Between Fort William on the west and Quebec in the east, time is reckoned by the 75th meridian. That is when the sun is on this meridian it is noon. This is commonly called solar or apparent time. Time may also be ascertained from the stars and when this is done it is known as sidereal time. If the moon is chosen the time is called lunar time.

Time, Mr. Blake said, is an indefinite species of motion and is without limit. There are different methods of measuring time, some of the units being the oscillation of a pendulum, the revolution of the earth on its axis, or its revolution around the sun. On account of there being no practical variation in the revolution of the earth on its axis this is chosen for measuring time.

A Day

A day, Mr. Blake explained, is the interval between two successive transits of a heavenly body over the same meridian. If the body is the sun, then this time is called a solar day; if one of the stars is chosen, it is called a sidereal day, and so on, according to the body. Aries is generally chosen to reckon sidereal time, and a sidereal day here is the interval between two successive transits of the first point Aries over the 75th meridian. This day is shorter than the solar day. One year is composed of 365 solar days, or 366 sidereal days.

The solar days are not uniform, and the sun is not on the 75th meridian every day at the same exact time. Mr. Blake then explained mean time and how it is obtained, and how it compares with sidereal and solar time. Going from that, he dealt with equations of time, all of which cannot be detailed in this short account.

Conclusion

Mr. Blake gave an idea of the transit instrument, its mechanism and how to use it. He impressed his audience with the care that has to be taken in these experiments of the heavens, and described the methods employed at Toronto observatory of obtaining the correct time.

At the conclusion of his address Mr. Blake was tendered a hearty vote of thanks on motion of Messrs. Easson and Collier.

The Wasting Process of Disease

Disease is a tearing down, wasting away and a destroying of the tissues of the body and a shrivelling up of the nerve cells and blood corpuscles. Nature demands assistance to overcome this dreadful wasting process and the needed help is best supplied by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the great blood builder and nerve restorative.

—The public of Peterborough are reminded that the exhibition of art in the old Bank of Montreal building next week will be open to them from Tuesday morning until Friday evening. The hours in which it will be open will be from 10 to 13 a.m. and from 2 to 6 p.m., and also on Friday evening.

A WONDERFUL CURE OF RHEUMATISM

THE CAUSE An excess of uric acid and ureates are deposited in the tissues of the body and joints, causing aches and pains which are called rheumatic.

All the various causes of rheumatism, such as the acute, articular, muscular and gout, have the same common cause—Uric Acid.

To effect a satisfactory cure the uric acid must be removed. This can only be done by introducing into the circulation a remedy which will dissolve the uric acid and stimulate the action of the excretory organs.

No Case That Ferrozone Can't Cure

The remarkable success of Ferrozone is due to the fact that it attacks the disease in the blood. It goes right to the root and cause of the trouble.

Ferrozone is a perfect solvent for uric acid and quickly destroys its evil effect. It stimulates and quickens the sluggish circulation and drives every trace of rheumatic poison out of the system.

Rheumatism Can't Last If FERROZONE is Used.

We have conclusive proof of this. The strongest possible endorsements from people who have been cured after all else failed. If you suffer from rheumatism yourself, or in case you have a friend or relative subject to this disease, read the following—they tell their own tale.

LIFE-LONG CRIPPLE CURED

Mr. Louis Noll, 35 Fulton street, New York, N. Y., writes: "Ever since boyhood I have been a sufferer from rheumatism. My joints were twisted and swollen, and the pain at times was really intense. I used gallons of liniments, vapor baths, and other treatments, but was first noticeably relieved by Ferrozone. It cured me perfectly after using twelve boxes."

Mr. Henry Heer, Pharmacist, 35 Eldridge Ave., New York, vouches for Mr. Noll's absolute cure. He says: "Mr. Noll has been freed from chronic rheumatism by Ferrozone. For years he has not been so well, and today shows no signs of rheumatic trouble. It is a pleasure to recommend Ferrozone."

The BEST remedy for rheumatism that science has produced is Ferrozone—it is unquestionably the only sure and lasting cure. Sold everywhere by druggists. Price 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50—by mail to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. POLSON & CO., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

DRIVEN TO SUICIDE BY DRINK

Mrs. Williamson Was Allowed to go This Morning—Will Not Drink Again

Mrs. Geo. Williamson, the woman who tried to hang herself early last Saturday morning in the police cells, appeared before Magistrate Dumble on a charge of being drunk and disorderly and trying to do away with her life.

Mrs. Williamson pleaded guilty through her counsel, Mr. S. Gordon, and asked for clemency.

"I was under the influence of drink, your Honour," said Mrs. Williamson; "and if you allow me to go this time I will never come back again. I intend to get out of town in a few days."

His Worship was not anxious for her to leave town, as he thought she would be bad wherever she went, but he made a strong plea to her to stop the drink.

Mrs. Williamson promised faithfully that she would never touch the drink again and was allowed to go.

STUART STRATHY,
General Manager.

The secretary having read the foregoing report, the president addressed the meeting as follows:

In presenting the twenty-third annual general statement of the Traders Bank of Canada, for the year ending 31st of December, 1907, your Directors desire to congratulate the Shareholders upon the continued prosperity and advancement it discloses. It is a pleasure to be able to remark that the financial stringency, that has prevailed with varying degrees of intensity the past year, with its consequent unrest and relaxation of business enterprise, has not prevented the conservative methods of administration and management of the Bank from achieving gratifying results, and closing the year with all its interests in a sound and satisfactory condition.

The net profits for the twelve months, after making ample allowances for all bad and doubtful debts, and after allowing for any possible depreciation in the value of Dominion and Provincial Government Bonds and Municipal Bonds held by the Bank, amount to $522,822.81, which, with the sum carried from profit and loss account, and the premium on new stock, makes a total of $569,692.68 available for distribution. This has been disposed of as follows: The Rest Account has been strengthened by the addition of $100,000, bringing it up to the gratifying figure of $2,000,000. The sum of $100,000 was written off Bank premises, and $30,000 off Bank furniture and safes. The Pension Fund and the Officers' Guarantee Fund were increased by $5,000 each. The substantial sum of $304,328.39 was distributed to the Shareholders in the form of dividends, leaving $25,364.29 to be placed at the credit of Profit and Loss new account; on the whole a substantially excellent record on the year's operations.

From the statement it will be observed that the relation of assets to liabilities gives the Bank a most substantial standing. The assets are all of an excellent character.

It is a subject for additional congratulation that the Savings Bank deposits increased during the year by $1,700,000. Owing, however, to the conditions of restricted credit, current accounts or non-interest bearing balances are less than last year, which is the natural result in all financial institutions when money is in active demand at high rates of interest.

It is also gratifying to be able to refer to the condition of our Bank Premises account, as being very satisfactory from a revenue producing standpoint. In our magnificent new building and in our new building at the corner of Yonge and Bloor streets all the available space is leased, and for long terms, thus guaranteeing a substantial income for the next eight or ten years. This, taken in conjunction with the fact that the rental income yields a very fair profit, and the situation of these buildings in the best parts of the City makes them also an asset, the value of which is bound to increase with the prospective rapid growth of the city; a circumstance, which taken in conjunction with their recognized rental value, well justifies the expenditure involved in their erection. It must also be borne in mind that the Bank owns fifteen other Bank buildings, at the principal centres occupied by the Bank, besides those referred to above, making seventeen Bank buildings in all. Your Directors consider that we have good value for the property owned by the Bank as it stands in our books. In acquiring any property for Bank premises, this Bank has made it a rule to buy the same, holding the property in the name of the Bank. The Bank obtains a very fair return upon the amount invested, besides having suitable accommodation for its growing business.

An important change in the management of the Bank took place during the year. Mr. H. S. Strathy retired from the position of General Manager and was succeeded by Mr. Stuart Strathy, who in turn was succeeded as Assistant General Manager by Mr. Norman Hillary. Mr. H. S. Strathy had devoted, and with a large measure of success, many years to the promotion of the interests of the Bank. He began as the founder of the Bank twenty-two years ago, and continued to perform the duties of General Manager with great vigor and success. By his energy and ability, he overcame many formidable obstacles, and on his retirement, he has the satisfaction of feeling that he leaves as a legacy to the Shareholders a sound and stable Banking Institution. In his successor, Mr. Stuart Strathy, we have a Banker of sound judgment, a careful investor, and a Manager of large experience in one of the most important Branches of the Bank, that at Hamilton, where he built up an excellent and extensive business. He brings experience and sound and conservative business methods to his new position of responsibility. He will doubtless discharge his onerous duties to the advantage of all the interests concerned.

Mr. Hillary, who becomes Assistant General Manager to Mr. Strathy, has had a large and valuable experience, is shrewd and careful, and has an excellent record as Manager, and, for a time, as Directors' Auditor.

Mr. Willis, who succeeds Mr. Hillary as Directors' Auditor, has had many years of experience as Manager, for a time, as Bank Inspector, brings to the important duties of position qualities which especially fit him for their effective discharge. In connection with Mr. Willis in an official capacity, Mr. Willis is an official of the Directors and Shareholders, and entirely free from the control of the Bank Management. His duties include investigation into all matters affecting the business or interests of the Bank, under the direction, and for the information of the Board.

There will be submitted at this meeting for your consideration a By-law to increase the number of the Board from six to seven, in order to retain as a director the services of the retiring General Manager, who has been a valued Member of the Board.

I have much pleasure in moving the adoption of the report.

The Vice-President said:

In seconding the motion for the adoption of the Report of the Directors of the Bank, with its accompanying statement, it gives me much pleasure to endorse the remarks of the President in regard to the satisfactory outcome of the operations of the past year, as the results of careful administration and business-like management.

I may be permitted to add a few observations, to emphasize what has been said.

It must be gratifying to note that the prosperous as have been the conditions of the past few years, the profits of the year just closed have been largest in the life of the Bank. The net profits for the year, with all the usual deductions made, amount to the satisfactory sum of $522,822.81. The earnings have permitted of the payment of four quarterly dividends of round numbers, $76,000 each, representing a rate of seven per cent. per annum. Besides, the Rest has been strengthened by the addition of $100,000, bringing this account to a total sum of $2,000,000, which, it may be remarked, is about 46 per cent. of the paid-up capital stock of $4,352,310.

The Statement submitted shows the liquid assets of the Bank to be in a satisfactory healthy condition, there being a substantial increase over the amount reported last year.

It is also gratifying to observe that the amount of the notes of the Bank in circulation has been much in excess that of any other year in the history of the institution, indicating the prosperous condition of its general business. It is also worthy of note that the stock of the Bank is well held, being distributed among some 1,900 shareholders.

In a word, a careful perusal of the statement will reveal an advance in practically every account, every department of the operations, and in every interest of the Bank, of such general good character as to make the Annual Statement very satisfactory.

The changes in the personnel of the important officers of the Bank will not impair the effectiveness of management. Mr. H. S. Strathy, after many years of faithful service, retired from the position of general manager, and took his place on the Board of Directors. The filling of the vacancy thus created by the appointment of Mr. Stuart Strathy with an excellent record as Manager as assistant general manager, the appointment of Mr. N. Hillary as assistant general manager, and of Mr. Willis as directors' auditor, have already been referred to, and their appointments will without doubt be in the best interests of the Bank. They have the full confidence of the Directorate, and the respect and confidence of all in financial circles who have knowledge of their experience and qualifications.

As intimated to the shareholders last year, an official known as director's auditor was appointed, whose duty it is to co-operate with and assist the Board in the investigation of every transaction, the examination of every book, record or document in connection with the business of the bank, and to take any course of inspection or action, under the direction of the Board, or on his own initiative, which they or he may consider advisable or necessary to protect or promote the interests of the bank and the shareholders. To this end, and for these purposes, he has practically unlimited authority and liberty of access to all departments and every office of the bank, from the head office to the humblest branch, and, in the discharge of his duties, is subject to no restraint on the part of any official, in any capacity, being responsible only to the directors, whose officer he is, and to whom he must directly make his report, upon every incident and condition that in any way affects the interests of the bank.

Your Board of Directors, with the directors' auditor, have thoroughly examined and checked in detail the assets of the bank at the Head office, as comprehended in the annual statement, and they have personally and collectively satisfied themselves by individual examination, count and comparison, that these correspond with the statement. Your Board, together with their Auditor, further examined the reports and statements from every Branch, and the inspectors have carefully inspected and examined with the greatest care the Branch accounts, and report them to us as represented, and most satisfactory.

Thus, with a strong and capable official equipment; with all the interests of the Institution in a sound, stable and healthy condition; with a fairly justified expectation that, somewhat relaxed conditions of prosperity, commercial, industrial and financial, will be but temporary, it is not unreasonable to anticipate for the Traders Bank a continuation of prosperity, and a repetition in the record of the year to-day of the many gratifying features of the excellent report now submitted for adoption.

The Report was adopted unanimously, and a by-law was passed increasing the number of Directors to seven, and for other authorizing the Directors to make provision for the retiring General Manager.

At a subsequent meeting of the Directors, Mr. C. D. Warren and Mr. J. J. Stratton were elected President and Vice-President respectively.

What one or two applications of Dr. Chase's Ointment will do for rough inflamed and irritated skin is almost as wonderful as the complete cure of eczema by its persistent use. By its healing, soothing and antiseptic influence, Dr. Chase's Ointment quickly cures chafing and skin diseases, and eruptions, and leaves the skin clear, soft and velvety.

TRAFFIC ON RAILROADS AND HIGHWAYS RECEIVE A SEVERE SHOCK BY TERRIFIC STORM

Trains Stick Fast in Snow Drifts And all Arrive Late—Some Are More Than Twelve Hours Behind Scheduled Time

STORM IN THE COUNTRY

With Saturday evening's storm the winter blizzards reached their climax and although the weather was not cold, the wind and fine snow, drifted and blew, in a steady gale. The portentous appearance and the dullness of Saturday afternoon broke into a storm about 4 o'clock and steadily increased until dark, when it had reached its fortissimo. The wind whistled through the telegraph wires and blew, in gusts that fairly lifted the wayfarers off their feet. The streets parallel with George street were quickly drifted, and walking was exceedingly laborious. It was an ideal Canadian winter night and had no alarms for those in good health who enjoyed the exhileration of buffeting the fierce western blasts. The street railway system had difficulty in keeping its line clear, and in fact, from Lansdowne street to the river, on the Exhibition Park route, there was no traffic from about 8 o'clock as the drifts were filling in too rapidly.

The railways suffered to a greater extent than on any similar occasion in recent years. On the G.T.R. the flyer that arrives at 10.05 p.m. from Toronto was cancelled, the line being impassable. Last night about ten o'clock the snow plow managed to nose its way through and proceeded to Port Hope.

The C. P. R.

The C.P.R. had a great struggle with the elements, and by persistent work won out and opened its lines. The Saturday midnight express did not arrive until about 2.30 Sunday afternoon. West of the city several trains and a snow plow were tied up during the early part of the day. The first passenger train going east on Sunday morning was several hours late when it left this city and was caught in a snowbank between Cavanville and Manvers. The midnight train coming east was snow-bound further up the line, and the snow plow which was preceding coming down from Toronto was held fast between the two passenger trains.

On Sunday morning about six of the sectionmen from the local yards were ready to go up west to clear the line, but word was received that the plow was coming down, and the order for the men was cancelled. The plow arrived in the city about 12 o'clock, followed by the midnight tram. The second train, that should have gone west, had reached Peterborough in the morning and remained until the trains from the west reached the city. It proceeded to Toronto about 3.30 o'clock.

Another C.P.R. plow was jammed in a snowbank on the Lindsay division, and up to the morning was still there.

The second train from the east this morning did not arrive in the city until after 9 o'clock, but no further trouble is expected at present.

In the Country

In the country the storm king expended his wrath even to a greater extent than in the city, leaving the roads in an almost impassable condition. Peterborough citizens, in fact, had little idea of the real fury of the storm. All Saturday night it raged furiously and it would have been unwise for any person to have ventured out with a horse and cutter on the country roads, and especially those running north and south. All day Sunday a stormy northwestern wind blew, piling the snow in the centre of the roads and leaving them impassable last night.

The beginning of the storm was, of course, on Friday night, and it prevented the mails coming here from the country villages. The Warsaw stage was unable for the first time in a number of years to get through. The Chemong, Koniscmore and Hiawatha stages were also storm-stayed and unable to get through.

Services in various churches in the country, including St. Mark's Anglican here, and the Springville Presbyterian church, had to be dispensed with. In Otonabee there was not a sleigh nor cutter passed along the river road all day Sunday. This morning the road masters in a number of places outside the city had men out clearing the highways.

Mr. Dan Whetung was the first to travel the Smith road from Chemong this morning. He brought a shovel with him and had to use it quite frequently. It took him almost five hours to make the trip.

Milk Supply cut off

There were many families in the city yesterday who had to go without milk. The milk vendors made the attempt in most cases to reach the city, but the snow banks were too much of an obstacle in most instances. Three left the Cold Springs district in Otonabee, but their combined efforts were unavailing even after having travelled through several fields.

The trouble is now over, however, and to-day workmen all along the various roads were out early to make a way through the drifts.

WALKED FROM LINDSAY IN THE EARLY SUNDAY MORNING STORM

John McLean, 149 Stewart street, baggageman on the G. T. R. flyer, walked from Lindsay to Peterborough early Sunday morning and incidentally completed a journey he will be loth to experience again. Mr. McLean is reported to be confined to his bed to-day as a result of his long, cold tramp.

On Saturday evening the flyer's trip to Peterborough was cancelled, and the train was to remain at Lindsay. The 9 o'clock train was several hours late, but was to resume its trip to Peterborough some time after midnight. It is believed Mr. McLean did not know this fact or he would have waited and come on the train. Apparently he was not aware of this fact, for after 11 o'clock he set out to walk to this city. David Hartley may have had an arduous trip in his walk, but he had it easy when compared to that walk along the track. In the city the wind and snow revelled for hours to the discomfort of the belated citizens, but in the country its fury knew no bounds. Fortunately Mr. McLean had the storm at his back at times, but this was only a slight respite. Through the darkness of the January night he plodded on, an elderly man well into his prime, but still undismayed by the riotous elements.

He passed Best's station yesterday morning rather early and crossed at Charlotte street at 10 minutes after 10 o'clock. His walk was truly a remarkable one, and it is wonderful that he succeeded in reaching home.

Big Fire at The Rapid Tool Office on Saturday Evening

Started on The East Side of The Building.—Stock Room Destroyed And Office Damaged

DEFECTIVE WIRE THE CAUSE

The Rapid Tool Company's building, East City, which has only been erected about one year, was the scene of a fire on Saturday evening about 5.30 o'clock. The fire broke out on the east side of the building and the flames were confined wholly to the front part of the building, which includes the stock room and office.

The alarm was sounded about twenty minutes to six and the fire department was soon at the scene of the conflagration. When they arrived the flames were gradually licking up the front part of the building and the smoke was pouring through every opening. The men found extreme difficulty in entering the building owing to the volume of smoke. The brigade had the hose connected in a short time and brought one section through the office door while a window on the east side was forced in to admit another section of hose. The flames were roaring inside, but the firemen soon had the hose in play. The blaze gradually worked its way towards the office and another window was forced where the water could more advantageously be brought into play upon the flames.

The fire lasted until long after 8 o'clock and the damage was confined chiefly to the stock room.

The office suffered considerably from the water but was not touched by the flames.

The fire started on the east side of the building and defective wiring on that side of the building is the only cause advanced for the origin of the fire.

The company has only been in business about one year and was gradually placing itself on a par with the leading industries of this city. The orders were beginning to come in and the men were kept extremely busy turning out the work. The factory was not damaged but the stock has been badly damaged.

The building was well covered with insurance and the adjusters arrived here this afternoon to make arrangements for a settlement. The estimated loss is $15,000.

THIRTY-TWO FAMILIES GIVEN FOOD AT RELIEF RESTAURANT

Successful Inauguration of The Scheme—A Pint Of Soup To Each Member of the Family

IT WILL BE CONTINUED

Thirty-two families received their allowance of soup this morning at Mrs. Aikens' residence, 24 Stewart street, and Mr. E. L. Goodwill's apprehensions that there was a necessity for such an action were completely justified. It was advertised that the soup would be distributed between 11 and 12 o'clock and it was not long after eleven when the first customer came along. An Examiner reporter arrived near the house at half past eleven and was surprised to see a little boy coming down the steps at the rear of the house carrying a large tin pail, as he walked along steam from the hot soup arose from the pail and as the little fellow trudged around the corner of Stewart and Perry street the steam was still coming off in little savoury puffs, which were very pleasant to the sense of smell.

The Preparation

Mrs. Aikens lives in a large red brick house on the east side of Stewart street, south of Perry street. To meet the demands that were expected she had prepared a large boiler of beef soup with carrots and parsnips and probably a few other vegetables put in to increase the appetizing flavour. The soup was carefully cooked and had a rich taste of meat that made its absence scarcely noticeable. Each person who came in for an allowance was asked the number of members who were to eat of it and a pint of the pottage was allotted to each person.

The little boy, whom the reporter saw, had a tin pail that would probably hold ten quarts but there was no more than about eight quarts of soup. Altogether thirty-two families were fed and the soup should have helped improve the mid-day meal, where ordinary soup was seldom enjoyed.

Tickets Given out

Thirty-two families relieved. That is something to be proud of and it must be understood that only a small area was covered. Mr. George Cochrane was present and gave tickets to those who came in. The first day's experience was highly satisfactory and if the demand continues and the citizens lend their assistance the scheme will be made more comprehensive.

Those who desire to assist the officers of the Children's Aid Society can do so in several ways. Money contributions may be sent to Mr. Goodwill or Mr. P. Campbell and those wishing to offer meat, bread, etc., should leave their street address with either of these gentlemen and a man will be sent to collect the victuals. Nothing has been learned to-day about the opening of the Shelter as another relief restaurant, but it is likelythat the conditions may demand it.

THE WEATHER.

The blizzard of Saturday night was one of the most severe experienced in this vicinity for some years, and the mountainous drifts on Sunday bore evidence of the force of the gale. Lowest temperature Sunday, 8 degrees below zero. Lowest this morning, zero, exactly.

ENGINEER AND FIREMAN MET TERRIBLE DEATH

Ottawa Passenger Train Collided With Locomotives—Lantern Extinguished

Examiner Special.

Ottawa, Feb. 3.—In a blinding snowstorm the outgoing Ottawa passenger train at Turcott village, collided with two G.T.R. locomotives that had been coupled together and were standing on the main line there. The result was the engineer, A. Mills, and fireman Robert Smith, both Montrealers, lost their lives. Precautions had been taken to protect the engines while standing on the track, but the terrible wind extinguished the flagman's lantern as the passenger train approached, and it was then too late to avoid the crash.

SOCIAL EVOLUTION

There is food for thought in an address delivered by Dr. Thompson at Galt on "True Citizenship." The tone of the address is optimistic, but not in the sense that advises us to rest and be thankful. Dr. Thompson believes in social evolution. The world, he says, is growing better ever day. The system which has been built up in centuries cannot be destroyed and rebuilt in one generation. "When our fathers laid the foundation of our greatness they knew not what the world would pass through ere the structure was completed. The end can never be seen, any more than the present systems can be destroyed."

There is a caution here for the destroyers, but there is also a hint for those who think that progress has come to an end. It has been said that a great reform usually passes through three stages. It is first derided as a fad. As it gathers strength it is fiercely attacked as revolutionary, disloyal, socialistic, or destructive of social order. Then it is achieved, and becomes part of the settled order. Conservatives—we use the word of course in its broad and real sense—give it their approval, and say that now the social and political structure is really as near perfection as possible, and they treat the new proposals for reform exactly as their fathers treated the reform that is accomplished. For them, history seems to be written in vain. History is full of falsified predictions that ruin would follow from the removal of some old abuse, or the passing away of some cherished institution. Institutions die as the leaves die in the autumn, even in their fertilizing the soil for new growths. What is sown in weakness is raised in power.

A fairer distribution of the world's good things cannot be obtained by revolution, but by evolution, steady progress towards a definite goal. But there is little danger, at least in our cool and conservative community, of progress being too rapid. The danger lies rather in over-caution, in clinging to old things because they are old, and in regarding a healthy process of evolution as revolution. The best kind of optimism is that which has confidence, not so much in institutions and in traditions as in the justice and kindness of humanity when these are allowed full play. The great crimes of history are crimes not of liberty and democracy, but of restriction and privilege; crimes not of humanity, but of traditions and conventions that outrage the reason and conscience, and the natural affections of humanity, the true social science is that which aims to give free play to the conscience, the reason, and the affections, to gather and conserve the moral forces as electricity gathers and conserves physical forces, and distributes them for the benefit of mankind. Only in a true democracy can this be done. A system which cramps the development of the people, restricts their freedom, keeps them in a condition of hopeless inferiority, is not only unjust but unscientific, causing a waste of moral and intellectual power.—Toronto Star.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—May I be permitted through your paper to ask a question? What is a policeman for? If he is for the purpose of enforcing the law. It would seem that there is just one circle in the centre of the town in which his services are available.

A number of boys have a rink on the lawn in front of Grace Sunday school. They also have rules which they endeavour to enforce. Now, on several occasions men have come to their dressing room in an intoxicated condition and proceeded to violate the rules, by using profane language. On the night of the 31st of January two men arrived in this condition, and as there were young ladies present, the boys naturally objected to the line of conversation carried on by the drunks. As there was nobody on the scene capable of putting these fellows out, and as they refused to go the boys telephoned our up-to-date police department, and were informed that a policeman would be there in five minutes. The boys are still waiting for the policeman. Now, I would like to know if there are not enough policemen to go round, or if the ones we have are just too tired to stop a car and take a little jaunt into the suburbs. Thanking you for your valuable space.

ABOUT THE SALE OF DEBENTURES

Ex-Mayor McWilliams Explains His Position in The Matter

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I am informed that at the last meeting of the Board of Trade the statement was made in the course of discussion between Mr. William Langford and Mr. W. H. Moore, that the city debentures could have been sold last year at much better prices than they have been realized lately, but that "the offer was promptly turned down by the mayor." This statement was sedulously circulated in the late election for a purpose, but this is the first time that it has been made in a public manner or by a reputable citizen, and I therefore wish to state the facts correctly.

Within two weeks of taking office the Finance Committee of 1907 took up the question of the sale of the debentures and communicated with every solicitor in the city and with other parties having funds to invest. In previous years the sale of debentures had been looked after by the chairman of the Finance Committee and the preceding chairman, ex-Alderman Mason had done excellent work in this respect. As mayor I had no more to do with it than any other of the five members of the Finance Committee; on the contrary I recognized from the first that Alderman Morrow and Bradburn, particularly the former, had by reason of their private business special knowledge of such matters and the chairman, Alderman Tovey, felt the same. Therefore, in April, I moved and the committee agreed that the sale of the then existing debentures be delegated to Alderman Morrow and Bradburn and throughout the year the committee acted on their advice. It is not true that I ever turned down an offer. Only once was the offer first made to me and that I at once communicated to the other members.

In fixing the responsibility for the failure to sell the debentures last year where it belongs I do not mean to imply any blame to these members. The situation was a new and difficult one. The city has not for many years sold any debentures at more than 4 per cent., and the average of all the outstanding debentures was then less than 4 per cent. Consequently we were all loth to sell the debentures above this figure but we were forced to raise the rate to 4 1-2 per cent., and even then they could not be sold at par. How serious a matter this is may be seen from the fact that $61,000 of debentures which have just been sold at 4 3-4 and 5 per cent, partly below par, mean an increase in the annual charge on the taxes of nearly five hundred dollars, which will continue for thirty years and is equivalent to an addition to the cost of the schools of about ten thousand dollars. In the hope that conditions would improve and this enormous loss be saved last year's committee held over the sale of these debentures. When a conference was held with the Finance Committee of the Board of Education with regard to the prices to be put on their debentures their committee was even more strongly of the belief that conditions would so improve by December that it would be the wisest policy to hold back the sale. further the city was at that time only paying 4 1-2 per cent. in the bank, so that it was much cheaper to carry than to sell the debentures.

Will you kindly give space to the above so your readers may be acquainted with the facts in this much discussed matter.

Yours truly,

R. F. McWILLIAMS.

In Lending Assistance to The Destitute—What The Women Are Doing

Editor Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Your editorial on "Our Destitute" in Saturday evening's issue is timely, especially in reference to organized or systematic provision for relief of the destitute. It also suggests the necessity of avoiding the concurrent evil of the encouragement of pauperism and the difficult task of reaching the worthy needy.

Women and children must be fed, no matter how improvident the husband and father has been, yet any scheme that makes it easy for the male loafer to beg necessities and yet spend money for drink, etc., is an injury to the class assisted, and an injustice to the community. A case in point—recently a family was assisted by donations of provisions, clothing, etc., and scarcely had the benefactors left, when Calcutt's waggon drove up with a case of bottles, evidently not milk.

Most of the suffering exists among new arrivals who are imbued with the pauper spirit of their former surroundings. To temporarily relieve them without transplanting thriftless pauperism in our new land is indeed a difficult problem.

Are our city fathers giving the matter serious consideration? Oshawa has a scheme that relieves suffering, removes the stigma and humiliation of asking relief, and puts a check at least on the male loafer.

The free-soup-to-all plan simply opens the door to established pauperism and gross imposition. Mr. Goodwill and Mr. Cochrane merit our thanks for taking a vital interest in the problem, and perhaps it is intended only for a preliminary test of need. There must be a system of administration or the ultimate fruit will be degradation, imposition and pauperism.

A great deal is being done by private means and church societies. I do not know what other churches are doing, but Charlotte street Ladies' Aid Society has been doing most worthy and commendable relief work ever since Christmas.

These ladies have met regularly, and instead of sewing for a church fair or bazaar, have made bedding, clothing, etc., for relief work. In some cases they found people with quilts, etc., partly made, but unable to finish them. In instances of this kind they take the goods, procure the necessary material to finish them, and return to the owners completed.

In some cases the needy women come and assist in making the articles they are to recieve, thus introducing an elevating social aspect to the gift.

The ladies have been instrumental also in having two aged people placed in the Old Folks' Home.

The work has been carried on in a broad, Christian spirit. Only four or five of some twenty-five families assisted have any connection with the church. A large amount of clothing has been sent out, also about twenty quilts. Careful inquiry is made to avoid, as far as possible, any unworthy contribution. I understand George street church is carrying on a similar work and no doubt the same spirit pervades all the churches.

The ladies keep in touch with the relief officer and the Children's Aid Society, and their president informs me that with the exception of a few aged people, nearly all relief is called for by recent arrivals from the old land. This element makes the "hard times" cry appear much more than actual facts warrant.

If this work is a necessity for a considerable period the civic authorities must certainly deal with it, and some system be developed to relieve actual need and avoid the concurrent evils of injudicious charity.

Why was it necessary for the Smith street family to burn furniture? Surely the relief officer would not permit this if the need had been reported. Was it a case of ignorance of means of relief?

COLLISION AT TURCOT.

Lantern Light Blown Out by Storm —Two Men Killed.

Montreal, Feb. 3.—Two enginemen were killed in the Grand Trunk yards at Turcot Village, just outside the city limits, on Saturday evening.

The late Ottawa train, drawn by two locomotives, ran into two light engines couple together, standing on the main track in Turcot yard, the collision being caused by the red light carried by the flagman being extinguished by the wind just as the train came in sight through the blinding snowstorm, raging at the time.

The men killed were: A. Mills, engineer, and Robt. Smith, fireman of the leading engine of the Ottawa train. None of the passengers were injured.

Caught Picking Pockets.

St. Catharines, Feb. 3.—For some time past the members of the local Y. M. C. A. have missed various amounts of small change and a number of articles from pockets, and the facts were reported to the local secretary, who kept his eyes open, with the result that a young lad, Arthur Beyers, employed as pinsticker, was suspected and accused. He was caught stealing from a member's pocket. Two weeks ago the boy was arrested for stealing $10 from the till of Thomas' restaurant, but was let go on suspended sentence. He was taken before the magistrate Saturday when he pleaded guilty and was sent to the Victoria Industrial School at Mimico for five years.

Arrested Bank Cashier.

Boise, Idaho, Feb. 3.—Horace E. New, cashier of the Capital State Bank, which failed last week, was arrested Saturday night on a charge of forgery. It is stated that forged notes aggregating at least $50,000, have already been turned in, the first coming from Kansas City and Omaha banks.

Cape Colony's Premier.

Cape Town, Feb. 3.—J. K. Merriman, leader of the African Bund, has accepted the Premiership of Cape Colony, in succession to Dr. Leander S. Jameson, resigned.

Gananoque Hotel Scorched.

Gananoque, Feb. 3.—The American Hotel, owned by Mrs. Joseph Church, was damaged by fire here last night. The loss to the building is estimated at $1,000 and the contents the same amount. The building is insured, but there is no insurance on the contents. At one time it was thought the block would go, as it is a frame building, but abundance of water and sufficient firemen confined the fire to the kitchen. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Newfoundland Protests.

St. John, Nfld., Feb. 3.—The Legislature Saturday, by unanimous vote, adopted resolutions protesting against the action of the British Cabinet in overriding the Newfoundland laws and arranging a modus vivendi with the United States.

All political parties agree on the constitutional aspect of the question, but the vote of the opposition is not regarded as an endorsement of Premier Bond's policy in dealing with the American fishermen on the west coast during the past four years.

Druce Sues Chronicle.

London, Feb. 3.—George Hollamby Druce, who was recently defeated in his efforts to make good his claim to the title and estates of the late Duke of Portland, has begun a libel suit against The Daily Chronicle for the publication on Saturday of a lengthy view of the case which contains certain reflections on himself.

It is wonderfully prompt in relieving the cough, clearing the air passages and soothing the excited nerves. Horticulturalists Ask The County Council For Grant

Victoria Park Must Be Looked After—Society Wants to Build Concrete Walk

TO PROPERTY COMMITTEE

At the meeting of the County Council Friday afternoon a deputation from the Horticultural Society, composed of Col. Rogers, Magistrate Dumble and Mr. H. L. Beale, was received. The object of the deputation was to apply to the Council for a grant towards the keeping of the steps leading to the Court House and for the care of Victoria Park.

Col. Rogers, president of the association, in a short speech explained to the Council the object of the deputation, and called upon Mr. Dumble to deliver his address.

Mr. Dumble first pointed out the magnificence of the grounds which confronted the beautiful building in which they held their meetings. The Council was the parliament of the county, and impressed upon them the necessity of keeping their grounds as those in front of the Parliament Buildings of Ottawa and Toronto. The Horticultural Society has been given a lease of the land for a period of twenty-five years, and asked to have this lease renewed for a like period. The reason was that while the Council was away the society would be able to protect the flower beds from inroads of flower thieves. The parks of the city were kept in a beautiful condition and attracted many holiday excursions to the city. This was very profitable—it advertised the city and helped the business men, and what is beneficial for the city is also beneficial for the county. The wooden steps had also gone, and money was needed for their repair. The society was without funds, and he asked the County Council to contribute towards the expenses. For the past two years it has failed to contribute its quota, and the Magistrate asked to have the amount for these two years thrown in also. In closing, he hoped the Council would contribute a favorable grant and co-operate with the work of the society.

Mr. H. L. Beale, secretary of the society, said the cost of bulbs, cutting of grass and keeping Victoria Park in repair last year was $475, and $50 was spent in repairing the walk. Next season the society hoped to replace the old walk with a concrete one, which would cost $400.

On motion of Mr. Brown, seconded by Mr. Scott, it was decided to leave the matter in the hands of the Property Committee.

Kidney Troubles From the Liver

COMPLICATED CASES WHICH LED TO THE DISCOVERY OF THAT GREAT MEDICINE

In his study of kidney disease, Dr. Chase found that fully 90 per cent. of the cases arose as a direct result of liver and bowel disorders, and it was working on this idea that led to the discovery of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Through over-eating, irregular meals, or food that does not agree the liver is deranged, poisonous bile is left in the blood, and the digestive system is upset. Headaches, biliousness, pains in the back and limbs, ill-temper, and general out-of-sort dealings result.

These are among the symptoms of liver complaint, but during such attacks the kidneys are overworked and after a while there is pain and smarting when passing water, the urine is highly coloured and contains deposits, the pains in the back become more severe, you have rheumatic pains it may be, and are gradually falling a victim of Bright's disease of the kidneys.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills were prepared for the express purpose of effecting cure in every stage of such cases. They enliven the liver, regulate the action of the bowels, and invigorate the kidneys.

In this regard they are entirely different to any treatment you ever used, and are successful in complicated cases in which ordinary kidney medicines have little or no effect. There are people in every neighbourhood in Canada ready to certify to this statement.

Mrs. John Shanahan, 319 McDonel street, Peterborough, Ont., states:—"I was troubled with pains in the back, and dropsy, and was subject to fluttering, and palpitation of the heart. In order to set my kidneys right I began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and I also used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food at the same time.

"The combined use of these two preparations has done me a world of good. I used to have rush of blood to the head, dizziness, and headache, but I am thankful to say that all these symptoms have disappeared, and I have been cured by Dr. Chase's remedies."

Given Friday Night To The Successful Juniors

Junior members of the Y. M. C. A. who succeeded in bringing in a new member during the last two weeks, the new members, and some of the Boys Committee to the number of 25 were present at a banquet given by the Ladies Auxiliary on Friday night.

After the bounteous repast, served by Caterers Coleman Bros., had had full justice done to it, Mr. J W Laing, the chairman, said a few words in regard to the Boys work. It was hoped that 25 new members would have been secured in two weeks, but this had not been accomplished. The boys were told they were expected to bring in the remainder soon, and the money was to be used in getting new games and fixing up the Boys' Department. Mr. Laing then called on the President of the Association, Mr. J C Shook, Rev. H W Wright, of Goderich; Mr. Thompson, of Lindsay Y.M.C.A.; Rev. E A Pearson, and the General secretary, Mr. H C Wright, who all made a few remarks in regard to the work. Mr. Herbert Johnston, president of the Boys executive, very ably replied on behalf of the Boys.

The meeting closed by all singing "God Save the King."

POPULAR DRESS GOODS MAN LEAVES

Mr. Chas. Anderson of the A. W. Cressman Store Seeks Fortune Elsewhere

Mr. Chas. Anderson, who has been the popular manager of the dress goods department of A. W. Cressman's for the past two years, and who has made many warm friends not only in the store, but among his acquaintances outside, is leaving the city this week with the intention of entering into another line of business in the near future. Mr. Anderson will visit his home in Oshawa for a few days.

Saturday evening the Cressman staff met after business, in the Home Furnishing Department and presented Mr. Anderson with some handsome remembrances and expressed their regret at his departure in the following address:—

Dear Charlie,—It is with sincerest regrets that we, your fellow-employees meet to bid you farewell on this, the last Saturday evening of your sojourn amongst us. Many there are who come and go in our lives—many go and are forgotten soon, but not so in your case; you have been not only a most favoured side-companion during business hours, but you have been a brother and chum to us all. We have always found you ready and willing to take a hand in any sport we were inclined to indulge in, and have spent many memorable occasions with you in this way.

Looking over the past two years we recall many pleasant hours which we have derived great pleasure in association with you. You leave behind the mutual friendship of the entire Cressman staff and take wherever you go, our best wishes for a happy and prosperous future. We know that you will make as many staunch friends in the years to come as you have in the past and are now leaving behind in Peterborough.

To show our deep affection for you, we present and wish you to accept these slight tokens of remembrance, not that they will show to you the entirety of our regrets at your departure but merely as a remembrance of our companionships together.

Signed. The Staff.

The gifts consisted of a handsome signet ring, a Waterman fountain pen and a pair of grey squirrel lined gloves also other individual remembrances. The address was read by Mr. J C Edwards and the presentation made by Mr. John Titterson. Mr. Anderson will be missed materially on the invincible hockey seven. He was a stone wall, as some of the members of opposing teams termed him and did not care to brush against him in chasing the puck. Mr. Anderson will be missed in both the social and business world of the city and has the hearty well wishes of all in his new pursuits.

SNOW TOO DEEP ON THE MARKET

Not Removed For Accommodation Of Farmers

A prominent farmer, who attends the market every Saturday, was complaining the other day of the manner in which the snow is piled up where the sleighs are stationed. A snow plough had passed along the sidewalk and turned the snow on to the outside of the walk. The result was that the farmers were ewalking around their sleighs in snow up to their knees. This condition he thought too rural for Peterborough and the proper authorities should provide against a repetition of the affair.

The Wasting Process of Disease

Disease is a tearing down, wasting away and a destroying of the tissues of the body and a shrivelling up of the nerve cells and blood corpuscles. Nature demands assistance to overcome this dreadful wasting process and the needed help is best supplied by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the great blood builder and nerve restorative.

The exhibition will be held in the old Bank of Montreal building at the corner of Water and Simcoe streets.

THIN PEOPLE

Of Peterborough, Try This

Weigh yourself. Take Vinol a while. Weigh yourself again. The gain in flesh, strength and appetite will be better arguments for Vinol than all we can say.

This is because Vinol contains in a concentrated form all the medicinal elements of cod liver oil taken from fresh cods' livers, but it is a better body builder and strength creator than cod liver oil or emulsion because the useless, indigestible and nauseating oil has been eliminated and peptonate or iron added.

Vinol creates an appetite, strengthens every organ in the body, tones up the digestive organs, makes rich, red blood and firm healthy flesh.

As a body builder and strength creator for old people, weak women, delicate children, and after sickness and for pulmonary troubles, Vinol is recommended by over 5,000 of the leading druggists of the United States.

So sure are we of what Vinol will do that we refund money to those who try Vinol and are not benefitted. McDermid & Jury, Druggists, Peterborough, also the Market Drug Store.

THE SNOW CLAD ENGINES WERE PHOTOGRAPHED

As They Arrived at the Station on Saturday—By Mr. Roy

The G. T. R. trains were delayed on Saturday by the snow, some being several hours late. The engines were piled up with snow and presented a pretty sight when they arrived at the station. Mr. Roy obtained several pictures of them just as they pulled into the city. The Lakefield and Belleville trains were especially heavily laden.

There's Danger in Every Cold

Once you come to realise the danger of neglecting coughs and colds, you will not run the risk of neglecting your cough and depending on any cough medicine the druggist may choose to hand you out, and will insist on getting a medicine with a reputation, such as Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. Croup, bronchitis, asthma and coughs and colds are promptly and thoroughly cured by this treatment.

A Temperance Union To Be Formed In Peterborough

Outcome of Meeting of Temperance People Yesterday—Address On Local Option by Rev. Mr. Potter

HAD A LARGE ATTENDANCE

Judging from the enthusiasm and interest displayed at the temperance meeting yesterday afternoon at the Charlotte Street Methodist Church, a determined effort will be made to lessen the liquor traffic by the temperance people. The hall was filled with a representative gathering from the different churches of the city. The outcome of this union meeting was the passing of a resolution that a temperance society will be formed and that it will commence at once its duties.

Mr. H. P. Kennedy acted as chairman and the meeting was opened with the singing of a hymn and prayer by Rev. A. H. Brace.

In a few brief remarks Mr. Kennedy explained the object of the gathering—that of the advancement of the temperance cause in this city. He would like to see local option. The open bar was a detriment to the community. Too much cannot be done and the people of Peterborough have done very little to help temperance.

After the singing of another hymn the Chairman called upon Rev. J. G. Potter to give an address.

Commencing Mr. Potter said that in his mind there was no work deserving such hearty support as that of temperance. When it is realized that many have been saved and that it is God's purpose that the whole world should be won for Christ, the speaker thought that it was the duty of every Christian to do something to rescue the drunkard. "God is helping us, and are we going to assist Him or are we going to work against Him?" asked the speaker. Christians should not hold back, but realising their responsibility, should help the persons who are in wretchedness and degredation, and endeavour to fight that which is wiping out men who were made for eternal happiness. Mr. Potter referred to the firm hold temperance had taken throughout the country. Even men who are habitual drinkers are desirous to have local option. The only opposition is from those who are engaged in the liquor traffic. From a national standpoint people who wish the country to prosper should take up the temperance cause. Magnificent work has already been done, largely due to the efforts of men who are not afraid to go forward and the earnest work of women who are carrying on the movement with much success. There are many weak men, who need assistance and the strong men are called upon to stand by them.

The drunkard is worth saving and as the agents of God Christian people should think of the preciousness of the lives that are being crushed out and should pray and work for their salvation. Rev. Mr. Potter's address was made more interesting by the relating of several stories illustrative of his subject.

At the conclusion of the discourse it was moved by Rev. A. H. Brace, and seconded by Rev. C. H. Coon, that a temperance union be organized in this city. This was unanimously carried. Upon motion of Mr. A. H. Cunningham, and seconded by Mr. A. L. Galbraith, it was moved that committees from each church, appointed by the pastors, meet on Thursday night at the Y. M. C. A. hall.

The meeting then closed with a hymn and prayer.

So Decide the County Council—Prize to be Given—The Model School May be Retained At Norwood

THE INSPECTOR'S REPORTS

In connection with the school report presented by the School Committee of the County Council, it has been decided to hold uniform promotion examinations in June throughout the county each year. Also a memorial will be forwarded to the Minister of Education asking for the continuance of the Model School at Norwood.

The entire report of the Committee on Schools is as follows:

The Committee on Schools beg to report as follows:

1—That the reports of the school inspectors be received, and the committee expresses its appreciation of the exhaustive information and recommendations contained in these reports.

2—That uniform promotion examinations be held in June of each year, and that the inspectors be requested to prepare the necessary papers and arrange all details in connection therewith.

3—That a prize of ten dollars be given to the pupil, prepared at some school in the county, taking the highest marks at the next Entrance examinations of the county.

4—That a memorial be prepared and forwarded to the Minister of Education, requesting the continuance of a Model School at Norwood, pointing out the central position of that village, its convenience of access and the great advantage it would be, particularly to the northern portion of the district, if the same is so continued.

Respectfully submitted,
S. KILLEN.

THE PRESS CLUB SAID FAREWELL

Banquet to Mr. G. B. Van Blaricom on Saturday Night—Presentation At Review

The members of the Peterborough Press Club said farewell to Mr. G B Van Blaricom late editor of the Review, and past president of the Press Club at an enjoyable little banquet in Hooper's Grill Room on Saturday night. Mr. Van Blaricom was the of the founders of the Club here, being its first vice-president. He has been most popular not only with the members of his own staff but with all the newspaper men in the city, and his departure will be regretted by all the members of the fourth estate in this city.

President F D Craig presided at Saturday night's gathering and the staffs of the evening papers were fully represented. After an enjoyable repast had been partaken of, a short programme of speeches was held. The toast to the King was honoured in the usual manner, after which Mr. F H Dobbin and Hon. J. E. Stratton proposed the health of the guest of the evening. In doing so they referred to the faithful manner in which his work had been done in Peterborough and hoped that he would meet with the same success in his new sphere of labour. Mr. Van Blaricom in a fitting speech expressed his regret at leaving Peterborough and thanked the proposers of the toast for their kind words.

Speeches were made by Messrs. J H Burnham, the new editor of the Review; F R Yokome, E S Clarke, B T Huston, D B Maguire, J D Clarke, A C Yokome, H Theobald, P Crane and J Hogan, after which the function was brought to a close with the singing of Auld Lang Syne, and three cheers for the guest of the evening.

A Presentation

On Saturday afternoon the employees of the Review said good-bye to Mr. Van Blaricom and took advantage of the occasion to show their esteem by presenting him with a handsome suit case. The presentation was made by Capt. Hounsell, while an eulogistic address was read by Mr. D B Maguire. Mr. F H Dobbin expressed regret at Mr. Van Blaricom's departure and wished him every success in Toronto, and the recipient replied in a suitable speech.

Mr. Van Blaricom left this morning for Toronto to enter upon his new duties as editor of the "Busy Man's Magazine."

TELEPHONE WORK IN LINDSAY

Mr. W. H. Lytle is Satisfied With The Work There

Mr. W. H. Lytle, superintendent of outside construction work for the Canadian Machine Telephone Company, spent Thursday and part of Friday in town and carefully inspected the work of pole-planting in progress here under trying conditions. He expressed his complete satisfaction with what has been accomplished. Our citizens feel that the company is most anxious to get the system in running order, and appreciate the enterprise shown in pursuing the work in the severe weather.—Lindsay Post.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOUR ANNIVERSARY

Too Much Interest Taken in Theatres and Dancing, Says Mr. Potter

Yesterday was the anniversary of the organization of the Christian Endeavour Society of St. Andrew's church, and in the evening a public service was held, when the pastor, Rev. J. G. Potter, preached a special sermon on the occasion, taking as his subject "The Church That Draws." The society was instituted about a quarter of a century ago by the Rev. Francis E. Clark, D.D., and it has since made very satisfactory progress. The chief element in this young people's movement was an an organized effort to bbecome partners with their parents in the church work.

The aims and principles of the society were explained by Mr. Potter. The members are pledged to attend the meetings regularly. They are pledged to read the scriptures every day and to look after strangers and the sick. The object is to form a strong, forceful society to further the interests of Christianity.

Mr. Potter spoke from the text, "And I, if I be lifted up from the earth will draw all men unto Me," found in John 12: 32. These were the words of Christ, whose conception of the greatness of His mission was such as to inspire Him to deeds of greatness. His world-wide conquests are enough to place Him high in our estimation and the young people have done much to inspire this confidence.

The truly noble man is not the one who lays down his life for a theory, but one who risks his own for the saving of another. Men and women allow too many crocodile tears to fall down their cheeks at theatres, at some exciting scene or in reading over cheap novels. When theatres and dances come in conflict with the work of God we are not living up to the true conception of a Christian life.

In closing Mr. Potter said that the young people should feel that they are a force to assist the ministers. He exhorted them to bring in those who were unable to contribute to the funds of the church and to make them welcome in God's house.

CHALLENGE HAS BEEN ACCEPTED

Wm. Benton is Willing to Shovel Snow At Any Time or Place

Sporting Editor, Examiner:

In your Friday's issue of the Peterborough Daily Examiner I noticed a challenge from Jimmie Murphy, who has the nerve to sign himself as the champion snow shoveller of Peterborough. I hereby accept Murphy's challenge for any amount that he will name, and at any time and place. As the Sporting Editor suggests the sidewalk in front of the Examiner Office I am quite in favour of it. If Mr. Murphy is looking for notoriety he will find me there with the goods. Where Mr. Murphy got his reputation as a handler of the beautiful I am at a loss to say. I do not think for a moment that Mr. Murphy could pose as an shovel coal on the fire to keep himself warm. As for snow, I don't believe they have any where Murphy sprang from. Excuse me for taking up your valuable space.

Yours truly,
WM. BENTON, C. S. S.

ASSAULTED HIS WIFE AND FAMILY

Williamson Family up in Court Again—Going to Detroit This Time

The Gypsy settlement is certainly giving the local police any amount of trouble. There is hardly a week passes but some one of the notorious Williamson's sit in the prisoners' dock either on a charge of drunkenness or assault.

It was just two weeks ago when James Williamson was up for being drunk and throwing a lamp at his wife, as a result of which she went to the hospital. He promised then he and the whole family would get out of town if allowed to go.

He was arrested on Saturday night for assaulting his wife and family and appeared before His Worship this morning. His wife and little son, poorly dressed, sat on a bench waiting their turn to give evidence against the head of the house.

Mr. G Gordon appeared for the prisoner.

Mrs. Williamson in an eloquent oration told of how her husband had beat the family and tore the pictures off the walls. He was continually getting drunk and being abusive and she did not want to go home. She was suffering from the burns and bruises of the last row and her hands were badly marked.

Johnnie Williamson said his mother got drunk as often as his father and they were continually fighting in the house.

Mrs. Williamson rushed into the box and pulled the boy out and after kissing the Bible emphatically denied his evidence.

"The boy is telling the truth, your Honour," said Williamson. "The old lady is as bad as I am."

"He is drinking the whole time," said Mrs. Williamson.

"Oh, Your Honour, have mercy on me," pleaded Williamson. "I will never darken the police court again. I have a horse deal on with a man now for $55, and I am willing to pay any fine. I have all the goods packed up and will leave on Wednesday for Detroit.

Mrs. Williamson desired to have her husband sent down, but the Magistrate fined him $5.00 and cost amounting to 10.50, or twenty days in jail.

One half of the proceeds of the horse deal mentioned will be given to Mrs. Williamson for her keep until a more peaceful atmosphere reigns in the house.

SHOVEL VERSUS SNOW PLOUGH

"7 A. M." Should Like to See Change in Street Cleaning System

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Will you please call attention to the shameful manner in which a part of the snow ploughing is done, or rather, not done?

Our Engineer and Chairman of the Board of Works are always promising things will be better, but indications point to another year's poor administration of street affairs.

This morning the district around the fire hall was cleared at 6.30. Why not compel all contractors to get out on time? On Saturday morning Reid street was not cleared till nearly 9 o'clock; Sunday it was not broken till after 10.30, and church goers had to break the drifts. At 6 this morning there was a good path for the snow plow horse but he had not appeared.

Many girls and young women have to be at work at 7 o'clock and it is a shameful waste of public money to have this work done in such a dilatory manner.

In many places the snow is so deep the plough cannot remove it, a little supposed to be well-to-do citizens would make our walks passable. This lack of public interest is most noticeable in front of fine residences supposed to be well-to-do citizens. It it would certainly be a good move to have the unemployed who are anxious for work do this necessary shovelling and charge the cost of it against the property thus served.

If our street department can't plough, let them try shovelling.

Yours truly,
"SEVEN, A. M."

Music and Drama

"The Trip to India" Company, that almost came to grief in Port Hope, owing to the illness of the leading lady, is again on the road. The manager has secured a prominent New York actress to take her place, and the show is now making a big hit in Gananoque. The local opera house management expects to have this show presented here some time this season.

A MESSAGE FROM MARS

Some stage offerings die the first year. Others last two years, but it is not frequent that they are presented to the public for a period longer than three years. These are regarded as plays of unusual strength. "A Message From Mars," which will be presented here at the Grand Opera House on Thursday evening, February 6, has a record of three consecutive years in London, two consecutive years in the city of New York, three years in the larger cities of the United States, making a total of eight years. This, in brief, tells the story of the splendid merit of this comedy.

INSANITY CASE IN THE POLICE COURT

Young Boy About Twenty Years of Age Afflicted

A very sad case of insanity was brought before Magistrate Dumble this morning in which a Peterborough family figured. A youth nearing his 20th birthday was in the box. His appearance was very respectable and his actions in court did not in the least give evidence of a vacant mind. His father was in ecurt and said the boy had been trouble for five years with the malady, sometimes he thinks he is a fighter, other times a detective. The trouble first originated out of self-abuse and the case was a very unfortunate and pitable one. The boy will be confined to an asylum for treatment.

THE SUN SHONE AND BRUIN SAW HIS SHADOW

Pen Angle Woollens Will Remain in Vogue all the Longer on This Account

Pile on the hardwood, dispel the cold, and fill up the six by four foot coal bin! Away with the idea of warm, sunny days for the last of winter and balmy breezes for the early spring. The fates have ordained otherwise, according to the beliefs of our grandparents, chronicled since Jacques Cartier's first January on the lower St. Lawrence. Winter will remain with us its allotted time, and probably a little longer than is enjoyable.

Yesterday was February 2, and from his hibernating quarters in a hollow tree old Bruin sleepily stalked forth and shivered as he drank in the cold winter air. He lazily shook himself, wiped his eyes with either paw, yawned, and strode a few paces from his winter home. All was well.

He had almost decided not to go back, when through the bare arms of an old maple Old Sol's smiling face peeped from behind the cloud and slowly appeared in all his radiance to greet poor Bruin. The latter sighed sadly and was echoed by the snow-clad pines. He turned his back on the sun and saw his shadow darkly cast on the blanket of snow, and retracing his steps returned to his winter home. With one last reassuring look he crawled out of sight and the inference is that winter will be prolonged.

REGIMENT MAY GO TO QUEBEC

Will be The Longest Trip on Record—Ottawa Regiment Will be There

The 57th regiment might take a trip this year which will be the longest on record. There has been a standing invitation to this regiment from the City of Quebec, and the officers might decide to go there on the First of July. The 43rd regiment of Ottawa has accepted the invitation to that historic city, and is now making arrangements for the trip on the First.

The trip to Quebec has been before the officers of the regiment for a couple of years, and last year they were of the opinion that the Quebec trip would be taken in 1908.

THE CANADIAN CLUB TO MEET SOON

Arrangements Are Being Made to Secure Services of a Speaker

There was no meeting of the Canadian Club during January, owing to the fact that the club was disappointed in failing to secure a suitable speaker for the occasion. In spite of earnest efforts on the part of the secretary and other officers it was found impossible to get any one to address the members. The Club will however, meet this month and efforts are being made which it is hoped will be successful, to secure a well known speaker to appear before the Club.

A BIG DISTRIBUTION ON SATURDAY LAST

Tea and Sugar Given Away—Men Were Very Thankful

On Saturday evening the usual weekly distribution of food for the needy poor took place at Mr. Finch Miller's store on Water street. The men, young and old, began to crowd around as the city clock struck five o'clock. From that time until 9 o'clock the alert relief officer was kept on the move by the throng which filed into his store seeking the offered charity.

When an Examiner representative called about 5.30 o'clock several men were standing outside and the interior of the store was filled. Bags of tea and sugar were piled on the large counter and in the lower end of the room a basket filled with pieces of beef were ready for distribution.

One prominent Peterborough lady came with a cutter and took some of the beef and potatoes to a poor old woman in the south end. The relief officer told the reporter that this young woman was doing more to alleviate the misery of the poor than any person he knew of.

An old man, who has passed the three score and ten period of life, also applied for food. He had no receipticle for the potatoes, so he was satisfied with the beef, tea and potatoes.

The potatoes were given out at the police station and each man came provided with a sack. They placed their allotment of potatoes in the bottom, and tied the sack in the middle. They then came over to the relief officer's store and placed the meat, sugar and tea in the top part of the bag.

The men were loud in their praises for the charitable way in which they were being treated and hoped that they would soon be able to go out and work again.

A DOUBLE TRAGEDY AT LISBON

King Carlos and His Son Shot Dead While Driving.

THREE ASSASSINS KILLED

Queen Amelie Escaped Unhurt—Shielded Her Second Son Who Was Also Severely Wounded—Six Men Fired Volley From Carbines—Streets Were Thronged at the Time—Uproar In Capital.

Lisbon, Feb. 3.—King Carlos of Portugal and the Crown Prince Luis Phillippe, were assassinated on Saturday afternoon, and the city is in a state of uproar.

The King's second son, the infant Manuel, was slightly wounded, but Queen Amelie, who strove to save the crown prince's life by throwing herself upon him, was unhurt.

A band of men, waiting at the corner of the Praco do Commercio and the Rua do Arsenal, suddenly sprang towards the open carriage, in which the royal family were driving to the palace, and leveling carbines, which they had concealed upon them, fired.

The King and crown prince, upon whom the attack was directed, were each shot three times and they lived only long enough to be carried to the marine arsenal nearby, where they expired.

Almost at the first shot the King fell back on the cushions dying, and at the same moment the crown prince was seen to half rise and then sink back on the seat.

Queen Amelie jumped up and threw herself toward the crown prince in an apparent effort to save his life at the cost of her own, but the prince already had received his death wound.

The police guard fired upon the assassins and killed two of them. A third committed suicide.

Spot Well Chosen

The royal family were returning from Villa Vicosa, where they had been sojourning, and were on their way from the railroad station to the palace.

A strong guard was in attendance because of the recent uprising in the city and the discovery of a plot to assassinate Premier Franco and overthrow the monarchy.

But the band of murderers had selected the most advantageous spot for the commission of their deed, where they were concealed from the eyes of the police until the carriage had wheeled into the Praco do Commercio, a large square.

Before any of the guard were aware of what was happening, the assassins leaped towards the carriage, and instantly a fusilade of shots rang out. In a moment all was terrible confusion, the King and crown prince being shot down without the slightest chance to save themselves.

Police guards sprang upon the regicides, the number of whom is somewhat uncertain, and killed three of them and captured three others.

It is charged that one of the murderers was a Spaniard named Costoval.

The bodies of the King and crown prince were removed from the marine arsenal in two closed carriages to the royal palace, the Praco das Necessidades, the late residence of the King, and escorted by municipal guards, mounted.

City Panic-Stricken.

The news of the assassination swept through the city like fire through dry grass, and by night half of the populace was panic-stricken, not knowing where the next blow might fall.

There is the greatest dread for the future of the country, which seems on the verge of being plunged into the awful throes of a revolution, with all the attendant horrors and bloodshed.

Throughout the city consternation reigns, and all the houses and business places are barricaded.

An examination of the remains of the King, who was already dead when he reached the arsenal, showed that three bullets had found their mark. One wound was situated at the nape of the neck, a second in the shoulder, and the third which was the fatal wound, severed the carotid artery.

The crown prince, who was still breathing, but who died almost immediately after admission to the arsenal, had suffered three wounds, in the head and chest.

Two bullets struck Prince Manuel, one on the lower jaw and the other in the arm.

Queen Marie Pia, the mother of King Carlos; the Duke of Oporto, his brother; a number of the Ministers and court officials hastened at once to the arsenal, when the news reached them of the attack upon the royal family.

Route Had Been Published.

The details of the murders show that they were cunningly arranged. The fact that the royal family were returning from Villa Vicosa had been made public in advance, and the authorities had arranged what they considered an effective guard along the route which the royal carriage was to take.

The trip from Villa Vicosa was without incident. The King and his family returned at the end of a day of the greatest excitement to the city on account of the wholesale arrests and the continual discovery of new depots of arms and bombs. A great throng were grouped about the Barriere Station and in the neighboring streets when the members of the royal family disembarked, for the purpose of driving across the Tagus in reaching the actual limits of Lisbon.

The court carriers awaited them before the landing stage, and the King, and Queen and the two princes entered the leading carriage, which started immediately, wheeling into the Praco do Commercio.

The Assassination.

Suddenly the sharp crack of a carbine startled the assemblage. Then the air was filled with a succession of sharp reports, and the King was seen to jump up and reach for his throat, then drop back on the cushions.

The crown prince almost simultaneously was seen to collapse and fall towards the side of the carriage, while the Queen, driven to frenzy, was seeking to save the crown prince and the infant Manuel by shielding them with her body.

A great hush fell on the crowd, which for the moment did not comprehend that a swift tragedy had befallen the nation. Then loud cries of anger burst forth, interrupted with the shrieks of women and screams of frightened children, and the commotion and the roar of the populace suddenly thrown into rage and fear.

Waiting for the royal carriage, the group of men had quietly awaited the approach. Then, at an uttered word from one of them, they swiftly drew back their cloaks across their shoulders and raised the carbines, which the cloaks had concealed, and quickly fired in the direction of the royal carriage.

It seemed as though a score of shots were fired, and all in an instant, and before the startled onlookers could move, the men had turned and were madly fighting their way through the crowd in an endeavor to reach open space and make their escape.

Meanwhile an unhappy scene was in progress at the royal carriage, where King Carlos lay dead, the prince unconscious and breathing his last, and the infant Manuel, with blood streaming from his mouth, leaning over the bodies of his father and his dying brother.

The Queen, who had miraculously escaped unhurt from the veritable raid of bullets, was kneeling beside her husband and son. The excitement in the vicinity of the tragedy threatened to become serious, and the soldiers quickly surrounded the carriage, which was driven to the marine arsenal, nearby.

The King and crown prince were tenderly carried into the building, where a surgeon, one of the spectators, hastily did everything possible to save their lives. But his efforts were without avail. The King was dead and the prince expired within a few moments.

Murderers Slain.

Francesso Figuera, an orderly who was walking near the royal carriage at the time of the outrage, drew his revolver and killed one of the regicides, and the police sprang at the others. They turned rapidly and fled, the police pursuing them and killing one of them near the town hall.

Both bodies were carried into the town hall, but have not yet been identified. It is believed, however, that one of the men is a Spaniard and the other a Frenchman. The weapons that they used were repeating carbines of five chambers.

Carlos, I. was born Sept. 23, 1863, the son of King Luis I., and his Queen Maria Pia. He married Marie Amelia, daughter of Philippe, Due d' Orleans, on May 23, 1886. He succeeded to the throne Oct. 19, 1899.

The crown prince, Luis Philippe, Duke of Braganza, was born March 21, 1887.

To Suffer From Headaches Makes Life Miserable. . .

It takes a person that has had and is subject to headaches to describe the suffering which attends them.

The majority of cases are caused by constipation and dyspepsia. The dull throbbings, the intense pain, sometimes in one part, sometimes in another, and then over the whole head, varying in its severity by the cause which brings it on, purely indicates that there is something the matter with the stomach or bowels. To the fact that Burdock Blood Bitters reaches every part of the system is due its success in relieving and permanently curing headache. It has proven a specific for the malady in all its forms.

Mr. Wm. R. Gilchrist, New Mills, N.B., writes: "I was troubled for years with constipation and headaches, but after using four bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters I am completely cured."

Mr. John T. Kidner, Red Deer, Alta., writes: "I was troubled for several years with headache. I tried a number of remedies but they did me no good. I tried a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and it cured me completely."

LIGHTNING STRIKES ASYLUM

Breakwater Badly Damaged at St. John—Ships Torn From Moorings—Bridges Carried Away—Nets Destroyed — Fierce Tornado In Mississippi—Over Twenty Killed — Town Wiped Out.

Hazelhurst, Miss., Feb. 3.—More than a score of persons were killed and nearly twice that number were injured in Friday's tornado, according to latest reports. Relief parties were sent out yesterday. Among those hurt are Samuel Nichols and Robert Middleton, farmers. They were fatally hurt, and members of their families were also hurt. All streams are swollen, and the country roads are strewn with fallen trees.

A rough estimate of the property loss places the damage at about a quarter of a million. It was learned that Georgetown, where several buildings were last reported to have been wrecked, was entirely wiped off the map. No one at Georegtown is reported killed, but many were injured.

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 3.—The worst storm in years swept over Halifax and other parts of Nova Scotia Saturday night. There was wholesale destruction along the water front, and telephone and telegraph lines were levelled so that communication along the coast and other parts of the province is cut off.

Several schooners in the harbor were driven ashore, and the Government quarantine steamer Argus was forced from her moorings and driven ashore on the Dartmouth side of the harber.

The homeward bound mail steamer Grampian, with passengers, which was to have sailed, was forced to remain in port until yesterday morning. The wind blew 60 miles an hour, and was accompanied by a blizzard of snow. At midnight this turned to rain, which fell in torrents. Accompanying the snow, rain and wind was a terrific electrical storm.

Lightning struck the 120-foot chimney of the Nova Scotia Insane Hospital at two o'clock and tore out forty tons of bricks from its outer coverings. Some of the debris fell through a window into one of the rooms, and a seamstress was injured slightly.

The lightning disarranged the electric light service, and for hours the hospital was in darkness. Debris from the chimney crashed through the roof of the engine-house, badly injuring the engineer and machinery.

The Storm at St. John.

St. John, N. B., Feb. 3.—Enormous damage was done by a terrific storm which raged here Saturday night and yesterday morning. Reports received from Bay of Fundy ports indicate that shipping suffered to a great extent.

At St. Martins a large breakwater was badly damaged, and at Dipper Harbor, Highway Bridge was swept from its piers, the wharves destroyed and fishermen's houses blown down. Nets and traps were swept to sea, entailing a great loss to fishermen, many of whom are left in pitiable circumstances.

In St. John harbor, shipping had a strenuous night. Schooners were torn from their moorings and several wharves were badly damaged. The C. P. R. steamer Empress of Britain parted some lines and partly swung around in the stream. She was moored, however, before being damaged. Great uneasiness is felt here for coastal schooners bound for this port, some of which are overdue.

Roof of Rink Felt.

Picton, Feb. 3.—The lives of nearly forty young boys, skating in Boulter's Arena, were endangered at noon on Saturday. A very heavy snowstorm had passed over the county, and about two hundred tons of snow weighed down the roof, which, with scarce a moment's warning, caved in. No one was seriously injured, though Joseph Grooms had a particularly narrow escape, being caught and pinned under the falling roof. Mr. Grooms saw the collapse coming and rushed out on the ice and warned the children off. The loss on the arena is placed at $20,000.

E. Spencer, florist, suffers considerable loss, the storm completely destroying the roof of his new greenhouse.

Vancouver Man Shot.

Vancouver, Feb. 3.—R. Boyce, forty years of age, shot and killed J. C. Massender on Saturday night. Boyce was returning to his lodgings after 11 o'clock. He found a young man talking at the door to the landlady's daughter. Boyce ordered him away, threatening to shoot. He went into the house and reappeared with a gun. The young man ran, but Boyce shot and missed him. The bullet passed through the wall of the house, killing Massender, a married man, in his home at the corner of Barnard street and Jackson avenue.

NEW WAY TO BE WELL

Healthfulness of Oranges.

The one lesson which most people never seem to learn is, how to guard their health.

We have been eating oranges since time immemorial, yet how many of us know that orange juice contains a medicinal principle which has a marked action on the stomach, bowels, kidneys and skin. Some physicians go so far as to say that they can cure the average case of Indigestion, Constipation, Biliousness and Dry Skin with orange juice and proper diet.

This can be easily proved to the satisfaction of any sufferer. Take the juice of one or two oranges every morning before breakfast, take one or two "Fruit-a-tives" every night at bed-time, exercise a reasonable care in diet, and the proof will be found in health.

The cure will be greatly assisted and hastened by taking "Fruit-a-tives" in conjunction with the orange juice. "Fruit-a-tives" are fruit juices in which the medicinal principle of oranges, apples, figs and prunes are many times increased by the special way in which they are combined. Then tonics are added and the whole made into tablets. "Fruit-a-tives" may be obtained at all dealers, or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price—50c a box—6 for $2.50. WHO WILL BE CHAMPION OF THE CITY HOCKEY LEAGUE?

The greatest interest is being taken in the games to be played in the City League this week and the crowd promises to be the biggest in the history of the league. The fate of the league championship depends practically upon the results of Wednesday's games which bring together the four strongest teams of the organization. Norwood and the High Lifes will have a chance to settle their differences, and looking at it from this distance, the game will be one of the best of the season. There is a large number of people who think Norwood has the best team in the league and Wednesday night's game will tend to show how far this opinion may be depended upon. To beat the High Lifes they will have to let out a few more links than they have done this season, for the High Lifes are travelling at an awful clip in practice and are determined to put it over the Night Hawks. The winning team will still have a chance left, while the losers go down and out.

Lakefield and the Strathconas mix it up in the second game, and if the High Commissioners win they will be within reaching distance of the silverware, with only Bridgenorth in the way. Can the Strathconas defeat Lakefield, however? That is the question which is agitating local fans and which will not be settled until Wednesday night. Lakefield will have on its strongest team, while the Straths, on the other hand, are equally certain that they will carry off the big end of the score. A defeat for the Strathconas will mean that they will be tied with the winners of the Norwood-High Life game, in which case the excitement will be redoubled. The best hockey bill of the season will be offered on Wednesday and you can't very well afford to miss it. The usual prices will prevail.

The latest order from the Intermediate O.H.A. is that the Lindsay Intermediates play in Brockville on Tuesday night. Brockville plays the return game here on Friday night, and as that town is the winner of District No. 1, we should see some interesting hockey.

What the executive of the O.H.A. have decided to do with the Lindsay-Cobourg game here is not known, but even if we do not have to play them we are winners of this district.

The expense of the Brockville-Lindsay game will be great, as the players' fares have to be paid for the 125 miles.

However, it might have been worse. It's better to go 125 miles to Brockville than to be like Midland, and have to play off at Sudbury. It would be rather one on the Intermediates if they have to play at one of the north pole towns like Sudbury or Copper Cliff. Here's hoping that if we win, Midland wins also. Lindsay Post.

One of the fastest games of hockey ever played in the Brock street rink was played on Saturday night. The opposing teams were from the Canadian General Electric Works, the armature assembly and the punch departments. The former won by the score of 5—3, the half time score being 2—1 in favour of the punchers. The game was fast from start to finish and not a few fights were pulled off. The punch men did not live up to their reputation of punching, as they were all assembled in heaps on the ice at times. The game was refereed by Eugene Hurtubise, who handled the players like an O. H. A. official.

The line-up of the teams was:

The Tongolas of Toronto proved too much for the local seniors Y. M. C. A. basketball team in the exhibition game played on Saturday night in the Y. M. C. A. gym and wonby the score of 33—16. The game was much more even than the score would indicate, as the local seniors had a large share of the play. The Tongolas shot with unerring aim at the baskets, however, and their victory was merited. Sievert, at centre and Bond, one of the forwards, were the stars, the former throwing seven baskets from the field and three from fouls, while Bond scored four from the field. Mr. Walker, of Toronto, acted as referee and Mr. J. Laing, of Peterborough, as umpire, whose decisions were entire satisfactory. The teams were as follows:

Tongolas		Peterboroughs.
	Forwards
Britton		Dobbin
Bond		Darling
	Centre
Sievert		T. Crossman
	Guards
Mayo		R. Best
Henderson		Sutherland
	Timers
Collings		Campbell

The visitors, with the members of the Y. M. C. A. physical committee, were entertained by the local team at a pleasant banquet at the conclusion of the game.

OFFICERS HAVE COME BACK FROM KINGSTON

Lieuts Leary and McDonough Complete Examinations

After spending two weeks in the Royal Artillery Barracks at Kingston, receiving the necessary instruction to qualify themselves for an appointment as artillery officers, Lieutenants R. Leary and T. W. McDonough, of the 14th Field Battery, returned home yesterday. Both officers have enjoyed themselves and speak very highly of the treatment received from the regular officers. There were two other officers taking the course, one from St. Catharines and the other from Toronto. The artillery drill is one of the hardest to master and the men practically took a three years' course in two weeks. They are now able to go out and instruct any branch of artillery drill. The short course meant a large amount of training and from 8.30 in the morning until 11 o'clock at night, excepting Saturday, the men were receiving instruction. After those hours, however, they went to their rooms to study.

The sleeping rooms were very cold, the windows being broken and large pieces of paper dropped down from the ceiling. They dined with the regular officers and enjoyed the officers' mess immensely. The life of an officer in the regular army is not an easy one. They were kept very busy and hardly had time to eat their meals. The men in the ranks are a splendid set of men and each one is trained to a high sense of duty.

The local officers were put through every phase of artillery drill and manoeuvre and are confident that they will pass in their examinations. the only excitement which took place in Kingston during the period of instruction was a hockey match.

TRAINS ARRIVING LATE

Examiner Special.

Havelock, Feb. 2.—The weather at this point has been very severe during the past week, the thermometer staying around 10 degrees below zero most of the time, and on Thursday registered 36 below at 7 a.m. Severe frost caused the derailment of a car at Kennebec Friday, 50 miles east of here. The Ottawa and Montreal expresses were delayed for hours Friday by a broken truck, causing the derailment of a freight car at Peterson.

The driving snowstorm Saturday and Sunday caused much damage and delay on the C.P.R. and the road is nearly tied up although the company is working hard to keep it clear. All freight trains were cancelled except provisions and livestock. Early morning trains Saturday ran several hours late, and the noon had 4 o'clock were two hours late. The local due here at 8.36 p.m. arrived about 11.30 with the foremost engine a mass of snow. The Sunday morning trains from Ottawa and Montreal got through, arriving here at 10.30 a.m., although due at 4. One section of the midnight did not a arrive till 3.15 p.m. It is due at 1.07 a.m. When it came in the front of the foremost engine carried several tons of packed snow and the sideboards were completely covered. It had to act as a plow, and ran about 15 miles an hour, throwing the snow into the air and piling it on each side. All passenger trains have to run double-headers or cannot get through. Freight trains that set out got stalled and the plow had to go to the rescue.

All available men are shovelling snow, working all day till 12 at night and then going on next morning. Havelock snow plow went west Sunday morning, taking a large number of men to shovel at Manvers and Myrtle where the snow is deepest and where the snow plow is stalled. The Toronto plow got through to Havelock and has gone back with more men to attack the drifts at Manvers. Passengers on express trains were nearly starved and made a raid on the hotels for food during the stop here.

Cattle and livestock on the road are suffering terribly. Word was received that a carload of pigs, about 100 in number, have been frozen to death near Manvers. Several carload of cattle arrived here at 7.30 p.m. Sunday, where they were fed and watered.

Coal has run out at the shutes here and engines are filled from the dump where it is frozen hard, and 11 men worked all Sunday morning to fill one engine. Engines are unable to go out because of lack of coal.

The men on the engines are soaking wet when they come in, with the light snow drifting in on them and melting.

Three Trade Papers To Be Published in Peterborough

Examiner Building to be the Home Of Three Flourishing Papers—Canadian Dairyman, The Horticulturalist And The Florist Will Be Issued Here

BIG THING FOR THE CITY

Peterborough will in a short time rejoice in the possession of three more papers, the Canadian Dairyman, with which will be incorporated the Canadian Farming World; the Canadian Horticulturalist and the Canadian Florist, all of which will be set up and printed in the plant of The Examiner. The machinery all of the latest and most improved type is being installed now in the Examiner building and half the staff of the papers will be here this week and the rest will be in the city next week.

The importance of the establishment of these papers in Peterborough cannot be over-estimated. It will mean an annual expenditure in the city of $100,000 and with the new machinary will mean the work of about 25 extra men in the Examiner building.

The Canadian Dairyman is the only dairy paper published in Canada and has a weekly circulation of 15,000. In its new home here it will be enlarged to twenty-four pages with cover. H. Bronson Howard is editor in chief and business manager; G. H. Carpenter, B. S.A., is editor. The paper has hitherto been published in Toronto.

The Canadian Florist is a twelve-page paper, the official organ of the Canadian Horticultural Association and has up to this time been published in Toronto. It has a circulation of 31,000 and is issued twice each month.

The Canadian Horticulturalist is the official organ of the British Columbia, Ontario, Quebec and Prince Edward Island Fruit Growers' Association and of the Ontario Vegetable Growers Association. It is published monthly and is a brighly illustrated, newsy magazine.

The office staffs of the papers will have quarters on Simcoe street in the Toronto Savings and Loan Company's new block, while the mechanical work will be done at the Examiner office, the plant of which is being greatly changed and equipped with the most modern machinery including a Canadian-American linotype machine equipped with 17 different kinds of type.

The Board of Trade has taken considerable interest in the bringing of these publications to Peterborough, particularly Ald. Geo. Gillespie, who was responsible for first introducing the proposal. Their coming is a gain to the city and incidentally a recognition of the reliability and importance of the work done by the Examiner.

KING MANUEL IS SAID TO HAVE CHANGED HIS PLANS

The Franc Cabinet Has Fallen—England Advises

Examiner special.

Paris, Feb. 3.—The Franco cabinet has fallen and its leader will have no place under the new government. The new King, Manuel II, whose initial proclamation made it clear that he at first intended to continue his father in power, is said to have changed his plans and as a result of advice from England a constitution ministery will be named. Despite the denials from the British admiralty the English warship will interfere in the event of a revolutionary outbreak at Lisbon. It is believed here that the Atlantic fleet was ordered from Vigo Shain to the Portugese port for no other reason. Positive confirmation has been received from London that the order has been issued.

THREE CALLS IN THE BLIZZARD

The Fire Brigade Had a Busy Evening On Saturday

Saturday evening will long be remembered by the members of the fire brigade, who responded to no less than three calls in the midst of the blinding blizzard which was raging at the time. The first call came from the Rapid Tool Company and the brigade had not finished its work there when an alarm came from Mr. G. W. Hatton's residence in North Monaghan, just outside the western boundary of the city, and the hose sleigh was sent ploughing through the drifts to that quarter. A chimney was discovered to be on fire, but the slight blaze was extinguished without the services of the brigade and without any damage being done.

Just after returning to the hall there was a call from a box in the south end of the city and the brigade responded, only to find it had been called out on a false alarm.

The first colored Moving Pictures ever shown in Canada will be presented in conjunction with the Burns-Moir Fight at the Grand Opera House to-morrow (Tuesday) night. Plan now open.

AWFUL CONDITION OF RESIDENCE

Two Inches Of Frost Found on The Bed-room Walls

Few people have even had the experience which the tenants of a certain Aylmer street residence had this morning. The house is a very old one and the architectural design is rather ancient. The house stands alone and is open to the sweep of the wind. The occupants have suffered greatly this winter for want of fuel, and they allowed the fire to go out during the night. This morning when the three boys who occupy the rear bedroom, awoke, they found their room like an ice house, and the light was not permitted to enter the window, which was thickly covered with frost. About two inches of frost stood out on the plastered walls, and the lads utilized the substance to make snowballs. The only cause advanced for the frost coming out is that the plaster is placed on the brick, which makes the wall very damp.

"But I do love you—I love you in a scientific way."

LOST IN A BLINDING BLIZZARD; MAN CROSSES A COUNTRY FIELD ENVELOPED IN SUPERSTITION

Two Men Almost Perish There Two Weeks Ago—Forty Years Ago a Lonely Wayfarer Lost His Life

ONE OF WORST IN YEARS

Lost in a blinding blizzard on the hill of a Springville farm was the precarious position in which Mr. Norman Seton, school teacher at Fairmount, found himself on Saturday night while attempting to cross from the post-office at Springville to his mother's home, a mile distant. The incident is remarkable not only for the serious character of the occurrence, but from the fact that similar cases have occurred upon the same windswept field in one of which a human life was lost.

Mr. Seton left his home Saturday evening to call at the post-office and the general store of Mr. F. E. Wilson. He began his homeward journey about dusk and attempted to walk across Mr. Wilson's farm on snowshoes. For three long hours he travelled in vain to reach his destination. The fierce gale blew squarely in his face and he lost his way.

Saved by a Barn

More by good fortune than by good management on his part, Mr. Seton came across a barn located in the centre of a large field on Mr. Wilson's farm. He was certainly glad to reach a covering of any kind after being buffeted about by the severe wind. He was, however, some distance from home, but could not tell which direction to take. Luckily another traveller called that way and Mr. Seton was finally assisted to his home after spending three hours lost in the storm.

Other Experiences

Only two weeks ago Mr. Robert Rand, who resides alone in the district of Springville, and Mr. Jas. Bogue a visitor, underwent a similar experience. They came across to the village, and returning, became lost in the storm that was raging at the time. Mr. Bogue became separated from his companion and reached the manse in safety, but still Mr. Rand was out on the big hill amid the storm. Unfortunately he fell, and was unable to resume his journey. His cries for assistance attracted rescuers with lanterns, and Mr. Rand was conveyed safely to his home.

Perished Years ago

These two incidents recall to the minds of the oldest residents of Springville the perishing about forty years ago of a man whose name now is forgotten, who attempted to cross the same field. His remains were not found until the arrival of spring.

So that these three occurrences, similar in character, though fortunately different in their outcomes, have made many of the residents of that district somewhat superstitious of the big field which has so often brought danger to wayfarers.

The Council Approves Of The Government's Canal Policy

Strong Resolution Passed Last Night Referring to The Conserving of the [illegible] Afford an Even Flow for Benefit of Manufactures

8 FT., 4 INCHES DRAUGHT.

At the regular meeting of the council last night the following resolution, moved by Ald. Elliott and Morgan, was carried unanimously:

"That the members of the Municipal Council of the city of Peterborough, desire to place on record their sincerest appreciation of the manner in which the water in the Trent Canal above Peterborough, has been regulated and conserved under the direction of the capable Deputy Minister and Chief Engineer, Mr. M. J. Butler, C.E., affording as it has a regular flow at all times during the year, thereby enabling the various power companies to supply electrical energy to the manufacturers in such a satisfactory manner as to enable them to operate their factories and mills without interruption for want of power.

"We also approve of the policy of the department in building new dams and renewing old dams on the Gull River, Burnt River, Mississaugua Creek and other tributary waters recently taken over from the Ontario Government by the Dominion Government, and we hope it may be the determination of the Government to continue this satisfactory policy of conserving the waters."

We also desire to congratulate the Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals, upon having established beyond a doubt that there is sufficient water-shed for the Trent Canal, (when the water therein is properly conserved as it has been of late years) to afford an ample flow of water during the open season for navigation purposes and to warrant the Government in adopting the policy of making the Trent Canal of sufficient draught to enable vessels drawing eight feet four inches to navigate thereon, thereby making it possible for barges in use on Lake Ontario to carry coal and other freight direct to the city of Peterborough. We now realize that when the Trent Canal is finished through to Georgian Bay it will prove an important factor in the grain carrying trade from the northwest to the sea board.

Big Explosion Wrecks Powder Plant in Tweed

DOES DAMAGE OF $25,000

Examiner Special

Tweed, Feb. 4.—The nitrator building at the Ontario Power Company's Dynamite Works was blown up at 7.30 this morning. The shock of the explosion affected a large area and accounts for stories of broken windows coming in from the surrounding country. Fourteen plate glass windows on the west side of the main street in the village were blown in, besides many smaller glass windows. No important damage was done to store fronts on the east side of the street. The works are situated three-quarter miles east of the village. About a dozen of the company's building are wrecked and also the factory. The steel trough and machinery is partially damaged. The men working at the plant had a warning by some of the ingredients of "gelatine" powder catching fire. They immediately left the building and shouted to their companions in other parts of the works to run for their lives. Ten minutes later the explosion took place. No lives were lost.

The company's loss will reach over $25,000. Damage to the extent of $1,000 was done to the plate and other glass in the town. The glass in buildings five miles out in the country was broken and the shock was felt twenty-five miles away.

PASSED TO HIS REST IN CALIFORNIA

Mr. E. B. Stone, a Former Well Known Resident is Dead

Mr. E. B. Stone, a former well-known resident of Peterborough, passed away on Thursday of last week in California, where he had been for some months suffering from an illness of long duration. The deceased, who conducted a very successful law business here for many years, left the city some years ago, taking up residence in London, Ont., where he remained until his departure to California. While in Peterborough he was very successful in his court practice. He was a Liberal in politics and took an active interest in elections, speaking on behalf of Liberal candidates.

The late Mr. Stone was about 65 years of age, and practised law in Belleville and Winnipeg before coming to this city. While here he had a very serious illness, being so low that his life was despaired of and his physicians had practically given him up.

He was three times married, his first bride being Miss Lane, daughter of the late Charles Lane of Napanee. On her demise he was married to a Miss Gorman of Belleville, while his third wife was a Miss Cragg of this city. He is survived by two sons.

The deceased was very well and favourably known in Peterborough and the news of his demise will be received with deep regret. Mr. Stone visited the city last summer and spent some time at Stony Lake.

The sad intelligence was received here this morning by Mr. Frank Wise, superintendent of Little Lake Cemetery, by a telephone message from Mr. J. H. Clarke, K.C., of Toronto. The remains are expected to arrive in Toronto Saturday morning and will be brought here the same day for interment in the local cemetery.

A QUESTIONABLE BEGINNING

The recent Conservative convention, though not lacking in surface indications of enthusiasm and organization, seems to have not worked out quite smoothly and satisfactory. Although the dissatisfaction that exists would not be expected to be declared from the house tops, yet complaints of knifing and unfair play are not whispered in corners but mentioned without the diplomatic reserve that usually guards the utterances of those in the inner circle. Mr. Garvin's friends assert, without much hesitancy that in the matter of the nomination he was not given a fair show, that the selection of country delegates was confined to those known, if not pledged, to be hostile to Mr. Garvin. In other words that the convention was packed for Mr. Burnham. It is claimed that no meetings in the townships had been called to select delegates; that they were chosen, not by their neighbours and fellow electors in the townships, but by outside persons. Mr. Garvin's friends have not a monopoly of kicking. Mr. Phelan's friends claim that he was asked to come into the field as a candidate for the candidature and that the very element of the party which had urged this course upon Mr. Phelan, knifed him and transferred its support to Mr. Burnham. There is no mere rumour about this, for at the convention Mr. Phelan said that Mr. Burnham who was then opposing him had been the first to ask and urge him, (Mr. Phelan,) to allow his name to be placed in nomination. In connection with the selection and assembly of delegates there are circumstances which rob "the greatest of all Conservative conventions" of the enthusiastic spontaneity with which it has been invested. It is asserted on very good authority that not only were delegates selected by interested parties, and such as would vote against Mr. Garvin, but that money was actually raised to pay the expenses of delegates from distant points, who were thus remunerated for their loyalty to the good old cause "by driving, some of them, 20 miles." It has been also noted that Mr. Garvin polled a majority of city delegates but that the specially selected and "assisted immigration" delegates, swung the convention in favour of Mr. Burnham.

It's a beautiful omen for the Conservative purity campaign that the crusade against "graft" in West Peterborough should be led by a champion who gets his place, as suggested by Mr. Garvin's friends, by a packed convention of subsidized delegates and steps into his place over the body of a friend whom he had urged to come into the field to be quietly but effectively knifed. These things are mentioned in order to show that the great Conservative convention was hardly the harmonious success, which it is described. The matter is street talk and a good deal more.

You have Not One Reason for Not Using Zutoo

Some people think that all headache cures are alike—that they all undermine the health, even if not perceived at the time of taking them.

Well, we'll admit that some cures do this, those, for example, which contain opium, morphine, antipyrene or chloral.

But this is no reason why you should not use Zutoo.

Zutoo Tablets do not contain one iota of any of the drugs above mentioned. They do not contain a single ingredient that does not come from Old Mother Earth herself.

One ingredient is soda—just old-fashioned soda that our grandmothers used to take to settle the stomach when they had sick headache.

There is not one ingredient in Zutoo tablets that is not approved by both the British and American Pharmacopoeias. And the world has no higher authority in medicine than these.

Your family physician, even if a personal friend, would approve of and prescribe every ingredient.

There is absolutely no reason why you should not use Zutoo.

If you suffer from headache there is every reason why you should.

Taken in time, two tablets will ward off a headache. Taken later, they will stop it in twenty minutes, and leave you feeling bright and well in both mind and body.

It is Harmless as Soda

A PROSPEROUS ASSURANCE COMPANY

The annual meeting of the North American Life Assurance Company, held on January 30th, 1908, reveals a very satisfactory condition, the result of good management and the report published in another place in this issue gives evidence of the solid steady and progressive character of the company. Last year's business in the total of policies issued and revived, amounted to $4,622,635, an amount in excess of any other year. Good business methods were demonstrated by the fact that with an increase all along the line, there was a reduction in the ratio of operating expenses and premium increase of more than two per cent., representing a decrease of nearly $27,000 in expenses as compared with those of 1906. In spite of the temporary touch of stringency during the year the cash income from premium and interest shows an increase of $68,553.79, the amount paid on policyholders' account being $607,374.44, of which $266,825 represented payment for dividends matured, endowments and investment policies, and there was an increase of assets of nearly a million — $930,811.63. With allowed expenses and depreciation of debentures, including a contingent fund of $155,173.55 to cover the latter, and paying $97,000 in dividends, enough was added to the net surplus to bring it to the figues of $573,556.04. The assets of the company are safely invested in the best of securities. In all respects the operations of the year just passed has been most gratifying to the North American Assurance Company and its stable standing and the general good condition of all its interests mark it as one of the most prosperous and progressive of our great insurance corporations. To the prosperity of the past year the local officers of the district, of which Mr. G. B. Stevenson is manager, are to be credited with a large share, the business of the Peterborough office having been the best of any year in the history of the company.

A MESSAGE FROM MARS

PORTUGALS NEW KING IS POPULAR

Premier Franco, the Dictator, Has Been Removed.

COALITION CABINET FORMED

Youthful Monarch Places Himself In the Hands of His Ministers—Lisbon Comparatively Quiet — British Cruiser Sails For Capital—Queen Amelie Bears Up Well — No Further Disorders Reported.

Lisbon, Feb. 4.—Portugal yesterday saw the establishment of a new regime. Premier Franco has resigned office, and within 48 hours of the assassination of King Carlos his dictatorship is at an end, at least for the present. Franco resigned for fear that his continuance in office would plunge the country into rebellion.

A new Cabinet has been formed under the presidency of Rear-Admiral Do Amaral, a member of the Progressive-Dissident party. Some of the new Ministers have been notably opposed to the rule of Franco, but on the whole the present Cabinet is Liberal, with monarchical tendencies.

The opening session of the new council was held yesterday, and King Manuel II. placed himself in the hands of his Ministers. He appeared before them and in a voice shaking with emotion said:

"I am without experience either in science or politics. I place myself entirely in your hands, needing and believing in your patriotism and wisdom."

Arrests are being made by the wholesale in Lisbon and all suspicious persons at liberty are under police surveillance.

Up to last evening there had been no recurrence of disorders. The Portuguese frontier is being closely guarded to prevent the escape of suspects.

The city is still in the throes of intense excitement and the authorities continue to follow unceasingly the details of the plot which culminated in the assassination of the King and heir.

It was established yesterday that Buicé, one of the regicides, is a widower, with a daughter aged 7 and a son only a few months old.

The newspaper Noticias says one of the regicides who was killed was a Spaniard who was taken into custody recently in connection with the discovery of a depot of bombs, but was later released.

One of the men now under arrest is an Italian who played in the orchestra of a theatre in Lisbon. This man is in extreme condition of hysteria. His food in the prison is served him without knives or forks for fear that he will kill himself.

The principal regicide killed has been identified as Manuel Buiea, a sergeant in the Seventh Cavalry and a private tutor in this city. He is about 30 years old. The two other assassins who were killed are believed to be Portuguese.

London, Feb. 4.—It has been rumored for some time past that Great Britain proposed to interfere to restore quiet in Portugal. As a friend of Portugal, Great Britain has been using her moral influence to end the unsettled state of affairs in that country, and will continue to do so, but as for any interference in the internal affairs of Portugal, that is out of the question.

The Foreign Office has confidence that Portugal herself will be able to restore order. The British Atlantic fleet, which is now at Vigo, was to have visited Lisbon this week. To avoid the appearance that the British Government is attempting to interfere in Portuguese politics, only the British flagship, the battleship Exmouth, with Vice-Admiral Sir Ashton G. Curzon-Rowe on board, and one cruiser will go to the Tagus.

The tragedy had a depressing effect upon several national securities. Spanish and Russian shares weakening as well as Portuguese. Portuguese 3 per cents., which were quoted Saturday at 63, slumped yesterday to 60.

Madrid, Feb. 4.—The despatch of a cruiser to Lisbon is explained by the statement that the warship is to be put at the disposition of the Spanish Minister.

The Lisbon correspondent of The Imperial says that when the Dowager Maria Pia arrived at the arsenal the doctors were bathing the faces of the King and the crown prince. The Queen threw herself upon the body of her son, the King, and the doctors were obliged to remove her by force. When the Queen arose her robe was crimsoned with blood; then she swooned.

All travelers crossing the Portuguese frontier are being subjected to a rigorous examination.

On the evening of the assassination no bugles were sounded in the barracks of Lisbon, for fear that their notes would be taken as a signal that the Government had been overthrown.

Advices received here from Hueleva say that Portuguese families are taking refuge in great numbers on the islands of Christina and Ayamonte, a Spanish town on the Portuguese frontier.

Deliberately Planned.

The investigations of the police show that the murders were carefully planned. On Saturday the assassins met secretly in the back room of a cafe and there laid out every step of the plot which they were enabled to do, as all the details relating to the home-coming of the King had been made public. To each was assigned a post in the work of shooting down the members of the royal family, but lots were drawn for the selection of each particular victim. Those who drew Queen Amelie and Prince Manuel failed to carry out their bloody task.

The chamber in the palace where repose the bodies of King Carlos and the crown prince has been draped in mourning and arranged to represent a chapel. The biers are surrounded by lighted candles, and Queen Amelie, widow of the King and the Dawager Queen Maria Pia, his mother, watch continually at the side of their dead.

The body of the King is clad in the uniform of the commander of the army, while the prince wears a uniform of a captain of the Second Lancers. Several masses for the repose of the souls of the departed have been said in the mortuary chamber.

Funerals on Saturday.

The funerals will be held Feb. 8, and the bodies will lie in state probably beginning to-day. It is expected that the funerals will be attended by the Prince of Wales, Prince Charles of Bourbon, the Duke of Aosta, the cousin of King Victor Emmanuel, a special French embassy, and detachments of the foreign regiments of which the late King was honorary colonel. The condition of Queen Amelie, contrary to rumors, is relatively good.

Drunken Man Frozen.

Kingston, Feb. 4.—Yesterday morning a man named Charles McKay, was found frozen to death in a shed at Collins Bay. He had been drinking Saturday night with a man named Simmons, and it is thought he died. Simmons said nothing until the body was frozen stiff. Dr. Ross, coroner, went out and considered an inquest unnecessary, as the man evident got drunk, lay down and froze to death.

Galt Woman Severely Injured.

Galt, Feb. 4. Mrs. Geo. Aitken, aged 79 years, a widow, met with an accident which may result fatally. She was placing an article on a shelf in the cellarway when she fell to the bottom. She sustained a broken arm, dislocated thumb, and concussion of the brain.

The North American Life Assurance Co.

Held its Annual Meeting at its Home Office, in Toronto, on Thursday, the 30th day of January, 1908. The President, Mr. John L. Blaikie, was appointed Chairman, and the Managing Director, Mr. L. Goldman, Secretary, when the following report of the business of the Company for the year ended December 31st, 1907, was submitted :—

New Business The policies issued for the year, together with those revived, amounted to the sum of $4,622,635.00, being greater than the new business transacted for the previous year.

Saving in Expenses The business has continued to be conducted on a conservative basis, resulting in a further reduction in the ratio of expenses to premium income of over two per cent. This percentage of reduction has resulted in a material saving in expenses of $26,913.17, as compared with 1906.

Cash Income The cash income for the year from premiums, interest, etc., was $1,815,097.69, showing the satisfactory increase for the year of $68,553.69.

Payments to Policyholders The amount paid on policyholders' account was $607,347.44, and of this amount the sum of $266,825.25 represents paymepts for dividends, matured endowments, and investment policies.

Assets The assets increased during the year by the sum of $930,811.01, and now amount to $8,735,576.08.

Net Surplus Increased After making ample provision for all liabilities, including the special Contingent Fund of $155,173.55 to provide for the temporary depreciation in the value of debentures, bonds and stocks, and paying the sum of $97,304.79 for dividends to policy holders during the year, there was an addition made to the net surplus which now amounts to $573,556.04, the year's work from every standpoint being highly satisfactory.

Assets Safely Invested The assets of the Company continue to be, as heretofore, invested in the best class of securities; a detailed list of these will be published with the Annual Report for distribution.

Monthly Audit A monthly examination of the books of the Company was made by the Auditors, and at the close of the year they made a thorough scrutiny of all the securities held by the Company. In addition to the examination of the securities by the Auditors, a committee of the Board, consisting of two Directors, made an independent audit each quarter.

L. GOLDMAN, Managing Director J. L. BLAIKIE, President.

The Annual Report showing marked proofs of the solid position of the Company, and containing a list of the securities held, and also those upon which the Company has made collateral loans, will be sent in due course to each policyholder.

Splendid Array of Famous Pictures At Art Exhibit

Opening Was a Success—Address by Mrs. Dignam of Toronto—Fine Exhibit of Homespuns

VERY RARE OPPORTUNITY

The appreciation of art, as it appeals to us in pictures and sketches from the brushes and pens of distinguished artists, is an accomplishment common only to a few. The majority of us, while we may admire a work of art in the abstract, overlook the intrinsic value of the picture — the harmonizing of the objects, the perspective and the expression which the artist desires to convey. This is an accomplishment enjoyed by a very few, but which is being rapidly developed among those who show any indication of appreciation for such work, and no organization is doing more to advance a love for the beautiful in art than the Woman's Art Association in Canada. A successful effort has been made by that organization in securing for lovers of art, works from the most eminent European schools, including the famous Dutch pictures, and exhibiting them in Toronto.

The Peterborough branch of the association must also be complimented on its industry in securing such a treat as those Dutch pictures which are now on exhibition in the old Bank of Montreal building, and which were last night open to view for the first time. There are, perhaps, few who realise that they are among the foremost in the world and from the brushes of the most eminent artists of modern times. Lovers of art—even those who have the slightest appreciation for such works—are missing a rare treat if they fail to study the pictures that are now on exhibition here. They belong to the finest collection that has ever been in Canada, and eclipse all that have ever been on exhibition in New York and the larger cities of the United States.

The exhibit includes paintings in oils and water-colours and most beautiful etchings. Last evening the upper rooms in the Bank of Montreal were comfortably filled with some of the elite in art circles, and the enjoyment derived was given expression to in most complimentary remarks.

The wall of the large front room contains rows of oils, some in pastel, and of water-colours. A number of etchings graced the mantel-piece and these were by no means the least admired. Among those especially appreciated were the "Volendam Flirtation" done in pastel by Slater; "At the Races," a crayon sketch, also by Slater; "The Old Man Smoking," by Josef Israels; "Winter," by Golding; and "Autumn," by Van Driesten. It is, of course, difficult to particularize, as the whole exhibit is worthy of commendation, and to be appreciated needs but to be seen.

Another room contained exhibits of homespuns made in the Lower Province, including some of the most splendid varieties ever seen in Peterborough. A third apartment is adorned with pictures, mostly etchings, and beautiful hand-made lace of Irish and Italian make. The former was manufactured in Toronto by Irish woman and is certainly a revelation to those who are interested and can appreciate its aesthetic as well as its pecuniary value.

President's Address

When all had admired the beauty of the exhibits, Hon. J. R. Stratton, who acted as chairman, introduced, in a brief address, Mrs. Dignam, the president of the Dominion Association. He conveyed to Mr. Montizambert the thanks of the Peterborough branch of the society for the use of the rooms, and referred to the remarkable progress made by the association in the past twenty years. It was a pleasure for lovers of art in Peterborough to have an opportunity of seeing some of the works of the first masters in modern times. The value of the pictures in the one room, he understood, was about $20,000, and the local branch of the society deserved great credit for bringing them to Peterborough.

Mrs. Dignam was then introduced to those present, and she outlined the work and the extent of the Art Association of Canada. By the enthusiasm displayed by those interested in the work, the association had gradually grown since its organization twenty-one years ago, so that now it embraces every province in the Dominion. One of the great purposes in bringing to Canada the Dutch pictures for exhibition was to afford the Canadian artists an opportunity to study pictures from from the hands of the masters.

The work of the association is by no means localized. It aims at national interests. It must be linked together with other nations, and it now has become affiliated with English, European and United States societies. The association has brought out six large foreign exhibits — this being the sixth. Mrs. Dignam congratulated the Peterborough branch on its work of bringing the exhibit here, as it meant a great deal of expense and care, and she hoped that the citizens of Peterborough would appreciate the best works of the leading artists of the day.

Why Dutch Pictures?

Dutch pictures were chosen because they are the most beautiful. The Dutch are a sane race, and it needs sanity of mind to produce sanity in art. There is always an important place given to them because they are simple and sincere, and appeal to all. They have been a great investment as they do not depreciate in value, but rather increase.

The Scotch pictures are next in order, but they do not contain the perfect harmony that characterizes the others. German paintings would not be understood in this country. There are no such schools of painting and etching as the Dutch schools, and such a collection was never before exhibited in Canada, as they are among the finest examples of the great artists of the present day.

A vote of thanks, heartily endorsed, was moved by Messrs. D. W. Dumble and V. Eastwood, and tendered to Mrs. Dignam for the able and instructive address she presented. The serving of refreshments brought the opening night of the exhibition to a close. It will be open each morning and evening to the public until Friday, and also on Friday night.

What Joy to be Freed From Piles

THERE IS SCARCELY A SUFFERER IN THIS BROAD LAND BUT CAN BE CURED BY

The utter misery and despair of the sufferer from a severe case of piles, or hemorrhoids cannot be described in words.

It is not only the intense itching and stinging which in themselves are bad enough, not only the dread of a surgical operation, with its pain, expense and danger, but the whole system seems to be undermined, and as the ailment drags on from day to day, and year to year, one becomes discouraged, despondent, and in despair gives up all hope of cure.

The joy which cured ones experience on being cured from itching, bleeding and protruding piles, is told in the thousands of letters which we have received from time to time.

You need not tell the writers of these letters that there is a case of which Dr. Chase's Ointment will not cure, for they will not believe it. They alone know how they suffered, and also know that Dr. Chase's Ointment cured them. In many cases the cures were almost like miracles, so little ointment was need. In other cases, while relief came quickly, cure was only affected by the persistent use of several boxes of the Ointment.

W. R. Talbot, of Talbot Bros., tobacco merchants, 362 George street, Peterborough, Ont., states: "It is from a desire to help other sufferers that I offer a statement of my experience with Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for itching piles. I was for a long time troubled with this unpleasant and torturing disease, and though I tried many treatments remained unsured until I came across Dr. Chase's Ointment. It was highly recommended to me, and I find that every word of praise that is given to it is true. I can truthfully say that I am completely cured, and knowing the misery that this ailment produces, I am anxious for others to know of the surprising virtues of Dr. Chase's Ointment."

It matters not how long you have suffered, if you have itching, bleeding or protruding piles Dr. Chase's Ointment will relieve and cure you, and it is the only positive and guaranteed cure for every form of piles; 60 cts. a box at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Pass Resolution Against Sunday Funeral Idea

None Will be Held Unless Absolutely Necessary Say Ministerial Association

THE TEMPERANCE MEETING

The Ministerial Association met yesterday morning at 10 a.m. for their regular meeting, when there were present, Revs. Potter, Brace, Dr. Langfeldt, Pearson, Manning, Coon, Pogue, Canon Davidson, Webb and Keith.

A communication was received from the W.C.T.U., in reference to holding temperance prayer meeting in the local churches and the Association decided to reserve the third Wednesday of February for that purpose. A communication was also received from Mr. E. L. Goodwill, secretary of the Children's Aid Society, acknowledging the contribution from the Ministerial Association received at the closing meeting of week of prayer. The question of Sunday funerals was taken up. The matter has been before the Association for some time and after a conference with the authorities of the Little Lake Cemetery and investigation into conditions in other cities, the following resolution was unanimously passed by the Association:—

That the Ministerial Association feel it necessary in the interests of religion to strongly discourage the holding of funerals on the Lord's Day except in cases of absolute necessity and to this end we invite the willing cooperation of citizens generally. That notice is hereby given that the services of members of the Association will not be available for the above purpose unless in the opinion of the President, the circumstances of the case justify exceptional treatment.

There was no paper discussed on account of the morning being taken up in matters of local interest.

Decision Given By Court In A Case of Local Interest

Mr. John Green Receives Letter From Attorney in Buffalo — Rev. Mr. Campbell Appointed Administrator of The Campbell Estate

WAS HEARD IN ROCHESTER

Mr. John Green who is looking after the interests of the Lowrie family in connection with the dispute over the estate of the late Dr. Campbell has received a letter from Mr. A. G. Mansfield, a Buffalo lawyer, which throws some light on the case.

It will be remembered that Dr. Pfohl obtained an ex-parte order for the administration of the estate of Dr. Campbell immediately after his death and before the relatives were aware of the fact. Afterwards the Rev. Jas. Campbell of California, made application to the court in Buffalo to have himself appointed administrator in lieu of Dr. Pfohl, but his application was refused. From this decision he appealed to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court sitting in Rochester with the result as shown in the following letter:—

"Dear Sir,—You are advised that the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court sitting in Rochester, decided the question as to who should be administrator of the Campbell estate in favour of Rev. Mr. Campbell by a divided court three to two. The two judges who dissented wrote an opinion and the attorneys here are inclined to think they are right instead of the three judges who favoured the other side. The order is to be settled before said court on Monday and then the case will be appealed as I am advised to the Court of Appeals, the highest court in the State. Of course the question will not be settled until that court passes upon it, and this will probably take six months or longer.

The trial before the referee as to the undertaker's bill, amounting to 1,800 has been practically suspended as there has been no hearing since it last wrote you and I presume it will remain as it is until the court of appeals has decided the question above referred to."

5. That Alfred Parker be engaged as driver in the fire hall at a salary the same as the other drivers, his duties commencing February 1st, 1908.

6. That this committee be authorized to purchase 1,000 feet of hose, one fountain stream with siamese connections, three hose branches, two hydrant gates, one alarm indicator, twenty-five protection key boxes for fire alarm boxes, suits for the drivers, engineers, and foreman in the fire department and one pair of rubber boots.

Manufacturers

The Manufactures Committee reported as follows:

1. The City Solicitor received a letter from W. H. Biggar, for the Grand Trunk Railway, saying that the railway intended to make application to put in a siding to the Matthews Company's factory and asking that the city accept the notice given by the Matthews Company. Your committee authorized the solicitor to reply that so far as the city is concerned the notice given by the Matthews Company will be accepted as if given by the railway company, and that as there are several matters to be dealt with by the Board of Railway Commissioners affecting Peterborough that the Board be requested to meet here.

2. We recommend that the fixed assessment for the Auburn Woollen Company include the vacant land belonging to the company on the east side of the river, between the river and river road, on condition that the fixed assessment does not include school taxes.

3. We recommend that a by-law be prepared to change the name of the street known as Concession street and the River road to Kendry street.

4. Your committee was approached in regard to a proposition made by Mr. George Kent, of Toronto, to establish a cold storage plant here and asking for a fixed assessment and a number of licenses for carts for selling candies and peanuts and requesting information on other points. We recommend that as there is a cold storage plant being put in by another firm the clerk be instructed to reply that the city could not give a fixed assessment or the licenses.

5. We recommend that the council send an invitation to the delegates of the British Dairy Farmers' Association to visit Peterborough and that the Legal and Reception Committee be authorized to act with committees of the County Council, Dairymen's Association and Board of Trade in arranging for entertaining them.

Legislation

The Special Legislation Committee, Ald. Elliott, chairman, recommended as follows:

1. That we apply for legislation fixing the number of aldermen at twelve.

2. That a cheque for $100 be issued to the City Solicitor to forward to the Legislature as is required in connection with the city's bill.

All the reports of the committees were passed.

By-laws Passed

The following bylaws were passed:—

Bylaw No. 1359, to authorize the borrowing of $10,000 for extensions to waterworks system during 1908.

Bylaw No. 1361, to amend bylaws 1270, 1271 and 1272 of the city of Peterborough.

Bylaw No. 1362, to authorize the execution of an agreement with the Bank of Montreal.

Bylaw No. 1363, appointing Messrs T. B. McGregor and R. F. McGregor assessors for 1908 at a salary of $500.

Bylaw No. 1364, to fix a charge for certain sewers in the city of Peterborough.

Bylaw No. 1366, a bylaw to fix the assessment of the Peter Hamilton Co., Limited.

Bylaw No. 1367, a bylaw authorizing the execution of petitions to the Legislative Assembly and the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario.

Bylaw No. 1368, a bylaw to correct an error in the assessment roll of the city for 1908.

Bylaw No. 1369, a bylaw to appoint A. Parker a driver for the fire department at a salary of $525.

Most of the bylaws were passed without discussion and the majority were taken as read. In connection with the bylaw appointing the assessors, Ald. Johnston asked if the Council thought the remuneration, $500 was sufficient for the work, in view of the fact that it had increased during recent years.

Ald. Morgan was opposed to any increase. He thought that if the assessors did good work they might be given a bonus at the end of the year, and if they didn't do good work they would be too well paid as it was. Ald. Buller concurred in this opinion, and no action was taken.

Ald. Morgan objected to the clause in the bylaw in regard to legislation in connection with the Colonial Weaving Company, saying he did not think the Council should carry the matter through until the company had carried out its agreement.

Ald. Morrow, Neill, Elliott and others, however, pointed out that the city should be prepared to carry out its part, and they would then be in a position, provided the company failed to do its work, to collect the costs of submitting the bylaw to the people.

Ald. Morgan moved, seconded by Ald. McIntyre, that the clause be struck out, but the amendment to the bylaw was defeated, only the mover and seconder voting for it.

On motion of Ald. Neill, seconded by Ald. Tovey, Ald. Elliott, chairman of the Legislation Committee, the Mayor, City Solicitor and Ald. Phelan were appointed a deputation to present the city's legislation before the Private Bills Committee of the Legislature.

Ald. Johnston brought out several matters in connection with the Aylmer street and Park street drains, and also in regard to the line fence between Mr. Higgins' property and the gravel pit, which he thought ought to be referred to the Board of Works, after which the Council adjourned.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalps of these same men once became infested with dandruff germs the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. Baldness would ensue as the final result. Newbro's Herpicide kills these germs and stimulates unhealthy hair to abundant growth. Herpicide is a pleasant hair dressing as well as a dandruff cure and contains not an atom of injurious substance. Sold by leading druggists. Roads in The Back Country Are in a Terrible Condition

Mr. J. Richardson, who returned Monday after a most arduous trip to his lumber limits, eight miles north of Buckhorn, reports that the roads in the back country are in a terrible state. Mr. Richardson and his party left camp Saturday morning on route for Peterborough to procure supplies, and were on the road until after 2 o'clock in the afternoon. There was no sign of the road on Saturday, and four men had to go ahead of the team and try to break trail. The party spent Saturday night at Buckhorn, and leaving there Sunday morning at 8.30, were until 5.30 in the evening making seven miles. Sunday night the party was at Emmamorra and was enabled to reach the city safely yesterday afternoon, the road between Bridgenorth and Peterborough being fairly open.

APPLICATION FOR ASSESSORSHIP WAS A HUMOROUS EPISTLE

Among the applications for the position of assessors read at the meeting of the council last night was one which was evidently intended as a practical joke. To it was attached the name of a well known local gentleman who it was certain had nothing to do with sending in the communication. The letter which was as follows, was read and loud laughter on the part of the aldermen:—

City Clerk Peterborough:

Dear Sir,—I see by the papers you are advertising for an assessor and I therefore make formal application for the position. As you are aware I have been a resident of the town for nigh unto a hundred years, and during that time have paid thousands of dollars taxes and police court fines. I am now out of a job and as I have never got anything in return for this money, I hope you will give me the vacant sit.

I am willing to carry my own books and ink bottle and will do the work without bother of a helper, who would incur great danger of being run over by the street cars during our preambulations through the city.

I am a hard shell Baptist, but would be willing in order to secure the job to join any church you may name.

Salary not so much an object as strenuous work and a chance to equalize the assessment which is like the rocky roads to Dublin, mighty uneven.

MAYOR WILL GIVE CHAIRMEN A FREE HAND THIS YEAR

Mayor Rush made an announcement at last night's council meeting that was received with much applause by the aldermen. It was in connection with the policy which he stated he intended to pursue during the year in regard to the chairmanships of the committees. The Mayor intimated that he intended to allow the chairmen of the different committees a free hand and would not attempt to dictate to them. He would be glad to advise them on any matter but would hold them responsible for the work of their departments and did not intend to run the committees. He was confident that the chairmen would do excellent work in their different branches of the city's business.

MESSERS. McGRATH AND McGREGOR ARE CITY ASSESSORS FOR 1908

Messrs. T B McGrath and R F McGregor will be the assessors for the city for 1908 being appointed by the council last night. The applications were opened in the Committee of the Whole Council and there were found to be nine applicants for the position. It was decided to settle the matter by ballot and the appointment was quickly made. On the first ballot Mr. McGrath was found to have 11 votes and Mr. McGregor 7. The action of the committee was afterwards ratified in council.

The applicants for the position were Messrs. T B McGrath, R F McGregor, Dawson Kennedy, H Carveth, J P. Bryson, W A Bell, W Aldridge, W H Thompson and L D Letellier.

When the matter came up in committee, Ald. Morgan moved seconded by Ald. McIntyre that the assessors be appointed by open vote. Ald. Johnston moved in amendment that the appointment be made by ballot. This was seconded by Ald. Phelan and the amendment carried, although there was some discussion as to whether or not appointment by ballot was legal. It was stated that no vote of the council could be taken by ballot but this objection was met by the opinion of some of the Aldermen that the fact that the council was meeting in committee of the whole, not in council.

The result of the ballot was as follows:— McGrath 11, McGregor 7, Aldridge 1, Bryson 1, Letellier 1, Kennedy 1.

Ald. Bradburn was absent and the Mayor did not vote on the measure.

Mr. McGrath has been assessor for many years, while Mr. McGregor is a new man in the position.

SMITH STREET BRIDGE SHOULD BE PERMANENTLY REBUILT

The Smith street bridge, according to the City Engineer, should be rebuilt in permanent material as soon as possible and is in immediate need of repairs. The following report from the Engineer in this connection was read at last night's meeting of the City Council:—

Gentlemen,—As instructed I have examined Smith street bridge in company with Mr. Evans, street commissioner, and beg to report as follows:—

The piers appear to be in as good condition as they were last winter at which time they were very considerably strengthened.

The east abutment requires a new course of timber on top, where the super-structure has sunk into it. The bottom chord on north side of last span at shore-end requires to be renewed as well as several main braces and guard rails. The west span shows a tendancy to lean out of plumb and I would recommend placing two gallows frames across this span similar to those on east span.

The estimated cost for these repairs is $275. There will, however, require to be some further expenditure for flooring plank during the season.

With careful watching and occasional repairs this bridge can be maintained for another season, but action should be taken at once to provide money for rebuilding in permanent material. In the meantime the repairs should be made during this winter.

T. A. S. HAY,
City Engineer.

The report was referred to the Board of Works.

DEPUTATION GOES TO TORONTO

Will Inspect The Lights There And in Brantford

A deputation composed of Ald. Johnston, chairman; Ald. Buller, McIntyre and Turner of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, with Ald. Morgan, and Foreman Pikesham of the firehall, left this afternoon on the C.P.R. train for Toronto. They will visit North Toronto for the purpose of making a thorough investigation of the enclosed arc lamps in use at that place in order to enable the committee to be in a position to make a complete report to the Council with respect to the proposal to change the present system of street lighting.

It is probable the deputation will go on to Brantford to-morrow and inspect the enclosed arcs there to-morrow night, returning to the city on Thursday. At last night's Council meeting the deputation was given authority to visit North Toronto and other places if thought necessary.

SAT ON A STOVE TO KEEP WARM

Bank Manager Wants to Supply The Household With Wood

A local bank manager who has been taking a keen interest in the work of the relief officer, called at his store this morning. He said he had read in the paper that a certain family in this city was without proper fuel and was burning green wood in the stove. The little children used to sit on the stove to keep warm. One day a kind lady heard of the distress of the family, called, and before going away added a considerable quantity of dry wood to the fire. The little boy came in and sat on the stove as usual, and as the fire kept getting warmer he shifted his position. The stove became intensely hot and the little boy was severely burned. The financier wanted to know if there was such a family in Peterborough, and if so he would send it two loads of dry lumber. The idea of a large family having to stay in a house, a day like this with only a smouldering fire in the stove was very pitiable.

The relief officer had not read the story and thought it must have appeared in a Toronto newspaper.

"Well, I'll give the wood away any time you need it," was the banker's parting remark.

There's Danger in Every Cold
Once you come to realize the danger of neglecting coughs and colds, you will not run the risk of neglecting your cough and depending on any cough medicine" the druggist may choose to hand you out, and will insist on getting a medicine with a reputation, such as Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. OLD AGE PENSIONS DISCUSSED

Committee Will Be Appointed to Secure Information.

FORTY MILLIONS REQUIRED

Mr. Pringle Brings Subject Before the House of Commons—Motion In Favor of I. C. R. Extension—Supplementary Estimates Make Provision For Three Millions Relief For Farmers In West.

Ottawa, Feb. 4.—Supplementary estimates were laid on the table yesterday afternoon by Finance Minister Fielding, amounting to nearly three million dollars, for the assistance of the farmers of Alberta and Saskatchewan, whose crops were damaged or destroyed by the early frosts of last fall. In the first place the Government proposes to purchase seed grain and distribute it among the homestead settlers of the two provinces, the cost to be repaid by them at 5 per cent. Then the Government will lend each of the two Provincial Governments sums for the purchase of seed grain for settlers whose patents have been taken out. The amounts are as follows:

To provide an amount to purchase seed grain for homestead settlers in the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan, the cost of said seed grain to be repaid by the settlers, with interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, and until repayment, to be a lien or charge upon the lands of the settlers held under homestead entry, $585,000.

To provide an amount to enable the Government of Canada to advance to the Government of Alberta by way of loan a sum for the purchase of seed grain for settlers, $440,000.

To provide an amount to enable the Government of Canada to advance to the Government of Saskatchewan by way of loan for the purchase of seed grain for settlers, $1,825,000. A total of $2,850,000.

Sir Wilfrid also told Mr. McCarthy that the Government had taken action to secure compensation from th United States for the seizure of th steamer Coquitlam. The Supren Court of the United States declared the seizure illegal. "The Government has been and is continuing to press for settlement of all outstanding claims against the United States Government," said the Premier.

Mr. Marshall (Elgin) asked if the Government intended spending any money on Port Bruce harbor. Mr. Pugsley replied that $855 was placed in the estimates for that work.

Mr. Oliver told Mr. Marshall that the Government had no information on the subject of Gen. Booth's alleged statement that he had "wired the Government of Canada and had received a reply to the effect that of the 20,000 immigrants sent out by the army during the last two or three years, a hundred could not be found who were out of employment."

Mr. Bennett Attacks Globe.

Rising to a question of privilege, Mr. Bennett (Simcoe) complained of an editorial paragraph in The Globe, which charged that he (Bennett), in the public accounts committee the other day, had brought up the question of Matchedash and Penetanguishene dredging contracts "to get level" with Hon. A. G. MacKay, a political opponent. The paragraph went on to give an account of what transpired in the committee, which was absolutely devoid of truth.

Mr. Bennett congratulated "the petty paragrapher" on being able to "meet the wishes of the grafters who own The Globe." The account of the proceedings of the committee, on another page of the same paper, however, was written, said Mr. Bennett, by "a gentleman."

Mr. Foster asked the Minister of Public Works if the plans of the new departmental building would be laid before the House before the discussion on the proposed Grand Trunk hotel.

Mr. Pugsley replied that, though a prize was awarded for the best plans, the Government was not obliged to accept them.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier accepted a resolution of R. A. Pringle (Con., Stormont), asking for the appointment of a select committee of nine to consider a scheme of state aid for making provision for the aged and deserving poor.

Mr. Pringle referred to the several committees and the commission which had looked into the old age pension scheme in Great Britain, pointing out that it was the committee of Mr. Chaplin, which had evolved the scheme which was now regarded as the only practical proposal. In New Zealand the scheme of old age pensions had given every satisfaction, thanks to the efforts of Premier Seddon. Canada could well afford a pension scheme. He did not believe in the universal scheme, which provided that every man at the age of 65 should be pensioned, but rather in Chaplin's scheme, which proposed the pensioning of every British male subject of 60 years of age or over on from 5 to 7 shillings a week, provided the person to be pensioned had never been sentenced to prison without the option of a fine, had not received poor relief and was not in receipt of an income of 10 shillings a week and providing also that he could prove that he had made an honest effort to provide for his old age.

Mr. Pringle Congratulated.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier congratulated Mr. Pringle upon his persistency and upon the manner in which he had brought the subject to the attention of the House. He did not think a better presentment could have been made. The Government accepted the resolution. It was not convinced, but would approach the subject with another mind. Whatever view might be expressed Sir Wilfrid was of the opinion that the assistance suggested should not be given as a matter of charity, but as compensation. He did not favor pensions for millionaires, although the member for Nanaimo (Mr. Smith) did not think there should be any discrimination, and his views were entitled to respect. What Sir Wilfrid thought was that the law should come to the rescue of those persons who were not able to provide for their old age. Under present conditions it would be impossible for many to contribute a portion of their wages.

The view that there should be no contributions was wrong, as in Sir Wilfrid's opinion this would lead to slovenliness.

An Enquiry Granted.

Sir Wilfrid concluded by granting the enquiry. The Government in so doing was not committing itself to any scheme of old age pensions.

Mr. Lefurgey (Con., P. E. I.) also supported the pension scheme. Finance Minister Fielding, in closing the discussion, said it should be remembered that there are 270,000 people in Canada over 65 years of age. At $3 a week each the pension fund would amount to forty millions a year, which was two-thirds of the taxation at the present time. The resolution was adopted.

Hon. H. R. Emmerson spoke to the House last night, when he urged the extension of the Intercolonial Railway by the acquisition of branch lines that would serve as feeders, and the construction of the main line to industrial centres in Ontario and the West.

Mr. Emmerson said he admired the splendid optimism of Sir Charles Tupper, who had a prophetic vision of what the I. C. R. should be. "God hates a coward," cried Mr. Emmerson in a burst of enthusiasm. The Government should have courage to go forward. "We are here as leaders, not as time-servers and opportunists," the ex-Minister said.

Mr. Emmerson's Resolution.

He closed by moving this resolution:

"That in the opinion of this House it is desirable in furtherance of the transportation interests of this Dominion, that the sphere of influence of the Intercolonial Railway as a Government-operated railway should be widened and extended by securing by lease or otherwise such of the branch lines of railways now connecting with the Intercolonial, as will serve as direct and profitable feeders to the traffic of the said railway, and by providing for the extension of the Government operation of said railway to industrial "centres of Western Canada, and to a point or points on the great lakes of Canada."

ARRESTED FOR MURDER.

Demented Man Kills His Wife Then Informs Neighbors.

London, Ont., Feb. 4.—James Hartwick, of Cobblehill, ten miles north of here, was brought to the city last night charged with the murder of his wife.

The tragedy was enacted some time on Sunday, the alleged slayer being an old man who has resided in the district for some time and is considered weak mentally.

Some time on Sunday when the storm was at its height, the family of Mr. Day, a neighbor, were surprised to see Hartwick enter their yard and shortly after appear at their door. He was attired only in an undershirt, trousers and pair of ragged socks.

After he got warm he was urged to go home but refused, saying: "I cannot go to bed because there is blood in it."

No attention was paid to this, but later it was thought well to investigate, and Constable Fairclough of Thorndale went to the house and found Mrs. Hartwick dead on the bed, her body frightfully slashed.

Nationalists Fined Again.

Quebec, Que., Feb. 4.—The Nationalists of Montreal was yesterday condemned to another fine of $400 by Hon. Judge Lemieux in a suit taken against it by Hon. Adelard Turgeon. Some time ago Hon. Judge Simon condemned this paper to a similar amount of damages for having published an article in which they accused the minister of perjury in his evidence in the Prevost-Asselin trial, but as they repeated the accusation in the plea which they filed the Hon. Mr. Turgeon took another action against them for this, and the judgment rendered yesterday was upon the latter action.

Farmer Lay Down to Die.

Belleville, Feb. 4.—Frances Weese of Consecon started to cross the bay from Trenton to Prince Edward and was caught in the big storm in the middle of the bay.

Yesterday morning one of his horses turned up at home, and a rescuing party found Weese wrapped in robes under the sleigh in the centre of the bay. He was badly frozen and may die.

C. P. R. Warehouse Gutted at Montreal—100,000 Bags of Flour Destroyed—Loss Amounts to $150,000—Lime Causes Blaze In Sawmills at St. John, N. B.—Cleveland Plain Dealer Burned Out.

Halifax, N.S., Feb. 4.—News just arrived in this city by wireless that the British steamer St. Cuthbert from Liverpool, Eng., for New York, is afire off Yarmouth, N.S. No particulars.

Later—Wireless says St. Cuthbert is burning off Cape Sable. Fifteen of the crew jumped overboard and were drowned. Thirty-five stayed on board and were rescued by White Star Liner Cymric, passing vicinity at the time.

Montreal, Feb. 4.—Damage variously estimated up to $150,000 was caused yesterday by a fire which broke out in the Molson warehouse half an hour after noon. The portion in which the fire originated is that used as the Canadian Pacific Railway storage, in which was contained flour, the property of the Lake of the Woods Milling Co. and the Oliver Milling Co.

In the portion of the building destroyed by fire there were stored 100,000 bags of flour, and it is estimated that the greater part, if, indeed, not all, will be a total loss, being either burned or wet to such an extent as being beyond all hope of salvage.

The burned portion is rather more than a third of the whole block, and the approximate loss is $25,000.

The buildings are more than a hundred years old, and were built by John H. R. Molson. The whole is covered by insurance.

High Tide Causes Fire.

St. John, N. B., Feb. 4.—The large sawmill in course of erection and nearly completed, at Jacquet River bridge, Gloucester County, was completely destroyed by fire on Sunday afternoon. The fire is thought to have originated from the high tide getting into a large quantity of lime in the basement. The mill was the property of the Lawson Lumber Company. The loss is heavy.

Plain Dealer Burned Out.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 4.—Fire yesterday destroyed the plant of The Plain Dealer Publishing Company, entailing a loss of nearly half a million. A fierce gale which was blowing swept the flames eastward, and for a time the city hall building was threatened. The fire burned all the afternoon and by nightfall was under control.

The fire started at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, supposedly from crossed electric wires. Although the firemen were early on the scene, the flames spread with great rapidity. In the early part of the afternoon the floors fell, carrying with them twenty-two linotype machines and other valuable machinery.

The Leader, News and Press made offers of assistance, and last night The Plain Dealer was published, partly from The Leader building.

CREW FOUGHT FOR LIFE.

Brig Aquila Torn to Pieces by Series of Gales.

Georgetown, P.E.I., Feb. 4.—Capt. Basil Kelly of Summerside and three members of the crew of the shipwrecked brig Aquila arrived at their island homes yesterday from Naples.

The Aquila, lumber laden, left Shelburne, Nov. 30, for New York. She encountered a series of terrific gales one of which sent the Mount Temple on the rocks, and for a week was at the mercy of the winter seas. For five days the crew were exposed to terrible hardships, suffering from cold and hunger. The vessel sprung a leak, the sails were blown to pieces and she became a complete wreck and waterlogged. The crew only wanted a favorable opportunity to abandon her. She was then 200 miles southeast of New York, being driven to eastward.

Two steamers passed by without responding to their signals of distress. On Dec. 8, the Italia, from New York to Naples, picked them up, taking them to the latter port. One of the men, exhausted by incessant labor at the pumps and exposure, became violently insane, but subsequently recovered. They sailed from Naples to London, thence to Halifax, arriving there on Friday last.

League Teams Strengthen For To-morrow's Games

Two of the Best Games of The Season are Promised — Championship May be Decided

FAST HOCKEY EXPECTED

Will the Strathconas annex the city league championship to-morrow night, or will Lakefield trim the High Commissioners and by so doing leave two teams tied for the honours The fans are busy over this problem while there is just as much speculation over the game between the High Lifes and Norwood, the winner of which will stand a chance of being tied with the Strathconas for the championship.

The High Lifes and Norwood come together first at 8 o'clock and the game should be the best in the league so far. Both teams are making every effort to strengthen up for the battle and will have their strongest line of the season. Norwood will have Kempt, Pearce, Doherty and Scott on the forward line and there are sure to be anxious moments for the High Lifes defence when that quartette sweeps down the ice. There will be some changes in the High Lifes seven for to-morrow that will make the team more formidable than ever and the battle from here looks like the best exhibition of the season, an oven money bet and take your choice.

The Straths had a great work out last night, all their city league team being out and they will try out the their fastest seven to-morrow night, taking no chances up they realize that Lakefield are no mean adversaries. The Cementville seven are confident of putting it over the red and white team, making several changes in their line-up which should result in a much stronger team. The fate of the championship practically depends upon this game and the sixty minutes play will be boiling over with excitement.

It is the best bill the city league has ever offered and promises to attract a record crowd.

THE FIRST DEFEAT FOR CRESSMAN'S

Quaker Oats Company's Team Tripled The Score on Dry Goods Seven

Cressman'shitherto invincible hockey team were defeated for the first time this season at Brock street rink last night, going down before the Quaker Oats Company's in a hard fought game, by 3 to 1. The smile men lead by 3—0 at half time but the George street aggregation had the best of the second half. The game was very rough in spots and fast at all times. Sturdee was the best of the winners, while Tisdale and Darling were the best of the Cressman seven. P. J. Dunnugan refereed satisfactorily and the teams were as follows:

Quaker Oats Co.	Cressman's
	Goal
Sullivan
	point
Scarlight
	cover
Heaslip
	rover
Sturdee centre
Pratt
	right wing
Rightmeyer left wing
Smeaton

Captain, manager, goal-keeper Titterson, of Cressman's, was off colour last night and the dry goods men attribute the defeat to that cause. They say that they had as many shots as had the Quakers, but the latter'sdefence was strong while manager Titterson misjudged the heaves that were made at him and which should have been turned to one side.

"Stand forth you miserable wretch, a beggar, and in rags".

KEENE SEVEN WON FROM HASTINGS

Won Easily in a Trent Valley League Game by 10 to 4

Keene, Feb. 1.—The local hockey team defeated Hastings in a match played in Keene rink last evening by a score of 10—4, but the score does not nearly represent the superiority of the local team, as if they had wished it the tally might have been much larger, for they could score whenever they wished. The game was well attended. Keene's line-up was as follows:

Goal—Dean.
Point—Speirs.
Cover Point—Quinn.
Rover—Newton.
Centre—McCarthy.

J. J. Dickson, as referee, proved satisfactory to all concerned.

The next league game in Keene rink will be Ken eeva. Norwood, on February 21st, when the local team hope to make up for their defeat at Norwood a couple of weeks ago.

Suffered From Heart and Nerve Troubles FOR THE Last Ten Years.

The heart has supplied to it two sets of nerves, one set which quickens, the other which slows its action. The proper action of these nerves, so important to the well-being of the heart, depends upon the general condition of the nervous system. If there be nerve derangement of any kind it is bound to produce all the various phenomena of heart derangement.

Knowing the intricate structure of the heart, and being aware how diseases of the nerves affect the heart, we have combined in Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a treatment that will cure all forms of nervous disorders as well as act on the heart itself, and in this is the secret of their success in curing so many cases of heart trouble which have defied all other treatment.

Mrs. John Riley, Douro, Ont., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from heart and nerve troubles for the last ten years. After trying many remedies and doctoring for two years, without the least benefit, I decided to give Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a trial. I am thankful to say that, after using nine boxes, I am entirely cured, and would recommend them to all sufferers."

Price 50c. per box or three for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

LADIES TEAM READY FOR GAME

Feminine Seven are Confident of Trimming the Rough Riders

The hockey event of the season will be the game Thursday night between the Peterborough young ladies' hockey club and the Rough Riders, to be played at Brock street rink, beginning at 8 o'clock. The ladies' team has been practising faithfully and promises to defeat their masculine opponents Thursday night. They will practice again to-morrow after which the line-up for the big game will be announced.

The Rough Riders are experiencing difficulty in securing seven skirts of a uniform design for the game. One of the conditions is that the boys must wear skirts, and this is expected to prove a decided handicap to them, and they will be futher hampered by being forced to use only one hand during the second half.

The girls are playing great combination and shooting well, and the Rough Riders will have troubles of their own.

The 57th Regiment Band will be in attendance and there will be skating for an hour after the game. The proceeds will go to the Children's Aid Society.

Explains Condition The Railways Were In Sunday

The Toronto Star of last night says: The Star had a conversation this morning with Mr. F. D. Kerr of the firm of Dennistoun, Pack and Kerr, of Peterborough, and learned of the antics the snow king has been playing east of Toronto.

"The drifts along the railway line are awful," said Mr. Kerr. "Most of them are six feet deep or over, and extend for miles."

He then went on to give a sample of the way the railways have been hit.

"The C. P. R. train for Montreal that left Toronto at 10 o'clock on Saturday night was passed at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon twenty miles this side of Peterborough," he said.

"The train from Montreal that should have arrived in Toronto at 7 in the morning got in at 6 o'clock last night."

At 5 o'clock yesterday morning the passengers on the Montreal train were awakened by the Pullman porter at Sharbot Lake.

"Better have some coffee," said the porter. "It's 5 o'clock; we're stuck in a drift and don't know when we will get out."

All the passengers, said Mr. Kerr, were warm in their praise of all the company did to help them while they were stalled.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—In your issue of yesterday a letter signed "7 a.m.," told of negligence of snowplough men. It seems to me he had little to write about. The storm was the worst in years and I think, as do many others that the men in charge handled it with precision. The results of such a storm are not easily removed and the snow plough men certainly did their best. "7 a.m.," is very likely a crank.

Yours truly,

WEDDING BELLS

McGARITY-LOGAN

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Paul's Church, Norwood, on Wednesday, January 29th, when Miss Mary Logan, eldest daughter of Mr. P. Logan and Mr. Thomas McGarity, son of the late John McGarity, of Peterborough, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. Father Conway, of Norwood.

The bride entered the church leaning on the arm of her father, while the remainder of the wedding party followed to the strains of the march played by Miss L. Smith, of Norwood.

The bride looked charming in a suit of cream eolienne, trimmed with cream ribbon, lace and silk passementerie and wore a cream mohair tailor made coat with brown trimmings and a beautiful brown picture hat with variegated cream and brown plume, also a becoming long white silk cambray veil.

Miss J. Logan, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid and wore a cream panama skirt with a beautiful lace waist, also an electric seal and mink coat with brown hat and chiffon veil to match. Mr. J. Powers, of Peterborough, assisted the groom. After the ceremony and the celebration of mass the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where a sumptuous dejeuner awaited their arrival. The dining room was beautifully decorated with the usual evergreens, winter artistics and wedding bells.

During the afternoon and evening, the guests, about sixty in number, were amused by music, singing and dancing until the wee sma' hours.

The bride and groom left on the morning train for Toronto, Niagara and other western points, and on their return will reside in Peterborough. The bride's travelling suit was of brown venetian cloth, tailor made and trimmed with silk military braid.

The many beautiful and expensive gifts received showed the high esteem in which the young couple are held and all present joined in wishing them constant happiness and prosperity.

QUINLAN-COUGHLIN

Douro, Feb. 4.—(Special).—A pretty wedding was this morning at 10 o'clock solemnized in St. Joseph's Church, Douro, by the Rev. Father Keilty, when Miss Mary Coughlin, daughter of the late John Coughlin, of Douro, was married to Mr. David Quinlan, son of Thos. Quinlan, of East City. The bridesmaid was Miss Rose Coughlin, a sister of the bride, and the groomsman was Mr. Michael McAuley. After the ceremony the wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride, where also a beautiful array of presents testified to her popularity. Mr. and Mrs. Quinlan will reside in Peterborough.

WEST WARD SCHOOL FIRE ESCAPES

Provision to be Made So That In Any Case There Will be No Danger

HOCHELAGA CATASTROPHE

An important measure that claimed the attention of the members of the Board of Education last night was the demand for fire escapes at the West Ward School. It was mentioned that no changes should be taken and ample provision should be made in order to be ready for anything that might happen.

Since the judgment of the court in the Hochelaga fire disaster case, the Montreal School Board has ordered fire escapes for all the schools, to cost $1,100 each. The pupils have been ordered to use the escapes daily in leaving school at noon.

Regarding the West Ward School, Mr. Dumble moved, seconded by Mr. Robinson, that immediate provision be made by the Property Committee and that a report be presented at the next meeting.

STREET CAR THE LUCKIER IN COLLISION WITH HAT

And the Hat is Now No More—How it Happened

The high wind this morning proved disastrous for one youth of this city inasmuch as it cost him the price of a new hat. While returning to his work after the midday meal his hat was carried aloft by the wind and deposited neatly in front of a passing street car. On emerging from the mix-up the onetime hat was no more. It might be here mentioned that the youth is a member of the Pill-pounders' society and it is believed the damage is covered by insurance.

THE FUNERAL OF THE LATE MRS. JOHN BURNHAM

Held Yesterday From St. Lukes Church East City

The funeral of the late Mrs. John Burnham took place from St. Luke's church yesterday afternoon. The body arrived by train from Montreal yesterday morning accompanied by Mr. Frank Burnham and Mr. P. Boyd Tyler, son-in-law, of the deceased, and was taken to St. Luke's church, where many friends of the departed lady assembled to take a last look at her features. The service of the church was conducted by the rector, Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, who in his address paid a glowing tribute to her many virtues and her unselfish life.

Col. J. Z. Rogers, Mr. R. B. Rogers, and Mr. Edwin Rogers, brothers of the deceased; Mr. T. R. Price, Mr. Frank Birdsall and Col. H. C. Rogers were pall-bearers. Messrs. Harold and Frank Armstrong and Mr. P. B. Tyler were the chief mourners. Many floral offerings testified to the high esteem in which the late Mrs. Burnham was held.

MANY ATTENDING THE WOMEN'S ART EXHIBIT

Sales Made in Honeapuns—Open in the Daytime

The exhibit of foreign pictures in the old Bank of Montreal building, under the auspices of the Woman's Art Association of Peterborough, is attracting considerable attention from the lovers of art. Yesterday morning and afternoon the attendance was much greater than anticipated by the officers of the association and justified the propriety of bringing the works of such distinguished artists to Peterborough.

To appreciate the pictures they should be seen in daylight and the association keeps the exhibition open during the morning and afternoon of each day until Friday, when it will also be open in the evening.

The exhibition of homeapuns is greatly appreciated and many purchases from this department have been made. The tea this afternoon at 4 o'clock was in charge of Mrs. D. Hughes-Charles and Mrs. Rush. To-morrow afternoon it will be in charge of Mrs. Davidson and Mrs. Aylmer.

Legislature Opens With The Usual Ceremonies

The Intimations In The Speech From the Throne—A Number of Bills Promised

THE NORTHERN RAILWAY

Examiner Special

Toronto, Feb. 5.—The Ontario Legislature was opened this afternoon by the Lieutenant-Governor Sir Mortimer Clarke with the usual ceremonies. After expressing satisfaction that the Province has suffered comparatively little from the financial stringency which has been marked in the other countries during the past few months, the Speech from the Throne intimated that much progress has been made with the revision of the statutes, that several acts will be presented for approval referring to the fact that the construction of the Temiskaming & Northern Railway has been nearly completed and that the earnings of the road continue to be satisfactory and largely in excess of the outlay incurred in operating the road. It was announced that the report of the Commission which was sent to Great Britain and the continent to investigate modern methods of caring for and treating the insane will be presented at the session, also the report of the Provincial Secretary and other gentlemen who visited the United States to observe the systems of prison labour in operation there, and states that it is the intention, among other things, to introduce a measure of law reform. Bills will be presented to arrange the constituencies of the province; to arrange an increased appropriation for urban schools, and an amendment to the mining laws and the liquor license Act; the Act creating the Railway and Municipal Board; the Public Lands Act; the Free Grant Act; the Supplementary Revenue Act, and the Ontario Shops Regulation Act. He concluded by saying that the revenues of the Province are largely in excess of the estimates, and sufficient to meet the public expenditures during the year.

Ambulance Carrying Woman And Child Upset in South End

The Two Drivers Were Thrown From The Seat — Woman Was Badly Shaken Up

BAD ROADS WERE THE CAUSE

With a woman and child inside, the Dan Spence ambulance upset this morning as it was rounding a corner in the south end.

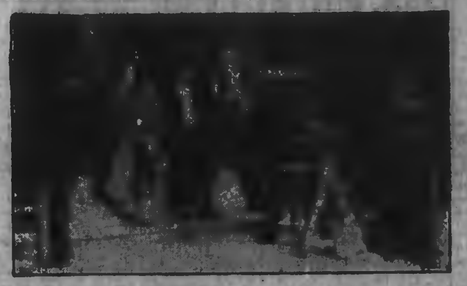
The ambulance received a call about 9 o'clock this morning to take a woman in the south end, who was dangerously ill, to the Nicholls Hospital. The proprietor was out and two of the men were sent down with the ambulance to convey the woman to the hospital. She also brought her baby with her. The roads in that part of the city are very bad and the drivers had to use the greatest precaution. The horses set out on a trot, and in rounding a corner the ambulance fell over on its side. The drivers were thrown into the road, but were soon on their feet.

The door of the ambulance was opened and the woman was lying on the side of the vehicle, and wrapping her coat about her and putting a shawl on the child, came out. She was not badly hurt, but rather shaken up in the fall. The baby was unhurt.

After the lady came out the drivers unharnessed the horses and called on some of the men who were passing to assist them in raising the ambulance. Five men responded and after considerable pushing and pulling the vehicle was once more placed on all fours. The woman and child again went inside and the journey to the hospital was continued without further trouble.

The fault was not on the part of the drivers, but on the roads. The snow is heaped on the sides and gradually slopes towards the middle of the road, thus making it difficult for traffic. The ambulance was not damaged excepting a few scratches on the side. As for the woman and child, they are now safe in the hospital.

This is a dangerous state of affairs and the city should see that the roads in the south end are looked after a little better in future.



Scene From "A MESSAGE FROM MARS" at The Grand Opera House Next Thursday, Feb. 6th. Plan Now Open

Diplomas and Certificates For Lower Form Pupils

Mr. W. S. Robinson's Idea is to Give Pupils of the Collegiate Institute Who Leave Before Reaching Form III a Diploma

MR. DUMBLE FAVOURS IT

The question of giving diplomas and certificates to the pupils attending the Collegiate Institute who discontinue their studies before obtaining a certificate from the Department, was introduced at the meeting of the Board of Education last night by Mr. W. S. Robinson. His idea was that the pupils who leave the Collegiate after passing through the lower forms should be given a certificate and diploma, showing exactly the standing of each at the time they leave.

Mr. Dumble thought that the plan was a good one and the whole Board was in favour of it.

Mr. Dumble seconded Mr. Robinson's motion, that diploma and certificate forms be prepared and be used in the future. The exact nature of them was not discussed but the plan will be carried out.

Is Now The Iceman's Turn To Smile; A Good Supply

The cold weather of the past few days has made the heart of the iceman glad, for it assures him a bountiful crop. Already the cut is being harvested, especially in the Little Lake and it is expected that in a few days a large amount will be placed in storage. It was feared early in the year that there would be scarcely any ice, and that a famine would result; but this surmise has been dissipated by "below zero" weather of the past few weeks.

"There will be plenty of ice," said one of the dealers this morning, "January was so mild that I was fearful that there would be no ice, but that is not the case now. There is a good 18 inches of ice now, and it is of good quality. There have been no thaws since the cold snap started, and as a result the ice is of a much better quality than it would be had there been a soft spell. With a few days fine weather we will get the crop all in, and then we need not worry. We do not get the best ice, as a rule, until February, and the month has started out right to give us a good supply. There will be no ice famine this summer."

Ice-cutting gives work to a considerable number of men every winter and it is expected that the number employed will be much larger this winter than ever before.

THE MANUFACTURE OF MARE'S NESTS

There is one active branch of manufacturing that thrives in Conservative hands, without the magic help of the "National Policy." That is the manufacture of scandals. Last session His Majesty's loyal and mendacious Opposition seized upon the public lands as a field of unfruitful operation. Being evicted by facts they have now resorted to the timber on them. But they are not more successful in one case than another; they were routed from the first line of defence and the other has been made untenable. The Mail and Empire and a few other of (to speak temperately) the less conscientious Opposition journals, have been co-operating with the atmospheric element of the party in the House in concocting scandals regarding the administration of Western timber lands. How little there is in these scandals, but scandal, is disclosed when the light of explanation and plain business common sense are brought to bear upon them is well shown by the following temperate article published in the Globe of Monday:—

"If The Mail and Empire had the faintest weight or reputation for reliability in the community the matter which it has been publishing for the past few days about the administration of the timber lands of the West would hae created a sensation. But has anyone noticed the public pulse beating a single degree faster? The fact is that a mare's nest, more or less, in that perennial depository of mares' nests does not create the slightest ripple on the surface of things. People who really want to get at the true inwardness of Mr. Ames' charges are content to wait until the matter has been discussed. They do not care to base their judgments on differences in inks, identical handwritings, or any of the other testimony which has made our contemporary incoherent and hysterical.

"Two or three considerations in the case would make them pause. In the first place, it is difficult to understand how the most serious of Mr. Ames allegations, or rather inferences, can be well-founded in view of the fact that no license to cut timber is ever issued except after the invitation of tenders, this license being granted to the highest bidder. If there is anything in The Mail's statement that limits have been awarded on tenders of $500, which are now held for $500,000, surely our speculative classes have been asleep. There are a great many people who would like to get hold of something for $500 which could subsequently be sold for $500,000. One would think that even the lofty spirits who edit The Mail would not put such an opportunity behind their backs. Even if they had to bid $250,000 for it, instead of the $500 which we are told was actually accepted, they would still have a splendid margin of profits. And we venture to say that if they had put in such a bid, or, in fact, anything higher than the $500, it would have been accepted with enthusiasm by the officials of the Department of the Interior. Indeed, if the lower bid had been accepted, the tenderer whose bid had been ignored would soon make his grievance public. It is this surety of complaint if the highest tender were ignored that makes it impossible to carry on any such system as Mr. Ames hints at, but which The Mail in its rasher way bawls from the housetops. Its story of the enormous disparity between the price paid and the real value is of course of the Munchausen order. It may be set up an axiom that under a competitive system of tendering such an instance could only be an accident.

"As a matter of fact, the whole Ames campaign is based on the sudden prosperity that has blessed the West. Instances were given in the debate the other day where limits which had been given to John Haggart, M.P., and Mr. Perley, M.P., in the days of Conservative rule, for nothing, were subsequently given up by these gentlemen. They would not pay ground rent or fulfill the other conditions of the license. Yet these very limits have since been taken up and are now of considerable value. Did Messrs. Haggart and Perley give up limits that were of the enormous value of which the Munchausen Mail speaks? Not likely. They felt they were not of sufficient value to warrant the carrying out of the conditions. What has rendered them valuable is the sudden prosperity that Liberal administration has brought to the West. In such times there are sure to be lucky strikes on the part of those who were not discouraged, but who clung to their holdings, hoping for the advent of better times.

With the advent of population and a greater consumption of lumber it may be found necessary to modify administration and regulations in some respects, but it is doubtful if anything better can be found better than the system of tendering an award to the highest bidder. It is understood that the department has been for some time devising a system of exploration and appraisement of areas which will give the officials a better knowledge of values than has hitherto existed. This of itself is one of the indications of the growth and progress of the West. There was a time when both the department and the settlers were glad that some one was engaged in lumbering operations, so that the indispensable materials for a home could be procured within a moderate distance.

WHY NOT?

Our back door contemporary, under back stair inspiration, yesterday evolved, under the above heading, the following:—

"The question is being pretty freely asked, "Why is it that the Liberals don't hold their convention. The answer is plain. No one wants the job."

Possibly not. It is certain that no one wants it badly enough to get it by bribing delegates and knifing rivals.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Alderman Phelan, the Chairman of the Board of Works is of rather too robust physique to thrive on taffy, such as the new genius of the editorial chair of the Review is administering in such heroic doses. Taffy is not recognized as an orthodox remedy for "knife" wounds.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Feb. 5.—The dull opening was accompanied by irregular price changes, and in some instances the higher London quotations were reflected, St. Paul and Reading being particularly strong. During the early trading the market held fairly well, but smelters was soon the subject of liquidation, and bear pressure and went off rather sharply. The railroad list held up in the face of those developments, but in the afternoon floor traders had little difficulty in bringing about a reaction all round.

The steel stocks were weak with the rest of the list. London's part in our market was of scarcely any influence. There was nothing new in the way of developments to account for the weakness in smelters as the reported decision of independent mine operators to erect smelters of their own has been under consideration for some time, and it has been known for several weeks that the dividend was likely to be cut. The only point in this regard is to how, deep the cut will be.

The decision of the Atchison road to take off a number of the important local trains in Kansas added to the bear arguments that the day brought forth, while the greater activity of the market on the decline was also depressing. Banking support seems to be withdrawn and the indications point to an irregular market with a somewhat lower level of prices.

FRANCO DOWN AND OUT.

No Further Disorders Reported In Portuguese Capital.

Lisbon, Feb. 5.—Lisbon is beginning to recover from the shock and horror of Saturday's bloody tragedy, but a strong undercurrent of popular and governmental nervousness remains.

The political tension is slackening, although the Progressists refuse to join in the construction of the Cabinet, which Admiral Ferreira de Amaral is forming from all the Monarchial groups because the Conservatives are in predominance. The hitch, however, is likely to be straightened out and a temporary union of all the Monarchial elements attained for the purpose of getting the country back on a constitutional basis, "ending agitation and restoring tranquility," as expressed by the leaders.

Senor Bernadino Machado, leader of the peaceful wing of the Republicans, agrees to a truce, provided that his friends now under arrest are liberated, freedom of the press restored and the elections ordered.

Admiral de Amaral, the devoted friend of the Queen, who assumes power, is committed to the reversal of the entire policy of the dictatorship, the abolition of repressive measures, and the restoration of "the old Liberal monarchy."

On Saturday, government by decree will be withdrawn, amnesty accorded political offenders not implicated in deeds of violence, and the embargo on the press raised.

Franco Down and Out.

Franco's downfall is complete. He recognized that it was impossible to saddle the youthful King at the outset of his reign with the stern program involving the immediate banishment and deportation of several hundred political offenders, to which he had committed himself, if he retained office. He told a friend that the assassination of the King ended his political career. He offered his services, however, but these were refused, both Queen Amelie and the Dowager Queen Maria Pia agreeing with the unanimous view of the council of state that the author of the dictatorship must be cast aside.

A high official said yesterday that Franco wanted to exercise even a more despotic power, and that at the interview with the new King he said it was quite impossible for him to join the coalition movement. It was with eyes filled with tears that King Manuel finally accepted Franco's resignation. The former Premier then hastily left the palace, and has not been seen since.

Queen Amelie herself issued orders to the military that the life of Franco should be carefully guarded.

DEMANDS DEATH PENALTY.

Trial of Gen. Stoessel Drawing Near Its Close.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 5.—The final session of the Stoessel court-martial was held yesterday. Lieut.-Gen. Stoessel, together with Gen. Feck and Gen. Reiss, are being tried for the surrender of the Port Arthur fortress to the Japanese.

In his summing up, the judge advocate demanded that the court impose the death sentence upon Stoessel, Feck and Reiss—upon Stoessel as the responsible agent for the shameful surrender of the fortress and the cowardly ending of its glorious defence, and upon Feck and Reiss as the men who inspired and abetted him. Governor-General Smirnoff, who was declared guilty of not having taken measures to prevent the surrender, the judge advocate asked the severe punishment of imprisonment at forced labor for four years.

Gen. Guersky paid the highest tribute to the brave defenders of the fortress, several hundred of whom were seated in the crowded court-room. He said it was necessary to draw a sharp distinction between them and their leaders, men who had covered their names with ineffacable shame. He reviewed history in vain for a precedent to show failure to punish the men responsible for such a surrender, and he declared that their undeserved decorations should be torn from the breasts of the uniforms they had disgraced. Continuing, the judge advocate pooh-poohed the idea of a massacre, which Gen. Stoessel had advanced in justification of the surrender, and said that even the civilians in Port Arthur had no fear of such an occurrence. The passions of the early days of the siege had given place, he said, to a quiet fulfillment of duty by Russians and Japanese alike.

Counsel for the defendants will make their answers to-day. M. Syrtlanoff speaking first on behalf of Gen. Stoessel.

Revolting Beyond Credence.

London, Feb. 5.—The murder of old Mrs. Hartwick at Cobblehill by her insane husband, James Hartwick, who is now in London jail, was revolting almost beyond credence. No weapon was used, but the unfortunate woman was disemboweled by her assailant's hand in a manner which cannot be stated in print.

The jury looked at the body yesterday. Dr. Ford of Thorndale was appointed to make the post-mortem, and the inquest was adjourned to meet at Thorndale on Thursday.

Japan Increases Duties.

Tokio, Feb. 5.—After a heated debate lasting five hours, an increase in the taxation bills on sugar, sake, alcohol, beer and kerosene was past yesterday in the Diet. The Government had a majority of 84 in every case except in that of kerosene, on which the majority vote was 24.

Druce Suit Dismissed.

London, Feb. 5.—Almost the largest prop was knocked from underneath the Druce myth when the master-in-chancery dismissed G. H. Druce's civil suit for the possession of the estate of the late Duke of Portland.

Glace Bay, C. B., Feb. 5.—The Dominion Coal Co. met with another loss yesterday, when their store at Dominion was burned to the ground. The stock was valued at $30,000, and the store at about $3,500.

CHRONIC CATARRH NOSE AND THROAT

"At the Advice of Friends I Tried Pe-ru-na and the Results Have Been Highly Satisfactory." — So Writes Mr. Pilon.

MR. RAOUL PILON, 116 Rue Notre Dame, Lachine, P.Q., Can., writes: "I write you a few words to express to you my satisfaction at being cured. I was afflicted with catarrh of the throat and nose and suffered much. I was greatly discouraged. I had a bad breath and bad taste in my mouth in the morning.

"I took treatment for some time without obtaining relief. At the advice of friends I tried Peruna and the results have been highly satisfactory. At the end of four months I was completely cured."

Neglected catarrh becomes chronic. Having developed into the chronic stage, a longer and more persistent treatment will be required to cure it than if the disease were treated at the onset.

However, Peruna will bring relief, whether the catarrh is acute or chronic. If you are wise you will keep Peruna on hand and take a few doses at the first appearance of a cold or cough, and thus save yourself both suffering and expense.

Patients have the privilege of writing to Dr. Hartman for free advice. A book on "Chronic Catarrh" will be sent upon request.

Indolent Husband Wanted His Wife To Saw Wood

The Axe Was Too Noisy He Said — Children'S Aid Busy in Montreal

POSES AS AN ARISTOCRAT

(Montreal Herald.)

Indisposition on the part of several immigrants to work, with the result that their houses are very poorly supplied with the necessities of life, have kept the Children's Aid Society busy for some days past.

One of these immigrants and a father of a family poses as an aristocrat and points out that in former years he had come on a trip to Canada as the guest of an English nobleman. He has been a resident of the country now, two years and refuses to work. His children are suffering from want of food and clothing. When an agent of the society called at the house a few days ago, about 11 o'clock in the afternoon he found the man just getting out of bed. In the living room was piled a load of cordwood which the cahrity officer had sent up, and the alleged aristocrat told the visitor he would like to borrow a saw for his wife as the noise she made in splitting the wood was jarring to his nerves.

The agent, though angry enough to throw the fellow through the window, simply suggested that if he would do some of the splitting himself his nerves might not be so affected. His told him, moreover, that he had better get work or his children would be taken from him.

In one of the suburbs recently, announced, certain residents had been supporting the children of an immigrant but finally got tired doing so. As the man refused to work, a place was found for his wife, and the children were taken away.

Another case is where a city official offered two jobs to an immigrant, but to no purpose, as the latter objected to going to work as early as 7 o'clock in the morning. He will be notified to take employment, or otherwise have his children placed in charge of the society.

Hard luck rather than a disinclination to work has made the home of another of these people such as to bring it under the notice of the society. Work will be obtained for the head of the family, but his request for money will be refused. He at first claimed he wanted the money for medicine, but later said he wanted it because he felt it awkward not to have any in his pocket.

Instances like these strike a chill to the heart of the hottest charity but not for long. Though there are the unworthy and worthless, the criminally lazy and indolent, who deserve jail more than help—yet it must be remembered that their innocent wives and children suffer the pangs of hunger and cold, and should have help. Don't speak of deserving charity. All who are in want, sickness, sorrow need, or other adversity, should have the help of the more fortunate. The good God sends rain upon the just and the unjust.

Are You Bankrupt In Nerve Force

THERE IS A RICH FRIEND TO RESCUE YOU—LEARN MORE ABOUT

If you spend three dollars a day and earn two you are sure to come to bankruptcy, unless, perchance, some rich friend comes to your assistance.

And yet this is just what thousands of us are doing in regard to our health. By worry, overwork, anxiety or the disobedience of the laws of nature, the energy and vigour of the body is wasted more rapidly than it is built up, and the result is the bankruptcy of the health and the decay of the body.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food may be likened to the rich friend, for it supplies in condensed and easily assimilated form the very ingredients from which nature constructs nervous energy and builds up the human system.

Mrs. F. Turner, 336 Aylmer street, Peterborough, Ont., and whose husband is employed at the Hamilton foundry, states: "For some months past I found myself growing nervous and gradually becoming a victim of sleeplessness, and subject to frequent attacks of nervous headache. About six weeks ago I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and cannot speak too highly of this medicine. I can sleep well now, the headaches have entirely disappeared, and I believe that my system generally has been improved greatly by the use of this treatment."

Sleeplessness, headaches, indigestion, loss of appetite, worn-out feelings, spells of weakness and despondency are some of the symptoms of exhaustion which point to the approach of nervous prostration, locomotor ataxia and paralysis.

No one would think of neglecting such ailments if they realized their condition, but they do not, so gradual and insidious is their approach.

If you are persistently subject to these symptoms you are in danger. Your blood must be enriched. Your nerves must be invigorated. Your system must be built up. And there is no means whereby this can be so certainly accomplished as by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food: 50 cents a box at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.—2.

DEATH OF A FORMER RESIDENT

Edmund Allen Passes Away in Toronto At Age of 93

The death of Edmund Allen, who passed away yesterday at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. A. J. Schofield, 289 Crawford street, at the age of 91, removes one of the oldest residents in the western part of the city.

Mr. Allen was born in Mevagissey, South Cornwall, in 1817, and came with his parents to Canada in 1851. The family settled first in Peterborough, where Mr. Allen lived until 1893, when he came to Toronto, taking up residence on Macdonell avenue, Parkdale. For the past five years he had been staying with his son-in-law, Mr. A. J. Schofield, on Crawford street.

Mr. Allen was a builder and house furnisher by trade, but during his long life had been interested in many fields of business enterprise. Up to within a few days of his death he was hale and hearty, retaining all his faculties unimpaired. He possessed a good appetite and could read the papers without the assistance of glasses. His wife died some years ago at the age of 83.

Mr. Allen leaves one son, Mr. Samuel Allen, of Glen road, Eglinton, and three daughters, Mrs. McMaster of St. Louis, Mo., Mrs. Bell and Mrs. J. A. Schofield of Toronto.

Mr. Allen was connected with the Methodist church until four years ago, when he dropped his membership in that body on account of certain views he entertained regarding the second coming of Christ.

The funeral will take place this afternoon from 289 Crawford street to Prospect Cemetery, Rev. Mr. Odery of Crawford street Methodist church officiating. There is a number of beautiful wreaths from relatives of the deceased.—Toronto Star.

RESOLUTION OF REGRET PASSED

Board of Education Express Regret of Death of Mr. W. H. Wrighton

As an expression of the esteem in which the late Mr. Wm. Wrighton was held by the Board of Education, of which he was for many years a member, and as a recognition of his services, the Board last night passed by standing vote a resolution of regret of his death. It included a resolution of condolence to Mrs. Wrighton in her sad bereavement.

It was moved by Mr. Hill, seconded by Mr. Dumble, "that this Board has heard with regret of the death of William H. Wrighton, who for 25 years was a valued member of this Board. He was elected in 1879 and held office continually till 1905. He was chairman of the Board during the years 1891 and 1892. Mr. Wrighton during this time gave to the Board his best services. He was for many years chairman of the Property Committee and took a deep interest in all things pertaining to the welfare of the schools.

We enter our tribute to his worth upon our minutes, and direct the secretary to transmit a copy of this resolution to his bereaved widow, with an expression of our heartfelt sympathy in her great bereavement."

The resolution was read by Mr. Hill.

A HORSE PARALYZED ON HUNTER STREET

Suffering from paralysis one of the horses of the Peterborough Fuel and Cartage Company fell down on Hunter street yesterday evening.

A Fuel and Cartage wagon pulled by a big team of black horses was coming from East City on Hunter street and as it neared Queen street one of the horses staggered and fell on the road. The driver did not know what was the matter and thought the horse had slipped. He tried every possible means to induce the horse to get up but in vain. He then unhamessed the team and covered the horse with blankets and sent for the veterinary surgeon, Dr. Johnston, who after examining the animal pronounced paralysis as the trouble. The horse was given some medicine and taken to the Cartage Company's stables where he received further treatment.

The doctor, in speaking to the Examiner said that paralysis amongst horses was very common in the winter time and was caused by the extreme cold. If the pores of the horse's skin are closed and the system is high, the horse is in a dangerous condition. There is only one horse out of twenty that recovers from paralysis.

When the horse was taken to the stables it died. It was worth $150.

A CALENDAR USEFUL AND ASTISTIC

GOOD DESCRIPTION OF IT

Some very handsome and attractive wall calendars have in the past been issued by the Intercolonial Railway, but it is safe to say that all previous ones are eclipsed by the one just to hand for 1908, which is not only exceedingly artistic, but one which should be held in great value by those who desire a calendar for a calendar's sake, as well as for its artistic excellence. This is a highly useful calendar, the date tabs being so plain as to be easily read and yet not conspicuous in an ornate sense, being blended nicely within a general design which might really be called striking.

It is a twelve-sheet calendar, a separate sheet for each month, the months commencing in February of this year and ending in January, 1909. The design shows a good deal of originality, and for the workmanship the lithographer is much to be commended. The moosehead is there, of course. It would not be an I.C.R. calendar or I.C.R. anything else without the moosehead. So the antlered monarch appears in the upper left hand corner encircled by a shield of blue, on which appear the words, "The Fast Line," "The People's Railway," in letters of white. The moosehead is in a background of yellow, and a golden gleam playing upon forehead and antlers rather brightens the effect. Surrounding the lower half of the circle and spreading across the face of the calendar is a wreath of maple leaves in green and autumnal tints. The leaves form the frame of a half-tone view, a different one appearing on each monthly sheet, being well-selected photos representing some of the best scenes along the line. Diagonally across the face of the calendar, in large white letters on a background of scarlet, is the word "Intercolonial," and in black letters just over the date tab are the words "Prince Edward Island Railway of Canada." Running vertically on each side of the date tab in red and black lettering are fitting references to Canada's famous trains, the Maritime Express and the Ocean Limited. The date tabs are printed in plain block letters of a size that insures their being easily read, and the Sundays and holidays are in red. The calendars are soon put for mailing in cardboard cartons with printed labels which announce that they are sent with the compliments of the "Intercolonial Railway and Prince Edward Island Railway of Canada," and in this connection the word "Canada" appears conspicuously. Thousands of them are sent annually to many parts of the world, and so wide a reputation have the calendars earned that the applications for them yearly grow larger.

Health and Vitality for old People

As old age creeps on vitality is lowered, the heart beats more slowly, the blood becomes thin and watery, and the power of resistance is lessened. It is the old people above all others who require the new life and energy, which come with the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Thousands of old people depend on this treatment, because it calms and quiets the nerves, gradually and certainly enriches the blood, builds up the system and instils new life and vigour into their shrivelled arteries.

THE INDUSTRY GOES TO CAMPBELLFORD

Canadian Steel Rolling Mills Company Going There—At Work in One Year

The gentlemen who had been conferring for some time last autumn with the Manufacturers' Committee of the City Council have made arrangements with the town council of Campbellford, according to the following despatch:

Campbellford, Feb. 4.—The Campbellford town council has entered into an agreement with the Canadian Steel Rolling Mills Company by which the town will give the company five acres of land, exemption from taxes, excepting school and local improvement tax, furnish it with 1,000 horse power at $10 per h.p. per year, and an additional 500 h.p. at $12 per h.p. per year for a period of ten years.

The company is to erect a building and equip it with modern machinery for carrying on its business at a cost of not less than $80,000, and commence the manufacture of sheet and bar steel on or before January 1, 1909; that it will employ continuously in Campbellford not less than 100 hands for 11 months in each year,

THE LEGISLATURE OPENS TO-DAY

Mr. Wm. Anderson of East Peterboro' Not Able to be Present

Mr. T E Bradburn, M.P.P., left for Toronto this (Wednesday) morning, to attend the last session of the present parliament which opens to-day.

The many friends of Mr. Wm. Anderson, M.P.P., regret that his severe and prolonged illness prevents him attending the opening of the Legislature. It is doubtful if Mr. Anderson will be able to be present during the session as he is confined to his home in Otonabee where he resides. Mr. Anderson became seriously ill during the last session and has practically been confined to his room since that time.

During the last provincial election while conducting his campaign Mr. Anderson's cutter was upset and he got caught in it, injuring himself, and from these injuries he feels he has never recovered.

His friends still hope that, while he has announced that he will not be a candidate again, he will speedily be restored to good health.

PETERBORO COUNTY'S CLEARED LAND

Is Only 45% of the Total Area—The Area Assessed

The annual report of the Bureau of Industries for the Province of Ontario, issued by the Ontario Department of Agriculture, gives some valuable information to farmers and some interesting statistics. The returns of the assessors at the end of 1906 showed that in Peterborough county there were 572,118 acres of assessed land, 257,218 acres of cleared land, 125,146 acres of woodland, 95,887 acres of alsed land, and 93,852 acres of swamp, marsh and waste land. The per cent. cleared is 45.

HOME-MADE BLOOD REMEDY

Cures the Kidneys and Makes Them Filter Poisons From the Blood

YOU MIX THIS YOURSELF

A leading health journal, in answering the question, "What is the best prescription to clean and purify the blood," prints in a recent issue the following:—Fluid Extract of Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well and use in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.

A well-known local druggist who is familiar with this prescription, states that it is harmless, being composed of simple ingredients, which can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy.

It cleans the blood of all impurities and nourishes the blood. In just a few days the skin begins to clear of sores, boils and pimples. It puts vigor and energy into run-down, debilitated men and women. For many years Sarsaparilla alone has been considered a good blood medicine. But while it built up and made new blood, the impurities remained within and the good accomplished was only temporary. Sarsaparilla, however, when used in combination with Compound Kargon and Extract Dandelion works wonders. This combination puts the kidneys to work to filter and sift out the waste matter, uric acid and other impurities that cause disease. It makes new blood and relieves rheumatism and lame back and bladder troubles.

This prescription is better than the usual patent medicines, which are in the most part alcoholic concoctions. The ingredients cost but little and are easily mixed at home. Every man and woman here should make some up and try it if they feel their system requires a good blood medicine and tonic.

The Kargon to clean the kidneys and vitalise them so they can clean the blood, Sarsaparilla to make new rich blood, and Dandelion to tone the stomach, clean the liver and make it active and relieve constipation, is the way the prescription acts, and so mildly and gently that one does not consider they are taking a medicine. Considerable Business Was Transacted By The Board

Board of Education Receive Reports of Committees and Pass Accounts—Communications of Importance From Inspector Mowat

BUSINESS THAT WAS DONE

The Board of Education held its regular monthly meeting last night with the following members present, Mr. R. Fair, chairman, Messrs. D. W. Dumble, B. F. Ackerman, W. S. Robertson, L. M. Hayes, W. F. Nelson, John Crane, Wm. Hill and Dr. Morrison.

The Board dealt with considerable extra business with usual despatch besides the usual routine of reports and communications.

Communications

A communication from the inspector, Mr. R. Mowat, was received respecting the classification of the pupils of the Queen Alexandra school. Owing to all the classes not being taught pupils from the same locality have to attend two different schools. After midsummer all the classes will be taught at the Queen Alexandra chool and the present conditions will be removed.

A communication was received from Mr. R. Baker, caretaker of the Queen Alexandra School, regarding extra work in getting the school in condition for opening at Christmas and for which he asked extra remuneration.

On motion of Messrs. Crane and Hill the communication was received but no action was taken.

A communication was received from Mr. T. H. Cobb, asking for a position as janitor when the next vacancy may occur. He presented testimonials with his letter.—Received.

A communication was received from Inspector Mowat regarding the care of the sight and hearing of the children of the public schools. He had communicated with the Inspector of the Toronto Public Schools regarding this subject and had learned that the movement is just being instituted in that city. In Toronto the Board appointed the City Medical Health Officer to train the teachers to test the eye-sight and hearing and to examine or diagnose skin diseases. In American cities the care of children's teeth is also tatended to, but in Toronto this feature has not yet been taken up.

The report of the attendance at the Public Schools and Collegiate Institute were received as follows:

Supervision Committee

Mr. Crane presented the report of this committee as follows:

Your committee has received from the inspector a very full account of the reorganization in some of the schools, rendered necessary by overcrowding and with as little inconvenience as possible he has succeeded in arranging these details as to produce the most efficient results.

We have given the inspector permission to purchase a number of books to supply supplementary reading, principally in the junior grades, the cost will be about $35.00.

Miss Edna Rogers, of the East City Kindergarten staff, applied for leave of absence from January 31, to June to pursue her studies in kindergarten work in Toronto. As the work in the East City kindergarten is not sufficient at present for two teachers, your committee has granted her request.

The question of the introduction of Domestic Science into the schools has been considered by your committee, but at the present time conditions do not seem favourable to its adoption and we recommend its further consideration after the opening of the new institute.

The inspector has reported that he has suspended a pupil recently attending the South Central school, whose conduct was such that there was apparently no alternative. We recommend that the inspector's action be confirmed.

The various suggestions in the High School Inspector's report referred to this committee have been duly noted and will be acted upon.

We recommend that a grant of $50.00 be made for the purpose of procuring mounted specimens used in the study of zoology. Several of our merchants have already donated mounted specimens and others have promised to do so.

(We believe that a yearly grant of a similar amount, say five years, will provide such an equipment as will increase the interest in nature study, as well as increasing the efficiency of the teachers' work.

Respectfuly submitted.

JOHN CRANE,
Chairman.

Adopted on motion of Messrs. Crane and Hill.

Gratitude Expressed

Mr. Crane moved a vote of thanks to Mr. R. H. Hall, M.P., for his thoughtfulness and kindness in procuring for the school a number of pictures of scenes on the Intercolonial Railway. These pictures have been placed in the Queen Alexandra school and assist in adorning the walls.

Mr. Nelson seconded the motion which was carried.

Janitors' Supplies

The question of janitors' supplies for the schools was also dealt with. Mr. Ackerman reported that the janitors ask for various articles which he cannot provide them with.

It was considered that they should not be called upon to buy these articles if used in their duties about the schools. The exact manner of arranging the matter was left with the Property Committee.

Mr. Ackerman, as chairman of the Property Committee, reported that metal strips had been placed on windows and doors of several rooms in the King Edward school to keep out the cold, and the plan had proved successful. It was decided to have any other rooms in the various buildings treated in a similar manner if deemed necessary.

On motion of Mr. Hill and Mr. Robertson that the salaries of the teachers of the public schools be arranged according to a schedule.—Carried.

The meeting then adjourned.

DEATH OF WELL KNOWN TEACHER

Mr. Charles Joseph McDonald, the Late Principal of St. Peter's School Has Passed Away

Death removed last night at the termination of a three weeks' illness Charles Joseph McDonald, late principal of St. Peter's Separate school, and a young and energetic man who gave promise of a bright future. Some time ago he became ill, in the midst of his duties as principal, and was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, where he recovered and from where he later removed to his home on the fourth concession of Smith Township.

Three weeks ago, however, he was seized with bronchial trouble and last evening at 5.30 o'clock he passed away in St. Joseph's Hospital at the age of 29 years.

Mr. McDonald was born in Smith Township, where he received his early education. He later attended the Peterborough Collegiate Institute after which he went to the Model School in Norwood in 1900. Since that time he has been continually teaching, with the exception of a term spent in attending the Normal School at Ottawa. Last midsummer he was appointed principal of St. Peter's School, as his brother's successor, and was very successful in his work there.

Besides his mother he is survived by eight brothers and four sisters. His brothers are George and Robert Rochester; Alexander and Michael, Toronto; Stephen, of Prince Albert, Sask.; Louis, Otonabee; John, Bobcaygeon and Benjamin, of Smith; and the sisters are Mary, of Toronto; Mrs. S. J. Angiesey, Percy street; Mrs. Jas. Mortland, Gilmour street, and Mrs. Francis Wade, Smith. Mrs. Miller, of North Bay. The funeral will be held on Friday morning at 10 o'clock from the residence of his sister, Mrs. Angiesey, 289 Percy street, to St. Peter's Cathedral and from thence to St. Peter's Cemetery.

The Annual Meeting of the Presbyterian Church—Increase in Pastor's Salary

The forty-fifth annual meeting of the Presbyterian church, Lakefield, of which Rev. S. S. Burns is pastor, was held Friday evening, January 31. The Sunday school raised $75 for missions and $67 for running expenses. Receipts for ordinary expenses were $1,085, and for church debt, $528. The total revenue for all purposes was $2,395. An increase of $100 to the pastor's salary was unanimously adopted.

APPLICATIONS FOR FARM HELP BEING MADE

Mr. Howson Already Has Received Many Applications

The farmers from the surrounding district are already seeking help farm labourers for the spring work. Yesterday Mr. Geo. Howson, local immigrant agent, received no less than 15 applications for farmers who desire to be supplied with farm help and he expects that a great many more will be in in a few days. Last year Mr. Howson, although beginning late in the season supplied work among the farmers for 160 immigrants so that the success of the office in Peterborough is assured.

Mr. Howson would advise any farmers who desire help to make application at once.

The immigration system this year is a change from last. Each farmer in the county will receive a circular from headquarters at Ottawa, accompanied by an application form. Any wanting help are requested to fill out the application form which is sent back to Ottawa.

These are then sent to the various immigration agents throughout the country who are able to provide work for those desiring it.

By this system no more immigrants than are wanted will be sent for, to the old country.

LATE MR. STONE WAS A RANCH OWNER

News of His Death Received in Lethbridge, Alberta

The Lethbridge Herald gives the following account of the death of Mr. E. B. Stone:

Dr. Cragg received a telegram yesterday from Sacramento, Cal., announcing the death of his brother-in-law, Mr. E. B. Stone. Mr. Stone, who was the owner of a large ranch north of Taber, and had spent much time here during the past few years, left Lethbridge last November with Mrs. Stone to spend the winter in California with the hope that he would regain his health, which had been poor for some time past. However, he gradually declined and passed away yesterday.

Mr. Stone was 54 years of age and was by profession a barrister, having practised in Belleville, Peterborough and London, Ontario. He was a clever speaker and had taken an active part in political campaigns on behalf of the Liberal party. He was a native of Northumberland county, Ontario, and was a brother of the late Rev. Dr. Stone, a prominent Methodist divine. He leaves a wife, three sons, Dr. Charles at Fosston, Roy, on the ranch, and Fred at Trenton, and a daughter at college in St. Thomas, Ont. The remains will be taken to Ontario for interment.

THE YOUNG MEN DEBATE SUCCESSFULY

T. A. S. Young Men's Literary Society Spent Enjoyable Evening

No decision was given in the debate at last night's meeting of the T. A. S. Young Men's Literary Society. The subject was "Resolved that a Total Abstinence Society is a better means of promoting total abstinence than is Local Option." The affirmative side was represented by Messrs. Harry Quinlin and Cyril Giroux and the negative by Messrs. Leo Derocher and Vincent Corkery.

The young men displayed considerable ability in presenting their arguments and much interest was taken by those who listened to the speakers. The attendance was very good and the young men are eager to participate in the debates. Rev. Dr. O'Brien was present, giving valuable assistance in the many points of debates and afterwards discussed some of the ecurrent events of the day.

Besides the debate a musical programme was enjoyed. Mr. Russel Robertson was heard in a piano solo and Jas. O'Brien in a character song. Mr. W. Cahill also sang a catchy song that was well received. The next meeting will be held on Friday evening, Feb. 14th

CONCERT AT ST. PETER'S HALL TO-NIGHT

It Commends Itself to the People in a Double Sense

To-night's concert in St. Peter's Hall is worthy of general patronage for a two-fold reason. It is a charity concert in aid of St. Vincent de Paul's Society and affords a slight opportunity of assisting in relieving the worthy poor who are cared for by this society in their time of distress. Apart from this, however, the programme should appeal to the people from its real merit and good entertainment is assured.

Two Thousand Shoe Bargains

TO-DAY AND ALL FEBRUARY

This is Leap Year—the month when February has one day more—and it is this Leap Year month which Dolly Varden has taken advantage of to widen her acquaintance—to gain more friends by a golden money—saving proposal.

On the purchase of any pair of Dolly Varden Shoes in the Dolly Varden Shoe Store, a dollar will be returned to the purchaser. This is a standard one price shoe of unvarying worth and value, and this distinctive difference makes the sale price a Bargain de facto. It is not a shoe marked up in order that it may be marked down. The Dolly Varden Shoe is price—marked at the factory by the manufacturers who guarantee its worth.

They were loth to allow us to inaugurate this sale, but our argument won out. If they can by donating $10,000 get 10,000 new customers we will profit in the long run by retaining their custom. All that we wish for is the first trial of a first pair of "Dolly Vardens."

There will be other Bargains in this store—price reductions that will seem greater by comparison—Bargains which we will give minute details of—but getting $5 gold value shoes for $4 is a real and rare Bargain. You have never known of it before.

Only ONE PAIR of Dolly Varden Shoes to each customer. Come to-day while we have sizes, widths and half-sizes in every desirable models.

Half has not been told of this sale—we don't exaggerate, but want you to come and see for yourself.

PREPARATIONS FOR THE BIG BANQUET

To be Held Feb. 20th—Y.M.C.A. Members Enjoyed a Drive Last Night

A promirent leader in Y. M. C. A. work will speak at the big members' banquet to be held at the Y. M. C. A. on February 20th., and different members of the association will give short addresses. There will be some special music and a large enthusiastic meeting is looked for. The details are in the hands of good committees and more will be announced later. Tickets will be 25 cents.

A very enjoyable evening was spent last night by the Intermediate Bible Club of the Y. M. C. A. About eighteen gathered at the "Y" at seven o'clock and spent two hours in driving around the city, after which full justice was done to the banquet at Coleman Bros'. restaurant. An impromptu toast list was made and several good enthusiastic speeches delivered. The regular meeting of the club will be held to-morrow night at 6.30 p.m., at which there promises to be a large attendance.

OLD LADY THROWN FROM CUTTER

On her Way to Market—Vehicle Collides With Coal Cart

A runaway accident occurred about 8.30 o'clock this morning in front of the J J Turner & Sons' store, which caused considerable excitement in that vicinity. An old lady who was coming in from the country to attend the market, was driving up George street in a cutter when the horse took fright from a passing street car. The animal started off at an awful clip and the old lady lost control of the horse altogether. At King street the horse plunged into the side of an Ontario Coal Company's cart which was passing at the time. The lady was thrown out of the cutter and her wrist was badly sprained in the fall. The driver of the coal cart and several others around came to her assistance and she was soon able to proceed to the market.

MR. JOHN CRANE WILL GIVE MEDALS

Following Custom of Late Mr. Pringle to Public School Pupils

The custom of the late Mr. Wm. Pringle in donating medals to be awarded to the Public and Separate School pupils for penmanship will be continued by Mr. John Crane. At the meeting of the Board of Education last night he expressed his intentions of giving the same number of medals as the late Mr. Pringle and under the same conditions. Mr. Crane said that he was interested in penmanship and Mr. Pringle's example had been an incentive to acquiring a clear, legible hand by the pupils who tried to win the medals. Mr. Pringle had given three medals every mid-summer and Mr. Crane said he would like to continue the custom under the same conditions.

Mr. Dumble was pleased with Mr. Crane's action and moved, seconded by Dr. Merrison, that the Board gratefully accepts his generous offer. —Carried.

The hospitality of Rev. and Mrs. Coon was much appreciated by the members of the class and were tendered a hearty vote of thanks before the gathering dispersed.

A Simple Means of Lending Assistance to The Destitute

Among the acts of kindness in the assistance of the destitute yesterday was the distribution of a large number of empty boxes for fuel. MEN WERE BURIED UNDER RUINS

Firemen Caught Between Collapsing Floors at New York Fire.

SEVEN WERE BADLY INJURED

Large Warehouse Destroyed — Monetary Loss $200,000—Frost Stops Supply of Water — Elevator Cable Parted — Occupants Dashed to Bottom of Shaft But All Escaped—Some Gallant Rescues.

New York, Feb. 5.—Caught between collapsing floors, seven firemen were injured last night while fighting a fire which destroyed a five storey structure, occupied by drygoods firms, at 45 Worth street, in the heart of the wholesale drygoods district. Fireman Frank Eglanton is missing, and is believed to be in the ruins. The monetary loss is estimated at $200,000.

The firemen fought the flames in the bitter cold which froze water in the standpipes and made the pressure inadequate to confine the fire to the third floor, where it started. The injured were found lying beneath the ruins in pools of fast freezing water.

The fire spread rapidly and the employes in the building had to make hurried exits. As they were escaping from the place the cable of an elevator parted and the car, jammed with frightened women and men, dropped to the basement. Fortunatly no one was seriously hurt and to their descent they may owe their lives. Hardly had the passengers scrambled from the wreckage of the car, when, without warning, the third floor gave way, and carried with it the second floor and 15 firemen, who were working within the walls. A moment later a score of firemen had reached into the burning wreckage, recklessly determined to rescue their comrades, whose cries could be heard above the noise of puffing engines.

Meantime the fire was burning briskly on the top floor, and streams of water thrown from adjoining buildings half drowned the imprisoned men, as well as those who chopped away valiantly wherever burning timbers held a captive. The temperature was well down toward zero, and the men suffered intensely. One by one the injured men were released with the exception of Eglanton, who could not be located. Though badly injured, it is believed that the rescued men will recover. The building had been ruined before the fire was controlled.

MOTHER KILLS HER CHILD.

Goes Insane and Only Overpowered After Terrible Struggle.

Montreal, Feb. 5.—While in a fit of insanity, Mrs. Thomas Doucette dashed [illegible] child and was in the act of killing another child when discovered by her family. The family consisted of father, mother and eight children. The father, who worked on the Intercolonial Railway, was confined to the house with a broken rib. Mrs. Doucette became violently insane at 4.20 yesterday morning and arose without awakening the other inmates of the house, and took the child from the cradle to the back door, and there smashed its head in, violently beating it against the ice. Returning, she took the three-year-old child, but in so doing she awakened her daughter, aged 18, who called her father. In a desperate struggle the mother was overpowered, and a policeman called.

At the inquest yesterday afternoon it was brought out that the woman had been insane several times. The mother said she killed the baby by taking it by the feet and beating its brains out on the side of the house.

QUESTION OF TIMBER LEASES

Hon. Frank Oliver Answers Charges in the House.

TENDERS WERE ON SQUARE

Policy of Old Conservative Government Continued — Highest Bidder Got Berths Every Time — New Regulations Introduced — Mr. Boyce and Mr. Borden Speak —Supply of Seed Grain.

Ottawa, Feb. 5.—The debate on Mr. Lake's amendment to the motion to go into supply, asking for a committee to probe the lands branch of the Interior Department, was resumed by Mr. Boyce (Conservative, Algoma). He laid down three main principles:

(1) There should be an enquiry by the Department as to the value of the timber limit, the amount of timber thereon, and its present and future accessibility.

(2) The administration should decide first if it is necessary to dispose of timber at all.

(3) The administration should protect the country from collusion and dishonest tendering.

Mr. Boyce proceeded to give some instances of apparent collusion in tendering for limits. Many cases were mentioned to show that limits had been prematurely sold by tender, and that the successful tenderer was only slightly in excess of the second. It was no wonder, said Mr. Boyce, that the present Minister of the Interior had taken little interest in the present discussion.

Mr. Boyce, continuing, referred to the Ames' motion, which wrested the original papers in respect to the granting of timber limits from an unwilling Government. Mr. Turriff, who was land commissioner at the time the tenders were put in here, claimed that definite charges which Mr. Turriff had taken to heart. Mr. Turriff, the speaker went on, was the official who alone was responsible for the opening of the tenders.

It was [illegible] honesty in opening of tenders, that a spurious tender was put in, and that these tenders came under the supervision of Mr. Turriff, when he was commissioner of Dominion lands, and when such grave reflections were cast upon him (Turriff) in Parliament all the reply he had to make was: "Stop making insinuations."

Did the fact that Mr. Turriff had a seat in Parliament now exonerate him from blame? Mr. Lake had made definite and distinct charges. No one who had seen papers brought down could fail to come to the same conclusion as Mr. Lake, namely, that one of the tenders was a spurious and improper one.

Did the man who opened tenders know it was a spurious tender? was asked.

Mr. Turriff interrupted: "He's making insinuations again. I ask him to make charges." He went on to say that he had opened tenders that came to him, and it was not for him to question who wrote them. "I am not a detective. Any insinuation that I had anything to do with the filling in of tenders, or that there was any collusion, is entirely wrong."

Mr. Boyce replied that until Mr. Turriff gave explanations or the Premier granted an investigation he would continue to lie under suspicion. As an official of this Government, it was his first duty to be a detective, and if there was any suspicion it was his duty to refer tenders to the Minister.

Minister of the Interior.

The Minister of Interior followed. He declared that the discussion had been a farce. For twenty-five years past the policy of the Government had been to secure development of the lumbering industry, and not to secure a price for standing timber. A provision was inserted in the license requiring the erection of a mill within a year. The Conservatives never enforced the provision and the present Government changed it.

R. L. Borden said of the 29,000 square miles granted by the Conservative Government a large proportion was given up because of the enforcement of conscience. Probably Mr. Oliver would say what conditions were regarded as onerous.

Mr. Oliver did not know, but he continued that the Opposition must either admit their policy was one of development of timber resources, or there was on record one of the most outrageous pieces of jobbery the country ever saw. Mr. Oliver, however, did not charge any improper conduct, but both Governments had the same policy of development. The present administration had produced better results in a greater amount of lumber cut.

Referring to the speculative values of some of the timber areas, Mr. Oliver proceeded to show that they were no greater than when the Conservatives were in power. Timber limits were of no value until they have been cut into lumber, and no reliance could be put upon the speculative values of limits alienated by the present Government. There was nothing that the Government need be ashamed of in the administration of timber lands by the present Government.

Proceeding at the evening session, Mr. Oliver declared that there was no favoritism in the awarding of tenders. Many of the tenders showed a wide range, and in all cases the limits went to the highest bidder. In one case, in which the Opposition charged that there was a corrupt deal, the limit was granted to a Conservative. The main object of the Department was to get the timber in the hands of people who would work it. It was the fact, however, that a large number of limits under license were not being operated.

Inspection of Documents.

The Minister finally got to the question of inspection of original documents. Could the Opposition point to a single instance where members had done this. Several Opposition members gave instances.

Mr. Ames said a year ago he had no difficulty in gaining access.

"Because the privilege was accorded then, does the hon. gentlemen think he has the right?" asked Mr. Oliver.

The Minister said it was not in the interest of those holding titles that the original papers should be let out of custody of the Department. Mr. Oliver gave the explanation of Mr. Fraser, already published, in respect to the Moose Lake tenders. If the value put on the limits by Mr. Ames was a fair one, Mr. Fraser would have been in a position to secure them for himself by bidding slightly over his clients. "The policy of the late Government was right, but their administration was rotten," declared the Minister. In 1881 the Northwest was parcelled up among the friends of Conservatives without regard to revenue or to the conditions existing in the country. To grant 450 berths at that time was nothing less than an outrage. Mr. Oliver claimed there was nothing in Mr. Lake's resolution but insinuation.

Mr. Lake declared that he made nine specific statements upon which he based his resolution, one of which was alone sufficient to warrant the Government in granting an enquiry.

Mr. Oliver said the Opposition did not want an investigation, but merely the opportunity of maligning their fellow citizens.

There were cries of "Order!" and "Take it back!" and Mr. Oliver was called to task by Mr. Speaker. "If I have offended," said Mr. Oliver, "then I do not understand their position."

This did not satisfy Mr. Speaker, and the Minister made a proper retraction.

R. L. Borden spoke next. He said he did not know anybody who had been guilty of making insinuations to the extent of the Minister of Interior. Discussing Mr. Oliver's claim, that the present Government was continuing the policy of the Conservative administration, he asked did Mr. Whitney hand out timber limits to the first-comer just because his predecessors did so?

It was absurd for the Minister to say that he did not give a longer time for the survey of timber limits because the Government was not looking for revenue. Surely Mr. Oliver gave his case away when he argued that timber limits had only a speculative value for the reason that they cannot have an actual value for many years to come. That was the claim of the Opposition. The Province of Ontario derived an enormous revenue from its timber, because timber limits were held till they possessed a real value. It was not Alexander Mackenzie or Sir John Macdonald who were on trial, but the Government of this day, said Mr. Borden.

Saskatchewan Asked First.

A return of correspondence brought down yesterday in connection with the supplying of seed grain to the west shows that the first request came from Saskatchewan on Nov. 20. For some time Mr. Oliver held out, claiming that the matter was one for the provinces to deal with. Later he was led to a different view of the situation. The correspondence shows that Sir Thomas Shaughnessy has offered low rates on seed grain over the C. P. R., and the big milling companies, especially Ogilvies, have also promised their assistance.

Dr. Reid (Granville) introduced his bill to amend the Passenger Ticket Act, requiring railway companies to issue 500 and 1,000 mile tickets at two cents a mile.

THAW AT MATTEAWAN.

Evelyn Overcome at Sight of the Crazy Inmates.

Matteawan, N. Y., Feb. 5.—The horrors of the madhouse, coming close upon the nervous strain of the murder trial, overcame Evelyn Nesbit Thaw. She had opened the door of the reception room and looked into the hall. At sight of a group of lunatics, gesticulating and chattering, she stepped quickly back into the reception room, sank on a sofa and became hysterical.

"This is no place for Harry, in with all those insane people," she sobbed. "He is as sane as you or I. But he will go crazy if they keep him locked here with these creatures for another 48 hours. I would go crazy myself here. Look at these gloomy painted walls. Hear the voices of those poor men and women. It's horrible—horrible."

Then she turned on Lawyer O'Reilly.

"Mr. O'Reilly," she demanded, "I don't care what any one else says—I tell you to get that writ of habeas corpus and save my husband from this terrible place. In his nervous state he will surely go mad here. You must get him out of here before it is too late."

Bulgarians Should Stay Home.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 5.—"Bulgarian immigration to the United States is a failure. Bulgarians had better stay in Bulgaria. They are better off there than in America."

That will be the substance of a semi-official report to be made to the Bulgarian Government by P. N. Dackaloff, editor of a leading newspaper of Sofia. About 90,000 Bulgarians have come to America in the last four years.

Russian Relief Fund.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 5.—A bill appropriating $3,563,000 for famine relief, in addition to the sum already voted by the Douma for this purpose, has been submitted to the Cabinet.

MORE DETAILS OF TWEED EXPLOSION

Powder Mills Destroyed by Explosion at Tweed, Ont.

WHOLE TOWN WAS SHAKEN

Workmen Had Narrow Escape But Got Out Safely — Many Windows Smashed Causing Much Suffering In Zero Weather—Fifteen Buildings Wrecked — Heard Many Miles Away — Big Loss.

Tweed, Ont., Feb. 5.—An explosion which broke nearly every window in town and caused scenes of excitement occurred a mile east from here shortly after 7 o'clock yesterday morning, when the powder mills of the Ontario Powder Co., comprising from 12 to 15 buildings, were destroyed.

The men in the works had only been at their occupation a few minutes when one of the big vats of nitric acid was observed to boil over. It ate its way into the floors and soon the wood caught fire. For the flames to reach the nitro-glycerine mixer took only a few minutes. A warning was shouted and the men ran for their lives. With an awful, deafening roar the buildings were torn from their foundations, lifted up high in the heavens, and completely demolished.

There was considerable of a panic in the town for a little while until some of the powder makers arrived on the run with the glad intelligence that all had been saved. As it is, there will be considerable inconvenience in town, if not suffering, as with all the windows broken and the thermometer much below zero it is impossible to keep the houses warm.

Much perishable foodstuff has been frozen in the stores, and rendered absolutely useless, the plate glass fronts having been smashed. Business is practically suspended, and will be for some days.

The churches of the town are also without windows, and as the glass is somewhat hard to replace, there will not likely be services next Sunday.

The factory of the Steel Trough & Machine Co., which is situated a short distance away from the powder mills, had its big chimney blown down, as well as the glass broken.

The shock was felt at Napanee, 25 miles away, and it is reported that glass was broken at Madoc, 16 miles distant. Much damage was done to windows at the village of Stoco, six miles across the lake.

The cause of the explosion is said to be the fact that the extreme cold weather congealed the nitro-glycerine and it entered the mixer and caused the nitric acid to boil and pour over the floor, thus setting the building on fire. The mixers, seeing the danger, ran through the works calling to the men to run for their lives. The men needed no second warning, but rushed to places of safety, and as the thermometer registered well below zero, many of them had ears and fingers frozen.

The loss on plate glass and other glass in the town is estimated at over $1,000. All the buildings owned by the powder company were badly shattered. The company's loss will reach $25,000.

Miss Robinson Admits Perjury.

London, Feb. 5.—Miss Mary Robinson has made a full confession of her wilful perjury in the Druce case, and has admitted the truth of the statements made by the prosecution during the trial of Herbert Druce on charges of perjury brought by George Hollamby Druce, who was striving to make good his claim to the title and estates of the Duke of Portland.

Four Lives Lost In Fire.

New Richmond, Feb. 5.—Four lives were lost here yesterday afternoon. Shortly after 1 o'clock the residence of Andrew Campbell, aged 74, a well-to-do farmer, took fire, and he, as well as his daughter-in-law, Christine Anez of St. Godfrey, aged 30, and her two children, aged respectively two years and four months, perished in the flames.

Laws Must Be Changed.

London, Feb. 5.—Premier Henry Campbell-Bannerman declared in the House of Commons yesterday that material changes may have to be enacted by Parliament in various colonial and British laws before the convention adopted at The Hague last summer establishing an international naval prize court be ratified.

Eczema, Salt Rheum.

Eczema or Salt Rheum, as it is often called, is one of the most agonizing of skin diseases. It manifests itself in little round blisters, which contain an extremely irritating fluid. These break and subsequently a crust or scale is formed.

The intense burning, itching and smarting, especially at night or when the part is exposed to any strong heat, are almost unbearable.

The pre-eminent success which Burdock Blood Bitters has met with in permanently curing a disease of such severity is due to its wonderful blood cleansing and purifying properties.

No other remedy has done, or can do, so much for those who are almost driven to distraction with the terrible torture, as our thousands of signed testimonials can testify to.

Mrs. Jno. B. Keady, Lintop, N.B., writes: "I was so troubled with Salt Rheum for eight years, that I could not work my hands were so sore. By using Burdock Blood Bitters my hands were eventually cured."

Mrs. Ira C. Buskner, Eden, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with Eczema for a long time. It came out on my face and between my shoulders. A friend told me about Burdock Blood Bitters. I took two bottles and it helped me so much I cannot recommend it too highly."

THE LINE-UP FOR TO-NIGHT'S BIG CITY LEAGUE GAMES

A great sheet of ice is made for the city league games to-night and the two best games in the history of the league are on the bill of fare. There is great excitement in the city over the results and a record crowd may be expected as both Norwood and Lakefield will have large delegations with them. The championship of the league depends on the out come of the two contests.

The 8 o'clock game brings together Norwood, and the High Lites and a battle royal will be seen. Both teams have selected the strongest line-up and it is a difficult task to winners. Considerable money will change hands on the result with High Lites apparently the favourites, locally; with Norwood however, having a large number of supporters. Mr. W E Wasson will referee the contest and the teams will face each other like this:—

High Lites. Norwood.
Goal. Thornton ..... Huycke
Point. Ford ..... Nichol
Cover. Ferguson ..... Edwards
Rover. Folley ..... Doherty
Centre. Quinn ..... Kempt
Right wing. Rose ..... Scott
Left wing. Pentland ..... Pearce

Strathconas and Lakefield meet in the second game and if the local team win, they have only to beat Bridgenorth to carry off the championship for a second term. They have their work out out for them, however, to trim Leo Quinn's team, who are playing their best hockey of the season just now, as their 20—3 defeat of the Knockers on Monday night will show. They will in all probability be strengthened to-night by the addition of some of their old players and will make a big bid to beat the Strathconas. The latter have about the best line-up of the season out. They are in fine shape and are confident of a victory. The second contest will also be in charge of W E Wasson who will find the following line-up when he commences his preliminary lecture.

Strathconas. Lakefield.

Point. Meagher ..... M Sabatino

HAVELOCK ARE ALL IN, DOWN AND OUT

Correspondent Mourns the Demise of the Hockey Team

Examiner Special:

Havelock, Feb. 5.—Havelock is "all in," down and out, so far as hockey goes in the Trent Valley League for this season; "all in," down and out, without having won a game. It really seems a shame for a town like Havelock, with so many good hockey players, to go down like this. There are a good many men who are all right, individually, but from lack of practice they have no combination.

A local seven with a few supporters journeyed to Tweed Friday night to play the postponed game with the team of that place. From lack of practice Havelock lost by a score of 12-4. Although most of the men were fast they could not find the Tweed nets. The following team represented Havelock:

Goal—Armstrong.
Point—Rose.
Cover—Robinson.
Centre—Ferguson.
Rover—Foster.
L. Wing—Mathison.
R. Wing—Patterson.

TO-MORROW NIGHT'S NOVEL HOCKEY MATCH

The Ladies' Team Had Another Practice This Morning

The ladies' hockey team had another practice this morning and picked a strong line-up for the game to-morrow night with the Rough Riders. Enough ladies were out to form two teams, and a lively practice game was played. The ladies are confident of defeating their boy rivals. The latter are a little nervous over appearing in public clad in skirts, but have borrowed the necessary apparel and will be on hand to-morrow night in all varieties of feminine finery. During the first half the boys will be allowed to use both hands, but in the second they will have to play with one, and in this half the girls expect to pile up the score.

There promises to be a big crowd in attendance as the game is attracting a lot of interest owing to its unusual nature. There will be skating at 9 o'clock with the 57th Band in attendance and this fact should help to swell the crowd.

LINDSAY WON HANDILY FROM BROCKVILLE

Objects Were Too Much for the 41st Regiment Team

Brockville, Feb. 4.—In the O. H. A. semi-final here to-night Lindsay defeated the 41st Regiment team 5-1.

It was poor hockey throughout, the only redeeming feature being a few combination rushes by the visiting forwards and the defence work. The latter, however, was weakened when Sullivan was struck by the puck in the beginning of the second half. Price going off to even up. At half-time the score was 3-1, and it remained so until within five minutes of the finish, when Lindsay ran in two goals in rapid succession. The teams—

SPORTING NEWS AND VIEWS.....

In the curling games for the Ontario Tankard in Toronto yesterday Lindsay defeated Paris by the big margin of 40 points. In referring to the semi-finals played in the afternoon the Star says:

The semi-finals of the Tankard at Granite and Queen City rinks this afternoon developed some surprises. Those who watched the morning games at Granite predicted that Orillia would take the measure of the Caledonian rinks, but much to the surprise of the wiseacres, the Renfrew rinks proceeded to walk right away from the northerners. At the eighth end the Caledonian rinks were 15 up.

At Queen City ice the Lindsay rinks were having a nice battle with Brock McAulay's Southampton rinks but at the eighth end L. V. O'Connor's Lindsayites were leading Brock McAulay's Southamptons 12—8, and Little's Lindsay rink led George McIver's Southamptons 10—7.

Lindsay curlers are in the finals for the Ontario Tankard, their opponents being the Toronto Caledonians. Lindsay's two rinks which were skipped by G A Little and L V O'Connor, beat Paris and Southampton yesterday. In the morning Lindsay beat Paris by 40 shots, while in the afternoon Southampton was defeated by 9 shots.

CHILDREN CURED BY ZAM-BUK

Mother also Benefits

Girl Had Scalp Disease

Mrs. L. Webster, of 519 Seigneur street, Montreal, says:—"Last summer my little girl contracted scalp disease at school. This took the form of bad gatherings, which broke out in the head, and we feared she would have a very bad head and probably lose her hair. After she had suffered about two weeks we heard of Zam-Buk, and purchased a box. Zam-Buk arrested the disease and prevented it from spreading, and in a very short time healed the sores, leaving the scalp free of any trace of this loathsome scalp trouble."

Boy Badly Scalded

"Since then I have had occasion to test the merits of Zam-Buk in my son's case. One day as I was lifting a pan of boiling water off the stove, my son Eddie ran towards me and knocked the pan upwards. The water went over his neck and scalded him very badly. It was a very awkward place on which to keep a plaster, and several things which we tried failed to give him relief. We then applied Zam-Buk. This acted like a charm, quickly drawing away the pain, and soon healed the scald."

Mother's Eye Wounded

Writing at another time, Mrs. Webster relates a peculiar accident. She says:—"Not many weeks ago my little son, while playing indoors, accidentally struck me over the eye with a stick he was swinging about. I seemed to get the full force of the blow, and the result was an ugly gash just above the eye. This was quite painful, became inflamed, and altogether was not any improvement to my general appearance. I was forced to remain in the house until healed. As luck would have it, the previous night I had just taken home a box of Zam-Buk, so it came in very useful. A few applications quite removed the soreness, drew out all inflammation and started healing. In four or five days the wound had closed up nicely, leaving only a faint red mark to show where the cut had been. This also soon disappeared. Zam-Buk is a most useful balm, and we always keep it handy for we have proved it an invaluable Household Remedy."

WHAT ZAM-BUK CURES

Zam-Buk cures cuts, burns, chapped hands, cold sores, itch, ulcers, eczema, running sores, catarrh, piles, bad legs, abscesses and all diseases of the skin. Of all druggists and stores, 50c., or post-paid upon receipt of price from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

Warden Thompson Delivered His Inaugural Address

The Important Minutes During the First Session---Many Appointments Made---Communications Received ---Deputations Regarding Chemong Bridge

The last day's session of the County Council, which was adjourned on Saturday morning until the June session, was featured by the address of the warden, Mr. Jas. Thompson. His remarks were as follows:

Permit me to again recognize the confidence you have reposed in me in electing me warden for the current year.

As we proceed with the work of the year and look into matters that will unavoidably have to be dealt with, we cannot help but realize the responsibility of our position.

The business is increasing from year to year, and the House of Refuge now being established involves an amount of work and attention that necessitates an additional expense as well as additional attention and work to the former duties assumed. During the past year considerable bridge building has been done, but to deal in a manner of equity with all parts of the county, this great work of placing permanent structures throughout the county is an emergency that will have to be financed and carried into effect with no little responsibility to the Council.

It appears to me that crime is somewhat on the increase, no doubt due to the growth and popularity of the city, and perhaps somewhat due to the depression in the money market, thereby lessening employment and causing lack of employment.

With these facts staring us in the face we may expect an increase in criminal justice expenditures.

It is very gratifying to receive a report from the Board of Management of the House of Refuge, so much in accordance with the spirit of the law in devising such provision as protection for the aged poor.

I will not say more at present, it being customary for the warden to read a general address in June.

Again thanking you for the honour, and asking you for the same assistance accorded my predecessors, I wish both you and the county a prosperous year.

The following are the important minutes of the County Council, which was in session nearly all last week.

On motion of Messrs Scott & Booth W. H. Casement, Esq., of Lakefield, and J. L. Squire, of Norwood, were appointed to audit the books of the County Treasurer for the year 1907.

The reports of the Public School inspectors were referred to the Schools Committee.

On motion Messrs. H. C. Rogers, D. W. Dumble and H. Beal addressed the council, soliciting assistance towards the maintenance of the park in front of the Court House, said park now being leased to the Horticultural Society, or at least negotiations are now under way for said leasing. Referred to the County Property Committee.

Two Deputations

Moved by Mr. Moloney, seconded by Mr. Bates that one-half the council be a deputation to go to Ottawa to interview the Dominion Government and one-half of the council be a deputation to go to Toronto to interview the Provincial Government with regard to the construction of a bridge for the Indians at Chemong, that Messrs. Moloney, Ingram, Scott, Coben, Darling, Moore Fife, Brown and the warden, go to Ottawa; that Messrs. Graham, Russel, Porter, Booth, Oakman, Breault; Hales, Killen and the warden, go to Toronto.

On motion of Messrs. Booth and Hales, the deputation re Chemong Indians go to Toronto as a school deputation in any case, adding Messrs. Moloney and Peck re Model School.

On motion of Messrs. Moloney and Russel, the solicitor was authorized to prepare a bylaw authorizing the borrowing of $5,000 by debenture issue.

On February 1 the address of Reeve Thompson was given to the Council, and the clerk was authorized to have it printed among the reports, etc., of the county.

Moved by Messrs. Fife and Moloney, that the matter of employing an engineer be left in the hands of a special bridge committee.

Mr. Conroy addressed the Council re the railing on the Buckhorn bridge.

On motion, the matter was left in the hands of the Roads and Bridges Committee, with power to act.

Moved by Messrs. Breault and Scott, the the county grant the Children's Aid Society $250.

On motion of Messrs. Breault and Coben, bylaw No. 927 received its first and second readings, being a bylaw to borrow money to the amount of $5,000 by debenture issue for the purpose of constructing bridges in the county, the same to receive its third reading at the June session of the Council.

At the same time the clerk was instructed to advertise said bylaw, and subsequent meeting for the purpose of giving said bylaw its third reading, in accordance with the statute.

PRISONERS ARE AFTER THE LIVES OF THE RATS

Some Have Been Captured But Others Get Away

The prisoners at the county jail are reported as having an interesting time in the pursuit of rats. The other day four of the elusive rodents were slain and as many more were seen on their impudent jaunts throughout the corridors of the historic building. However, a crusade is being waged vigourously against them and it is possible their jaunty airs in the court house will soon belong to the past.

SEVERE STORM SAID TO BE COMING EAST

G.T.R. Train Reported Stalled Above Stouffville by Storm

The excessive cold has caused considerable trouble for the railways during the last few days. The early train on the C. P. R. this morning was three or four hours late, but the noon train going east was on time. The morning G. T. R. trains were well up to the schedule. The noon train from Toronto, however, was reported late and word was received that it was stalled by a severe storm which was raging and would not reach the city before evening.

An extra train was sent from Peterborough at 1.30 to Port Hope in order that the people in the city wishing to make connections with main line could do so. It was felt in the city that a severe storm would soon reach Peterborough, as it was being experienced by western towns and was the worst of the season.

Old Couple Over Eighty, And Husband Is Sightless

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin of Westcott Street of the Deserving Poor—Assisted by the Relief Restaurant in the South End

THE NEIGHBOURS ARE KIND

While the public hears many fake stories of improbable and fanciful destitution and the dread straits to which people are impoverished, there are real cases in the city of actual want which any true citizen would like to see relieved. In his many duties connected with the relief restaurant on Stewart street, Mr. Geo. Cochrane relates the circumstances of a case which came under his attention today. An old couple named Irvine, who live on Westcott street, both over 80 years of age, have been receiving assistance from their neighbours. The old man has lost his sight and is confined to bed. Mr. Cochrane learned that they needed help and at once took them a good allowance of food. The case, according to Mr. Cochrane, is a very deserving one, and he has made arrangements with a little girl to take to Mr. and Mrs. Irwin every day an allowance of food.

Music and Drama

A FUNNY FARCE COMEDY

Jerry from Kerry, which comes to the Grand on Saturday, matinee and night, is a furricone farce comedy, up-to-date and clean. Clever specialties are the features. The company consists of bright lively fun makers. Good earnest work and an evident desire to please makes for this company a favourable impression. There is a continual round of merriment throughout the performance, new songs, pretty music, charming girls, funny comedians and all the pleasing features one expects to see in a show of this kind. The company includes many well known and clever artists.

The Pattens, now with the "Jerry from Kerry" Company, have no superiors in farce comedy. There are three of them. All are skilful musicians and their comedy is of the cleanest and highest type. The single, double and triple solos and duets on tuba and euphonium deserves special mention.

THE GUNNER MOIR FIGHT

Only a small crowd turned out at the Grand last night to see the American Vitagraph Company's pictures of the world's heavy weight championship fight between Tommy Burns and Gunner Moir, but those who were there saw the best bill of its kind ever seen in this city. "The best moving pictures I ever saw," was the frequent remark heard among the spectators, who were delighted with the entertainment.

The piece de resistance of the programme, of course, was the fight pictures, which showed the ten round battle which took place at the National Sporting Club in England. The pictures were most complete and realistic, every movement of the fighters being easily apparent. The spectators speedily grew interested and there would be a long-drawn out "ah" from the crowd when Burns would send in a left to the jaw and there was much applause at the end of the third round, when Moir was knocked clean down and again in the tenth, when the knockout blow came and the Canadian was world's champion.

Sizing up the fight from the pictures Burns' victory was well merited. The Canadian had it over the Englishman in all ways. He was apparently much cleverer and faster, dancing around in a manner that seemed to have the slow moving gunner dazed. The fight was tame during the early rounds, with the men clinching repeatedly. So much so that the referee climbed into the ring in the eighth round. It looked to the spectators last night as if Burns could have waded in at any time and put the Englishman out for when he opened out in the tenth Moir seemed to have no guard left. A significant thing about the finish that struck the observer of the pictures was that no one in the crowd shook hands with Burns after the battle.

In addition to the fight the programme included some films of beautifully coloured motor pictures that were about the best ever presented here. A number of magnificent transformations were shown in addition to several other series of pictures. Several illustrated songs were also rendered effectively.

COMING NEXT WEEK

It will be a pleasure for the friends and acquaintances in this city to know that May A. Bell Marks, the people's favourite actress, will be seen here at the head of the Marks Bros. No. 1. Dramatic Company, for a stay of one week, beginning Monday night next, with matinee on Saturday.

The name of R. W. Marks is a guarantee to every one that they will witness plays that no other attraction can secure, and that they will be given a production of every play, as they are noted for their particularness of paying especial and strict attention to all the details of settings and mountings.

(May A. Bell Marks' former appearances will be remembered for her originality, grace and ease, as well as her entirely different conception of the many roles she has portrayed. Never has she been known to play two parts alike, and at all times she has received the highest of praise, from both press and public, for her clever work. She is one actress that is at home either in comedy, dramatic operatic or romantic roles.

One ladies ticket given free Monday night with every 30 cent reserved seat purchased before 6 p. m. Monday, limited to 200.

Monday night "The Witch of Wall Street," a society comedy drama in five acts.

MAN KNOCKED DOWN BY A HORSE

Double Runaway on Water Street This Afternoon

A double runaway accident occurred on Water street this afternoon about 2.30 o'clock, which caused considerabl excitement.

Mr. Edward Jones left his horse standing on the road while he went into Storey & Leary's flour and feed store to buy hay. The horse took fright and bolted up the street and was caught at Haggart's Lane.

During its flight three bales of straw in the rig fell out of the sleigh. A man who was crossing Hunter street was knocked down and another horse started away from the post office.

The man who was knocked down was not hurt very badly and was able to walk home alright. The other horse, which started away from the post office dashed up Water street an turned west along Brook street. It crossed George street just in front of a street carand its flight was stopped at Brock street rink by a young man who stood in the middle of the road and waved his arms frantically.

TRAINS CANCELLED, LINES WERE BLOCKED AND RAILWAY TRAFFIC SUSPENDED WITH BAD RESULTS

EFFECT ON PETERBOROUGH

From six o'clock last night until nine o'clock this morning not so much as a wheel passed over the railways in the city. The G. T. R. train from Port Hope that is due at 5.38 o'clock, did not arrive until after six and the 4.45 C.P.R. express was booked in about one hour and twenty minutes late. That was the last activity in local railway affairs until this morning at nine o'clock when the early morning C.P.R. express from Ottawa arrived between four and five hours late. The local last night being cancelled, the city was deprived of the Toronto evening papers. The Grand Trunk noon train started out as usual yesterday but was cancelled owing to the storm up west and no communication had in 24 hours this morning between Toronto and Peterborough over the G.T.R. line.

The cause of this general blockade was a very severe storm centring around Toronto, which was reported the worst in many a decade. Judging from the results in railway circles the storm must have been exceptional. All the trains going east were tied up and business was literally at a standstill.

This storm has affected the country in many ways. The local post office was well nigh empty this morning, not having received any mails. The business people have suffered in this respect and the city has gone through a short seige with all connections cut off from the outer world, except by wire.

Peterborough's Share

Evidently Peterborough escaped yesterday's storm, at least it could not has been more than the tail that passed over the city. Snow began to fall between 2 and 3 o'clock and about 5 o'clock a wind sprang up that whirled the light snow around in a disagreeable manner. This continued into the middle of the night, but the storm did not strike Peterborough very hard. The thermometer gradually rose until it was 15 above zero, a difference of over 35 degrees from the morning.

The Street Railway Company was prepared for the worst but their fears were not realized. Mr. J McCann had the sweeper and plough out and kept the line out of the danger zone, and all the cars ran on regular schedule.

The Customs House was like the Post Office almost without business. The hotels have felt the result of no railway service by transient guests not reaching the city.

The country roads were filled in again by last night's wind and the farmers will again find it a difficulty in breaking in the main roads. Such is the result of a Canadian snow storm, in which the elements rage and fury to remind mortals that they are still kings of the earth.

One Hundred Men Sent

Later—To-day at noon a snow-plough passed over the G. T. R. line from Lindsay to Port Hope. This division of the line was in fair condition and presented but little difficulty.

On the C.P.R.

On the C. P. R. it was reported that last night's 4.45 express was held near Burketon and arrangements were being made at noon to-day to take 140 men to the scene of the blockade to shovel the train out of the drift. A plough coming east was reported at Agincourt this morning and this afternoon at time of going to press was reported to be fast in a drift between Myrtle and Cavanville. The men who had been hired for emergency were despatched about two o'clock to help relieve the plough and the express train that is held and to clear the line. It was not stated when the line would be cleared as there is a great deal of work to be done, and while the company is doing their best to re-establish traffic the line may be opened to-night but the authorities would not commit themselves, as they were not in a position to know when the line would be cleared.

G.T.R. Train

After the plough went to Port Hope at noon to-day a passenger train was also sent from the station to Port Hope after one o'clock to connect with the main line to Toronto. It was expected that this would be accomplished. Quite a number of snow-bound passengers took advantage of this opportunity to return to Toronto. The G. T. R., like the C. P. R., is in difficulty west of Lindsay and the authorities could not state when this section would be again opened.

SAID HE HAD NINE CHILDREN AND OBTAINED MONEY FROM TWO PARSONS

A case of fraud that has been recently exposed is very discouraging to those who wish to assist the poor people of the city who need help. A few days ago a man who said he was in impoverished conditions approached one of our clergymen and asked for monitory assistance. He told a hard luck story of how he had nine children who were all hungry and not properly cared for because he, the father, was unable to secure work. The minister took pity on the man and gave him some money.

But a few hours after he met another minister and related the same story and with a little better results, for this time the minister gave him all his loose change. The man was known to both ministers and a day or so afterwards several ladies of one of the churches called at the man's home bringing good cheer to his nine little ones. What was their surprise to find that there was only a small family and conditions were not at all as the man had painted them.

This kind of impecunious citizen is keeping many people from helping the deserving poor, as in some cases it cannot be ascertained whether help is needed or not.

Geodetic Survey of Canada As Described by Dr. King

DOMINION OBSERVATORY

The members of the Peterborough branch of the Royal Astronomical Society had the honour of listening to an address last night by Dr. King, chief astronomer of the Dominion observatory, Ottawa, and honourary president of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada. Dr. King is generally conceded to be one of the foremost mathematicians of America and holds a distinguished position in Canada's chief survey affairs. Through a close friendship with Dr. Marsh and on his bequest that Dr. King meet the local society, the latter very generously accepted this, his first opportunity, and spoke before a fairly large audience at the Y.W.C.A.

In his address he dealt with the equipment of the observatory of which he is in charge, and explained the various instruments in daily use. He also referred to some of the most important surveys the Government has conducted and of which he has had supervision.

A Warm Welcome

The meeting last night was a special one, and there was therefore no routine business. Dr. Marsh introduced Dr. King in a few brief remarks, after which Ald. Elliott on behalf of the city extended a hearty welcome to him and acknowledged the honour and privilege of his visit. He had been asked by Mayor Rush, who was unable to be present, to convey this welcome to Dr. King, and expressed his assurance that his visit would be much appreciated.

Dr. King thanked the audience and the city for their kind welcome and for the entertainment he had enjoyed during the day in visiting the large manufacturing establishments. He opened his address proper by stating that the Ottawa observatory was purely astronomical and not meteorological, having nothing to do with forecasting the weather. He explained in detail the principal instruments, including large telescope, which has an object glass of 15 inches in diameter, and the spectroscope, by the use of which a better knowledge is obtained of the stellar systems. The use of the telephoto was also explained, by which the sun may be photographed. The meridian circle was also dealt with. By it the right ascension and declination of a star can be obtained by a single observation.

Dr. King explained several other instruments used, referred to the library, photographic establishment, and the obtaining of time for the city of Ottawa. Speaking of the surveys which were being made, he dealt with the Alaskan boundary, which is now being conducted, and the Alaska coast line boundary. He fully described the difficulty experienced in the mountainous regions by the surveyors, which delays the work and makes progress slow. The southern boundary of Canada is also being surveyed. Work is now confined to the British Columbia district, but will probably be continued eastward to the Lake of the Woods. The survey of the boundary east of the St. Lawrence is also being conducted.

Dr. King concluded his address by a lucid description of the geodetic surveys being conducted to confirm the first surveys and procure correct maps of the country.

After the address, Sheriff Hall moved a vote of thanks, seconded by Col. Miller, to Dr. King, for his entertaining treatment of the subjects he discussed.

EXHIBITION BOARD MEETING

Proposed to Hold night Entertainment At Next Fall Fair

COMMITTEES APPOINTED

The Peterborough Industrial Exhibition Board held a special meeting in the Council Chambers yesterday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock for the purpose of appointing standing committees and discussing new business. There was a large number of the members present and Mr. R H Leary, the president occupied the chair.

Messrs. R H Leary and J H Gerbutt were elected to represent the local board at the Fairs' Convention to be held in Toronto on February 18th and 19th. All standing committees were struck and the members are the same as last year except that Messrs. Johnston and O'Shea have been added to the Speeding in the Ring Committee.

The matter of giving a night entertainment at the exhibition next year was brought up for discussion and it was proposed to have several special attractions on in the evening.

The matter was left over until the next meeting.

The next meeting of the Exhibition Board will take place in the Council Chambers on Wednesday, March 1st.

TRAINS TIED UP IN TORONTO

Only Four Trains in Motion up to 2 O'Clock To-day

Examiner Special.

Toronto, Feb. 6.—Promise of slowly rising temperatures for to-day offers the railway companies their first ray of relief from the rigorous weather of the past few days. Not since 1884 have the roads in Ontario been so tied up. The train service out of Toronto is almost entirely crippled, while cities and towns north and west of Orangeville have no service whatever. Up to 2 o'clock this afternoon four trains, two on the Grand Trunk and two on the Canadian Pacific have left Toronto. Three were for the east and the fourth for Hamilton. Five trains came in this morning from Montreal, Hamilton, Buffalo and Chicago. The Canadian Northern remains completely tied up.

SHETLAND PONIES FOR KENTUCKY

Brought Across the Ocean and Will be Nourished in the Blue Grass State

NUMBERING TWENTY IN ALL

A car of twenty Shetland ponies was stalled in the city to-day at the C. P. R. station. They were in a baggage car which was set apart and prepared entirely for them. The passenger train from Montreal was conveying them from St. John's, N. B., to Detroit, where they were to be taken by way of Cincinnati to the State of Kentucky.

The ponies were brought direct from the Shetland Islands on the last Donaldson liner. The man that owned them had met them at St. John's and was accompanying them to their destination, where he has a ranch and devotes his attention to breeding cattle. He said that he would give the ponies every care until they were in good condition again and then sell them. They are very popular in the States, being particularly used by the children at pleasure resorts. They range in age from 2 to 8 years and like all the ponies of their kind were small but should be a good investment for their owner.

ENTERTAINED BY THE BUSINESS MEN

Dr. King of Ottawa Conducted Through The Manufacturing Houses

Dr. King, of the Dominion Observatory, Ottawa, while in the city yesterday was entertained by some of the business men of the city and was conducted through the main manufacturing establishments of the city. Mayor Rush and Dr. Marsh were among the number and Dr. King was impressed by the importance of Peterborough as a business centre.

THE SAGES SIDE

A good deal of prominence has been given to the fact that the City Council of Toronto has cut off at one stroke thirty-four hotel licenses, and their action has been highly commended in some quarters, and in others condemned; not on account of the attendant circumstances. Toronto Saturday night points out that one authority one year—the license commissioners—compelled hotel keepers to make extensive improvements to premises amounting to thousands of dollars in value, as a condition of obtaining licenses. The licenses were issued, and the next year, this year, another authority, the City Council, wipes out these licenses, without anything like compensation. There seems to be two sides to the question. The law has made the traffic legal, expenditures have, under its implied and direct protection, been made. To destroy the fruit of these investments—also by law or bylaw its the same thing—seems to be hardly in keeping with the prevalent idea of British justice. As remarked there are two sides to the question and here is the side of Mr. Goldwin Smith "the Sage of the Grange" as printed under the pseudonym of Bystander, in the "Weekly Sun":—

"Engrossed as attention is unhappily by the prevailing distress, we cannot afford to turn a deaf ear to the plea of public justice. The City Council of Toronto has by a sweeping exertion of arbitrary power deprived of their commercial privilege and of their livelihood thirty-four citizens, against not one of whom, so far as has appeared, has any specific charge been brought, in some cases imperilling investments. It is not likely that thirty-four hotel licenses should all at once have been so manifestly abused as to warrant sweeping forfeiture, involving, it seems, in some of the cases serious loss. On no other supposition apparently can the action of the City Council and the withdrawal of these thirty-four licenses be reconciled with justice. Total abstinence may be right. Its advocates may be doing society good service and entitled to the gratitude of society for their efforts. But reformers are apt to be impatient, and it is not likely that these reformers would succeed at once and completely in face of general and immemorial habit, moreover could plead the sanction of the author of our religion. That Prohibition is not yet the law or the established rule of social morality, the retention of a large number of licenses is an admission, and an attempt to force its way by sweeping and arbitrary confiscation as to do what the community ought not in any case to sanction.

"The Toronto press for the most part has shown a timidity due, no doubt, to fear of the prohibitionist power. Whether it be to the narrowness of our field or to any other cause, independence is not the most marked quality of our press. Special thanks, therefore, are due to those which have spoken out on this occasion."

Hon. Mr. Hanna takes credit to himself for the removal of the children from the Girl's Reformatory and the placing of them elsewhere. Mr. Hanna might as welltake credit for being the author of the constitution. The Boys' Reformatory was closed prior to Mr. Hanna's official life and it was arranged for the refuge to undergo the same transformation before Mr. Hanna took charge of the Department.

IT WON'T WASH

If the Review takes its readers for simpletons, the latter will not find it difficult to establish relatives of reciprocal sympathy. The organ tries to discount the value of the assertion that the Conservative candidate who succeeded—in having the most ballots marked in his favour—gained this distinction at the expense of knifing Messrs. Garvin and Phelan, by the childish plea that, on motion of these two gentlemen, the nomination was made unanimous. Of course; that was the arrangement made before the ballot was taken, and honest men had to carry it out; besides, it is one of the forms of flapdidoodle that accompany every nomination. Mr. Burnham might enlighten the Review, as to the comments on the manner in which he gained the nomination, which have reached his ears directly and indirectly from the two unsuccessful candidates for the nomination, even after the formal resolution of unanimity. The explanation is altogether too diaphanous—it won't wash.

REDISTRIBUTION IN ONTARIO

Toronto News.

It is expected that a measure of redistribution will be introduced at the approaching session of the Legislature. Nothing has transpired to suggest that anything like a gerrymander for party purposes is contemplated. It is even hinted that the British practice will be followed, and a committee representing both sides of the Legislature appointed to consider the details of the measure. It will be remembered that the redistribution made by the Ross Government a few years ago was substantially fair to both parties, and the Federal redistribution of 1903, while attacked by the Opposition in some particulars, respected municipal boundaries, and upon the whole held the balance even between the two parties. Indeed, in this respect our political methods have shown a great improvement in the last quarter of a century, and it rumour is to be trusted, Mr. Whitney will adhere to the better fashion.

A sight that is typical of our Canadian winters and which no one should miss the opportunity of seeing is an express train on the C.P.R. drawn by one of the huge Mogul engines, which are seen on the line passing through Peterborough. The powerful engine, one of man's master inventions, struggles through cold winds and drifts of closely-packed snow. The steam, as it is emitted from the cylinders, freezes on the wheels, the cabin and on the body of the engine. When it reaches the city it is figured with icicles, and every little crevice has caught up the flying snow which has become blackened by the smoke.

The first train that arrived at the C. P. R. station this morning was a striking picture of a Canadian winter. All the cars were covered with snow and ice, but this was only the dust of the long conflict with the weather between the East and Peterborough.

Prominent Educationalist On Commission Government

Mr. W. H. Moore K.C. Quotes From Words of President Eliot of Harvard University---The Benefits of a Board Of Control in Municipal Government

Sir,—I have observed an article contributed by President Eliot of Harvard University, near Boston, Mass., on the recent occasions of the election of aldermanic candidates, many of whom had been pledged to the creation of a Board of Control, to take charge of an important branch of city work, and which, though set up by the Council, still would be independent of it, in its action. After making reference to the cases of Galveston and Washington, and their successes under commission government, he proceeds to say that this mode of procuring efficient transaction of municipal business, or portions thereof, resembles the ordinary mode of conducting great industrial, financial and like companies. All city business, like private business, he points out, needs management which is continuous, and so expected to exercise foresight and good judgment in discerning and meeting the needs of the future; that it is impossible to do city business well through bodies replaced each year, and that a small central board charged with a part or the whole of the city's affairs ought to be elected by the people. They should have a considerable amount of power, and direct responsibility. Each man's term of office should be at least five years, so that he should have time to prove his quality. In that case each would look ahead and make long plans, and see them carried out. The board would feel they had a trust to execute, and the means in their own hands; and that wherever this method had been applied, either in whole or in part of the city's operations, a superior class of men had appeared, and the high quality of their work maintained.

Mr. Eliot is a person of such eminent position and repute that I quote his continuing words of wisdom:

"No improvement in the form of city government can remedy the existing abuses and evils, unless the change of form be accompanied by the selection of a different sort of man to conduct the new government. What, then, are the reasons for thinking that suitable men could be obtained to administer municipal affairs discreetly and honourably, if government by commission or selection should be adopted? The right men for the new sort of administration would be experienced business men who had already been successful in their several occupations, and who, therefore, had a large stake in the moral and material welfare of the community over which they were chosen to preside. At present, almost all the men who serve as aldermen and councilmen in the American cities are of small capacity and have never succeeded in any business or serious undertaking. Over and over again lists of the aldermen and councilmen of American cities have been published which show most of them to have little or no property and no describable means of support. In short, they are not persons who have given evidence of capacity to administer successfully any large affairs."

"In Boston, the quality of the various commissions and boards, among which the greater part of the city business has been parcelled out, has been good from the beginning, and still is, and the work of these commissions and boards is the best municipal work done in Massachusetts. Witness the far-seeing plans of the Metropolitan Water Board and of the Metropolitan Park Commission. So soon as the Boston School Committee was reduced from twenty-four to five, it was found possible to get five competent men to do the work; and immediately the new committee commanded to a striking degree the confidence of teachers, parents, and the public at large."

"If it be clearly understood that successful men of proved capacity are wanted for the city's service, able men will be attracted to the service just because the standard of the service is set high. There are always plenty of good candidates for offices which go power, responsibility and public consideration. To an office which requires for the proper discharge of its duties a high degree of intelligence and public spirit, public-spirited men, young and old, will aspire. That aldermen and common councilmen have fallen into contempt is a grave misfortune; for that very fact makes it extremely difficult to recruit those bodies with desirable citizens, except, indeed, in an occasional and spasmodic way. Whenever an office is agrandized, the man of capacity who really fills the office will set a new standard of efficient work for the office. Larger functions in fewer hands will command the services of better men—of men honest, efficient and public-spirited."

"There is a remark Mr. Eliot makes, which surprises me, that the commission ought to be elected by the people, unless the existing political conditions make it more prudent to have it appointed outside the city, which sounds a little strange to us in Canada. I have elsewhere pointed out that it would be impossible to take from the people, in their present temper, their free choice of representatives. They must continue to elect the legislative body, but this body could very properly be invested with statutory power to nominate commissioners or boards of control, of a small number, for fixed and lengthy periods of office, and with due compensation, to perform various functions of administrative action, uncontrolled by the Council, but within defined limits. The duties now conferred on the Board of Works Committee of this city suggests itself as applicable, and the City Trust illustrates the position. The Council in such cases would be responsible for the composition of the Board, and the latter body answerable to the Council, and to the people; or such bodies might be constituted by the direct vote of the electors, as are the Water Commissioners. But as at present viewed, accountability to the Council as well as to the people would perhaps be the better method of assuring effective service."

It is generally confessed that the performance of the various duties of councils, under existing law, and as now applied, does not commend itself to the people at large, and consequently we find agitation going on all over the land, looking to the adoption of reforms, based more or less on the principles I have advocated; and it is, I believe, a safe prediction to make, that within the next decade, legislative sanction will be obtained to adopt them in the cities and towns of Ontario.

Your Obedient Servant,
W. H. MOORE.

THE AMBULANCE DID NOT GO OVER

Mercky Leaned To One Side—Regular Drivers in Attendance

In connection with the report in yesterday's issue regarding the upsetting of the ambulance, the Examiner's informant apparently made some errors in his description. It appears that the ambulance did not upset, but merely canted over to one side on account of the character of the road but was adjusted again by the assistance of two men who happened to be near the particular corner.

It was driven by Messrs. Walter and Arthur Bellegham, who always attend to it and successfully, too, and from later reports, by their alertness they averted the overturning of the conveyance. Also it may be stated that the baby was ill and not its mother.

THE OVERCOAT HAS NOT BEEN IDENTIFIED

Trial of Burke on Theft Charge Not Proceeded With

The coat supposed to have been stolen by the prisoner Charles Burke has not yet been identified. County Constable Cochrane went out to Smith Township on Thursday with the overcoat, but it was not claimed by the party who had missed some drygoods. The authorities think that the prisoner secured the coat and that he exchanged it for another. The trial set for to-day in regard to this charge was not proceeded with.

Has Been Trying for Two Days to Get Men For Shanties

Mr. Thos. Harding, of Dummer, has been in the city since yesterday morning trying to hire a gang of men to work cutting cordwood in the shanties. He claims he has not been able to get one man to do the work. In talking with the Examiner today the gentleman said that since the relief restaurants and help fund had begun no labourers could be obtained.

A NEW CURE FOR RUPTURE

New Scientific Appliance Always a Perfect fit-Adjustable to any Size Person-Easy, Comfortable Never Slips, No Obnoxious Springs or Pads-Costs Less Than Many Common Trusses-Made For men, Women or Children

Send it on Approval-you Wear it-if you are not Satisfied, I Refund Your Money

I have invented a rupture appliance that I can safely say, by 30 years' experience in the rupture business, is the only one that will absolutely hold the rupture and never slip and yet is cool, comfortable, conforms to every movement of the body without chafing or hurting and costs less than many ordinary trusses. I have put the price so low that any person, rich or poor, can buy, and I absolutely guarantee it. I make it to your order, send it to you, you wear it, and if it doesn't satisfy you send it back to me and I will refund your money. That is the fairest proposition ever made by a rupture specialist. The banks or any responsible person in Marshall will tell you that it is the way I do business—always absolutely on the square.

"C. E. Brooks, Esq., Dear Sir,—I have been ruptured six years and have always had trouble with it till I got your appliance. It is very easy to wear fits neat and snug, and it is not in the way at any time, day or night. In fact at times I did not know I had it on. It just adapted itself to the shape of my body and clung to the spot no matter what position I was in. It would be a veritable God-send to the unfortunate who suffer from rupture, if all could procure the Brooks Rupture Appliance and wear it. They certainly would never regret it. My rupture is all healed up and nothing ever did it but your appliance. Jas. Britton."

If you have tried most everything else, come to me. Where others fail is where I make my greatest success. Write me to-day and I will send you my book on Rupture and its cure, showing my appliance and giving you prices and names of people who have tried it and been cured. It is instant relief when others fail. Remember I use no salves, no harness, no lies, just a straight business deal at a reasonable price.

C. E. BROOKS, 4202 Brooks Building, Marshall, Mich.

Fat Defeating Extraordinary

MARGARET KNOLLY

SLENDER Margaret Knolly now if you please. The fascinating leading lady of the Bijou, now more fascinating than ever, astonished all her friends on Broadway the other day by presenting to their admiring gaze a svelt and willowy form in place of the plump, not to say fat, outlines with which she gayly sailed away to new triumphs and foreign shores last January. After a good deal of diplomatic cross-examination from interested fat acquaintances the secret was cautiously whispered to a few dear friends, with the result that everybody knows it now. It was not exercise, nor fasting, nor sea air, nor worry about her new venture that brought about this wonderful willowy change in the charming Margaret; no, none of these: nothing but a simple mixture which all druggists are familiar with and can supply at small cost, to wit: One-half ounce Marmola, 3-4 ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic and 4 3-4 ounces of Syrup Simplex. "Grown folks need a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime," explained the now slender Margaret. It is simply wonderful. It takes off the fat quickly, as much as a pound a day, and keeps it off. You can eat what you like, too. In that respect it is unlike anything of the kind I ever heard of, and besides, it has another splendid feature—it is entirely harmless and will not cause wrinkles. I think it is about as essential a toilet article for the woman who is fat and wants to get thinner, as face powder. In order to get the best results, however, you should buy the Marmola in the original package and mix it with the other two ingredients after you get home."

FORESTERS' CARNIVAL ON ST. VALENTINE'S DAY

The committee in charge is sparing no pains to make it the best carnival in the history of the Brock street rink.

DOCTORS ENDORSE HERPICIDE

Because his Formula is Submitted to them

Alexander McMillan, M.D., a prominent physician of Lansing, Michigan, writes: "On three cases I have tested Herpicide for dandruff, and the result has been all that could be desired."

Herpicide is made upon an entirely new principle, that is, that dandruff and falling hair are caused by a microbe that infests the hair bulb, and, by destroying the microbe one's hair is bound to grow luxuriantly. Herpicide is the only hair remedy that claims to and really does destroy the dandruff germs.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes—50c and $1. McDermid & Jury and the Market Drug Store, Special Agents.

The Municipal Control Of Public Utilities

The Second Session of The Mock Parliament Last Night—Government Leader Introduces Bill

SOME ABLE DISCUSSION

The regular meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Mock Parliament was held last night. The attendance was not as large as was expected on account of the unfavourable weather; but a most interesting and profitable meeting was held. The entire evening was devoted to the second session of the Mock Parliament. The telephone bill which was to have been introduced by the Government at this session was withdrawn and in the absence of the Minister of Public Works the following resolution was introduced in a very able and forcible manner by the leader of the Government:

During the past year many petitions have been received by this house praying that extended powers be granted to municipalities. Be it resolved, that this Parliament assembled, do hereby affirm themselves in favour of extended powers of control being given to municipalities; provided that such extensions be limited to public utilities which are natural monopolies, such as gas works, electric lighting systems, street railways and telephones, and that legislation be introduced by the Government as an early date dealing with the matter.

Before this was considered by the House several important questions were asked by the Opposition members and replied to by the different members of the Government.

In introducing the resolution the Premier dealt in detail with the advantages derived by the Municipal control of these monopolies and the success of municipal control in other countries bringing out many strong and interesting facts in support of his argument. The resolution, however, was stoutly opposed by the Leader of the Opposition and his colleques who brought forward many strong facts and figures in support of individual control. The stout objection put forward by some of the Opposition speakers did not meet with the approval of the Government who continued to pass comments and interrupt the speaker and had to be called to order by the speaker of the House on several occasions. However, the resolution which is a very important one, was ably handled by the members on both sides of the house.

Mr. Hodgson, critic of the society, in summing up the debate said he was very much pleased by the manner in which the question had be handled by the members, and reviewed the speeches of the different speakers, complimenting the society on its steady progress and the manner in which this important issue had been handled.

The next meeting will be held on Wed. Feb. 19, then the last session of the Mock Parliament will be held. A bill relating to the labour question will be brought in by the Government. All young men interested are requested to be on hand and hear this important question dealt with. The Parliament will dissolve at the next meeting and the regular programme will be continued.

A Number of Unemployed During Month of December

Ald. W. J. Johnston Gives Interesting Figures in Last Issue of Labour Gazette—The Building Permits

WORK IN THE DISTRICT

The January issue of the Labour Gazette contains the following interestingaccount on labour conditions during December, by Ald. W. J. Johnston, the special correspondent in Peterborough:

Work in general for the past month has been fairly active, considering the season of the year and the large number of working people that have come to reside in the city during the past summer. A large number of families from Great Britain have recently taken up their residence here; they are principally labourers. Work for that class has been somewhat dull, and many of them are in reduced circumstances. The cordage works, after being shut down for general repairs, has started again with one hundred hands; this number, in a few weeks' time will be increased to about 200. The total value of the building permits issued during the year amounted to $767,546.00, divided as follows: In April, $2,425; 132 in May, $538,635; 42 in June, $65,678; 21 in July, $26,790; 26 in August, $18,890; 33 in September, $42,370; 28 in October, $78,643; 8 in November, $8,325, and 4 in December, $1,990. Some of these structures will not be completed until next year. The Peterborough Canoe Company is making 100 toboggans, and is also very busy on canoe work. Curtis Bros., closed the season after an output of 4,200,000 bricks, their largest output for any one season. Heavy shipments of live stock took place during the month, and local dealers were very busy. Work on the Collegiate Institute is being hurried, but work on the construction of the armouries, Normal school and the Roman Catholic Church is stopped until spring. The Christmas trade was exceptionally good, and business of all kinds exceeded that of any former year. Activity prevailed in commercial circles and wholesale and retail trade was never better. Wages remains unchanged.

Local Industries

Agriculture — Agricultural work was somewhat quiet, as is usual at this time of the year, farmers being employed in hauling produce to the market.

Fishing—Dullness prevailed.

Lumbering—Activity was the rule. Lumber dealers have reduced wages from $35 to $26 per month. A large number of men have left the camps and will not work at reduced rate. It is not anticipated that there will be any difficulty in replacing the men that left, as a great number are out of employment. All the men that remained in the camps will be paid at the rate of $29 to $26 per month and any new men going in at the rate of $18 to $26 per month.

The Peterborough Lumber Company output for the season amounted to 7,000,000.

Manufacturing — Industrial establishments were active.

Mining—Dull provisions prevailed.

Railroad construction and employment—Work was confined to general repairing and keeping the track and equipment in good order.

Particular Trades

Building—Carpenters and joiners, plasterers, painters and plumbers were active, but dullness prevailed with bricklayers, masons, lathers, gas and steam fitters, stonecutters and builders' labourers.

Metal, engineering and shipbuilding—Activity prevailed with iron moulders, iron workers and helpers, machinists and engineers, brassworkers, blacksmiths, shipworkers, sheet metal workers and horseshoers, while electrical workers and jewellers were busy, and boilermakers found employment dull.

Woodworking and furnishing—Active conditions prevailed, except with car builders, who were somewhat dull.

Printing—December has been a good month; work during Christmas week was never better.

Clothing—Journeymen tailors were active; garment and boot and shoe workers busy, and hat makers dull.

Food and tobacco preparation—Bakers and confectioners, butchers and meatcutters were busy, cigarmakers and tobacco workers active, and ice-handlers dull.

Leather—Harness and collar makers were active.

Miscellaneous—These trades were busy.

Transport—All branches of railway employment were exceedingly busy.

Steamboatmen, carters, draymen and teamsters found employment dull, but active conditions prevailed with draymen and street railway employees.

Unskilled—Employment for this class was scarce.

District Notes

Work throughout the district consisted of chopping cordwood, threshing and hauling to market different kinds of produce, the price of which remains much the same, as stated in former report, with a slight reduction in the price of wheat, oats and barley. Cheese factory operations are suspended for the winter months. A profitable season was reported.

Nogey's Creek—A new dam, eight feet high and 54 feet long, has been completed. It has a slide constructed specially for running logs.

Lindsay—A new wheel factory has begun work, employing 17 hands and turning out twenty sets of wheels per day.

Lakefield—The Cavendish Lumber Company reported an output of 17,000,000 feet.

WILL STILL CLING TO 9-HOUR DAY

Important Decision of Carpenters and Masons Union—Banquet To-night

At a special meeting of the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union, No. 17, held on Tuesday night to consider the proposal of an eight-hour day, an important resolution was passed. It was decided in view of the number of large contracts in hand, such as the Normal School, the armouries, and the new Catholic church, and also on account of the slight depression experienced due to the financial stringency that the Union would still cling to the 9-hour system for another year.

The banquet to be held this evening was also talked over and as representatives from other unions will be present and also Mayor Farah it will be a great success.

WAS BITTEN IN THE FACE BY A HORSE

Cheek Terribly Lacerated And Required Twelve Stitches

On Saturday evening, while Mr. Robert Gillies, Sr., an aged farmer, living one and a quarter miles north of Kinwood, was engaged feeding his live stock, one of his horses suddenly attacked him and bit him in the face. His left cheek was terribly lacerated and it required twelve stitches to close the wounds. If no complications arise no serious results are anticipated.

JOS. LUNDY PASSES AWAY

Was an Assessor and Deputy Returning Officer for Years—Prominent Contractor

RESIDENT FOR 55 YEARS

Peterborough lost one of the most widely known and highly respected citizens in the person of Mr. Joseph Lundy, who passed away peacefully at his home 340 Aylmer street, at 6 o'clock last evening. The intelligence of his sad demise has cast a shadow of gloom through the entire community. He had been in ill health for a little over a year which did not become acute until election day and he has been confined to his bed most of the time.

During his illness Mr. Lundy has been greatly missed about the city, as he took a prominent part in all civic affairs. He was known to nearly everyone in Peterborough and his kindly nature made him many friends.

The deceased gentleman was 77 years of age and was born in County Cavan, Ireland. He was brought up and educated in that county, and at the age of twenty-two came to Canada. Upon arrival here he came right to Peterborough and has been a resident here ever since. He was married and his wife predeceased him eight years ago. He leaves behind him four sons, William and Joseph, of Peterborough, and Richard and Frank, of Toronto.

The late Mr. Lundy resided in Peterborough for fifty-five years. He was for some time a resident of Aylmer street, after which he built a residence in North Monaghan just outside the corporation, where he resided for many years before disposing of it.

He was one of Peterborough's assessors and almost always acted in the capacity of returning officer at all elections. He was thrifty and energetic and a great believer in the Henry George system of single tax, and it was at his instance that many speakers have visited Peterborough during the past few years in the interests of that system.

In business life the late Mr. Lundy followed the occupation of a contractor, and during his career he erected every station on the C.P.R. line between Indian River and Toronto. During the last twenty-five years of his life he has not followed any particular occupation.

The funeral will take place on Friday at 2 o'clock, from the residence 340 Aylmer street to the Little Lake Cemetery. Rev. Canon Davidson, of St. John's Church, will officiate.

If We Could Look at the Heart of a Pale-Faced Person!

Few people ever stop to consider what pallor to the countenance means. In the first place it indicates an absence from the blood of the rich, red, life-giving elements so requisite to health; and in the second place it indicates a weakened heart action. These two things act and re-act. If we could look at the heart of one of these pale-faced people, we would see it flabby, weak and pallid. No wonder they are easily tired, get out of breath quickly, have palpitation, are nervous and despondent. Their muscles are poor, their stomach disordered, and their lives are seldom free from misery.

Let them take Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills; there is no remedy to equal them for making pale faces rosy, weak hearts and shaky nerves strong, flabby muscles firm, and infusing new hope and ambition into life.

Mr. W. J. Churchill, Lombardy, Ont., writes: "I was troubled for three years with a weak heart and nervousness. I could not sleep and ever so little food would distress me. I also had faint and dizzy spells, and doctored with three doctors but was growing worse. After taking three boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I feel as well as ever I did. They are the best pills on earth."

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25 at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

NO TRAINS AND HENCE NO PAPERS

700 Customers of Mr. Murphy Were Disappointed

The storms of the last few days have deprived many people from getting their Toronto evening papers, the News and Star. Mr. Murphy, the Charlotte street newsdealer, who has the agency for these papers here, has experienced a regular hornet's nest about his head these days from people not getting their papers delivered. Eight hundred papers of the last edition Saturday night did not arrive till Monday, and last night no papers arrived at all. This morning Mr. Murphy had the newsboys on hand to deliver their routes, but the train had not made its appearance, and about 700 readers of the News and Star had to do without their papers.

TREASURED PHOTOES WERE TAKEN

Carried Through Two Wars—Taken by a Picture Agent

A veteran of the British Army who has seen service with his regiment in Indian and South Africa, and who lost his hearing during the late war, came into the police station this morning for a little advice from the Chief. An agent named Shipley had come to his home in the south end one day last August and presented himself as a photographer who enlarged small photos. The soldier had two pictures, one of his wife and the other of her mother and father. He treasured these very dearly as he had carried them on the inside of his pocket during the period he served in India and South Africa, and he thought it would be nice to have these enlarged. The silver-tongued Mr. Shipley took the photos and the man signed an order for the enlarged pictures, which were promised to be ready in a month. The complainant then went to Bird River to work, and on his return expected to find the pictures in a prominent place in the parlour, but was disappointed. The Mr. Shipley had been in the city, but did not go near the house with either the originals or the enlarged pictures.

The Chief advised the man to write to Chief Grassett in Toronto and he would soon find Mr. Shipley and perhaps the photos.

CHARITY CONCERT LAST NIGHT

In Aid of St. Vincent de Paul Society At St. Peter's Hall

The Charity concert given for the purpose of assisting St. Vincent de Paul Society was largely attended last night, although the weather was extremely disagreeable. The assembly hall of St. Peter's school was used for the occasion and as usual proved most suitable in accommodating the audience. Rev. Father McColl acted as chairman and during the evening Mayor Rush and Mr. Burnham made short speeches. They referred to the good work done by the society in assisting the poor and were pleased to have had the opportunity of hearing the fine programme presented:

Vocal solo—Mr. Harry Quinlan.
Piano solo—Miss Mary Dorris.
Violin solo—Miss Kathleen McCarthy.

INJURIES TO ONE OLD MAN

In the Explosion at Tweed Powder Factory—There Were Peculiar Freaks

WHAT TWEED NEWS SAYS

The Tweed News of this week gives the following account of the big explosion:

With a rumble and a crash that shook the buildings for miles around, the nitro-glycerine in the mixing room of the nitrator at the Ontario Powder Company, exploded on Tuesday morning at 7.45 o'clock.

The men had just got to work at the plant and were getting the various ingredients ready for the day's work when flames were seen issuing from the nitrator building, and word quickly spread that a terrific explosion could not be prevented, and the men from all parts of the works ran for safety.

Many of the men ran direct to their homes in Tweed and warned their families that an explosion was about to take place. These people all ran from their homes to avoid danger. In about fifteen minutes the flames had eaten their way to the building where the nitro-glycerine was stored, and the batch that was in the mixture exploded with a long drawn out crash, completely destroying the nitrator building and all other buildings within a hundred yards. The explosion did considerable damage for miles around. In Tweed, when the explosion took place, the people who were up rushed to the streets to see what damage had been done. It was found that although hundreds of windows were broken, no loss of life had taken place. Along Victoria street the wreckage looked bad, with the majority of the plate glass windows broken, but as details of the catastrophe were received and the merchants learned that no lives were lost, they all set to work to board up the broken windows in order to keep out the biting frost. The merchants on the west side of the street suffered the worst, and hardly a store front escaped some damage. The only two stores that had no glass broken were the Bank of Montreal and Tucker's jewellery store.

The nitrator building was in charge of Messrs. D. Lawrence and W. Dunn, and the first indication they had that anything was wrong was when the fumes in the building became so strong they had to leave it. They returned to see whether they could adjust the nitrator, but saw flames coming from the tube. They then ran through the yard and, called a warning to the other men. The men did not wait to argue over matters, but ran as fast as possible to places of safety.

Old Man Hurt

Many peculiar freaks are recorded as the work of the explosion. Practically every window on the west side of the main street was broken, while the stores on the east side, nearest the explosion, were only slightly damaged. At the tailor shop of Mr. I D Huyck the strong iron hinges were torn from the lower half of the door, while the glass front was not damaged, nor the door broken.

The Tweed News office door was blown open, bending a strong steel lock, and all the glass on one side of the door was broken to atoms, while on the other not even a crack was made.

Paul Trumpour, an aged man, is the only person reported injured. He was working in the drying room of the powder plant, some distance from the mixing room, where the explosion took place, and when he was told to run he either did not hear the warning or did not heed it. Before he had made up his mind that there was danger the explosion came and he was hurled across the room, but fortunately escaped with some severe bruises about the head.

MR. BEALL PREACHED IN A TWEED CHURCH

On the Moral Reform Movement—A Stirring Talk

The Tweed News says:—Mr. R W Beall, special agent of the W C T U in charge of the moral reform movement, occupied the pulpit of St. Andrew's church on Sunday evening last. He gave a most stirring talk dealing out some unvarnished truths in a way that should make the matter of moral reform very prominent in the minds of all his hearers. The Methodist congregation worshipped with the Presbyterians in order to hear Mr. Beall's address.

All passenger trains were delayed about two hours.

The Masonic Order intend holding an "At Home" in the Town Hall on the 28th of Feb. The committee in charge are making every necessary arrangement to make this a great success which without doubt is sure to be.

ATTENDING BONSPIEL IN LINDSAY

Keene Win Their First Game—Temperature Very Low

Examiner Special.

Keene, Jan. 31.—Two rinks of Keene curlers who took part in the Lindsay bonspiel returned Thursday afternoon, after an enjoyable outing. They won their first game at Lindsay from Fenelon, but met defeat at the hands of Peterborough on Wednesday. Before returning they visited Bobcaygeon and played a game on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. William Mathers visited friends in Lindsay last week.

Mrs. Peter Gillespie, Hastings, is visiting friends in the village.

Mrs. O Stewart, Calgary, spent a couple of days this week in the village the guest of Mrs. A Campbell.

Thermometers in several parts of the village registered from thirty to thirty-three degrees below zero on Thursday morning and in the village of Lang, where on account of the low situation and the nearness of the rock to the surface, the temperature usually goes lower than elsewhere the thermometer went below forty.

There's Danger in Every Cold

Once you come to realize the danger of neglecting coughs and colds, you will not run the risk of neglecting your cough and depending on any cough medicine" the druggist may choose to hand you out, and will insist on getting a medicine with a reputation, such as Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. Croup, bronchitis, asthma and coughs and colds are promptly and thoroughly cured by this treatment.

HASTINGS CARNIVAL SUCCESSFUL

Prizes Won and a Few of Those Who Entered—Young and Old Men Play Hockey

THE VISITORS AT HASTINGS

Examiner Special:

Hastings, Jan. 28th.—A carnival was held in Hastings on the evening of the 24th and an attendance of about 200 enjoyed the evening. The first part was a hockey match between the married and single men which was won by the former by a score of 3 to 1. The prize given was a box of cigars by Mr. A. Spellman. Some of the players were old timers and were an Cornwall's ironsides invincible, which the young fellows saw to their disappointment.

They intend to play a return match for an oyster supper in the near future, and if the young fellows don't better themselves the elders will dine at their expense.

Many characters were represented and some certainly filled the bill.

Mr. Cuthbert of Union bank represented Uncle Sam.

Mr. Streight of Union Bank represented John Bull.

Mr. John Welsh represented General Wolfe.

Mr. Blone of Toronto Bank represented the comic gentleman.

The following list of prizes were given and were keenly contested by the many representatives.—

5—Best dressed girl, Miss Carrie La Jole, picture by W. Tate.

8—Best dressed boy, H. Burns, air gun by A. U. Bailey.

A Hockey match was played between the Junior team of Campbellford and Hastings on Saturday night, Hastings winning by a score of 3 to 1.

The horse that went to Peterborough to represent Hastings in the races must have had the same idea as the tortoise (slow and steady wins the race), but there are always exceptions to every rule and this exception was to the disappointment of Hastings.

Mr. John Kelleher of Peterborough has been spending the past few weeks with his son Michael in Percy.

Mr. and Mrs. James Smith celebrated the anniversary of their silver wedding on the evening of the 24th. About 80 were present and an enjoyable evening was spent in dancing and all kinds of games.

Miss Hill of Peterborough is the guest of Mrs. A. B. Spellman

Miss Cahill of Peterborough is the guest of Mrs. J. J. English.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Lee of Colborne were visiting Mrs. William Berry on Sunday

NOT JUST AS GOOD

Did you ever inquire at a store for certain articles and get for a reply "We have something just as good"? Did it ever occur to you that "Something just as good" is something the dealer has been able to buy much cheaper than the articles you inquire for? This is true in drugs, fabrics, groceries, hardware, and in fact every line, including silver-plated ware. If you inquire for 1847 Rogers Bros.' Knives, Forks or Spoons, don't accept any bogus Rogers' stamp because your dealer tells you it's just as good.

THE QUARTER OF BEEF CONTEST

Won by R. Hick's Rink—Play To-day For Bag of Flour

R. Hicks' rink defeated R. Neill's yesterday in the "quarter of beef" contest at the curling rink by 3 points. It was a great game and provided a good deal of amusement. The rinks were:—

A H Webb	A Mitchell
A Moore	J J Kaarman
O Brown	T Brightman
R Neill, sk. 15	R Hicks, sk. 18.

The same rinks are again playing this evening for a bag of flour.

STRATHS TO PLAY WITH NORWOOD

Series of Games Will be Arranged Between Two Clubs

It is altogether probable that at the conclusion of the City League games a series of games will be arranged between Strathconas and Norwood. Ever since the Straths beat Norwood in their first city league game the East Peterborough team have been claiming that their team is better than the Strathconas. The latter do not think so and are willing to settle the question in exhibition games. The problem of which is the better team is the principal topic in hockey circles just now and the games would draw a big crowd. It is probable that a game will be played here and in Norwood, and in the event of the teams breaking even the final game will be played here.

THE LADIES TEAM PLAY TO-NIGHT

Great Interest is Being Taken in Contest With Rough Riders

There promises to be a record crowd at the Brock street rink to-night for the game between the Peterborough young ladies hockey club and the Rough Riders, which will be called at 8 o'clock sharp, with Mr. W. E. Wasson as referee. It will be the novelty hockey attraction of the season and the appearance of the Rough Riders in skirts is said by those who have seen them to be worth the price of admission alone. It is rumored that Hon. Geo. Perry of Rough Riders will wear a waterproof as he is afraid of being drowned in the "marcelle wave." There is no stipulation about the skirt to be worn by the boys save that the must be a long one. Quantity not style will be the motto. In the second half the Rough Riders must play with one hand and the girls should have more than a chance of winning out. The ice is in great shape and there will be skating afterwards with the 57th Band on hand.

The teams will line up as follows:

LADIES	ROUGH RIDERS
Goal.
Miss Olive Kyle...	...Leonard Giroux
Point.
Miss Ola Cavanagh...	...W. Cahill
Cover.
Miss Ada Minns...	...C. Hayes

Miss Lulu Scott...	...Park Porter

Miss Nellie Graham...	...E. J. Pugh
Right Wing.
Miss Muriel Burritt...	...Cyril Giroux

Mrs. Tucker also presided at the organ.

After a pleasant evening a few words were spoken by a number of those present. Mr. Jas. Mr. Maurice O'Leary spoke a few words in Mr. Cavanagh's favour, as he fully appreciated his undertaking and no doubt he would find a big change in life.

Mr. James Foley said he was pleased to see Mr. Cavanagh settling down to be of some benefit to the country. He felt that the institution a good thing by settling a good example, and he felt the day was not far distant when he would do likewise.

Mr. A Whibbs was last to speak. He thought young men were very slow about changing their lives. He said the bachelors were strong in this section at present, but the day was not far off when bachelors will have abandoned their present mode of life.

CAUTION.

Put a strong glass on the label and examine it closely every time. Always look for the name "Gillett's."

Like all good articles, which are extensively advertised, Gillett's Lye is frequently and very closely imitated. PRETTY WEDDINGS TAKE PLACE IN HASTINGS

Several Marriages Have Taken Place During Past Week

Examiner Special.

Hastings, Feb. 4.—The long-talked of horse races are going to take place on the 14th and 15th of this month, but under the prevailing conditions at present with the race track under several feet of snow it does not look very favourable. It is also a big drawback as they need some practice as each farmer is his own driver.

A very pretty wedding took place on Feb. 4th, in which the only daughter of Mr. James O'Reilly, of Hastings, was united in the bonds of matrimony to Mr. John Sullivan, of Hastings. Miss Mary Bibby, of Seymour was the bridesmaid and Mr. Patrick Masterson of Peterborough, the groomsman. The happy couple left on the afternoon train amid the many good wishes of their friends, for New York where they intend to spend their honeymoon.

Mr. Fred English, of Asphodel, was united in marriage to Miss Edith Monday of Hastings on Wednesday, Feb. 5th. He intends to reside on his farm about two miles west of Hastings.

Norwood And The Straths Were City League Winners

High Commissioners Practically Cinched the Championship by Putting it Over Lakefield---Norwood Surprised High Lifes and Won Out by 10-6

The Strathconas practically cinched the City League championship last night by defeating Lakefield in easy fashion by 9 goals to nothing. The High Commissioners have to beat Bridgenorth, but as the mudhens have fallen before every other team team in the league there does not seem much chance for them to defeat Strathcona. Victory in the other half of the programme came to Norwood, who won their third straight victory by putting it over the High Lifes to the tune of 10—6, leading at the turn by 6—3. The defeat puts the High Lifes out of the running.

The Norwood-High Life fixture, while not the most important was by far the best game of the two, and the crowd was delighted with the battle put up. It was fast, hard hockey all the way, perhaps not as systematic as has been seen in the league, but with the players hammering along at top speed for the whole distance. It was rough in spots and would have been worse had not referee Wasson kept weeding out the offenders. Both teams were willing to give and take bumps and only the penalties handed out averted some bad mixups. The checking was close and hard and there was little combination, except a little of the two man variety when in close.

Norwood's victory was well merited. With the exception of a short period at the end of each half they had it over the High Lifes, smothering the line with their speed when the High Lifes had the puck, and sweeping down in individual rushes or two men dashes, so that a goal or a narrow escape was inevitable. It was the brilliant work of the Norwood forward line that featured the game. They were dangerous all the way breaking outside their checks and working well in with the rubber before shooting, and when they did let drive the puck was generally hurled high and swift at Thornton, who picked out a good many but enough were bound to beat him to win the game, however.

High Life's forwards, on the other hand, appeared slow and disorganized as compared to the visitors. When they did work clear of their checks and got off together the pass was generally fumbled or else the shot was a fizzle. They consistently tried to play combination, but generally the Norwood line came back too fast for them.

Doherty, Norwood's rover, despite his injured arm, was the star of the game. He was at it all the time. His speedy rushes and checking back keeping him constantly in the limelight. The red light was hung out at the High Life's goal whenever he he headed in that direction. Kempt's shooting was as deadly as ever and he combined beautifully with Doher. Scott, at right wing, is a game piece of stuff that excels in stick handling. Pearce was inclined to rough it, his specialty being a hook with the handle of the stick. Nicholl put up a stubborn defence game at cover.

Rose and Quinn were the best of the High Lifes' line, the former playing brilliant hockey all the way, although he was checked so closely that the effect of his speed was was neutralized to a great extent. Fooley was out of his place at right wing in the first half and showed it, but in the last period he did much better at rover. Pentland worked hard at right wing. Ferguson was as reliable as ever at cover and Thornton in the nets got in the way of a large number of shots, several times picking off the rubber when Kempt and Doherty were right in on top of him.

Referee Wasson was entirely satisfactory. Nothing in the way of an offside escaped him and he made no mistakes in his penalties.

The teams were as follows:

NORWOOD	HIGH LIFES
Goal.
Huycke	Thornton
Point.
Cummings	Smith
Cover.
Nichol	Ferguson
Rover.
Doherty	Rose (Fooley)
Centre.
Kempt	Quinn
Right wing.
Scott	Fooley (Rose)
Left wing.
Pearce	Pentland

The game started off at a rapid clip, with Norwood on the aggressive. Within a few minutes Ferguson was benched for slashing Pearce. Scott followed him for cross-checking Ford. Ferguson was still off when Doherty drew first blood for Norwood on a pass from Pearce in 9 minutes. 1—0.

Nichol and Ferguson mixed it up and went off for five minutes. Pearce got his for loafing off side and Smith also visited the timers for slashing Kempt got away for a lone handed rush and beat Thornton in 4 minutes. 2—0.

With High Lifes still a man shy Doherty scored in 30 seconds and the score was 3—0.

It took 4 1-2 minutes to land the next and High Lifes had several chances to score but threw them away. Norwood scored on a neat shot by Kempt, after pretty combination with Pearce. 4—0.

Two minutes afterward Scott went down the boards and centred to Kempt and once more the umpire's hand went up. 5—0.

Scott was ostracized for loafing off side, Rose made a pretty rush but the shot was wide. The High Lifes' manager secured, however, and passed in front to Quinn, who beat Huycke by a neat shot. 5—1.

Fooley was benched for loafing. In eight minutes Norwood scored again. Doherty did the trick while Ferguson and Smith collided and went down in a heap. 6—1.

In two minutes Fooley poked one in on a shot by Rose and a minute before half time Quinn scored on a lonely rush. Half time score, Norwood 6, High Lifes 3.

One minute after the rest Doherty and Kempt got away together and Doherty did the trick. 7—3.

Kempt and Scott were both penalized for tripping, but the High Lifes couldn't score. Doherty, Ferguson and Smith collided and the first and last named were hurt. Doherty came back with the prettiest rush of the night, scoring easily in 4 minutes. 8—3.

Norwood scored again but it was on an off side. However Kempt made it another in 3 1-2 minutes on a pass from Scott. 9—3.

Folley went off for tripping. In 5 minutes Rose scored on a rush by Pentland. 9—4.

Rose and Ferguson both were penalized, the latter for five minutes, for slashing Scott. With them on the fence Nichol scored on a long lift in 2 1-2 minutes. 10—4.

High Lifes kicked against the Norwood goal umpire and a change was made. Rose made it 10—5 by whipping one in from a scrimmage. Rose was sent away for tripping and a moment after Ferguson and Kempt went off. Rose scored again from a scrimmage. 10—6.

Ferguson and Nichol spent five of the last seven minutes on the side lines for mixing it up.

The summary follows:

1—Norwood, Doherty, 9 min.
2—Norwood, Kempt, 4 min.
3—Norwood, Doherty, 30 sec.
4—Norwood, Kempt, 1.30 min.

Easy for Strathconas

Strathconas had an easy victory over Lakefield in the second game and the Cementville seven never had a chance to win. It was a somewhat listless, uninteresting contest, in which the spectators found little excitement. At half-time the High Commissioners were 3 to 0 to the good, and in the second half they found the nets six times more, while Lakefield failed to score. Lakefield, with their stay-at-home defence and one-man forward line had no chance, and while Strathconas only showed their true form in spots, it was enough to win for them by a good margin. Aided by their aggressive defence, the forward line broke away together at times, and when they did they generally worked in for a score. They played pretty combination on these occasions and had little trouble in beating Lakefield's defence. They were not pleased at any time, which is no doubt the reason why they did not display their usual City League brand all the way. It was seen from the first that their task was an easy one, and realizing this fact they were not as aggressive as usual.

The game was very clean, only a few men being ruled off for minor offences. Dobson of the Straths received a bad cut under the right eye during the first few minutes of the second half and had to retire. The blow, which came from W. Crawford's stick, was accidental.

Strathconas' defence put up great hockey from goal right through, Dusty and Meagher were not only a stone-wall resistance, but continually helped out their forwards by dashes down the ice, from which a score nearly always materialized. Both carried the puck well and their rushing tactics kept Lakefield's goal always in danger. Wilson played one of the best games in his career in the nets, picking off everything that was hurled at him, and clearing quickly. There was no one who particularly predominated on the forward line. Individual work was cut out and the four played combination whenever possible. Weatherstone played a hard, effective game at left wing, carrying the puck and shooting well, while his checking back always helped. Long's scoring ability was again in evidence. He was always in the centre for a shot on goal, and besides played good combination. Ray put up his usual dashing game, although he was watched pretty closely and had difficulty in breaking away from the forward line. Dobson was doing good work at right wing and was having a battle royal with Crawford until he was hurt.

Quinn and W. Crawford were the stars for Lakefield, the latter doing the most effective work for his team. Quinn was watched too closely to be dangerous and was never allowed to get away with any of his individual rushes. Crawford came down the wing well, but there was generally no one in the centre to take the pass when he reached the vicinity of the nets. C. Crawford made some clever stops, particularly in the first half.

Ernie Wasson as referee gave good satisfaction.

The Play

It took over 13 minutes to score the first goal. Lakefield were on the aggressive during this period, but Wilson had his eye on the rubber and turned everything away. Straths had several fine chances, Long once carrying the puck right in on the goal, but Crawford stopped the shot. Finally Dusty got away for a good rush, passed to Long, who returned in front of the goal, and the cover-point whipped it in. 1-0.

The next was also the result of a rush by Dusty. He got away well, passed to Ray, who transferred to Long, and the score was 2-0. Time, 1 1-2 mins.

Long was penalized for slashing, and soon after Dusty followed for cross-checking W. Crawford. In nine minutes Straths increased their lead to three. Meagher started a rush and passed to Weatherstone, who carried it down the boards almost into the corner and scored on a shot from the side. 3-0; half-time.

Six minutes had elapsed in the second half before Stratns scored again. Meagher took the puck from his own goal, and fooling the Lakefield forwards, passed to Long, who handed it back when close in, and Meagher made it 4-0.

M. Sabatino got a minute for tripping. Dobson received a bad cut from Crawford's stick and had to retire for good, Moran being dropped in. In four minutes Straths scored again. Ray took a shot from outside the defence which Crawford stopped, but Long whipped it in. 5-0.

Weatherstone and Long were both penalized and the Straths played four against six, but still Lakefield could not score. Long came back in time to score from a scrimmage. 6-0. Time 3 mins.

Straths kept hammering at the visitors and it was only a question of the size of the score. In four minutes Long scored after Ray had made a pretty rush along the right boards and centred well. 8-0.

Dusty got five minutes for cross-checking Crawford, but even with the odd man Lakefield had no chance. A pretty rush by Long and a pass to Weatherstone resulted in another goal. 9-0.

Two minutes before time was up Long got a minute for tripping. Final score, Straths 9, Lakefield 0.

The summary:

1—Strathconas, Dusty, 13.30 mins.
2—Strathconas, Long, 1.30 mins.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Feb. 6.—The opening reflected lower prices in London and sentiment was depressed by reason of poor earnings statements, and the lack of support from banking interests. The floor element finally took the bear side and brought about quite sharp reaction, with Del. & Hudson bearing the brunt of the attack.

There was further weakness in the equipment stocks, and the coal issues generally were the soft spots in the railway list. London sold upwards of 10,000 shares, principally the steel and Harriman stocks, being influenced by the conditions in the steel trade here and the administration war on the Harriman interests. One of the developments to which was attributed some importance in the afternoon was the publication of the January statement of Great Northern showing a gain of over $700,000.

The continued overflow of gold from London to Paris and South America has caused a firmer tendency to money rates there, and consols and investment issues generally were easier to-day. If this demand for gold continues it is considered likely that gold will be withdrawn from this side to make up the deficiency.

During the last half hour a short covering movement took place and some good rallies were recorded. A trader's market is to be expected for a few days to come and should afford good opportunities to make quick turns on both sides of the market. The close was quiet, but firm.

NORWOOD PARTY ARE STALLED

Accompanied the Hockey Team Last Night and are Here Yet

A party of twenty-five accompanied the Norwood Hockey Club to Peterborough last night and they are still here. There has not been a train east on the C. P. R. since noon yesterday and so the Norwood delegation is stalled. The result will be that business in Norwood will be pretty nearly paralyzed to-day as nearly all the delegation occupy important positions. One school was closed down to-day, the teacher being a hockey fan, and a butcher shop, tailor establishment, grist mill and bank will be affected. The Norwood bunch were to have left last night on the C.P.R., which was cancelled, and there were no trains at all to-day. The Norwood seven is hopeful of getting home in time to play in Hastings Saturday night.

NO CONFUSION IN THE CHARITY

Bread is Being Given out at the Relief Restaurant To-day

"Every case of privation that has been reported to us is being looked after," said Mr. E L Goodwill of the Children's Aid Society to the Examiner this morning. He explained that there might be some cases which had not been reported, but he did not think there were many. There was no over-lapping or confusion with the city relief officers or with the churches and the relief work was being done systematically.

About sixty people received soup at the relief restaurant yesterday. To-day bread is being given out in addition to the soup.

OBITUARY.

DAVID McILMOYLE

The death of Mr. David McIlmoyle occurred on Saturday, Feb. 1st, after a somewhat lingering illness. Although he had been in poor health for nearly three years, yet his death came as a shock to his family and surrounding friends. His illness was of an obscure character and in spite of all that medical skill could do he gradually grew worse till at last exhausted his life slowly ebbed away. He was born, Oct. 16th, 1844, on lot 21, con. 10, Smith township, where he pursued his life work, farming. In 1884 he moved to lot 8, con 6, South Monaghan, where he resided at the time of his death. He was a member of South Monaghan council for a term and for some years, is representative on the Board of Health. In his private and public life he proved himself to be a man of sound judgment and pre-eminent abilities, weighing carefully his decision on each business enterprise. Ever ready to lend a helping hand to the needy, and to shelter and care for the weary traveller was his predominant characteristic. In politics he was a staunch Liberal, in religion a Presbyterian. By his death is lost a devoted husband, a kind father and a sincere friend. He leaves to mourn his loss a widow and three sons. The funeral took place on Monday, Feb. 3rd, from the family residence to Centarville Cemetery for interment.—Com

CANADA PRAISED IN LONDON

Wine From Her Own Maple Cheers Canadian People—Surprising Statement in Encyclopedia

AT DINNER IN LONDON

London, Feb. 5.—(Special.)—The dinner of the Canada Club at the Ritz Hotel to-night was largely attended. The president, Mr. W. F. Taylor, who spoke eloquently, toasting "Canada and the Governor-General," made an amusing reference to an encyclopaedia "recently revised and brought up to date" by a Cambridge professor, which informed the world that the maple tree produced a light and refreshing wine much liked by the natives of Canada, and also yielded a syrup which when crystalized supplied the Dominion with sugar. He proceeded to criticize the United States in a humourous and sometimes sarcastic fashion, emphasizing the financial serenity of Canada, which was undisturbed during the financial storm over the border. (Cheers.) If Canada had been to any extent unwise her follies were those of lusty youth and were forgivable. (Applause.)

The remaining speeches glowed with confidence in Canada's future. Admiral Douglas piously hoped that the Admiralty would restore a fleet to Canadian waters. They could man one ship entirely with officers willing to serve there.

Major D. W. Stevens dwelt on the question of transportation in Canada and the development of her terminals.

Signor Marconi expressed his gratitude to the Dominion Government, which first gave him practical encouragement. He declared the wireless system of the St. Lawrence was unequalled in the world. He would spare no effort to show that the encouragement given him by Canada should not be thrown away. He remarked that he had just demonstrated to the Admiralty officials what could be done in the way of wireless transmission across the Atlantic.

The Earl of Ranfurley, Sir E. Ward and General Lawrie were among the guests.

The Mr. Taylor referred to above is a former well-known Peterborough gentleman, formerly manager of the Bank of Montreal in Peterborough, as he is at present manager of the London, England, branch of Canada's greatest bank.

A young photographer, who was snowbound in Peterborough, called at the police station to take the photos of the force. The young man took their names and promised to send the photos along as soon as they were ready.

FORMER PETERBORO' MAN SUPPOSED TO BE AMONG THE INJURED IN RAILWAY WRECK

Mr. A. Mercer, Now of Toronto, Reported Hurt—Spreading Rails The Cause

WENT DOWN EMBANKMET

A telegraph despatch came over the J. R. Heintz & Company's wires this afternoon of a wreck at Franklinville, N.Y., in which ten persons were injured. One of these is Andrew Mercer, and it is believed he is a former resident of Peterborough. The despatch says:

Ten persons, three of them residents of Buffalo and a resident of North Tonawanda, were injured in a wreck on the Pennsylvania Railway, two miles south of Franklinville this morning at 9 o'clock. No one was killed. The injured are:

Wilson C. Guggenheimer, Buffalo.
Mrs. Wilson Guggenheimer, Buffalo.
A. E. Neil, Buffalo.
Eugene De Kleist, Mayor of North Tonawanda.
I. D. Clawson, Toronto.
Julia Hooper, York, Pa.
W. Kilmer, Olean, N.Y.
M. O. Blackmere, Chicago.
C. P. Townsend, Washington.
A. Mercer, Toronto.

Of the ten who were injured, Mr. Clawson was most seriously hurt. His chest was crushed and he is thought to have been internally injured. He is expected, however, to recover.

Down Enbankment

The wrecked train was the Washington Express, otherwise known as the Morning Flyer. It was running toward Buffalo and was making about sixty miles an hour. A snow storm was raging. The wreck was caused by spreading rails owing, it was said, to the recent severe weather. The engine and tender passed the spreading rails safely, but the two coaches of which the train consisted left the track. They were a chair car and a sleeper from Washington. They ran along for fifty or sixty rods on the edge of an embankment thirty or forty feet high. Then the coaches plunged down the embankment, turning over and over as they descended. The train crew escaped.

Peterboro' City Temperance League Was Organized

Rev. J. G. Potter Elected President —A Strong Movement For Temperance is to be Begun

CHURCH REPRESENTATIVES

At a largely attended meeting of representatives from the various churches of the city a temperance union was formed last night under most auspicious circumstances. It is known as the Peterborough City Temperance League, and with the staff of good officers that were elected and the enthusiasm displayed, the league should soon begin to make itself felt as a power for temperance. The different churches are individually interested in the work and are likewise anxious to make the new league a success. The unanimous opinion expressed was that the time was opportune for an advancement to be made, especially as the movement is becoming almost universal and is being promoted by legislation.

Rev. Mr. Webb occupied the chair and Rev. Mr. Keith acted as secretary in the interim.

The Officers

The officers elected were as follows:

President—Rev. J. G. Potter.
Vice-President—Mr. H. P. Kennedy.
Secretary—Mr. A. B. Cunningham.
Treasurer—Mr. R. E. Harding.

The executive will be composed of the pastor and three representatives of each church, and the president or leader and three representatives of each temperance organization in the city, including the Salvation Army.

The representatives appointed last night were as follows:

Knox Church—Messrs. W. E. Galley, A. McKenzie, Wm. Sanderson.

Mark Street Methodist Church—Messrs. Jos. Succee, A. Sheridan and M. McIntyre.

Park Street Baptist Church—Messrs. T. G. Gillespie, Wm. C. Barrie and W. Kempt.

Royal Templars—J. W. Carey, J. L. Richmond and Wm. Stock.

The representatives from St. Paul's and St. Andrew's Churches will be reported at the next meeting.

Delegate Chosen

Rev. J. G. Potter was appointed as delegate to represent the league at the Ontario Alliance Convention, which will be held in Toronto on Feb. 26th and 27th. The executive will be called in a short time to map out plans for the future and to discuss the line of action that will be followed.

More Smoke Than Fire At Blaze in a Junk Store

Mandall Brothers' Establishment Visited by Fire To-day—Dwelling was Gutted But Damage Will Not be Heavy

THE HORSES WERE SAVED

A spectacular fire broke out at 10.30 o'clock this morning in the one-storey wooden building used by Mandall & Company as a junk shop, at the corner of Bethune and Charlotte streets, and did quite a bit of damage before being extinguished. The blaze originated in the front part of the building which is used as a dwelling by the members of the firm and their employees, and spread to some of the junk in the rear, with the result that dense clouds of smoke belched forth from the building and the firemen and spectators were enveloped in the black fumes. A defective chimney was the cause of the trouble and the blaze was not extinguished until the front part of the building was thoroughly gutted. Little damage was done in the rear, and three horses which were in the stable were gotten out in time. One of them was slightly burned.

One of the members of the firm was in the building when the fire broke out, and running over to the firehall gave the alarm. For some reason or other the fire alarm system failed to work, and Driver Dick Parnell set out at full speed to the market building where the fire bell was rung.

Mandall brothers were not able to estimate their damage this afternoon, but it is not expected that the loss will be very heavy. There was no insurance on contents.

Missing Girl Found In a House in The South End

Has Been Missing From Her Home For Three Days—Parents Were Almost Frantic—No Cause For Her Disappearance

TAKEN TO THE SHELTER

The foster parents of a little girl in the south end have been in a state of anxiety the past three days over her mysterious disappearance. The girl was found this morning by P. C. Newhall and High County Constable Cochrane in another house in the southern part of the city and was taken to the Children's Shelter.

The little girl went from her home three days ago in apparently bright spirits and as night wore on did not return. The foster parents of the child grew extremely anxious on her account, fearing something had happened and started out to search, but their endeavours were in vain and the little girl was nowhere to be found. The girl's mother and father stayed up the whole night, expecting her to return at any moment, but as the daylight began to break they gave up all hopes. The father of the little one went over to the police station to seek the help of the authorities in looking for the child. He was sure that the girl was living and thought she was staying at some person's home. As two more days were on without further tidings of the girl's location her mother became almost frantic and was about to give the girl up as dead, but the father still kept on the search for his adopted daughter.

Last night he was in the south end of the city and came upon a clue as to his child's whereabouts. He informed the police station this morning and also High County Constable Cochrane.

A cab was hired this morning and P. C. Newhall and High County Constable Cochrane drove to the house mentioned and found the young girl. After explaining the object of their errand the young girl was taken from the house and lodged in the Children's Shelter, and will be under their jurisdiction until she becomes of age.

The little girl is very bright and good looking and is the making of a fine woman. Her father and mother died when she was young and her present parents have had her under their care and guidance ever since. They had no children and bestowed all their affection and care upon the one they had adopted. She was rather wild at times but never acted in any way which lead her foster parents to believe that she was dissatisfied with her surroundings. She was always loving and affectionate to her father and mother.

It is thought that she told the people who were harbouring her some hard luck story.

The parents of the girl are very much relieved to find she is safe and hope she will grow up and be a good woman.

CONFIRMATION

The Review claims that the Examiner's statements that "the Liberal-Conservative convention lately assembled was characterized by 'bribing delegates and 'knifing rivals,' are 'unfounded as of course everybody knows and 'our contemporary knows perfectly well that its statements are not true.'" "Our contemporary' doesn't know anything of the kind. It knows, at least it has been told and believes, that its statements are in line with the truth, substantially if not literally. It the Review needs to have the truth "rubbed in" it has only to persist in its denials and insinuations. The Examiner made these statements as a passing incident and has no more than a news interest in the little family squabbles of the Conservative party. The Review is referred to a letter signed "Conservative" appearing elsewhere in today's paper, to find confirmation of the Examiner's statements which are denied by our contemporary. Of course it will say that the letter was not written by a Conservative. If the writer will consent to the disclosure of his name the Review can see the original of "Conservative's" letter, bearing his personal signature, by calling at this office.

OUR DEBT TO THE RAILWAYS

We are a generation of "kickers." We want things our own way, or want to know the reason why. If a railway train is ten minutes late there is a revolt. But such things as this are mere pin-pricks; we do not stop to think how greatly we are indebted to the railways for the comfortable conditions we enjoy day after day, till some real trouble comes like the present snow blockade and general tie-up of railway lines. While the practical state of siege continues — for the country roads are almost as completely blockaded as the railways —we can appreciate what, under normal conditions, we owe to the railways. We rail upon the railways for short-comings and late-comings; we want to weight them down with taxation to the uttermost farthing, forgetful that we owe our prosperity, comforts and our very existence, as a civilized community, to the great common carriers of human and other freight. For the past day or two we have had a paralysis of business, more or less complete. While the railways are straining every nerve and spending money lavishly in the tremendous efforts to open their lines for traffic, passengers have been stalled in thousands at stations, freight in transit is standing still in car-deep drifts, business engagements, involving in the aggregate millions of dollars, are cancelled, and, in a word, for the time being, everything is out of joint. When one has experienced the infinite dreariness and dullness of waiting at railway stations, waiting for trains that "never come," one can appreciate the unspeakable comfort of normal conditions of travel and learn to regard little delays as matters of insignificance. Chafe as we may at delay, it is certain that railway officials are much more troubled. One lesson from snow blockades is that which teaches us how entirely dependent we are upon railways as an indispensable bond, which holds in cohesion the social, commercial, industrial and general business fabric of the country. We can learn how to form some faint idea of the debt the country owes to the railways.

BLUE RUINISTS

The Review has joined the blue ruin brigade. It sagely says:—

"The business of the country, both at home and abroad, is being badly handled—the soup kitchen period is returning. We can only pray that the gloom of 1878 will not follow."

The writer "builded better than he knew," when he bracketted the "soup kitchen period" and "the gloom of 1878." In 1878 the Conservatives assumed power and held it for eighteen long weary years. During "the gloom of 1778" period our trade was decaying, decreasing and stagnation and deficits in the national finances were the rule and general incompetence of management was reflected in dull times, a failing revenue and rapidly growing public debt, low wages, lack of employment. When the Liberal Government entered into power an all-round change came and the country emerged with the suddenness of a tropical sunrise into the full blaze of prosperity, such prosperity as the country has never enjoyed before. Now, because a few fewer packages of butter are shipped from the port of Montreal than last year, the Review shouts blue ruin and "soup kitchen." To talk hard times is to bring hard times. When this becomes general we may have hard times. But so long as such talk is confined to a few rabid party sheets no great harm, beyond the demonstration of their unpatriotism, is likely to follow.

THE DOMINION BANK

The thirty-seventh annual meeting of the Dominion Bank was held on Wednesday, January 29th, 1908, in the banking house of the institution, Toronto, when the various financial statements were presented, which appear on another page of this issue. The President, Mr. E. B. Osler, occupied the chair. The profits for the year ended December 31st, after making the customary deductions, were $635,235.51. The balance of the profits and loss account carried forward came to $235,140.61. The amount transferred to the reserve fund was $933,450.87, which now makes that fund $4,838,456.87. The statement of liabilities shows notes in circulation, $2,913,398, and total deposits, $34,242,155.72. The liquid assets of the bank come to $16,000,980.15, of which $1,146,474.77 are in specie and $4,586,379 are in Dominion Government demand notes. The assets classed as railway and other bonds, debentures and stocks come to $2,568,425.38, and the loans on call secured by stocks and debentures, $3,499,083.88. The total assets come to $48,497,217.67. In his annual address Mr. E B Osler, the President, drew attention to the fact that $983,700 of the one million dollars worth of capital stock authorised for issue among the shareholders in 1907 had been subscribed, of which $948,587.50 had been paid up. During the year seven new branches of the bank have been opened up.

THE RAILWAY COMMISSION

Dr. James Mills, in an address on Saturday before the Canadian Club of Ottawa, furnished his hearers with many interesting particulars of what has already been accomplished by the Board of Railway Commissioners in the general overhauling of railway rates all over Canada within the last three years, a work which has removed many grievances and saved the country very many thousands of dollars. A few concrete examples, mentioned by Commissioner Mills, of reductions in railway freight rates through the orders of the Commission, taking a standard car of 30,000 pounds in each case, are as follows:

Fruit reductions from St. Catharines to Montreal, on pears, $45 per car; on staple tender fruits, $21 per car; on apples, pears, etc., to Winnipeg, $54 per car, and to Brandon, $72 per car; cattle, Windsor and Sarnia to Montreal, $4.50 per car; metallic shingles, Toronto to Winnipeg, $30 per car, and to Strathcona, Alberta, $123 per car; grain, shipments, between local points (reduced to same rate as flour), say, Thamesville, Ontario, to Montreal, $24 per car; grain for export, from Windsor to Montreal, $6 per car; from Owen Sound, $7.50 per car; from Guelph, $2 per car; from Toronto, $4 per car; beans, Chatham to St. John, $16.50 per car; packing-house products, Toronto to Montreal, (export), $3 per car; wall paper, Toronto to Montreal, $15 per car; all transcontinental traffic, Eastern Canada to British Columbia terminals, $15 per car; also a re-adjustment of rates from distributing centres west of Montreal, so as to place them on a fair basis; and a general overhauling of the rates from Ontario points eastbound, reducing and re-adjusting them so as to abolish the discrimination which has hitherto existed in favour of Detroit, Port Huron and other points in Michigan, as compared with Windsor, Sarnia, Chatham and other points in Western Ontario. The order providing for these far-reaching and very important readjustments has made extensive reductions in all rates from points in Western Ontario to Montreal, Ottawa, and other points east as far as St. John, Halifax and Sydney; for example, Windsor to Montreal, $26 per car; St. Catharines to Montreal, $30 per car; St. Thomas to Quebec, $54 per car, and so on.

The Railway Commission, with its increased powers, is, remarks the Montreal Witness still but on the threshold of its usefulness. But already it has served the people well, and if its members have not yet accomplished all that its founders expected it has at least cleared the way for future effort and shown, as the public has never before realized, the advantage to be gained by the maintenance of an authoritative body to see that no injustices are perpetrated in the dealings of the railway companies with one another and with the public at large. At the present session of Parliament legislation will be passed enlarging the membership of the Board of Railway Commissioners and adding to its other duties the control of telephone and telegraph rates in Canada.

Nothing but the snow blockade has prevented Lindsay from having at the present time a Knights of Pythias lodge. On Wednesday night fourteen of the members of the local lodge were prepared to go to Lindsay to institute a new Knights of Pythias lodge, but unfortunately the road was blockaded.

The lodge will likely be instituted some time next week.

VILLAGE IS WELL LIGHTED

Examiner Special.

Havelock, Feb. 7.—Dr. Jos. Holdcroft, Jas. W. Bryans, Alex Rose, Thos. Curtis, William Mathison. The foregoing gentlemen were the promoters and first directors of the Havelock Electric Light Company, to whom the people of Havelock owe a great deal.

Now that the great question of electric power in connection with Healey Falls is interesting this community it might be very interesting to the citizens of Havelock and also the surrounding towns to recall some reminiscences of the first and only electric power that has been supplied to this ever prosperous and growing railway town, Havelock. The people of Havelock can easily recall the "dark days," or rather, dark nights, of this town, when they were afraid to leave their homes at night without carrying some light, as the streets were so dark that a person spent more time in the ditches than on the sidewalk while out walking.

Havelock did indeed look a dull and gloomy place to visitors, with the streets as dark as they could possibly be and the business places lighted with dingy old oil lamps that gave out just enough light for a person to find his way into the shops and out again. The town did for a time try to light the streets with oil lamps, but they proved a bad failure indeed, doing more harm than good. But Havelock was not doomed to always remain a place of darkness for it contained a number of citizens who were always working for the interests of the town. They saw this was a needed improvement, and accordingly set to the task of improving the village by giving it electric light.

Situated about seven miles northeast of Havelock, between Round and Belmont Lakes, is a beautiful little river which in the spring of the year overflowed its banks, thus giving the adjoining lands moisture enough, so that the growth in these parts was luxuriant. This little river that caused the adjoining country to be one of beauty and wealth, was destined to be of great value in the building up of Havelock, when the Havelock Electric Light and Power Company got behind the project. This river named Crow has in its course a beautiful fall where the water drops over a rocky ledge for about twenty feet and then goes rushing on to Belmont Lake. At this fall, where in the spring the spray splashes far into the air and where the mist glimmers in the sunshine, the instigators of the Havelock Electric Light Company determined to see if they could not better the interests of Havelock by electric light. They knew when they began there were many difficulties to contend with before the project could be carried through, and this is why they did not implicate many of the villagers in the scheme until Havelock was being supplied with electric lights.

The following gentlemen composed the Havelock Electric Light Company at first and had to supply all the funds for putting the plant into operation: Dr. Jos. Holdcroft, Messrs. J W Bryans, Alex Rose, T H Curtis and W Mathison.

To these men who composed the Havelock Electric Light Company in people of Havelock owe a great deal, for did they not go down in their pockets for the funds that furthered the interests of all Havelock, and when they supplied these funds they did not know whether or not they would ever recover them. Do not the people of Havelock owe these men a great deal? They certainly do, and what they owe can not be estimated in money for the good it has done the town. The village is now well lighted and presents a splendid appearance at night, with the business places and dwelling houses gayly lighted with dazzling lights at a very moderate cost.

The development of Healey Falls is indeed a good project, but the citizens of Havelock should not forget the Havelock Electric Light Company in the hustle of other things, for it is the only company as yet that has supplied electric power to the village. And it has done much. Since the spring of 1903 Havelock has been supplied with electric lights. With the installation of electric power in Havelock came a change for the better, and others got out to improve the village and it has steadily grown and still continues to do so.

The project of the electric light company was for the benefit of Havelock alone and was endorsed by the municipality and people of Havelock alone because they were the only ones interested.

AN ULCERATED LEG AND ANKLE

Healed by Zam-Buk

A common result of an injury sometimes of even a tiny scratch is chronic ulceration, the skin disease that eats deepest into the tissue and is most painful, weakening and obstinate. It is brought on often (especially in the case of women) by excessive standing or kneeling. Mrs. J E Berryman of 91 Catharine street, north, Hamilton, Ont., says: "I was suffering for a number of weeks with a badly inflamed and ulcerated leg and ankle. I had used one remedy after another with no material benefit. My leg was swollen in some places to bursting and day and night I suffered severe pains. At this stage my husband prevailed upon me to leave off all other preparations and use Zam-Buk. This I did and was agreeably surprised for after a few applications the swelling in the leg was greatly reduced and the ulcer looked healthier. I persevered with Zam-Buk until the swelling was banished and the pain and inflammation entirely removed. Zam-Buk has effected a cure when other remedies failed."

Zam-Buk also heals cuts, bruises, burns, running sores, eczema, boils, eruptions, scalp sores, itch, piles, chapped hands and all diseases of the skin. Of all druggists and stores, 50c. box or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, post paid on receipt of price, 3 boxes $1.25.

HUMAN LIFE SAVED BY POLICE DOG

Led Police to Freezing Man Showing Exceptional Sagacity

New York, Feb. 7.—(Special)—With the mercury standing only a few degrees above zero, the coldest night of this winter, one man was frozen to death last night, and another was saved from death by Max, one of the new police dogs. Max, Donna, Jim and Rex, were turned loose in the Parkville precinct last night at 9 o'clock.

A few minutes after 11 o'clock Max scratched at the door of the station and was admitted. He went straight to Acting Captain Funston, and barked.

The captain, accompanied by patrolmen, followed the dog who led them almost a mile to a vacant lot at the corner of Thirteenth avenue and Thirty-seventh street. There, in a clump of bushes, was an unconscious man. A call was sent for the patrol wagon and the man was taken to the station where a physician revived him.

Four fingers of his right hand were badly frozen and the physician said that the dog saved his life, as he would have died if left there an hour longer. He said he was Edward Connelly, employed as a cook on the steamer Robert P. Doyle, plying between New York and Havana.

The man whose death was due to the cold was John J. Harrington, a newsdealer. He was found unconscious at Hunts Point road and Southern Boulevard, the Bronx, and was taken to the Lebanon Hospital, where he died within a short time.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir.—A street railway system is very much needed in East City. It has a large, growing population, who are most anxious to be able to go to and from the centre of the city by means of street cars, which do not need to cross the bridge, but for the time being start at the east end of Hunter street bridge and return to that point.

Yours truly,

"One who has a long walk."

STATISTICS ON THE DANCE

Prof. Giraudet Presents New Ideas On The Evolutions

At the last meeting of the Paris academy of teachers, authors and professors of the danse, Professor M E Giraudet who is all three, broke out into figures, says the New York Sun. He read a statistical paper on the acquirement of the art of dancing which he said was based on observation of 2,500 pupils. These are some of the questions that he undertook to settle:

What is the number of steps, beats, demibeats, movements of the feet and turns necessary to each dance?

What distance is travelled in each?

What speed should the various have?

What time and how much study are required to acquire perfect proficiency in dancing?

He found that six and a half hours was time enough to become complete master of the ordinary waltz with the reversing movement. He considers that it should be danced to very slow music and that in the three steps which go to each bar of the music a distance of two feet six inches be traversed.

The speed should be forty-four bars of music a minute, involving really 1332 movements of the feet and twenty-two complete revolutions of the dancing couple. The duration of a dance should not exceed six minutes. The pupil should be proficient after about sixty-five trails involving 17,160 bars of music, 51,480 steps, 6,580 turns and a distance danced of about 38,870 feet more than seven miles.

The ordinary waltz without reversing, may be learned in about four hours and ten minutes, with about 42,000 steps, 7,000 turns and a distance travelled of 28,500 feet, or about five and a half miles.

Only an hour and forty-five minutes is necessary to acquire the mazurka. It needs 14,490 steps, 1,267 turns and about 10,596 yards or about two miles dancing.

The polka is another easy one. It needs twenty-eight practice dances of four minutes each to bring perfection. This means 9,200 steps, 2,300 revolutions and a distance of 13,500 feet, or approximately two and a half miles.

CORRESPONDENT SAYS THERE IS PLENTY OF MEN

Relief Restaurants Not Preventing Any From Working

Editor Examiner.

The report about a scarcity of men for the lumber camps that was seen in the Evening Examiner, given by Mr. Harding, was not correct. If the gentleman who was looking for men wanted men he would not have to go far, for there are plenty of good men who are only too willing to receive work. It is not the relief restaurants they are depending upon, nor the help fund that was begun, though these are giving great satisfaction for poor people. I am glad to say the city of Peterborough is doing its very best for the poor people, but when it comes to talk of no help since these relief restaurants have started, it is not correct, and if there are any who deny this they are not correct.

SOCIAL WORK IN THE BRITISH FIELD

Subject of Address Given by Staff Captain Goodwin Last Night

A review of the social work of the Salvation Army was very ably given by Staff Captain Goodwin before a large audience in the barracks last night. The address was a very interesting one and after it a short programme was rendered by the members of the corps.

In her remarks the Staff Captain dealt with the immense field for work in England. The feeding of the London poor, the employment bureaus for the men out of work and the work of the Salvation Army Homes, all over the British Empire, were very ably brought forward. The social work in the prisons formed an important part of the address and the eloquent speaker dealt very fully with the work accomplished by Col. Pugmire and his colleagues in Toronto.

After the address a short programme was rendered by the members of the corps:

Chorus—The Songsters.
Song—Miss Nellie Leader.
Trio—Messrs. Gray, Ashlow and Boorman.
Piano solo—Mrs. Green.

A week from Sunday Colonel and Mrs. Gaskin will speak in the barracks; subject to be announced later.

PRODUCTS OF NATURE

Are the Most Nutritious, Delicious and Beneficial

How quickly the human system rebels at nature's products which Providence did not design as a food or medicine, yet how many of our most nourishing and delicious foods and fruits, as well as our most healing medicines are enveloped in unwholesome coverings, and it is left for the ingenuity of man to prepare them for use.

For instance, the nourishing egg must be broken from its shell, the succulent oyster, or the crab, taken from its shell. Nuts, oranges and bananas are encased in most unwholesome shells or coverings. The roots and herbs of the field contain some of our most potent and healing medicants which must be extracted for use. Just so, the cod's liver contains well-known curative elements, unexelled in the treatment of pulmonary troubles.

For centuries people were obliged to swallow greasy cod liver oil and emulsions to get the benefit of these valuable curative elements. Physicians the world over recognized the uselessness of the oil, but how to separate the medicinal elements from the objectionable oil, has been the question.

After years of experimenting, two eminent French chemists have, by a scientific, extractive and concentrating process produced from fresh cods livers all of the medicinal, healing and body building elements of cod liver oil, omitting the oil entirely, and these combined with peptonate of iron make Vinol, which is more potent than any other known Cod Liver preparation. As a body builder, and strength-creator and for all pulmonary troubles it has no equal. Try Vinol on our guarantee. Mastermid & Jury, druggists, Peterborough. Also the Market Drug Store.

Itching Eczema's Cause and Cure

THIS DREADFULLY TORTURING AND OBSTINATE DISEASE IS ENTIRELY OVERCOME BY

Eczema is common to rich and poor, old and young, and is neither contagious nor an indication of uncleanness, as some suppose.

Teething, improper food, and vaccination, poisoning by clothing or from fly, etc., are named among the causes.

There is inflammation, redness, heat, swelling, discharge, formation of crust and all the time annoying, troublesome itching and burning, which often becomes so tortuting as to be almost unendurable.

This ever present itching is what makes eczema so dreaded, and it is this feature to which Dr. Chase's Ointment gives relief from almost the first application.

Dr. Chase's Ointment is not only delightfully soothing, but is a wonder as a means of healing the skin. It is not long before the raw, itching sores are thoroughly cleansed, the itching subdued and the process of healing begun. Persistent treatment will then bring about a thorough cure.

This great ointment is always beneficial to the skin, making it soft, smooth and velvety, and, besides being the most effective treatment known for the cure of eczema, is useful in every home in a score of ways.

Mr. Hiram Frey, Norwood, Ont., states: "I was troubled for ten years with eczema on one leg. The itching was terrible, and when scratched the blood would come. The doctors could not cure me. Fortunately I heard of Dr. Chase's Ointment and its persistent use has completely cured me. There is now no trace of the disease left.

"My little daughter two years old has also been cured of eczema by Dr. Chase's Ointment. Her face was a mass of sores and we had to bandage her hands to keep her from scratching it. To-day her face is clear of even the scars which the ugly sores made, and she is thoroughly cured. I am glad of an opportunity to let people know what a blessing Dr. Chase's Ointment has proved itself to be."

Coal Famine Predicted In City of Peterborough

Some of The Dealers Are Running Short—Freight Tied Up By The Recent Storms

THE PRICE MAY BE RAISED

There may be trouble ahead for those who have not yet laid in their store of coal for the winter. It is reported that many of the coal dealers in the city are almost out of nut coal and that if the next supply does not arrive in the near future there will be a famine for coal.

The cause of the whole trouble is the condition of the railways due to the recent hold-up by the storm. Some of the dealers state that they "have coal on the road" but it is impossible for them to determine when it will arrive in the city for the purpose of selling.

The greater part of the coal comes from the coal mines of Pennsylvania, and so much traffic on the lines between there and here is blockaded by snowstorms that the dealers find it almost impossible to get it here.

As a result of these tie-ups of freight some of the local coal-men are running short of coal and, it is stated that it will only be a few more days before their bins will be empty. One dealer yesterday informed the Examiner that if such conditions continue to exist there would, in all probability, be a raise in the price. He believed that there would soon be a lack of nut coal and and intimated that those who have not yet received their winter's supply will probably have to be contented to go back to the wood and resurrect their old wood stoves that have been stored away in the sheds.

Bricklayers and Masons Hold Their Annual Banquet

Dainty Supper was Served---Many Present From Sister Unions---Mayor Rush Responded to the Toast of "Our City"---Eight Hour Day Not Approved Of

Hooper's Palm Parlours was the scene of a very happy gathering last night when the Bricklayers and Mason's Union, No. 17, gathered around the festive board to take part in the third annual banquet of the union. Several members from the outside unions also joined hands with the Bricklayers and Masons in making the banquet an enjoyable function. Among the invited guests was his Worship Mayor Rush and two prominent contractors, who spoke very encouragingly to the men. All through the evening the spirit of harmony and fellowship was very conspicuous, and every person present felt perfectly at home. The chairman, Mr. A. H. Webb, president of the union, very ably filled his position and his affable and jolly manner added greatly to the pleasure of the evening.

The table was very tastefully and prettily laid out and the dainty repast reflects great credit upon the caterer, Mr. Hooper. The upper table was occupied by the chairman, Mr. A. H. Webb, his Worship Mayor Rush, Messrs. T. McFadden, J. J. Hartley, and B. W. Goodwin. The middle table was occupied by the members and the other table by the representatives from the other unions. Mr. Geo. Stenton, president of the Machinists; Jno. Londerville, of the Moulders; Jno. McAuliff, the Tailors; Mr. Begley, the Printers; Mr. F. Dawson, the Patternmakers; Mr. George Bertram, the Stonecutters, and Mr. Robt. Hoover, of the Barbers.

The banquet opened with grace said by Bro. J. J. Hartley. The supper which followed was a very luxurious one and the banquetters did justice to the dainty viands which were brought forth.

Upon the conclusion of the supper, the chairman, Mr. A. H. Webb, in an address, expressed his heartfelt gratitude at being able to be present at the gathering. As he looked around the table he saw two places vacant which were occupied last year by two of the members who had passed to the great beyond. He trusted that the year 1908 would have in store prosperity and health for each of them, and that they would be spared to gather around the festive board again. He dwelt on the position of a workingman towards his employer and stated that the union was not in favour of strikes. There had not been any discords since the union had been formed and prayed that there never would. As regards the eight hour work day he felt in favour of the nine hour day and thought it was the better system. He then proposed

The International Union

This toast was lustily drunk by the members present and Mr. J. J. Hartley made an eloquent reply. After expressing his pleasure at being present and then went on to tell about the great controlling force of the Bricklayers and Masons Union. The International Union covered United States and Canada. It was governed by a judiciary board who had the welfare of the union and individual member at heart and were men to see to fair play. The officers lived in Indianapolis, as that was a central point. The speaker had been present at two conventions, one in Trenton, N. J., and the last year at Detroit. Matters of interest had been brought up there for discussion and complaints, from either employer or employes, were voiced and a decision given by the officers. As to the eight hour work day, the speaker did not think that Peterborough had arrived at the stage when it was required. As to strikes, the International Union was very much averse to any discord between capital an dorganized labour. They always try to settle disputes in a peaceful way and before any strike is called a true statement of conditions must be placed before the board. In Peterborough there have been no strikes of late and the employers do not organize against the employee like what is done in large cities. There are from ten to eleven hundred unions under the International jarisdiction and in these are 75,000 members, an organization which is second to none in America. There are fifty unions in Canada and sixteen have been organized in the last five years. Closing, he thanked the men for their courtesy and hoped to be present again.

The City

The toast to the city was responded to by his Worship Mayor Rush, and in an eloquent reply thanked the men for their courtesy to him. He had a warm spot in his heart for the workingman and knew that they had the same feeling for him. The social gatherings in his opinion had a strong tendency to uplift and inspire the men and make men more loving towards one another. He hoped to see the field of industry enlarged and during the year hoped that new factories would come to the city, which would give the men more work. Closing, he thanked the men for their kind invitation and wished them prosperity and good health during the year.

Bro. Gatfield then entertained the company to a song, entitled "Please Mr. Conductor Don't Put Me Off the Train."

Our Sister Unions

This toast was responded to by Mr. Bertram of the Stonecutters, who in a brief address thanked the members for their kindness and wished them every happiness and prosperity.

Our Guests

Mr. T. MacFadden very ably responded to this toast and expressed his delight at being present with the boys again. He also was not in favour of the eight hour day at the present time. And after relating some of his early experiences at his trade he concluded his speech by thanking the members for their kindness.

Our Local Union

Brothers Curtis and Hillier, Haywood and Dartnell responded to this toast.

The former was greatly pleased with the strong evidences of harmony and hoped he would be present again.

Brother Hillier, in a short speech, also expressed his pleasure at being present.

Brother Haywood said he had succeeded very well in Canada and had bettered his position by the aid of the union. He was satisfied with Peterborough and hoped he always would be.

Brother Dartnell told some interesting stories of Peterborough when it was covered with cedar. On the same places to-day stand large brick buildings. He hoped that prosperous times in the building trade would return in the spring.

Brother Franklin, who is to leave Peterborough in a short time for other fields of labour, also spoke and said he would carry fond memories of his Peterborough associates wherever he went.

Brother Gatfield again entertained the company to a comic song.

Ladies

Bro. Goodwin responded to this popular toast and after paying his respects to the ladies sang the "Maple Leaf Forever," and the men joined in the chorus.

One of the oldest bricklayers in Peterborough, Mr. George Rose, gave a few instances of kindness done to him by the members of the union. He had been a bricklayer forty-five years and hoped to lay bricks next summer.

The Host

Mr. Thomas Hooper responded to this toast and was pleased to hear that the union was satisfied with the supper and hoped to be their host next year.

The Press

The chairman gave a few kind remarks toward the press and the representatives present responded in a short speech.

The enjoyable event was then brought to a close by the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

Music and Drama

JERRY FROM KERRY

The "Jerry from Kerry" Company which appeared at the Grand last night before a large audience was a delightful surprise and thoroughly pleased every one. The company advertises two and a half hours of solid fun and they carried out their guarantee. It was a laugh from start to finish and convulsed the audience. "Jerry from Kerry" is an amusement show only, and is a combination of high class vaudeville features. The programme includes two very amusing skits "Joe the News Boy" and "An Editor's Trouble," both of which were decidedly funny. The three Pattons, John, Eunice and George, were seen in the Irish comedy success, "Jerry from Kerry" introducing a number of high class novelties. A feature of the programme was the playing of a brass sextette, which was heard to great advantage in selections from "William Tell," "The Bohemian Girl," "Lohengrin," the sextette from "Lucia," Beethoven's andante, the entre from Juanita, and other beautiful numbers. Campbell and Fletcher proved themselves the best pair of comedy acrobats that have been seen here in a long time, while Emerson and Fletcher a clever comedy team kept things on the move during their act. The playing of the company's orchestra, H V Rider, director, was one of the features. Their rendition of the descriptive selection, "The Hunt in the Black Forest" was thoroughly pleasing.

Jerry from Kerry will be seen at the Grand again to-morrow, Saturday night and should be greeted with a crowded house.

He went by train to Lakefield and walked the remainder of the distance and expected to return the following evening. However his calculations were spoiled by the storm king and it was not until Tuesday night that he managed to arrive back in the city.

AMALGAMATION OF CANADIAN DAIRYMAN AND FARMING WORLD

Last Issue of Dairyman Refers to This—Will be Printed At The Examiner Office

AN IDEAL LOCATION HERE

The last issue of the Canadian Dairyman contains the following editorial on the change of the place of publication from Toronto to PetcerboroughZ

Our readers will hardly recognize the next issue of the Canadian Dairyman. The paper will be enlarged in size to twenty-four pages. There will be no advertisements on the front cover. The type used on pages three to five will be enlarged. Several new departments will be introduced. These will include poultry, fruit and household departments. The paper will be gotten out in Peterborough, the printing of which will be done at the Examiner Office, instead of in Toronto. Incorporated with the Canadian Dairyman will be the Farming World.

The changes mentioned have been contemplated for some time. They will, we hope, meet with the entire approval of all our readers and advertisers.

Those of our subscribers who have been taking the Canadian Dairymn during the past three years are acquainted with the rapid progress it has made. Since starting as a sixteen-page semi-monthly paper, the size of the pages being but little more than half the size of the pages now used, the Canadian Dairyman has been enlarged and improved repeatedly. A little over a year ago it was converted into a weekly, and the pages were increased to their present size. That these improvements have been appreciated is indicated by the fact that during 1907 the cash receipts from subscriptions increased by almost one hundred per cent. over those of 1906. The value of the advertisements carried during 1907 was almost one hundred and fifty per cent. greater than in 1906.

To Extend its Scope

Repeatedly, however, we have been asked by our readers to add household, fruit, poultry and other departments. It has been pointed out that the Canadian Dairyman is published in the interests of dairy farmers; that most dairy farmers have wives, and that horses, chickens and orchards play important parts in their farm operations. It was contended that the Canadian Dairyman should so extend its scope as to represent practically all the activities on the average dairy farm.

Last fall the Dairyman Publishing Company, Limited, decided to adopt the foregoing suggestion. Since then the company has secured a large interest in the stock of Farming World Limited, publishers of the Farming World. It has been decided to unite the two publications, and to issue a twenty-four page weekly paper at one dollar a year, that should be one of the strongest agricultural publications on the continent.

The new joint paper will be known as the Canadian Dairyman and Farming World. While considerable attention will be given to horses and other live stock, and to matters pertaining to the farm household, it will endeavour to represent the great dairy interests of the Dominion even more fully than the Canadian Dairyman alone has up to the present.

Ideal Location

Peterborough is located in one of the greatest dairy centres of Canada. It is an ideal situation for the publication of the proposed joint paper. In addition, the paper can be printed in Peterborough at a saving, as compared with Toronto, of several thousand dollars a year. The money thus saved will be used in turning out a stronger and better paper.

Next week our readers will be able to judge the efirst issue of the new paper for themselves. They are asked to remember that it will represent only the first attempt. Each subsequent issue will show an improvement. We feel that our readers will like the Canadian Dairyman and Farming World. We count on receiving the same hearty assistance from them in the future that we have had in the past.

CONSERVATIVE CONFIRMATION

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I noticed in your issue of the 4th inst., your comment on the Conservative convention just past, and must admit that in the main all you said about it was true. I am a Conservative, first, last and all the time, but I submit that the tactics resorted to by some of the stalwarts, so-called, at the last convention, might go down with Tammany, but they can't go here unnoticed. Talk about, as stated, the Grits packing the last convention they held in this city! Was our own convention run on the level? Not much! If it had been there would have been a different story to tell. However, there is a day of reckoning coming. It has been said that there is honour among thieves, but in our camp—well, nuff sed.

Yours truly,
"CONSERVATIVE."

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 7.—The railway situation in the province is improved this morning. On the Grand Trunk all branches are open, and agents have been instructed to sell tickets again. At the meeting of the Turf Club yesterday a deputation from the Industrial Fair, consisting of Messrs. R. J. Leary, Wm. Collins and Geo. PIMPLES

ALTHOUGH, NOT A DANGEROUS DISEASE, ARE A VERY TROUBLESOME AND UNSIGHTLY AFFLICTION . . .

They are caused by either poverty or impurity of the blood and require the prompt use of a good blood medicine such as Burdock Blood Bitters, for their eradication, which it speedily accomplishes, at the same time strengthening the entire system. Pimples also often arise from dyspepsia and constipation, and in these cases Burdock Blood Bitters has the double effect of removing the pimples together with their cause.

Mr. D. P. Sammon, Osceola, Ont., writes "I was troubled with pimples all over my face and hands. I paid out money to doctors but they could do me no good. A friend convinced me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after using two bottles the pimples vanished, and I have not been troubled with them since."

The Junior Brotherhood of St. Andrew, of St. John's church is very anxious to have the next annual convention held in Peterborough. The boys have placed their wish before the senior chapter and the matter will soon be taken up by the head officers. Peterborough is a very central city, and a prominent Brotherhood man to-day in talking to the Examiner said that in all probability the next annual convention would be held here. This would be a good thing for the city as there would be men and boys from all over Ontario present at the convention.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE FOR A YEAR

Frank Hamilton Given a Liberal Opportunity to Redeem Himself

Frank Hamilton appeared for sentence to-day before Magistrate Edmison in the county police court on the charge of forging a cheque of from $1.40 to $50.40 last December. Hamilton was dismissed, but on certain conditions. He had to give his own recognizance for $500 that he would appear on February 7, 1909, for sentence; that in the meantime he must report monthly to Mr. Geo. Cochrane, High County oConstable, stating what he is doing, where he is living and how he is getting along. Hamilton promised never to taste liquor again.

Mr. Edmison's judgment is virtually suspended sentence, the magistrate considering this the wisest plan of dealing with a young man of 18 who has taken his first wrong step.

OLD OPERA HOUSE BEING RENOVATED

Is Being Converted into a Bowling Alley For Mr. J. B. Hay

Messrs. Duncan and Doupe have the contract for painting and decorating the old opera house hall, which is being converted into a bowling alley by Mr. J. B. Hay, late sporting editor of the Toronto News. They have a staff of men at work to-day re-papering the ceilings in attractive paper. The walls will be tinted in a cream shade, and other renovations will be made, thoroughly transforming the interior of the building. The alleys will not be open for some weeks as there is a large amount of work to be done first. The new alleys will be among the most handsome in Canada.

OBITUARY

BARTHOLOMEW CROWLEY

News was received here yesterday of the sad death of Mr. Bartholomew Crowley who for many years was a farmer in Otonabee. The deceased gentleman was widely known and respected and his demise will be deeply regretted by all who knew him.

The late Mr. Crowley was 76 years of age and was born in Otonabee township. He followed the occupation of a farmer until thirty years ago when he left for Toronto and has remained there ever since. Some time ago he suffered from a paralytic stroke and has never regained his usual health. A few weeks ago it assumed an acute form and is given as the cause of his death. The deceased was unmarried and leaves behind him two brothers, James, of Water street, Peterborough; David, of Otonabee, and two sisters, Mrs. Shaughnessy, of Otonabee, and Mrs. Guiry, of Emily.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Feb. 7.—Initial quotations were for the most part unchanged but the market soon took on a declining tendency. There was dullness during most of the session and while the floor element was generally bearish, there was not such a pressure of liquidation as to encourage a great deal of selling.

B. R. T. was weak on influence of the five cent Coney Island fare bill in the Senate at Albany. Aside from news of placing of contracts by the Penna. R. R. for 55,000 tons of rails and some other orders of less importance, developments have been rather bearish. Especially depressing on general sentiment are the continued unfavourable earnings reports of railroads. In our opinion the railroads generally will not be able to retrench much further unless they take the heroic policy of radical reductions in wages. Taking also into consideration the fact that Washington may be expected to develop further very unfavourable situations and while apprehension regarding the possibility of complications with Japan is growing daily, we fear the general market will gradually work towards lower levels, and the policy seems to be to sell on the breaks, as we would sell on bulges, as the rallies are not likely to yield much profit. The market closed dull and heavy.

Messrs. A. R. Boswell and W. G. Cassels were appointed scrutineers.

The Secretary read the report of the Directors to the Shareholders and submitted the Annual Statement of the affairs of the Bank, which is as follows:

To the Shareholders:

The Directors beg to present the following Statement of the result of the business of the Bank for the year ending 31st December, 1907:

RESERVE FUND

Transferred from Profit and Loss Account	933,456 87
	$4,833,456 87

In view of the financial stringency which prevailed throughout the world in 1907, and the unsettled monetary conditions existing in the United States, it has been necessary to exercise unusual caution and prudence in administrating the affairs of the Bank. Our policy has been to restrict advances without interfering with the proper requirements of the customers of the Bank and to assist in marketing the products of the country—more especially the crops of the North Westerndistricts—at the same time maintaining strong Cash Reserves.

Having reference to our announcement at the Annual Meeting that one million dollars of new Capital Stock would be offered to the Shareholders in 1907, we have to inform you that on December 31st $983,100 of this amount was subscribed for, and $848,597.50 paid up.

During the past year it was considered advisable to establish Branches of the Bank at the following points: In the Province of Ontario, at Berlin, Hamilton, Ottawa, and at the corner of Queen and Victoria streets, Toronto; in the Province of Quebec, at the corner of Bleury and St. Catherine streets, Montreal; in the Province of Alberta, at Strathcona; and at Vancouver, British Columbia.

The opening of our Vancouver Office not only marks our entrance into British Columbia, but completes a chain of Branches at all important centres from Montreal to the Pacific Coast, including the Capitals of the Western Provinces. Results so far indicate that these extensions will be of great benefit to the Institution.

We have to record with regret the death in January last of Mr. Timothy Eaton, whose varied business knowledge and sound judgment made him a valued member of your Directorate. Mr. John C. Eaton, his son, was appointed to fill the vacancy on the Board.

The Directors, as is customary, have verified the Head Office Balance Sheet, as on the 31st of December, 1907, including therein the auditing of our foreign balances and the certification of all Cash Reserves, Securities and Investments.

The usual careful inspection of the various Branches of the Bank has been made during the past twelve months.

E. B. OSLER,
President.

The Report was adopted.

The thanks of the Shareholders were tendered to the President, Vice-President and Directors for their services during the year, and to the General Manager and other Officers of the Bank for the efficient performance of their respective duties.

The following gentlemen were elected Directors for the ensuing year: Messrs. A. W. Austin, W. R. Brock, James Carruthers, R. J. Christie, J. C. Eaton, J. J. Foy, K.C., M.L.A.; Wilmot D. Matthews, A. M. Nanton and E. B. Osler, M.P.

At a subsequent meeting of the Directors Mr. E. B. Osler, M. P., was elected President and Mr. W. D. Matthews Vice-President, for the ensuing term.

Young Ladies Hockey Team Won From Boy Rivals

A BIG CROWD PRESENT

Over a thousand people gathered at the Brock street rink last night, to see the Peterborough young ladies' hockey team defeat the Rough Riders in a great game of hockey by 3 goals to 2. It was an unique exhibition, made more so by the grotesque costumes of the Rough Riders, who appeared on the ice in all varieties of raiment and made a big hit with the crowd, the majority of which was composed of ladies, who cheered vigourously for the feminine septette. The young ladies had the best of the game all through and on the play were entitled to more goals. Their victory was decidedly popular with the crowd and the cheering could be heard for blocks.

A few minutes after 8 o'clock Marie Cahill led his long-skirted chorus out on the ice amid cheers from the crowd. The boys were adorned in all varieties of feminine finery from a brilliant hued jumper worn by Park Porter to a skirt made from a Japanese screen which adorned W. Cahill. Goal-keeper Giroux appeared in his Eliza-crossing-on-the-ice costume of immaculate white. His brother on the forward line was clad in a skirt of crepe de chene trimmed with forget-me-nots and carried a bouquet of pink roses. (Note—The society editor wrote this description, and in a fit of absent-mindedness thought he was writing up a wedding.) E. J. Pugh looked charming in a skirt en princesse adorned with a neat little sash. Carl Hayes had chosen a demurely-hued gown of taffeta, while C. Waram wore a Worth estoume of peau de soie with hat to match.

The girls received an ovation when they appeared on the ice a few minutes afterwards. They were attired in the red and white sweaters of the Strathconas, with red skirts and toques, and the effect was very pleasing. Mr. W E Wasson filled the difficult, unsatisfactory and poorly-paid position of referee, and as edie lines was kept busy in picking up hair pins, doing ambulance duty and keeping the young ladies from dealing too roughly with their masuline opponents. In all of these departments he showed a tact and discretion that quickly made him solid with the crowd. He shared with the ladies the honour of the evening.

After a preliminary lecture, in which the arbitrator explained to the ladies that it was manslaughter, not hockey, to crack an opponent over the head, the fourteen wearers of skirts were divided out and were found to line up as follows:

LADIES	ROUGH RIDERS
Goal.
Miss Olive Kyle...	...Leonard Giroux
Point.
Miss Ola Cavanah... ...	.....C. Hayes
Cover.
Miss Ada Minns...	.....W. Cahill
Rover.
Miss Lulu Scott...	.....C. Giroux
Centre.
Miss Nellie Graham...	...E. J. Pugh
Right Wing.
Miss Muriel Burritt... ...	...P. Porter
Left Wing.
Miss Edith Scott...	...C. Waram

To get back to the game, the ladies played surprisingly good hockey and they lasted the whole 60 minutes, too. They skated fast, handled their sticks well and showed a tendency to play combination, while they had no hesitation in checking. Miss Kyle in goal stopped many wicked(?) looking shots, while Miss Cavanah and Miss Minns made a strong defence. The former got away for one rink-length rush for a score that reminded one of the way her brother of the old Peterborough seven used to perform. Miss Lulu Scott did some pretty stick-handling at rover and scored two goals. Miss Graham at centre outclassed her check and was always in the thick of the fray, while the two wings, Miss Burritt and Miss Edith Scott, shone at all times. By the way, the office boy would like to know why, with so many angels on the ice, there should not be more than two wings.

Giroux in goal for the Rough Riders was by long odds their star. He must have stopped at least a hundred shots at close range and saved the boys from a tremendous beating. On the forward line Pugh was checked too closely to be dangerous. The others scintillated in spots.

The ladies were the first to score. Miss Lulu Scott finding the nets after a couple of minutes' play on a neat shot. The next was longer in coming, and although the girls had all the best of the play it was not until Miss Cavanah got away for a spectacular rush that there was a score, and the applause was deafening. Just before half-time the Rough Riders got a fluky goal, C. Giroux doing the scoring.

In the second half the boys were permitted to play with only one hand and the girls had them beaten completely, only hard luck preventing many scores. Once all the Rough Riders except goal-keeper Giroux were on the fence, but by playing off-side combination with himself and tripping he managed to prevent a score. Finally the boys tied the score. Hayes shot and goal umpire Mel. Moore put up his hand, although it looked as if the puck had gone in from behind. The girls were not beaten, however, and Miss Lulu Scott made the victory sure by beating Giroux with a hard shot. Score—Ladies, 3; Rough Riders, 2.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

The funds of the Children's Aid Society were augmented to a considerable extent as the result of the game, the contest being played for the Society's benefit.

The 57th Band was present and enlivened the game with a choice programme.

The young ladies wish to heartily thank the public for their patronage, 57th Band for giving their services free of charge and the Strathcona Hockey Club for the use of their sweaters.

At the conclusion of the game the members of the ladies' team were very pleasantly entertained by the Rough Riders. Mr. Edwards, proprietor of the Crystal, threw that amusement place open to the members of the two teams and an enjoyable programme of music was listened to. Afterwards a delightful banquet was partaken of in Hooper's Grill Room.

SPORTING NEWS AND VIEWS.....

Lindsay has again won the Ontario Tankard and in referring to the final a Toronto despatch says:—

In one of the best and most exciting games ever played for the trophy, Lindsay yesterday afternoon defeated Toronto Caledonians for the Ontario Tankard by 40 to 37. It looked like a victory for the city players from the start, as "Bob" Rennie won the first seven ends from O'Connor, and ran up 14 points before his opponent made his first counter, on the eighth end. Little, Lindsay's other skip, had an advantage of 3 over "Tom" Rennie at this stage of the game, but the Caledonians lead of 10 presaged a victory for the city players. Lindsay stuck to their work, and gradually cut down Caledonians lead, until, on the 17th end, they were only five behind. Then "Bob" Rennie's quartette began to wobble, and O'Connor scored 11 in the next five ends, while Rennie got a single counter on the 18th end. Rennie finished with a lead of five. Little, who was five up on "Tom" Rennie on the 17th end, increased it by three in the succeeding five ends, in three of which he scored.

The presentation of the trophy was made by Vice-President Carlyle to the winning club, on whose behalf Mr. J D Flavelle accepted it. Mr. Robt. Rennie was the only other speaker, and the affair lasted but a few minutes.

In the second half Picton scored one goal and Port Hope failed to score, Picton thus winning by 5-1. Mr. Roy Thomas of Toronto was referee, and while strict, was impartial.

LIVERY BUSINESS IS POOR

Men Will Not Allow Their Horses Out—One Got Stuck in a Drift

The weather conditions are proving very unfavourable and unprofitable for the liverymen. There are a few sleighs hired to drive about the city, but the men in the barns will not allow their horses to be taken out for trips to the cunotry. A prominent liveryman in talking with the Examiner this morning, said the business had stopped completely and he was continually refusing to allow his horses to go out. A few days ago a young man who had an urgent call to go to the country hired a cutter from the barn, and an hour later telephoned in that he was stuck in a drift, and to send out men at once. The quicker the snow goes off the road the better it will be for the liverymen.

STORM STAYED GUESTS OF THE PETERBOROUGH CLUB

To be storm-stayed in the midst of the course of a journey may not be regarded as an exhilarating experience, but some of the enforced temporary residents of Peterborough had their otherwise irksome stay here brightened by thoughtful acts of social attention.

Among those whom the storm stranded in the city were several members of Parliament and men prominent in the world of finance and business, and last night Messrs. Geo. Tate Blackstock, Toronto; W. F. Cockshutt, M.P. Brantford; W. F. McLean, M.P. South York, Mr. — Royce, solicitor, Canadian Northern Railway, and Mr. C. D. Warren, president, Traders Bank, Toronto, were guests of the members of the Peterborough Club at their quarters, where they were entertained in a delightful social way. There were songs, speeches, recitations, and the hours were happily passed.

Bucket Falls Twenty-five Feet on Workman's Head

Robert Elliot Has Narrow Escape While Digging a Well in East City

HIS HAND WAS CUT OPEN

Twenty-five feet down in a well with a bucket of boards and planks falling on one's head is by no means a pleasant experience. Such, however, was the precarious position in which Mr. Robert Elliott, 139 Sherbrooke street, found himself in on Wednesday afternoon, but from which he miraculously escaped with his life. He attributes his rescue to the fact that when he discovered the bucket was falling, he raised his hands above his head for protection.

Mr. Elliott was digging a well on Douro street, East City for Mr. Mongraw. While attending to the construction of crib work about 25 feet below the surface, the bucket accidentally upset and deposited its contents consisting of lumber, planks and other crib material, on his head.

He raised his hands above his head to lessen the force of the weight and one of them was cut open. It is also badly swollen. A plank struck broadside on his head and injured him so badly that the blood oozed from his mouth.

Mr. Elliott fortunately will not suffer very much from his accident, but he will not be able to resume work at least for a week or two.

Snow Seige Was Raised By C.P.R. at Noon To-day

Snow Plough Ran the Blockade And Opened a Way To The West —Two Trains Start Out For Toronto

A TRAIN FROM TORONTO

At half past one o'clock this afternoon the snow seige was raised by the C.P.R. snow plough reaching the city from the west. It came in with two large engines, a coach and van and by the snow clad appearance of the sturdy plough it has evidently had a hard struggle in making its way through the snow bound district west of Cavanville. The arrival of the plough was most welcome to the weary travellers who have been compelled to remain content in the hotels or in the trains until the line was cleared. They were fatigued and worried by the inactivity but especially by the nature of the delay as there is something exceptionally trying in being stalled in a city by a storm.

Many Inquiries

From early morning countless inquiries were asked the C.P.R. authorities as to the location of the trains and the time they would be here. It was believed that the line would be opened by noon and at eleven o'clock it was announced that the plough was coming down and immediately afterwards the stalled trains would depart. Everyone going west made arrangements to get away and at 1.00 p.m. the first express departed, composed of one engine three baggage cars and two Pullman coaches. At 2.10 p.m., the second train went west with one engine, 2 baggage cars 1 first class coach and 2 Pullman coaches. Thus two trains were rapidly sent on their way with a clear road in front of them. A third train is held at Havelock. This is last night's 4.45 o'clock passenger train from Montreal. It was expected to get away as soon as possible.

Toronto Train Due

It was also reported in railway circles that a train was coming from Toronto. This would be the regular morning train but was not expected until 4 o'clock.

The coach that came down with the plough brought the shovellers that went up yesterday to clear the line. Thus it is expected that the line to Toronto will present no more trouble for the present.

On the G. T. R.

At noon to-day a double-headed train went from Lindsay to Port Hope, passing through the city at noon. Above Lindsay the line was opened to Blackwater and on to Orillia and was expected to be opened to Toronto by evening.

A matter that the railway companies should be commended upon is the manner in which the employees at the station answered the enquiries of the public. Despite the ceaseless ringing of the telephone they invariably answered as best they could.

During the Night

Many were hoping that during the night a way would be opened up to Toronto on one of the lines. But nothing was done. On the G.T.R. two snowploughs passed through the city. One over the Belleville line and another over the Port Hope line. At 11.30 p.m. last night an engine and coach came up from Belleville. Strange as it may be there was a large number on board. People seem to be travelling all the time and the weather is never a drawback to them. On the Port Hope division word was received that the train which went down at one o'clock from Lindsay was returning on its way. It arrived here about ten o'clock.

On the C.P.R.

The two early morning trains remained at the station throughout the night some of the people sleeping in the cars. The only activity on the line was a snowplough which went west after midnight. The purpose of sending it was to carry relief to the men who are shovelling in the drifts in the Cavanville-Myrtle section.

At 3.45 this afternoon another train went west on the C.P.R. consisting of two baggage cars, a first and second-class coach and two Pullman cars. Engine No. 773 was hauling them.

At four o'clock a fourth passenger train went west with large engine, baggage coaches and regular coaches.

ST. ANDREW'S MANAGERS ELECT THEIR OFFICERS

The first meeting of the new Board of Managers of St Andrew's Church was held last evening in the school room, when the chief matter of business was the election of a chairman and secretary-treasurer. Mr. George Evans was elected chairman and Mr. John McClelland was re-elected secretary-treasurer. The various committees were also appointed.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE

The R. W. Marks' Company Here For The Week

The Kingston Whig of Tuesday said: The attraction at the Grand Opera House last evening was the R. W. Marks dramatic company. The return of the old favourite was greeted with an immense audience. The piece presented was "The Witch of Wall Street," a play in which a young girl was inveigled into a secret marriage with a young banker, ruined and cast upon the world. Retribution followed, and a bitter one it was for the designing schemer.

The charming actress, May A. Bell Marks, in the dual character of "Jean Ingleside" and "Marie De Bois," played her parts exceedingly well. Ivy Lyons, by the way she handled the role of "Grace Leighton," the banker's daughter, proved herself to be an actress of ability. Millie Bell, the gentle "Edith Matthews," an heiress, whose trust in her lover in his downfall and her pride on his vindication, gained for her esteem and admiration, is an accomplished actress. E. W. Hubbard, as "George Leighton," a man of the world and a contemptible scamp, performed his difficult part as well as to receive several marks of disfavour. George Ormsbee, as "Horace Leighton," a New York banker and distracted father, was faithful to his role in winning sympathy and respect. "Joe" Lyons in the character of a drummer, and a hustler after business, still made time to win the love of a true-hearted girl. Samuel Archer, as "Jack Ingleside," was clever in his part.

The specialties of this company are always above the average and are watched with interest and pleasure. May A. Belle Marks sang two pretty songs, "Captain Baby Buntings" and "When Our Firemen Face the Foe," which were loudly applauded. Little Glory and Rosie Machan, in their pretty songs and dances, charmed all. The Gay sisters, in their operatic sketches, were unexceptionally good. Lyons and Lyons were at home in their dancing and singing. Archer and Garlow, old favourites, in their musical comiques, gained additional friends. Mrs. Machan was leader of the orchestra. This evening the company will present "The Banker's Wife," with May Belle Marks in the title role. This company comes to the Grand for all next week.

THEY WENT HUNGRY FOR MANY HOURS

Theatrical Company Have Troubles of Their Own

"The eMessage From Mars" Company, which was to have appeared at the Grand Opera House last night passed through the city to-day on the Grand Trunk from Lindsay. Speaking to Mr. Wallace, the manager, the Examiner learned that the company had been on the train since five o'clock last night and had been unable to obtain anything to eat until Peterborough was reached. They expect to arrive in Kingston about 7.30 to-night, where they will present the "Message from Mars." They may return to Peterborough some time between Feb. 24th and 28th.

FORT FRANCIS, THE QUEEN CITY OF THE RAINY RIVER DISTRICT; IT'S PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE

Every Promise of it Becoming a Great Industrial and Railway Centre—History of the Power Scheme

Finished Portion of Concrete Work at Head of Old Mackenzie Canal.

NOW UNDER CONSIDERATION

Surrounding Neighborhood is The Mecca of Sportsmen and Lovers Of Outdoor Life

Among the many towns springing up and growing into prominence all over the vast extent of our great western heritage, there is none with a more romantic past, a more interesting present and a more promising future, than Fort Frances, the queen city of the Rainy River District. Situated upon the head waters of that beautiful and historic stream, where it plunges down from the higher levels of the Lake Superior region and emerges from the placid, isle-bespangled waters of the Rainy Lake, it becomes, by simple virtue of its position, a centre of interest and importance—a centre to which the generations of the past have looked and the generations of the present and future will look, with a hopeful and expectant eye. Not even the most casual traveller of to-day can drop off and spend a few hours in this picturesque and thriving little metropolis without being impressed, after a brief survey of the town and neighbourhood—ungretentious and primative as it is in many ways at its present stage—with the conviction, that here, some day, will be one of the great industrial centres of the middle west, and and the home of many thousands of happy and prosperous people, who are certain to be attracted to it not merely by its commercial possibilities, but by the pleasing and attractive character of its situation and surroundings.

This impression that one receives of the potential promise and prosperity of Fort Frances, it may be said, is not peculiar to the luxurious Pilman traveller of to-day. It is natural for us to expect that spoiled and pampered individual, after the pettish ennui of hours of uneventful rolling through leagues of muskeg and cedar swamps with nothing to engage his attention, to give vent to his pleasurable surprise as he is suddenly plumped down in the midst of its modern thoroughfares and picturesque surroundings.

City in the Wilderness

There is something in the sudden happenings upon a city built in the wilderness that instantly brings us to a sense of appreciation and leads us to exclaim; so when our luxurious modern traveller, happening for the first time upon this thrifty little wilderness town, already so far advanced on the road to its greater future, and embosomed as it is in such picturesque and romantic surroundings of roaring water-fall, dark, sombre background of pine, and island-dotted vistas of lake and river stretching away into the distance, we are not surprised at any quick outburst of appreciation that might be expressed. But the beauties of Fort Frances, and its potential promise for the future, we must remember, were discovered and realized long before our effeminate Pullman traveller saw it and exclaimed about it. Almost two hundred years ago, those famous and intrepid explorers, the Versandryes, in the course of a toilsome and perilous expedition by portage and birch canoe into the great untracked wilderness of the west, stumbled upon it and recognized its charm and possibilities. About three miles above the site of what is now Fort Frances, those famous and far-seeing men established a trading post, which they called Fort St. Pierre, and to the founding of this establishment, virtually goes back the history of the founding and development of the present ambitious and enterprising town. Later on, when the profits of the fur trade led the capital of the old world and of eastern Canada to push on to great plains of the interior and establish trading posts there, the value of this point as a rendezvous and base of operations between the east and west was not lost on the hardy trappers and couriers de bois, who had to travel the trackless courses of that thrilling commerce from time to time, in carrying out the arduous duties of their trade.

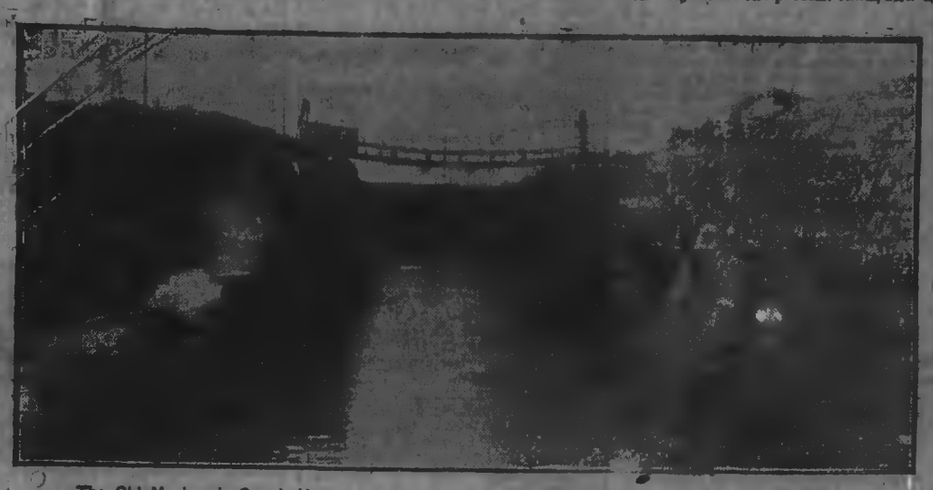
As early as 1766, or perhaps even before that time, the North west company had a trading post on the old site of Fort St. Pierre, and the place was occupied by that ancient and powerful corporation, the Hudson's Bay Company, also about this time. Always one of the most notable things in connection with these great fur companies was the unerring skill with which they selected the most important strategic points for their establishments, long lapses of time and subsequent development, in almost every case, vindicating their choice, and the fact that the Hudson's Bay Company not only selected this point as a site for one of their principal trading posts, but that they continuously occupied it from that time on until it was accidentally destroyed by fire a few years ago is quite sufficient proof that they saw in the location something more than the ordinary, and that they regarded it both as a desirable place to live and as an important commercial centre.

In 1879, too, when the MacKenzie Government began to build our present great transcontinental railway, the Canadian Pacific, the route marked out and recommended by Sir Sandfield Fleming passed through this point. The intention was to use the stretches of the Rainy lake and river and the Lake of the Woods as a water connection between the eastern and western sections of the new road between Fort William and Winnipeg; and with this end in view, large sums of money were expended in constructing a canal and lock at Fort Frances, to overcome the interruption to navigation caused by the celebrated Couchiching falls which occur at this point.

Unfortunate Set-back

As everybody knows, a change of government completely altered these plans, and the old, unfinished canal, blasted at great expense, out of the solid rock, may still be seen as one of the sights of the present town, and as a standing monument to the faith of the Liberal government of that time in the latest possibilities of the Rainy river district, and that portion of it especially lying in the vicinity of this expensive and important undertaking. Had the vicissitudes of political fortune not so suddenly overtaken those whose faith and insight dictated the putting through of the C. P. R. on this route instead of where it now is, there is no question but that Fort Frances would now be numbered among the largest and most important commercial centres of the west.

But even despite its various vicissitudes, and the fact that for so many years after its first settlement railway communication and other upbuilding influences succeeded in keeping away from it, Fort Frances is, to-day, not by any means behind other towns of the east and west that have been blessed with these advantages. It is as snug and thriving a little city as is to be found anywhere west of the great lakes, and it can point to many evidences to show that still greater things are in store for it in the very near future.



The Old Mackenzie Canal, Used as a Tail-Race for the Canadian Side of the Power Development.

Stone and Concrete Tail Race in the Central Portion of the Great Power Dam.

A little over a year ago the town met with a serious setback in the shape of a destructive fire, which almost completely wiped out the main business portion of it. All the hotels, a number of dwelling houses and several of the best business blocks were destroyed in this conflagration, and for a time afterwards the town looked anything but a promising and prosperous place. Soon, however, with characteristic perseverance and enterprise, the dead ashes of its funeral pyre began to stir and like the mythical bird of old, it began to arise in newness of life and vigour.

Benefits From Fire

The old debris from the ruins was cleared away, or new sites selected, and soon the click, click of the bricklayer's trowel and the thump of the carpenter's hammer was to be heard on every hand. Beautiful new business blocks and other structures, of more enduring material and of much greater cost, grew up from day to day on the old charred sites, and at the time of writing the only thing there is to call attention to the theatre of the fire fiend's ravages is the superior character of the buildings to be seen in that particular district. As has been the case in so many instances where towns have been visited by this sort of calamity, instead of being a detriment to Fort Frances, the fire has been one of the most prolific causes of its development, and was, in fact, the one thing needed to prepare the way for a step in advance. The fire, at any rate, has proven in its results to be a real benefit to the town; and while it destroyed some cherished old landmarks, the loss of these has been more than compensated for by the tremendous improvement made in its appearance by the superior character of the new buildings erected.

Keeping step with this splendid progress made by private capital and enterprise, Fort Frances as a corporation has been moving steadily on to better things during the year. A beautiful new town hall, built of solid brick and of the most modern and convenient design, has also been constructed during the year. A complete system of waterworks and sewage has likewise been installed at a considerable outlay.

In connection with this waterworks system an effective modern pumping plant has been built on the river bank about a mile above the town.

Purity of Water Supply

At this point the water is practically lake water, and is consequently of a high degree of purity, so that when passed through a filter, as it will be, the people of Fort Frances need have no fear as to the pure and healthful character of their water supply. Connected with this pumping station, about the centre of the town, has been erected a huge steel water tower of such an elevation and capacity as to ensure an effective supply and pressure in any case of emergency, such as that through which the town has so recently passed. These and other improvements being carried out by the town council at such large expense are a sufficient guarantee that the people of Fort Frances have confidence in its future and are convinced of the permanency of the rapid development that is at present taking place in their midst.

The bulk of this massive wall of masonry will be in place. At the present time the work of construction is suspended, owing to some misunderstanding between the company and contractors, but the work of development is to begin again as soon as this little hitch has been remedied, probably some time early in the new year, and a couple of seasons at the latest should see the completion of the entire scheme. This is unquestionably a great and important undertaking, and its completion will mean much to Fort Frances and the entire district.

Another considerable ground of encouragement to the people of Fort Frances of late years has been the rapid and important advance made in obtaining railway communication with preposterous as it seemed, he could not discredit my fervor. He followed us out of the cell and through the fortress in a radiant daze. He half believed himself dreaming, I think, and feared to speak lest his happiness should melt. I fancied even that he walked lightly and gingerly, as if the slightest unwary movement might break the spell. Not till we were actually in the open door of the court, face to face with freedom, did he rouse himself to acknowledge the thing real. With a joyous laugh he turned to the keeper:

"M. de La Motte, you should employ your leisure in writing down your reflections, like the Chevalier de Montaigne. You could give us a trenchant essay on the Ingratitude of Man. Here are you host of the biggest inn in Paris—a pile more imposing than the Louvre itself. Your hospitality is so eager that you insist on entertaining me, so lavish that you lodge me for nothing, would keep me without a murmur till the end of my life. Yet I, ingrate that I am, depart without a thank you!"

"They don't leave in such case that they can very well thank me, most of my guests," La Motte answered with a dry smile. "You are a fortunate man, M. de Mar."

"M. le Comte, will you come quietly with me to the St. Denis gate?" d'Auvray asked him. "Or must I borrow a guard from M. de La Motte?"

M. Etienne's whole face was smiling; not his lips alone, but his eyes. Even his skin and hair seemed to have taken on a brighter look. He glanced at d'Auvray in surprise at the absurd question.

"I will come like a lamb, M. le Mousquetaire."

We saluted La Motte and walked merrily out into the Place Bastille. I think I never felt so grand as when I passed through the noble sally-port, the soldiers making no motion to hinder us, but all saluting as if we owned the place. It had its advantage, this making friends with Mayenne.

The first thing my lord did, still in the shadow of the prison, was to come to terms with d'Auvray.

"See here, my friend, why must you put yourself to the fatigue of escorting me to the gate?"

"Orders, monsieur. The generalduke wants to know that you get into no mischief between here and the gate. You are banished, you understand, from Paris."

"I pledge you my word I shall make no attempt to elude my fate. I go straight to the gate. But with all politeness to you, Sir Musketeer, I could dispense with your company."

"I am a soldier, and a soldier's orders must be obeyed," d'Auvray quoted the keeper's words, which seemed to have impressed him. "However, M. le Comte, if I had something to look at I could walk ten paces behind you and look at it."

"Oh, if it a question of something to play with!" M. Etienne laughed.

D'Auvray was provided with toys, and M. Etienne linked arms with me, the soldier out of earshot behind us. He followed till we were in the Rue St. Denis, when, waving his hand in farewell, he turned his steps with the pious consciousness of duty done. Only I looked back to see it; monsieur had forgotten his existence.

"I am not proud; I don't mind being marched through the streets by a musketeer," M. Etienne explained as we started; "but I can't talk before him. Tell me, Felix, the story if you would have me live."

And I told him till we almost ran blindly into the tower of the St. Denis gate.

We learned of the warder that M. de St. Quentin had recently passed out, but that nothing had been seen of his equerry. No steeds were here for us.

"Well, then, we'll go have a glass. But if Vigo doesn't come soon, by my faith, I'll walk to St. Denis!"

But that promised glass was never drunk, nor were we to set out at once for St. Denis, for in the door of the wineshop we met Lucas.

I had dismissed him from thought, as something out of the reckoning, dead and done with, powerless as yesterday's broken sword. I thought him gone out of our lives when he went out of prison—gone forever, like last year's snow. And here within the hour we encountered him, a naked sword in his hand, a smile on his lips. He said, in the flower of his easy insolence:

"Tuesday I told you your hour had come. It is here."

"At your service," quoth my lord.

"Then it needs not to slap your face?"

"You insult me safely, Lucas. You have but one life. That is forfeit, be you courteous."

"You think so?"

"I know it."

Lucas held out the bare sword, hilt toward us.

"Monsieur had a box for weapon yesterday, but as I prefer to fight in the established way I ventured to provide him with a sword.

"Thoughtful of you, Lucas. Is this the make of sword you elect to be killed with?"

He was bending the blade to try its temper. Lucas unsheathed his own.

"M. de Mar may have his choice."

M. de Mar professed himself satisfied with the blade given him.

"Have you summoned your seconds, Lucas?"

Lucas raised his eyebrows.

"Is that necessary? I thought we might settle our affairs without delay. I confess myself impatient."

"Your sentiments for once are mine."

"It is understood you bring your spaniel with you. He will watch that I do not spring on you before you are ready," Lucas said with a fine sneer.

"And who is to watch me?"

"Oh, monsieur's chivalry is notorious. Precautions are unnecessary. It is your privilege, monsieur, to appoint the happy spot."

"The spot is near at hand. Where you slew Pontou is the fitting place for you to die."

"It is fitting for you to die in your own house," Lucas amended.

Without further parley we turned into the Rue des Innocents on our way to that of the Coupejarrets.

Now, I had been on the watch from the first instant for foul play. I had suspected something wrong with the sword, but my lord, who knew, had accepted it. Then, when Lucas proposed no seconds, I had felt sure of a trap. But his inviting my presence at the place of our choice smelt like honesty.

M. Etienne remarked casually to me:

"Faith, there'll soon be as many ghosts in the house as you thought you saw there—Grammont, Pontou and now Lucas. What ails you, lad! Footsteps on your grave?"

But it was not thoughts of my grave caused the shudder, but of his. For of the three men of the lightning flash the third was not Lucas, but M. Etienne. What if the vision were, after all, the thing I had at first believed it—a portent? An appearance not of those who had died by steel, but of those who must. One, two, and now the third.

Next moment I almost laughed out in relief. It was not Pontou I had seen, but Louis Martin. And he was living. The vision was no omen, but a mere happening. Was I a babe to shiver so?

And yet Martin, if not dead, was like to die. He was in duress as a Leaguer spy, to await King Henry's will. All who entered this house lay under a curse. We should none of us pass out again, save to our tombs.

We entered the well-remembered little passage, the well-remembered court, where shards of glass still strewed the pavement. Some one—the gendarmes, I fancy, when they took away Pontou—had put a heavy padlock on the door Lucas and Grammont left swinging.

"We go in by your postern, Felix," my master said. "M. Lucas, I confess I prefer that you go first."

Lucas put his back to the wall.

"Why go further, M. le Comte?"

"Do you long for interruption?"

"We were not noticed coming in. The street was quiet."

He crossed the court abruptly and went down the alley into the street.

"Not a soul in sight," he said, coming back. "I think we shall not be interrupted. Still, it is wise to use every care. We will fight, if you like, in the house."

He opened with his knife the fastened shutter and leaped lightly in. Monsieur followed. I, the last, was for closing the shutter, but he stopped me.

"No; leave it wide. I have no fancy for a walk in pitch darkness with M. Lucas."

"Do we fight here?" Lucas asked, facing us in the wide, square hall. "We can let in more light."

"You seem anxious, my friend, to call attention to your whereabouts. As I am host I designate the fighting ground. Upstairs, if you please."

"I suppose you insist on my walking first," Lucas sneered.

"I request it, monsieur."

"With all the willingness in the world," his rogueship answered, setting foot straightway on the stair and mounting steadily, never turning to see how near we followed or what we did with our hands. His trust made me ashamed of our lack of it. I almost believed we did him injustice. Yet at heart I could not bring myself to credit him with any fair dealing.

We went up one flight, up two. We had left behind us the twilight of the lower story, had not reached dawn again at the top. We walked in blackness. Suddenly I halted.

"Monsieur!"

"What?"

"I heard a noise."

"Of course you did. The place is full of rats."

"It was no rat. It was footsteps." We all three held still.

"There, monsieur. Don't you hear?"

"Nothing, Felix; your teeth are chattering. Cross yourself and come on."

But I could not stand it.

"I'll go back and see, monsieur."

"No," Lucas said, striding back from the foot of the next flight, "I will go."

We saw a glint in the gloom, monsieur's bared sword.

"You will go neither one of you. Hush! If we show ourselves there'll be no duel to-day."

We kept still, all three leaning over the banister, peering down to where the white tiles picked themselves out of the floor of the hall far beneath. We could see them better than we could see one another. All was silent. Not so much as a rustle came up from below. Suddenly Lucas made a step or two as if to pass us. M. Etienne wheeled about, raising his sword toward the spot where from his footfalls we supposed Lucas to be.

"You show an eagerness to get away from me, M. de Lorraine."

"Not in the least, M. de Mar. This alarm is but Felix's poltroonry, yet it prompts me to go down and close the shutter."

"On the contrary, you will go up with me. Felix will close the shutter."

They confronted each other, vague shapes in the darkness, each with drawn sword. Then Lucas raised his in salute.

"As you will, so be some one sees to it."

"Go, Felix."

Lucas first, they mounted the last flight of stairs and their footsteps passed along the corridor to the room at the back. I, as I was ordered, set my face down the stairs.

They might mock me as they liked, but I could not get it out of my head that I had heard steps below. Cautiously, with a thumping heart, I stole from stair to stair, pausing at the bottom of the flight. It must have been my silly fears. Resolved to choke them I planted my feet boldly on the next flight and descended, humming, to prove my ease, the rollicky tune of Peyrot's catch. Suddenly from not three feet off came the soft singing:

Mirth, my love, and Folly dear—

My knees knocked together and the breath fluttered in my throat. It seemed the darkness itself had given tongue. Then came a low laugh and the muttered words:

"Here we are, M. de Lorraine. Are you ready?"

There was a stir of feet on the landing before me, behind the voice. The house, then, was full of Lucas's cutthroats, the first of them Peyrot. In the height of my terror I remembered M. Etienne's life too depended on my wits, and I kept them. I whispered, for whispering voices are hard to tell apart:

"Not yet. The two of them are up there. Keep quiet and I'll send the boy down. When you've finished him come up."

"As you say, monsieur. It is your job."

I turned, scarce able to believe my luck, and, not daring to run, walked upstairs again. Prick my ears as I might I heard no movement after me. Actually I had fooled Peyrot. I had gone down to meet my death and a tune had saved me.

When I reached the uppermost landing I rushed along the passage and into the room, flinging the door shut, locking and bolting it.

They had not begun to fight, but had busied themselves clearing the space of all obstacles. The table was pushed against the wall in the corner by the door; the chairs were heaped one on another at the end of the room. Both shutters were wide open. M. Etienne, bareheaded, in his shirt, stood at guard. Lucas was kneeling on the floor, picking up with scrupulous care some bits of a broken plate. He sprang to his feet at sight of me.

"What is it?" cried M. Etienne.

"Cutthroats. They'll be here in a minute."

Even as I spoke I heard tramping on the stairs below. My slam of the door had warned them that something was wrong.

"Was that your delay?" M. Etienne shouted, springing at his foe.

"I play to win!" Lucas answered, smiling.

The blades met; the men circled about and about. Lucas, though he preferred to murder, knew how to duel.

We were doomed. With monsieur's sword for only weapon we could never hope to pass the gang. In another minute they would be here to batter the door down and end us. Our consolation lay in killing Lucas first. Yet as I watched I feared that M. Etienne, in the brief moments that remained to him, could not conquer him, so shrewd and strong was Lucas's fence. Must the scoundrel win? I started forward to play Pontou's trick. Lucas sought to murder us. Why not we him?

One flash from my lord's eyes and I retreated in despair. For I knew that did I touch Lucas M. Etienne would let fall his sword, let Lucas kill him. And the bravos were on the last flight.

Was there no escape? There were three doors in the room. One led to the passage, one to the closet, the third—I dashed through to find myself in a large empty chamber, a door wide open giving on the passage. Through it I could see the dusky figures of four men running up the stairs.

I was across the room like an arrow and got the door shut and bolted before they could reach the landing. The next moment some one flung against it. It stood firm. Delaying only a moment to shake it, three of the four I could hear run to the further door, whence issued the noise of the swords.

I, inside the wall, ran back too. The combat still raged. Neither, that I could see, had gained the least advantage. Outside the murderers dashed themselves upon the door.

I dragged at the heavy table, and with a strength that amazed myself pushed and pulled it before the door.

It would make the panels a little firmer.

Was there no escape? None? I ran once more into the second chamber. Its shutters were closed; I threw them open. There was no other door to the room, no hiding place. There was a chimney, but spanned a foot above the fireplace by two iron bars. The thinnest sweep that ever wielded broom could not have squeezed between them.

In despair I ran to the window again. Top of the house as it was I thought I would sooner leap than be stabbed to death. I stuck my head out. It was the same window where I had stood when Grammont seized me. There, not ten feet way, eight at the most, but a little above me, was the casement of my garret in the Amour de Dieu. Would it be possible to jump and catch the sill. If I did I could scarce pull myself in.

I looked below me. There swung the sign of the Amour de Dieu. And there beside it stood a homespun figure surely known to me. There was no mistaking that bald pate. I yelled at the top of my lungs:

"Maitre Jacques!"

He looked up, gaping at this voice out of the sky, but, despite his amazement, I saw that he knew me.

"Maitre Jacques! We're being murdered! We can't get out! Help us, for the love of Christ! Bring a plank, a rope, to the window there!"

For an instant he stood confounded. Then he vanished into the inn.

I waited, on fire. Still from the next room sounded the clash of steel. White shirt and black doublet passed the door in turn, unflagging, ungaining.

Suddenly came a noise from the passage of trampling and rending, blows and oaths. My first thought was that there were fighting out there, that rescuers had come. Then as I listened I learned better. Despairing of kicking down the door they were tearing out a piece of stair rail for a battering-ram. It would not long stand against that.

I ran back to the window. No Jacques appeared. We were lost, lost!

Hark, from the next room a cry, a fall! Well, were it Lucas's victory he might kill me as well as another. I walked into the back room. But it was Lucas who lay prone.

"Come, come!" I cried, clutching monsieur's wrist. But he would not till with Lucas's own misericorde he had given him coup de grace.

Crash! Crash! The upper panel shivered in twain. A great splinter six inches wide, hanging from the top, blocked the opening. A hand came through to wrench it away.

M. Etienne, across the room, at a leap, drove his knife through the hand, nailing it to the wood. On the instant he recognized its owner.

"Good morning, Peyrot. We've recovered the packet."

Not waiting for further amenities I seized my lord and dashed him into the front room, only a faint hope to lead me, but the oaths of the bravos a good spur. And, St. Quentin be thanked, there in the garret window were Jacques and his tapsters pushing a ladder to us.

"Go, monsieur! There are four behind us. Go!"

"You first!"

But I, who had snatched up his sword as he stabbed Lucas, ran back to guard the door. He had the sense to see there was no good arguing. Crying, "Quick, after me, Felix!" he crawled out on the ladder.

Peyrot was released. Another blow from the ram and the door fell to flinders. They leaped in over the table like a freshet over a dam. I darted to the window. M. Etienne was in the garret helping hold the ladder for me. I flung myself upon it all too eagerly. Like a lath it snapped.

CHAPTER XXXI.

The next world appeared to be strangely like this. I found myself lying on a straw bed in a little low attic, my head resting comfortably on some one's shoulder, while some one else poured wine down my gullet. Presently I discovered that Maitre Jacques's was the ministering hand, M. Etienne's the shoulder. After all this was not heaven, but still Paris.

I had no desire to speak so long as the flow of old Jacques's best Burgundy continued; but when he saw my eyes wide open he stopped, and I said, my voice, to my surprise, very faint and quavery:

"What happened?"

"Dear, brave lad! You fainted!"

My lord's voice was as unsteady as mine.

"But the ladder?" I murmured.

"The ladder broke. But you had hold beyond the break. You hung on till we seized you. And then you swooned."

"What a baby!" I said, getting to my feet. "But the men, monsieur? Peyrot?"

"I think we've seen the last of those worthies. They took to their heels when you escaped them."

"But, monsieur, they've gone to inform! You'll be taken for killing Lucas."

"I doubt it. Themselves smell too strong of blood to dare bruit the matter. Natheless, if you can walk now we'll make good time to the gate."

But for all his haste he would not start till I had had some bread and soup down in the kitchen.

"We must take good care of you, boy Felix," he said. "For where the St. Quentins would be without you I tremble to think."

I set out a new man. In three steps, it seemed to me, we had reached the city gate, to find the way blocked by a company of twenty or thirty horse, the St. Quentin uniform flaunting gay in the sun. The nearest trooper set up a shout at sight of us, when Vigo, coming out suddenly from behind a nag, took M. le Comte in his big embrace. He released him immediately, looking immensely startled at his own demonstration.

M. Etienne laughed out at him.

"Be more careful, I beg you, Vigo! You will make me imagine myself of some importance."

"I thought you swallowed up," Vigo growled. "You had been here—I couldn't get a trace of you."

"I was killing Lucas."

"Sacre! He's dead?"

"That's the best morning's work ever you did, M. Etienne."

"Have you horse for us, Vigo?"

"Of course. Some of the men will walk. I suppose we're leaving Paris to buy you out of the Bastille?"

"Not worth it, eh, Vigo?"

"Yes," said Vigo gravely; "yes, M. Etienne. You are worth it."

Vigo's troop was but slow-moving, as some of the horses carried double, some were loaded with chattels. M. Etienne and I, on the duke's blood chargers, soon left the cavalcade behind us. Before I knew it we were halted at the outpost of the camp. My lord gave his name.

"To be sure!" cried the sentry. "We've orders about you. You dine with the king, M. de Mar."

"Mordieu! I do?"

"You do. Orders are to take you to him out of hand. Captain!"

The officer lounged out of the tavern door.

"Captain, M. de Mar."

"Oh, aye!" cried the captain, coming forward with brisk interest. "M. de Mar, you're the child of luck. You dine with the king."

"I am the child of bewilderment, captain."

"And you've not too much time to recover from it, M. le Comte. You are to go straight to the king."

"I may go to M. St. Quentin's lodgings first?"

"No, monsieur; straight to the king."

"What! in my shirt?"

"I can't help it, monsieur," the captain laughed. "I suppose the king did not guess you were coming in your shirt. Anyway, his order was to fetch you direct. And direct you go.

"I might wash my face, then?"

"Certainly. No harm in that."

So M. Etienne went into the tournebride and washed his face. And that was all the toilet he made for audience with the greatest king in the world.

"You'll ride to monsieur's," he commanded me, when the captain answered:

"No; he goes with you, monsieur, if he's the boy Choux, Troux, whatever it is."

"Broux—Felix Broux!" I cried, aquiver.

"That's it. You go to the king too. I thought so indeed. We followed the sentry through the town in a waking dream, content to let him do with us as he would. He did the talking, explained to the grandees in the king's hall our names and errand. One of them led us up the stairs and knocked at a closed door.

"Enter!"

It was Henry's own voice. I pinched monsieur's hand to tell him. Our guide opened the door a crack.

"M. de Mar, sire, and his servant."

"Good, La Force. Let them enter."

M. La Force fairly pushed us over the sill, so abashed were we, and shut the door upon us.

The king was alone. But before this simple gentleman in the rusty black M. Etienne caught his breath as he had not done before a court in full pomp. He had seen courts, but he had never seen the first soldier of Europe. He advanced three steps into the room and forgot to kneel, forgot to lower his gase in the presence, but merely stared wide-eyed at majesty as majesty stared at him. Thus they stood surveying each other from top to toe in the frankest curiosity, till at length the king spoke:

"M. de Mar, you look less like a carpet knight than I expected."

M. Etienne came to himself, to kneel at once.

"Sire, I blush for my looks. But your zealous soldiers would not let me from their clutches. I am just come from killing Paul de Lorraine."

"What! the spy Lucas?"

"Himself. And when I left the spot by way of the window in some haste I was not expecting this honor, sire."

"Nor do I think you deserve it, ventre-saint-gris!" the king cried. "Though you come hatless and coatless to-day you have been a long time on the road, M. de Mar."

"Aye, sire."

"You might as well have stayed away as come at this hour. Marry, all's over! Go hang yourself, my breathless follower! We have fought all our great battles and you were not there!"

Scarlet under the lash, M. Etienne, kneeling, bent his eyes on the ground. He was silent, but as the king spoke not he felt it incumbent to stammer something:

"That is my life's misfortune, sire."

"Misfortune, sirrah? Misfortune you call it? Let me hear you say fault."

"I dare not, sire." M. Etienne murmured. "It was of course Your Majesty's fault. We cannot serve heretics, we St. Quentins."

"Ventre-saint-gris! You think well of yourself, young Mar."

"I must, sire, when Your Majesty invites me to dinner."

The king burst into laughter, and his temper, which I believe was all a play, vanished to the winds.

"Pardieu! you're a glib fellow, Mar. But I didn't invite you to dinner for your own sake, little as you can imagine it. So you would have joined my flag four years ago had I not been a stinking heretic?"

"Aye, sire, I needs must have. Therefore am I everlastingly beholden to Your Majesty for remaining so long a Huguenot."

"How now, cockerel?"

M. Etienne faltered a moment. He was not burdened by shyness, but before the king's sharp glance he underwent a cold terror lest he had been too free with his tongue. However, there was naught to do but go on.

"Sire, had I fought under your banner like a man at Dieppe and Arques and Ivry, M. de Mayenne had never dreamed of marrying his ward to me. I had never known her."

"The loveliest demoiselle I ever saw!" the king cried. "I shall marry her to one of my stanchest supporters."

The smile was washed from M. Etienne's lips. He turned as white as linen. In one moment his youth seemed to go from him. The king, unnoting, picked a parchment off the table.

"To one of my bravest captains. Here's his commission, my lad."

M. Etienne stared up from the writing into the king's laughing face.

"I, sire? I?"

"You, Mar, you. You are my stanch supporter, perhaps?"

"Your horse-boy, an you ask it, sire!"

He pressed his lips to the king's hand, great, helpless tears dripping down upon it.

"If I ever desert you I am a dog, sire! But the fighting is not all done. I will capture you a flag yet."

"Perhaps. I much fear me there's life in Mayenne still."

M. Etienne, not venturing to rise, yet lifted beseeching eyes to the king's.

"What! you want to get away from me, ventre-saint-gris?"

My lord, who wanted precisely that, had no choice but to protest that nothing was further from his thoughts.

"Stuff!" the king exclaimed. "You're in a sweat to be gone, you unmannerly churl! You, a raw, untried boy, are invited to dine with the king, and your one itch is to escape the tedium!"

"Sire"——

"Peace! You are guilty, sirrah. Take your punishment!"

He darted across the room, and throwing open an inner door called gently, "Mademoiselle!"

"Yes, sire," she answered, coming to the threshold.

The peasant lass was gone forever. The great lady, regal in satins, stood before us. She bent on the king a little, eager, questioning glance; then she caught sight of her lover. Faith, had the sun gone out the room would have been brilliant with the light of her face.

M. Etienne sprang up and toward her. And she, pushing by the king as if he had been the doorpost, went to him. They stood before each other, neither touching nor speaking, but only looking one at the other like two blind folk by a heavenly miracle restored to sight.

"How now, children? Am I not a model monarch? Do you swear by me forever? Do you vouch me the very pattern of a king?"

Answer he got none. They heard nothing, knew nothing, but each other. The slighted king chuckled and, beckoning me, withdrew to his cabinet.

So here an end. For if Henry of France have them you and I may not stay.

THE END.

IF the active liver of the cod-fish could be put into the place of the torpid liver of the consumptive it would probably do him a world of good. Next best thing is

Game Interesting and Exciting—Havelock Team Weak

TRENT VALLEY STANDING

Examiner Special

Havelock, Jan. 27th—The second game of the season in the Trent Valley Hockey League was pulled off at the Park rink on 27th. The result was that the game was marked down for the Madoc, with a score of 7 to 2.

The forward line was pretty strong with Foster, Ferguson, Rose and Rothwell, but the defence was greatly weakened by the absence of Stibs and Morris, who are both strong men in their respective places.

The puck was faced off at about 8.30 Madoc pierced the Havelock net first and soo n followed with two more in quick succession. The Havelock team then braced up and made some fast rushes with result that Foster scored by a hot shot, Murphy for Madoc then covered the length of the rink in a straight man rush and scored. This ended the first half, with the score 4 to 1 in favour of Madoc.

The second half opened up a little brighter for both, the teams kept racing up and down until Foster scored again. The Havelock team then began to lag and the Madoc forward got in their work to the tune of 3 goals.

The Madoc defence still held the game down and ended it without any more scoring. Chas. Pearce of Norwood refereed the game satisfactorily to all parties concerned.

"I feel it my duty to testify to the benefit I have received from the use of Psychine. While travelling in New Ontario conducting special meetings I contracted a very bad cold, which gradually developed into Bronchitis of the worst form. I was advised to try Psychine, which I did, and after using but a few bottles I was completely restored to health. I recommend this wonderful remedy to sufferers from bronchitis and other troubles."

Later: "I wish to add that my voice, since using Psychine, is stronger and has much more carrying power than it had before I had bronchitis, and the vocal chords do not tire with speaking."

The EDISON PHONOGRAPH

THE most wonderful thing about the Edison Phonograph is its versatility. It is equally good in entertaining a crowd of friends, in entertaining merely the family circle, or in helping you pass a few hours by yourself. It has just as many moods as you have. It is equally good in rendering a plaintive ballad or lively waltz

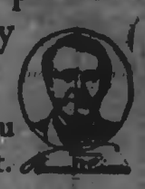
It sings to you in your quiet moments and enlivens your lively ones. It is good, clear and perfect because Mr. Edison has made it so. The Phonograph is his crowning work and has received a great deal of his personal attention. You can safely invest your money in it on the reputation of its inventor.



The new model with the big horn is now at all dealers'. You should see and hear it, or write for a descriptive booklet.

We Desire Good, Live Dealers to sell Edison Phonographs in every town where we are not now well represented. Dealers having established stores should write at once to National Phonograph Company, 100 Lakeside Ave., Orange, N. J., U. S. A.

When your dealer, in filling your order for any of above goods, reaches for a substitute, STOP HIM. That is the time to do it. It is too late when you get home, and the package opened, partially used and found wanting, as is generally the case with substitutes.

There are many reasons why you should ask for the above well advertised articles, but absolutely none why you should let a substituting dealer palm off something which he claims to be "just as good," or "better" or "the same thing" as the article you ask for.

The buying public recognize the superior quality of well advertised and standard articles like Gillett's goods. The substitutor realizes this fact and tries to sell inferior goods on the advertiser's reputation.

DON'T WORRY

While every intelligent person realizes the danger encountered every day from germ diseases, it is comforting to know that none of them can develop in a perfectly healthy body. Rich blood and a clean body are the greatest protection, but it is very important to keep the body clean. If the bowels are irregular, the body cannot be clean, as the poisonous matter, instead of being eliminated, is re-absorbed into the system. In that condition you are not safe and might easily fall a victim to any of the germ diseases, such as typhoid fever, typhus fever, diphtheria and even tuberculosis. Common sense dictates that you should keep your liver and kidneys active, and no better medicine has been discovered for this purpose than King Palmetto Compound. As an intelligent individual, you want to know what you are taking, and the manufacturers of King Palmetto Compound make no secret of the ingredients of their preparation. The formula is on the wrapper. They do claim, however, that they know how to prepare it scientifically and are in a position to obtain the very purest material. Price $1.00 per bottle. Write for free sample, King Palmetto Co., Bridgeburg, Ont. King Palmetto Compound is guaranteed to act directly on the bowels, liver and kidneys and on the strength of this fact it is guaranteed and recommended by McDermid & Jury, druggists.

CORSETS

WORTH TAKING

One ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion;
One ounce Compound Salatone;
Four ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla;

Mixed and taken in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime, is pronounced by a prominent physician to be the best mixture for the cure of the kidney, bladder, and all urinary troubles.

This says the doctor, is the most simple though remarkable prescription ever written to cleanse the system of impurities and waste matter. It acts as a powerful tonic to the kidneys, forcing them to filter out the acids and poisons, overcoming rheumatism, lame back, sciatica and other afflictions arising from sour, impure blood.

The ingredients can be procured at any good drug store, and being purely vegetable and entirely harmless, can easily be mixed at home.

If you have a suffering friend show this to him, as he will undoubtedly be pleased to learn of so simple and highly recommended a remedy.

The new White Star liner Suevic, built from the salved afterpart of the liner wrecked off the Cornish coast last year and a new bow, has left dry dock at Southampton. The liner will take her place in the Australian service of the company. The re-creation of the White Star liner Suevic is one of the most remarkable feats of marine engineering ever performed. The Suevic, a vessel of 12,500 tons and 550 feet in length, was wrecked on the Stag rocks, off the Cornish coast, on March 17, 1907. The vessel's bow was lost on the rocks. She could not be towed off, and it appeared as if she would become a total wreck. It was, however, decided to make the attempt to salve the afterpart with the view of completing the vessel by the building of a new bow. The afterpart was made watertight, and the forepart was blown up by dynamite. The operation was successful and the salved portion was towed to Southampton. The new bow was built by Messrs. Harland and Wolff at Belfast and was launched on October 5. It was 212 feet long, and weighed 8,000 tons. The difficult task of towing it to Southampton occupied six days. At Southampton the bow was floated into dock to be joined to the old afterpart, already in position there. The work of completing the union has occupied two months.

The peculiar spectacle of a class of people wishing to be taxed more severely is to be seen in England just now. An agitation is afoot in the tobacco trade for an increase in the tobacco dealer's license. This stands at 5s. 3d, and the amount is regarded by the trade as inadequate, opening the field to irresponsible individuals, whose only trade operations, as far as tobacco is concerned, consist of retailing pennyworths and halfpennyworths of cigarettes to children. Legitimate tobacconists regard the army of hucksters who peddle out cigarettes by the "ha'p'orth" as the curse of the trade. The situation is regarded by the trade as sufficiently serious to warrant action, and an organization has been formed, known as the Tobacco Dealers' License Reform Association. The association proposes to memoralize the Chancellor of the Exchequer for a graduated license, based on rental value, starting, it is suggested, at a half-guinea for 25, with an suitable proportionate rise for every £25 paid in rent by the tobacco dealer. The object is to weed out the undesirable class of dealers.

An interesting personality has just passed away at Brighton in William Olivier, Marquis de Leuville. Of striking, though somewhat eccentric appearance, the marquis was in his younger days an exceedingly handsome man. Both the early and latter part of his life was spent in England, but for many years he esided in France and Italy, and was a master of the languages of both countries. Of a naturally amiable disposition he was quick to resent affront. A skilful shot, and a more skilful swordsman, he was the hero of several exciting duels, while his remarkable encounter with a certain prince in Hyde Park some years ago, when he left his carriage to horsewhip publicly the defamer of a lady with whom his name was then associated, is still fresh in the public memory. As a writer of verse he was far above the average, as the several editions of his book, "Entre Nous," will testify. Among the numerous songs published under his name perhaps the most successful was "The First Kiss," which ran into something like a hundred thousand copies.

IRELAND

The tenants on the Lara estate of Sir N. R. O'Conor, British Ambassador at Constantinople, which is situated in Co. Roscommon, met the agent, Colonel Comyn, at Dunclarmott House, by arrangements, recently, to sign terms of agreement of purchase of the holdings. Negotiations for the purchase of the state have been going on for the past twelve months, the tenants last May having refused to pay their rents, pending the sale of their holdings to them, and the sale of two grass farms on the estate, with the result that two processes had been issued against them for a year and a half's rent at the January Quarter Sessions at Castlerea the coming week. The terms of purchase now agreed upon are: 20 years purchase of second term rents, a half-year's rent paid down, a half-year's rent added to the purchase and the other half-year's rent, the running gale, wiped out, and two grass farms on the estate, Cartron and Cloonruff, containing about 250 Irish acres, to be divided amongst the tenants to increase their present holdings. The tenants signed the agreements of purchase on these conditions. The estate is sold under the section of the Land Act of 1903, which enables the vendor to give the estate over to the Estates Commissioners for the benefits of the tenants.

An extraordinary story of how Stephen O'Neill, a man of 74, walked 40 miles to answer a police court summons, was told at the Belfast Summons Court, the other day. The charge against O'Neill was that of driving a farm cart on the wrong side of the road at Belfast on Christmas Eve. O'Neill started on the night he received the summons at 7 o'clock from Ballygela, near Portaferry, Co. Down, to walk to Belfast. He arrived next morning about 8 o'clock, after walking a distance of almost 40 miles. O'Neill said he was only singing the tram lines to give the horse a drink at a watering trough. He was discharged and the magistrate directed that something be given to him from the poor box to enable him to pay his way back home.

A statue of the late Queen Victoria, created by Irish public subscription in Leinster Lawn, Dublin, at a cost of £7,300, will, it is provisionally arranged, be unveiled by the Lord Lieutenant on February 15. It was sought to get the King to perform the ceremony, or, failing him, the Prince of Wales, or the Duke of Connaught. His Majesty, however, in a letter to the committee, states that he regrets very much his inability to attend, as he fears that his engagements will prevent him from visiting Ireland this year. The Prince of Wales and the Duke of Connaught are also unable to be present. The statue has been executed in Paris, to the design of an Irish artist, Mr. John Hughes. It is of bronze, and stands

SCOTLAND

Glasgow is now in the somewhat novel situation of finding the Trades Council appealing to the Presbytery for support on the question of Sunday work. Such a situation has arisen but, as might be expected, the people who have familiarized Scotland with secular meetings on Sunday are not concerned wholly with the religious aspect of the matter. What the trade unionists are aiming at is the suppression of the Sunday labour carried on by Jewish firms in the furniture and tailoring trades. It is not made quite clear whether the Jews work on Saturday. There will be considerable interest as to the attitude which the Presbytery will assume. At a recent meeting of Glasgow journalists a discussion took place regarding the increasing amount of Sunday labour in the profession, and it is somewhat of a coincidence that the chief blame was laid on trade unionists and other "labour" sympathizers, whose Sunday meetings multiply to an alarming extent.

The subcommittee of the promoters of the proposed technical college for Aberdeen and the North of Scotland has appointed a deputation to interview the Lands and Fishings and Finance Committees of the harbour board at their next meeting. The deputation will attend for the purpose of discussing with the committees the arrangements as to the School of Navigation and Fisheries Institute to be established in connection with the technical college. The harbour board is to give a site for the school, and institute, and the deputation from the subcommittee will give information as to the extent of ground required.

For those of the labouring classes who are dependent upon the iron and steel, shipbuilding, engineering and allied industries, the winter prospect in the Clyde valley is black indeed. It is a long time since work was so scarce and so many able-bodied men going idle. In the cities the authorities are taking prompt steps to meet the distress. Some indication of it may be gathered from the fact that the payment of the city poor rates is something like £7,000 farther behind than at a similar time last year. And yet, in face of it all, the shipyard workers are contemplating a general strike.

The movement in favour of cremation is making slow but steady progress in Scotland. According to the latest report of the Scottish Burial Reform and Cremation Society, the past two years show a remarkable advance as compared with the immediately preceding year. In 1905 there were 26 cremations in Scotland; in 1906 the total rose to 42, and in the year ending September last it was again 42.

INSTALLATION AT HAVELOCK

Mr. J. J. Turner, Sr., The Installing Officer—Man Found Dead in Bed

HAVELOCK PLAYS MADOC

Examiner Special

Havelock, February 3.—The following officers of the A. O. U. W. were installed by the D. D. G. M., J. J. Turner, of Peterborough, on Monday night, January 27th,

M. W.—Chas. Roberts.
P. M. W.—Thos. Hubble.
Foreman—Jesse Campney.
R. S.—C. H. Brewster.
F. S.—Wm. Matheson.
Guide—James Backus.

After the officers were installed the officers and members, with their wives and ladies, sat down to a sumptuous repast in the dining apartment. After ample justice had been done to the many good things provided they adjourned to the reception room, where they were entertained by D. D. G. M. J. J. Turner, officers and members of the order. Mr. Turner gave a most interesting address, based on the many benefits derived by being a member of this society and urged all those not members present to become so at once. Mr. Turner also favoured them with a song, entitled "Get Up in the Morning Early." Short speeches were also made by the following gentlemen: C. Roberts, M. W.; Jesse Campney, Foreman; J. W. Bryans, J. I. A. Comp and others.

The singing of the National Anthem brought the evening to a close.

Mr. Wm. Montgomery was found dead in bed at 10 o'clock Tuesday evening in the Armstrong house. About 7 o'clock in the evening he asked the proprietor for a room as he was not feeling very well. He was shown to room No. 22, next to where his father roomed. His father was informed of the condition his son was in and at once went up to his room. The door being partly opened he looked in and saw his son flung across the bed, and thinking that he looked rather pale went in and caught hold of his hand, but life had fled. It indeed was a great shock to his father. The report of death was soon made known and the proprietor, Mr. Armstrong, at once sent for a physician who pronounced death being caused by heart failure.

Mr. Montgomery is well known in town, having for the past few years been employed at the round house. His many friends extend their sympathy to the bereaved mother and father. The remains were taken by afternoon express to his home in Toronto.

The funeral will, in all probability, take place in Toronto on Friday.

Misses Loretta Bennett and Maude Boyle and Mr. E. Bennett attended the Brassworkers' "At Home" in the Conservatory of Music Hall on Thursday of last week.

Mr. Ed. Chapman, of Toronto, spent Tuesday at his home here.

Mr. Wm. Webber, of Toronto, is spending a few days in town.

The hockey match between Madoc and the home team on Monday night resulted 7—2 in favour of Madoc. Although the night was extremely cold a large crowd attended, some from Norwood and Marmora. The line-up was as follows:

Messrs. Lancaster and Dineen have booked to take place in opera house on Thursday night, February 6th, "Jerry from Kerry," said to be one of the best band and orchestra shows that ever toured Canada.

Miss Charlotte Stirling, sister of the Rev. J. A. G. Stirling, of Chapel Hill Free Church, Rothesay, Buteshire, Scotland, arrived in town on Thursday of last week, having been a passenger on the Allan Line steamer "Corsican," from Liverpool to St. John. She will reside with her brother, Rev. Stirling, of town.

THE BLENDING OF WHEAT

There is Healthy Demand for Canadian Wheat—Blended Flours a Success

IMPORTANCE UNREALITED

Ask our millers about the outlook for Ontario wheat and they say, that the future promises a steadily increasing market and higher. Ask our farmers and some of them put on a long face and say there is no money in Ontario wheat.

These men are about fifty years behind the times. They have never heard about such "new fangled things" as blended flours. They use "Western hard patent flour." The scientific farmer knows all about Western flour. He knows, to his sorrow, that it was the coming of Manitoba wheat that sent down the price of Ontario wheat. He knows, too, that it is because the average farmer uses Western wheat flour that the price of Ontario wheat has been kept so low. This modern farmer grows Ontario wheat, for which he receives a fair price. With this money he buys blended flour, which contains Ontario wheat, and a little Manotiba wheat to add strength. Thus he spends his money for the products of his own farm. He makes a profit on his wheat and keeps his money here at home. The farmer who "uses "Western patent flour" is making rich the wheat growers of Manitoba and Alberta.

All this aside, however, there is a healthy demand for Ontario wheat. The blended flours are meeting with the most gratifying success. The sales for each month, as reported by the leading mills, show a big increase over the corresponding month of the previous year. This increased demand for blended flours means an increased demand for Ontario wheat. Farmers who keep abreast of the times know about these blended flours, are using them, and are planting Ontario wheat for the advancing market.

It is a great pity that every farmer in our Province does not realize the importance of making these blended flours a success. And every farmer can help in this great work simply by buying blended flours whenever the "flour barrel is empty." The farmers themselves will benefit by getting more money for their wheat. Stockmen and dairymen will share in the profits by paying less for bran and shorts. As is well known, the reason these feedstuffs cost so much now is because our local mills do not grind as much grain as they should, and consequently have not the bran, etc., to sell. And finally, the whole Province will benefit, because higher prices for wheat means more money for everybody.

Popular Cure for Croup

Anyone who has tested Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, as a cure for croup, will not hesitate to pronounce it an unqualified success. It is wonderfully prompt in relieving the cough, clearing the air passages and soothing the exafted nerves. Many mothers who realise the suddenness with which croup comes on keep this great medicine promptly on hand for use in case of emergency.

HOUSE BURNED IN MID-WINTER

At Rose Island—Interesting News From That District

SCHOOL AFFAIRS OPPOSED

Rose Island, Feb. 3.—The heavy fall of snow, Sunday caused much inconvenience.

School matters have occupied an important part of the conversations of this district for some time.

Messrs. J. McKee and Philip Huffman were busy shovelling snow Friday and Saturday trying to open up some of the side roads which have been blocked by last Saturday's snow storm.

We are sorry to learn of the departure of Mrs. Wm. Campbell, and also her daughter, Miss Lei. She will be much missed as she was a great helper in the church.

Mr. A. Campbell, Fernie, B.C., who has been visiting friends in this vicinity, left Monday for Castleton, where he intends spending a few weeks with friends before returning to his home in the West.

Mr. Ed. Huffman is working in Mr. F. J. Bullied's lumber camp.

Mr. A. Cadwell is busy hauling goods for Mr. Jas. Mahoney. It keeps him pretty busy breaking the roads.

The people of this vicinity sympathize with Mr. John Shorts, whose house was destroyed by fire a few days ago.

Some of the people of Clydesdale attended the ball at Coe Hill Friday night and report a very good time.

Mr. W. Ament, who had been working at Mr. Bullied's camp, has been engaged at Mr. J. Campbell's.

Times are very dull here. It would be worse if there was no opposition in school affairs. The school has been going now, for over three weeks, under the instruction of Miss Marion MacPherson.

The ladies expect a gay time on Thursday at Miss L. Ament's.

YOU ARE SICK!

Your only hope is Ferrozone, the great food tonic.

FERROZONE

It's a blood maker, blood purifier, blood enricher. It brings sharp appetite, digests and converts all you eat into nourishment.

Ferrozone makes muscle, tissue, nerve. It strengthens in a week, builds up anyone in a month. Think of it. You'll live longer and feel better by using Ferrozone. Avoid substitutes.

COLD SETTLED ON THE LUNGS

Mrs. Irwin Bennett, Parrsboro, N. S., writes: "I feel it my duty to write a few words in praise of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I took a bad cold which settled on my lungs, and made it almost impossible to breathe at times. I coughed constantly and could not sleep at nights. A friend told me how Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup had helped her, so I procured some, and before I had taken one bottle my cough was gone and I could lie down and sleep at night."

the outside world. For years, in the early history of the town, this was the greatest and most discouraging disadvantage of their situation; as a site for their town and as a district they had everything that could be desired, but they were shut off away in the wilderness, without a railway and with only the most inadequate means of communication with the outside world. This discouraging situation is now, however, a thing of the past. In 18— the main line of the Canadian Northern Railway, going east, built into it on its way to Fort William, and ever since that date has been furnishing, while not perhaps a first-class, yet a fairly efficient and most welcome service. During the past summer, also two additional roads from the south have penetrated into the town and opened up communications with the outside in that direction.

Railways Facilities

These two roads, the Duluth, Rainy Lake and Winnipeg, and the Minnesota and International branch of the Northern Pacific, will undoubtedly be of inestimable value to the town and district, placing it, as they do, on a footing, so far as railway facilities are concerned, equal to that of the most favored cities on the continent. The first mentioned of these two latter roads crosses the Rainy River at Pither's Point, about two miles above the town, and will connect with the Canadian Northern near that place. It is understood that the Duluth road will use the tracks of the Canadian Northern to run its trains into Winnipeg, thus establishing the straightest and shortest line of communication possible between these two cities. At the present time the company has in course of construction a magnificent steel bridge at the point of crossing above mentioned. The other new arrival from the piers and abutments of this splendid structure have already been completed and the superstructure is now being put in place. This road, when fully in operation and running on schedule time, will give the town a daily service to Duluth, and will cover the distance between the two points in about five hours. In the south, the Minneapolis and International gives a similar connection with Minneapolis and St. Paul. Trains will leave the Twin Cities over this route at 8 o'clock in the evening and reach Fort Frances at 7 the next morning.

As has been said, the building of these different railways into Fort Frances has been of inestimable advantage to the town in every way. From being an isolated, inaccessible trading post in the wilderness it has been transformed into a busy and attractive centre, with ever modern convenience and within easy reach of almost every important city, north, south, east and west. The way to it is now open.

Only Population Required

It only remains for the people to come, to make of it a flourishing and prosperous city. That there is something to come for, the reader who has followed the narrative thus far will no doubt be convinced. In a short sketch like this, however, it is impossible to give a full account of all the advantages such a place affords. The timber and mineral riches of the district of which it is the centre would alone require an article of the scope of this to do them justice, and there are many other things of fully as much importance that might be mentioned did space permit. I will content myself, just in closing, with a few observations on the attractiveness of the place from the viewpoint of the tourist and sportsman.

Fort Frances is a sportsman's paradise, and for everyone to whom the quiet beauty and restfulness of nature appeals it will unquestionably have a strong attraction and charm. Around it on every side, within easy reach, lie the great, sombre forests, still in their primeval simplicity, and in these deep, silent woods are the deer, the moose and the bear, as many and as unafraid as when the first white man that ever penetrated this rugged wilderness, the great Sieur de Verandrye, first woke its echoes with the sound of modern fire arms. Stretching away for 150 miles to the northwest are the picturesque reaches of the beautiful Rainy River and Lake of the Woods: while, away to the southeast, winding into interminable, innumerable island studded bays and branches, stretch the silvery waters of the Rainy Lake. Beneath all these waters swim myriad shoals of palatable fish, and over their surface in many parts, especially in the little rice bays that nestle here and there in the secluded windings of their sinuous shores, skim or hover multitudes of the choicest specimens of the feathered kind. In such surroundings as these every desire of the sportsman's sould is gratified.

THE SOUTHDOWN CUP WAS TAKEN

The Burglar-Alarm Did Not Work But The Thief Was Nevertheless Discovered

THE CAR'S NUMBER TAKEN

The "Daily Mail" gives the following explanation of the Eaton descent upon Cholmondeley—On Christmas Eve when the Marquis of Cholmondeley was at Eaton Hall, the fact of Lord Lonsdale being one of the house party led to a conversation about the recent motor-car burglary at his lordship's place near Oakham. Lord Cholmondeley then mentioned that in consequence of that affair he had had a new burglar alarm fixed up at Cholmondeley Castle. Scepticism was expressed as to the value of such contrivances, but Lord Cholmondeley said he could guarantee that this one would trap the most expert thieves, and, he added, that if there was any attempt on the place he would make it warm for them. After Lord Cholmondeley had left a plot was concocted to surprise the marquis by "lifting" the Southdown Cup, and proving that his reliance on his anti-burglar apparatus was illusory. One member of the house party, besides knowing something about the patent alarm arrangement, was also aware that one of the windows of the old dining room on the east side of the castle had a damaged catch, and could

The midnight expedition to Cholmondeley Castle was therefore resolved upon. Lord Lonsdale was invited to join the party, but excused himself. None of the servants at Eaton Hall were let into the secret.

Stealing the Marquis's Coat

Six gentlemen of the house party were in the expedition. They left Eaton about 11.30 p.m. on Christmas night in a fast motor-car, and reached the Malpas entrance to Cholmondeley Park fifteen miles distant, shortly after midnight. Their car was seen by the lodge keeper entering the park, but no importance was attached to the fact. Leaving the car under a large tree at one side of the winding avenue out of sight of the lodge, the party waited about until the castle was in darkness. Then they cautiously made their way past the front of the building to the stokehole, the window of which was unfastened with little trouble. Out of the stokehole one of the party brought a large cob of coal. Then they moved to the east side, being careful to dodge the night watchman, who after nightfall is on duty outside with a large dog. The night was very dark and stormy, and they were not disturbed. On reaching the old dining room window two holes were bored into the sash with a gimlet, and by these means a defective sash was forced back. The window proved heavy, and it took two of the party to lift it and hold it up while a third with a piece of coal crept inside, and making his way to the table in the centre of the adjoining room, where the Southdown Cup was displayed, "arrested" it and left the piece of coal in its place.

Wild Dash for Safety

At this juncture the sound of dogs barking upstairs reached the ears of the invaders. Under the impression that the burglar alarm had worked after all, the party, having "secured" the cup, led down the window, though with as little noise as possible, and stampeded for the motor. The belief that the inmates of the castle had been alarmed explains the speed at which the motor was driven out of the park. One of the two gates had in the meantime been closed. In driving through the hoodgear of the car caught the edge of the gate still standing open, and the left extension arm of the hood-frame was ripped off. The gate was also damaged. What happened in the castle was that about 2 a.m. two pet dogs which the marchioness had in her bed-room began to bark excitedly. Her ladyship was awakened and after quietening her pets listened, but heard nothing. She gave the matter no further attention. Immediately over the old dining room are the bed rooms of the butler and of Lord Cholmondeley's valet. Both between 2 and 3 a.m. heard sounds as of someone moving about, but each supposed that the movement came from the bed room of the other.

Car's Number Taken

Thus by mere accident no alarm was raised. When the loss of the cup was found out next morning Lord Cholmondeley expressed his annoyance in strong terms. Though he suspected a prank he was not certain, and consequently informed the police. A large force of detectives and constables were soon at work noting finger-prints, measuring footmarks, and tracing motor-cars. After telling what he knew to the police officers, he went out to fulfil an engagement to hunt with the South Cheshire Hounds. The Eaton party were at the meet. They had heard of the loss, expressed a feigned sympathy, and an equally insincere surprise that the burglar alarm had not worked as anticipated. The affair was the talk and, to those in the secret, the jest of the meet. Then when Lord Cholmondeley had been condoled with the joke was explained, and following the inevitable apologies the affair was smoothered over. Lord Cholmondeley himself entered into the spirit of the pranks and the Duke of Westminster in the afternoon attended the races at Hooton Park. When the marquis reached home in the evening he found that the cup had been restored.

In Chester the numbers of motor cars passing between 12 p.m. and 6 a.m. are taken note of by the police, and the Duke's car (which went through Chester on its way back about 3 a.m.) was noted. It was afterwards identified, and the Chief Constable, on going to Eaton Hall to see the Duke about the affair, had the matter explained to him.

BEWARE OF BRIGHTS DISEASE

Says Lame Back and Urinary Troubles Are The Danger Signals

TAKE CARE OF BACKACHE

More people succumb each year to some form of kidney trouble than any other cause. The slightest form of kidney derangement often develops into Bright's kidney disease, diabetes or dropsy. When either of these diseases are suspicious the sufferer should at once seek the best medical attention possible. Consult only a good, first-class physician, leave patent medicines alone.

There are many of the lesser symptoms of kidney trouble which can be treated at home as stated by a well-known authority. For some of these, such as backache, pain in the region of the kidneys, weak bladder frequently, especially at night, painful scalding and other urinary troubles, try the following simple home remedy: Fluid Extract Dandelion one-half ounce, Compound Kargon one ounce, Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla three ounces. These simple ingredients are harmless and can be obtained at any good prescription pharmacy and anyone can mix them by shaking well in a bottle. The dose for adults is a teaspoonful after each meal and again at bedtime.

There is no better general remedy known to relieve all forms of rheumatism either, because it acts directly upon the kidneys and blood. It cleans the clogged up pores in the kidneys so they can filter and strain from the blood the poisonous uric acid and waste matter which if not eliminated remain in the blood, decompose and settle about the joints and muscular tissues causing the untold suffering and deformity of rheumatism.

Backache is nature's signal notifying the sufferer that the kidneys are not getting properly. "Take care of your kidneys," is now the physician's advice to his patients.

THE WORST ROADS IN YEARS

Eight Feet of Snow is On The Main Highways

Mr. O S Carver, of North Monaghan drove into the city this afternoon and states that the roads are the worst he has ever seen. The Gravel Road was impassable and Mr. Carver had to drive south to the next line and drove in by the school house and north into the city. In many places the roads are drifted to a depth of 8 feet and it is only a matter of digging out a passage before they are fit to use. Some of the farmers have done this already and in parts the road is all right.

A PESTIFEROUS GERM

Burrows up the Scalp into Dandruff and Saps the Hair's Vitality

People who complain of falling hair as a rule do not know that it is the result of dandruff, which is caused by a pestiferous parasite burrowing up the scalp as it digs down to the sheath in which the hair is fed in the scalp. Before long the hair root is shrivelled up and the hair drops out. If the work of the germ is not destroyed hair keeps thinning until baldness comes. The only way to cure dandruff is to kill the germ, and until now there has been no hair preparation that would do it; but today dandruff is easily eradicated by Newbro's Herpicide, which makes hair glossy and soft as silk. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes—50c and $1. McDermid & Jury, and the Market Drug Store, Special Agents.

EXAMINER ENTERPRISE MAKES PETERBORO' A PUBLISHING CENTRE FOR THREE GREAT CLASS JOURNALS

Examiner Secures Contract For Publishing Canadian Dairyman And Farming World, and Canadian Horticulturalist and Florist

IS AN INDUSTRIAL GAIN

The Latest Linotype Type-Setting Machines Installed—New Fast Presses, Folding Machinery and Best of Equipment Provided

Expansion is the inevitable concomitant of a thrifty business, with a thriving environment. Peterborough is progressive, and her industries are expanding. In keeping with this condition, the business of the Examiner, shows such a growth that corresponding increase of equipment is necessary to meet the growing demands upon the executive resources of the establishment.

New Publishing Industry

Especially is this so in view of the large increase of work, represented by the transference to this city of the publication interests and operations of three trade papers of first-class importance and influence. These are the Canadian Dairyman, the only dairy journal published in Canada, with which has been incorporated the Farming World, giving the resulting journal a wider scope of subject and more inclusive field of interest. Mr. H. B. Cowan is editor-in-chief and business manager, and Mr. G. H. Carpenter, B.S.A., editor. The second is the Canadian Horticulturist, the official organ of the Fruit Growers' Associations of Ontario, Quebec and Prince Edward Island, and of the Ontario Vegetable Growers' Association. The third is the Canadian Florist, a 12-page quarto journal.

All three of these journals have heretofore been published in Toronto, but the management, desiring a place of publication more central for purposes of distribution and in point of importance of the special interests represented, especially dairying and agriculture, Peterborough, as combining these desiderata, was selected, and the Examiner Printing Establishment, presenting the desired publication and printing facilities, a contract was entered into for the issue of these three important class journals. The Board of Trade, of which Alderman Geo. A. Gillespie is a member, with a very large interest and influence in the dairy industry, gave their sympathy and co-operation to induce the selection of Peterborough as the business and publication headquarters. This represents a considerable augmentation of the industrial importance of Peterborough, consisting in added work for about 25 skilled employees. To secure this important addition to our industrial forces, the Examiner has made an outlay for new and improved machinery and equipment of more than $10,000.

To Meet The Situation

To meet the situation created by the local printing of the three journals, the Examiner has found it necessary to improve its already well-equipped printing house by very important additions to its typographical and mechanical plant.

There have been installed two of the most modern and highly improved type machines in existence—the Canadian-American Linotype of the Mergenthaler model—almost human in the automatic perfection of its operation, and artistic cleanness and neatness of result—volitably, up to the present, the last word in mechanical production of typefaces. One of these "typesetting," or rather type-founding, machines, is capable, in the hands of an expert operator, of doing the work in a day of five or six ordinary compositors, either in job, book or news work.

What It Is

The Canadian American Linotype machines installed in the Examiner comprise as remarked the very latest improvements and are, to this point, practically perfect; but as there is no limit, apparently, to inventive advance, these machines are so constructed that improved parts if discovered, can be added without change in fundamental organic mechanism.

The cut accompanying this article gives a fair idea of the appearance of one of the Examiner linotypes. The keyboard, situated in in front of the machine is similar to that of a typewriter, but with an infinitely more delicate touch and readiness of response.

How It Works

Words are almost inadequate to describe the, as we speak, intricate simplicity and perfection of this machine. The operator taps in succession, the keys corresponding to the letters to form a word and corresponding matrices or moulds des-

Five Cent Pieces Would Not Be Accepted—An Interesting Police Court Case

Bowmanville, Feb. 8.—(Special)—Dr. C. Hillier was charged before Police Magistrate Horsey the other day with assaulting the editor of the Statesman, Mr. James, on January 18th, on Lowe street, and was fined $5 and costs or two months in jail. Mr. R. R. Loscombe, K. C., appeared for Hillier and entered a plea "not guilty," but agreed to stake his case on the plaintiff's own evidence. No witnesses were summoned.

The defendant's counsel after hearing the plaintiff's evidence, withdrew the plea of "not guilty," but pleaded for a light sentence. The plaintiff had previously in addressing the court pleaded for a nominal fine, thinking the disgrace of the affair punishment enough. Mr. Archie Tait tendered the amount of the fine to the court in five cent pieces but the magistrate refused to accept "fiddler's change," and demanded bank bills or a cheque.

In to-day's issue appears the third instalment of the names of Peterborough boys and girls who are out in the world and who are getting along successfully away from their native city. This series has proven very popular in Peterborough, and every day names have been sent in to the Examiner. There are, of course, many others that have not yet been published, and a request is made for these. The fourth instalment will be published next Saturday.

ADDRESSED BIG TORONTO AUDIENCE

Rev. Dr. O'Brien Delighted Them With Address on Italy and Rome

Referring to Rev. Dr. O'Brien's lecture in Toronto before the Catholic Young Ladies' Literary Association on Wednesday evening of last week, the Catholic Register pays a compliment to his ability and speaks highly of his address. The lecture dealt with Italy and Rome and was accompanied by a fine set of stereopticon views. Rev. Dr. O'Brien was greatly appreciated by the large audience that filled the Greek theatre of the Margaret Eaton School of Expression.

THE WEATHER.

The cold snap still remains, although it is probable that milder conditions will soon be here. Lowest temperature last night, 15 below zero, although 16 was registered during the forenoon. At 10 o'clock the thermometer marked 6 below zero.

A RELIGIOUS CENSUS TO BE TAKEN ON ELEVENTH OF MARCH; THE COMMITTEES

A religious census of the City of Peterborough will be taken on the afternoon of Wednesday, March 11th. This was the decision arrived at last night at the public meeting held in St. Paul's church. Mr. Thos. Yellowlees, Extension Secretary of the Ontario Sunday School Association, who has, during the past three years, conducted about forty of these house to house visitations, was present and delivered an address in which he outlined the plan to be pursued, the organization necessary, and the advantages to be derived from the work.

The city will be divided into districts, and each district given into the charge of a supervisor to whom will be assigned a sufficient number of canvassers to cover the whole ground in from two to four hours. The canvassers will go in pairs and each pair will be given from 30 to 40 houses, according to circumstances. The records are made on a card provided for the purpose, and after the work is completed these are classified and sent to the officials of the churches for which a preference is expressed.

A committee consisting of the pastor and one other representative from each of the Sunday Schools of the city was appointed to complete the organization and make arrangements. This committee will meet in St. Paul's church on Tuesday evening next at 8 o'clock, when sub-committees will be appointed and steps taken to secure canvassers.

HARRY THAW CANNOT STAY IN THE STATE MAD HOUSE; SO DECLARES HIS AGED MOTHER

"He Will Go Crazy If They Keep Him There," She Says And Orders Lawyers to Begin Fight For His Release

HEARD ABOUT THE ASYLUM

Examiner Special.

New York, Feb. 8.—Mrs. William Thaw took a strong hand in the case of her son. Harry, this afternoon. She telephoned to Lawyers O'Reilly and Peabody, summoning them to her hotel and stating that she wished them to take some immediate steps to get Harry out of Matteawan.

"He will go crazy if they keep him there any longer," she declared.

From some outside source the elder Mrs. Thaw has received a long and detailed account of her son's surroundings and life in the Matteawan Asylum.

She has been told that he spends all his waking hours in the company of fifty-seven hopeless lunatics, that he encounters madmen at every turn and that his sleep at night is broken by the howls and gibberings of mental wrecks.

These reports have alarmed her, and she is insistent that her son be placed in a different atmosphere.

Up to the time Mrs. Thaw received these reports about Harry she was reconciled to Lawyer Littleton's plan of delay. Nothing but a personal inspection of the asylum will convince her that Harry is not only in danger of losing his mind, but of losing life. Her natural fear for the welfare of her son may disarrange all plans that have been made for the handling of Harry Thaw's struggle to eventually be released from restraint.

Littleton on way to Florida

Mr. Littleton left town early this morning for Florida, where he expects to spend two or three weeks. On his way he will stop at Washington and he will probably be called up by telephone in that city to-night for advice.

When he started from New York Mr. Littleton supposed that Mrs. William Thaw was fully agreed that his idea of playing a waiting game was the proper one.

A report current to-day, that Mr. Littleton had retired from the Thaw case, was denied at the Littleton offices, No. 30 Wall street. It probably originated from the fact that Mr. Littleton left the city, but his plans for a vacation in Florida were arranged long before the conclusion of the trial of Harry Thaw.

The Thaw lawyers are averse to discussing their case, but Mr. Littleton has not been at all shy imitating his position. His friends know he does not wish to imperil the future liberty of a man he has just saved from the Sing Sing death house on a plea of insanity.

Jerome Would Object

If lawyers representing Thaw should apply for a writ of habeas corpus at this time District-Attorney Jerome would certainly oppose it. He would bring into court Dr. Farra, the head of the State Board of Lunacy, and Dr. Lamb, superintendent of Matteawan Asylum.

BUNCH OF KEYS AND PURSE FOUND OWNERS

Through the medium of the Examiner's classified ad. column, two lost articles were yesterday returned to their owners. One was a bunch of keys, which although it might not be very valuable is very convenient. The other was a purse containing a sum of money. Both these articles were by means of notices in the "lost" ad. column of the Examiner brought back to their owners. The moral is plain.

A HANDSOME LIBRARY CASE

Installed in George Street Church This Week

The new Sunday school library case installed in the library room of the basement of the George street Methodist church is a handsome structure. It is constructed to contain 600 books and is partitioned off to suit the various classes. The case is 13 feet high, built on a similar plan as the Charlotte street case and is undoubtedly one of the handsomest and most complete library cases in the city. It is 16 feet long and made of polished ash, with sliding doors in order that the books can be arranged so as to be easily obtained. The case was installed by Mr. D. Belleghem.

ATTENDANCE SMALL IN RURAL SCHOOLS

Hour Journeys Extended into Days in The Country

The country roads have drifted so badly drifted this week that it is estimated that the attendance at the public schools has been decreased one-half at least. The school inspectors from the city were unable to reach any of the schools in the country during the week.

Journeys that ordinarily occupied but a few hours have been extended into days. Mr. Harry Roberts is one who has experienced the truth of this. On Monday he left Apsley but it was not until yesterday that he reached the city. Mr. R Dobbin of North Monaghan came to the city yesterday a distance of 4 miles in 3 hours and many similar stories are being related to-day.

DEATH OF MR. PEYTON W. C. SHEWEN

Passed Away at Mount Julian—Buried To-day

There has been general regret expressed in Peterborough on account of the death of Peyton W C Shewen, who passed away at his home near Mount Julian, Burleigh township, on Wednesday. The deceased man was for many years a resident of Apsley where he occupied the position of clerk of the municipality. He was twice married, his second wife being a Miss Eastwood who predeceased him. Some time ago he left Apsley and moved to Mount Julian where he operated a saw mill for two or three years. Mr. Shewen was well known in Peterborough as well as in the northern townships and his death will be much regretted. The funeral was held to-day to Apsley.

FATHER AND SON SUSTAIN SIMILAR INJURIES

Former Went to See His Son and Fell on Sidewalk.

About two weeks ago Mr. H. J. Baker, the popular Water street barber, sustained a severe sprain of his ankle which, still confines him to his residence. About a week ago his father, Mr. Robert Baker, Brown street, East City, while returning from a visit to his son, slipped in front of the Cereal Works and met with a similar injury, but rather more severe as he is suffering great pain and gangrene is feared.

Claim They Had Only One Meal in Twenty-Four Hours and Work Was Scarce

With the opening of the C. P. R. between Peterborough and Toronto yesterday afternoon, business was soon recommenced, and after four trains had gone west from Montreal it was not long before four more came in, being the first traffic from the West City since Wednesday noon. The first train arrived at 6 o'clock, followed by a second fifteen minutes later. These trains stopped only at Havelock and Smith's Falls east of Peterborough, but the two which followed were like the local and stopped at every station. The last train was in about 9 o'clock.

Stories From Burketon

The men who worked at shovelling snow near Burketon, where the train from Montreal was stalled, report that they had only one meal in 24 hours and worked all the time they were there. Before returning home a number of them went to a farm house, where they ate everything the farmer had to offer. They had scarcely any water to drink, and many of them grumbled at the fare.

The passengers relate their experiences of the 28 hours during which they were held in the snow drift. Fred Waghorne of Toronto, the hockey referee, was one of those on board. He told a graphic story of the way provisions were secured from the country round about. "They were dragging sheep and bags of potatoes over the drifts," he said. "The snow out there was twelve feet high, up to the top of the cars. It was very cold, too."

Conductor Marler, of the dining car, is the subject of many complimentary references by the passengers, who agree that he was a good provider. Mr. Ferris, of the Scarborough Company, Hamilton, said: "He went out and bought three sheep from farmers and bags of potatoes. I helped him myself to drag those potatoes for two miles through the drifts. Of course, we got stuck a few times, but we got there all right."

TREE STRUCK HIM ON THE SHOULDER

Caughnawaga Man Saved From Death by a Stump

Mr. John Herr narrowly escaped being seriously hurt while at a wood bee recently near Caughnaugs. It appears that a tree which Thos. Curtis was felling went with the wind and John Herr ran for the house when he heard the warning. He was hit on the shoulders, and only that a stump came to his rescue the consequences might have been different.

THE BAD ROADS CAUSE POSTPONEMENT

Mr. John Haggart Had a Difficult Task To Travel

Mr. John Haggart had a difficult road to travel on Thursday, when he started for the Calvert farm in Smith, where he was to conduct a sale. The first attempt failed and he was forced to return and obtained a fresh horse. In several parts of the trip the shovel had to be freely used, and at length Mr. Haggart reached his destination. However there was not a sufficient attendance of farmers and the sale will be held next Friday.

THE DAY OF REST

The Sabbath day or as we Christians call it, Sunday, was set apart as a day of rest and declared holy on that account—"and God blessed the seventh day and sanctified it because in it He had rested from all the work which God had created and made." • • • "and rested the seventh day; whorefore the Lord blessed the seventh day and hallowed it." Sunday therefore, as a day of rest is set apart by Divine law; and natural law also enjoins it. But the brisk and breezy west, with its hustle and haste to get rich is inclined to ignore its claims on both counts. There is vigorous controveray between two parties in Winnipeg—one wanting to work seven days a week and one wanting to prevent such conspicuously non-union hours of labour. The Divine law forbids seven days labour, the law of nature is also against seven days labour; so is also the law of the land. In Winnipeg last Sunday the police made one thousand five hundred arrests of persons charged with Sunday labour. Apart from the religious aspect of the question altogether, the law of the land seems to be in the right. Experts tell us that even inanimate machinery needs a rest; experience teaches us that man needs a rest from continuous toil and reason and observation show that beasts are better for a rest. The experience of six thousand years teaches us that a rest of one day in seven is the right proportion. Moses enjoins us to "remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy"; and what is keeping it holy but resting from labour? That is the Scriptural mode, enjoined by God Himself—"the Lord blessed the Sabbath day and hallowed it" —because "He rested the seventh day." The requirement to rest on Sunday has full justification. The Power that created us and "knows our frames" fixed the seventh day as a day of rest, because we need it. The law of the land follows his precept to this end, enforced by example, and every good citizen yields obedience to the law of the land. The law requiring the universal abstention from labour on one day of the week is the only fair law. Without its restraint, the man with the well developed greed and the well developed body which permits him to work seven days, which is, in practice, continuously, would have an unfair advantage in the race of life over the man whose condition of body requires one day's rest in seven. A Sunday rest law should not be called tyrannical, for it fits in with the axiom that all right law is no respecter of persons.

So much for what may be called the secular aspect of the Sabbath day question. In religion Sunday has also its obligations and is self-evidently the day that should be devoted to the establishment or adjustment of our spiritual relations and the duties that religion imposes. After serving ourselves and the world for six days certainly we can give the seventh to higher duties. Universally in Christian lands Sunday is devoted to religious duties, with which nothing preventable should interfere. It is, therefor, no surprise at first thought, that the Ministerial Association should pass a resolution looking to the cessation of Sunday funerals. There is no doubt that with the amazing multiplicity of meetings that mark modern church activity, there is no hour of the Sunday open which a minister can attend a funeral without neglecting some stated duty of his Sunday office. A correspondent of an evening contemporary criticises the action of the association as bearing hard upon bereaved families in the case of deaths occuring on a Friday, involving an unseemly hasty funeral on Saturday, or postponement till Monday. The resolution provided for emergencies of this kind and other kinds, so that there is not much weight in this objection. No doubt the resolution had its origin in a desire to discourage the extravagant pomp and expensive display, characteristic of so many funerals, of which ministers complain with good reason. But there are other considerations which suggest that Sunday is, even from the minister's point of view, a proper day for funerals. A "Christian burial" involves a religious service and of all days what one more proper than Sunday for such a service, both from the sacred character of the day, and the exceptional opportunity presented for a large audience for the sacred lesson which the solemnity of the occasion is fitted to especially impress. If the Christian burial service is anything more than a form, Sunday seems to be an appropriate day for it. Besides a Sunday funeral permits many persons, chained to the galley of toil every other day of the week, paying their last respects to a departed comrade or fellow-workman, which they could not do on any day of the week but Sunday. It is admitted that Sunday funerals break in upon the Sabbath day agenda of ministers, but death is wont to break in upon all earthly arrangements, and we must be prepared at all times, on all days, to clear away the sad human wreckage death casts upon the shores of time. While the Ministerial Association with justifiable reasons have pronounced against Sunday funerals, as we understand it, the resolution is no unbending decree, but one which will be modified to meet cases of emergency. Ministers have a heavy responsibility to bear. They have at heart the best interests of mankind individually or in mass; they doubtless have in view, in their protest against Sunday funerals, the greatest good to the greatest number They are, however, reasonable men and will doubtless be ready to meet exceptional conditions so that no hardship will be wrought to anybody.

A STUPID CORRESPONDMENT

Some readers make double demands upon writes—brains to write and brains to interpret what is written. A correspondent, "Temperance" writes to an evening contemporary accusing the Examiner of writing an "editorial backing up the liquor traffic." If "Temperance" will read the article when the "temperance" aspect of his character predominates, he will see that the article is practically a quotation of comments by Saturday Night and Mr. Goldwin Smith, giving as announced, the "other side of the question" in relation to reduction of licenses in Toronto. "Temperance" is simply trying to mislead, and to do so must misstate. His real object in so doing some sort of capital, else why does he invite the public to remember the particular date on which the article appears? Before what tribunal is the Examiner to be haled? Who is to be the judge? The Examiner can "spot" the identity of "Temperance" without half guessing.

EXAMINER ENTERPRISE MAKES PETERBOROUGH A PUBLISHING CENTRE

cend and are marshalled in order with intervening spaces till a line is formed. This is automatically placed in contact with molten type metal and a solid line is cast with a type face ready for printing. The moment the cast is made a long arm with steel fingers descends and, with almost uncanny imitation of a human hand, grasps the line of marshalled matrices, lifts them up to the distributing apparatus and the individual letter moulds are returned to their proper places as unerringly as well-drilled fire horses march back to their proper stalls, and ready to respond to the touch of the letters on the key board. Thus the round is completed till lines grow to columns, columns to pages and pages to books.

The Work In Detail

Each key, as remarked, represents a letter, a figure, a punctuation mark, or a character. The machine contains a number of small brass matrices. These matrices consist each of a flat plate having in its vertical edge the reverse of a letter, mark or character and in the upper end a series of teeth. There are a number of matrices for each letter or character represented on the keyboard. The machine is organized to select matrices bearing the required character, and set them up in line side by side, with intervening spaces in the order in which they are to appear in print, and thereafter to present the line to a mould so that the linotypes or slugs may be cast against and into the entire line of matrices at one operation. This brings out one solid piece of metal, with the letters and characters reproduced in a single line when printed.

At the top of the machine is a magazine, or holder, containing channels, in which the assorted matrices are stored. By gravity when released they slide downward into the magazine and are held in check by escapement at the mouth of each channel. They are released by pressing the key as on a typewriter. Each key pressure permits a single matrix to fall downward through the channel to an inclined travelling belt, by which the matrices are delivered into the assembling block. When the line is composed the operator lifts a bar, and the line is transferred to the face of a vertical mould wheel, through which a slot or mould extends from the front to the rear face. In this way the entire row of characters in the matrix line is presented opposite the face of the mould, so that when the mould is filled with metal, the molten metal will flow into the matrices which produce their respective characters in relief on the edge of the casting.

Behind the mould wheel is a mould pot heated by gas, in which type metal is placed and melted. Within the pot there is mounted a mechanically operated pump plunger. After the line of matrices is presented and locked against and across the face closed against the rear side of the of the mould the mouth of the pot is mould and the plunger operated to force the molten metal from the mouth of the pot into the mould, where it solidifies almost instantly, and thus completes the line, or as known in printing parlance, "the "slug."

The distributing apparatus is not less remarkable. A long arm from the rear of the machine descends and picks up the line of matrices, the instant the "cast" is completed, lifting them vertically to the top and rear of the machine and then shifts them laterally along a revolving spiral carrier, the spaces remaining behind when the matrices are lifted to the distributor, and being transferred laterally to the box whence they first came and whence they will go again for further use. The matrices having been brought back to the top of the machine for distribution, all have teeth arranged in a particular order or number, according to the letter which each bears. The ribs of the distribution bar vary in number and arrangement at different points on its length, there being a special arrangement over the mouth of each channel of the magazine. The matrices to be distributed are simply pushed horizontally along the bar at one end so as to hang suspended therefrom, and then moved slowly along it over the mouth of the channel. Each matrix will remain in engagement with and be suspended from the teeth of the bar until it arrives over its proper channel, where the arrangement of teeth permits the matrix to be released so that it falls directly into the proper channel.

General Capabilities

The Examiner linotypes are not only wonderful in the perfection of their work, the type faces produced being suitable for the finest book and job work as for ordinary printing, but wonderful in their range of capacity. They will cast a score of faces of type of a size ranging from the fourteenth of an inch to a quarter of an inch in depth or height, and are capable of setting and casting more than 300 faces or styles of letters plain or fancy, light or heavy. The Examiner's machines are provided with seventeen different faces of type. The mechanism is so arranged that with the same key board, casting apparatus and distributing machinery, the change from one face or style of type to another can be made in half a minute. The linotype is capable of "setting" all the faces of type required in a first class printing office. In the faces capable of being produced are included borders, ornaments, rules, etc., etc.

The machine can compose and cast any length of line from half an inch to the longest line used in ordinary printing. The Examiner's linotypes were manufactured by the Canadian-American Linotype Company of Montreal, and were set up and installed by Mr. A. Priest, of the company's staff, who for courtesy and knowledge of his work can, without flippancy, be called the high-Priest of expert linotype erectors.

Complementary Additions

The new contract upon which the Examiner has entered as well as the rapidly growing demand of the Examiner's general job printing patronage has led to the addition of not only large quantities of general type equipment, etc., but considerable new machinery. The latter includes a new press especially for fine colour printing, the Babcock Optimus, the most solidly built and compact two-revolution press in use, or available for use. Also a new Mentges steel roll book folder, which has no superior or even equal for speed, accuracy and general excellence of work. There have also been installed several of the latest models of stapiers needed in book and pamphlet work. As remarked the job printing room has been extensively restocked with the most modern faces of type and the necessary printing material to constitute the Examiner's one of the best equipped and most complete job printing establishments in the country.

The first editions of the new publications mentioned above are now under way and will be issued as follows:—

February 12th, The Canadian Dairymen and Canadian Farmer.

No Ability To Digest Food

NERVOUS SYSTEM SO EXHAUSTED THAT THE VITAL ORGANS ARE FEEBLE IN ACTION

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

The digestive system is a wonderful piece of machinery, but power is necessary to make it effective.

Overwork, worry, anxiety and excessive mental effort exhaust the nervous system at a tremendous rate.

In this case the power is the nerve force contained in the body, and if the nerve force is lacking the digestive system becomes crippled and there is suffering from indigestion nervous headaches, neuralgic pains, dizzy spells, weakness and discouragement.

Strength cannot be regained from the food you eat so long as digestion is so imperfect, but you can be restored by Dr. Chase's nerve Food, which contains in condensed pill form the very elements of nature which and repair must be made before some dreadful form of nervous disease sets in. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food invigorates the nerves which control the digestive fluids, sharpens the appetite, is mightily laxative, so as to encourage the action of the bowels and strengthens every organ of the body.

You can use this treatment feeling certain that every dose is doing you at least some good, and can prove it by noting your increase in weight.

Mrs. M A Sharp, 346 Dublin street, Peterborough, Ont., states: "For some years I was troubled with indigestion which developed into nervous dyspepsia and besides suffering from nervousness, dizzy spells would come over me. Hearing of the good results obtained from Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I decided to try it. After a pretty thorough test of this medicine I can say that I never used anything that did me so much good. It seemed to be the very treatment that I needed, and as a result of the use I am quite restored to health."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

THREE GREAT PLEAS MADE

Some Reasons by S. D. Gordon, Why Men Should be Abstainers

UNDER AN OBLIGATION

Supplied by the W.C.T.U.

Every man is trusted with his own life. All the powers and talents that go to make up his personality, and all the opportunities and activities that make up the sum of his life, are intrusted to him by a wise, loving God. This is a man's great mission in life. To cultivate his powers up to the highest point, and to use both powers and opportunities for the best, and only the best, is his honest duty his greatest privilege, and his first responsibility. Some day each of us is to have the opportunity of reporting to God on his life mission. The greatest joy then it will be if we have always sought for the fullest light on life, and if we have aimed thoughtfully to walk in that light. The greatest regret will be to find that we have failed to be and to do the best that was possible. The very highest reach of human attainment is self-mastery. Nobody ever gets higher than to be master of himself, and so of his circumstances and opportunities. Self-mastery can come only through full touch with God and with his fellows, for man is a part of both. There is no word so sweet to the taste as this great simple word self-mastery, whatever in any way hinders the fullest and sweetest self-mastery is an enemy to be stubbornly fought. By common consent of all men nothing has so effectually robbed man of self-mastery as the use of alcoholic beverages. The man who would always aim highest and have the bell of his life ring true at every touch and test, finds this enough of a reason in itself for total abstinence.

The protest against liquor comes from many unexpected quarters. The preacher of temperance finds many surprising assistants. They do not all move upon his high moral level. But they all agree on this on egreat fact, that liquor robs a man of physical strength, of nerve power stored up for the emergency, of mental ability, of dependableness in action, of all that goes to make him valuable; in a word, of self-mastery, and so of efficiency. The athletic trainer forbids its use to the man who would do his best work in upholding the honour of his college on field or river; and includes tobacco in his prohibition. The physician declares that when critical illness comes, that man has by all odds the best chance of pulling through whose body is free of both liquor and narcotic. The employer of common labour wants the man who doesn't drink, if it is possible to get him, for so he gets steadier and stronger men and swifter and more satisfactory work. Brain workers handling delicate and difficult tasks agree that keen clear thinking, quick reliable action, and steady fingers and nerves, are possible only with total abstinence from both drink and drug, and choose their helpers accordingly. Railroads and other great corporations the banker and merchant and boss mechanic, as a rule, put a positive ban upon liquor, and many include tobacco also, in those whom they employ, for efficiency reasons purely. Colleges and certain training departments of the federal government join hands with these others. Without going farther this is pretty sweeping evidence, wholly from the practical standpoint of efficiency, leaving the moral question entirely out against liquor (as destructive of one's mastery of his powers. Add to this the fact equally well settled, that drink blunts the finer senses, dulls the spirit perceptions, shuts tight the door Godward and up toward the finer manhood, and opens wide the door downward and dirtward. Opens it! Takes it clear off the hinges! The man who would be master of his powers will surely leave such stuff severely alone. For his brother's sake a man should be a total abstainer. This is Paul's great plea in this lesson regarding things that hurt. There are a great many who have not thought carefully into this matter of drink, and who are influenced more by the example of those whom they respect than by their own convictions. Many are young, with convictions not yet formed. Some are influenced the wrong way by surroundings and by family custom and education. And then there are those who are passion-swept. They have felt and they feel, the grip of this giant, and would break away, but alone, unaided, they cannot. And these are many of good disposition, but with weak wills, who need the steadying, strengthening power of those near by who gently and winsomely but with uncompromising rigidity will set up a high standard both by life and word.

The emergency that is on is a third great plea, both for personal total abstinence and for all the positive influence that can be exerted. Some of our learned friends, who look at the matter from the academic rather than the practical side, talk persuasively of the no-harm of a moderate use of liquor, or the possible positive benefit to many. Their words are well chosen, and uttered in aplausible way. But the terrific emergency that holds the center of life's action is quite enough in itself to make one an implacable enemy of liquor, even if all that these friends say were true. With innumerable lives utterly wrecked and enslaved by drink, innumerable other lives stunted and scarred through these lives, thousands of homes and hearts broken clean beyond any chance of repair, and the whole fabric of live honeycombed through and through with the slimy trail of this serpent, there is an emergency on that calls for strongest action. Here is surely reason enough apart from others to settle a man's personal habit and positive influence dagainst this wrecking usage.

But the drink traffic must be thought of as well as one's own habit. The liquor forces were never so strongly organized, never so insistently aggressive in pushing the stuff in everywhere, never so insidiously subtle and snakelike in their campaigning, and never keener in using advantageously the tacit partnership of the Federal government. Every man influences this traffic in a positive way. Many help it by their patronage, and many whose personal habit is correct, yet help it by their indifference. The total abstainer is hindering it decisively and positively by personal habit. But that is not enough. Every man is under obligation to use all the influence at his command positively against the traffic in such ways as seem to him most practical and effective.

WAITING ROOMS WERE FULL YESTERDAY

Snowbound C.P.R. Passengers Were Well Looked After

The waiting-room of the C. P. R. station was crowded yesterday afternoon with people waiting for their trains. The floors were lined with valises, suitcases and bags belonging to the snowbound travellers. The wires were going at a ferocious rate and it was with great pleasure that people in the waiting-room learned that the line was open between here and Toronto. The express office was full of parcels waiting to be sent to their destinations and the baggage-room was also crowded with trunks of all descriptions.

The C.P.R. deserves great credit for the way it treated its passengers. For meals alone it cost the local office nearly $200, most of the passengers having had four meals. Those who did not find room in the hotels spent the night in the sleeping cars and were supplied with all the latest magazines to read during the dull moments in the cars.

The railway line looked very bare as only a few freight cars lined the siding in the rear. The shunter was also on the siding, but was not in active service. Teh sectionmen were busily engaged clearing off the snow, but everything around the station seemed dead. As night wore on the trains began to come in, and it is hoped they will soon be running on schedule time.

Spoke on The House To House Visitation Plan

Extension Secretary of the Provincial Sunday School Association Spoke at St. Paul's Church Last Night—Representative Gathering of Church Workers

AN INSTRUCTIVE ADDRESS

The meeting last night in St. Paul's church in connection with the proposed house to house visitation was well attended and nearly all the churches of the city were represented by pastors and lay members. The meeting was under the joint auspices of the Ministerial Association, and the Sunday School Association and the feature was an address on the house to house proposal by Mr. Wm. Yellowlees, of Toronto, the extension secretary of the Provincial Sunday School Association. Mr. Rich. Lees, president of the Sunday School Association, occupied the chair and the meeting opened with a hymn and prayer by Rev. H J Keith ,of Knox church.

Mr. Yellowlees' remarks on the work and progress of the visitation movement in the province; the object was to get the church work organized so that every man, woman and child would be identified with some church or Sunday school. The scheme had been successfully operated in many cities, towns and villages in Canada.

Mr. Yellowlees explained that there were many people in every city who were outside the church and might as well be in Africa as far as church work was concerned. There was work to be done outside the church and the relationship to the people not connected with any of the churches must be considered. "We must remember that we are still our brother's keeper," remarked the speaker. The house to house visitation reached all classes of people. It was the duty of Christian people to visit them and invite them to the house of God. They should go out into the by-ways and high-ways to touch these outsiders. There were many people who had gone down in the world who thought no one cared for them. To them the house to house visitation says, "Can't we help to make a man of you."

Speaking of the details of the work Mr. Yellowlees said that every home must be reached in one afternoon; all the churches would have to act in co-operation and the city would be divided into districts with a supervisor in charge of each to whom a staff of workers would be sent. All the churches would be assessed for financial and other assistance. A week before the time of the visitation a notice should be sent to the hotels and boarding houses for a list of their employees and boarders.

Mr. Yellowlees closed his remarks with an explanation of the card used in the visitation.

Deputation, of Fire, Water And Light Committee Returns

Describe Wednesday's Snow Storm in Toronto as the Worst They Ever Experienced — Were Delayed in Returning

INSPECTED LIGHT SYSTEM

The deputation of members of the Fire, Water and Light Committee returned to the city last night on the third train from Toronto arriving in the city about eight o'clock. They boarded the train at the Union Station at nine o'clock but the train did not get under way until after noon. The members of the party were Aldermen Johnston, Morgan, Butler and McIntyre and Mr. Packenham. They visited Hamilton and Toronto Junction, thoroughly inspected the lighting systems of these two places and will present a report of their trip at the next meeting.

Describing the storm which has caused such trouble in Toronto and miles on each side the Aldermen state that it began early Wednesday morning continued throughout the day and well into Thursday. The fall of snow was excessive, but the wind was the source of trouble. It whirled the snow in every direction, piled it up in the streets and defied humanity to brave its fury. The city had a small army of men at work clearing the streets which was well carried out. The Street Railway Company had a hard struggle but was at no time tied up.

The Peterborough deputation was delayed longer than was intended. On the road down from Toronto the snow banks were higher than the coaches and the wind was drifting the snow into the cuts. However the frequent passage of trains this afternoon kept the line clear.

FORMER PETERBORO' BOY HONOURED IN VANCOUVER

The Vancouver (B. C.) Province has the following article, which should be of interest to the many friends here of Mr. H. W. Kent, formerly local manager of the Bell Telephone Company:—The proudest moment in his life, declared Mr. H. W. Kent, general superintendent of the B. C. Telephone Company, occurred shortly after 5 o'clock last night, when he was surprised by a deputation of over one hundred of the employees of the company who presented him with a magnificent roller top desk, an office chair, and most prized of all, a handsomely bound address of appreciation, signed by all the Vancouver employees of the company.

Mr. Kent, who to-day severs his long connection with the B. C. Telephone Company, was completely taken by surprise. He made a speech expressive of his great and heartfelt appreciation at the evidences of esteem on the part of his fellow workers, but so great was his feeling in the matter that five minutes afterwards he was not sure that he had properly presented his thanks.

Next Tuesday Mr. Kent will leave for Toronto, Peterborough, Montreal, New York and other eastern cities on business connected with his private affairs. He expects to be absent from Vancouver about six weeks.

MR. WYATT HERE FROM MILETA

Was Born in Millbrook—Doing Well in The West

It is generally understood throughout the West that the land during the past year did not yield the quantity of grain it did in former years, but the farmers are not down in spirits and are waiting patiently to see what this year will bring them.

The Examiner had a short conversation this morning with Mr. Wyatt, a contractor from Melita, Man., who is in the city for a few days. Mr. Wyatt is an old Millbrook boy and left that village some time ago to seek his fortune in the wheat fields of Manitoba. On his arrival in the West he decided to go in for contracting and is doing an immense business in the town where he resides.

Mr. Wyatt said a good season for 1908 would make the farmers forget about last year. He was very much pleased with the new country and thought it held out grand opportunities to the young men of the East.

Speaking of the real estate situation, he said a great many new houses would be erected in the spring, and he thought several new factories would also be located in the town.

The Bible Class Banquet Was a Great Success

Very Enjoyable Gathering Held in The George Street Methodist Sunday School Last Night—Many Bright Speeches Made

ABOUT 150 WERE PRESENT

The first banquet of the Men's Social Adult Bible Class of the George street Methodist church held last evening was a brilliant success in every sense of the word, and the evening will long be remembered by those who were present. About 150 members of the class with a few guests sat at the tables which were arranged in a "U" shape in the Sunday school room. A bountiful repast had been prepared by the ladies of Mr. W. C. Switzer's Bible class, who looked after the needs of the gathering in an efficient manner.

After ample justice had been done to the delicacies of the occasion an enjoyable toast list was honoured. Mr. W. B. Warne, the president of the club, carried out the duties of chairman very successfully.

The toast to "The King" was honoured in a manner befitting patriotic Canadians, after which Capt. R. T. Hounsell proposed the toast "Our Country" in patriotic speech. Mr. F. Skitch responded in a fitting manner. Mr. Jas. H Scriver's splendid tenor voice was displayed to fullest advantage in Adams' "Veteran Song," and his effort was received with much applause from the gathering.

"Our City" was the next toast honoured, being proposed by Mr. W. S. Turner, who referred to the opportunities and advantages offered by Peterborough. Ald. W. J. Johnston responded in an effective speech on behalf of the Council.

Mr. F. H. Dobbin gave an interesting and amusing address on "When I Was a Boy," his reminiscences of Peterborough as it existed in his younger days being most entertaining. Mr. Dobbin's humourous remarks were found most enjoyable by the gathering.

Mr. Fred Skitch's solo "On the Rolling Deep" was given in good voice and was well received.

To Mr. S. G. Sills, treasurer of the Bible class, fell the task of proposing the toast, "Our Church," and he did so in a most appropriate speech, to which Mr. A. W. Cressman responded, paying a tribute to the work of the Men's Bible Class.

The class quartette, composed of Messrs. Scriver, Walton, Zepp and Cunningham, produced much pleasure by a selection in which their voices blended most harmoniously.

Mr. R. B. McGill proposed the toast, "Our Sunday School," and fitting responses were made by Messrs. S. R. Armstrong of George street Sunday school and J. J. Hartley of Grace church Sunday school.

An orchestra selected from the class who heard to great advantage in a selection which was much enjoyed.

Mr. J. E. Middleton proposed the health of the Social Adult Bible Class, and responses were made by Messrs. R. Howland and G. Deeprose, captain and lieutenant respectively of the "Red" team, the winners in the membership contest, and by Mr. A. Hanna, captain of the "Blues." All of the speakers made references to the contest, which has proved very successful.

The class orchestra was heard again in an enjoyable selection.

"The Ladies" was the next toast honoured, being proposed by Mr. L. A. Turner and responded to by Mr. W. C. Switzer, both of whom paid graceful tributes to the fair sex.

The chairman proposed the health of Rev. E. A. Pearson, teacher of the class, referring in warm words of praise to his services. Rev. Mr. Pearson responded in an appropriate speech, after which the gathering was brought to a close with the Doxology and benediction.

The members of the class wish to express their thanks to the ladies of Mr. Switzer's class who so kindly supplied the refreshments.

At the close of the banquet a flashlight photograph of those around the festive board was taken by Mr. Londrum.

Health and Vitality for old People

As old age creeps on vitality is lowered, the heart beats more slowly, the blood becomes thin and watery, and the power of resistance is lessened. It is the old people above all others who require the new life and energy, which come with the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Thousands of old people depend on this treatment, because it calms and quiets the nerves, gradually and certainly enriches the blood, builds up the system and instils new life and vigour into their shrivelled arteries.

TRAVELLED FOUR MILES IN FOUR HOURS

The Experience of Mr. Jos. Crowe, the Warsaw Stage Driver

After nine hours of awful travelling over snow-banked roads, Mr. Jos. Crowe, the Warsaw stage driver, arrived in the city at 5 o'clock last evening with the mail. Some parts of the road were in an awful condition and the stage driver had to use his shovel very often.

He was seen last night by an Examiner representative after his arrival and he was tired out completely. He left Warsaw with the mail and baggage about 8 o'clock yesterday morning and the roads were bad all the way. The first four miles and a half were traversed in four hours, and the rest of the journey was not much better. The horses were very often stuck in the snow, and had to be dug out with the shovel.

"I have been on that road since I was a boy," said Mr. Crowe, "and I have never seen it in such a condition before."

Mr. Crowe spent the night in the city and will likely attempt to make his way back this afternoon.

CONFERENCE WILL BE HELD NEXT WEEK

Arrangements To be Made For The Camp Meeting

The Free Methodists who held such a successful camp meeting at Jackson Park last summer will in all probability come again next summer for a ten-day meeting. The members of this sect are very anxious to come to this city and a repetition of last year's success is looked for.

An Examiner representative had an interview with Mr. Luke, the local representative of the Free Methodists, this morning, and the latter said that nothing definite had been decided upon regarding the camp meeting. He had placed the matter before the Fair Board, and was going to Toronto next week to attend the quarterly convention and would bring the matter up then.

The Chemong Lake road is in an awful condition at present owing to the recent snowstorms. It is impossible to find the road in some places and the farmers along the line are at a standstill. Reeve Scott of Smith township came to the city yesterday to hire men to clear the road, but was unable to get many. Those who were fortunate enough to secure are busy engaged to-day clearing the

A SPLENDID PROGRAMME AT ST. LUKE'S

Regular Meeting of the A. Y. P. A. Last Night

A large number of members of St. Luke's A. Y. P. A. were present last night at the regular meeting of the association. The evening's entertainment was a most delightful one, and everyone enjoyed it thoroughly. Mr. H. C. M. Potter, the president, was in the chair. After devotional exercises, conducted by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, business was proceeded with and arrangements for the next meeting were left in the hands of the executive. The opening number was an instrumental solo by Miss Charlotte English. Then followed a selection by the mandolin club, under the able leadership of Mr. Bert Tovey. This number was heartily encored and responded to. Mr. David Spence gave a most interesting and instructive paper on "Charles Kingsley."

After this the moving pictures were exhibited, which were greatly appreciated. A hearty vote of thanks was moved by Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, and seconded by Miss Mary Pratley, to those who had provided the programme. Especially to Mr. Edwards, who so kindly loaned the moving pictures. Several new members were admitted. The last picture on the screen was the likeness of His Majesty, King Edward. The audience heartily sang the National Anthem and dispersed.

An Intellectual Lecture On The Study of History

Given Last Night at Ladie's Literary Meeting by The Rev. Father Galvin

AN EXCELLENT PROGRAMME

A musical programme of an exceptionally brilliant character and a discourse of a decidedly intellectual nature was that presented to the large and enthusiastic audience at the regular meeting of the Ladies Literary Society of St. Peter's T. A. S. in the assembly hall last evening. Rev. Father Galvin's lecture on "The Study of History," was a masterly treatment of the subject and both on account of the pleasing manner of its delivery and its lucid presentation of facts proved to be an event of great interest to the members of the society.

After a few introductory remarks the reverend lecturer approached his subject by referring to the importance attached to the studying of that vast subject—history—which deals with events that have taken place in the course of the world's existence. History was next clearly shown to be a most interesting subject if pursued in a proper manner. Lack of interest, that is sometimes attached to this subject usually arises from faulty methods of study. History should be interesting on account of the natural desire one has for knowledge. In its study one meets with characters that have not their counterpart in the most interesting of novels. Where could be found more interesting lives than those of the saints and patriots of old, or of those grand characters who struggled so bravely for liberty. The history of the building up of nations as well as the history of our own race, should naturally be most interesting to us. No great poet ever developed the emotional side of man's nature more than the history of the trials and struggles of the people of Ireland. The advantages imparted by the study of history were shown to be many and varied. By its study we are enabled to become better members of society, to love and respect our church more deeply and more fervently, and to understand and appreciate much that otherwise would be unintelligible. Cicero has said, "To be ignorant of what has happened before one's birth is nothing less than to remain in a state of continual childhood."

The necessity for the study of this interesting subject, stated the lecturer, is most important, not only for great statemen who are called upon to defend their country but for those who desire to be valient defenders of their faith. By being conversant with the history of the church one can easily refute the many calumnies which are hurled against it. Many instances in which erroneous ideas of the church were spread abroad and which history shows to be positively false were then cited. Among those mentioned were the crusades, the reformation, the inquisition and the lack of prosperity in Catholic countries.

The best method by which this interesting subject may be studied in order to be a most interesting as well as a most profitable subject was then very clearly given. The lecturer stated that all students, in order to acquire a correct knowledge of the world's history which is simply a systematic record of its past events should first obtain by careful study a knowledge of the great human family, then the history of the world in Compendium, and lastly, the study of each country as an element of this one grand universe. The history of one country should not be studied by itself, but in connection with all the different countries which have any bearing on that country. Many examples were given to exemplify this fact.

In conclusion, Rev. Father Galvin exhorted the members of the Ladies' Literary Society to devote more time to the study of history, and also expressed the idea that essays written on the history of all the different countries of the world would be found to be not only profitable, but most instructive.

At the conclusion of the lecture a hearty vote of thanks which was moved by Miss Deannard, seconded by Miss McGrath, and unanimously sanctioned by all the members of the society, was tendered Rev. Father Galvin for his kindness in preparing such an excellent lecture for the benefit of the society.

Rev. Dr. O'Brien, the highly esteemed director of the society, also expressed his gratitude to Rev. Father Galvin and assured him that his kindness was highly appreciated by all the members of the society.

As a pleasing preliminary to this very able lecture an exceptionally bright musical programme was rendered in a brilliant manner and was received with merited applause.

The following was the musical programme, introduced by Miss L. L. Coleman, who occupied the chair for the evening:

Instrumental Solo—Miss B. Picard.

Chorus—Miss Doherty's pupils.

Vocal Solo—Miss N. Hallihan.

Instrumental Duet—Misses Doherty and Corcoran.

Recitation—Miss Olive Tangnay.

Instrumental Duet—Misses A. Sullivan and M. Leahy.

This interesting meeting was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

The next meeting of the society will be held on Friday evening, February 21, when an essay will be read by Miss Deannard.

Had Palpitation of The Heart

EVER SINCE SHE WAS NINE YEARS OLD,

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS EFFECTED A COMPLETE CURE.

If you find your health failing, your food apparently doing you no good, your heart beating irregularly—now slow, now fast—skipping a beat now and then, palpitations or throbbings on the slightest excitement or exertion, pain in the region of the heart, face pale, dizzy and faint spells, these all point to heart weakness, to nerve derangement, to a state of health consequent upon these, which, if not corrected and cured by Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, will surely end in utter prostration and hopeless invalidism.

From the depths many have been raised by this remarkable remedy, as its power is beyond all question most marvellous; but, why wait until you have gone so far? Taking these pills now will turn you from the perilous path of sickness and put you on the highway to health.

Miss Mary Wilson, Toronto, Ont., writes: "It is with the greatest of pleasure that I recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Ever since I was nine years of age I have been afflicted with palpitation of the heart, pain in my side and nervousness. As I grew older it kept increasing. After having tried numerous doctors medicines, but to no avail, I was induced to try your pills, and after using several boxes I began to improve, so kept on taking them for some time until now I can truthfully say I am in perfect health."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cts. per box or three for $1.25, at all dealers or The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Ontario Legislature Was Formally Opened Yesterday.

SPEECH FROM THE THRONE

Brilliant Scene in the Chamber—Important Legislation Outlined—Question of Prison Labor—Law Reform to Be Dealt With — Appropriation For Urban Schools—Three New Members Introduced.

Toronto, Feb. 6.—The Legislative machinery of the province was set in motion yesterday afternoon, when His Honor Sir William Mortimer Clark, the Lieutenant-Governor, formally opened the Legislative Assembly. The first day of the fourth and last session of the eleventh Parliament of Ontario did not materially differ from the first days of preceding sittings of the House. As in the past, the dignified ceremonial was observed by a large and fashionable gathering, and in the Legislative Chamber the gay dresses of the ladies and the uniforms of officers and consular representatives of other countries lent a dash of color to the scene.

The advent of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor at the Parliament Buildings was witnessed by a considerable crowd of persons, who found the higher temperature of about 16 degrees quite endurable, despite the high east wind which foretold the approach of snowstorms or even rain. Sir William Mortimer Clark arrived attended by a traveling escort of an officer and twelve troopers of the Royal Canadian Dragoons. He was greeted by the general salute from a guard of honor selected from the Tenth Royal Grenadiers and the discharge of fifteen guns, fired by "B" Battery of the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery. Attended by his military secretary, Major J. Fraser Macdonald, his aide-de-camp, Capt. Douglas Young, and the commanding officers of the garrison, his honorary aides, he was conducted by Hon. J. P. Whitney, the Prime Minister, to the Chamber. He proceeded to the throne, while the audience stood, and read his address to the members of the Assembly.

Speech From the Throne.

Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:

It affords me satisfaction to once more meet you as the representatives of the people in Parliament assembled.

Our thanks are due to Almighty God that while in some sections of the province the harvest was not as abundant as in the previous year, yet the general interest and activity of our people, displayed during the past year with reference to business and commercial undertakings, indicate continued prosperity. It is also a matter of satisfaction that our province has suffered comparatively little from the financial stringency which has been very marked in other countries during the past few months.

It will afford you gratification to know that the first payment of the additional subsidy from the Dominion, arranged for at the late interprovincial conference and payable under the act passed at the last session of the Imperial Parliament, has been received.

No disposition has yet been made by the Dominion Government of the territory extending northward to Hudson Bay and forming the hinterland of Ontario, but a decision is expected soon.

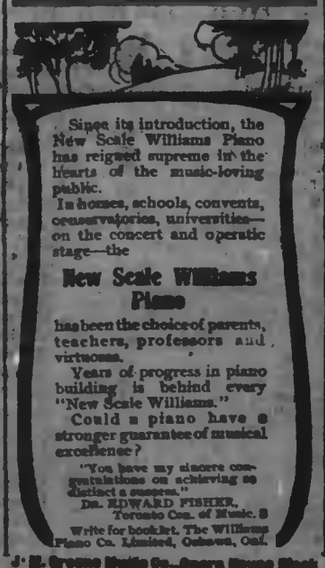
The work of the revision of the statutes has made such progress that several of the important acts will be laid before you for your approval.

The construction of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway has been nearly completed, the rails having been laid as far as a point two hundred and eight miles beyond North Bay, and about forty miles south of the probable junction with the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway; while the earnings have continued to be satisfactory, and largely in excess of the outlay incurred in operating the road.

Very fair progress has been made in the development of the mining industry at Cobalt and vicinity; and the investigation and working of the Gillies limit have been very satisfactory.

Emigration Problem.

The Minister of Agriculture paid a visit to Great Britain during the past summer for the purpose of investigating the conditions surrounding the emigration problem. While there, he was able to take steps for the careful supervision of intending immigrants to Ontario. By agreement the distribution of immigrants has been taken over by the Dominion Government, thus making it possible for the Provincial Government to devote more attention to the careful selection of desirable settlers.



Since its introduction, the New Scale Williams Piano has reigned supreme in the hearts of the music-loving public.

In homes, schools, convents, conservatories, universities—on the concert and operatic stage—the

New Scale Williams Piano

has been the choice of parents, teachers, professors and virtuosos.

Years of progress in piano building is behind every "New Scale Williams."

Could a piano have a stronger guarantee of musical excellence?

"You have my sincere congratulations on achieving so distinct a success."

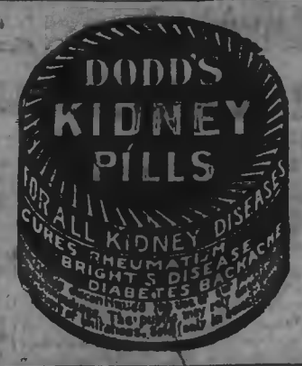
J. H. Greene Music Co., Opera House Block



sion farm has been established at Driftwood River, north of the height of land, in a good agricultural country. By experiments in crop-raising conducted there, much practical information will be gained for the use of intending settlers.

Important documents and reports relating to the distribution of electric power under the statute will be laid before you.

At the request of my Ministers, the Hon. Mr. Willoughby, Dr. Clark, superintendent of the Asylum for the Insane, Toronto, and Dr. Ryan, superintendent of the Asylum for the Insane at Kingston, proceeded during the recess to Great Britain and the continent in order to investigate modern methods of caring for and treating the insane. Their very interesting report will be laid before you.

In accordance with my reference to the subject last year, my Ministers have considered the question of prison labor, with a view to preventing competition with free labor, and the Provincial Secretary and other gentlemen proceeded to several of the prisons in the United States, in order to observe the systems in operation there. The result of their visit will be laid before you, together with interesting and valuable information obtained by them.

My Ministers will propose for your consideration, a scheme of law reform, with a view to decreasing appeals, expediting trials and lessening the cost of litigation.

A bill to rearrange the constituencies of the province, in order, as far as possible, to equalize representation, will be laid before you.

The large increases in the appropriations for the teachers' salaries, additional Normal schools, and various other educational purposes, have received the commendation of the public, and you will be asked now to consider increased appropriation for urban schools. The policy of throwing open the publication of text books to public competition has led to considerable reductions in the prices of school reading books, and it is confidently hoped that reductions in the prices of other books will result from an extension of this policy.

Bills will be laid before you in amendment of various enactments of a public nature, now on the statute book, including the Mining Laws, the Liquor License Act, the act creating the Railway and Municipal Board, the Public Lands Act, the Free Grants Act, the Supplementary Revenue Act.

Owing to the steady increase of settlement, it has been found necessary to create the new judicial district of Rainy River.

Provincial Rights.

A conference has been held with the Dominion Government with a view to adjusting the differences which have arisen relating to the respective jurisdictions of the Dominion and the province on the subject of railway and other companies, and it is to be hoped that a satisfactory solution will be found.

You will be glad to learn that the revenues of the province are largely in excess of the estimates and more than sufficient to meet the public expenditure during the year.

The public accounts will be laid before you for your consideration at the earliest moment, and the estimates for the coming year will also be submitted for your approval at an early date.

Down to Business.

At 3.15 the Lieutenant-Governor's party left the House by the Speaker's entrance, and eight minutes later the Speaker took his seat, the mace was laid on the table, and prayers were said, Dr. Chisman standing up during the ceremony.

The result of the new writs for the west riding of York, and the electoral districts of Dufferin and Brockville having been officially announced, the three new members were escorted in, Premier Whitney and J. S. Callagher of Frontenac leading up Albert Edward Donovan, the hero of Brockville; Hon. J. J. Foy and J. S. Duff, West Simcoe, supporting Charles Robert McKeown of Dufferin, and Hon. Dr. Pyne and Alexander McCowan, East York, introducing Dr. Forbes Godfrey of West York.

Premier Whitney moved, that the speech be taken into consideration today, and this was carried. Messrs. McKeown and Donovan will orate on this occasion, and it is expected that the debate will be closed this afternoon after the House has heard from Messrs. Whitney and McKay.

A motion to enable the appointment of the usual select standing committees having been adopted, the House was adjourned at 3.25.

Subsequently the ladies adjourned to the Speaker's apartments, where a reception was held.

The House will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

TROOPS ARE BEGINNING TO MOVE

Turkish Infantry Concentrating in the Caucasus.

HOSTILITIES ARE FEARED

Inhabitants Near Frontier Are Alarmed—Sultan's Spies Are Busy—Troops Could Seize the District—Precautionary Measures Taken — Moslems Are Being Stirred Up to Fanaticism and Disorder.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 6.—Recent advices received from the Caucasus indicate that the Russian inhabitants are considerably alarmed over the concentration of Turkish troops in Armenia and the region seized from Persia, which, it is believed, is designed as a reply to any attempt at demonstration on the part of Russia.

Under the cover of Kurdish tribesman, the Turks are reported as massing infantry at Bayazid and other strategic points near the frontier in such strength as to dispose of the probabilities that the movement is intended solely against non-militant Persia.

Russia now only has two army corps in the Caucasus, a large part of which is dispersed in detachments through the country to preserve order or engaged in punitive expeditions. An officer is quoted as saying that the Turks could, in case of trouble, sweep the Caucasus and occupy Tiflis in ten days.

Turkish emissaries and spies, it is stated, are to be found everywhere, fomenting disorder, and the Moslem inhabitants, particularly Daghestan, are in open sympathy with their co-religionists across the border.

The authorities here, although admitting the seriousness of the Turko-Persian relations, do not share the alarmist views held in the Caucasus, and declare that the possibility of hostilities with Turkey, over which Russians there are panicky, is utterly excluded. Certain precautionary measures, however, are being taken by the military council, and during the past three weeks all regiments in that territory have been notified to hold themselves in readiness to move at short notice.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 6.—Deputy Syrtlanoff, counsel for Lieut.-Gen Stoessel, pleaded yesterday before the court-martial that is trying the general on the charge of having surrendered Port Arthur to the Japanese for the full acquittal of his client. The speech was in reply to the summing up of Judge Advocate General Gursky for the prosecution Tuesday.

Counsel for Stoessel laid emphasis on Russia's general unpreparedness for war, and said that Port Arthur under Gen. Stoessel resisted heroically, repulsed all the attacks made by the Japanese, and surrendered only when it was as good as taken. M. Syrtanoff closed his address with the following words: "Gen. Stoessel is an old and invalid soldier and he faces his judges to-day asking only for justice."

Parlor Car Burned.

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—The parlor car on the G. T. train leaving Ottawa at 4.45 yesterday afternoon was practically destroyed by fire between Vaudreuil and Montreal. An explosion of gas is supposed to have started it. The passengers beat a hasty retreat into the forward cars, and west of Dorval the car was cut out.

The crew shoveled in snow in an attempt to put out the fire, but in vain, and the peculiar accident will cost the company some $30,000.

The cook lost everything, including his money, while the conductor, in walking to Dorval station, was badly frost bitten.

THROW AWAY LINIMENTS

Here's the Prescription to Cure Rheumatism.

Liniments only reach the skin and the muscles directly under the skin. Now, liniments can't cure Rheumatism. They simply deaden the nerves for a time. When the effect wears away, the pain returns worse than ever.

If the bowels do not move regularly—if the kidneys are strained or weak—if the skin is dry or harsh—the blood is sure to be filled with impurities or urea. This urea is changed into uric acid which is the poison that causes rheumatism.

Now, the only possible way to cure Rheumatism is to prevent uric acid from being formed. Logically, the only way to do this is to keep kidneys, bowels and skin in good working order, and prevent the stomach from being too acid. And the only way to do this is to take "Fruit-a-tives."

These marvelous tablets of fruit juices and tonics act directly on the three great eliminating organs—bowels, kidneys and skin—and put them in perfect condition. That is the only secret of their great success in curing rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago.

Mr. B. A. Lastar of Peterboro' Was a Passenger on the St. Paul

PASSENGERS WERE INJURED

Mr. Louis Mendal has received a letter from his brother-in-law, Mr. B. A. Lastar, who sailed for England on the American liner St. Paul, in which a graphic description is given of the terrific experiences of the passengers on board that steamer. The scenes, according to Mr. Lastar beggared description, the vessel encountering tremendous seas, so that at times the passengers were certain that the steamer was about to turn turtle. The London Mail has the following to say of the trip:

To-night, when the American liner St. Paul arrived at Plymouth to land passengers and mails, Captain F. M. Passow reported one of the roughest passages he had ever experienced. Very high seas, violent snow squalls, and incessant gales made the voyage one of the most miserable recorded.

The second day out heavy beam seas broke repeatedly over the vessel, flooding the decks knee deep, the ship rolling at a dangerous angle. All the passengers were kept below, and had a terrifying experience.

As the vessel pitched and rolled they were flung shrieking in all directions, many being injured, five seriously. These include Mrs. Frank Wright, Miss W. Manfredi, and Mr. Harry Brinton, first-class passengers; Charles Dilley and J. Clegg, second class. One had his ribsb roken and another is suffering from a dangerous scalp wound.

THE BUTCHERS HAVE COMPLAINT

Say They Will Ask Council For Protection Against Farmers

THEY WANT A LICENSE

The wholesale butchers of the city are not satisfied with the present opposition of the farmers, who bring in large sleighloads of meat and dispose of it at whatever price suits them. There is a movement among local wholesalers to petition the Council asking for a license to carry on the wholesale butcher business. A license of fifty dollars would, it is believed, stop the farmers from bringing in meat and this is what the wholesale butchers are anxious to discourage. To accomplish this they believe the Council will stand by them, and will ask for protection. Whether they will be supported or not cannot be said, but it is safe to say that many farmers will not approve of the idea.

RAILWAY WORKING WITH DIFFICULTY

The railway systems were badly disorganized to-day. The trains were all running but they were without exception, late. The noon C. P. R. train was reported three hours late and the morning G. T. R. train did not pass through the city until noon. The 11.45 a. m., G. T. R. was reported three or four hours late.

The line to Lakefield was opened to-day and communication with the northern village was completed. The C. P. R. from Burketon to Lindsay is also reported blockaded and a coach of Lindsay people were brought to Peterborough, where they were to transhipp.

KEENE GUN CLUB ON THE LOOK OUT

For Those Violating the Game Laws Respecting Rabbits

The Keene Gun Club is on the keen hunt after illicit hunting of forbidden game. The members complain of hunters invading thickets to the north west of that village and shooting rabbits out of season. The law in this respect, quoted from the Ontario Game and Fisheries Act, reads: "No person may hunt, take, kill or destroy hares, except from the first day of October to the thirty-first day of December in any year, both days inclusive." A rider adds that any person who has a license or permit to shoot rabbit, from the owners of the property, may do so.

There are 100 doses in a bottle, and as one lady says, "Every tablet is worth more than a diamond of the same size." A few doses will take away all aches and pains, and a cure generally follows before one bottle is used.

There Might Be a Shortage in a Particular Size, However

Editor Examiner.

Dear Sir,—In last evening's Examiner appears an article predicting a coal famine in the city as a result of the railway blockades. This information may have been given without a true knowledge of the conditions, as while there may be a shortage in one particular size, a sufficient stock of coal is held by the different dealers in the city to meet the requirements for some time to come.

DON'T SUFFER ALL THE WINTER

Read This Evidence and Begin To-day to Cure Yourself With Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Sciatica is neuralgia of the sciatic nerve. Its origin is generally rheumatism and is the direct result of taking cold. For this reason the disease is commonly known as "sciatic rheumatism."

There is only one thing more painful than sciatica and that is the treatment of it, as practiced. The sickening burning of the flesh is only one of the forms of cruelty employed by the old school doctors, and all too often this is entirely vain for the relief gained is but temporary.

It is a scientific fact that the majority of sciatica cases result from exposure to cold when the patient is in an anaemic or bloodless condition, in which the nerve is literally starved. It needs no argument to show any reasonable person that a starved nerve cannot be fed by the application of a hot iron to the outer flesh. It may deaden the sciatic pain for a time but it will not cure sciatica.

Absolute rest is the best aid to proper medical treatment. Rest and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which actually make new blood and thus feed the starved nerve, will cure most cases.

Mr. H W Awalt is one of the leading merchants of Hemford, N.S. A few years ago he was a great sufferer from this excruciating trouble. He says:—"The attack was so severe that I had been off work for some time. The cords of my legs were all drawn up and I could only limp along with the aid of a stick. The pain I suffered was terrible. I was in misery both day and night. Every movement caused me such pain as only those who have been tortured with sciatica know. I was treated by several doctors, but they did not help me a bit. In fact I almost began to think my condition was hopeless, when Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were brought to my notice. I got a half dozen boxes. I had used the entire quantity before I found any benefit. But I was encouraged and got a second half dozen boxes, and before these were all gone every vestige of the trouble had disappeared. Not only this, but I was improved in health in every way, as it will be readily understood that the long siege of pain I had suffered had left me badly run down. I can't speak too highly of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I can't recommend them too strongly to other sufferers."

Sciatica is stubborn in resisting treatment and the patient often suffers for years. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do not simply relieve the pain. They cure the disease caused by poor watery blood. They actually make new blood and have therefore a direct and powerful curative effect on such diseases as rheumatism, anaemia, general debility and after effects of the grip. As the nerves depend upon the blood for nourishment, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are unequalled for the treatment of even the most severe nervous disorders, such as neuralgia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance and locomotor ataxia. As a tonic for the blood and nerves they are used everywhere with the greatest success, building up wasted bodies and bringing the glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FARM IN SMITH SOLD FOR $13,500

Mr. Robert Graham Buys Mr. John Hall's Farm of 150 Acres

HE RETURNS TO THE FARM

An important sale of land that has recently been made in Smith is the farm of Mr. John Hall, which has been purchased by Mr. Robert Graham. The farm is on the fourth line of Smith and comprises 150 acres. The money involved in the transaction is reported to have been $13,500. The land is considered to be as good as any in the county and the house, barns and sheds are in excellent condition and are all modern buildings.

Mr. Graham has been living in Peterborough during the past three years, having retired from farm life. Previous to his retirement he was farming on his land on the second line of Smith. Apparently Mr. Graham was not satisfied with city life and it is known that of late he has been endeavouring to secure a good farm. That he has been successful is admitted by all his friends, who consider that he has made an excellent purchase.

Mr. Graham is one of Peterborough county's best farmers. He has made a success of his business and has employed the most improved methods and is looked upon as thoroughly progressive, and in going back to his chosen occupation should continue to succeed.

THE OFFICERS WERE INSTALLED

Interesting Service at St. Paul's Church Yesterday Morning

MANY WORKERS PRESENT

The installation service of teachers officers and workers of St. Paul's yesterday morning was attended by a large congregation and was an impressive and effective ceremony. The teachers and officers occupied the front pews of the church and during the service repeated a covenant promising to be faithful to the extent of their ability, to all known duties devolving upon them as workers in the Sunday school, to be punctual in attendance and diligent in their lesson study. The parents also took a similar covenant to be faithful to all the interests of the Sunday school and to co-operate with the officers and teachers by attending the school when possible with their children.

Rev. Mr. Pogue preached an eloquent and forcible sermon on the subject of "Personal Work by Parents and Teachers."

A responsive service between the pastor, superintendent and teachers was held before the sermon and special music was rendered.

Following were the officers installed:—

Narrow Escape From Long Ride On Top Of C.P.R. Coach

Mr. Nelson King Was Refilling the Reservoir When Express Started Friday Night—Ride Would Likely Have Been Fatal

THE TRAIN WAS STOPPED

On Friday evening one of the C.P.R. yard men had what is believed by all his friends, a narrow escape from an experience which would undoubtedly have proved fatal. When the first express arrived in Peterborough at six o'clock after the drift at Burketon was cleared away and the line finally opened the reservoirs in the coaches had to be refilled as all the water had been used while the train was stalled. Some of the extra men and sectionmen were detailed to fill the reservoirs with fresh water. This had to be done from the outside of the cars the men having to climb onto the top by means of ladders.

The train started away before the work was completed and Mr. Nelson King, one of the men, was on top of a coach. The train being drawn by two of the large type engines was rapidly getting up speed. Mr. Fred Sanderson was among the number of people on the platform who saw Mr. King's danger and quickly jumped between two coaches and pulled the signal rope. The train came to a standstill just east of George street and Mr. King returned to terra firma.

Had his position not been noticed and the train left the station it is believed that he would not have been alive when Havelock was reached as no stops were made at the intermediate stations.

Street Car Employees Prevent Fatal Accident

Woman Saved From Being Crushed Beneath The Wheels—Cutter Backed In Front of Car

NARROW ROAD THE CAUSE

Through the presence of mind and alertness of Conductor Harry Bradburn and the quick work of Motorman Louis Legrandre a woman was saved from death on Saturday evening at 4.30 from the wheels of one of the George street street cars. The woman accompanied by her husband was driving north in a cutter and just above the G.T.R. track at Auburn, a car came up behind them. The roadway being narrow, the driver crowded the horse against the snowbank to allow it to pass. Unfortunately one of the reins broke and the other pulled the horse around so that the cutter was backed unto the track squarely in front of the approaching car.

The latter struck the back of the cutter and knocked both the occupants upon the road. The sloping character of the road caused the woman to roll downwards towards the car and had it not been for Mr. Bradburn's quick work she would have been crushed beneath the wheels. He happened at the time to be in the front vestibule of the car and from the step reached down and seized her clothing. At the same time Mr. Legrandre rapidly brought the car to a standstill and prevented possibly a fatal accident.

The driver was in a somewhat dazed condition after the accident, having hurt his head in the upset but his wife escaped uninjured. The back of the cutter was badly smashed by being struck with the front of the car but otherwise the damage to it was slight.

Midnight Fire Destroys An Otonabee Residence

Mr. Robert Carey Sustains Midwinter Loss of $3,000—Driving Shed and Farm Implements Burned

OCCUPANT'S TIMELY ESCAPE

A disastrous midnight fire, occurring between twelve and one o'clock on Sunday morning, caused a loss of $3,000 to Mr. Robert Carey, an Otonabee farmer, residing near Drummond station by completely destroying his frame house and driving and implement shed. The fire is supposed to have been started from the chimney, although this is not exactly known.

Mr. Carey was in the house alone at the time, his sister, who resides with him being in Peterborough. The reflection on the wall of his room caused him to awake just in time to escape safely from the burning house.

There was practically nothing saved, both the house and contents being burned. An adjoining driving-shed, containing farming implements and a large quantity of wood, also fell victims to the flames. The barns and stables were saved. The loss is estimated at $3,000, which is partly covered by insurance.

A BLAZE ON HOMEWOOD AVENUE

Mr. Walter Stocker's House Was Scorched Yesterday Morning

The fire brigade were given a Sunday call yesterday morning to the residence of Mr. Walter Stocker, Homewood avenue, where a fire, which originated in the walls of the kitchen, did considerable damage. The brigade responded quickly to the call and succeeded in confining the blaze to the rear of the building, where the kitchen and the bed room above it and a portion of the attic were damaged to some extent by fire and water. The fire made its way up the wall of the building to the roof, but was kept from spreading further by the efforts of the brigade. The damage will amount to about $300.

The family were just sitting down to breakfast when they were startled at seeing smoke issue from a partition, whereupon an alarm was sent in. According to one of the members of the fire brigade the fire started from the chimney of the kitchen.

BACKBONE OF THE COUNTRY

Young, the poetic pessimist and bard of gloom, sang—"How blessings brighten as they take their flight." On the same principle we do not appreciate to the full the advantages we possess till we are temporarily deprived of them. We did not value our railways as we might have done till a snow blockade showed us how indispensable they were to our convenience, comfortable living and business operations. We did not appreciate what a tremendous advantage it is to Peterborough to be the centre of a splendid agricultural region, to be surrounded by one of the most thriving communities of farmers in Canada. To-day a prominent merchant spoke of the fact, pointing out as proof that last week even with the snow blockade operating only the latter half, the business of our merchants amounted to less than a third of what it was when the country roads were passable. On one or two days, in fact, no business whatever was done, that is note worth speaking of. Peterborough and other cities similarly situated, speak with some degree of pride of the great benefits conferred by the presence of numerous industries. Yet, indispensable as these seem to be to the prosperity of the city, they do not, from the merchants' point of view, appear to have the importance to be attached to a surrounding area of good farms. In this respect, Peterborough is highly favoured, how highly, a snow blockade sadly teaches us. This goes to show how greatly the prosperity of a country depends upon the farm, and the truth of the saying that the farm is the backbone of the country.

TALK AS A SAFEGUARD

People are disposed sometimes to think that Parliament might be a fine place were it not for the amount of talk that goes on there. Talk, however, has its uses. The Montreal Herald says, even if abuse is sometimes made of it. In this case of the attack by Mr. Ames upon the conduct of a small branch of the Interior Department, for example, a lot of talk has done a lot of good. As Mr. Ames left his story the public were entitled to believe that Mr. Sifton was a very wicked man, that he had invented a diabolical plan for benefitting his friends to the exclusion of all others, that he had made regulations designed to meet this end, and that he then had allowed the regulations so made to be violated in the spirit while adhered to in the letter. That looked bad. But by the time the whole subject had been thoroughly talked over there was nothing left of it. The regulations were shown to be the very regulations that were made in 1889, at the instance of the Conservative Government, and with the concurrence of the then Opposition. The method of proceeding with sales was shown to be absolutely identical with that which had been practised before the Liberals came in. The length of notice compared favourably with that given before, and was, indeed, fixed in absolutely the same way. The tenders were called for in the same way, the business was left in charge of the same officer, the prices obtained were rather better. Mr. Burrows, a lumberman and Liberal M.P., obtained his timber lands by following exactly the same method that was followed by Mr. Perley, a lumberman and Conservative M.P., when he got his. The practice of the department was shown to be the same in all particulars from 1889 right down to 1907.

We leave it to any fair-minded reader if that could possibly have been inferred from a reading of the speech in which Mr. Ames began his attack upon the Government. Talk, just talk, prevented the public from being effectually deceived.

EDITORIAL NOTES

There is an outbreak of foot and mouth-disease among the cattle of Scotland. To guard England and Ireland from this pestilence being communicated to the cattle of these countries, the importation of cattle from Canada, where, by the way, no such disease exists, is to be still prohibited. John Bull is a dull-headed old gentleman, from whose hard old noddle, it seems impossible to dislodge an idea no matter how wrong it is.

Kidney Disease for Twenty Years

Mrs. Caswell Reid, Orrville, Muskoka, writes: "For twenty years I was troubled with kidney disease, and have recently been completely cured by using three boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I had tried a number of remedies but nothing appeared to do me much good until I used this splendid medicine."

THE SUPPLY OF SEED GRAIN

Government Will Only Pay For Administering Scheme.

GRAIN MUST BE PAID FOR

Mr. Castle of Winnipeg to Make Purchase—Mr. Staples Wants Manitoba Included—Working of the Fruits Marks Act — Hillsboro Bridge Arbitration—More Opposition Insinuations—Was Defeated.

Ottawa, Feb. 8.—The resolution to provide for the purchase of seed grain for distribution among the farmers of Alberta and Saskatchewan and the bill in this connection were passed unanimously by the House yesterday afternoon.

Both sides having agreed to vote, and as it was their wish to adjourn at 6 o'clock, it was decided to defer discussion on the regulations contained in the order-in-council till Tuesday, when the fullest opportunity will be afforded members to suggest changes, though the Ministry were careful not to commit themselves to amending the regulations.

The bill calls for an expenditure of $2,850,000, of which $585,000 is for purchase of seed grain for homestead settlers in two provinces, cost to be repaid by settlers, with interest at 5 per cent., by March 31, 1909; $440,000 as an advance to Alberta for the purchase of seed grain for settlers, and $1,825,000 as an advance to Saskatchewan for the same purpose.

Wanted Manitoba Included.

Mr. Staples (Con., Marquette) thought Manitoba should be included, and Mr. Burrows, from the other side agreed with him.

Mr. Fielding said it was important that the vote be made without delay, as it was a matter of utmost urgency. Then the House could take time to consider the regulations.

Some of the Manitoba members insisted that their province be included. Mr. Oliver stated that no representations had been made by the Government. However, the Government was prepared to deal with Manitoba if the same conditions existed in that province.

Mr. Blain Sarcastic.

Mr. Blain asked what about Ontario. Some farmers in the province were in need of assistance.

Mr. Martin (Queen's, P.E.I.) protested against rushing the vote through and Mr. Foster said that the Government was open to censure for delaying the bill. He was willing to extend a little grace and allow the vote to go through, as the matter was urgent.

After protests from several members who did not vote for the principle without being fully informed on the regulations, Mr. Fielding said that the Government would consider any suggestion the Opposition might make when the regulations were taken up on Tuesday.

Mr. Oliver said the regulations were made with the co-operation of the Provincial Governments and any change would have to be with their consent.

On motion to go into supply, Dr. Reid raised the question of the cost of Hillsboro, P. E. I., bridge. The original estimate was $758,000. The cost to date has been $1,363,000, while accounts outstanding amount to not over $398,000. The claim of the contractor, Haney, for $300,000, was referred to Collingwood Schreiber, who made the original estimate, and Dr. Reid feared he had been appointed to cover up a bad bungle.

In Prince Edward Island there was a strong suspicion that the Government had paid a great deal more than it should. The dispute should have been referred to the Exchequer Court.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier complained that Dr. Reid had given no notice of his intention to bring the matter before the House, but he would bring down the papers. It was exceeding bad taste for Dr. Reid to cast reflections on Mr. Schreiber, who, no doubt, had made mistakes, but whose integrity no one had any right to challenge.

Mr. Emmerson said the engineer who made the estimate was W. B. MacKenzie, chief engineer of the I.C.R. Moreover, the plans were materially altered.

Mr. Martin (Queen's, P.E.I.) said extras were incurred after the bridge was completed. The superstructure was an old bridge, and the whole structure had cost twice as much as estimated. In addition, the railway connected with the bridge, which was estimated to cost $12,000 a mile. Really it cost $31,000 a mile. Mr. Martin believed there had been a rake-off for somebody of three quarters of a million dollars on the bridge, and an equal amount on the railway.

Mr. Hughes (Prince Edward Island) denied that the railway cost $31,000 a mile. It was about $16,500 a mile.

Mr. Haney Head and Front.

Mr. Bennett (Simcoe) said Mr. Haney was head and front of the Liberal organization in Toronto. While he had every respect for Mr. Schreiber, he thought that gentleman should not be put in that position. He had also heard that a close relationship extended betwen Mr. Haney and Mr. Butler, chief engineer of the railway department.

Mr. Graham said he was debarred by illness from making a statement of the case. He had been instructed that Mr. Haney was not related to Mr. Butler. Mr. Haggart objected to officers of the Government sitting in review upon their own work.

False Fruit Marking.

Mr. Blain (Peel) drew attention of the Minister of Agriculture to a cable from England, declaring that Canadian apples sold in England had been wrongly marked, and, in consequence, sold at a lower price than quality warranted. There had been many complaints of this, said Mr. Blain.

Dr. Sproule read letters complaining that an inspector under the Fruit Marking Act in Nova Scotia had been mixing in municipal politics.

The doctor thought officials should not be permitted to enter the political arena to assume in the matter, Austria's defection over Macedonia railroad construction and the failure to establish stable order in Persia, but the anticipated retirement of the Minister is attributed here more to the inferior situation than to international influences.

per affairs if their duties were liable to be prejudiced. Regarding wrong marking of fruit packages, the Minister said the department had over forty proceedings under way.

Mr. Lalor referred to a couple of Haldimand Liberals who also shipped No. 3 apples stamped No. 1, and, when remonstrated about it, he said: "We got a pointer. We can do anything we want to this year."

"Where did they get it?" asked Mr. Fisher. Mr. Lalor could not say, but he went on that inspection was loose.

Mr. Owen (Conservative, Northumberland) said he had been informed that the inspection of apples in Western Ontario was not nearly so rigid as in the east.

Mr. Lalor suggested that there should be an inspector at each point of export.

Mr. Marshall (Conservative, Elgin), gave the Minister credit for an efficient inspection of the canning factories, which he believed would lead to an improvement of the product.

Entry of High Grade Stock.

A discussion then ensued on regulations regarding the entry of Canadian pure-bred stock into the United States.

Mr. Henderson (Halton) brought the matter up. United States pure-bred stock was allowed free entry into Canada, while a special duty of $100 was imposed on Canadian stock by the United States.

The Minister said regulations were unfair, but the duty was imposed at the request of the Live Stock Association, which were close corporations. He did not expect any relief.

At 3.15 yesterday morning the House of Commons divided on Mr. Lake's amendment to the motion to go into supply, which was defeated by a vote of 111 to 55.

The amendment asked for a committee to investigate into the alleged timber sale scandals and was debated three days.

On the Government side the policy and methods of carrying it out were defended by several speakers.

Jap Question In Senate.

Ottawa, Feb. 8.—The Senate yesterday discussed the Japanese treaty. Senator Macdonald of British Columbia declared a happy solution of the question had been reached, and it should not be stirred up again.

MONTREAL WOMAN'S SUICIDE.

Hanged Herself In Harlem Boarding House—No Clue to Identity.

New York, Feb. 8.—Without leaving a clue to her identity or the cause that impelled her to take her life, a young woman, evidently a Canadian, who had recently arrived from Montreal, was found dead yesterday hanging by the neck from a bedpost in a room which she had engaged at a Harlem boarding house.

The suicide was well dressed and about 25 years of age. She had used a piece of clothes line to strangle herself. In a pocketbook was found a sales slip made out to a Miss Hebert from the store of the S. Carslay Company, Limited, dated Dec. 30, and a transfer of the Montreal Street Railway, dated Feb. 4. The names on the sales check appeared to be those of two French salesmen.

Alderman Unseated.

Brantford, Feb. 8.—The outcome of the ward one election case before Judge Hardy yesterday, was the unseating of Ald. James Wright, who was found ineligible to hold the seat because, as a contractor, he had an uncompleted contract with the city for the erection of the east ward fire hall at the time of the election, thus disqualifying him under the Act. Wright's counsel objected. Walter R. Turnbull, next highest candidate at election taking his seat on the ground that irregularities were alleged in Turnbull's election contest.

Turnbull announced that as he has not secured a majority he would not take the seat, in face of the protest. Hence Judge Hardy, on agreement of both parties, ordered a new election for one vacancy. Wright's contract is still incomplete, and it is doubtful whether he will be eligible to seek re-election.

Firemen Frozen In Ruins.

New York, Feb. 8.—Wreckers searching through the ruins of the burned building at No. 45 Worth street found the body of Fireman Frank Eglinton: To all appearances Eglinton had fallen from the upper floor with the pile of wreckage, had been stunned by the fall and froze to death while unconscious.

The body of Fireman McConnell was discovered in the debris under the ceiling of the ground floor. The body had been crushed and burned.

Both of the men killed were doing their first active work after being taken back from bureau detail.

"Black Hand" Leader Jailed.

New York, Feb. 8.—In the arrest yesterday of Pellegrino Mule, a big, gaunt Sicilian who is alleged to be under sentence of life imprisonment in Italy for murder, the police believe they have the leader of one of the most desperate black hand gangs in the country. The specific charge upon which Mule was arrested was that of having exploded a bomb in a big tenement house in First avenue last December, when 20 children were hurt.

Lost Two Days In Snow.

Montreal, Feb. 8.—Rodolphe Robidoux, a game warden of St. Jovite, and his wife, have been brought to this city in a badly frozen condition. They got lost in a storm on Tuesday while going to a neighbor's, and were buried in the snow until Thursday when found. Mrs. Robidoux is so badly frozen that she will likely die, but her husband, who is 76 years old, may survive.

King Carlos Died Poor.

EMPIRE MUST BE SECURE.

Sir Edward Grey on the Risk of an Invasion.

London, Feb. 8.—In connection with the recent reports of a serious difference among the Government's supporters in Parliament on the question of reducing naval expenditures, much importance is attached to a strong speech which Sir Edward Grey, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, made in the House of Commons last night, in reply to a suggestion from the Unionist side that it was to Great Britain's interest, as the greatest sea carrier in the world, that private property at sea should be immune from capture and that it was England's refusal to assent to the principle of immunity which hindered the disarmament proposal at the Hague Conference.

Sir Edward said that the Government could not consistently and with safety to the country take the risk proposed.

"The British Empire," he said, "is a tremendous obligation, but it might if we were weak, become a tremendous temptation. At the present time we have the good will of the world, but supposing the policy of immunity had been adopted and supposing that our navy should lose command of the sea; it would mean not only defeat but conquest.

In solemn tones, Sir Edward concluded his speech by pointing out the possibility of invasion, urging the nation to beware of acting in such a manner as to increase the risks of war and prolonging it indefinitely at a minimum risk to other powers.

ICE SHOVE CAUSES FLOOD.

Mills Obliged to Close, and Cornwall Is In Darkness.

Cornwall, Feb. 8.—The water in the St. Lawrence has been stationery for the past two days, but at a few minutes before noon yesterday the ice gave away, and there was a shove, which smashed the upper gate at lock No. 17.

The dry dock was flooded, and the water rushed in a torrent. The bridge near the Canada mill was soon under water and the mill had to close down. At the Stormont mill the water went up about 9 feet in less than an hour. The employes had left for dinner before the shove occurred, and when they returned they found the mill shut down. The water was four feet deep on the floor of the finishing room and half way up the doors of the boilers. The water backed up in the Government sewer and the gas house was flooded, shutting off the town's supply. Several cellars in the front of the town were flooded and considerable damage was done.

The bay above the narrow passage in the river at the east end of the town is a solid field of ice, the enormous blocks being piled so high that they can be seen from the town above the canal banks. The water in the river seems to be almost as high as in the reach of the canal opposite the town, but there is no sign of it receding at present.

The street cars are tied up again, their power being cut off by the flood.

TURKEY IS "CHEEKY."

Takes Advantage of Russia Because She Is Crippled.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 8.—The reports of a Turkish mobilization in Armenia and threatened movements of troops on the Russian-Persian frontier, are admitted by the general staff. It is not known yet whether this action on the part of Turkey is directed against Russia, and measures so far taken by this country are confined to certain precautionary dispositions of units within the Caucasus.

Foreign diplomats here believe that Russia and Turkey are engaged in a game which neither is desirous of carrying to an extreme, although Turkey might be willing to go far, relying upon the supposed weakness of Russia, because of her quarrel with Austria over the Macedonian question. The prestige of M. Iswolsky, the Foreign Minister, has suffered severely on account of the defensive attitude that Russia has been compell-

France Calls Them Madmen.

Madrid, Feb. 8.—Senor Franco does not believe that the murders of the King and crown prince resulted from an elaborate political plot; they were the acts of madmen instigated by a money bribe. The best proof of this is found in the fact that after the assassinations when the monarchy was passing through its critical hours, and the nation was without a Government, no serious attempt was made to proclaim a republic.

The ex-Premier will leave his son at a German university, and will probably reside in Switzerland.

Explosions Kill Two.

Kenora, Feb. 8.—Two distressing dynamite accidents occurred at Campbell's Camp at Kalmar. The foreman, James McHale, while attempting to explode a hole previously loaded, was killed. A second explosion caused the death of William Campbell of Winnipeg, and seriously injured Matin Affick, an American, and Alphonse Scherk, a Swede. The men mistook their instructions, going to the wrong hole.

Stead Will Cut Whiskers.

London, Feb. 01.—When it was noticed that Oliver Cromwell was to be excluded from the list of characters to figure in London's historical pageant, W. T. Stead protested vigorously to the committee in charge that this would be to boycott "The Greatest Man in English History."

The committee replied that it would include Cromwell if Mr. Stead would appear in the part. Stead gladly and proudly consented, although it will involve the sacrifice of an ample beard, which never yet has known the razor. It was not even trimmed till Stead was past forty. But Stead declares he would have shaved his head, if necessary.

Busy Stork Ties Up Paper.

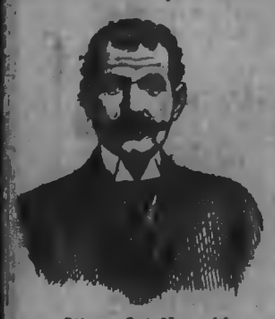
Winsted, Conn., Feb. 10.—The New Hartford Tribune, a weekly newspaper, came out two days late this week because a dual performance by the stork made the getting out of the paper on schedule time next to impossible.

On Monday the wife of the editor, H. Roger Jones, a graduate of the Yale Law School, presented him with a boy, and on the same day the foreman, Lawrence H. Hotchkiss, was presented with a daughter by Mrs. Hotchkiss. Both became papas for the first time, and little was accomplished on the newspaper Monday and Tuesday.

MORE RHEUMATISM

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" CURED HIM

Christopher D. Graham is a well known citizen of Ottawa—formerly in the City Hall and largely instrumental in forming the Ottawa Hunt Club. Mr. Graham's voluntary testimonial as to the great benefit he received from taking "Fruit-a-tives" will carry conviction.



Ottawa, Ont. Nov. 26th, 1907.

Dear Sirs:—

I have been a sufferer from Rheumatism for a long time — pains in my shoulder and joints practically all the time. I tried various treatments without benefit and then I was recommended by a friend to try "Fruit-a-tives." I took several boxes of the tablets and now, after a long time, I have been entirely free from all rheumatism and rheumatic pains.

I wish to state, also, that I suffered from haemorrhoids, or piles, for years, and used all kinds of ointments and liniment and nothing did me any good, but after taking "Fruit-a-tives" for my rheumatism I am entirely cured of these dreadful piles. (Signed) C. D. GRAHAM.

NEW ACT GOVERNING ELECTIONS

Hon. Mr. Foy Places Measure Before Ontario House.

TO PREVENT CORRUPTION

Indians Get Franchise—Hiring Vehicle to Take Voters to Poll to be Made Illegal—Stringent Rules as to Corrupt Practices—False Statements of Withdrawal—Severe Penalties Are to Be Imposed.

Toronto, Feb. 8.—The election act introduced by the Attorney-General Hon. J. J. Foy, and read a first time, was the feature of a brief sitting of the Legislature yesterday. This act is entirely a new issue, and the old act is to be repealed. The chief object is to make the provincial law correspond with the Dominion election act. The same machinery for elections will be provided, and thus officials are prevented from becoming confused in the two laws.

The bill in question, which is entitled "An Act respecting the election of members for the Legislative Assembly," provides among other things that any application for, or promise of a Government position, if done with a view to influencing an election, shall be deemed in law a corrupt practice, and shall be punishable as such. Other Government favors will be dealt with in like manner.

In his bill dealing with controverted elections Hon. Mr. Foy provides also that all election trials or appeals shall be suspended, notwithstanding dissolution of the Legislature or other causes. This is designed to do away with much of the pernicious "saw-off" evil, and to prevent the party in power choking off disclosures in the courts by terminating the Parliament. Heavy penalties for infraction of the act will be provided.

Other interesting clauses are the adoption of the Dominion ballot in its entirety, the requiring that the original voters' lists shall be used in polling booths and the abolition, in consequence, of the tendered ballot. The franchise is extended to Indians, except those who live among Indians or upon Indian reserves, and an Indian voter may accept money from the Indian fund without being disqualified. It is also provided that temporary absence from the municipality does not disqualify, even if the absence is not in pursuance of the voter's avocation. If a bona-fide voter finds he has been personated he is entitled to another ballot, which will be kept separate but counted.

Relative to the trial of election cases it is provided that any two judges of the Supreme Court of Ontario may conduct the trial, instead of a rota of special judges as at present.

On motion of Hon. Messrs. Foy and Whitney the bills were given a first reading.

Hon. Mr. Hanna, Provincial Secretary, has given notice of a bill respecting the registration of births marriages and deaths in the province. At the present time these returns are made half yearly, and it is understood that it is proposed to have these returns made quarterly, and in other ways make the general system of registration more modern.

Notices of Motion.

Following are the notices of motion:

Mr. Hoyle, on Monday next—Bill to amend the assessment act.

Mr. Auld, on Tuesday next—Bill to amend the municipal drainage act.

The House adjourned till Monday afternoon.

Those Horrid Bilious Spells

HAVE BECOME A HABIT—BUT YOU CAN BREAK UP THE HABIT BY USING

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

"It is nothing when you get used to it," is a common expression which many seem to apply to attacks of biliousness.

Year after year they suffer from frequent spells of bilious headache, indigestion, constipation followed by looseness of the bowels, dizziness, despondency and ill-temper, and the habit seems to have become so firmly established that they do not think of breaking the chains of bondage.

Why not make a break for liberty, health and happiness. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills stand ready to help you. They have helped thousands under just such circumstances to know again the joys of healthful living.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cure biliousness by reason of their direct and specific action on the liver, causing the bile to be properly filtered from the blood, where it acts as a poison, and passed into the intestines, where it is necessary to aid digestion and regulate the action of the bowels.

By this treatment you not only obtain relief from the attack, but bring about lasting cure, and prevent kidney disease, which is the usual outcome of neglected biliousness.

"I was suffering for years with stomach trouble and terrible headaches, and spent a good many dollars in medicine without receiving any benefit. Hearing (Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills highly recommended, I determined to give them a trial and did so with most satisfactory results as I was very greatly benefitted, and do not hesitate to recommend this treatment as the best obtainable for such ailments." — Mrs. Thomas Cowart, Highland Grove, Peterborough Co., Ont.

DETAILS OF DISASTROUS EXPLOSION

Disastrous Explosion in Coal Mine at Port Hood, N. S.

BODIES ALL RECOVERED

Brave Workers Volunteered For the Rescue—Deadly Fire Damp Feared—Men Met Death Without Warning—Victims Were Mostly Married — Mine Practically Uninjured — Cause Unknown.

Port Hood, N.S., Feb. 8.—At half past seven yesterday morning, shortly after the men had gone to work, an explosion occurred in one of the southern levels on the Port Hood mine. The news spread rapidly. Much anxiety was felt throughout the town by relatives and friends of workmen in the pit.

Manager McLellan organized and headed the rescue party and proceeded immediately to the scene of the disaster. It was then discovered that all occupants of the room had been instantly killed. The position of the bodies when found indicated that the men did not receive a moment's warning. In the hands of some were pickaxes, augers and other working tools, held firmly in the death grasp. Of ten men killed, six were miners, natives of the town and neighboring districts, and four were Bulgarians.

The miners were all young men, married, except one, and left widows and in some cases children. About 1 o'clock all the bodies had been recovered and brought to the surface. Considerable difficulty was experienced in identifying them, so charred and disfigured were they from the force of the explosion, but the clothing enabled the relatives to identify the bodies. They were laid out in a room in the company's office, which had been improvised into an undertaking room, and the scene was indeed pitiful.

All the employes of the mine stood around with voices hushed. It was the first accident at the mine attended with serious loss of life and its awfulness made a deep impression. The officials did everything possible to show their sympathy and consideration for the feelings of the employes and relatives and friends of the deceased.

Coroner Cameron empanelled a jury and proceeded to hold an inquest. After hearing evidence of identification, he ordered the bodies to be interred and adjourned the inquest, awaiting the arrival of the deputy inspector of mines. A committee of the P.W.A. took charge of the remains after the inquest adjourned. There is considerable speculation as to the cause of the accident, whether done by gas or powder. The mine is practically uninjured.

Those killed in the explosion are: John Campbell, who leaves a wife and three children; Duncan R. McDonald, leaving a wife; Malcolm Brown, leaving a wife and one child; Lauchlin Gillis, leaving wife and two children; Allan R. McDonald and Willie McKenzie, single, and four Bulgarians, all married, leaving families of two and three each.

Black Hand Leader Shot.

New York, Feb. 10.—Coly Calcagno, an Italian barber who was shot to death in East 106th street last Monday, may have been the leader of the Black Hand organization in the United States. Detective Wm. H. Atkinson of Baltimore, after seeing the body on Saturday, said he was convinced the dead man was the chief of the Black Hand in this country.

Calcagno was not his real name, Atkinson said. He is convinced, however, he said, that the body is that of the man who, when known as the leader of the Black Hand organization, dynamited a house in Baltimore several years ago, and at that time was being sought on a charge of having shot and killed a prominent man in Pittsburg.

The local Italian detective bureau will make an effort to verify the identification. Calcagno was about 27 years of age.

King Leopold Not Sane.

Brussels, Feb. 10.—There are indications that the Government may soon have to deal with a difficult problem in regard to King Leopold. Its nature may be indicated by the remark made by a member of the Cabinet Saturday in the lobby of the Chamber of Deputies. He said: "The King is no longer in a normal condition of mind."

Signs of mental breakdown of Leopold have been noticeable for several months.

Russian Paintings Loaned For Exhibition Seized by U. S. Customs.

New York, Feb. 10.—The official Russian collection of paintings that was brought to this country for exhibition at the St. Louis Exposition has been seized by the custom authorities, and to-day the collector of the port issued an order for the sale of the collection.

Permission of the Emperor of Russia was secured to allow the paintings to be sent out of Russia, it was stated Saturday, and a bond of $50,000 was given to the United States treasury department as a guarantee that the collection would be returned to Russia within a certain period after the exposition. Collector of the Port Fowler, decline to give any information concerning the seizure. It is understood that the allowance of time within which the collection was to be returned, having expired, and no duty having been paid, the Government found it necessary to take possession of the paintings.

The collection is said to include some of the best examples of Russian art, and that among the paintings is one owned by the Emperor, taken from the palace in St. Petersburg and loaned to the collection to make it complete.

The order for the sale will not, it is believed, be actually carried into effect until there has been further correspondence concerning the collection between the Russian authorities at St. Petersburg and the Treasury Department. The paintings are packed in forty-six cases, and no statement concerning their value has been obtained.

AUSTRIAN RAILWAY PROJECT.

Sublime Porte Not Very Ready to Accede to Terms.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 10.—Advices received here from Constantinople indicate that the Sublime Porte is backward in acceding to Austria's project of constructing a railway connecting the Austrian line through Bosnia, with the Turkish line to Salonica through the district of Novipazar which is opposed by Russia.

It is surmised here that the project, on this account, will be deferred for some time, as the Turkish territory has been depleted of resources.

The British proposal to create a flying column of gendarmerie to be commanded by Europeans and charged with the task of stamping out marauding bands in Macedonia, mentioned in King Edward's throne speech, has not met with favor from Russia on the ground that previous undertakings of a similar sort in Egypt and Crete have not proved effecacious, and have entailed a vast amount of trouble for the native population.

Douma Cools Down.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 10.—Prof. Paul Milukoff's recent address in New York continues to monopolize attention. Copies of the address and also the New York papers of Jan. 15 are in great demand. A perusal of the original text, however, has considerably modified the prevalent excitement, and several of the Octoberists now declare that the speech is practically without reproach and gives no opportunity for the further hounding of Prof. Milukoff.

Prince Meatchersky, the editor of The Grashganin, in an article in that paper, rebukes the Douma in scathing terms for its action with reference to M. Milukoff, saying:

"The schoolboyish demonstration on Friday is another proof of the lack of brains and the lack of sense in the third Douma, which truly does not possess a single sound Conservative or Octoberist Leader."

One of the principal grievances against M. Milukoff consists in a widespread idea that the brilliant reception which he met with in Washington might serve to counteract the movement in favor of a Russo-American alliance, which is supposed to have begun at the time of Secretary Taft's visit to St. Petersburg. M. Milukoff's appeal to the American people for sympathy for his cause also has met with bad temper here.

Indian Badly Frozen.

Mariposa, Feb. 10.—Jerry Shilling, Indian, celebrating at Lindsay, returned to Mariposa on a belated train at 11 p. m. in an intoxicated condition with several white companions and started for an Indian camp about a mile from the station. When about half way home he lay down and was not discovered till nine o'clock yesterday morning. Dr. Dale of Oakwood was summoned and found both his hands, feet and ears frozen solid. Amputation will be necessary. The thermometer registered 12 to 15 degrees below zero.

New Armor Plate.

Rome, Feb. 10.—Naval Engineer Baratta has patented a new armor plate. A composition is laid about a foot thick over a single sheet of steel. The armor thus made is light, and cheap, and it is claimed that it has remained unperforated by the projectile from the heavy naval gun the Italian admiralty is now experimenting with.

Postoffice Robbed.

Essex, Feb. 10.—The provincial police were notified that the postoffice at Cottam, a village near here, had been broken into by robbers during the night and the till rifled of $30 in change and small change.

NEW VESTRY OPENED YESTERDAY

A HANDSOME STRUCTURE

The handsome new vestry of St. John's Church, which has just been completed, was formally opened yesterday and was visited throughout the day by the members of the congregation. The vestry is a magnificent stone structure and is a handsome piece of architecture, the work of Mr. J. E. Belcher. It is built on the north side of the church, the same site as the old one, and it matches well with the remainder of the edifice.

The inside of the vestry is very nicely arranged and it presents a very bright appearance. The downstair apartments have been arranged for the use of the men and the upstairs for the use of the ladies. The rector also has a private room in the vestry and a table is reserved for the use of the church wardens.

The new vestry has been a long-felt want among the members of the choir and church, as the old vestry was very inadequate and crowded. The question has been under consideration for some time and the work was started at the beginning of last autumn. The building is now completed and adds greatly to the exterior appearance of the church, as and adds greatly to the appearance of the church.

well as the convenience of the clergy, choir and church wardens.

IT IS WELL THAT BABES ARE FROST PROOF

They Can be Left on the Sidewalk With Impunity

Says the Khan: If a body leaves his horse and cutter standing in the street, the police will remove it to the nearest livery stable and then lay for the owner.

The only thing you can leave on the sidewalk or the street with impunity is a baby. I passed one the other day when the thremometer was below zero. She was a beauty, lying on her back in her carriage, and not a living soul near her. Of course there were hundreds and hundreds of people swarming past, but they paid no more attention to her than if she were a homeless dog crouched up against the doorway of the big store. Her mother certainly was not to be seen; she was inside somewhere, and she had left this priceless thing outside on the pavement. I gave a couple blocks and then turned back to let the baby's nose go to see if it was frozen, and was relieved to find that it wasn't. It was a frostless baby. If someone would strap her mother down in a big basket and set her out on the street she would freeze her head off in twenty minutes.

It's a blessed thing that the babies in this country are frost-proof.

WANTED

Every Person in Peterborough to Know What Vinol is and How it is Made

For sometime we have recommended Vinol to the people of Peterborough as the best cod liver preparation and tonic reconstructor we have ever sold.

To prove the reliability and genuineness of this successful remedy and that it is in no sense a patent medicine the people of Peterborough will find on every package of Vinol not only a statement of the ingredients Vinol contains, but an illustration in colours showing just how Vinol is made from fresh cods' livers and peptonate of iron, which is a needful constituent for the blood.

This proves in a very convincing manner to the people of Peterborough the origin from which Vinol derives its wonderful curative power, and that it is a real cod liver preparation made by a scientific process which eliminates the useless oil and retains all the active medicinal principles.

As a body builder and strength creator for old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, after sickness, and for chronic coughs, colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles, Vinol is unexcelled.

Try it on our offer to return your money if it fails. McDermid & Jury, druggists, Peterborough, Ont., also the Market Drug Store.

REPRESENTS 7,000 WOMEN

Mrs. M. A. Anderson of Peterborough the Only Woman Among Home Circle Supreme Officers

HER WORK IS RECOGNIZED

The January issue of the Home Circle Leader, the official organ of the Order of Canadian Home Circles, contains an excellent photogravure of Mrs. M. A. Anderson, London street, city, a member of the Supreme Committee on Laws, with the following recognition of her services to the Home Circle:

The Order of Canadian Home Circles was the first Canadian Order to admit women into membership. This recognition of their rights and of their eligibility for life insurance has been appreciated by the women, and over 7,000 of them are now enrolled as members. Not only are they enrolled as members, but many of them are the most active in every movement which has for its object the advancement of the order. They have had official responsibility placed upon them by their subordinate circles, and they have shown that they can fill those offices, even the exacting offices of leader and financial secretary, with credit to themselves and satisfaction to the order.

Their usefulness is not limited to the subordinate circles. There are usually thirty or forty women among the representatives to the Supreme Circle, and for many years the women have been represented by one or more of their sex on the list of supreme officers.

The honour of representing the women on the list of supreme officers, has, for the past two years, fallen to Sister Anderson, of Peterborough. Sister Anderson became a member of Peterborough Circle in April, 1904, and she almost immediately assumed office and devoted much time and energy to pushing the circle to the front. She has been leader of the circle and financial secretary, and many of the new members taken into Peterborough Circle since she joined may be placed to her credit. When the Supreme Circle met in Peterborough, in March, 1906, she was chosen by her circle to present an address of welcome to the Supreme Circle, which she did with much grace and acceptance. When the time came around for the election of officers, she was elected a member of the Supreme Committee on Laws, and she was re-elected to the same office at the annual meeting of the Supreme Circle last March. One cannot imagine a Home Circle without "The ladies, God bless them."

MARK TWAIN'S IDEA OF PROHIBITION

He Did Not Think it Was Practical—Wine From Sawdust

"Crossing the Atlantic with Mark Twain last summer," said a W. C. T. U. woman, "I asked his opinion of the prohibition law. His reply was very characteristic, very humourous.

"I am a friend of temperance, and want it to succeed,' he said, 'but I don't think prohibition is practical. The Germans, you see, prevent it. Look at them. I am sorry to learn that they have just invented a method of making brandy out of sawdust. Now what chance will prohibition have when a man can take a rip saw and go out and get drunk with a fence rail? What is the good of prohibition if a man is able to make brandy smashes out of the shingles on his roof, or if he can get delirium tremens by drinking the legs off the kitchen chairs?"—Toronto Saturday Night.

FAMILY WITHOUT FOOD AND CLOTHING

The Father Says He Wants Work, Not Charity

When the Government immigration officer was in the city last week he found a family in East City well nigh destitute. Their clothing was very limited and what they had was ragged, but clean. The old box stove in the centre of the floor contained only a small fire and very little wood was in the house. The head of the family told the officer a pitiful story of the hardship and privation they had experienced since their arrival in Canada.

He was earning 36s. 10d. in the Old Country as a foreman in his father's steam-fitting establishment and was doing very nicely. He had heard a great deal about Canada and was very anxious to come to a land which held such good opportunities. He experienced considerable difficulty in securing passage, but at last his chance came and he was landed here just as the cold weather was beginning to set in, and work had become scarce.

He was advised to come to Peterborough and did so, arriving here with $8 in his pocket to begin life in the new land. He rented a small house, bought an old stove, and some other necessities, which exhausted his little treasury. His family was without anything to eat and was facing starvation.

He got a job at sawing a cord of wood and did it in record time. When his employer came out he paid him the money and said he was a hustler. The unfortunate fellow explained his circumstances to the man, saying he wanted work, not charity.

The family is being looked after now and is not at all discouraged. When the spring opens up the head of the family hopes to get a position at his trade, after which he will be perfectly content.

ESTEEMED OTONABEE RESIDENT DEAD

Mr. Thomas Welch, A Brickmaker For More Than 40 Years, Passed Away Yesterday

WELL KNOWN IN PETERBORO

At three o'clock yesterday afternoon there passed away at his residence in Otonabee, Mr. Thomas Welch, one of the best known residents of that township, who for almost half a century was engaged in the occupation of brick manufacturing. His death yesterday was not unexpected. He died after an illness of some weeks of heart trouble and his demise will be regretted by not only residents of the community in which he lived his life, but by many in the county who knew him and hundreds in the city with whom he came in contact, in view of his occupation as a brickmaker.

Mr. Welch was 64 years of age. He resided on the River Road, Otonabee, about one mile below the Locks Bridge until a few years ago, when he built a new house a short distance farther south, in which he has lived since. His brick yard for many years was situated on the old homestead, until about twenty years ago. It was then moved across the road. Mr. Welch was a public school trustee for some time and took a great interest in municipal affairs.

Surviving him are his wife, a family of six, one brother and five sisters. His family consists of Mrs. Rickey, of Toronto; Thomas and William, of Otonabee; Joseph, of Ottawa; Miss Emma, at home, and Ernest, of Fort William, Ont. His brother, Mr. Lee Welch, resides in Otonabee, and his sisters are Mrs. Samuel Guthrie, city; Mrs. Bennett, corner of Downie and Hunter streets; Mrs. Geo. Frost, Otonabee; Mrs. Wm. Downer, city, and Mrs. Voicy residing in the northern part of the county. Mr. Welch was a member of All Saints' Anglican Church in Peterborough.

The funeral will take place from the family residence Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, to the Little Lake Cemetery.

PEG-LEG'S SISTER DIDN'T WANT RELIC

"Madie" Brown Was Often in Peterborough—Wooden Leg in London

London, Feb. 10.—(Special).—Governor Carter, of the county jail, has received a letter from the sister of "Madie" Brown, the peg-leg, who was hanged here in 1899, for the murder of Policeman Toohey, stating she does not wish to have the wooden peg-leg of her brother sent to her.

The leg has been around the jail ever since Brown was hanged and recently Miss Brown, who resides in Texas, was written to, asking if she would like to have it sent to her.

There are many in Peterborough who will recollect "Madie" Brown, the peg-leg, who, on several occasions in years gone by was in Peterborough. Although he never got into trouble here he was arrested near Cobourg some years ago for holding up a farmer.

WALKED FOURTEEN MILES IN SNOW

Two Peterborough Men in the Snowbound Lindsay District

Two Peterborough men had an experience during the recent storm which they would not care to go through again. Messrs. Donald Potter, representing the Canadian Cordage Company, was on his way to Port Perry on Wednesday last with Mr. F. Hurley who was bound for another town on the G.T.R. line. The train they were travelling on became snow bound at Manilla Junction, a rather forlorn country station and advancement was out of the question. They were held there until Thursday morning; it was mutually decided that anything was better than putting in the time at the station. Accordingly they started "back the track" through the snow storm which had not subsided.

The drifts were well formed, the struggle through them was a long fatigue. The distance from Manilla Junction to Lindsay is nearly 13 miles which was covered in about 6 hours. Lindsay was reached at 3.30 p.m. after a tramp which cannot be expressed in words.

THIGH BROKEN IN A BAD FALL

Mr. William Redmond Fell on His Way to Church

William Redmond fell near the corner of Hunter and Rubidge streets yesterday morning while on his way to St. Peter's Cathedral and fractured his right thigh bone. The first mass was just over and many people were nearby when he fell. The Dan Spence Ambulance was summoned and Mr. Redmond was taken to St. Joseph Hospital, and was attended by Dr. McNulty and Dr. Marshall.

Mr. Redmond boards at the Cavanagh House.

EDUCATIONAL POLICY MAPPED OUT

Rev. J. W. Graham's Forceful Address at George Street Church Yesterday Morning

A LARGE CONGREGATION

A most impressive explanation of the policy and need of the educational work of the Methodist Church in Canada was given in George street Methodist Church yesterday morning by Rev. J. W. Graham, B.A., of Toronto, the general educational secretary of the Church, and successor to the late Rev. Dr. Potts. Yesterday was Educational Sunday in the Methodist Churches of the city and large congregations heard the addresses. Rev. Mr. Graham's message was listened to with earnest attention. His address was delivered with the conviction of a man who thoroughly knows his subject and the earnestness of one who believes in what he says. His message could not have failed to bring conviction to the mind of his hearers.

He remarked in beginning that he did not propose to preach a sermon, but rather to touch upon the salient features of the educational work and policy of the church.

The question of aid to probationers was first referred to, and the speaker discussed the former way of making loans to the probationers, with which to pay for their education, and which they were expected to repay. The system was not an ideal one, as it got ministers into debt, and debt was a thing to be avoided, a curse to the church as well as to the individual. "I wouldn't go into debt for any church under the stars," exclaimed the speaker decisively. "I wouldn't go into the ministry of any church that would force me to contract debts I couldn't meet."

The Board of Education and the Missionary Board had solved the problem by giving the probationers missionary work in the summer months and paying them for it. It cost more money, but it was a much better way to help young men who were studying for the ministry.

The speaker went on to point out the necessity of having the Methodist theological colleges in federation with universities, and explained at some length the advantages of having the future ministers come into contact with a large body of ordinary students. It was a mistaken idea that ministers must be trained in a "sequestered vale, far from the madding crowd's ignoble strife." "Bring them up in the storm centre," remarked the speaker.

The need of trained men in the ministry was clearly demonstrated by the speaker, who went on to speak of the way in which the educational work of the Methodist Church was being carried on. The Church had colleges in St. John's, Newfoundland, at Sackville, N. S.; Wesley College in Montreal, Victoria College in Toronto, Wesley College in Winnipeg, Alberta College in Edmonton, and a college in New Westminster, B. C. In addition, there were ladies' schools in St. Thomas and Whitby, and preparatory schools in Stanstead and Belleville.

The speaker closed with an earnest plea for the support of the educational facilities of the Church. He pointed out that this year there would be an expenditure of $40,000 as against $27,000 last year, while there were 260 probationers this year to 155 in 1907.

The collections during the day were in aid of the educational department of the Church.

In the evening, Professor R. B. Bowles, M.A., B.D., of Victoria College, Toronto, preached an educational sermon to a large congregation.

THE COAL DEALERS HAVE SUFFICIENT

There Might Be a Shortage in a Particular Size, However

Editor Examiner.

Dear Sir,—In last evening's Examiner appears an article predicting a coal famine in the city as a result of the railway blockades. This information may have been given without a true knowledge of the conditions, as while there may be a shortage in one particular size, a sufficient stock of coal is held by the different dealers in the city to meet the requirements for some time to come.

A PLEA FOR THE STOCK EXCHANGE

The weekly circular of Henry Clews and Company, bankers, New York, contains the following reference to the New York Stock Exchange:

Recent attacks upon the character of the New York Stock Exchange are entirely unjustified and have been prompted by either ignorance or prejudice. If the Stock Exchange were abolished great enterprises would soon be paralysed. Without its medium, it would be impossible to raise the capital for conducting our great railway and industrial corporations, investors would be deprived of the means of finding profitable employment for their capital, and there would be no free market for the many millions of securities there dealt in. Abolish the Stock Exchange, and the free play of market forces which best develop real values; then investors would be kept in the dark and their properties would be exposed to grosser manipulations than ever thought of by stock market operators. The New York Stock Exchange, it should be remembered, is nothing more than a well-systematized market-place for the exchange of (a trading in securities. From the very nature of its purpose and its organization it cannot exercise any direct control over the management of the corporations whose securities are dealt in by its members. It may establish certain rules as to the conduct of business by its members, and may insist that only securities of certain standards shall be dealt in on its floor. Beyond that it cannot go; and buyers and sellers alike, as in all matters of business, are expected to exercise their own intelligence as to the merits of investments. One thing is certain; that whatever its shortcomings, there is no organized body of business men where the standards of integrity are higher and more fixed than on the New York Stock Exchange. Its transactions are carried on chiefly by word of mouth; the spoken word being as sacredly kept as signed contracts. . . A great deal of nonsense is also heard about speculation. Now, speculation, like many other good things, may be carried to excess, and is then injurious and open to the severest criticism. But speculation within reasonable limits is most beneficial. It is one of the main incentives to enterprise. Crush this disposition to venture, or the willingness to accept a risk, and enterprise would languish, trade and industry would decline, and we should gradually settle down to certain industrial and commercial decay.

Health and Vitality for old People

As old age creeps on vitality is lowered, the heart beats more slowly, the blood becomes thin and watery, and the power of resistance is lessened. Thousands of old people depend on this treatment, because it calms and quiets the nerves, gradually and certainly, enriches the blood, builds up the system and instils new life and vigour into their shrivelled arteries.

ASSIST WORK OF THE CHURCH

Charlotte Street People Liberally Subscribe for Missions and Education

The educational work of the Methodist Church has met with the greatest approval on the part of the congregation of the Charlotte Street Church. The missionary offering of two weeks ago was also much in advance of former years.

RADIAL RAILWAY IN EAST CITY

Another Writer Gives Some Reasons Why One Should be There—Two Proposed Routes

UNFULFILLED PROMISES

Editor Examiner,

Dear Sir,—The complaint in Saturday's issue of the street railway's neglect of Ashburnham is well founded. I for one cannot see why the Fifth Ward should be overlooked by the railway company and the Council. Many years ago the promoters of the old railway company assured Ashburnham Council that they would run the line through their village as well as through Peterborough, if a franchise of the streets was given. This was granted, but no railway was built. Then again, I am told that two years ago three hundred names were signed to a petition for the extension of the line to the Fifth Ward, but no action was taken. Instead, additional accommodation was made south and west, but not one foot east. Your correspondent's suggestion would be a great improvement, to run around the Fifth Ward to the east end of Hunter street bridge and then transfer to George street. Another route crossing the new Cereal dam would be preferable to being left out entirely. As the matter stands, it is up to the two Fifth Ward aldermen and our new mayor to do something towards correcting this wrong treatment of so large a ward.

HIGHER EDUCATION IS NEEDED

Says Prof. R. P. Bowles Who Preached at Methodist Church Yesterday on Education

PARENTS HAVE WRONG IDEA

The great necessity for a higher education among the people of our land was forcibly brought home to a large congregation at Charlotte street Methodist church yesterday morning. In the educational interests of the Methodist church special sermons were preached by Rev. Prof. R P Bowles, M.A., B.D., of Victoria College, Toronto, and by Rev. J W Graham, B.A., secretary of Education for the Methodist Church in Canada.

At the Charlotte street church yesterday morning, Rev. Prof. Bowles delivered an earnest and inspiring discourse taking as his text part of the sixth verse of the 4th chapter of the Book of Hosea: "Because thou hast rejected knowledge I will also reject thee." In commencing the learned preacher said that to him the present was the most opportune time for awakening a livelier interest in higher education in our land and in the church. Everywhere through our country education and culture does not occupy the place it should. It has been said that the desire for education is the theme of mankind. The speaker referred to the time when books were bought at a very heavy cost, and it was only the wealthiest that could have them. Then education was appreciated. "Nowadays when books are so plentiful and reading is thrust upon us," said the reverend gentleman, "our love for knowledge has passed away." There was a day when the world's greatest scholars begged in the streets that they might buy literature. For so doing they were none the less respected but in the community in which they lived they were honoured and esteemed.

A Wrong Idea

"A strong desire for gain and for material wealth is foremost in the minds of the people of to-day, and they have little relationship for the higher things in life," continued the speaker. "In this commercial age the love for the practical alone occupies the attention and time of the man in business. In our young land of Canada there is a strong tendency to make our education of the commercial type. The motive of parents is to educate their sons to that which will bring them the highest salary. The commercial spirit permeated while the great masters of literature who have something beautiful and instructive to give to people are never thought of. A man is better fitted for commercial and financial success if he invests himself with the higher knowledge. If a man would believe himself as he is and as he recognises himself before God, he would be more successful in his career." The speaker strongly urged a deepening of our lives, and not a widoning for material things. Intellectual stringency and a lack of prevailing at the present time but the learned professor said that to his mind there was a greater intellectual stringency and a lack of knowledge in spiritual matters. The reverend gentleman referred to the far reaching effect of the sentence spoken by Christ, "The Kingdom of God is within, not without. A great many religious men are prejudiced against higher education. They have contempt for it. Prof. Bowles remarked that it was the opinion of many that young men entering college lost their religious zeal. This is not so. The college life does not change them. Boys are safer in college than anywhere. Many young fellows who have commenced a college course with ideas of fame and honour, have given them all up and are now missionaries in the foreign field. The Methodists in Canada should feel proud of their colleges. They have been considered too radical and revolutionary in their teachings. That was not the case. Theological colleges should not be extreme.

In conclusion, Prof. Bowles urged the people to take a greater interest in educational matters and asked for their sympathy and prayers on behalf of the work of the church. A special collection was taken for educational purposes and was largely responded to.

Saturday was one of the busiest days the relief officer, Mr. Finch Miller, has had since he accepted the office. The usual weekly distribution was very successful and was one of the largest since the relief fund was begun. Over eighty people received the charity offered, and 500 lbs. beef, 65 bags of tea and the same amount of sugar, 16 bags of potatoes and a large quantity of groceries were given away. Mr. Miller requested the assistance of two other men to help in the distribution.

FELLOWSHIP CLUB CONCERT

Held On Saturday Night Was a Splendid Function—Attendance Not Very Large

IS DESERVING OF SUPPORT

The concert held under the auspices of the Strangers' Fellowship Club of the Y.M.C.A. on Saturday night was so far as the programme was concerned, one of the best ever presented by that institution. Owing to the cold spell and counter attractions the room was not so well filled as was desired by the promoters of the concert.

Not only the programme, but the cause for which this band of young men is linked together, deserves better support from the people of the city, namely, that of locating and of introducing new arrivals to ministers of the various denominations. Every number of the programme was worthy of the splendid applause which followed it, and special mention might be made of the encore number of Mr. C. E. Coleman, the model sermon on Mediaeval Poetry, and of the violin solo by Mr. G. Howard.

The programme was as follows:—

PART I.

Pianoforte Solo—Mr. W. Barrie.
Song—Mrs. H. Hinchcliffe.
Song—Mr. W. J. Coleman.
Recitation—Mr. Geo. Lynch.
Violin Solo—Mr. G. Howard.
Song, Humourous — Mr. W. MacLaren.
Selection — All Saints' Vocal Quartette.
Song—Mr. D. A. Campbell.

PART II.

Song—Mrs. G. Evans.
Song—Mr. Chambers.
Recitation—Mr. J. John.
Song—"Tara," from Hall Cain's "Prodigal Son," Mr. Greenhalgh.
Selection — All Saints' Vocal Quartette.
Song—"How to Get There"—Mr. C Colegrain.

The programme was concluded with a laughable farce, "The Mock Council of Blushtown," by members of the Y. M.C.A. Debating Club.

"God Save the King."

THE MARKET OPENED FOR THIS WEEK

Business Was Begun With Favourable Weather

The market began to brighten up considerably this morning. The weather was one factor besides there was a demand to-day for hay, straw, hogs and wood. There were many buyers around and as a result the purchases were briskly made. If the weather continues fine the citizens may have a chance to get even on the markets as the prices have been all against them of late.

BUTTER SCARCE ARTICLE IN PETERBORO

What the Snow Blockade Did in Shortening of Storekeepers' Supplies

Last Friday and Saturday most of the local grocers were up against a butter famine, their regular source of supplies having been almost entirely cut off from the country. The heavy snow storm and excessive cold temperature of the previous Saturday had blocked the country roads and only a few farmers got to market. The consequence was that all last week the local butter supply was running down fast and when on Friday last the probabilities of the butter solution being relieved by Saturday's market was dissipated by a repetition of the previous Saturday's storms and cold weather, the dealers became panicky. In the early hours of Saturday butter sold as high as 35 cents per pound. With no apparent prospect of any improvement. Fortunately it was discovered that one of our local firms of grocers, Messrs. White & Gillespie, who are large butter dealers, had stored a reserve stock of butter for the wholesale trade. In this way those of the retail grocers who were short, were accommodated for the time—over a ton having been sold during Saturday.

TORONTO TAILORS COME HERE

Should be Compelled to Take Out Peddler's License

The local tailors and dry goods men are making complaints against the invasion of Toronto tailors into the city. One dry goods merchants, when seen this morning, said that no less than ten representatives of Toronto tailoring houses have been in the city this months measuring people for cheap suits of clothes. This is proving very hurtful to the local business and the men are trying to have it stopped, or make these men take out a peddler's license.

SPLENDID MUSIC AT CHARLOTTE ST. CHURCH

At the morning service at Charlotte Street Methodist Church yesterday Mr. M. Johnston sang a solo "Blessed Are They That Love Thee," in splendid voice, his singing being very much appreciated. A quartette, consisting of Misses Belleghem and Lee and Messrs. Browne and Skitch rendered very effectively, "Sweet Peace, the Gift of God's Love," and in the evening Miss Belleghem sang a solo.

Snowfall Is Detrimental To Lumbering Operations

350 Men and 85 Teams Employed by Cavendish Lumber Company —Logging Hindered by Snowfall

CUT WILL NOT BE LARGE

After a tiresome journey over heavily snow-banked roads, Mr. William Cresswell, superintendent of the Cavendish Lumber Company, arrived this morning from the seat of lumbering operations on Ketcheeum Lake. He was interviewed by an Examiner representative in the offices of the company on Hunter street shortly after his arrival and he told several interesting stories concerning the lumber camps.

"We are experiencing considerable difficulty this year owing to the heavy snowfalls," began Mr. Cresswell. "The men are in the midst of logging operations and the snow is very detrimental to our work. We employ about 350 men and 85 teams, and lately we have kept all hand busy clearing the roads to the waterway. As soon as the snow falls we build a road to the water and a sprinkler is sent over it to give it an ice surface. This year, as soon as we had a nice road laid out there would be a snowfall, and we would then have to do the work over. The cut is not quite so large this year as last, and we do not employ as many men as in former years."

The Cavendish Lumber Company has five camps which include nine shanties, and in these the men are comfortably housed through the winter. The food is good and the men are in excellent spirits. When spring opens up the men will all be employed on the drives. Though a dangerous operation, the men enjoy it more than any other branch of the lumbering work."

Mr. Cresswell is one of the most experienced lumbermen in the city. He has been connected with the lumbering business since he was a boy, and is acquainted with every branch of the business.

WENT THROUGH AIR HOLE INTO ICY WATERS OF RICE LAKE

Two Peterborough men Messrs. Louis Houdry and D Johnston, had an experience on Saturday returning from Harwood to the city. The two went to Harwood on business on Wednesday and were held in the Rice Lake village for two days on account of the blizzard. On Saturday they determined to start out for Peterborough and left Harwood at 8.30 o'clock, in a cutter pulled by a team of horses. All was going well until without warning the horses, cutter men went into an air hole and were struggling in the icy water. Both managed to climb out onto the ice and pull up the horses after which they made their way to the house a near by Indian where they secured dry clothing and started out again. Even when across the lake their troubles were not at an end as the roads were in a terrible condition. Soon after leaving the lake they upset in a drift and were submerged in the snow losing two shovels and an axe in the upset.

Several more times a similar catastrophe was experienced up in many places there was no sign of the road and it was not until 2.30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon that Peterborough was reached.

WAS FOUND DRUNK ON SATURDAY

On a charge of being drunk in a public place, Robt. Pratt appeared before his Worship this morning and was fined $2, which he paid forthwith.

The young man was found on Saturday night in an intoxicated condition, lying in the new arcade, and was almost frozen and had it not been for a few boys who saw him he would likely have lain there all night. The boys told the police and the man was taken to the police station. He was allowed to go yesterday on a promise to appear this morning. He showed up all right and paid his fine.

A ROYAL FUNERAL AT LISBON

Large Crowds Pay Last Tribute to Portugal's Royal Dead.

KING CARLOS AND HIS SON

Laid to Rest in the Pantheon—Stately Service and Pageant—King Manuel and Queen Mother Not In the Procession — Perfect Order Was Maintained — Foreign Royalties Were Represented.

Lisbon, Feb. 10.—With the church bells tolling continually, the bodies of the murdered King and crown prince, in two golden chariots shrouded in black velvet and drawn by eight hooded horses, were escorted by a glittering funeral pageant on Saturday, across Lisbon to the Portuguese pantheon, and laid at rest beside their ancestors of the Braganza dynasty.

Seven hours elapsed from the time the foreign princes and the special ambassadors of all the powers gathered at the palace for the ceremony there until three salvos of twenty-one guns and three volleys of musketry, reverberating over the terraced and sun-bathed hills, and answered by the British warships in the harbor, announced that the last rites were over.

Not a single untoward incident marred the last act of Portugal's tragedy. The vague forebodings proved baseless, and there is a general feeling of relief that all passed well, in view of the political turmoil.

The great outpouring of people along the line of the procession was noteworthy. They packed the pavements, crowded the windows and choked the side streets. While evidences of deep and popular sorrow seemed to be absent, many stood with uncovered heads as the funeral cars passed, and nowhere was actual disrespect witnessed.

Troops guarded the streets and were massed in numerous parks and plazas along the route; all shops and cafes were closed, and shutters covered the windows of the Ministerial buildings in the Praca do Commercio, where the King and prince were assassinated a week ago.

It was a grief-stricken palace, hearts were turned in pity, and strong men shaken at the scene in the private apartments where the special embassies were received. Neither Queen Amelie nor the Dowager Queen Maria Pia were to be seen, but King Manuel carried himself as bravely as he might, though deadly pale and on the verge of complete breakdown when the ordeal was finished.

The Duke of Connaught, Prince Eitel Frederick, and Infanta Fornindo, in addition to verbal condolences, presented letters from their sovereigns to the King, who was greatly touched at these messages. Tears that were almost constantly in his eyes several times overflowed.

When the members of the court and the pecial representatives of foreign countries entered the chapel for the last brief service, the King remained behind. Neither he nor the two Queens followed the cortege to the cathedral.

The violent death of his father, it is explained, absolved King Manuel from conforming to the tradition of walking behind the dead to the grave. Nevertheless, his absence and the absence of Queen Amelie and the Dowager Queen has caused universal comment, being generally attributed to other reasons.

Apart from the hearses themselves, which were covered with heavy draperies and trapping of black velvet, bordered with fringes of gold, the feature of the cortege that attracted the most attention was the gilded state coaches of the sixteenth, seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, which were reserved for the use of the foreign missions and the highest dignitaries of Portugal.

As the procession advanced through the guarded streets the crowds became denser. All stores and business establishments along the route were closed and tightly shuttered.

The funeral cortege moved more slowly than had been expected, and it was the middle of the afternoon before it reached the church.

The Church of San Vicente is an historic edifice, built in the reign of Philip II., where, in an adjoining wing or royal pantheon, are entombed members of the royal family. It is situated in the old quarter of the town, near an ancient monastery, now the palace of the Primate of Lisbon.

Situated on a height, it dominates all sections of the capital. A group of clergy, headed by the patriarch of Lisbon, awaited the cortege at the steps leading to the church. The coffins were carried from the hearses, and, enveloped in the national flag, were placed on biers in front of the church. Troops formed about them in open square, and now occurred, what seems to many, the most touching incident of the day.

From one side slowly marched a company of men, wearing long black robes and carrying lighted torches. They were members of the ancient sacred fraternity of the Holy House of Pity, organized in the thirteenth century, to which Portuguese tradition has accorded the privilege of uttering the first absolution over dead sovereigns, as well as later of claiming the catafaque and burial pall, which they may sell for the benefit of their charities. Their service is symbolized by disregard for all worldly vanities and by humility.

The chaplain of the order intoned the accustomed prayers while the troops stood at attention and in the distance could be heard the minute guns of the land batteries, to which the British and Spanish cruisers replied gun for gun. This brief but imposing ceremony finished, the primate, using the words, "Requiescat in peace," sprinkled the coffins with holy water, and they were borne by the high court dignitaries into the church, and laid side by side on a catafalque in front of the altar.

Meanwhile, the master of ceremonies conducted the special missions, and the diplomats to special tribunes built for their use. The interior of the edifice was draped from ceiling to floor with rich hangings of purple velvet, embroidered in gold. Varicolored jewels encrusting the ebony cross, gleamed in the subdued light of numberless candles, which also was reflected from the jeweled orders covering the breasts of most of the mourners, who filled the cathedral.

The second absolution having been pronounced by the patriarch, a requiem mass was celebrated. The ceremony in the church lasted half an hour, and the coffins remained for some time for public view and were then conveyed to the mortuary chapel adjoining the church, where another mass was said for the repose of the souls of the dead.

The cortege, on account of the ancient coaches moved at a walk's pace, the three-mile journey consuming two hours.

The religious service in the church was very stately. The interior was draped and literally buried in floral tributes. The bodies will lie in state for three days, and then will be consigned to the tombe, in the pantheon.

King Edward at St. Paul's.

London, Feb. 10.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra, the Prince and Princess of Wales, Princess Victoria and many Government officials attended the memorial services yesterday at St. Paul's for King Carlos of Portugal and the crown prince. Immense crowds filled the streets along which the King and Queen drove, and about the cathedral and within were more than three thousand persons, including the members of the Cabinet, members of Parliament and the diplomatic corps.

When King Edward and Queen Alexandra entered the cathedral the band of the Oxfordshire Light Infantry, of which King Carlos was honorary colonel, played Chopin's funeral march, and during the service it played the dead march in Saul.

Archdeacon Sinclair read the lesson, and the Archbishop of Canterbury pronounced the benediction.

The members of the royal party drove to and from the cathedral in closed carriages, and were not attended by an escort.

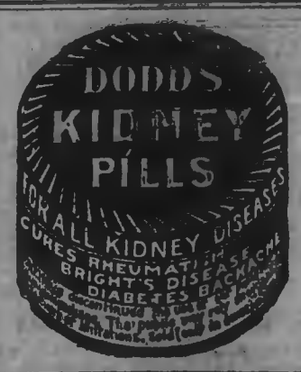
AN EATING ULCER.

Ulcers are a skin disease, and are more or less directly occasioned by a bad state of the blood, which produces acrid humors and corrupts the secretions.

No one can expect to have a skin free from disease when the blood is in a disordered condition and the stomach and bowels acting feebly in consequence.

Through its wonderful cleansing, purifying powers on the blood, and its renovating action on the entire system, Burdock Blood Bitters has made thousands of cures of different skin diseases during the past thirty years it has been on the market.

Mrs. Joseph Robinson, Hallerton, Que., writes: "I had an eating ulcer on my ankle. I took two bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters and it worked like a charm, cleaning out all the impurities from my system and improving my appetite. While taking the B.B.B. internally I used it externally to cleanse the sore, and it helped a little.



ARE NOW PREPARING FOR WAR

Czar and Sultan Rushing Troops to Persian Frontier.

SUPPLIES FROM THE DOUMA

Russia Despatching 60,000 Fully Equipped Soldiers—Trouble in the Balkans—European Nations Take Sides—France and Great Britain With Russia — Germany With the Sublime Porte.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 10.—The Russo-Turkish relations have entered upon a menacing phase. Alarmed at the unchecked Turkish penetration of Persia, and the mobilization in Armenia, the Russian Government has decided to execute a formidable military demonstration in reply on the Turko-Persian frontier despatching there a compact expedition of 60,000 select troops from Central Russia, with full war equipment, and it is acting with uncommon rapidity with a view to overaweing the Turks by a decisive exhibition of force.

The War Office has drawn up plans of the expedition, and submitted them hurriedly for legislative enactment to the Douma on Friday. The committee on national defence assembled in a virtually closed session. A representative of the War Office briefly and impressively outlined the Turkish preparation, of which Russia is fully informed, and asked for an open credit for the maintenance of an army of 60,000.

He met the possible arguments of economy by saying that Russia had expended blood and treasure in Manchuria in vain, owing to the initial backwardness in armament. The empire's prestige in the middle east, he said, is now also in the balance, and Russia must be prepared to defend it.

M. Guchkoff, leader of the Octobrist party, in a speech, said that the majority in the Douma were Russian patriots and willing to part with their "last shirt" to defend the fatherland. The committee in a high pitch of patriotism passed the appropriation unanimously. At the same session the War Office obtained sanction for a further item of $100,000,000 to create floating batteries along the Baltic coast, which, owing to the weakness of the navy, is at the mercy of Germany.

Situation in Balkans.

Rome, Feb. 10.—The situation in the Balkans, which suddenly has attracted attention here through the reported recall of Prince Ouroseff, Russian Ambassador to Austria-Hungary, seems to be graver than official statements make it appear.

Austria and Germany charge that Russia is trying to obtain revenge for her failure in the far east by turning her attention to the near east, and is resuming her ancient traditional policy of aiming at Constantinople. It is further asserted by officials of these Governments that she is helped in this above board by France, and secretly by Great Britain, the latter thus opposing German influence.

Russia has emphatically declared that it would be impossible to tolerate the carrying out of the proposed plan for the construction of railways in the Balkans, and as announced by Baron Von Aehrenthal, the Austro-Hungarian Foreign Minister, as this would mean, under the guise of commercial interest, a practical Austrian supremacy throughout the Balkans. Indeed, it would mean Austria's reaching Salonica, and Russia remarks, this would be equivalent to having Germany at Salonica.

However, it is believed here that if a conflict breaks out that it will not be between Russia and Austria, but between Russia and Turkey, the latter being accused of favoring the Austrian plans under German influence.

The Popular Romano goes as far as to chronicle the rumor that a Russo-Turkish war is likely to occur in the spring. Turkey has been making preparations, for she now has in Macedonia 100,000 of her best troops, officered to a great extent by Germans.

Ambassador Not Recalled.

Vienna, Feb. 10.—The foreign office yesterday denied the report that the Russian ambassador to Austria-Hungary, Prince Ouroseff, had been recalled by his Government. The ambassador is getting along in years, and is in delicate health, and has asked and received permission from his Government to go home or to some southern resort as soon as the weather and his health permits him to travel.

Hughes Announces Retirement.

Albany, N.Y., Feb. 10.—Governor Hughes served notice for the first time by a public utterance of his fixed determination not to succeed himself as governor in any circumstance in a speech at the annual dinner of the National Guard Association of the State of New York.

The governor in closing his remarks said that "This is my second and farewell appearance before you as commander-in-chief of the military and naval forces of the state."

Legal Fight Over Times.

London, Feb. 10.—It looks as though there would be a great legal struggle for The Times newspaper. A syndicate representing the owners of several minor interests in the paper has been formed with a capital of $4,250,000.

Mr. Pearson and his associates assert that their deal has been approved by 75 per cent. of the owners. The question of the lease will be fought out in court.

Arrested, Though Legally Dead.

New York, Feb. 10.—Otto Adams, a fugitive from justice upon an indictment charging him with sending bombs to two persons and trying to blow up an hotel with an infernal machine, and who last year was legally declared dead as a suicide, was locked up in the Adams street police station, Brooklyn, Saturday night. He was arrested in Jersey City while keeping an appointment with the wife who had deserted him in the Kingsville, Feb. 10.—Early Sunday morning fire broke out in the tobacco factory of George Jasparson. As the fire made considerable headway before being noticed, the three buildings were completely destroyed, nothing being saved. Fortunately there being no wind, the adjoining large factory of Darius Wigle was saved. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

Railway Man Hurt.

EXPRESS DERAILED BY BROKEN RAIL

Two Sleepers Turned Over and Went Down Bank.

NO PASSENGERS WERE KILLED

Accident to Wabash Flyer Near Delhi —Broken Rail Was the Cause— Train Was Running at Good Speed —Several Receive Bad Injuries —Track Plowed Up For 20 Yards—Another Rail Twisted.

Delhi, Feb. 10.—Wabash flyer No. 1 is lying in the ditch two miles east of this town as a result of a broken rail. The Wabash flyer consisted of an engine and five coaches. She was running westbound and left Simcoe about 9.30 yesterday morning.

All went well until about two miles east of Delhi when the entire train jumped the rails and tore along the ties for a distance of a hundred yards, when the two rear coaches broke loose and tumbled down a fifteen-foot embankment. These two coaches are badly wrecked. They are lying on their sides, and the trucks in some places are badly smashed and torn completely off.

In these two cars there were only six passengers and two porters. One old lady was said to be badly injured, and one man had his head badly cut. Apart from this none of the occupants were severely injured, beyond a bad shaking up.

It is little short of a miracle that all the occupants were not killed, as the train was traveling at the rate of a mile a minute, and these two rear coaches were hurled a considerable distance. The other three coaches remained right side up.

Word was sent to Delhi, and a wrecking train from St. Thomas was sent to the scene of the disaster. No. 6 Wabash, going east, came along shortly after and took the passengers from the ill fated train. Fortunately there was a doctor on No. 6, who looked after the injured passengers on the flyer.

One rail is torn up for a distance of about twenty feet. This rail is broken into over a dozen pieces. The track in another place is twisted, and will have to be taken up and replaced before traffic can be resumed.

THAW IN NEW ROLE.

Shoveled Snow In Order to Forget His Troubles.

New York, Feb. 10.—Harry K. Thaw did real work Saturday, when, armed with a large shovel, he went at the heaps of snow on the walks about the Matteawan Asylum, and for two hours, with a score of other inmates, helped to clear the pathways.

Tiring of the piano and the books which have meant so much to him during his confinement, Thaw asked permission of Dr. Robert E. Lamb, the medical superintendent of Matteawan, to be allowed to do some work that would keep his mind away from his troubles.

"How would you like to try your hand at snow shoveling?" asked the physician.

"That would suit me all right," replied Thaw, and forthwith he was provided with a shovel and went to work with a vim.

Thaw must remain in the Matteawan Asylum for at least six weeks, according to the authoritive statement given out by Martin W. Littleton, his chief counsel, just before the lawyer left with his family to rest in Florida.

Winnipeg, Feb. 10.—The police again spent yesterday taking evidence against those breaking the Lord's Day Act. Several hundred violations were reported, including restaurants, newsstands, undertakers, and even business offices.

The newspaper offices were again invaded, and the names of those working taken. The summons of those violating the act last Sunday will be issued to-day. The cases are causing a great deal of interest.

Threaten the Czar.

Paris, Feb. 10.—A morning journal declares that recent rumors of the assassination of the Emperor of Russia were the outgrowth of the actual finding by the Empress upon her son's bed of a letter announcing that the Emperor and infant were condemned to death, and of the discovery in the Imperial palace of 17 bombs, connected by electric wires, concealed in different parts of the buildings.

DOHERTY OF NORWOOD LEADS THE CITY LEAGUE SCORERS

Fred Doherty, the crack rover of the Norwood Club, is the leader of the City League scorers. So far this season he has scored three or more goals in every game. In fact he has driven the rubber home eleven times in three games. His teammate Alex. Kempt is second in the list, having netted the puck fourteen times in four games. Long, of the Strathconas, is third on the list, with eight goals in three games. Rose is the High Lifes best performer, his tally being ten counters in four games. Leo Quinn, of Lakefield, is fifth, his feat of scoring six goals in the first game boosting his average considerably. Bridgenorth's best performer is J. Cullen, who is down low on the list with an average of one. The Strathconas have proved the most consistent scorers. Six of their men figure in the list of those who have scored more than one goal, while Dobson and Meagher have one each to their credit. The full statistics follow:

	Games.	Goals.	Ave.
Doherty, Nor.	3	11	3 2-3

REVIEW TEAM HAD PRACTICE

Just as in the Olden Days—No Improvement Noticed

ALL THE LEMONS WERE OUT

To an expectant public, the announcement is made that the great Review-Examiner game will be played in the course of the next couple of weeks. Great difficulty has been experienced in getting the Review up to the scratch, but it is thought they have reached a point now where they will not flunk, and it is only a question of arranging the date.

The Review, it is understood, is scouring the country for ringers and has already secured one prize package in McGuire of Orangeville. Not being personally acquainted with that gentleman, we do not wish to hurt his feelings, but after seeing him at practice we are forced to come to the conclusion that he is just about in a class with the rest of the Review bunch, which to any one who has seen the Review, seven on ice means that, as the poet so aptly put it, he is a ham.

The Review team had a practice at Brokc street rink Friday afternoon. It was supposed to be a secret, but one of the bunch let the pass word out and an Examiner man happened to see the practice. He has been in hysterics ever since, and it was not until this morning that "he did a tale unfold" of what he had seen. Among those out were D. B. MacRae, director of ceremonies, who waved his stick around like a railway semaphore, Toyland Yokome, who made a noise in the nets like a sieve, and "Miss" Percy Crane, who made a hit with the ladies. Strathcona Wilson was there trying hard not to look ashamed of the bunch, and Corney Burns of baseball fame sighed for the good old summer time as he made a thrilling slide across the ice. McGuire of Lemonville, or rather Orangeville, (pardon me, the two fruits are so much alike), will have to go pretty hard to hope to catch a place. He has two faults he will have to correct before he will be eligible for the Review—he can play hockey and he can skate. The whole practice was so bad that the audience yelled "Get the hook" all through the workout, and the bunch skated, slid, crawled or were carried down to the south end of the rink, where they remained until the welcome sound of the bell called them to sweet rest.

The Review seven reminds one forcibly of the proverb, "All are not hockey players that go on the ice." Sometimes they are lemons.

SPORTING NEWS AND VIEWS.....

In a friendly game of hockey on Saturday night the Knockers put away seven fast ones from the Machine shop of the C.G.E. Works. The tinale scunded four to nil the Knockers notting the quartette by two goals in each half. The game was, however, a close one and the notching doing sign for the Machinists does not indicate the play.

The teams were as follows:

Henderson ..... Stone

Right wing.
Doris ..... "Skin" Walker

Left wing.
Holland ..... "Daddy" Lacombe

Bill Rose was a very efficient referee and to his watchfulness is due the fact that there was rough work in the game.

For the Knockers, Doris, Hillier and Holland played the game, while the all stars from "Down where the boring mill bores" were on the puck all the time. From one Peter Logan removal to the husky four that failed to play "Home, Sweet Home" in the Knocker nets they were a fast and famous line.

The Edmonton seniors turned out to a good practice last night. The whole forward line was out and in fine working shape. Miller, who has been in the sanitarium with a bad attack of la grippe, was out, and his rest seems to have done him good. If anything he is skating faster than ever. Whitcroft and Boulton were in the game as hard as ever. Harold Deeton was going hard and never was in better condition. Crowley and Holley were playing a defence game and as usual bothered the forwards on every rush.

After the practice a meeting of the executive was held in the Young Liberal Club rooms. It was announced that Battleford had disbanded and therefore dropped out of the league. Haddock, their fast forward, has gone back to his old love, the Winnipeg Maple Leafs, and Shorty Campbell is still in the city. This leaves just Edmonton and Strathcona in the running for the championship. Some changes in the dates will be made, the first to take effect being the change of Friday's game to Thursday evening, February 6, on account of the Bachelors' Ball Friday evening. This game will be played in Edmonton.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Feb. 10.—The opening was active, and decidedly weak today, bank statement considerations, and lower prices for Americans in London being the influencing causes. There was a disposition on the part of some of the bears to cover their short contracts, but they secured their stocks so easily that most of them put them out again on the first opportunity.

The rallies were weak and far between, and the lowest prices for the day were reached about the middle of the afternoon. Better support from banking interests was apparent at this time, and there was a fair rally started and the market still maintained a rising tendency at the middle of the last hour. There is no doubt that the attitude of the President has had much to do with discouraging outside interest while considerable apprehension has been aroused as to reduction in dividends and the absolute necessity of many large corporations and railways to negotiate heavy loans during the next few months.

The fact that good stocks like L. and N., and B. and O., have dribbled away in a fairly settled market like to-day to very near last year's low levels indicates that manipulation in January was for purpose of making a market for stocks on the part of insiders.

Indications point to a continuation of the irregularity but we feel that support will be more manifest and therefore good stocks can be purchased on drives for quick turns.

She hasn't heard of Ferrozone or she would be perfectly well. How quickly it strengthens! What an appetite it gives!

FERROZONE

Makes you strong, healthy, vigorous, happy.

It nourishes the blood, gives the body the right kind of material to build up with. Ferrozone puts color in pale cheeks, makes the whole body tingle with vim and vivacity. No tonic so instant in effect. Thousands of attractive, happy women use Ferrozone—why not you?

Price 50c per box or six for $2.50 at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn. U.S.A.

IN THE FOG

BY

Richard Harding Davis.

COPYRIGHT, 1901, BY ROBERT HOWARD RUSSELL.

"Joseph," he said, "I want you to tell these gentlemen who shot that lion. Who presented it to the Grill?"

Joseph, unused to acting as master of ceremonies to members of the Club, shifted nervously from one foot to the other.

"Why, you—you did," he stammered.

"Of course I did!" exclaimed the young man. "I mean, what is the name of the man who shot it? Tell the gentlemen who I am. They wouldn't believe me."

"Who are you, my lord?" said Joseph. "You are Lord Edam's son, the Earl of Chetney."

"You must admit," said Lord Chetney, when the noise had died away, "that I couldn't remain dead while my little brother was accused of murder. I had to do something. Family pride demanded it. Now, Arthur, as the younger brother, can't afford to be squeamish, but personally I should hate to have a brother of mine hanged for murder."

"You certainly showed no scruples against hanging me," said the American, "but in the face of your evidence I admit my guilt, and I sentence myself to pay the full penalty of the law as we are made to pay it in my own country. The order of this court is," he announced, "that Joseph shall bring me a wine-card, and that I sign it for five bottles of the Club's best champagne."

"Oh, no!" protested the man with the pearl stud, "it is not for you to sign it. In my opinion it is Sir Andrew who should pay the costs. It is time you knew," he said, turning to that gentleman, "that unconsciously you have been the victim of what I may call a patriotic conspiracy. These stories have had a more serious purpose than merely to amuse. They have been told with the worthy object of detaining you from the House of Commons. I must explain to you, that all through this evening I have had a servant waiting in Trafalgar Square with instructions to bring me word as soon as the light over the House of Commons had ceased to burn. The light is now out, and the object for which we plotted is attained."

The Baronet glanced keenly at the man with the black pearl, and then quickly at his watch. The smile disappeared from his lips, and his face was set in stern and forbidding lines.

"And may I know," he asked icily, "what was the object of your plot?"

"A most worthy one," the other retorted. "Our object was to keep you from advocating the expenditure of many millions of the people's money upon more battleships. In a word, we have been working together to prevent you from passing the Navy Increase Bill."

Sir Andrew's face bloomed with brilliant color. His body shook with supposed emotion.

"My dear sir!" he cried, "you should spend more time at the House and less at your Club. The Navy Bill was brought up on its third reading at eight o'clock this evening. I spoke for three hours in its favor. My only reason for wishing to return again to the House to-night was to sup on the terrace with my old friend, Admiral Simons; for my work at the House was completed five hours ago, when the Navy Increase Bill was passed by an overwhelming majority."

The Baronet rose and bowed. "I have to thank you, sir," he said, "for a most interesting evening."

The American shoved the wine-card which Joseph had given him toward the gentleman with the black pearl.

"You sign it," he said.

THE END.

THE COMMISSIONER MAY COME AGAIN

Sets the 28th of This Month for Another Lecture

Commissioner Coombs is very anxious to come back to Peterborough and deliver his address "From Bethlehem to Calvary" in the opera house. The Commissioner has set the 28th day of this month to deliver the lecture and the matter will be brought up before the Salvation Army Board to-night.

The object of the lecture is to provide funds for the renovating of the local barracks and building, or buying a home for the officers' quarters. The barracks is now in a flourishing condition and the societies have very little room to do their work in. The officers' quarters are very small and the Commissioner wants to turn these into class rooms and buy a home for the officers, where they can do their work properly. He also proposes to extend the building and put a new front on it with one big entrance to it. The Board will meet to-night to discuss the matter and if it cannot be arranged for the Commissioner to come on the 28th, he will come immediately after his trip to the Old Country.

The Salvation Army also wish to announce that the band will have charge of the meeting on Thursday night.

FUNERAL OF LATE MR. E. B. STONE

R. train from the west the funeral proceeded to the cemetery, where the usual service was performed by Rev. Canon Davidson. Mr. Stone, while in Peterborough, pursued the profession of lawyer and as a mark of respect all the members of the legal fraternity of the city were in attendance at the funeral.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. W. H. Robertson, Jos. Mills, R. E. Wood, John Green, Geo. W. Hatton and E. A. Peck. The body was accompanied to Peterborough by Mrs. Stone and other relatives of the deceased.

OBITUARY

THOMAS JONES

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Jones of North Monaghan will learn with regret of the death of their five-month-old son, Thomas, who passed away this morning. The funeral will be announced later.

REV. B.J. O'CONNELL

Mrs. Wm Rudkins, of this city, is a niece of Rev. B. J. O'Connell, whose death is recorded in the following despatch:

Mount Forest, Feb. 2.—Rev. B. J. O'Connell, pastor of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, died suddenly during the night. Deceased was 64 years of age and was born in Limerick. He retired about 10 o'clock last night, apparently in the best of health, but this morning when Miss Crowe, the housekeeper, called him, there was no response and on investigation it was found he was dead.

Dean O'Connell has had charge of this parish for the last thirty years, and was very popular amongst his own parishioners and amongst all denominations and his place will be hard to fill. He filled various charges under the diocese of Hamilton and is well known throughout Western Ontario. A brother in Sedalia, Mo., survives, and Father Coty of Hamilton and Mr. Coty, postmaster, Oakville, are nephews.

WEDDING BELLS

NORLEY-PHILLIPS

At seven o'clock this morning the marriage of Miss K. Phillips to Mr. Harry C. Norley was celebrated by Rev. Dr. Langfeldt. Only the relatives were present. Miss Phillips was given away by her brother, Mr. George Phillips, of Toronto. She was becomingly gowned in a tailormade suit of brown broadcloth, with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bride and groom were unattended. Mr. and Mrs. Norley left on the 8 a. m. train for western points and will reside in Welland, Ont.

There Comes a Time
when letters blur, when lines run together, and reading becomes difficult, especially in the evening. This blurring is caused by the eye not being able to focus at the normal reading distance—thirteen inches.
The vision in the distance is as clear as ever, and this fact leads many to believe that glasses are unnecessary, but this is just the time when the first pair of glasses is needed. A continuation without glasses causes an undue strain on the muscles of the eye, and a dull headache is the result, a person gains nothing by going without glasses when they are needed. In fact they gain much by having glasses fitted when the first blur indicates failing vision. ALL WORK GUARANTEED.

SNOWSHOER DROPS THROUGH HOLE IN THE ICE AFTER RETURNING HOME FROM A LENGTHY TRAMP

Drops Through the Ice While Returning From a Tramp—Snowshoes on His Shoulder Save Him

HIS CLOTHING WAS FROZEN

Lindsay, Feb. 11.—(Special.) — Mr. Harold Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. J W Wallace, Colborne street, had an exceedingly narrow escape from death about 9 o'clock last night, on the river opposite the Baker Lumber Company's mill.

Harold, who is in charge of the school at Fairbairn, South Verulam, had walked from Bobcaygeon on snowshoes, being accompanied by Mr. Arthur Phelps, who is engaged in missionary work in Bobcaygeon vicinity.

The pair separated at the mill, Mr. Phelps proceeding to his father's home on St. Paul's street, and Mr. Wallace heading for the family roost-tree on Colborne street. While crossing the river, near the west shore, he suddenly plumped into a hole in the ice and sank down to the neck, further progress being prevented by the snowshoes carried on his back catching on the ice in some way and rendering him valuable service.

He climbed out and continued his homeward journey at a fast pace in order to keep from freezing. When he reached the house his garments were frozen stiff and rattling like a suit of armour. The prompt application of proper remedies warded off all unpleasant results, and to-day Harold is as fit as ever, and mighty thankful for his providential escape from going under the ice.

C.P.R. and Grand Trunk Lose $1,000,000 On Account of Storm Blockades Says Official

MONEY IS NEVER REGAINED

(Montreal, Que., Feb. 11.—(Special). —The Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk Railways estimate that the severe snow storms that have raged for the last ten days have cost them close to $1,000,000, between the greatly increased cost of operation and the enormous falling off in traffic.

A leading official discussing the blockades to-day stated that the railways always found that freight traffic lost during a few weeks in the winter time was never regained, as it always took weeks to get the branch lines in condition that would permit of freight trains being operated, and in this way a very large amount of freight was held back till the opening of navigation, where advantage could be taken of the lower rates on the water lines.

The Grand Trunk state that in no previous winter was so large an amount of money spent in so short a period of time in trying to keep the different lines open. Owing to the storms being confined to Ontario and the Eastern Provinces, the C. P. R. has not suffered to the same extent as it did two winters ago, when the severe storms raged throughout the Western Provinces.

The Canadian Northern Quebec lines were practically closed for the better part of all last week.

Mr. Bert McCollum Home From Sunny Cuba For The Winter

Many Tourists Arriving in Havana —Messrs. Robt. McCollum and Morris Lowry Employed in the Harris Company's Office

WILL RETURN IN SPRING

Mr. Bert McCollum, who left here some time ago in company with Mr. Morris Lowry for Cuba returned yesterday from that southern clime and will spend the remainder of the winter in Canada. Mr. McCollum has been doing exceedingly well since he went to Cuba, but was called back to the city to look after some business.

He was interviewed this morning by an Examiner reporter and told many interesting stories of his trip to and sojourn in Cuba. His face is badly burned, the result of the extreme heat of the Cuban sun.

Describing the trip from New York, he said it was a magnificent one. From the time they boarded the boat at New York until they landed in Havana city every hour was enjoyed. On the first day they could see plainly the sights along the Jersey coast; the big stone buildings as they stood against the sky line formed a pretty sight as the evening wore on. On the second day the land had passed out of sight and they did not see the land again until the last day of the voyage, when the coast of Florida, with its beautiful trees, was plainly visible from the vessel. The landing in Cuba was a novel one. They had left a city where all was hustle and bustle, and they landed in another where the tongue was unknown, the dress peculiar, and the surroundings strange. They were met at the landing by Mr. Robert McCollum, and went to the hotel at which he was staying. Mr. Robert McCollum is accountant for the Harris Company of Havana, and Mr. Lowry secured the position of assistant, and from all reports they are both doing well. The object they had in going to Cuba was to start a tobacco plantation, but they arrived too late in the year. They hope, however, to begin operations in the spring.

The tourist season in Cuba is now at its height and every vessel brings pleasure seekers to Havana. The weather there is very healthy, and the day he left it was 96 degrees in the shade. The tourists all seem to enjoy themselves and return feeling much better after the trip.

If a person desires to see Havana he can hire a coupe for 20 cents an hour, or 17 cents in Spanish money. The carriages are all rubber-tired and the horses are compelled to wear large bells about their necks, or they would be colliding with one another. The insects in Cuba are very destructive and when they get in behind a horse's ear they eat the muscle, and therefore the animals are provided with long brushes attached to their collars, and these keep the insects away.

The Spanis language is very easy to learn and those who wish to become residents must learn it. When he left Cuba Mr. Lowry was learning the language very rapidly, but Mr. R. McCollum had mastered it and was a fluent speaker.

There are several newspapers in Havana, some being English and others Spanish. The worst paper in the city is conducted by an American. The Spanish people are very friendly and much more intelligent than the Cubans.

Mr. McCollum will remain in the city for the winter and will return to Havana in the spring to start the tobacco plantation.

A HARE'S NEST AT OTTAWA

Mr. Sifton seldom speaks in the House of Commons, but when he does he speaks to some purpose. Usually he is roused only by an attack, and on more than one memorable occasion he has completely discomfited his assailants and had the last word.

In winding up the debate on the timber question he countered on the Opposition with crushing effect. Mr. Ames and some fellow-members, aided by the Conservative press, have been engaged in a scandal hunt for some weeks, and have tried to spread the impression that the Government has been alienating the lumber lands of the Northwest with reckless extravagance, for the profit of party favourites. They are covered with ridicule by the facts and figures adduced by Mr. Sifton, who takes full responsibility for the timber policy of the administration. During the last eleven years the Government has sold only 6,400 square miles of timber lands, in an estimated area of 130,000 square miles of timber suitable for lumber in Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan alone. Meantime, outside this area, timber, mostly spruce, has been growing on 592,000 square miles in these provinces, and can be cut once in twenty years. The total annual growth is estimated at 13,440,000,000 feet, and if half of it were cut there would be an annual growth outside of sales of 720,000,000 feet. In one period of three years the previous Government alienated 20,000 square miles of timber limits to satisfy the demands of 100,000 people. The present Government alienated 6,400 square miles to satisfy a population of 800,000.

Timber property in the Northwest, Mr. Sifton declared, had appreciated in value less than other property because the supply was so great. An enormous quantity came in from the United States free of duty and there was an illimitable supply in British Columbia, where timber limits were a drug on the market. The 6,400 square miles sold by the present Federal Government had realized $81 per square mile, while from 1885 to 1905 the Province of Quebec had sold 26,500 square miles of similar territory at $81.16 per square mile, or within a few cents of the price obtained for limits in the Northwest, many of doubtful value. In addition to $528,878 in timber limit bonuses, the Laurier Government receives $30,000 per annum for ground rent, and 50 cents for every thousand feet of timber cut.

The speeches of Mr. Sifton and Mr. Turriff (East Assiniboia), in conjunction, absolutely discredit the former administration, and vindicate the present. Mr. Turriff showed by the records that the Conservative Government gave away 23,987 square miles to senators, members of the House of Commons, and party friends, who paid nothing for their rights. The Opposition made an ill choice of fighting ground when it attacked the Laurier Government on this issue. The timber policy of the last eleven years has been in shining contrast to that of the previous eighteen.—London Advertiser.

Band at Street Railway Rink tonight and Thursday night.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Dominion Government has come to the rescue of western farmers by advancing nearly $3,000,000 for seed grain. The security is perfect and the money will be repaid this year. This timely aid has brightened the outlook for the western provinces.

CHANGE IN THE FARMING WORLD

Will be Published in Peterborough in Future Instead of Toronto

The January number of the Farming World says:

Commencing with its next issue, The Farming World will be published weekly and improved in many respects. The number of pages in each issue will be reduced from an average of 48 to a minimum of 24, but the size of the pages will be enlarged, both in length and width, and our readers will receive 52 copies of the paper during the year, instead of only 24, as heretofore. The first issue as a weekly will appear on February 12.

The converting of The Farming World from a semi-monthly into a weekly publication is going to make possible many improvements. The present departments will be continued with but little if any change. In addition, important agricultural gatherings will be reported promptly. The readers will be able to rely upon receiving full and complete reports of all such events, in The Farming World first of all. Owing to the infrequence of publication it has been found impossible in the past to pay attention to the market reports that their importance has deserved. With a weekly publication this difficulty will be overcome. The market reports will be made one of the main features of the paper. They will cover all the principal products of the farm, they will be up to date, and they will be reliable.

During the summer and autumn months special crop reports will be made one of the main features. They will relate to all the principal farm crops. Hundreds of crop correspondents are being secured. Their reports will be so complete and so reliable that they alone will be worth the subscription price of the paper many times over.

Arrangements have been completed also by which the paper will be printed and distributed from Peterborough, instead of from Toronto. Peterborough is in the centre of one of the most progressive and prosperous farming communities in Ontario. It is an ideal location for the offices of a large, modern agricultural periodical. The expenses of publication at Peterborough will be several thousand dollars a year less than in Toronto. The money thus saved will be used in turning out a better and a stronger paper.

During the past year, as our readers are aware, The Farming World has been improved in many respects. Just a year ago a number of the leading agricultural authorities of the Dominion secured an interest in The Farming World. Under their management the paper has made marked progress. Both the circulation and advertising patronage have shown a great improvement.

WERE MARRIED HALF A CENTURY

Major and Mrs. Leigh Postponed Celebration and Gave to the Poor

The Toronto News of last night contains a tribute to the generosity of Major and Mrs. Edward Leigh, who are well-known in Peterborough, having resided for some time in Lakefield, and visited here often. The News says: "Major and Mrs. Leigh, 50 Albany avenue, who were married fifty years ago to-day at Amherst Island, near Kingston, on account of the distress among the poor of the city, cancelled the "at-home" they had intended holding to-day, and in place thereof contributed $50 to the Baby Fund."

When Major Leigh lived in Lakefield he was a member of the 57th Regiment here, and was in the city often. He was born in the Isle of Wight, and after coming to Canada over a century ago, married Miss Charlotte Rothwell. His friends know him to be a bright and genial gentleman. He is connected with the Crown Lands Department, Toronto.

FARMERS BRING IN THEIR GRAIN

Fine Weather Brings Out People From The Country

Most of the local milling companies experienced an increase in the deliveries of wheat and oats from the surrounding country. The Central mill saw the biggest day during the past few weeks, the interior being rather quiet owing to the condition of the country. The Quaker Oats Company was also busier than usual so far as local oats was concerned. Other mills in the city had their share of wheat the fine weather brought in. Wheat and oats were practically the only grains brought in. The respective prices were 95 and 48 cents a bushel.

THE SNOW PILED INTO PALISADES

City's Forces Do Some Artistic Snowcleaning on Water Street North

Water street north, from Argyle street to the G. T. R. tracks, is lined on both sides with palisades of snow, in some places six or seven feet high. The work was done by the city's forces and has been neatly and effectively done. The snow swept from the street railway tracks has been piled up in banks and then cut smoothly in front. Openings have been left in front of the houses, and the effect is very striking.

TO INSTITUTE LODGE IN LINDSAY

Knights of Pythias Will Journey There To-morrow Night

A team from the local lodge of Knights of Pythias will go to Lindsay to-morrow night to institute a lodge in that town. They were prepared to go last week, but on account of the snow blockades were forced to postpone their visit.

A COUGH COLD IS DANGEROUS.

There are different kinds of colds, and various ways in which they affect different people. Some constitutions will throw off a light cold, while to others it will stick tenaciously. There is one kind—the kind accompanied by a cough, the kind that turns to bronchitis, the kind that ends in consumption — that should never be neglected.

Many a life history would read different if, on the first appearance of a cough, it had been remedied with

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

This syrup contains all the virtues of the "Norway Pine Tree," combined with Wild Cherry Bark, and the soothing, healing and expectorant properties of other excellent herbs and barks.

Mrs. E. S. Akerly, Akerly, N.B., writes "My little boy had such a bad cough he could not sleep at nights. I tried several remedies but nothing seemed to relieve him until I got Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. From the first few doses he commenced to improve, and when he had taken one bottle he was completely cured."

Be careful in purchasing to see that you get the genuine Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark. Price 25 cts.

Eating Carelessly

frequently causes stomach troubles, but careful eating will never right them. When your stomach is out of condition, it needs help that no food can supply. It must be thoroughly cleansed, settled and strengthened. Food never does this.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

are the greatest stomach medicine human skill ever compounded. Don't attempt to cure your stomach by dieting. You will half starve and get little benefit. Give Beecham's Pills a chance and you will again know the pleasures of a sound digestion. Appetite will return and the stomach again work without any discomfort. The skin will clear, the face plump out, while people will remark "How well you're looking." These are facts, not fancies. Prove it yourself.

Prepared only by Thomas Beecham, St. Helens, Lancashire, England. Sold by all Druggists in Canada and U. S. America. In boxes 25 cents.

Situation In Havelock On High License Question

By-law to be Voted On—To Raise Fee to $750—One Hotelkeeper, At Least, Will Refuse to Pay

THE PETITION CIRCULATED

Examiner Special.

Havelock, Feb. 10.—At the December meeting of the village council a deputation of hotelkeepers from town waited on that municipal body and said they paid the same as anyone else in town and demanded that they should have protection from men under the influence of liquor, and suggested that a policeman be appointed. The council acceded to their request and appointed Constable Brill at a salary of $35 a month, which has since been raised to $40. The citizens of Havelock came to the conclusion that if the village had to pay out $35 a month for protection to the hotelkeepers, that the license should be raised. Havelock would likely have voted on and carried local option, only it was too late then. They seemed sorry when they did not vote on local option at the municipal elections this year, while several of the surrounding municipalities, including Norwood, Asphodel and Campbellford voted on and got it.

On January 24 Mr. R. J. Graham of town presented a petition signed by himself and 89 other ratepayers to the council, asking that body to submit a bylaw to the electors to raise the fee for hotel licenses to $500 more than the present fee, or over. The present fee is $250, so that if the bylaw carries it will be raised to $750.

The council could do nothing but submit to the wishes of the people, and on motion of Messrs. Campney and Wood, it was decided to submit a bylaw to the ratepayers.

On January 25 council met at the clerk's office and bylaw No. 236, to raise the license fee, was read a first and second time.

Richard Philips was appointed deputy returning officer and Fred Bennett poll clerk for polling division No. 1, and in Division No. 2 H. T. Andrews was appointed deputy returning officer and C. H. Brewster poll clerk.

The bylaw was published for the first time in the Standard on January 28. It was decided that a vote be taken on the bylaw on Monday, February 24.

There are three hotels in town—the Armstrong House, the Dineen House, and McNichell House. The licenses run out on May 1, and if the bylaw carries the proprietors must pay $750 to secure them for the next year.

One of the hotelkeepers interested, when interviewed, said he would not pay such a high fee and he would close his house if the bylaw carried. Applications for licenses must be made before April 1. If all the hotelkeepers follow the example of the above mentioned one, Havelock will go dry on May 1.

At a meeting of the council Monday night at which a large number of ratepayers was present, Mr. C. A. Ghent addressed the council on behalf of the hotelkeepers, asking for the production of the high license bylaw, which the clerk, having no authority from the council, had refused him. The clerk was instructed to write the solicitor and get his advice on the matter.

On Friday night at a special meeting of the council the clerk read the reply from the solicitor that the hotelkeepers had a right to see whose names were on the petition.

Mr. Ghent called on the clerk Saturday and received a copy of the petition.

For Diseases Of The Skin

THERE IS NO TREATMENT SO CERTAIN TO RELIEVE THE ITCHING AND HEAL THE SORES AS

Dr. Chase's Ointment

The one common feature of nearly all skin diseases is itching, annoying and oftentimes almost unendurable itching.

The strong point about Dr. Chase's Ointment is that by reason of its remarkable soothing qualities it relieves itching the moment it is applied.

But Dr. Chase's Ointment does more than this. It is composed of the greatest healing ingredients known to science, and its healing powers are often described as magical.

Allaying the inflammation, relieving the itching and gradually and naturally healing the raw, flaming flesh, Dr. Chase's Ointment is the most effective treatment for eczema and salt rheum that was ever discovered.

There are many kinds of eczema, and nearly all itching skin diseases come under this head. In children it is known as teething eczema, and many a fond mother will tell you heartfelt gratitude of how her little one was rescued from torturing, itching eczema by the use of this great ointment.

Wherever there is itching skin or a sore that refuses to heal Dr. Chase's Ointment will positively prove effective as a relief and cure.

Miss O. Stanley-Jones, professional masseuse and nurse, 228 Simcoe street, Toronto, Ont., writes:—"In my occupation as a nurse I have come across many cases in which Dr. Chase's Ointment has been used with extraordinary results. One case I recall was that of a child of sixteen months who was in a bad way with scaley heads. It was a real nasty case causing the child to suffer very much and to be very troublesome. I persuaded the mother to use Dr. Chase's Ointment and in ten days the child was entirely cured.

"Another case was that of a lady who was greatly troubled with eczema on the face. The doctor was dosing her with medicine which was doing no good. In this case cure was effected in seven days with only one box of Dr. Chase's Ointment. Both of these cures were lasting."

Dr. Chase's Ointment has an unparalleled record of cures; 60c a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 13

FORMER KEENE BOY DEAD OUT WEST

Mr. J. A. Shaw Passed Away in Calgary —Attended the Collegiate Institute Here

A TRIBUTE BY THE PRESS

The Swift Current Sun, of Swift Current, Sask., contains the following tribute to the late Mr. J A Shaw, who was born in Keene and who for some years attended the Collegiate Institute here:—

The funeral of the late J A Shaw took place on Saturday from the residence of his father-in-law, J Y Donnan. The funeral was largely attended, and there were many floral emblems on the coffin, conspicuous among them being one of the Union of Railroad Operators, and one from the local lodge of Oddfellows. The Swift Current Lodge of Oddfellows marched before the hearse to the grave, where a short burial ceremony was held. The service at the house was conducted by Rev. Mr. Wright and the Rev. Mr. Dalgleish.

Mr. Shaw was born June 24, 1883, in the village of Keene, County of Peterborough, Ontario. After attending the public school at Keene, and the high school at Peterborough, he matriculated in Arts at Toronto University. He commenced railroad work as an assistant, afterwards taking a position as operator at Cookshire, Que., and in the fall of 1902 came west, working successively in Swift Current as night operator, day operator, and Station Agent. During his stay in Swift Current he made many friends, and was universally respected. In October 1905 he took the C.P.R. Company's agency at Clareholm, Alta., and in December of the same year he married Miss Minnie Donnan of Swift Current. During the winter of 1906 his health began to fail, he being forced to resign his position and go to California. On his return in July, 1907, though somewhat improved he was still in poor health. In October he worked for three weeks on the C.P.R. at Notch Hill in the Rocky Mountains, but was obliged to give up and resided from that time in Calgary. Until within forty-eight hours of his death he was apparently in fair health, but he took a sudden change for the worse and died on the 17th inst., his father, Dr. Shaw, of Regina, and father-in-law, Mr. J Y Donnan, of Swift Current, only reaching his bedside a few hours before his death. His mother and wife were in attendance on him from the time he began to decide in Calgary.

It is said on good authority that he became infected with consumption in the station at Clareholm, Alta., which was claimed to have been in a very unsanitary condition, eight other men having previously had the disease while employed there. Much sympathy is felt for his young widow and infant child, as well as for his sorrowing parents.

Editor Post-Card Column.

Dear Sir,—In your issue of February 8 I noticed that the wholesale butchers of Peterborough are not satisfied with the present opposition of the farmers who bring in large sleighloads of meat and dispose of it at wholesale prices. Now, Mr. Editor, in a fair way of thinking, there is no person who has any better right to sell meat than the farmers, who have all the expense and labour in getting the meat ready for market. If our City Council would give such a license it would simply stop farmers preparing any meat for market, and the butchers would be able to buy this meat at whatever price they offered the farmers. Our city people would have to pay them whatever price they put on, and I think that eight months of the year when we can't buy a quantity it quite sufficient to pay the high prices to butchers for their meats. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your valuable space, I remain,

Yours truly,
CITIZEN.

WINTER NUMBER OF ROD AND GUN

Some Splendid Stories In This Number On King Winter In Canada

THE DOG QUESTION AGAIN

When Winter is King in Canada the delights of the Dominion come out in manifold forces. The woods put on new beauties and sportsmen turn to the open, sure of fresh pleasures and increased enjoyments. Winter scenes are so characteristic of Canada, so much misunderstood abroad, and so heartily enjoyed within the borders of our own wide country, that Rod and Gun and Motor Sports in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, at Woodstock, Ont., in issuing a winter number, and directing attention to the wonders of that season in Canada, is doing good service. The delights of a snowshoe tramp are not exceeded by any other form of outdoor pleasure, and experts tell of experiences which make the blood tingle and the longing come again with tenfold force, to again find one's self on the 'shoes. While winter is prominent throughout the number, there is plenty of other fare for the sportsman who may be particularly recommended to the valuable paper on the Woodcock, by Mr. John Arthur Hope, and the fine story of Crossing the Waterways, by Martin Hunter. In addition there are stories of hunting in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and British Columbia, while the echoes of the dog controversy continue to be heard in three short, forceful papers, which form no mean contribution to a question, the full effects of which must be considered by the Legislature ere long. Mountain climbing is given a place, and the departments all display vigourous life and are full of interest. The whole number is such as could only be produced by a magazine having Canada as its field, and both its subjects and in method of dealing with them must interest every sportsman, let his particular hobby in outdoor life be what it may.

DEATH OF A. SCOTT REPORTED

One of the Proprietors of Scott's Emulsion—Business of Firm to Go On as in the Past

WAS A GREAT ADVERTISER

There are many citizens of Peterborough who will be interested in learning of the death of Alfred B. Scott, one of the proprietors of the famous "Scott's Emulsion." He advertised in the Examiner for many years, and in fact was one of the largest advertisers of his day. The Mercantile and Financial Times, in referring to his death, says:

Death has been an all too frequent visitor of late among the prominent business men whose interests are vested in our metropolis, and in the present instance we refer to the despatch from Geneva, Switzerland, telling of the sudden death of Alfred B. Scott, who together with Samuel W. Bowne, organized the firm of Scott & Bowne, owners and promoters of "Scott's Emulsion," which has enjoyed a period of public service since 1874.

The deceased enjoyed a creditable and successful career and the product which bears his name has become recognized as "the" standard in cod liver oil preparations.

In this work-a-day world of ours, however, the law of life appears to be that the wheels of trade must be kept continually revolving. It is, therefore, that we announce the business of Scott & Bowne will be continued along the lines of the past by the surviving partner, Mr. Samuel W. Bowne, upon whom the actual guidence of the concern has practically devolved for many years past.

In view of the continually increasing demand and recognition of the merits and efficacy of "Scott's Emulsion," the announcement of its continuation will be received with gratification by the interested trade and public.

MAKE AN OFFER TO MR. MAHONEY

Board of Works Offer to Pay Him $300 in Settlement of Work

The Board of Works passed a resolution last night offering Mr. Dan Mahoney $300.00 in settlement of his work of carrying the dredgings onto the property which is being filled in west of the spur line. Mr. T. A. S. Hay, the City Engineer, presented his report showing the amount which Mr. Mahoney had already received.

He had drawn 1,214 cu. yds at 8 1-2 cts., for $103.19, and 12,028 cu. yds. at 11 1-2 cts., for $1,383.22, making a total of $1,486.41. Ald Butler believed that Mr. Mahoney should be shown some consideration as for several reasons all the dredgings he had carried could not be measured. Ald. Elliott was of the same opinion and explained the difficulties under which Mr. Mahoney had worked.

Ald. Butler moved, seconded by Ald. Elliott, that Mr. Mahoney be given $300 as settlement of the work and close the question as fairly as possible. Mr. Mahoney's balance was somewhat in excess of this amount but it was believed that he would accept this offer in the spirit in which it was made.

Peterborough Advertised Through Trade Journals

The Papers are Widely Circulated Throughout the World—Those Who Have Charge of Them

MOVING TO PETERBOROUGH

The publication of the three papers, The Canadian Dairyman and Farming World, The Canadian Horticulturist and The Canadian Florist in Peterborough means that the city of Peterborough and district will be more widely advertised in future than ever before. It is doubtful if any other industry that could be secured for the city would advertise it as extensively as will these three papers.

The law requires that each of these papers shall bear the words "Peterborough" on their front covers. This means that every copy of all three papers will be an advertisement for this city. The papers are all national in character and circulate from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The Canadian Dairyman and Farming World is the official organ of the British Columbia, the Manitoba, the Eastern and Western Ontario and the Bedford District Quebec Dairyman's Associations and of the Dominion Ayrshire, Holstein-Friesian and Jersey Cattle Breeder's Associations. All the members of these associations are regular readers of the paper. The average circulation of this paper during the coming year will be about 15,000 a week.

Fruit Grower's Paper

The Canadian Horticulturist is the official organ of the British Columbia, the Ontario, the Quebec and the Prince Edward Provincial Fruit Grower's Associations and of the Ontario Vegetable Growers Associations. These associations subscribe for the paper for all their members. The Canadian Horticulturist has subscribers in England, France, Denmark, Sweeden, Russia, South Africa, India, Australia, Mexico and other distant countries. An advertiser in the paper recently received replies to his advertisement from nearly all the countries mentioned. The average circulation of The Canadian Horticulturist during the coming year will be about 10,000 copies a month.

The Florist

The Canadian Florist is a smaller paper, published every two weeks. It circulates among the professional florists of Canada and is the official organ of the Canadian Horticultural Association. All three papers maintain regular paid correspondents in every province in Canada.

Two Companies

The Canadian Dairyman and Farming World is owned by The Dairyman Publishing Company, Limited, and Farming World, Limited. These two companies will shortly be united into one. Their subscribed capital is over $75,000.

The Canadian Horticulturist and The Canadian Florist are owned by the Horticultural Publishing Company, Limited, which has a subscribed capital of $20,000.

Members of the Staff

The office staff consists of twelve to fifteen employees. The managing director of both companies is Mr. N. Bronson Cowan. Mr. Cowan was formerly Provincial Superintendent of Agricultural Societies. This position he resigned a little over a year ago that he might give all his time to the three papers. He acts, also as editor-in-chief and business manager. Mr. Cowan is secretary of the Ontario Horticultural Exhibition, the Ontario Vegetable Grower's Association and of the Ontario Horticultural Association.

Mr. A. B. Cutting, B.S.A., is the editor of The Canadian Florist. He is the secretary of the Ontario Co-operative Apple Shipper's Association. This association is composed of thirty to forty local co-operative associations that ship about 100,000 barrels of apples a year.

The editors of The Canadian Dairyman and Farming World are Messrs. J. W. Wheaton, B.A., and Mr. G. N. Carpenter, B.S.A.

Mr. George N. Gorman is the assistant business manager and circulation manager of all three papers. All the gentlemen mentioned purpose moving to Peterborough, together with a number of bookkeepers, stenographers and subscription clerks and others.

It is the intention of the management to retain an office in Toronto. This will be in charge of Mr. W. G. Rook, who is the advertising manager for all three papers.

To Reclaim Inundated Land Near Switch On George Street

Mr. H. Strickland, Present Owner, Presents the Question to Board of Works — A Busy Meeting Last Night

SIDEWALKS AND SEWERS

The Board of Works did a great streak of business last night in a two hours' session in which questions from the present dating back to last March were considered and dealt with. There was no time lost in the discussions which were carried through with care and despatch.

Ald. Phelan occupied the chair with Ald. Tovey, Morgan, Buller, Elliott and Mayor Rush present and also the City Engineer, Clerk, Solicitor and the Street Commissioner.

No Payment Granted

Mr. Geo. Curtin wrote the Board asking for $2.00 damages sustained in an accident to his sleigh on George street north of MoDonel street. Mr. Curtin considered that the street was not wide enough to pass. From the evidence of eye-witnesses on the affair the Board considered that if the horses had not been excited the accident would not have occurred. No action was therefore taken.

A communication was received from Alfred Sherwood, asking for payment for work done on sewer connection to Mr. Stabler's residence on Pearl avenue. In doing this work sufficient fall was not allowed and the work was defective. The Board considered that as Mr. Sherwood had been engaged by Mr. Stabler the transaction was between them alone. However, the action of last year's Board was sustained recommending the payment of $13 to Mr. Stabler.

Reclaiming Land

Mr. G W Hatton representing Mr. H. Strickland said that his client owned property in the city which was formerly land but is now covered with water. It is situated south of Matthow's packing establishment between Townsend and Rink streets and east of George street. It is inundated now with water owing to the new dam raising the level. Mr. Strickland's idea was that the city fill in to the street line in order that connection could be made with his property. Mr. Hatton said that Mr. Strickland had been taxed for the land but it was now useless. If the lot were filled in it would make a splendid situation for a wharf which would be of advantage to the factories in the south end. It could be cribbed to the deep water line and filled in, and being wide and deep back from the street would make a good wharf, well situated on the river. Moreover Mr. Hatton said that by filling up this lot the present danger of the spot would be removed. The street railway runs close along the east side of the street and the place is considered very dangerous.

Ald. Elliott moved, seconded by Ald. Tovey, that a special committee composed of Ald. Phelan, Elliott and Butler and Mr. Hay inspect the property referred to and report back to the Committee.—Carried.

Mayor Rush was appointed by the Board to confer with Mr. Dumble regarding a lot which he owns and which is the only one left before George street is entirely opened up.

Smith Street Bridge

Regarding the repairs to the Smith street bridge Ald. Tovey moved, seconded by Ald. Elliott, that the material be obtained at once and the work be commenced as soon as possible. The estimated cost is $275 and as the present season is best suited for the work the Board was in favour of the motion which was carried.

Petitions for Sewers

A petition was received from residents on Donegal street asking that a sewer be constructed on that street from Brock street south a distance of 275 feet. No action was taken as it was not known whether the petition was properly signed or not.

A communication was read from the Board of Health, recommending the construction of a sewer on Rubidge street as a local improvement, and in the interests of the best sanitary conditions of the city. The sewer suggested is from Brock street to 75 feet north of Kirk street. It was decided to take no action at present, but it will likely be dealt with in the spring.

Residents on Margaret avenue petitioned for a granolithic sidewalk on the east side of the street from King street to Charlotte street. Action will be taken at a later date.

Want Snowplow

Residents from the west end of Romaine street asked that the street be snow-plowed. The street had never been snow-plowed before as there is no sidewalk and the road has been always used. Ald. Morgan said these residents were within the city and something should be done for them. He moved, seconded by Ald. Tovey, that the street commissioner be given authority to arrange with Mr. R. Nicholls to plow the part mentioned in the request.

Park Street Drain

Mr. Hay was authorized to have the drain on the west side of Park street, from Albert street south, opened for the spring freshets.

Ald. Bradburn, Phelan, and Elliott were appointed a committee to meet the North Monaghan Council regarding the Park street drain south of the Driving Park. It is at present badly clogged, and in the spring and summer is quite stagnant. The drain should be opened as far as the river. The Board considered that the North Monaghan Council should do something towards keeping it in proper condition.

From the C. G. E. Company

A letter was received from Mr. E. G. Patterson asking that the city keep open the drain on the north side of the new store-room building. This building is on the extreme northeast corner of the lot, Mr. Evans explained, and the drain was required on account of the floor of the building being almost on a level with the surface of the ground. When the drain becomes filled the water flows through the doors to the floor of the building. Mr. Evans explained that he had dug out the drain on several occasions and labourers from the C. G. E. had done likewise.

Ald. Tovey explained that the matter required only a little care, and the request was received.

BOARD COULD NOT GET QUORUM

No Meeting of the Health Authorities Held To-day

The regular meeting of the Board of Health, called for this morning, had to be postponed owing to the fact that there was not a quorum of members present. At 9.30 o'clock, the hour set for the meeting, the only members present were Dr. Geo. Burnham, chairman, and Messrs. Jas. Murty and Jas. Edgar, with the sanitary inspector and medical health officer. There was little business to be taken up, so that the postponement did not matter very much. The sanitary inspector was instructed to look into several little matters that required to be investigated at once.

The Lumber Dispute To Be Settled By Arbitration

Warden Thompson of Havelock Claims $8,525 is Due to Him in Lumber Deal—Peterboro' Men to Give Evidence

CASE BEFORE TRIBUNAL

An interesting case of arbitration is going on in Havelock these days over a dispute in a lumber deal in which Reeve Thompson of that village and the McBurney Company of Toronto, are interested. Some time ago Mr. Thompson sold some timber limits in Chandos and Methuen townships to the McBurney Lumber Company, including a specified number of square miles. This number is not disputed. The two companies, it appears, agreed upon a scaler to measure the logs and both were to abide by his decision. Mr. Thompson claims that all went well until the logs were out at the company's mill. The company, he says, obtained another scaler at the mill and estimated the cut at 100,000 feet or about 25,000 feet less than they anticipated and in view of this retained $8,525 which Mr. Thompson claims is due him yet.

The case came up last week in Havelock before a tribunal consisting of Messrs. John Brown, J.P., of Belmont; L White, Midland, and F B Hodgins, K.C., Toronto, and was adjourned until Wednesday of this week. Mr. Thompson's solicitors are Messrs. W D McPherson, Toronto; and Geo. Sherry, Norwood, while Messrs. R W White, of Pembroke, and Howard Shaver, of Toronto, are acting for the McBurney Lumber Company.

Mr. Thompson was in the city last night looking up witnesses and it is expected that Messrs. Geo. Cochrane, John McGrath and D H Moore will go down to Havelock on Wednesday to give evidence before the Board of Arbitration. All these men have had experience in scaling and are wanted to give expert testimony.

YOUNG PEOPLE OF KNOX CHURCH

Held Successful Social Evening—A Good Silver Collection

The Young People's Society of Knox Church provided an enjoyable evening last night for the large number of the congregation who attended their weekly meeting. It was social night and was spent in the usual way. Rev. Mr. Keith was chairman and opened the programme by an address in which he referred to the work of the young people and the success their weekly meetings were attaining. Besides congratulating them, he urged the rest of the congregation to encourage them in every manner possible, and especially by attending the meetings.

The following programme was presented:—

Mandolin Trio — Messrs. Tovey, Brightman and Cranfield; Miss M. Brightman, accompanist.
Recitation—Miss Greta Lebar.
Vocal Solo—Miss Carr.
Piano Duet—Mrs. Patton and Miss Chilcs.
Vocal Solo—Miss W. Anderson.
Reading—Miss M. Menzies.
Vocal Solo—Mrs. Keith.
Recitation—Miss Eva Bartley.
Vocal Solo—Mr. D. Campbell.

Miss L. Chilcs and Mrs. W. Patton were accompanists.

After the musical numbers were concluded the ladies served refreshments, and the meeting was brought to a close by the assembly singing the National Anthem.

Music and Drama

MARK BROS. THE FOVOURITES

The old favourites, Marks Bros. No. 1 Dramatic Company, opened a week's engagement at the Grand last night before an audience that crowded every part of that play house, a striking testimony to the high place which the Marks Bros.' attractions occupy in the hearts of Peterborough theatre-goers. The vehicle chosen for the opening bill "The Witch of Wall Street," was a strong melodrama in which all the company quickly made themselves favourites. The clever leading lady May A. Bell Marks has lost none of her charm or talent since her last appearance and her acting in the dual role of Jean Ingleside, the woman who loved, and La Belle Marie, the woman who hated, won her fresh laurels. Mr. A. C. Baldwin, the leading support, is no stranger to Peterborough audiences and was given a hearty welcome back to the city.

The specialties were high class and enjoyable, every number being received with warm applause. George Marks, Roslyn and Glory Machan in songs and dances; Ralph Wordley, in songs and monologue; Lyons and Lyons, singers and dancers. The illustrated song, "The Land of the Buffalo" and "Neath the Red Cherry Till Sweet Marie," were all received with marks of approval from the audience. There was not a dull moment in the whole bill and the programme was worthy of the large house.

To-night the strong play "Woman Against Woman," will be presented. The company will be here all week with a matinee on Saturday.

TIPS FOR A VALENTINE PARTY

Now is the Time the Young Ladies are Worrying About the Schemes

There are many young ladies at the present time wondering what they will arrange for their Valentine party. Here are some suggestions:

Have an original valentine or else a suitable quotation ready for each guest, or else ask each to bring one enclosed in an envelope. As each male guest arrives he draws a number from a box. He must then find out the girl wearing the number he has drawn, and she is his valentine for the evening. Or else the men draw from one receptacle a portion of a red cardboard heart, and the girls draw from another receptacle. Partners find each other by matching the irregularly cut hearts.

Arrange behind some curtains a little booth as a postoffice, to which the guests repair in couples to receive their valentines. Then the girl reads aloud her partner's valentine, and he reads hers.

If there is time you can have all kinds of contests. A "yes and no" contest is entertaining. Give each guest a certain number of beans or peanuts. Every time any one answers the questioner with a yes or no he forfeits one of these. The one who keeps the most gets the prize.

All sorts of guessing contests are in order. Hang in a doorway an old sheet or curtain in which is cut holes, through which the girls show only their eyes, the boys to guess to whom the eyes belong. Then the boys show a foot each beneath the curtain, and the girls do the guessing, or else they also can show eyes.

See who can carry the most peanuts on a knife blade from one table to another, giving a prize to the winner.

Have red cardboard hearts for each guest, and see who, from a given distance, can throw it into a waste basket. Prizes for this, too.

Let all the decorations be in red—red gas lamp or candle shades, red bells, poinsettas, or deep carnations, or some other red flower on the supper table, and in the rooms. Have the cakes heart shaped, and iced pink or red, and even the sandwiches heart shaped, and ices can be red, and in heart-shaped cases. If any prizes are given they should be heart-shaped pin cushions, heart-shaped baskets, or photograph frames or other conceits.

At supper tie each pair of spoons together with red ribbon, so that they are only a few inches apart, and see what fun there will be.

THE C.P.R. FOOTBRIDGE AGAIN

Railway Has Not Yet Carried Out Its Promise, It is Said

The question of a footbridge on the C.P.R. bridge came up before the Board of Works last night. Mr. Armstrong stated that a reply had been received from the company stating that a bridge would be constructed to suit the requirements of the traffic on it. Nothing, however, had been done in regard to the matter and on motion of Ald. Tovey and Buller the clerk was instructed to write the company asking that the bridge be constructed as soon as they could see fit. The petition was largely signed by employees of various factories and as the company had expressed their willingness to lay a foot bridge for their convenience it was thought that the question should be again called to the company's attention.

AGREEMENT WITH THE RAILWAY COMPANY

City's Compact With Street Railway Company Will Soon Conclude

The agreement between the City and the Street Railway Company expires this year and the engineer, Mr. Hall suggested to the Board of Works last night that the agreement be examined to find out if the company had fulfilled their part of the compact. Mr. Armstrong explained that they had done all the work agreed upon. After this year there will be a change in the terms that have existed. There has been a feeling among the citizens that the company had not done their share in the way of extending the line but Mr. Armstrong pointed out that they had.

A GOLD WATCH TAKEN FROM RINK

Hockey Player Was Robbed While Game Went On

While the game between Forms II and III of the Collegiate Institute was in progress, between five and six o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Brock street rink, some light-fingered individual took advantage of the opportunity to steal a gold watch and chain, the property of one of the members of Form II seven. In going on the ice he left his watch in his coat in the dressing room upstairs and after the game was over discovered that the timer and chain was gone. The identity of the thief is pretty well known and unless the property is returned at once he is liable to find his liberty suddenly cut off.

WARKWORTH MAN WAS STALLED

Member of Delegation of North Oxford Farmers' Institute

Mr. George Carlaw, of Warkworth, and Miss Isobel Rite, of Hespeler, members of the delegation of the North Oxford Farmers' Institute, have been snow-stalled at the Hotel Oxford since Thursday last. The meeting at Cassel, Hickson, and Braemar had to be cancelled owing to the roads being blocked by the snow drifts. An effort was made on Thursday to reach Cassel, but in vain. The delegation expect to reach Embro on Monday for the meetings advertised there, and Thamesford for Tuesday, the 11th inst.—Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

THE COAL DEALERS HAVE SUFFICIENT

There Might Be a Shortage in a Particular Size, However

Editor Examiner.

Dear Sir,—In last evening's Examiner appears an article predicting a coal famine in the city as a result of the railway blockades. This information may have been given without a true knowledge of the conditions, as while there may be a shortage in one particular size, a sufficient stock of coal is held by the different dealers in the city to meet the requirements for some time to come.

C. G. E. WHISTLE DID IT ALL

Scared Horse Which Became Excited and Damaged Cutter

The animal mind is apparently easily excited. Anything of a sudden and alarming nature disturbs his mental equilibrium as quickly as an electric flash, and in terror or perhaps on account of a phase of his nature, which mortals do not understand, he seeks safety in immediate flight from the danger spot. The horse, like the other members of the animal family, has an instinctive dread of being taken unawares by a sudden sound. The ordinary horse expects, when he observes a train go by, that it will whistle, but if a small boy fired off a gun beside him there is every likelihood that there will be something doing.

To-day at noon the C. G. E. Company's whistle at ten minutes to one blew loud and strong, frightening a livery horse that was standing in Mr. Thos. Lee's yard. According to eye-witnesses, the horse made frantic efforts to get away, but the cutter to which it was attached prevented these airy notions from being materialized. However, it made up for this by a few circus stunts in the yard, which were daring enough, but also destructive to the bright red livery cutter. Before the horse was stopped it had played a solo on the cutter, with the result that nothing more than the box was left to return to the livery proprietor. The horse had been hired by a friend of Mr. Lee's, who was visiting him at the time.

MORE ASSISTANCE FOR RELIEF FUND

Sunday School Class Gives $10—Plenty at Relief Restaurant

The Children's Aid Relief Fund Committee acknowledge the receipt of $10 from Mr. Geo. Tovey's young ladies Bible class of the Charlotte street Methodist church, and $2 from a friend. The fund is steadily growing and the Committee is able to furnish abundant supplies for the relief restaurant, the propriety of the establishment of which has been justified by the results obtained.

MENDELSSOHN CHOIR

The Mendelssohn Choir have not yet reached the limit of their development either from an interpretative or technical point of view, judging from the initial concert of their annual festival last night at Massey Hall. The mandate has not yet been given to them: "Thus far and no farther shalt thou go." Before an immense audience that did not show a single seat unoccupied they demonstrated that they surpassed all their former achievements. Impressive and colossal in volume of tone as was their singing last season, their compact, solid sonority and seizing power of sound was last night even greater. It must be mentioned that there appeared to be a larger choir than usual, and, in fact, the printed list of members gave their number as two hundred and thrity-seven, which, considering the quality of the voices, is an exceptionally strong body of singers. But the triumph of the ahul, the genius of the conductor, Dr. Vogt, was evidenced in the fact that these two hundred and more vocalists sang with the unanimity of tone and attack, of shading, phrasing, and articulation of a superb symphony orchestra, taken either by sections or in the mass. The co-operation of the Theodore Thomas Orchestra made a glorious combination, and the choir have at last found an orchestra whose distinction in timbre and tonal beauty is equal to their own.—Toronto Globe.

Invalid Ladies

This Is For You.

There are thousands of females who suffer untold miseries common to their sex.

This is largely due to the peculiar habits of life and fashion, and the improper training of girlhood. Then, too, the physical changes that mark the three eras of womanhood (the maiden, the wife, and the mother) have much to do with her sufferings, many of which are endured in silence, unknown by even the family physician and most intimate friends.

To all such whose hollow cheeks, pale faces, sunken eyes and feeble footsteps, indicate nervousness, palpitation of the heart, weak, faint and dizzy spells, we would earnestly recommend a course of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. Jos. Sharp, Brighton, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with palpitation of the heart, weak spells and nervous trouble, and found no relief until advised to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I got one box and that helped me so much I sent and got five more. I am now cured completely."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. per box or three boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

JEWS START ON TRIP TO TORONTO

Drive Their Horses Instead of Shipping Them in a Car

Burned out by the fire which turned them into the streets last week, two of the Mandall brothers set out for Toronto Sunday morning driving two horses, having planned to reach their destination in three days. They were probably disheartened by the hand which fate had shown in the game of every-day events, and decided that Peterborough was no place for them. They did not wish to incur the expense of shipping their team of steeds to Toronto and hence hitched them up, and even saved their own fares. Stronger horses than those the Jews drove have been seen, and it is hoped no unforeseen accident happens in the three days' flying trip to Toronto.

VASELINE NO GOOD FOR HAIR

Dandruff Germs Thrives in it, as Well as to all Grease

A well-known Chicago hair specialist invited the Inter-Ocean reporter to come to his office and see, under a microscope, how the germ that causes dandruff thrives in vaseline. The specialist said that all hair preparations containing grease simply furnish food for the germs and help to propagate them. The only way to cure dandruff is to destroy the germs, and the only hair preparation that will do that is Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Without dandruff, no falling hair, no baldness. Ask for Herpicide, it is the only destroyer of the dandruff germ. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes—50c and $1. McDermid & Jury and the Market Drug Store, Special Agents.

NEW MANAGERS WERE RECEIVED

Board of Managers of Knox Church Hold Meeting

The Board of Managers of the Knox church held a meeting last night when the three new members of the Board were received. They were Messrs. A McKenzie, G Smith and G J McCannon. No particular routine business was transacted. Mr. D. Hamilton was selected as chairman but as he had held the position before, he declined to accept it this year. Mr. Andrew McKenzie was therefore chosen for the position.

On account of the recent storms in Ontario which blocked up the railways so badly the Ontario Horse Breeders Exhibition has been postponed and the Excursions from the various points set for Feb. 11th, 12th, 13th and 14th have been cancelled. The cheap rates therefore advertised by the Grand Trunk for the above mentioned dates will not be given.

THEIR POWERS EXTEND TO HALIBURTON

More Work For the Local Children's Aid Society

The Children's Aid Society has now a wider area to look after than before. Mr. J. J. Kelso has written Mr. E. L. Goodwill, secretary of the society, giving Mr. Geo. Conrans a certificate, by which he has authority over the county of Haliburton as well as Peterborough, as agent of the society.

By the addition of this new district the local society has perhaps one of the largest areas in the Province to look after.

Drummond Postoffice Burned.

Peterboro, Feb. 11.—The house and barns of Robert Carey, postmaster at Drummond station, were completely destroyed by fire early yesterday. The loss is estimated at $5,000, and the cause of the fire is unknown. All the papers, letters and other mail matter in the postoffice were burned.

Immigrants In Collision.

St. John, Feb. 11.—St. John traffic on the Intercolonial was suspended for several hours yesterday morning by a collision between an immigrant specially and the regular passenger express at Upper Dorchester. Six passengers were hurt, but not seriously.

FROST THREE FEET IN THE GROUND

Earth as Hard as Granite—Breaks Two Crowbars

Employees of the Gas Company in making an excavation on George street yesterday for the purpose of making some repairs, found that the frost had penetrated the ground to a depth of three feet from the surface, with the result that the ground has frozen as hard as granite. Great difficulty was experienced in making the excavation and so hard was the ground that two crow-bars were broken in the effort. Finally, with a drill and hammer, the workmen got below the frost level and their troubles were over. Two days have been spent in the work. The company has several new services to install on George street, and the task promises to be no easy one.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Feb. 11.—The opening was decidedly nervous, with mixed changes, sharp fractional gains being recorded among leading issues. London prices came over much lower, due to selling for New York account, and there was particular pressure on the Harriman issues.

That the weakness in London, however, was manipulated from this side in order to furnish the bears better opportunity to cover their contracts were soon apparent, for although the early market continued very erratic, a marked up-trend soon developed under the influence of the demand from the shorts.

The bear party at times tried to break the market by a sharp raid on Penna. and other issues, but was confronted by a great deal better support than recently manifest, so that the floor element for the most part took the bull side. Considerable strength was noted in the case of the Hill stocks, Reading and other coalers.

The day's news contained items concerning the re-opening of various plants and the closing down of others. These matters about counterbalanced each other, but in our opinion the industrial situation shows little change if any, for the better.

A decline in the copper metal prices all around disclosed the poor condition in the trade. London bought a few shares here, but no doubt will be quick to sell on any further rally. There was a heavy selling movement in the last few minutes and the market closed quite weak.

We look for a continuation of the irregularity and perhaps the bears will be successful in bringing about a somewhat lower level of prices, but in such event we would buy stocks for quick turns.

THE HOCKEY SITUATION IN THE TRENT VALLEY LEAGUE

Examiner Special.

Havelock, Feb. 10.—As about half the games in the Trent Valley League have been played and many of the sports are waiting to see where to place their money, it might be well to give a few words on the chances of each of the teams.

In district No. 2, made up of Norwood, Keene and Hastings, Norwood will likely win out. If Keene can defeat Norwood on their own ice on Feb. 21, it will be a tie between Keene and Norwood for District No. 2. As Doherty is off the Norwood line-up this will likely be a very interesting game.

The following is a list of games in this district:—
Jan. 11—Keene at Hastings; won by Keene.
Jan. 17—Hastings at Norwood; won by Norwood.
Jan. 25—Keene at Norwood, won by Norwood.
Jan. 31—Hastings at Keene; won by Keene.
Feb. 8—Norwood at Hastings, won by Norwood.

Standing of District No. 2:

	Won.	Lost.	Play.
Norwood	3	0	1
Keene	2	1	1
Hastings	0	4	0

Norwood yet to play at Keene, Feb. 21st.

Following is the list of games in District No. 1:
Jan. 13—Marmora at Havelock, won by Marmora.
Jan. 17—Tweed at Madoc, won by Madoc.
Jan. 22—Madoc at Marmora, won by Madoc.
Jan. 27—Madoc at Havelock, won by Madoc.
Jan. 29—Tweed at Marmora, won by Marmora.

STRATHCONAS MAY PLAY AN ALL STAR PICKED SEVEN

The probabilities are that the Strathconas, who are virtually recognized as City League champions, will be seen in action in the near future against an all-star seven selected from the rest of the City League teams. Such a game would prove a great success and could not fail to attract a lot of interest in the hockey world. For the all-star team, the following have been selected, and when they get going together the Straths will have troubles of their own:—

Goal, Thornton, High Lifes.
Point, Nicholl, Norwood.
Cover, Ferguson, High Lifes.
Rover, Quinn, Lakefield.
Centre, Kempt, Norwood.
R. Wing, Ross, High Lifes.
L. Wing, Doherty, Norwood.

On paper, the team looks like a most formidable organization. Doherty, Ross and Quinn lead their respective teams in scoring, and Kempt is second on the City League list, with Doherty first, Ross fourth and Quinn fifth, so that the scoring department would be well looked after. All the men are regarded as star forwards, while the defence from goal out is strong and well balanced.

The arrangements are under discussion and it is likely the game will be played as the Strathconas are anxious and the members of the other team seem willing to play.

TOMMY BURNS STOPPED JACK PALMER EASILY LAST NIGHT

London, Feb. 10.—Tommy Burns, the Canadian heavyweight pugilist, tonight knocked out Jack Palmer of Newcastle, the English champion, in the fourth round of what was scheduled to be a 20-round contest for the heavyweight championship. Some 2,000 persons saw the fight, which took place at Wonderland, a big music hall, on the East Side, but it was a one-sided affair from the sound of the first gong until the middle of the fourth round, when Palmer, on his knees, was finally counted out.

The referee might have given a decision in the first minute of the contest, as Palmer was a beaten man from the moment he entered the ring. Burns climbed under the ropes smilingly and showing his customary confidence, while Palmer displayed great nervousness. Without any preliminary sparring Burns went after him, and the first round had hardly begun before the Englishman was on his knees. He took the count twice, and during the rest of the round was busily engaged in covering himself. This was repeated in each of the other rounds, Palmer being hopelessly outclassed, and apparently without ability either to deliver a telling blow or to defend himself. In the final round he was sent to the floor several times, and at last was barely able to drag himself to his knees, where he remained with his elbows on the floor until after the count of ten had been tolled off.

Jem Roche, who has been backed by a syndicate headed by Richard Croker, the former Tammany leader, to fight Burns in Dublin on St. Patrick's Day, was a spectator at the ringside to-night. His only comment was, "Palmer fights like an old woman, while Burns is a master of the art, and besides, was in splendid condition."

The fight was for $2,500 a side and 75 per cent. of the gate receipts. The odds were 6 to 4 on Burns, but there was very little betting.

FORM II WON A HARD CONTEST

Defeated Form III of Collegiate Institute Last Evening

A most exciting game of hockey was played at Brock street rink yesterday afternoon between teams representing Forms II. and III. of the Collegiate Institute. The game was hard fought from start to finish and there was little to choose between the two. Form II. led at half-time by 5-2, but the lower grade team came strong on and well rattled in four goals in the second half, getting the last just before time was called. Mr. H. Cameron gave satisfaction as referee.

The teams were as follows:

CRESSMAN'S BEAT THE JEWELLERS

Dry Goods Men Took a Fall Out of the Diamond Kings

Cressman's team added another to the bunch of scalps dangling at their belts by defeating the Jewellers in a hard fought battle at Brock street rink last night by 3-1. One of the Watchmen failed to get around on time, and the team played six men against seven. Even with this handicap the score at half-time was a tie, 1-1. Cressman's dropped Temple at half-time, and with the teams even managed to out-score the Diamond Kings, getting two goals in the last half. All their goals were netted when Goal-keeper Wasson was absent. Clarke and Wasson were the best for the losers, while Tisdale and Darling were Cressman's best. The teams:—

SPORTING NEWS AND VIEWS.....

The undefeated B.T. Co. septette added another laurel to their long list by defeating last night, Matthew's Packing House, by four to one. The score at half time was 3—0, at full time 4—1. The game was a good exhibition of hockey all through, both teams playing well. For the Bellringers Wade, Leitch and Genyeau played hard games. A special note might be made of H H Leitch's checking and lifting. The telephone boys were greatly disappointed in not seeing the fair sex at the game, as they always give them courage with their sweet voices.

Goal—Bremner.
Point Bruce.
Cover point—Leitch.
Rover—Wade.
Centre—Genyeau.

The B. T. Co. septette do hereby challenge the English Canoe Hockey team to a game of hockey to be played as soon as arrangements can be made for the rink.

The Lindsay Post consumes a whole page in telling how their curlers won the Ontario Tankard this year. If they win the Intermediate championship of the O. H. A. the paper mills will have to be moved up there.

A DENIAL.

The Examiner is given to understand that the Review to-day will contain a bitter attack upon the members of the Examiner hockey team. Knowing the Review methods the Examiner to-day has no hesitation in utterly denying the charges without waiting to see the article.

There will be no city league game this week, the Bridgenorth-Strathcona contest, the only one of the series left to be finished, having been postponed until next week.

Fred Whitcroft, of the Edmonton hockey club, is in Vancouver, British Columbia, and a number of his friends have received postcards from him from that place.

Norwood and the Strathconas have not yet been able to arrange the much-talked of game between the two teams, but they may get together next week. Some of the Norwood players do not seem anxious to play the games, but it is thought that they will come around alright. Many local people think that Norwood can trim the Strathconas and the game is attracting a lot of interest in the city.

The Lindsay Post says: Peterborough curlers shared with Lindsay in the glory of winning trophies at the recent meeting of Ontario Association cracks in Toronto. The Peterborough men were not in the Tankard competition, but they had their eyes on the Governor-General's Cup, another trophy of consequence second only to the Tankard, and despite the fact that they have been homeless since the burning of their rink, and as a result have had little practice, Skips Frost and Foote succeeded in annexing the trophy, winning out from the Toronto Granites in the final by 55 shots to 38. Congratulations.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. John Quibbel are Married Fifty Years—Have a Son in Peterborough

SNOW MARRED ATTENDANCE

The Fenelon Falls Gazette gives the following account of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. John Quibell, who have relatives in Peterborough who were unable to attend on account of the storm.

On Wednesday last, February 5th, Mr. and Mrs. John Quibell celebrated at their home on Elgin street, in this village, the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding, they having been married just half a century ago at Blythe, by the Rev. Daniel Wright, the clergyman then in charge of the Baptist church at that place. Mr. and Mrs. Quibell are both natives of England, the former having come to Canada from Nottinghamshire in 1851, and the latter, whose maiden name was Ann Wilson, from Yorkshire in 1854. They both lived in Fenelon Township, near Zion, before their marriage, and for a few years after the event. They then moved into the village, where they have resided ever since, and have always enjoyed the esteem and respect of every citizen. The celebration of their golden wedding was somewhat marred by the terrific storm which raged on that day, causing several members and relatives of the family to be "snowbound" in Lindsay, and rendering it difficult for those in town to reach the house; but otherwise the occasion was a most happy and enjoyable one. Of thirteen children born to Mr. and Mrs. Quibell, twelve are still living. These are Mrs. George Kelly, Mrs. H. J. Carter and Mrs. W. J. Kellett, of Toronto; Messrs. Charles and Albert Quibell, of Lindsay; William, of Peterborough; Frederick, of Montana, U. S.; George, Thomas and Robert, who, with their families, reside at the Falls, and Arthur and Miss Martha, who live with their parents. There are thirty-two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Those from outside points who attended the golden wedding were Mrs. Wm. Brasnd, of Port Hope; Mr. and Mrs. George Kelly and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Carter and family, and Mr. and Mrs. J. U. Barkey and family, of Toronto. Those who were expected, but were prevented owing to the storm were Messrs. Charles and Albert Quibell and their families, of Lindsay; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mills, of Coldwater; Mr. Wm. Quibell and family, of Peterborough; Mr. Fred Quibell, of Montana; Mr. George Quibell, who is at present employed in Cavendish Township; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lithgow, of Toronto and Mrs. LePage, of Lindsay. Many congratulations were received by telegraph from those unable to reach the village, and Mr. and Mrs. Quibell were the recipients of a large number of handsome presents.

WHAT ABOUT A POULTRY MEETING?

"Feathers" Would Like to Hear Something of Proposed Organization

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I noticed some little time ago in the press, that there was a proposal on foot to form a Poultry Association in this city. The idea is commendable and worthy of the fullest consideration. However, of late I have not heard anything definite regarding the idea. Have the promoters lost their enthusiasm? I feel certain that an association, such as that proposed, would be an excellent thing. Many people who are not "fanciers," in any sense of the term, admire a bunch of pure-bred fowl, no matter of what particular breed, and would give such an association their moral, if not their active, support. Let the promoters go ahead, fix a date for a meeting, organize, elect officers and hear the proposed association.

Yours truly,
"FOR UTILITY."

THE LOCOMOTIVE WORK CURTAILED

Production is Curtailed by a Shortage of Orders—1000 Men Laid Off

Philadelphia, Feb. 12.—(Special.)—Ten thousand men have been laid off since December by the Baldwin Locomotive works of this city because of a lack of orders for engines. Samuel M. Vauclain, a member of the firm, in speaking of the conditions at the works, said:

"Lack of orders not only from American but European sources has compelled us to lay off about 10,000 men since December. Japan is in financial trouble and is sending us no orders at all. It is the same everywhere, not only in America, but the countries from which we have received orders."

BLIND BUT MEMBER OF CONGRESS

Senator Gore From Oklahoma a Wonderful Personage

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.—(Special.)—Nobody about the halls of Congress is more asked about by persons in the galleries than Senator Gore of Oklahoma, the blind Senator. He is absolutely blind, but by years of training he manages to put up such an excellent bluff at acting like other Senators that it is difficult to convince a spectator he cannot see.

He sits at his seat and pays the most careful attention to the proceedings as he must rely on memory to do for him what eyesight does for others. His memory is marvellous.

Senator Gore writes almost all his own letters, and spends much of his time, when not required to follow legislative proceedings, doing this work. His method is interesting. He lays a piece of paper on his desk and then along the left hand edge of it lays a little ruler on which are a series of small knots, at intervals, representing the distance between lines of writing.

A WORTHLESS CHEQUE FROM GROOM

Pastor Receives Generous Sum but There Were No Funds in Bank

New York, Feb. 12.—(Special.)—Rev. George Clark Houghton, rector of the Church of the Transfiguration, does not reveal the name of the man who gave it "for his wife's sake," the clergyman said last night, but he admitted, when questioned, that after performing a marriage service recently he was rewarded with a cheque from the bridegroom for $25 which, when presented at the designated bank, proved to be worthless.

"I dislike to discuss affairs of this sort," Dr. Houghton said last night, "but I cannot deny that this man did hand me a cheque, which a few hours after I got it was refused at the bank. He began to give me a cheque for $15. His bride turned to him and said, 'Be generous, dear.'

"'I shall be generous,' answered this remarkable young man. 'Dr. Houghton,' he said to me, 'I shall give you this cheque for $25, sir.'"

NURSE FED PINS TO THE BABY

A Dangerous Practise That Almost Proved Fatal

Examiner Special

New York, Feb. 12. — Confessing that because she wished to have more "time off" in the household of William J. Purdy, a wealthy resident of Rockville Centre, L.I., she made Mr. Purdy's two-year-old boy swallow match heads, safety pins and ordinary pins so the child would have to be cared for by its mother, Aurelia Lightbourne, a coloured nurse, was placed in Nassau county jail on a charge of assault in the second degree. The girl was crazy about going to dances.

The infant is in no danger at present.

There Comes a Time
when letters blur, when lines run together, and reading becomes difficult, especially in the evening. This blurring is caused by the eye not being able to focus at the normal reading distance—thirteen inches.
The vision in the distance is as clear as ever, and this fact leads many to believe that glasses are unnecessary, but this is just the time when the first pair of glasses is needed. A continuation without glasses causes an undue strain on the muscles of the eye, and a dull headache is the result, a person gains nothing by going without glasses when they are needed. In fact they gain much by having glasses fitted when the first blur indicates failing vision. ALL WORK GUARANTEED.

SOME ENORMOUS RAVAGES ARE BEING MADE BY THE WOLVES SAYS OLD HALIBURTON HUNTER

Many Deer Slaughtered This Year On Account of the Deep Snow —They Are Easily Caught

THE DECLINE OF THE DEER

An Examiner reporter met an old hunter at a local livery barn to-day who tells some interesting tales of the wild animals of the north and particularly of the decline of the deer.

"Are there any being killed now?" asked the reporter.

"Yes, the ravages of the wolves this year have been greater than for many seasons on account of the depth of the snow."

The hunter hails from the north-western portion of Haliburton County where the wolves roam about in hungry troops and prey upon other wild game of the forest.

"Have they any difficulty in running down the deer," was asked.

"None in the least. The deer's feet out through the snow no matter how hard the crust is while the wolf trots along and secures his terror-ized victim with no trouble."

"Is there no remedy for such a slaughter?"

"Raise the bounty. It is now $15 per head and possibly if it were $25 for a few years the number of wolf hunters would be doubled."

Heard Them Howl

He told the reporter that it was a frequent occurrence in the north where he spent the greater portion of his days to hear from the shanty the howling of the timber wolves as they pursue the deer through the forest.

"Is that the only cause for the decline of the deer?" was asked.

"Oh, no," he remarked, "the increase in the number of hunters during the past few years and also the cheapness of firearms as compared with the prices 10 years ago have a great deal to do with the decrease."

He also attributed the killing off of the deer to the wilful ignoring of the game laws and said that if he were the maker of the regulations he would allow only one deer to each hunter and that he would have well paid inspectors travel the province to lessen illicit hunting.

A Good Season

The reporter inquired about the trapping in the north and was told that rat and mink had been plentiful on the rivers and marshes, in Haliburton and Hastings. The red fox was plentiful and his furs which were disposed of at Lindsay and Peterborough proved that the past season had been a profitable one for him.

Thirteen Districts Made For The Religious Census

Committee Met Last Night—Supervisors Appointed for Each of the Districts

CHURCHES ASKED TO ASSIST

The general committee representative of all the churches and Sunday schools met last night for the purpose of completing the organization and making arrangements for taking the religious census of the city. The work will be done on the afternoon of Wednesday, March 11th. At last night's meeting the city was divided into thirteen districts, and a supervisor appointed for each, whose duty it will be to lay out the work for the visitors, to see that they are supplied with the necessary information and cards and receive the returns.

Arrangements were made for securing the 200 visitors necessary to do the work and each church will be asked to supply its share. It was considered desirable that the names of the visitors should be in the hands of the secretary not later than Monday, the 16th instant.

Mr. R. Lees was chosen chairman of the committee, and Mr. J. S. Knapman, secretary.

MEETING TO ORGANIZE A POULTRY ASSOCIATION HERE

Will be Held Next Tuesday Evening in Council Chambers—All Interested Have Invitations

OFFICERS WILL BE ELECTED

The promoters of the scheme to organize a Peterborough Poultry Association mentioned some time ago in the Examiner have not been idle. By industrious application to the work of making arrangements for the meeting, they have everything ready to organize on Tuesday evening of next week, Feb. 18th.

The meeting will be held in the City Council Chambers and any interested in the formation of a Poultry Association in Peterborough are urged to be present. Many have expressed their appreciation that such a move was being contemplated, and the promoters of the proposition now desire that all these attend the opening meeting next Tuesday and by their presence lend their active support.

Printed postal cards are being sent out to those who already are known to favour the idea but the attendance will by no means be limited to those who receive them as all interested are asked to be present.

If the proposal is favoured next Tuesday an organization will be formed when officers and committees will be elected.

Peterboro's Pedestrian Off To The South To-morrow

Will Be Accompanied by A Local Citizen to Kansas City—Race Begins Feb. 24th

HE IS IN GOOD CONDITION

David Hartley, Canada's long distance champion walker, leaves Peterborough to-morrow night for the State of Missouri, where he begins his six-day grind in Kansas City on Monday, February 24th.

The pedestrian is in the best of condition and is confident that he will make a good showing in the south against the Yankee heel and toe men of fame.

The trip will last about two days and a half and Mr. Hartley expects to arrive in Kansas City on Sunday. Next week "Davey" will get down to training for his long tramp on Missouri soil.

His Peterborough friends in sympathy with his attempt to capture the world's long distance championship may leave subscriptions with Mr. R. J. Munro or at the Examiner office, and they will be giving assistance in arranging the matter.

HE FELL INTO THE ASH PIT

Could Not See On Account of the Steam From His Engine

William Elliott, son of Mr. John Elliott, of Peterborough, met with an accident in the G.T.R. yards at Belleville that will incapacitate him for some time. He is an engineer on the Middle train, and when in the yards at Belleville a few nights ago fell into an ash pit. Owing to the steam from the engine, he was unable to see where he was going. While not seriously injured, it was necessary to take him to his home in Malden.

Health and Vitality for old People

As old age creeps on vitality is lowered, the heart beats more slowly, the blood becomes thin and watery, and the power of resistance is lessened. It is the old people above all others who require the new life and energy, which come with the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Thousands of old people depend on this treatment, because it calms and quiets the nerves, gradually and certainly enriches the blood, builds up the system and instils new life and vigour into their shrivelled arteries.

FUNERAL THROUGH SNOW DRIFTS

Horses Could Not Proceed With Sleighs Through Deep Snow

The funeral of the late Mrs. S. McConkey was held yesterday afternoon from the family residence to the Lakefield cemetery. The road on the west side of the river was used, and those who attended the funeral had an unusual experience owing to the condition of the road. Communication between Lakefield and Peterborough has been over the road on the Douro side, and that chosen for the funeral is in bad shape and practically unbroken.

The result was that the horses had to be unhitched from the sleighs several times, and progress was very slow.

A FIRE IN A PANTRY CAUSES LOSS OF $100

In the Residence of Mr. John Kerr, Hunter Street—Plenty of Smoke

A pantry blaze at the residence of Mr. John Kerr, 464 Hunter street, East City, at four o'clock yesterday was the cause of a loss estimated at $100. The origin of the fire was a mystery as there was nothing in the pantry that would ignite, so far as the owners of the house know. At first the fire could not be located, but finally by the assistance of neighbours, it was discovered before serious damage was done. A few pails of water was all that was necessary, and the anxiety was all over in a short time.

The fire brigade made a quick run to the east but their services were not required. There seemed to be more smoke than fire and this did considerable damage to the kitchen, as well as to the dishes, flour and eatables in the pantry.

THE CONSCIENCES OF THE POWERFUL

Dr. Parkin regretfully confesses that while Sir John Macdonald allowed himself to ponder upon the dictates of political morality, he was accustomed to ignore them for the sake of keeping himself in power. That, of course, is what Sir John meant when he contemplated the possibility that men more wicked than he might profit if he always did what his conscience told him was right. This theory, that whatever he did was sanctified by his high and holy purpose to control the reins of power, was already embalmed in the report of his last speech on the Pacific scandal, where he urged that whatever he did was done for the benefit of his country. Some say the speech was not thus delivered, but was written for him. If so, whoever wrote it doubtless knew him pretty well, and the sentiment was never repudiated. Indeed, if Dr. Parkin is going to be hypercritical about the morality of great men, it is hard to see how he can continue in enjoyment of the munificence of Cecil Rhodes. There is no record that the dictates of conscience were ever allowed by that worthy man to interfere with the accomplishment of his purposes. There holds against him the bitter testimony of Mr. Schreiner, given before the Special Committee on the Raid, of how he, the head of a Cabinet, had wantonly deceived his colleagues who trusted him. Bismarck, too, had something of a reputation in his day, but he deliberately, with a bare-faced lie, brought on the carnage of the war with France. Walpole, cynically buying the good-will of Parliament that he might keep England at peace; Richelieu, ready to treat men as though they were carrion if so he could secure the dependence of the nobles upon the King; Clive, marvelling at his own moderation while he won and held India; Nelson, with the morals of a monkey joined to the soul of a hero; all of them have been held excused by those whose gospel is accomplishment. The supreme trial of a man comes when he is put in possession, or puts himself there, of great power. Sir John Macdonald was not the only one who failed to stand the test in all departments.—Montreal Herald.

Mild Threat Was Made Against Lakefield Hotelman

Examiner Special.

Lakefield, Feb. 12.—Mr. Chas. McBride, of the Commercial House, received the following anonymous letter through the post a few days ago:

Dear Sir,—I am informed you have $1,000.00 insurance on your household effects which is three times their value. If a fire starts at the Commercial it will look suspicious. I will come forward then and see that the law is rightly enforced. A word to the wise is sufficient.

"As yet your Friend."

Mr. McBride desires the subjoined letter published in order to show to what a low depth people will sink to vent their spite.

It is needless to say that Mr. McBride's property is not insured above its value.

INJURED WHILE COASTING.

Twenty-Seven Persons Seriously Hurt In Pittsburg—Two May Die.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 12.—Twenty-seven persons were injured, two probably fatally, in coasting accidents, in Greater Pittsburg during the past 24 hours—21 of them in one accident on the north side, and five in another accident in the same section.

Twenty-five boys and several girls started for Brighton road down the Marshall avenue hill on a four-board sled about 15 feet long, Monday night. The weight of the crowd and the grade of the hill carried the sled at an uncontrollable speed. For over 300 feet it dashed, and when George Becker, the guide, tried to drop the chain it refused to work.

There is a curve at the foot of the hill. Here the sled took a sudden turn crashing into a telegraph pole.

Ten of those who occupied the front part of the sled were hurled clear to the street car tracks, 50 feet away. Two were injured so seriously they may die. Others sustained broken limbs, cuts and other minor hurts.

CRASHED INTO FREIGHT.

Three Injured In Head-on Collision Near Bridgeburg.

Bridgeburg, Ont., Feb. 12.—Wabash passenger train No. 9, which left Buffalo last evening at 9.20, collided head-on with a freight train just outside the yards here and three people were injured. These are:

James Black of St. Thomas, engineer of the passenger train, hurt about the head and shoulders while jumping.

Ed. Soriber of St. Thomas, fireman on the passenger train, leg sprained in jumping.

Peter Humphrey of Buffalo, Miss., a passenger, aged 79, critically injured.

He was going home after visiting in the east.

Both engineers claim they had orders for a clear track.

HE COULD NOT DIE.

Man Tries to End His Life Several Ways Without Success.

Winnipeg, Feb. 12.—John Williamson, a Scotchman, lately arrived, made a determined though unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide yesterday. He first purchased carbolic acid, but as that burned his mouth, he placed a revolver to his head, but after clicking four chambers he threw the weapon away in disgust. He then took an overdose of strychnine, but it did not prove successful. He was taken in charge by the police and will recover.

Shoe Company Burned Out.

Masson, Que., Feb. 12.—One of the most destructive fires which ever visited this town has wiped out one of the chief industries, the Masson Boot & Shoe Manufacturing Co. The whole factory, a brick structure, which was erected about a year ago, and which, with its machinery equipment and stock is conservatively estimated to be worth $40,000, is a total loss. There is $16,000 insurance.

Insurance Agent's Suicide.

Saskatoon, Sask., Feb. 12.—F. J. Carskaden, representing himself as agent for the Globe Life Insurance Co., committed suicide in a hotel here yesterday by blowing his brains out with a revolver. He was a tall distinguished-looking man of middle age.

Picton, Feb. 12.—Hugh Turner, a young man 28 years of age, employed in Martin & Sayers grist mill at Glenora, Ont., was killed yesterday by being caught in a belt while adjusting it. He was married only a few weeks ago.

PE-RU-NA CHEERFULLY RECOMMENDED FOR COLDS AND CATARRH.

A Prominent Canadian Gives His Experience With the World-Famous Remedy For Catarrh.

Chronic Catarrh Always Begins With An Ordinary Cold.

So Says Dr. Hartman, the Greatest Living Authority On Catarrhal Diseases.

THE first effect of a cold is a thickening of the mucous membranes of the nose and throat.

This gives rise to a discharge, or at least a stuffiness of the nasal passages.

Sometimes fever accompanies the first attack, also a feeling of languor, dullness and aching of the bones.

If no attention is paid to it, the mucous congestion is liable to spread down into the larynx, producing hoarseness and into the bronchial tubes, producing a cough.

Even when this occurs, many people pay no attention to it.

Under such circumstances, the condition is liable to become chronic, promoting a condition of the mucous membranes known as catarrh. Catarrh lasts an indefinite time. Catarrh is essentially a chronic condition and does not leave except something is done to relieve it.

CURE COLDS—PREVENT CATARRH.

What should be done when a person catches cold is to take a few doses of Peruna.

Taken at the onset, Peruna would break up the cold and prevent all the train of symptoms which usually follow.

But, even in cases where the cold has been neglected and hoarseness or a cough has developed, Peruna can be relied upon to give prompt and permanent relief.

The frequency of coughs and colds in the winter makes Peruna a popular remedy for these ailments.

A number of the best people of various countries have given testimonials as to the value of Peruna in such cases.

Followed Dr. Hartman's Advice—Restored to Health.

Mrs. Samuelle Vigneau, Ave au Berd, Isle de La Magdaline, Canada, writes:

"I write to tell you that I am perfectly well. I took only three bottles of your Peruna according to your advice and the directions in your book and it restored my health."

C. H. Parker, Ex-Warden of Compton Co., Quebec, has been mayor of Scotstown for a number of years., He is an influential resident in Scotstown and widely known.

He writes concerning Peruna. Read his letter below:

C. H. PARKER.

"I had several attacks of colds from time to time and finally a severe attack developed into catarrh.

"I was advised to use your celebrated catarrh remedy, and after taking three bottles I find myself completely cured, and I no longer suffer from catarrh or colds.

"I can cheerfully recommend Peruna for colds and catarrh."

If Peruna had no other medicinal value than the promptness with which it relieves common colds, it would be well worth while for any family to keep it in the house constantly.

FREIGHT SERVICE ON THE RAILWAYS

Has Opened Up and the Week Has Seen Many Deliveries

With the relaxation from the stormy weather of last week, the freight service has bounded ahead in order to catch up on the week or ten days' delay. The C.P.R. has let loose its freight trains, and as a result there is an incessant traffic through Peterborough.

With the line in the grip of the Storm King the freight service became secondary to the passenger traffic. The result has been that general merchandise and ordered goods have been held back until conditions allowed delivery. The Quaker Oats Company has got in a large supply of oats, and other local orders have been received or are on the road.

The G.T.R. has also let loose its freight trains, and the two roads are rapidly assuming their normal condition.

Pale, Anaemic, Sickly Girls

REGAIN COLOR, HEALTH, AND VIGOR WHEN THE BLOOD IS ENRICHED BY

Your Mirror will tell you if you are anaemic, for the unnaural pallor of your gums, lips and eyelids will indicate the thinness and weakness of the blood.

Anaemia is most common among young women and is marked by pallor weakness, indigestion, irritability, spells of dizziness and fainting, heart palpitation, severe headaches and feelings of extreme exhaustion.

The blood is lacking in the elements which go to form energy, vigour and strength and demands such assistance as is best supplied by Dr Chase's Nerve Food.

This great food cure sharpens the appetite, invigorates the nerves which control the digestive fluids, strengthens the heart's action and naturally and gradually restores the sufferer from weak blood to health, strength and vigor.

The headaches and eyaches of pale nervous school girls, of office girls, and of factory employes, are largely the result of thin, watery blood, and will disappear when the blood is enriched and the system built up by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mrs. D. Hobbins, 420 Charlotte street, Peterborough, Ont., writes:—"My daughter was troubled with a weak fluttering, heart. The least excitement seemed to aggravate her trouble, and at times she had severe racking headaches. She became so bad that it affected her nervous system and she felt miserable most of the time. Through the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food her condition is entirely changed. Her nerves are steady, the headaches are gone and the action of the heart is strong and regular. We have every reason to give the credit to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food."

Put this great restorative to the test by noting your increase in weight while using it.

Dr Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

PRESENTED WITH TEA SET

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barnard Honored by Members of the Bailieboro Methodist Church

AN ADDRESS WAS READ

Examiner Special.

Bailieboro, Feb. 11.—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barnard had a very pleasant surprise given them, when between fifty and sixty members of the Bailieboro Methodist Church and their neighbours met together at their home and presented them with a beautiful sinsley china tea set, accompanied by the following address: To Mr. and Mrs. H. Barnard:

Dear Friends,—I am sure you will be surprised to have so many uninvited guests invade your home tonight; but we, the members of the Bailieboro Methodist Church feel that we cannot allow this happy time to pass without showing you in some way our high regard for you and expressing our best wishes for your future happiness and welfare.

Your neighbours, too, have come to greet you and join with us in our good wishes.

You have both grown up among us and you have ever merited the high esteem of all who have been associated with you, whether in church work or your daily life. And we are especially pleased that you will still be among us, and we are sure, ready and willing to help on the Master's work. And we now ask you to accept this set of dishes as a slight token of our esteem for you, and we sincerely hope that you may be spared to many happy years of wedded life.

Signed on behalf of the church and neighbours,

HECTOR JEWISON
EDMUND DAWSON,
WM. BATESON.

Mr. Barnard thanked the friends for their beautiful gifts and good wishes in a suitable manner, on behalf of himself and Mrs. Barnard, after which a very pleasant evening was spent in games, music and social intercourse.

THE LIME JUICE CLUB IN MONAGHAN

They Met at the Cherry Resort—Other News From the Suburbs

North Monaghan, Feb. 11.—In view of the bad weather, the first meeting of the season of the North Monaghan Lime Juice Club was held at the Cherry Resort last week. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed, but a knock at the door interrupted the meeting. The president opened it and there stood a gray whiskered man, wanting admittance, but was told there was no room as the chairs were all filled up. The president turned round and consulted the members of the club, and it was resolved to follow him. One of the members grabbed a snow shovel and they finally caught up to him on the road, but he refused to come back as he intended to reach Springville that night. Then they returned and sat down to business, when the president and other officers were elected.

The meeting adjourned to the call of the president, all singing "God Save the King."

The farmers of North Monaghan last week made a vigourous attempt to keep open the roads and in spite of the big storms they were for a time successful. On one occasion twenty-one of them grasped their shovels and dug their way into the city. On the return march they looked like so many soldiers with their shovels on their shoulders, but on the following night their work was all undone.

TRIBUTE TO CANADA'S CHORAL ABILITY

Mendelssohn Choir of Toronto Receives Deserving Praise

SURPASS THE AMERICANS

In an editorial article entitled "A Lesson in Music," the Rochester Post pays the Mendelssohn Choir a pretty compliment and at the same time refers to the progress being made in choral music in Canada. The following is an extract from the article:

This week the world will receive a lesson in music from the good people of Toronto. In one department of music the Toronto folks lead America as unmistakably as, in the domain of chamber music, the country's guide is Boston. It is in choral music that the Canadians lead the way. Their Mendelssohn Choir has done what, at one time, would have been laughed at as unthinkable. They went down to New York and sang so nobly that the metropolitans admitted that all that New York had achieved in choral music was distinctly inferior to the attainments of these good people from Toronto. Why is this? Are the people of Canada better singers than we are; are they better organized; is their system of training more perfect; is their director a man of unusual parts? Some reason there must be for the fact that, while the choruses of Rochester and Buffalo do not satisfy the legitimate aspirations of people of taste and experience, the Mendelssohn Chorus of Toronto is an object of local pride, and an notable success both musically and financially.

MANY CASES HERE OF RHEUMATISM

A Mixture Which Makes The Kidneys Filter Out Poisons And Waste

TRY THE MIXTURE ANYWAY

All medical authorities are agreed that the blood is the great source of disease or of health in the human system. If the blood is pure, the individual is strong and healthy; if the blood is impure or diseased, then there is sickness or decay in the whole system.

Rheumatism is strictly a blood disease. It is caused by excessive uric acid. Sores, pimples, etc., mean bad blood. Catarrhal affections must be treated through the blood to get permanent results. To get well, to feel strong, hearty and vigorous, one must have good clean blood and lots of it. You can't clean the blood thoroughly unless the kidneys are made active. Bad blood means clogged, inactive kidneys and liver, which causes, too, such symptoms as headache, nervousness, bladder and urinary difficulties and other sympathetic troubles.

Here is a simple home remedy and the recipe for making it up is as follows:

Fluid Extract, Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargen, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime. The ingredients can be obtained at any good prescription pharmacy at small cost.

Here the readers of this paper have a simple yet powerful and effective remedy for all forms of blood, kidney and bladder disease which should relieve rheumatism and catarrhal affections and replace that weak, worn-out, indifferent feeling

Their Mendelssohn Choir has done what, at one time, would have been laughed at as unthinkable. They went down to New York and sang so nobly that the metropolitans admitted that all that New York had achieved in choral music was distinctly inferior to the attainments of these good people from Toronto. Why is this? Are the people of Canada better singers than we are; are they better organized; is their system of training more perfect; is their director a man of unusual parts? Some reason there must be for the fact that, while the choruses of Rochester and Buffalo do not satisfy the legitimate aspirations of people of taste and experience, the Mendelssohn Chorus of Toronto is an object of local pride, and an otable success both musically and financially.

ONE OF BEST PRESIDENTS

Celebrated To-day Throughout United States—Born 99 Years Ago

To-day our American cousins are celebrating the 99th anniversary of the birthday of one of the greatest presidents of that republic—Abraham Lincoln. He was born on February 12, 1809, in Hardin county, Kentucky, and up to the time he was 21 he had seldom attended school. He studied at home, and was admitted to the bar in 1836. He was defeated the first time he ran for the Legislature, being practically unknown, but in 1846 was elected to Congress, and was always a leader in politics. He began his agitation for the abolition of slavery in the Southern States in 1854, and was a prominent figure in the Civil War which followed. He defeated Douglas for the presidency in 1860 and proved an able president. He was assassinated during his second term on the evening of April 14 by an actor named John Wilkes Booth. The actor was the leader of a conspiracy, and while Lincoln was attending the opera he climed into the latter's box from the rear and shot the president through the head. The assassin escaped and was found twelve days later concealed in a barn.

The following are a few short stories told in connection with the notable president's life:

At the time when General Burnside's force was besieged in Knoxville, with an apparent danger of being starved into surrender, a telegram came one day to the president from Cumberland Gap, announcing that Grant was heard in the direction of Knoxville.

"Glad of it," exclaimed Lincoln. "Why should you be glad of it?" asked a friend. "Why, you see," he explained, "it reminds me of Mrs. Sallie Ward, a neighbour of mine. She had a very large family. Occasionally one of her numerous progeny would be heard crying in some out-of-the-way place and she would exclaim, 'There's one of my children that isn't dead yet!'"

Shortly before his second nomination, Lincoln, hearing a member of his cabinet mentioned as a probable competitor for the presidency, told the following story: "My brother and I were once plowing on an Illinois farm. The horse was lazy, but on one occasion he pushed across the field so that I with my long legs could scarcely keep up with him. On reaching the end of the furrow I found an enormous chin-fly fastened on him, and knocked it off.

"My brother asked me what I did that for. I told him I didn't want the old horse bitten in that way. 'Why,' said he, 'that's all that made him go.' Now, if Mr —— has a presidential chin-fly biting him, I'm not going to knock it off if it will only make this department go."

President Lincoln, having been appealed to for a pardon for a repentant slave-trader who had been sentenced to prison, answered the applicants:

"My friend, if this man had been guilty of the worst murder that can be conceived of I might, perhaps, have pardoned him. You know the weakness of my nature—always open to the appeals of repentance or of grief; and with such a touching letter and such recommendations I could not resist. But any man who would go to Africa and snatch from a mother her children, to sell them into interminable bondage, merely for the sake of pecuniary gain, shall never receive pardon from me."

The clerical spokesman of a delegation that once called to give him advice, urged their views upon Lincoln, with many quotations from the

At last the president put an end to this kind of argument by saying, "Well, gentlemen, it so not often that one is favoured with a delegation direct from the Almighty!"

When the removal of General Grant from his command was requested by a delegation that waited upon the president, he asked why Grant should be removed. "Because he drinks so much whisky," was the reply.

Lincoln's face was as expressive as his speech when he responded, "Ah! that's it. By the way, gentlemen, can you tell me where Grant gets his whisky? I think I'd better send a barrel of that whisky to every general in the field."

THE EVOLUTION

Of Cod Liver Oil—The Latest and Most Valuable Form

Early in the 17th century physicians became aware of the fact that the cod's livers and their oil contained medicinal elements of great value in the treatment of pulmonary, scrofulous, wasting diseases and chronic rheumatism.

In using Cod Liver Oil in its original form they discovered that the oil, in which the valuable curative elements were embodied, was very objectionable, and of no medicinal value. How to separate or extract these medicinal properties of the cods' livers from the objectionable oil was the question.

After years of experimenting they produced three different and distinct kinds of cod liver oil, namely,—the clear pale, the light brown and the brown. The clear pale was that obtained by boiling the livers after the clear or pale oil had been extracted, and the brown oil was the result of pressing the residue.

None of these products however, were free from the nauseating oil, and no one of them contained all of the medicinal elements known to exist in the cod's liver. It remained for two eminent French chemists, Morgues and Gautier, to produce the perfect cod liver preparation. After twenty years of labor and study they discovered an extracting and concentrating process which enabled them to separate from the fresh cods' livers and their oil, all of the medicinal, healing and body-building elements, and discard the oil entirely, and it is by this process that Vinol is made.

To these valuable Cod Liver extractives is added Peptonate of Iron, which produces Vinol, a remedy unexcelled in the treatment of all pulmonary and wasting diseases, and to restore health and strength to feeble old people, delicate children and after sickness. We ask any such person in Peterborough to try Vinol on our guarantee to return the money if it fails to give satisfaction. McDermid & Jury, Druggists, Peterborough, Ont., also the Market Drug Store.

FREE TEXT BOOKS IN THE SCHOOLS

Rochester Board of Education Seems to Favour the Idea

The Rochester School Board are apparently in favour of a movement for free text books in the schools. At the last meeting of the Board all the members present were in favour of the idea providing a sufficient appropriation of money is made to carry out the scheme. The step is one in advance of the generally prevailing system in the large cities of this country but it is not warmly approved of by the Rochester press.

THE C.P.R. ARE TAKING PRECAUTIONS

Preparing for Another Blizzard—Snow Banks Being Thrown Back

Toronto, Feb. 11.—The C. P. R. sent a big cut-out-plow east last night to widen the cuts between Locust Hill and Peterborough. The snow banks will be thrown well back from the tracks, so that in case of another blizzard it will be easier to clear the line. Also there will be less danger of the cuts filling in again from a bad wind storm.

The Goderich line will be opened to-day and the Bala Craighurst section was cleared last night.

Nearly all trains were on time at the Union Station this morning.

THE GOLDEN WEDDING CELEBRATED

Of Major and Mrs. Leigh—Peterborough Ladies Present

The Toronto Star of last evening gives the following account of the golden wedding celebration of Major and Mrs. Leigh: Major and Mrs. Edward Leigh celebrated their golden wedding yesterday by a reception to their many friends. It was their original intention to hold a large at home, but owing to so much distress in the city a cheque was sent by them to the poor fund.

Mrs. Leigh, wearing her wedding dress of fifty years ago, of white silk with an overdress of exquisite old Limerick lace, welcomed her guests in the drawing room, which was transformed into a floral bower with quantities of daffodils, roses, hyacinthes, and wall flowers, the gifts of their many friends who came and went throughout the afternoon and evening.

The tea table was centred with an old-fashioned silver wine cooler, filled with daffodils and at one end was a wedding cake of four tiers. The table was in charge of Miss Moore and Miss Charles of Peterborough.

Major Leigh, a veteran of the Fenian raid, who has also seen service in Paris, Portugal and Australia, and Mrs. Leigh, who was formerly Miss Charlotte E. Rothwell, were married fifty years ago, on the anniversary of Queen Victoria's wedding day, on Amherst Island, near Kingston, by her father, the Rev. John Rothwell. There were four bridesmaids and four groomsmen in attendance, who, in returning to the mainland, broke through the ice and narrowly escaped with their lives.

Major and Mrs. Leigh lived in Lakefield until 1871, when they moved to Toronto, where they have resided ever since.

Careful Investigation Of Sources Of Water Supply

To be Made by the North Monaghan Board of Health—Will Inspect Milk Dairies, Cheese Factories, etc.

MORE ATTENTION TO HEALTH

The Board of Health for the Township of North Monaghan, met in May's school house on Monday evening, Feb. 10th. The members present were John Brown, reeve, Messrs Payne, Harper and Carver, members. G. N. Bennett, secretary; Dr. T. N. Greer, medical health officer and Wm. Anderson, sanitary inspector.

On motion of Messrs Harper and Carver, John Brown was appointed as chairman of the Board for 1908.

It was moved by Messrs Carver and Harper, that the sanitary inspector of the township be hereby directed to make a careful inspection of all slaughter houses, piggeries, school wells and other sources of water supply, milk dairies, cheese factories, cattle byres, and any other place that may be in an unsanitary condition in the township, as such times as may be required by the chairman or secretary of the Board or the medical health officer. And the sanitary inspector is hereby required to make after each inspection a detailed report of the premises visited and the condition of the same in such form as may be required by the medical health officer, who is hereby authorized to take such action in connection therewith as may be necessary to keep the township in a first class sanitary condition, and as far as practicable free from all source of contagion.—Carried.

On motion the secretary was authorised to provide a sufficient number of forms for the purpose of making a report by the sanitary inspector.

An account, amounting to $30 for services as medical health officer for 1907, was presented from Dr. T. N. Greer. The account was passed.

The Board then adjourned to meet at the call of the chairman.

THE OLD OFFICERS WERE RE-ELECTED BY CHARITY BOARD

At a meeting of the Central Charity Board held last night the officers for the year were elected. As a result, all of last year's officers were re-appointed, as follows:

Chairman—Mayor Henry Rush.
Vice-Chairman—Wm. Fowler.
Treas.—Wm. Yelland.
Sec.—S. R. Armstrong.

F. W. Miller, the relief officer, reported that he was distributing relief from the special fund and from the contributions sent. On Saturday he had given out 500 lbs. beef, 16 bags potatoes, 65 bags sugar, 65 bags tea, bread, butter, biscuits, etc., as well as 40 pairs boots, clothing, etc.

There were present Mr. Rush, chairman, Messrs. Fowler, Aldridge, Buller, McIntyre, Kemp, Collins, Miller and Yelland, and Rev. E. A. Langfeldt.

At the conclusion of the meeting the members adjourned to Hooper's grill room, where they were the guests of Mayor Rush at a delightful little banquet. The repast served was thoroughly enjoyed. Afterward short speeches were made by Mr. Rush and Mr. Jas. Stevenson, and a pleasant social time was spent.

THE AT HOME WAS VERY SUCCESSFUL

A Most Enjoyable Programme Was Rendered Last Night

The "At Home," under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of Mark Street Church last night was a very enjoyable affair and was largely attended. Rev. C. H. Coon made a very efficient chairman and the programm erendered was much appreciated. It included an instrumental solo by Miss A. Dixon, two vocal solos by Mr. Frank Pratt, reading and recitation by Mrs. John Spence, a recitation by Mrs. A. A. Fowler and a solo by Rev. C. H. Coon.

At the conclusion of the programme refreshmen fawere served and a pleasant social time spent.

The ladies of the society wish to extend their thanks to Mr. Wheeler for so kindly lending them the tables from his ice cream parlour.

STORY OF THE WELSH REVIVAL

Will be Told by Rev. Arthur Davis at the Park Street Church To-night

"The Welsh Revival" will be the subject of a very taking lecture to-night by the Rev. Arthur Davis. He is a Welshman and his "celtic" pathos and emotional nature will make the scenes among his native hills realistic. The Park Street Baptist Church should be full to-night. The silver collection will go to help the building fund of the Picton Church.

CIRCUS HAND ARRESTED LAST NIGHT

Was Arrested Here Last April—Joined Barnum and Bailey's Circus

From the gay surroundings of Burnham & Bailey's circus to the monotony of the county gaol is the fate of a well known Peterborough boy, Wm. Wallace, who was sent up on the hill this morning for a period of ten days.

He was arrested last April on a charge of being drunk and disorderly and was fined $2 and costs or ten days in jail. He was given ten days in which to pay the fine, but at the end of that time Wallace was nowhere to be found. When the Burnham & Bailey's circus came here in June Wallace was attracted by the strains of the band and secured a position driving a wagon in the parade. When the circus left town he followed them and stayed with the job until the circus broke up. He came back to town last night and was arrested by P. C. Newhall and Meharry. He was very respectably dressed and was very much surprised to be arrested.

He was taken up to the jail this morning, and unless the sum of $7.00 is paid he will have to spend the next ten days on the hill.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS
PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 60c.

ARE PROVIDING AGAINST FIRE

Two Exits From Buildings and Double Passages Between Stories

The recent by-law passed by the council regarding the provision off fire escapes in certain buildings is being generally carried out satisfactorily. The provisions of chief import is that there must be two exits from the building and two means of escape from the upper floors to the next below.

Chief Rossel whose duty it is to see that the conditions of the bylaw are carried out states they are being complied with as required. All the lodge halls in the city have either been made to comply or arrangements are under way and an early completion is looked forward to so that the assembly halls will be properly equipped.

As an example of what is being done the T. A. S. rooms are now provided with a front and rear exit and two passages from the second story used by the society to the first. The Young Conservative Club is making the required arrangements at thier club rooms. In many cases fire escapes have been erected as second exit. The council by this bylaw have tried to provide ample escape in case of fire from buildings where people congregate.

VISITOR DELIVERED AN ADDRESS

Bro. Jones, of Toronto, was a visitor at the regular meeting of Court Stanley, No. 7680, A. O. F., and gave an address to the members on the advantages to be derived from membership in the Ancient Order of Foresters. Bro. T. Headry, C.R., who was in the chair, and Bros. Sturmer and Record also gave short addresses which were much appreciated.

The sympathy of the court was extended to Bro. Jones, who was called to Peterborough on account of the serious illness of his son, who was taken ill while returning from Kamloops, B. C., and is now in Nicholls Hospital.

Queen Alexandria Court will hold a boncert on Wednesday evening of next week and a committee has been appointed to make arrangements.

Popular Cure for Croup

Anyone who has tested Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, as a cure for croup, will not hesitate to pronounce it an unqualified success. It is wonderfully prompt in relieving the cough, clearing the air passages and soothing the excited nerves. Many mothers who realize the suddenness with which croup comes on keep this great medicine promptly on hand for use in case of emergency.

SUCCESSOR APPOINTED TO REV. DR. WORKMAN

FORESTER'S CARNIVAL ON FRIDAY

Great Interest is Being Taken in Annual Event

The Foresters' Carnival at Brock street rink on Friday night promises to be one of the most successful ever held in Peterborough. Great interest is being taken in the event and indications point to a very large number being in costume, the nine valuable prizes offered proving strong attractions. The skating events will be of more than usual interest this year, there being no less than three speeding events on the programme — a mile race, 15 laps; a race for boys under 14, and a partners' race.

MANY ATTENDING THE CLASSES

Senior Gymnasium Class is Proving Very Popular

A very large number attended the senior gymnasium class last night at the Y.M.C.A. The programme was arranged as follows:

8 to 8.30—Apparatus work in squads under direction of leaders.

8.30 to 8.40—Rapid dumb-bell drill, followed by run.

8.40 to 9—Basketball for those not playing in league games.

This way of conducting the class is proving very attractive and prospects are bright for a much larger attendance.

MANY FARMERS SEEKING HELP

Salvation Army Headquarters, Toronto, Have 32 Applications in a Morning

Toronto, Feb. 12. — (Special). — Lieut.-Col. Howells, of the Salvation Army, asserts that thirty-two applications for men were received from farmers on the first mail this morning, and that 900 such applications have been received since the beginning of the year.

Mr. Howells paid a visit to the Parliament Buildings to-day in connection with the Army's immigration schemes. While Ontario still looms large in the Army's eye, the east and the west are getting more immediate attention. On Feb. 29, 450 Army imigrants will sail for Canada on the Kensington. They will go right through to British Columbia by special train. In March 26 another party of 250 will embark. They are mostly Britishers, with a few Hollanders to give the parties variety.

It is intended to place 1,000 Army settlers in the Maritime Provinces in the spring.

Commissioner Coombs will leave on March 5 for England to see General Booth.

THE RINK

Off we go with our skates to the rink,
Happy and jolly as you could think;
But when we reach the ticket gate
We've got to pay if we want to skate.

Off we go, and strap on our skates,
Then on to the ice to meet our mates.
Happy and jolly we whirl around
As if we were the best on ground.

Now we hear the first bell ring,
And, with a whoop, we make up a swing;
Up the ice we go like a shot,
Until we hear the next bell knock.

Then we make for the waiting-room;
Our skates we unbuckle very soon,
Then we put on our overcoats
And start for home with musical throats.

The above lines composed by a young son of ex-Ald. Thos. Wilson, Stewart street, are very creditable for a boy of 13 years of age. Try again, Norman.

THE ESTABLISHMENT OF CHILDREN'S COURTS

British Parliament Now Considering It—Ontario in the Lead

A telegraphic dispatch states that the British Parliament is now considering a measure providing for the establishment of Children's Courts and the complete separation of children from any possible contact with adult offenders.

In this connection it is interesting to note that Ontario pioneered the way for this desirable law. The Children's Protection Act passed by the Ontario Legislature in 1893 outlined a system for the separate trial of children and this legislation was supplemented by a Dominion Act in 1894. The attention of philanthropic workers in the United States was drawn to the advantages of the Ontario law through addresses given by Mr. J. J. Kelso, and in 1898 a children's court law was passed by Illinois, and by Colorado in 1900, other states followed in rapid succession.

Copies of the Ontario law were supplied to leading societies and workers in Great Britain and children's courts have already been started in Birmingham and other English cities.

UPSET THREE TIMES ON LAKEFIELD ROAD

Social Bible Class of Y.M.C.A. Were Defeated by 19-1 by Lakefield Intermediates

The Y.M.C.A. Social Bible Club which went to Lakefield last night in a 'bus to play the Lakefield intermediates had an exciting time going up. The 'bus which carried them upset no less than three times on the way up to the village, and all hands were thrown upon the road but nobody was hurt in the upsets. The team reached Lakefield in a very tired condition and were trimmed by a very tired condition and were trimmed by a score of 19—1. The local team promised to meet fellows of their own size and were very much surprised to see the intermediate team out on the ice. The crowd was large and the gate receipts amounted to quite a little sum.

FEATHERS IS ANSWERED TO-DAY

"Feathers" Gives the Date and Place of Organization Meeting

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I noticed in last evening's issue a letter from "Feathers" asking why something was not being done regarding the organization of the talked of Poultry Association. Permit me, as one interested in its establishment, and who has done a little with this end in view, to inform "Feathers" and others, that a meeting has been arranged for Tuesday night next in the Council Chamber, and that "Feathers" will get a post card invitation to attend and air his views, provided he will send his name and address to any of the promoters, or to Geo. Paxman, 122 London street. It is hoped that all interested in poultry will make it a point to attend, even if they have a "kick" coming, a 0 a kicker is to be preferred to an apathetic sympathiser.

Yours truly,

MILITARY ARTICLES SHOULD BE RETURNED

Members of Regiment Leave City and Forget About Them

Owing to the many changes amongst the members of the 57th Regt., between one drill season and another, military articles are often left at boarding houses and the homes of young men who leave the city. The officer commanding the regiment begs to request that any citizens of Peterborough, not members of the regiment, having in their possession any arms, clothing or equipment belonging to the regiment, shall hand same to Sergt.-Major Brittain at the drill hall, or notify him or any officer of the regiment of their whereabouts. It is hardly necessary to mention that any one retaining military articles in their possession is liable to a severe penalty.

POLE AND PETTICOAT SAVES A DROWNING NEW YORKER

New York, Feb. 12.—While Henry Hanniford, 17 years old, was playing "tickly bender" off the River Walk, Hoboken, he slipped on a piece of ice and fell into the river. Margaret O'Brien, who had seen the accident, hastened to a recess in the hill known as "Sybil's Cave," and a moment later reappeared holding in her hand a flannel petticoat.

She tore the garment into three strips and knotted them together. She then tied one end of this improvised rope to a pole and threw the pole to Hanniford. It fell near him and, releasing his grasp on the ice, he seized it, and the woman hauled him to the shore.

ADVICE BY HEALTH OFFICER

Dr. Greer Had Well Water Analyzed in Toronto—Cause of Typhoid in North Monaghan

ADVICE FOR THE FUTURE

Dr. T N Greer, M.H.O., of North Monaghan presented the following report to the Board of Health of that township at its meeting on Monday night—:

In submitting my report for 1907 I again congratulate you on the comparative freedom from contagious disease enjoyed by the municipality during the year. Five cases of typhoid fever occurred in one family, caused by polluted well water as shown by bacteriological examination. Samples from this family well and from the Fraserville School well were examined and found unfit for drinking purposes, Dr. Amyot, of the Provincial Board of Health, having reported as follows:— Both of these specimens show chemical pollution, probably from the seepage from the surroundings. They are at the same time infested with bacteria of intestinal origin and should not be used without a previous boiling."

I had all probable sources of pollution removed and ordered both wells cleaned. I have again sent other samples of these wells to Toronto for analysis and received the following report: "Both of these specimens show chemical pollution in the proportion of the chlorine present in each above the normal of 8 per 1,000,000 of the district. The second should be regarded with suspicion. The first should not be used without a previous boiling, for it is at the same time infected with bacteria of intestinal origin."

As No. 4 school gets a supply of water from the Fraserville well, I ordered its use discontinued. In this connection I would recommend a more strict inspection in future of school wells and other sources of water supply and a more rigid enforcement of the law regarding the regular cleaning of all domestic wells in the township; also a systematic inspection of all slaughter houses, milk dairies, cheese factories, piggeries, cow byres, and other premises that might become unsanitary.

All cases of nuisances reported to me were promptly attended to and I have heard no further complaints.

WHEN KNIGHTHOOD WAS IN FLOWER

Grace Merritt and a supporting company of over twenty well known players in "When Knighthood was in Flower" is the attraction announced for the Grand next Monday, Feb. 17th. As to the play, "When Knighthood was in Flower," little need be said. It is probably the most successful dramatisation of a novel that has been produced in the last decade. Although the story revolves around the lowly "Charles Brandon's" courtship of the beautiful "Mary Tudor," and introduces England's court characters during the reign of Henry the Eighth, the play is as fraught with interest as if it were founded on a theme of the present day period. Now in its seventh successful season, this play embraces all the prominent features of melodrama and farce, tragedy and comedy, and is unquestionably the fittest survivor of the many romantic dramas which were in vogue a few years since. As the madcap "Mary Tudor," Julia Marlowe made her greatest success, and the role further served to thoroughly establish in the theatrical firmament Rosalie Knott, Virginia Drew Trescott, and Effie Ellsler, but many of the most competent critics in the country declare that Grace Merritt's conception and portrayal of this difficult role is superior to that of any of her predecessors.

WOMAN AGAINST WOMAN

"Woman Against Woman," was the attraction presented by Marks Bros. at the Grand last night and a large audience was again delighted with the clever acting of the talented company. The play was thoroughly suited to the capabilities of the company, being full of heart interest and containing many strong situations, of which May A. Bell Marks and her clever support took full advantage. The acting of the entire cast was uniformly good, the roles seeming to fit the different members like a glove and the approval of the audience was manifest.

The vaudeville features between acts were fully up to the Marks standard. The four child artists have won everybody with their singing and dancing numbers and theatre-goers have voted them well worth the admission fee.

To-night Marks Brothers will present, "Hulda, the Girl From the West."

LOANING TO FARMERS OF SEED GRAINS

Hon. Mr. Fielding Assures Farmers of Fair Consideration.

EXTEND TIME FOR PAYMENT

Mr. Lake Would Give Farmers Three Years to Pay—Sir Wilfrid Laurier Gives Facilities For Bringing In Public Bills—Rules Block Progress Says W. F. Maclean—Sir Chas. Tupper's Expenses.

Ottawa, Feb. 12.—In the House yesterday Mr. Lake (Qu'Appelle) brought up the question of the vote for seed grain on motion to go into supply being reached. Mr. Lake had an amendment to extend the time for payment for seed grain from one to three years, but said he did not intend it as a vote of want of confidence and would prefer to have the Government adopt the amendment. The condition of western farmers was the result of the financial stringency.

Quoting prices of the Winnipeg Exchange, Mr. Lake said for every bushel of seed the farmer gets he will have to repay two or perhaps three bushels in the fall.

Mr. Oliver pointed out that regulations were drawn up after consultation with provincial authorities, and he thought they ought to be adopted as they stand. The regulations as to homesteaders had been framed to conform with the ideas of the provinces in dealing with settlers possessing patents.

Mr. Borden argued for the resolution, urging that perhaps regulations could be changed by negotiations with the provinces.

Mr. Fielding said the resolution of Mr. Lake had served a good purpose in opening up the whole subject of the regulations, and many suggestions had been made which would be considered by the Government. He, however, thought that Mr. Lake should not press his motion. If next year's crop be a good one, an extension of time might not be necessary, but if people could not pay their obligations it would be competent for the Government to grant an extension. It was a matter that could safely be left to the judgment of the Government.

Mr. Knowles (Lib., Assiniboia) was fully in accord with everything said by Opposition members, and he was sure the Minister of the Interior would take the suggestions given into his serious consideration.

Mr. Taylor (Leeds) suggested that the Federal Government assume any loss that might be incurred by the provinces by extension of time to settlers holding patents. The provinces should be told to go on and distribute the grain the same as the Dominion.

Mr. Herron (Alberta) urged the extension of time, while Dr. Sproule feared that pressure might be brought to bear upon some settlers to pay when such payment would be a hardship.

On the orders of the day being called, R. L. Borden asked on what authority Mr. Brodeur stated in reply to a question that part of the expenses of Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper in England during the Behring Sea negotiations were paid by the British Government. He had received a letter from Sir Charles, who said that such was not the case. Sir Wilfrid Laurier promised to enquire.

Dr. Sproule read a circular sent by the manager of the I.C.R., to the effect that employes would not be allowed to take part in municipal elections as candidates except under exceptional circumstances. In the face of this certain employes were candidates in recent elections.

Mr. Graham hesitated to forbid any employe running an election. The exceptional circumstance was shown in the result of the election, for the people evidently wanted the man, as they were elected.

Mr. Crocket (York, N.B.) drew attention to the postmaster at Woodstock, N.B., who was alleged by a newspaper clipping to have taken part in a political meeting. He had sent the clipping to Mr. Lemieux, who had replied that he had written to the postmaster for an explanation. Later on, a question being put on paper, Mr. Lemieux had replied that his attention had not been called to the matter.

Mr. Lemieux said he meant that no "complaint" had been made.

Mr. Emmerson fathered the circular, but there were exceptions. He had consented to a couple of employes at Stellarton running for the council.

WATCH THE STOMACH.

HAVE YOU ANY OF THESE SYMPTOMS?

If you have either variable appetite, a faint gnawing feeling at the pit of the stomach, unsatisfied hunger, a loathing of food, fitful and uncertain digestion, a painful load at the pit of the stomach, sinking sensations in the chest, headache and dullness of spirits, constipated bowels with alternate diarrhoea, are you gloomy and miserable?

THEN YOU ARE A DYSPEPTIC.

The cure is careful diet, slow eating, thoroughly chewing the food; avoid drinking at meals.

It has cured the worst forms of dyspepsia, even of twenty-five years duration. Mrs. Geo. I was troubled for a number of years with dyspepsia and could get no relief until I tried B.B.B. It helped me right away and I think is a wonderful remedy. as it was represented that good men were elected and the duties of office would not interfere with their duties on the railway.

Rules Block Progress.

On motion to go into supply at the evening session W. F. Maclean (South York) again called attention to the state of the order paper. Under the new rules public bills and orders could only be reached on Mondays and Wednesdays after notices of motion had been disposed of. These were very numerous and every one of these days had been taken up with them, so that it seemed to be impossible to reach public bills and orders this session. Many of them were of more importance than notices of motion and they ought to have precedence. They were the schooling ground for Government legislation and were often incorporated in Government legislation.

Mr. Maclean suggested that the leaders get together and bring about a change in rules, so that on alternate Mondays and Wednesdays after the first four weeks of sessions public bills and orders be given priority over notices of motion.

Among the measures thus shifted to the bottom of the paper were bills to amend the Railway Act, Criminal Law, Shipping Act, Immigration Act, Fishery Act and Conduct of Elections. Unless, he said, it was the intention to cut off this legislation altogether it would be advisable to amend the rules.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier pointed out that it was not necessary to change the rules on Thursday for the first four weeks; the first order was questions and public bills and orders. If he could accommodate Mr. Maclean he would be glad to arrange a date for bringing on his railway bills, and there would be no objection to settling them down for some day next week.

R. L. Borden pointed out that all of four weeks in the early part of the session were not available, and it might be well to make it four clear weeks.

The seed grain regulations were discussed again last night. Mr. McCraney (Saskatchewan) dealt with the question of the security, while Hon. Wm. Paterson said the motion was an expression of want of confidence in the people of the west. David Henderson (Halton) said a heavy obligation was being put on the people of the west.

Col. Sam Hughes thought the settlers would have enough to do to meet their obligations without having to meet payments for seed grain at the end of the year.

The amendment of Mr. Lake was defeated by 96 to 88. All the western members voted with the Government.

The following bills were given a final reading last night:

To incorporate the Bank of Winnipeg (Bole); respecting the ministers' widows and orphans fund of the Presbyterian Church in Canada (Bickerdike); respecting patents of Montague, Moore and T. J. Heskett (Osler); respecting patents of the Goodwin Car Co. (Osler).

FORTY WOMEN ARRESTED.

Suffragettes Made Desperate Attack on British House.

London, Feb. 12.—A band of militant delegates from the Parliament of Woman Suffragists, now in session here, made a vigorous assault on the House of Commons yesterday.

Their attempt to rush the doors of the lobby, however, were frustrated by the police, who had a sharp skirmish with the shrieking women, two score of whom were arrested for disorderly conduct.

The attacking party was trying to deliver to the House of Commons a resolution protesting against the "unconstitutional action of the Government in refusing a vote to women taxpayers."

The delegates secreted themselves in furniture vans in the vicinity of the buildings and were thus enabled to get close to the point of attack before being discovered.

Immigration Statistics.

Ottawa, Feb. 12.—According to a return tabled by the Minister of the Interior yesterday, 169,064 immigrants arrived in Canada during 1906-8. Of this total 65,135 were English, 15,846 Scotch, 5,016 Irish, 6,036 Russian Jews, 7,959 Italians, 5,656 Galicians, 1,646 French and 57,919 Americans.

The return for 1907 covers only the nine months' period. In that time the total immigration was 124,067, of whom 41,126 were English, 10,722 Scotch, 3,494 Irish, 262 Welsh, 1,314 French, 5,892 Russian Jews, 9,114 Italians and 38,748 Americans.

China Musters Her Troops.

Pekin, Feb. 12.—Border complications and the success of the rebels on the French border, due, it is believed, to foreign assistance, have induced the Chinese Government to hasten the organization of her modern drilled troops at all frontier points. The Government proposes again to send Prince Su to Mongolia for the purpose of developing the plans looking to the organization of defences for frontier districts. A modern drilled skeleton brigade is now on its way to Thibet for the purpose of organizing a Thibetian division.

Saved Cattle, Boy Burned.

Oxford, Pa., Feb. 12.—While his son was being cremated in a burning barn at Pleasant Grove, the father and a number of neighbors were risking their lives to save horses and cows, which could not get out of the stable.

MAKES A PLEA TO HELP WORKERS

Hon. Richard Harcourt Urges Advance in Technical Training.

PLEA FOR TRADE TEACHING

Vocational Education Not Sufficiently Attended to—Whitney Government Simply Appropriating Liberal Measures — Ross Was Honest Premier — Mr. McGarry Occupies Three Hours Debate on Address.

Toronto, Feb. 12.—Hon. Richard Harcourt continued the debate on the address in the Legislature yesterday. After complimenting Messrs. McKeown and Donovan, he said he desired to make a suggestion, and not a critical speech, and to confine his remarks to one paragraph in the speech from the throne. He suggested that a sum of money be appropriated for a distinctly new educational force. His plea was not for technical education broadly, but for one phase of it. No one had ever heard him carp about the expenditure of money for educational purposes, and he thought that the higher technical education would be sufficiently cared for. He desired to plead for industrial or vocational educational forces. There were no pathways, not a blazed trail, in the province to-day for those who labored with the hand. Greater capacity for the worker at his trade, greater happiness in his home was the object he had in view.

He hoped the Federal Government would see to it that in the matter of technical education they did their whole duty. The domestic exports of the country would increase five times over the amount of any grant the Federal Government would give for the purpose. He admitted that all he had said might equally well have been said when he sat in the seat of the Minister of Education. He had tried then to blaze a trail, and made some small beginning, which he hoped would be followed up.

Mr. McGarry (South Renfrew) facetiously opened by confessing himself at a loss whether to sympathise with or congratulate the hon. member for Monck (Mr. Harcourt) on his loss of the Liberal leadership. He had wondered all the time he was speaking why Mr. Harcourt had totally neglected to do a thing along the lines he now ably advocated. As a result, Mr. McGarry said, the present Government was sending a special inspector throughout Ontario to cultivate interest in manual training and technical education.

Continuing, Mr. McGarry declared that the great issue before Ontario at the present time was Provincial Rights. The Dominion Government, he said, "was systematically endeavoring to defraud Ontario of her rights. "This," he continued, "was evidenced in the recent charters granted to electric corporations at Ottawa."

Mr. McGarry concluded by congratulating the Attorney-General on his advanced measure of law reform, and the Minister of Mines on his administration of Northern Ontario.

Mr. C. N. Smith (Sault Ste. Marie) followed. He blamed the Government with stealing the Liberals clothes, and endeavored to make some capital out of alleged irregularities in the Department of Mines, but when asked by the Prime Minister to prefer a charge, declined to do so.

"Oh," said Mr. Smith, in reply to Mr. Whitney's challenge, "you'll find trouble enough without looking for it. Nobody denies that the present Prime Minister of Ontario is an honest man. We all admit it. But Ontario never had other than an honest Premier."

On motion of the Prime Minister, committees were appointed for the following purposes—To assist the Speaker in the care of the library; to strike the standing committees; to direct the expenditure of any sum set apart for art purposes.

A SHOCKING FATALITY IN MONTREAL

Nine Men Blown to Pieces by Nitro-Glycerine.

BUILDING ENTIRELY WRECKED

Vaudreuil, Que., Scene of Death Yesterday Afternoon — Every Man in Factory Was Killed—Three Hundred Escaped by Being Away For Lunch — Shock Felt For Miles—Like an Earthquake.

Montreal, Feb. 12.—Nine heads of families crushed and burned beyond all possible recognition, and one so seriously injured that he may die, is the sum total of the result of the terrible explosion which took place at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon on Ile Perrault, opposite Vaudreuil Station, 20 miles from this city.

It was the nitro-glycerine building and the two mixing rooms of the Standard Explosive Works where occurred the dreadful fatality which so greatly exercised the entire community, yesterday afternoon.

The dead are: Pierre Menard, Arthur Legault, Urgel Lauzon, Joseph Cayen, Joseph Roson, J. B. Robillard, N. Rousseau, S. Trepanier and Thos. Dumberry, while John Leduc seems to have been the one man badly injured.

The explosion occurred at noon, when most of the employes were outside the building, otherwise the loss of life would most likely have been much greater.

Were Blown to Atoms.

The nine victims of the explosion were inside the building, which was blown up. Their bodies were literally blown to atoms, and when recovered were so frightfully mutilated as to be beyond recognition. Several of the other buildings were damaged and the workmen who were in them in many cases had narrow escapes from death. Several doctors from Vaudreuil were quickly on the scene and they rendered aid to those who were suffering, while the more fortunate who escaped with slight wounds, assisted in the work of searching for the bodies of their dead companions in the debris of the wrecked buildings.

All of the victims of the accident resided in the neighborhood of the factory or in the little village of Vaudreuil, across the river. There were 300 employes in the works, but most of them were away at dinner at the time of the explosion. The shock was so great that it shook houses in the village of Vaudreuil and caused many of the inhabitants to rush from their houses in alarm. Windows were broken in many places and the ground for half a mile around shook as though an earthquake had occurred.

When the people of Vaudreuil realized what had happened there was a rush of friends and relatives of the workers for the wrecked plant. Women and boys hurried down the road to the factory, anxious to learn the fate of their loved ones. The names of the dead were obtained by taking a census of the living and getting the names of those who were in the building when the explosion occurred.

Last summer the powder house of the Standard company exploded, but on that occasion no lives were lost.

Diamonds in Mexico.

Mexico City, Feb. 12.—T. J. Robinson and two other Americans who own what is said to be a genuine deposit of diamonds in the State of Guerrero have just refused an offer of $100,000 gold for the property. The offer was made by a British syndicate that is interested in diamond mining in South Africa.

The formation of the Guerrero diamond field is identical with that of South Africa. Several gems of much value have been taken recently from the property which Mr. Robinson and associates own.

Ten Firemen Injured.

Chicago, Feb. 12.—Ten firemen were injured, one probably fatally, by the explosion of a gasoline tank of an automobile while fighting a fire in a garage at 4,736 Grand Boulevard yesterday. The men were on a ladder almost directly over the automobile.

Healthfulness of Oranges.

The one lesson which most people never seem to learn is, how to guard their health.

We have been eating oranges since time immemorial, yet how many of us know that orange juice contains a medicinal principle which has a marked action on the stomach, bowels, kidneys and skin. Some physicians go so far as to say that they can cure the average case of Indigestion, Constipation, Biliousness and Dry Skin with orange juice and proper diet.

This can be easily proved to the satisfaction of any sufferer. Take the juice of one or two oranges every morning before breakfast, take one or two "Fruit-a-tives" every night at bed-time, exercise a reasonable care in diet, and the proof will be found in health.

The cure will be greatly assisted and hastened by taking "Fruit-a-tives" in conjunction with the orange juice. "Fruit-a-tives" are fruit juices in which the medicinal principle of oranges, apples, figs and prunes are many times increased by the special way in which they are combined. Then tonics are added and the whole made into tablets. "Fruit-a-tives" may be obtained at all dealers, or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price—50c a box—6 for $2.50, "Fruit-a-tives," Limited, Ottawa.

Peterborough Bowlers Are Expected In Tournament

Entries For Canadian Tournament Close Next Saturday—Many In Already

A BUSY TIME IS IN VIEW

Toronto, Feb. 12.—(Special.) — Entries close next Saturday, February 15, for the C. B. A. tourney to be held in Toronto. Bowlers will be present and take part from many points in the United States and Canada. Entries are rolling in nicely and this year's tourney will exceed by far last years inaugural effort, Vancouver, B.C.; Winnipeg, Man.; Chicago, Ill.; Detroit, Mich.; Buffalo, N.Y.; Erie, Pa.; Newark, N.J.; Bay City, Mich.; Cincinnati, O.; Louisville, Ky., and London, Guelph, Berlin, Niagara Falls, Montreal, Ottawa, Waterloo, Hamilton, Peterborough, Orillia, Brantford, Owen Sound, Beamsville, Galt, Quebec City, and many other places yet to be heard from who are expected to enter. Toronto, of course, as predicted, will be represented by scores of teams, and this manifestation of local support augers well for a record number of contestant, which, combined with the classy field of entrants, leaves little else to be desired in this respect, save, possibly, the establishment of new world's records.

Great Handicap

A most important matter that has been decided by the Tournament Committee is its decision deeming it expedient to inaugurate this year, in place of the novice event which met with so much approval last year by bowlers who entered in same, feeling that they were not in the first division as yet of accomplished exponents. An event that will be called the Grand Handicap, open to local bowlers only, who will be handicapped by the Tournament Committee in charge. This event will give every bowler an equal chance. The entrance fees in all events will be $2 per man, i.e., five men, doubles and singles. The entrance fees in the open event will be returned in full for whatever contest entrance is made in, and the same applies to the Grand Handicap, less the usual association percentage deducted to partially help to defray expenses.

Special Feature

Another special feature of the week will be the Grand Challenge Five Men Gun Club Team event, Friday evening, February 28, open to any bona fide members of any gun club in the United States or Canada. Local trap shooters are working indefatigably to have out-of-town clubs take part in this affair, and their efforts are meeting with success.

Entries Close Saturday

Bowlers are again reminded that entries close in five days more, Saturday, February 15. It is necessary to close then, as the schedule must be in the hands of the printers to be printed in the Official Souvenir Programme, which is now in the hands of the printers. Make all cheques payable to Claude Armstrong, treasurer, c-o Dominion Bank, and send along with entries to secretary, C. Munson, C.B.A., 343 Yonge street.

PETERBORO' LODGE WON GAME

Defeated Brother Oddfellows in Game of Carpet Ball

An exciting game of carpet ball was played last night between teams representing Peterborough and Otonabee Lodges of Oddfellows. The contest was played in the I. O. O. F. hall and the losers were out to the extent of an oyster supper. The team of Peterborough lodge proved to have superior skill, and when the game was re-played around the festive board afterwards in Hooper's grill room it was the members of Otonabee lodge who paid the damages. The score was 39-20 in favour of Peterborough Lodge.

BASKETBALL GAME WON BY NO. 2.

Schedule Began Last Night—Close Game Was Played

The Y.M.C.A. senior class Basket Ball League opened last night with a game between teams No. 1 and 2, captained by Loomis and Turner, respectively, the latter winning by a score of 16 to 11.

The play was hard all through and neither team could be chosen as winner till just before time when Fred Hall made his team safe by some good shooting.

The following were the teams:

No. 1.—Loomis, Daly, Dingdale, Ray Best, Dagnall.

No. 2.—Turner, F. Hall, Sutherland, McCarrell, Gillespie.

Next Friday at 9 p.m., teams Nos. 3 and 4 will play.

THE FAN'S DICTIONARY.

Phenom—Any new recruit purchased, drafted or discovered in the winter season. Always bats over 400 and fields around .999. Fast on his pins; stands at the plate like Cobb or Wagner; has more speed than Rusie at his best, and a better curve ball than Waddell.

Same phenom long about May 1. Couldn't catch fish if they were contagious; runs like a barrel; hasn't got speed enough to break the cuticle of a mustard pie, and couldn't hit the Chinese wall with a Gatling gun.

Dope.—A fine thing to read and talk about, but a poor thing to bet real money on.

Hustling manager—Chieftain who bosses all the talent in sight through the winter season. There are always eight hustling managers before April arrives. From June on some six of these fade off the map.

Bum skate—Same "hustling managers" who failed to start off in the league by winning 11 out of the first 10 games.

Swat—A bingo slammed into safe territory for one or more bases. Sometimes referred to as base-hit.

The outdoor athletic season proper will open on April 10, when Tom Eck's big Marathon race from Newmarket to Rosedale, Toronto, a distance of 26 miles, will be run. This race will be on a big scale, several of the prizes, including the handsome big trophy for first place having already been secured. Mr. Eck was in Toronto yesterday completing arrangements for the event, and he has already been promised many first-class entries.

The coming season with the Eck Marathon, the Brantford to Hamilton Marathon and the Ward Marathon, all to be run off in the spring, should furnish some wonderful long distance racing, and should uncover several new stars and will force Longboat, Coley, Simpson of Peterborough, Tait and company to limber up a bit.

Brantford, Feb. 11.—Before more than 2,000 people, including a noisy delegation of about 100 from Toronto, the professional team of that city beat Brantford here to-night by 11-5 in what was readily conceded to be the finest exhibition of hockey ever seen in the Telephone City. The Toronto victory puts President Mills's aggregation in front of Brantford by a goodly margin and Toronto look very much like the Ontario pro. league champions. The Torontos were more at home on the big Brantford rink than on the Mutual street sheet, and won a victory they richly deserved. Captain Rowley Young and his corps played more hockey and better hockey than Brantford, and were plainly the better team. The doughty captain himself led the way, and played the sort of hockey that made him a favourite in the O.H.A. He was the distinct star of the game. Toronto started with a dazzling three-man combination, which the Brantford defence was quite powerless to handle. The Telephone City outfit took the hint when the score had been run up to 3 to 1, and used combination play to get even, which they succeeded in doing after some as pretty hockey as one could wish to see.

The O.H.A. intermediate series is narrowing down gradually and the process of elimination is bringing the good teams to the surface.

In the east, Lindsay took the 41st Regiment team of Brockville into camp, and will now play home and home games to-night and Friday with Port Perry, who emerged successfully from their district on Monday night. Lindsay has yet to lose a game and will play Friday at home.

In the north, Midland and Sudbury settled their differences last night at North Bay, Midland winning by 11 goals to 4.

Hamilton easily won the second round from St. Catharines and will play home and home games with Collingwood to-night at Collingwood and Friday at Hamilton.

In the west, London has a lead of six goals over Simcoe in the second round, and may hold it to-night when they play the return game at Simcoe. The winner will play at Preston on Friday night, and the return game will be played at either London or Simcoe on Monday.

The semi-finals will likely be played next week and the finals the week of the 24th inst.

45 YEARS SKIN TROUBLE BAFFLED THE DOCTORS

ZAM-BUK SUCCEEDED

THE FIRST WHITE SETTLER IN PRINCE ALBERT

Mr. James Isbester, Teacher, Stoney Reserve, Battleford, Sask., claims the honor of being the first White Settler in Prince Albert, and built the first shanty in June, 1866. This was 45 years ago, and all that time he has been suffering from a skin disease which baffled the doctors. He says: "Zam-Buk cured me of a skin disease of 45 years' standing which no doctor had been able to cure. When I heard of Zam-Buk I carefully followed the instructions, and applied Zam-Buk to my hands before going to bed. The next morning to my surprise my hands looked as if there had been nothing the matter with them. I continued the same treatment to my legs, and the end of the week found the same result. I could scarcely believe myself the cure was so rapid. I became so enthusiastic that I began using Zam-Buk on others, always with the same result. I am thoroughly convinced that no salve can be used on sores that will act as quickly and effectively as Zam-Buk, and, therefore, recommend it to everybody, and would not be without it."

Writing at a later date, he says: "I have tried Zam-Buk on many suffering from skin diseases and it has always proved successful. I have even used it on my "Sore-eyed Indians" and it cured every time."

Justified in Abandoning Ship.

Boston, Feb. 12.—A special naval court of enquiry convened under the new British Admiralty Act, and the first of the kind ever held in this city, yesterday rendered its report, justifying the abandonment of the British steamer St. Cuthbert, which caught fire off Nova Scotia on Feb. 2, a loss of fourteen lives resulting. The others of the crew were saved by the steamship Cymric and brought to Boston.

Liable to 1,461 Years.

Berlin, Feb. 12.—"The accused has incurred fines amounting to $2,000,000, or, in default, 1,461 years and two months' imprisonment," declared the state's attorney in the criminal division of the Berlin County Court, in the case against Otto Hugo for breach of the law of August, 1904, prohibiting the sale of non-Prussian lottery tickets within Prussian territory.

The court, however, decided that as the circulars had all been issued in two days and thus technically only two offences committed, a fine of $375, or, in default, 100 days' imprisonment, would teach the defendant a lesson.

The state's attorney entered an objection to the court's reading of the law.

Turkey Withdrew Troops.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 12.—The withdrawal of Turkish troops from the Russian territory to the west of Tabriz, as well as the more conciliatory spirit shown at Constantinople, is regarded here as obviating the necessity for the present, of taking further precautionary measures on the Turkish and Persian frontiers, and it is probable that the despatch of troops from the interior of Russia to the Caucasus will be abandoned pending further developments.

Crusade Against Usurers.

Montreal, Feb. 12.—The first result of the renewed crusade against usurers in this city is the issuing of a warrant for the arrest of C. I. Campbell, a well-known moneylender, who, it is alleged, has violated the criminal law relating to usury. Action has been taken by Col. Hibbard, acting under instructions from the Attorney-General.

It is stated that Campbell has left the city.

AN ARBITRATION CASE TO-DAY

Some Local Men Give Expert Evidence in Havelock

The second session of the arbitration case regarding the lumber dispute between Warden Thompson and the Hegwood Lumber Company was held to-day. The tribunal sat in Havelock this morning beginning at 10 o'clock and the morning was spent in hearing three Peterborough witnesses, Messrs. J B McWilliams, Geo. Crothers and Roxsee, all of whom were wanted to give expert testimony about sealing. The case was still in progress this afternoon and will probably not be concluded to-day.

A COMMITTEE MEETING HELD LAST NIGHT

Of the Charlotte Street Sunday School—Officers Elected

The Sunday School Committee of Charlotte street Methodist church held its annual meeting last night in the schoolroom. The meeting was largely attended and the business was dispatched with great rapidity. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mr. Hamilton and adopted. After the general business the officers for the following year were elected. Mr. R. J. Kidd was elected as superintendent of the Sunday school and Dr. Merriam and Mr. Hamilton as assistants.

The secretary's report showed a receipt of over $1.80 a Sunday and the attendance amounted to nearly 400 scholars. The Sunday School, never before, was in such a flourishing condition.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the church donated $108.00 towards the Sunday School Fund.

Knew It Was One of the Girls.

Major Maude, while in Canada acting as a social civilizer during the residence of Lord Minto at Rideau Hall, managed to get himself talked about a great deal around native camp fires. It was, of course, scarcely to be expected that ever he could polish a raw people in one generation.

On one occasion Lord Minto was going to Montreal and Major Maude went in advance to arrange matters. He succeeded in getting the local militia officers irritated by his excessive solicitude about details which required no superintendence, with the result that when the Governor-General arrived the military escort awaiting His Excellency was about the most attenuated ever seen on such an occasion.

It is said the Lord Minto, probably suspecting the true state of affairs, asked some questions of the officer in command of the escort. To each question about the arrangements His Excellency received the reply:

"Major Lucy issued orders that this be done," or "Major Lucy particularly instructed me to do so-and-so."

Lord Minto heard this explanation several times and evidently could not recall to mind the military Posh-Bah in question.

"Who is this Major Lucy?" he enquired.

"Oh, I mean Maude — Major Maude," explained the officer in command.

"Ah!" exclaimed His Excellency.

Herring a Slow Growing Fish.

According to recent reports of scientific investigators the herring is a fish of slow growth. When one year old it is barely two and one-quarter inches in length. Not until it is five years old does it reach maturity and spawn. Then it is of the average length of nine and three-eighths inches. Herring over twelve inches long may be ten years old or more, and the large specimens that are occasionally caught, measuring from fourteen to fifteen inches, are probably over fifteen years old and may be twenty.

AN UMBRELLA EPISODE.

By Temple Bailey.

Copyrighted, 1907, by Homer Sprague.

Luttrell, coming down the steps of the elevated station, saw ahead of him a girl with cherries in her hat.

The cherries and the dark blue ribbon were really about all that he could see of her, for he looked down on the top of her head, but as she turned the corner going down he caught a glimpse of wavy brown hair and of a trim white collar that came up to meet it.

When he reached the door of exit he found the girl with the cherries there. Seen thus at close range she proved to be about as high as Luttrell's heart. Her gown was of dark blue like the ribbons of her hat, and she carried a book in her hand.

She was gazing anxiously into the street. It was raining hard, and the street lamps, lighted early, cast glistening reflections across the wet pavement.

The girl with the cherries had no umbrella. As Luttrell passed her she unfolded an infinitesimal square of

"IT'S MY BIG BROTHER," SAID THE LITTLE CLEAR VOICE

handkerchief and laid it carefully over the big front bow of her hat. It left the cherries out in the rain, but with a quick glance around she sped up the sidewalk.

Luttrell, taking long steps, reached her without effort.

"If you will let me," he said, "I will hold my umbrella over the cherries."

She looked up, startled. In the gloom she could not see his face, but there was no hint of disrespect in his voice, and her hat was new.

"Oh, if you will"— she said in a prim little way, and for a few minutes they walked on in silence.

"We might talk," Luttrell suggested, "about the weather. It's a good conventional subject and won't commit you to anything in the way of acquaintance."

The girl laughed at that. "I am not quite sure how to treat the situation. You see, it's a little unusual to let a man you don't know walk home with you."

"Suppose we act as if we had known each other all our lives and say the things we would say under these circumstances."

"Under those circumstances," said the little clear voice in the dark, "I should say, 'Goodness, what an awful night!'"

"And I should say," was Luttrell's grave response, "'Little friend, why are you out so late alone?'"

"Oh," came flutteringly, "I went to the library, and when I came out it was almost dark and, to cap the climax, it rained."

"And your hat would have been ruined if fate had not kept me downtown late too. And it's such a pretty hat," he added reflectively.

"Oh!" said the clear little voice again, and then there was another silence.

Far up the street under a corner lamp they could just discern a big man plodding along, weighted down by two umbrellas.

"It's my big brother," said the little clear voice, and then timidly: "Would you mind—going on alone? You see, he might not understand my letting you—but my hat is new—and"—

"I understand perfectly," Luttrell said. "But big brothers are sometimes dense. I have a little sister myself, and I like to look after her pretty closely, and that's why I looked after you."

He had gone into the darkness before she could thank him. But from the shadows he watched her fly along the intervening space and come up to her big brother. And he heard her say in that clear little voice: "It was so good of you to come after me, Bob." And then they went along together through the driving storm, and Luttrell was left alone.

After that on his way home from office he found himself looking for the girl with the cherry hat. But girls came and girls went, but never the right one, and as the months passed and the winter came, and there were no cherries on any of the hats, and Luttrell gave up his quest in despair.

But always he held in his heart the memory of the clear little voice that had talked to him so confidingly in the darkness of the rainy autumn night.

One night he dropped into a fashionable downtown restaurant for dinner, and at the next table were a big man and a girl in a drooping hat of pale blue. Her gown was of the same color, and around her neck she wore a collar of pearls.

She was a vision of exquisiteness, and there was about her a haunting quality that made Luttrell look at her more than once. Where had he seen her?

And even as he questioned the vision said in a clear little voice: "Bob, I do believe it is raining. If we go out, we will have to have a cab."

It was the girl with the cherry hat. No other had such a voice, and there was the wavy brown hair. And in the brilliant light he beheld clearly for the first time the gray eyes and the delicate pink and white of the oval face. Why, the little girl was a beauty!

"You shall have two cabs if you wish," he heard the big man say gaily. "We wouldn't want to christen that stunning gown with rain."

At the sound of that big, booming voice Luttrell stared, and then he bridged the distance between the two tables and dropped his hand on the other man's shoulder.

"Bob Raymond," he said, "I thought I couldn't be mistaken in the voice. But you've grown some, Bobbie, since I used to pitch you off of the canalyon fence."

Raymond wrung his hand, beaming. "Jim," he said to the vision in blue, "it's Mark Luttrell. You've heard me tell about our college pranks. Mark, this is my kid sister."

She smiled up at Luttrell from under the brim of the bread hat. "Bob forgets that I am grown up," she said, and Luttrell saw that as yet she had not recognized him as the hero of the umbrella episode.

"I remember your picture stood on Bob's chiffonier," he told her. "You wore your hair in pigtails, but you were awfully pretty, and I fell in love with you."

"Oh!" she said, blushing beautifully. "Sit down and have dinner with us," Raymond insisted. "Felicia and I have the evening before us. It's raining, so we might as well stay here for awhile."

He turned to give an order to the waiter, and Luttrell leaned toward Felicia.

"If you will let me," he said, "I will hold my umbrella over the cherries."

There was dead silence for a moment, and then she whispered nervously: "Oh, you are the man! Oh, what did you think of me?"

"I wished that I might hold an umbrella over you for the rest of my life," he said fervently.

Her dimples came out in full force. "I am afraid you would get awfully tired," she said, but her eyes drooped before his glance.

"Come up and see us," Bob said that night as they parted.

"On one condition," said Luttrell as he held the fur lined wrap for the vision in blue, "that you let me fall in love with your sister."

"Felicia!" Raymond scoffed. "There's nothing but a kid."

"I am old enough to know my own mind, Bob," said Felicia with spirit.

"And what is your mind?" Luttrell asked as they went down the hall together.

Her eyelashes swept her cheeks and hid her eyes. "I don't know," she said demurely. "Perhaps—perhaps you had better come—and find out."

Why the Will Cost More.

Five years ago a certain man made a will. Last week he made another one. The same lawyer drew up both documents. For writing the second will the lawyer charged twice as much as for writing the first one.

"Why this difference?" asked the client. "Have you studied such prominence in the legal profession in the last five years that you are justified in doubling your fees?"

"Not at all," said the lawyer. "There was twice as much work on this will as on your old one. You see, at that time you were a married man and your will was short, for with the exception of a few minor bequests everything was left to your wife. Changes in your domestic relations have made another will necessary. You are now a bachelor or a bachelor's equivalent, a widower whatever. It is much harder to write a will for a man of that type than for a married man. The man with a family usually gives away everything he possesses in three or four clauses, but the bachelor divides his property among so many relatives, friends and dependents and consumes so much time in doing it that the lawyer is justified in charging him double the usual fee."—New York Press.

Lindley Murray.

Lindley Murray, the celebrated grammarian, was born in Swatara, Pa., in the year 1745. In 1765, after passing four years in legal studies, he was admitted to the bar and soon afterward married. When the Revolution began he retired to a cottage on Long Island, New York, and spent four years in fishing, boating and fowling. Going to New York in 1779, he entered into commercial speculations under the direction of his father with such success that at the close of the Revolution he was able to retire with a fortune to a beautiful place on the Hudson. Being attacked, however, with a muscular affection, he was induced to search another climate and sailed for England, where he settled near the city of York and died there in 1826. His "English Grammar" was written for the use of a young ladies' school near York in 1795, and its success was immediate and extraordinary. Edition after edition was published in a few years. It was introduced into all the English and American schools and made his name a household word in every country where the English language was spoken. His later years were devoted to the study of biblical, and his garden at Holdgate in the variety and purity of its plants surpassed the royal gardens at Kew.—Argonaut.

Eskimos at Play.

As an entertainer, the Eskimo is far ahead of his friend the Indian—at least as far as the northern Indian is concerned. The Eskimo has a number of games which he plays and various other forms of amusement, the most interesting which is probably his dance. Each year when the Hudson Bay Company's supply steamer, "Wrigley," makes its northerly trip to Fort Macpherson, far within the Arctic circle on the Mackenzie river, the Eskimos plan to be at the fort to barter with the crew, and while they are there they are usually induced to favor those present with one of their characteristic dances. A good feast must be first provided and then the dancers are called on board the boat, and give their dance on the deck. The dance of the Eskimo is a representation of the attitudes and movements of the animals which he hunts in his frozen home.

While one of them dances the rest of his companions look on and keep time with a low groaning sound and when he has finished the others follow. These Eskimos are very large for their race, some of them at the first being as tall as six feet.

A Great Diplomat.

Metternich was a diplomatist of the old school, polished, suave, impenetrable. Nothing ever persuaded him to betray an emotion. When in 1813 he left Napoleon after his last audience, the generals gathered round him to see what impression the interview had made upon his face. "I don't think I satisfied their curiosity," said he, with a characteristic pride in his grave and cunning demeanor. At the same time he looked with a jealous eye upon his craft. He hated what he called "the policy of egoism, the policy of good pleasure." In his view the rival states were all members of human society, of which reciprocal forbearance was the first duty. "Do not unto others," said he, "that which you would not have others do to you." An inflexible bureaucrat, he preserved his principles inviolate, and thus he was able to look back upon a singularly uniform career. He adopted for his device "la force dans le droit," and he was certain that the right was always on his side.—Charles Whibley in Blackwood's.

A Jubilee Joke.

Everything that year was dubbed "Jubilee" from knights and babies to hats and coats. "God Save the Queen" was heard ad nauseam on every conceivable occasion until the tune became an obsession. This led to a practical joke at the castle which caused much amusement. One morning speaking of the jubilee craze, I pretended that I had received as an advertisement a "Jubilee bustle" which would play "God Save the Queen" when the wearer sat down. This, of course, created much curiosity and laughter. Having promised to put it on, I took my hosts into my confidence. An aide-de-camp was pressed into the service, and armed with a small musical box, was made to hide under a particular arm-chair. While the company was at luncheon, I retired to don the so-called "Jubilee wonder," and when they were all assembled I marched in solemnly and slowly sat down on the arm-chair where the poor aide-de-camp was hiding his cramped limbs. To the delight and astonishment of every one the national anthem was heard gently tinkling forth. Every time I rose it stopped; every time I sat down, it began again. I still laugh when I think of it and of the astonished faces about me.—Lady Randolph Churchill.

There Comes a Time

when letters blur, when lines run together, and reading becomes difficult, especially in the evening. This blurring is caused by the eye not being able to focus at the normal reading distance—thirteen inches.

The vision in the distance is as clear as ever, and this fact leads many to believe that glasses are unnecessary, but this is just the time when the first pair of glasses is needed. A continuation without glasses causes an endless strain on the muscles of the eye, and a dull headache is the result, a person gains nothing by going without glasses when they are needed. In fact they gain much by having glasses fitted when the first blur indicates failing vision. ALL WORK GUARANTEED.

The mayor states that aldermen have no power to make such a law.

LETTER CLAIMED AFTER 53 YEARS

Was Mailed in 1854 But Only Recently Delivered.

New York, Feb. 13. — (Special). — After having been fifty-three years on his way here from New Orleans, where it was mailed December 30th, 1854, a letter addressed to Miss Elizabeth Garthwaite, Newark, N. J., which had been advertised by the Newark post office found a claimant yesterday.

Mrs. Elizabeth B. Nicholls, of 14 Fulton street, Newark, called for it and said it was meant for her. Mrs. Nicholls explained that her maiden name was that which appeared on the letter and after examining it found that the writer was Miss Fannie Britton, a cousin, who now lives at El Paso, Texas. She could give no clue to the reason for the letter's more than half a century's journey.

RETURNED PETERBOROUGH MAN WITNESSES GHASTLY SCENE; BODIES TAKEN FROM THE FIRE

Passed Through New Liskeard on Day of the Haacke Tragedy—Dead Bodies in Pieces.

HOME FROM NEW ONTARIO

The recent tragedy at New Liskeard unparalleled in the history of that town, was graphically told to-day to the Examiner by Mr. Roland Tivey, son of Mr. Roland Tivey, Hunt City, who has just arrived in the city after a three years' absence.

Mr. Tivey has been up in New Ontario and on his way home waited at New Liskeard for train connection. On Sunday morning news of the burning of the Haacke dwelling reached the hotel he was staying at and as he and some friends walked over to the fire they came face to face with the ghastly scene of six charred human bodies lying on boards waiting to be removed in the ambulance.

They lay on six inch boards and as soon as all had been taken from the fire they were covered with blankets and lifted, in pieces into the conveyance and drawn away. The sight was one of the most pitiable the bystanders had ever seen.

A despatch referring to the funeral says:—

During the progress of the service the three hearses bearing the caskets were drawn up in front of the house. The mother and baby lie in one casket, the three girls in another and the two boys in the third. The body of Mrs. Haacke was draped in black, and those of the children in white. A few intimate friends of the deceased lady acted as pall-bearers, and the chief mourners were, Mr. and Mrs. H. Jerman, Miss Cora Jerman, Messrs. Fred and Herbert Jerman and the husband.

Mr. Tivey has been engaged on construction work on the T. N. & O. Railway at Waterbag, near a place called McDougall's Chute, about 100 miles north of New Liskeard. He will remain in the city for some time as he is troubled with a sore eye which was injured some time ago by a piece of steel.

Ennismore Party Almost Lost On Lake Chemong

In Big Storm of Last Week—Saved By Means of Their Lantern.

RETRACED THEIR STEPS

On Wednesday, February 5, Messrs. D. and Leo Crough and Mrs. N. Carew had a trip from Peterborough to Chemong Lake that they will not likely forget soon. That day, as all will remember, was a very frosty one, and at noon a severe snowstorm began—one of the worst in the memory of the oldest inhabitants. The wind was from the east. The party left the city about 5 p.m., and being delayed by the heavy roads, arrived on the lake about 6.30. They had no doubt, knowing the road over the ice so well, that they could succeed in getting across to Ennismore there in safety. For five or ten minutes all went well. They could in that length of time see the bushed road at each side, but when they arrived at the third bush they could see no more, and it dawned upon one of the party that perhaps they were going astray. They did not, however, want to credit the thought. They must have turned west as far as Quinlan's Landing, and thinking they had travelled far enough to be either at the bridge or the opposite shore, and yet thinking they were perhaps near the bridge. In fact, they did not know where they were. Their feelings can be better imagined than described.

Fortunately for them, they had a lantern in the sleigh for the purpose of warmth to their feet, and Retracing their way back, one of them ahead of the horses at times with the light low or high as required, and by the way, the same light was a beacon to another person lost on the lake, who had been wandering about. Thinking he had gone far enough he saw what he thought was the light at Mr. Telford's house. It was Mr. Crough's lantern. He called with all his might, but none of them heard him, and he drove on in the direction of the light. Knowing their only chance of safety was to return to Bridgenorth, if possible, and trusting a great deal in the goodness of Divine Providence, and the amount of oil in the lantern, they did so with the greatest difficulty, and just as they got as far as the [illegible] the light went out.

It might have been "all night" with them instead of "all day." They made their way to Mr. Tidy's store, (where their lantern was filled), and scarcely knowing in the wind and blinding snow where they were. It was then after eight, and in a few minutes another sleigh came in sight—no other than the gentleman who was lost on the lake, Mr. John Mooney, the popular township clerk. He had suffered severely by being lost in the storm, having lost his whip, but by being lucky in having good sight and keeping up courage arrived all right. His first words on seeing the light lit were, "I am not Jack o' the Lantern, but Jack after the lantern."

Hospitality Received

The Bridgenorth people extended their first class accommodation for themselves and their horses. Mr. J. N. Telford and his wife, the Messrs Jopling and Mrs. Quinn, all assisted.

On returning home the next day they learned that even had they succeeded in reaching Ennismore they could not have got home.

Many persons in attempting to return home through the snow drifts to Ennismore village that night were obliged to undergo great hardship, and some left their sleighs on the road, glad to go ahead with their horses and themselves to safety.

AVERAGE WOMAN HAS 17 BANDS

Dr. Dudley Refers to the Hips and Waist Swathed in a Torrid Zone.

WEAR SHOES LIKE STILTS

Chicago Feb. 12.—A woman gets tired and exhausted after the slightest exertion because she is improperly dressed, according to the theory of Dr. F C Dudley, expressed yesterday in a lecture before a class in Northwestern University Medical College.

"No wonder her circulation is poor, no wonder she is unable to stand any exercise or exertion to amount to anything," said Dr. Dudley. "The upper garments are usually of some thin material and according to the caprice of fashion, may or may not cover the arms, neck, and upper part of the bust.

"A profusion of skirts is worn loosely about the lowest extremity of the body, and the feet held in a vise-like grip of thin, high-heeled shoes, which resemble stilts more than shoes.

"In strange contrast to such inadequate protection of the upper and lower extremities, the waist and hips are swathed and compressed in a "torrid zone" of whalebone, corset, belt, steels, and the bands of the various and outer garments worn by the woman of to-day.

"The average woman wears a total of seventeen bands of some sort around her waist. Allowing twenty-four inches as the average waist circumference of a Chicago woman, although there are many with larger waists, it means that each woman has a total of thirty-four feet of bandage tightly wrapped around her."

Dr. Dudley told his class the only way the woman of to-day can be strong and hearty is by banishing the numerous tight bandages about the waist and giving more care to keeping the upper and lower portions of the body warm.

Peterborough Hydraulic Power Co. vs. McAllister.

The Toronto Globe of to-day contains the following legal note of interest:—

Peterborough Hydraulic Power Company vs. McAllister.—W. [illegible], K.C., and O'Donnell [illegible], for defendants, [illegible] judgment of a Divisional Court (10 O. W. R. 694) allowing the appeal by the Ontario Bank (third parties) from the judgment of Boyd, C. (10 O. W. R. 109.) and dismissing the claim of the defendants against the bank. The action was for rent, and the claim over by defendants against the bank was for indemnity against the payment of the rent under an agreement between the defendants and the bank; and by reason of the bank being, as alleged, assignees of the term. J. Bicknell, K.C., and A. H. Marsh, for the Ontario Bank, opposed appeal. Not finished.

THE "OBSERVER" TURNS INDEPENDENT

The Life-Long Conservative Paper of Cowansville Changes its Policy.

Cowansville, Feb. 13.—The Cowansville Observer, a life long Conservative weekly newspaper, has turned independent, William Ulric Cotton, secretary-treasurer of Cowansville, has purchased the paper from John J. Barker, who has been editor and proprietor for the past fourteen years.

The Observer was established in 1870 by the late John Massie, Jr., who was assisted in its editorial management during the first two years by W. W. Lynch now Judge Lynch. Mr. Massie published the Observer for seventeen years, A. L. Gilman then purchased the paper and ran it one year as a Liberal weekly, thus being the only break in its career as a Conservative paper. Quimby and Thomas, of Stanstead, followed three years as editors; then Hon. G. B. Baker, owned the weekly during four years. Mr. Barker got the Observer in 1904.

A CHALLENGE AND ITS REPLY

In the course of his notable speech in the timber limits debate on Thursday night of last week, says the Ottawa Free Press, Hon. Clifford Sifton reminded the House and the country that when he came to Parliament and asked "for a miserable little appropriation of $15,000 or $20,000 a year for the purpose of establishing the planting of trees in the Western province, the proposition was opposed by the Conservatives and that for day after day, week after week, they said it was for the purpose of providing some political supporters with offices."

When Dr. Roche came to reply he said that he challenged Mr. Sifton to produce his proof of the statement. There is no need for Mr. Sifton to produce any proof. The proof is contained in the Hansard of April 9, 1901, when the proposed vote was opposed tooth and nail by such eminent members of the Conservative party as Mr. Clancy, Mr. Uriah Wilson and Mr. F. D. Monk.

What poor memories some of these Conservatives have when it suits them!

FALSE ALARMS

The Ottawa Free Press dubs Mr. Ames, M.P., Montreal, False Alarm Ames, apropos of the tempest in a teapot which he raised over the timber limit question in the West. Mr. Ames got access to the original tenders in respect of certain timber limits in Western Canada, and from some alleged similarities in hand-writing, evolved a series of suspicions indicating to his mind some irregularities in administration. Upon these he built a house of cards, which collapsed under the breath of Hon. Mr. Sifton's illuminating speech. A running summary of the address by the Ottawa Free Press exposes effectively the false alarms of wrong-doing made by Mr. Ames and his Opposition confreres:

Mr. Sifton's speech was direct and conclusive. He dealt with the actual facts and figures of the administration of the timber resources of Western Canada during the years of his tenure of office as Minister of the Interior, and showed that the methods of sale of timber limits which he found in force he continued. He decided that they were right and proper methods, as he also decided that the officials whom he found in charge of this work of carrying them into operation were competent and satisfactory officials. Both the policy and the officials in that particular branch of the Department of the Interior he left unchanged. And in the course of his speech he demonstrated convincingly that the results furnish a complete justification of the wisdom of having so done.

Mr. Sifton devoted himself with business-like directness to the actual matter of the administration of the timber resources since the Liberal Government took office in 1896, and the question whether it was upon the lines best calculated to result to the present and future advantage of the country. A previous speaker in the debate, Mr. Turriff, the member for East Assiniboia, formerly Commissioner of Dominion Lands, had set before the House some striking figures showing that the Mackenzie Government had, between 1873 and 1878, disposed of 310 square miles of timber limits at an average price of $23 per square mile; the Conservative Government, between 1878 and 1896, disposed of 29,322 square miles at an average of 15 cents per square mile, the country deriving nothing at all from 23,987 of those 29,322 square miles of timber, and the present Government has sold 6,356 square miles at an average price of $89.92 per square mile. For 316 square miles the Mackenzie Government received over $8,000; for 29,322 square miles the Conservative Government received a little more than $1,000; for 6,356 square miles disposed of by the present Government $570,000 has gone into the public treasury.

In addition to these comparative figures it must be borne in mind, as Mr. Sifton pointed out, that the present Government collects a ground rent on the limits, from which a revenue of $30,000 a year is received, and stumpage dues amounting to 50 cents per thousand feet of timber. The stumpage dues alone amount to more than three times the total receipts per square mile that, under the Conservative Government, went into the Dominion treasury. And in addition to the ground rent and stumpage dues, the present Government exacts the fulfilment of certain conditions in regard to actual lumbering operations, so that the first price paid down by no means represents the total outlay, now involved in the purchase of timber limits.

As to the method of sale of timber limits, the Conservative Government, as the result of the continued exposures and attacks by the then Opposition, were forced to turn over a new leaf in 1889. By an Order-in-Council, dated September 17 in that year new regulations were brought into operation, and from that time until the Conservative Government left office in 1896 there was heard no criticism of these regulations from the Liberal Opposition. These regulations were continued by Mr. Sifton when he took office as Minister of Interior in 1896, and not until Mr. Ames raised his false alarm has been been heard any criticism of them. A typical specimen of the false alarm criticism which Mr. Sifton disposed of was the point made by Mr. Perley, the Conservative member for Argenteuil, who, following Mr. Ames, had read from the announcement of a timber limit sale the words, "No tender by telegraph will be entertained." When Mr. Perley read these words in the House, the Opposition broke out into jeers; these words were taken as conclusive evidence of some dishonesty having been planned. Mr. Sifton, holding in his hands the regulations adopted September 17, 1889, read to the House from the first section the words: "No tender will be entertained by telegraph."

The most absurd part of the Ames attack was the contention of that gentleman that the principle of sale by public auction to the highest bidder was not sufficient for the safeguarding of the public interest, but that there should be some sort of inquisitorial discrimination between tenders. Mr. Sifton briefly and forcibly showed that no Government could exercise any such discrimination or allow any official to do so, and he went on to say, in illustration of the Ames idea: "Suppose the case "of three or four tenders for a "limit. The Minister takes them to "Council, the Council takes into "solemn consideration the question "of several tenders. They call each "tenderer before them in turn, and "question them. They send for one "who is a lawyer and ask him what "his clients are, whether they are "lumbermen, how much timber they "own in other places, and what their "financial standing is. Another tenderer happens to be a joint stock "company, and they send for representatives, and ask who are the "shareholders, and so on. Another "tenderer, a lumberman, comes up, "and they interrogate him about financial conditions. They then sit "down, and after careful consideration they decide not to give the "limit to the highest bidder, but to "somebody else. It is only necessary "to suggest such a process being "gone through to condemn it for utter and entire absurdity. All the "Government can do is to call for "tenders, and give the limit to the highest tenderer. Every citizen has "a perfect right to tender and every "man who tenders has the right to "to have his tender accepted, if it is "the highest. So far as I am concerned, I entirely repudiate any "responsibility whatever as to who "the tenderer was who was known "to own the limits after which they "have been sold by public auction."

It is to be noted that Mr. Borden, the leader of the Opposition, did not follow Mr. Ames in his criticism of the Government's course. In a reasonable discussion of the timber policy of the Government, these contentions of Mr. Ames have no proper place at all. That policy, upon fair-minded examination, is found to have been based upon the principle of promoting the general development of the country an dmeeting the public needs, and has been carried out in accordance with that principle both during Mr. Sifton's time as Minister of the Interior and by the present Minister, Mr. Oliver.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Mail and Empire manifested its usual fair play on Saturday when, in its report of the proceedings of the Senate on Friday, it omitted all mention of the speech by Hon. W. J. Macdonald, in which that Conservative from British Columbia praised the Lemieux settlement as the best solution of a difficult problem. If he had condemned the agreement it would have been blazoned in big type; because he supported it he was ignored by the chief organ of the party to which he has belonged for so many years.

RECIPE FOR COLDS

THE OLD TOLENE AND WHISKEY MIXTURE FOR COUGHS, COLDS, ETC., ONCE MORE POPULAR.

From an eminent local druggist we learn that the old, reliable mixture of whiskey and Tolene is as popular to-day as it was years ago, and that it is better than many of the so-called sure cures advertised extensively. Here is the recipe:—

Fluid extract Licorice.....	½ oz.
Fluid extract Cascara.....	½ oz.
Elixir Tolene	1 oz.
Best rye whiskey.....	6 oz.

Take a dessertspoonful every two or three hours. Children in proportion.

These well-known ingredients can be bought at any drug store at small expense and mixed at home.

Will Remain On The Farm

A writer in "The World's Work," declares that it will require 100 years, and perhaps more, as we are now going, for all of the forces now at work to make farm life attractive to reach all of the people, or stop the untrained rush to the town. The writer declares that the untrained rush to the town is largely due to archaic methods of agriculture. The farmers, he says, "know, as a whole, but little of improved methods of agriculture. They reap and sow as their fathers did." This is not an altogether accurate picture of farm life to-day. In some of the older states, in the east and south, old-fashioned methods of farming may obtain to some extent; but while one unprogressive farmer may reap and sow as his father did before him there are a dozen farmers who are actively engaged in farming according to modern scientific methods. This is the day of diversification, when scientific knowledge of agriculture is demanded of the man who would make his land yield a profit, and in the more progressive agricultural sections the farmers make use of the latest machinery, adopt the most advanced methods, and study diligently the literature of farm life in the form of scientific treatises, agricultural periodicals and Government bulletins. Improved roads, the extension of interurban trolley lines and the elimination of the factor of isolation have combined to put the farmer in touch with life, to provide a better market for his goods, and to advance the value of his products and property. The rush of the young men to the city is due to the allurements of city life and to the fact that man, like all animals, is gregarious. The man in town, of course, cannot understand the desire on the part of the rural youth to desert the farm. Weary of the routine of business or professional life, tired of desk or counter, and oppressed by a thousand and one cares, he would welcome the freedom and fresh air that are a part of existence on the patrimonial acres. The simple life is attractive to the man who is cooped up in an office six days in a week, while the desk and the swivel chair are alluring to the man who follows the plow and sows and reaps. In a word, most men imagine they would be happier doing something radically different from what they are doing.

EASTER COMES RATHER LATE THIS YEAR

Lent Does Not Begin Until March 4th—Easter Sunday on April 19.

Easter Sunday the church festival ranking next to Christmas, will be late this year falling upon April 19th. Last year it came on March 31st and Lent began on February 13. This year Lent begins on March 4th. Good Friday is equivalent to the Jewish Feast of the Passover, and is dependent upon it. The Feast of the Passover varies accordingly, being different each year. This year it will fall on April 17th.

WAS A TOTAL WRECK FROM HEART FAILURE.

Heart disease is characterized by its stealthy approach and its variety of forms, yet in all its forms nature gives unmistakable signals which warn us of its presence.

One of the first danger signals announcing something wrong with the heart is the irregular beat or violent throb. Often there is only a fluttering sensation, or an "all gone" sinking feeling; or, again there may be the most violent beating, with flushings of the skin and visible pulsations of the arteries. You may experience a smothering sensation, gasp for breath and feel as though about to die. In such cases the action of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills in quieting the heart, restoring its normal beat and imparting tone to the nerve centres, is, beyond all question, marvellous. They give such prompt relief, such speedy restoration to health that no one need suffer.

Mr. Darius Carr, Geary, N.B., writes: "It is with the greatest of pleasure I write you a few lines to let you know the great blessing your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have been to me. I was a total wreck from heart failure, my wife advised me to take your pills, and, after using two boxes I was restored to perfect health. I am now sixty-two years old and feel almost as well as I did at twenty."

BISHOP STRINGER'S DEPARTURE

VISITED IN PETERBOROUGH

A Dawson paper describes in graphic words the departure from that northern city of Bishop Stringer on a visit to the distant Peel river tribe. Bishop Stringer visited in Peterborough about a year ago and the account will be interesting to many here. The paper of date Jan. 10, says: Togged in the picturesque parka, with moccasins snugly astride his feet and with the tail of his flying fox cap flaunting saucily in the wind, the Right Reverend I. O. Stringer, Bishop of the Diocese of Yukon, in the service of the Church of England, sprinted aprply behind a six-in-hand team of ginger-filled malamutes this afternoon, as he started on a daring venture into the domain of the mysterious Peel river tribe.

The bishop is undertaking one of the most unique journeys in the history of the church evangelical. He goes due north, following over mountain after mountain, over valley after valley, through one stretch of spruce-covered wilderness after another, over the castled crags and through the pinnacled passes of the Arctic Rockies to the abode of the Pelis.

The toboggan bearing the supplies for the bishop and his companions is loaded to its fullest capacity. Accompanying the bishop as chauffeur of the canine auto is the grateful and trusty tribesman, Willie Blind Goose, who derived his cognomen from his generous forefathers, and the central link of his euphonious label from the fellows of his nation out of commemoration of the fact that he is blind in one eye. The Christian name is one of those hard-worked labels of the white cousins, so much used when it is more expeditious than to number the progeny.

The bishop hopes to be back in two to four weeks. He has asked the members of the tribe who left here the day after Christmas to summon all the members of the Peels so that they will push towards Dawson as far as possible to meet him.

The 25 men who were here for Christmas had one of the greatest treats in their lives, and are pushing back with several toboggans loaded to the guards with food and presents for their squaws and brothers. Among the most unique novelties which they indulged in this trip for the first time was the brave act of facing the cameras. They found that the photographers can make pictures at night with the aid of his strong arc lights, as well as in the day. The Indians eyes popped with wonderment when they beheld his miracle. They sent two of the tribe before the tell-tale machine.

The two were beside themselves with joy as the result shown, and hastened back to the others of the tribe. The next thing the photographer knew he had the shop full of the ambitious reds, and they remained until everyone had gone before the fires. It was hard on 3 o'clock in the morning before all had taken the degree.

While on the trail the Indians are clad in the most picturesque tasseled and fringed moosekin garments, with bright worked, coloured and beaded leggings, but when it came to having pictures taken they doffed their picturesque dress and appeared in brand new clawhaso suits, of the kind worn by the whites. They insisted on being photographed without their coats, and Amos, who is to be ordained as a parson of the tribe, would not let the button be touched until he had an Africano between his teeth and a big smoke going skyward. One had a white vest; another swelled out with a watch and chain. It was a happy night.

ANNUAL "AT-HOME" IN HARWOOD

Mr. Archie Moore Was Master of Ceremonies at Mr. Corkery's Annual Fete.

The 15th annual At Home given by Mr. Corkery, proprietor of the Lakeview House, Harwood, was held on Tuesday night and although the roads in that neighbourhood are not in the best condition at present there was a large attendance about 50 couples being present. There would likely have been a much larger crowd had communication with Cobourg not been cut off. Peterborough was represented by about sixteen people. Meiklejohn's orchestra from the city provided the music and Mr. Archie Moore again made a most capable master of the dance.

It is rather interesting to note that Mr. Moore has officiated at 14 of the 15 annual dances sufficient proof of the satisfaction that he has always given.

Mr. Moore has several other engagements to fill in the near future among them being the annual At Home of the Separate School Board of Campbellford which takes place towards the end of the month.

For The Woman That's Fat

A Detroit physician says that the cheapest and safest mixture a fat woman who wants to get thin can use is one-half ounce Marmola (get it in the original half-ounce package,) 3-4 ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, and 4 3-4 ounces Syrup Simplex. The proper amount to take is a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime.

These ingredients may be obtained from any druggist at small cost and make a combination that is not only excellent as a fat reducer, being able, it is claimed, to take off a pound a day without causing wrinkles, but is also a splendid help to the system as a whole, regulating the stomach bowels (where the fat person's troubles begin), and clearing the skin of pimples and blotches. No exercise is required to help the remedy in its work and, best of all, no dieting is necessary while taking it—you can eat what you like.

ICE CROP THIS YEAR A LARGE ONE

Prices May Be Lower Next Summer—Are Busy Cutting.

In all probability ice will be lower in price next summer than it has been in a long time, for the crop this year is one of the best ever cut.

The iceman have been busy for some time cutting the cold stuff in Little Lake, and it was stated to-day that in point of thickness and clearness the crop is a splendid one.

Naturally the ice dealers are not given to prophesying just what the price of their products will be, but one of the local dealers to-day stated that he was sure it would sell cheaper next spring and summer than it did last year.

Pains and Aches Of The Aged

LARGELY DUE TO DERANGEMENTS OF THE LIVER, KIDNEYS AND BOWELS, WHICH ARE OVERCOME BY AGE

You do not feel so young as you used to. The joints are a bit stiff. And you have dull, heavy pains in the back and limbs, with attacks of rheumatism, it may be.

It is possible you have found out that the cause of trouble rests with the sluggish action of the kidneys, liver and bowels, but if you have not used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills you have not tested the effective treatment for these conditions.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are a comfort to the aged largely because of their unique combined action on the whole excretory system.

Constipation and biliousness can no longer exist when the liver is enlivened to action by the use of this great medicine.

Kidney derangements and backache likewise disappear when the kidneys are invigorated, and an occasional dose of these pills ensures the elimination of uric acid from the system.

Almost daily we hear of aged people whose pains and aches have been overcome and whose lives have been made more comfortable and more happy by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. James Simpson, Newcomb Mills, Northumberland County, Ont., writes: "This is to certify that I was sick in bed the most of the time for three years with kidney disease. I took several boxes of pills—different kinds—and a great many other kinds of patent medicines; besides that, I was under treatment by four different doctors during the time, and not able to work. I began to take Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and since that time have been working every day, although a man nearly 70 years of age. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have cured me."

In every family there is need of just such a medicine as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to cure constipation, backache, biliousness, indigestion, and prevent dangerous and fatal diseases of the kidneys and bowels. One pill a dose; 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

HORSE RAN AWAY ON GEORGE STREET

Driver Was in a House Delivering Groceries.

About ten minutes to six last evening a runaway took place on George street which caused considerable excitement for a while. One of the drivers for E.F. Mason & Co. was delivering goods on George street and left his horse standing on the road without putting a halter on it. While the driver was in the house the animal took fright at a passing car and set off up George street at a fast pace. It was passing the opera house as the matinee was getting out and a man, seeing the horse coming, ran out on the road and stopped it. The animal was tied to a telegraph pole until the driver came.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE FORMATION

Valuable Information for Organizing and Conducting Them—Co-operate With the Women.

NO SECTARIAN SUBJECTS

The meetings of the Farmer's Institute are past and now is an opportune time for those farmers who are desirous of organizing clubs to be ready in time for the meetings next autumn. The following circular, sent out by Geo. A. Putnam, provides the information necessary:

The aim of Farmers' Institute Clubs is to provide an opportunity for farmers, farmers' sons and others interested in agriculture to study this great question in all its bearings, and especially the local conditions which affect the production, handling and marketing of farm products. These clubs will permit of the exchange of ideas, methods, etc., and the development of debating and oratorical ability of its members.

The organization of a Farmers' Institute Club may take place at a regularly called Farmers' Institute meeting or at a meeting called for the special purpose. At least two weeks' notice of a specially called meeting must be given in the local papers or by poster; and all members of the club shall be constituted members of the Farmers' Institute for the riding by paying the annual fee of 25 cents; said fee except as below, with name and address, to be sent to the secretary of the Riding Institute. By the consent of the District Executive, five or ten cents per member may be retained for local purposes. Only members will be allowed to hold offices or have a vote in elections. All farmers will be made welcome to meetings and have a vwoice in discussion.

Those in attendance at the organization meeting should appoint a president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer and committee of four or more. The committee should consist of about an equal number of old and young men. The Executive Committee should be composed of president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer and three or more other persons, and the older and younger members of the club should be represented upon the executive. A quorum shall consist of at least three members of the executive. The executive committee shall have power to deal with all matters of business in connection with the club. The president shall preside at all meetings; in his absence the vice-president; in the absence of both, the members in attendance shall choose a chairman from among themselves (a member of the committee preferred).

Approve of Subjects

The committee shall arrange for the hour and place of each meeting, subjects to be discussed, speakers, etc. It would be well to have subjects to be taken up from time to time approved of by the meeting. Any expense incurred in providing a suitable place of meeting shall be covered by a collection; or, preferably, an additional fee, in case the proportion of regular fee retained does not cover expenditure. The proceedings of each meeting shall be recorded by the secretary, and a report of additional members, and other items of interest sent to the secretary of the Riding Institute at least every three months.

No subject shall be presented at a club meeting, or discussion allowed, of a political or sectarian nature. It would be well to make provision at some of the meetings, if not all, for recitations or music, to occupy a limited portion of the time.

The programme for the meetings shall consist of any subject or subjects of live interest to the farmers, supplemented by music, readings, recitations and debates. Any subject of particularly interest in the locality and especially to farmers which can be intelligently discussed at the meeting, may be dealt with. Care should be taken by the Executive Committee to see that those best able to present the subject shall do so; but in the discussion which follows the subject even those who are not at the time particularly qualified to discuss it, or who are not good speakers, shall be encouraged to take part in the discussion so that they may become the more able to present their views. The chairman should hold all strictly to the subject and encourage briefness and clearness. A free and general discussion shall be encouraged and considered the most valuable way to spend the time of the club.

Special Work

The nature of any special work to be undertaken in each locality will, of course, depend upon the lines of agriculture which are successfully followed in that locality. If dairying is one of the chief sources of revenue to the farmers it would be well to make an investigation as to the cheapest methods of feeding in the vicinity and the best methods of caring for and handling milk, and the general methods of a few of the best dairy farmers. By mutual agreement good ideas might be purchased jointly or under any satisfactory business management for use of the members of the locality. Similar work might be taken up with reference to other special lines carried on in the locality.

The carrying on of experiments will be the most valuable department of the club, provided it is carried on systematically and intelligently. There should be an Experiment Committee composed of men who will carry out what they undertake. It will be found that the more who take up experimental work, the greater will be the interest in the meetings of the club. It is impossible to truly value this department. It should be most strongly advocated, and after an interest is aroused by search for the wealth of unrealized truth it becomes fascinating. This will be found the best cure for lagging interest.

Special Inducements

The members of the club will receive reports and bulletins furnished to regular Farmers' Institute members. The department sometimes has a limited supply of other publications. The members of the Farmers' Institute clubs will be given preference in the distribution of the same. As a special inducement to the clubs to hold regular meetings, the department will send a speaker to address one meeting each year, provided the club concerned holds at least four regular meetings during the year. speaker will cost the local organization nothing except for entertainment while at the place of meeting. The right is reserved by the department to set the date for the visit of the special speaker. We would strongly advise that the Farmers' Institute club and the local branch of the Women's Institute co-operate in social gatherings occasionally; in fact, it might be well for the two organizations to have joint meetings every two months or oftener if thought desirable.

INTEREST CENTRED IN POULTRY MEETING

Many Fanciers Will Be There to Assist in Organization.

Poultry men are keen on the formation of a poultry association in Peterborough, and there is little doubt that the organization meeting next Tuesday night in the Council Chamber will be well attended. Some years ago there was an association in Peterborough, which, when at its height, was responsible for the holding of a big exhibition of poultry in the market hall.

The local fanciers are anxious to have this repeated, and to create an interest in the breeding of good fowl. They believe there is no better time to organize than the present and hope the meeting next week will be a representative gathering of poultrymen from all parts of the city.

EMPLOYEES OVER 65 YEARS MUST GO

In Connection With the Grand Trunk—The New Pension Rules.

Toronto, Feb. 13.—Orders have been issued to the heads of the different departments of the Grand Trunk Railway System, instructing them to immediately retire from the service all those employees in their jurisdictions who have reached the age of 65 years. This is in accordance with the new pension rules.

Any who are over 65 and who do not want to be retired must apply to the committee to continue in the service until 70 years of age, and their cases will be considered. In the meantime, however, they will be relieved from duty.

DELIGHTFUL VALENTINE SOCIAL

Held Last Evening by the Ladies T. A. S. Literary Society.

The evening spent with the ladies of the T. A. S. Literary Society last night was another repetition of the many pleasant ones that have been arranged by them from time to time. The happy function took the form of a Valentine social and its popularity was manifest by the large number in attendance.

During the evening progressive euchre held sway in the assembly hall, there being more than fifty tables in motion. The winners in this event were Miss J. O'Brien and Mr. Markle.

Shortly after 11 o'clock supper was announced and the dining-room soon superseded the assembly hall in popularity. The tables were most artistically arranged in Valentine colours, with hearts in abundance and stripes in tissue paper. They were also decorated with palms and grass as an emblem of the approach of spring.

Music formed an interesting portion of the impromptu programme. The various committees in charge of the event deserve great credit for the successful issue of their many plans to make the evening an enjoyable one.

SCOURING YOUR SCALP

Will Remove the Loose Dandruff Scales but it Won't Cure Dandruff

If your hair is brittle and thinning, you have dandruff. The mere scouring of the scalp of the loose scales won't cure dandruff, because dandruff is nothing but scales of scalp being thrown up by a pestiferous little germ in burrowing its way to the root of the hair where it saps the vitality, causing falling hair and, in time, baldness. Now, you can't stop dandruff nor falling hair, nor prevent baldness, unless you destroy that germ, and the only preparation that can do it is the new scientific discovery — Newbro's Herpicide. In fact, no other hair preparation claims to kill the dandruff germ—all of them will clean the scalp, soap and water will do that; but only Newbro's Herpicide gets at the root of the trouble and kills the dandruff germ. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes—50c and $1. McDermid & Jury and the Market Drug Store, Special Agents.

SHREDDED WHEAT SOCIAL IN SMITH

Baptists of Gilmour Memorial Church Had Well Laid Plans.

The Shredded Wheat social and concert at the Gilmour Memorial Baptist Church, Smith township, last night was successful in every way. The delightful supper provided gratis by the Shredded Wheat Company and under the management of Mr. Harry A. Bishop was novel to the Smith folk and it certainly was enjoyed.

On Sunday last the church anniversary services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. R. Bonner, and the social and concert last night was a continuation.

The programme was a splendid one. The George street Methodist church orchestra was present and on several occasions rendered selections in excellent fashion. The chairman of the evening was Rev. J. R. Bonner. Among the soloists present were Mr. J. H. Scriver and Mr. Howard Mallory, both of whom have fine tenor voices. Dr. Metzler of Bridgenorth gave an address, and the male quartette of George street church rendered some splendid selections.

The waiters all belonged to the male section of the church congregation and dressed in white coats attracted much attention.

The proceeds amounted to $65 which went to the general funds of the church.

HORSE RUN AWAY ON HUNTER STREET

Was Frightened by Some Snow Falling Off the Oriental Roof.

A runaway occurred this morning about 11.30 o'clock on Hunter street which caused considerable excitement. The driver of the sleigh left his horse standing on the street outside the Oriental Hotel while he went into a store across the way. While away some snow fell from the roof of the Oriental upon the horse's head, and the frightened animal bolted eastward and passed directly in front of a southbound George street car. A man who was standing in front of the post-office saw the horse coming and brought it to a standstill.

Use Peterborough Cedar To Build Boston Boats

Mr. Wm. Robertson, Perry Street, Sending Car Load Across the Line—For Manufacture of Canvas Canoes.

NONE IN UNITED STATES

Possibly there are few persons in Peterborough who know that cedar for canoe building in the United States is about as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth. The Yankee boat builders have now to send across the border for their material and one particular firm is getting their supplies from Peterborough.

Mr. William Robertson, who resides on Perry street, last autumn secured a car load of cedar for a Boston canoe building firm, of which his brother, Mr. Charles Robertson, is manager, and this is awaiting shipment in a store room to the rear of the Walter Green foundry.

The cedar was obtained in Smith township and is cut in strips 4 feet and 4 feet 6 inches in length, 2 3-8 inches wide and 3-8 of an inch in thickness.

These strips are sawed all ready for steaming for the construction of the canoe, and will be sent to Boston as soon as arrangements are made. There are 20,000 pieces altogether, which will be sufficient for the manufacture of 400 canoes.

Use Canvas Brand

The firm in Boston using the cedar manufacture nothing but the canvas canoe. Each contains fifty of the cedar ribs, covered by a sheeting of cedar 1-8 of an inch thick, with the canvas on the outside. They are light and safe and not injured by the sun.

The cedar in the State of Maine has practically disappeared and the Boston company has now to obtain its supply in Canada. Last year it secured a car load in the United States, but had to get it from a forest one hundred miles north of Chicago. Their material will henceforth have to come from Canadian forests.

Rev. Arthur Davis Tells The Story Of The Welsh Revival

Large Gathering at Park Street Baptist Church Listens to an Interesting Lecture on the Movement in Wales.

A LASTING IMPRESSION

"The Welsh Revival," as told by Rev. Arthur Davis, himself a Welshman, and thoroughly conversant with the stirring times which upset the torpid spiritual life of Wales and rejuvenated the hardy little nation as followers of Christ, resulted in Park street Baptist church being comfortably filled to hear Mr. Davis, who treated the subject in an interesting manner and held the attention of the congregation while he minutely detailed the growth and results of the religious movement.

Rev. A. H. Brace introduced Rev. Mr. Davis, who expressed hisples sure at being present to address such a large gathering. He said he believed the revival in Wales to be a continuation of Pentecost. Its origin or commencement was not known. The seed had been sown by God and unknown to man it gradually grew until the whole country was imbued with the spirit of God and 160,000 souls were won over for Christ.

A revival, Mr. Davis explained, is the rekindling of the vital spark of life within a man's soul. A revival in the Church of God, he said, is like the springtime in the world of Nature. A noticeable feature of the revival in Wales was that all the prominent workers were young men and women. None of those who played the most active parts were over 30. Mr. Davis explained that God seemed to take the young people, and very often the most unlikely, and used them to carry out the work which He wished to be done.

Mr. Davis gave a vivid word picture of Evan Roberts, the young collier, who was so instrumental in carrying along the movement, giving it an impetus which, the speaker declared, showed the hand of God. Mr Davis referred, to specific occasions when the people were swayed in crowds by the revival spirit. Evan Roberts' battle cry was the words of the hymn, "Oh the love of God, it is wonderful," etc. The people would sing this hymn by the hour. In fact, the speaker said, mere words could not describe the scenes that marked the meetings.

Not only the people who worked in the mines but every class was afflicted by the movement, and the young college graduates were as great out in the field, joining hands with the simple colliers for the one end. Mr. Davis said the effects of the revival have remained unbroken and he was confident that the work which had been done would have a lasting effect on the Welsh people.

Oldest Woman In Canada Is Dead In Nesbitt, Manitoba

Former Resident of Cavan Township—She Was Born In The Year 1800.

LIVED IN MILLBROOK

Mrs. Argue, the oldest woman in Canada and former resident of Cavan, township, has passed away in Nesbitt, Man. She was born in the year 1800, so that she was almost 108 years of age at her death last week. The Manitoba Free Press gives the following account of her life and death: Probably the oldest woman in Canada died on Wednesday, the 5th inst., at Nesbitt, Man., in the person of Mrs. Argue. Her maiden name was Margaret Jameson, and she was born near the village of Pettito, Fermanagh county, Ireland, on August 15, 1800. She was married in Ireland and had one daughter, Mrs. Miller, Sr., with whom she was living at the time of her death. Mrs. Miller is 81 years old. After the death of her husband, Mrs. Argue emigrated to this country in 1843 and settled in the township of Cavan, Ont., near Peterborough. In 1845 she married John Speer and moved to the township of Dummer, where 17 years were spent, and then two years in Turnberry. Having become a widow for the second time, she returned to Cavan, and for the third time she entered the matrimonial state, this time being married to Henry Argue of Millbrook. After their marriage they lived in Millbrook only a few months and then moved to Flos township, near the Georgian Bay, where Mr. Argue died. She then went back to Turnberry to reside with her daughter. Her grandson, T. W. Miller, came to Manitoba in 1882 and took up his present homestead south of Nesbitt, sending east for his mother and grandmother in 1886. According to family records, Mrs. Argue would have been 108 years of age next August, although several of her relatives claim she was in her 111th year. She was peaceful to the last and it was clearly evident that death was due to advanced age only, as there were no evidences whatever of illness. Though in excellent health, with good appetite and spirits, her physical powers were not commensurate with these, and she had never left her bed since July, 1901. Her eyesight failed her in 1898, but her hearing remained good practically up to the time of her death.

Storm Bound, And They Took Tuesday For Sunday

Tried to Keep it Dark But the Women Let the Cat Out—Amusing Story From Warsaw.

GOES TO CHURCH TUESDAY

Examiner Special.

Warsaw, Feb. 13.—A rather amusing story is being told of a certain household located near the village, the members of which became confused in the days of the week. On Tuesday last, instead of following their usual weekly occupations, they kept the day, or most of it, as becomes Christian people on the Sabbath. On account of the heavy storms and the drifted roads, the usual intercourse between neighbours had not been carried on for several days, and it was not until evening when some of the family were about half way to the village to attend service and met a friend coming to visit them, that they discovered their error. Needless to say the visitor was sworn to secrecy regarding the whole affair, but then there were three women in the party, so what was the use?

VELETTA CLUB DANCE LAST NIGHT

Largely Attended---Common's Orchestra Was Present.

The new Veletta Club held their first dance of the season last night in the Foresters' Hall on Simcoe street. The dance was largely attended, over 70 couples being present and the music supplied by Common's Orchestra was very much enjoyed. As refreshments were not served the dance broke up early. Great praise is due Messrs. C G Delaney and T McGrath, who were the committee in charge of the dance.

BAD PITCH-HOLES IN THE RURAL ROADS

Mr. S. Bennett of Otonabee Describes A Big One.

"The roads in the country are worse than they ever were," was the statement made by Mr. Sidney Bennett of Otonabee to the Examiner last night.

Every person has heard of the pitch holes big enough to hold a ton of hay, and while those in Otonabee are not quite so large, Mr. Bennett says they are the biggest that have ever come under his observation in recent years.

He told of one near the Looks Bridge in which the horse and cutter actually go down out of sight. He attributed the cause of this to the great quantity and the looseness of the snow which easily works into holes. The cutters and horses sink in the roads so far that travelling faster than a walk is simply impossible.

MANY BOYS JOIN THE BROTHERHOOD

Impressive Meeting at St. Luke's Church Last Night.

At the evening service yesterday seven boys were admitted into membership with the Junior Chapter of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. After the sermon, in which Rev. Dr. Langfeldt had asked for the prayers of the congregation on behalf of these boys who had decided for the service of Christ, they came up to the altar rail where the rector took their obligation and vow. They were formally admitted, the rector taking the candidates by the hand and saying, "I receive and admit you into the fellowship of this Brotherhood, and to a share in all its privileges and duties. May you have grace to copy the example of the blessed saint, whose name we bear, in bringing many of your brethren to the knowledge of Jesus Christ our Lord." Each member received then the badge, a button with St. Andrew's Cross.

The officers are:
Director—Edward Hanwell.
Vice-Director—Orlando Waterman.
Sec.-Treas.—Gillespie Stewart.
The meetings will be held every Sunday afternoon after Sunday school.

SLEIGHING PARTY HAD A HARD TIME

Were Upset Three Times on the Road to Gilmour Church.

The Murray street Baptist church sleighing party which took place last night will long be remembered by those who attended it. They intended going to Gilmour Church for supper, but before they reached their destination they were upset in the snow, three times. The roads were extremely bad and the driver of the bus experienced great difficulty in making any headway. The last upset that befel the party took place about twenty yards from the church and proved the most serious of any. The whole bus load was thrown into the road and many were badly hurt. The men had their hats smashed and the ladies their dresses torn. The party nevertheless enjoyed the drive and did justice to the dainty supper served them at Gilmour Church.

This has afforded employment for several men out of work and they will be paid the usual wage of $1.50 a day.

Music and Drama

MARKS BROS. BIG HIT

Marks Bros. Dramatic Company delighted two large audiences at the Grand yesterday. For the benefit of the School Children a matinee was given in the afternoon, a dramatization of Ouida's beautiful story "Under Two Flags," being chosen by the Company. It was admirably staged and acted with May A Bell-Marks as Cigarette, and the audience thoroughly enjoyed the presentation.

"Hulda the Girl From the West," a melodrama with a breezy Western flavour was the bill in the evening and made a distinct hit with the large audience. All the cast won new laurels in their different roles. The specialties as usual were clever and enjoyable. To-night the company will present "The Banker's Wife."

C. P. R. MAKES IT TOO HOT FOR THEIR PASSENGERS

The Canadian Pacific Railway has a good name for carefully looking after their travelling patrons, making them comfortable. But on the run of the local between Toronto and Peterborough they make things uncomfortably comfortable—too hot by far. On this train passengers during the winter complain of the stifling heat at which the cars are kept. The moment a passenger boards the train he begins to fry, and the process is kept up the whole length of the journey. Passengers not only roast en route to the point of suffocation, but on leaving the cars in a perspiring condition run a great risk of taking cold. Why not keep the cars moderately warm, say 65 or 70 degrees—not 90 in the shade. Will the authorities remedy the matter?

Keene, Feb. 12.—On account of the bad weather Rev. Mr. Emberson, a returned missionary from Japan, who was to have conducted services in the Methodist Church, did not arrive and Rev. W. D. Harrison, the pastor, preached instead.

Mr. John Humphries, Georgetown, spent Sunday with his brother, Mr. Robert Humphries.

HAUL FINISHED NEXT WEEK

Home From Camps on Jack's Lake—44 Inches of Snow in That Vicinity.

Messrs. Dickson Davidson and Thos. Thompson, of the Peterborough Lumber Company, have just returned after a few days visit to their lumber camps on Jack's Lake. Mr. Davidson was seen by an Examiner reporter this morning concerning his trip to the woods, and he said he was very pleased with the way the work was progressing in the north country. The main haul will be finished at the end of this week and the cut was very satisfactory. The snow around the vicinity of the camp covers the ground to the extent of 44 inches. The lake only has a thin sheet of ice on it but is covered with snow with water on the top. The roads between Lakefield and Burleigh are in an awful condition and on several occasions they were compelled to drive through the fields.

A PETERBOROUGH BOY'S GOOD WORK

Saves Two Ladies From Drowning in Vancouver.

A Peterborough boy, Mr. Jack Erskine, figures prominently in the rescue of two young ladies in Vancouver. The World of that city gives the following account of the affair:

"Modesty alone was the reason that the name of Mr. Jack Erskine of the Canadian Bank of Commerce did not appear in these columns yesterday in connection with the story of the marrow escape of two ladies from drowning in the new reservoir. It was announced that a skater had jumped into the reservoir, and by the trick of treading water had kept the ladies' heads up and thus prevented a double drowning. At the time the young man's name could not be ascertained, and it was to-day learned the plucky preserver was Mr. Jack Erskine of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and to him is due the credit of having prevented what would have been one of the saddest accidents of the new year."

The Jack Erskine referred to is well known here, having for some time filled a position in the local branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. He is a son of the late Mr. John Erskine, once of Peterborough's former merchants, who operated a large dry goods store on the south side of Hunter street, just east of George street.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Feb. 13.—Short covering was responsible for the opening bulge; higher prices in London influencing the flour element to take a turn on the long side. The early market was quite feverish at times, but the expectation of regular Harriman dividends was a strong influence on the bull side of the market and notwithstanding a very sharp break in Mo. Pac. and other Gould stocks, the rest of the list strengthened and at times was quite strong.

The accual announcement of the unchanged dividends on Southern and Union Pac., were not greeted with any rush to buy stocks, and since this was made, the market observed a sagging tendency with the result that during the last hour prices were at the low point of the day.

Mo. Pac. broke to a new low point and the R. I. issues were weak, and indeed there was pressure on all the railroads which will suffer from the decision of the Kansas Railroad Commission to put the maximum freight rates into effect beginning to-morrow. Selling developed in Smelters in the afternoon and this stock fell below last year's low point. The influence was lack of support from bankers and great aggressiveness. At the same time sentiment was quite bearish on the smelting and copper issues on account of further weakness developing in copper metal prices.

London sold some stocks in the market to-day, and though the bank statement was a fair one and the Bank of France showed a fair gain, still foreigners are uneasy over the situation, especially as regards our market. We continue to look for an irregular market for some time to come and would not expect more than a trader's profit either way. At the close sentiment is quite bearish and a weak opening is likely, in which event stocks might be bought for a quick turn.

MEMBERS FEAR RETALIATION

Mr. Lancaster Would Amend Canada Shipping Act — Western Lumber Combine — Discussion of Trade Matters Not Conspiracy—Copyright Act Amended—Suggested Amendment to the Rules.

Ottawa, Feb. 13.—In the House yesterday Mr. Maclean (Lunenburg) asked that the rules be amended by requiring that the two days' notice be given of the intention of any member to discuss any definite or substantive matter on a motion to go into committee of supply on ways and means. The object, he explained, was to prevent the House being taken by surprise.

It was, of course, an ancient right possessed by members to ventilate grievances on going into supply, but no harm could come from requiring notice.

R. L. Borden said the proposal would cut down to a considerable extent the privileges of the House. The present practice had been in effect in Great Britain for 500 years; there had been no very great evil attendant upon this practice since Confederation.

Mr. McIntyre, named as seconder, said as far as he had considered the resolution, he had not found himself favorable to it. He did not know but the Government to-day might be in opposition to-morrow. He would hesitate before taking away any of the privileges of Parliament, and he asked the mover to accept some other seconder.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said the rules had recently been amended after considerable thought, and this matter had not escaped his attention. He believed that it would be better to follow the old practice. Sir Wilfrid did not look for a change of Government in the near future.

"You may be taken by surprise," suggested W. F. Maclean.

"Or you may want two years' notice," said G. W. Foster.

Sir Wilfrid asked that the motion be withdrawn, and Mr. Maclean (Lunenburg) obeyed, observing that he did not agree with the reasons given by those opposed.

The Lumber Combine.

Mr. Schaffner (Souris) asked if the Government proposed to take action upon the finding of the committee appointed last session to investigate the lumber combine in the west. Mr. Aylesworth said the question was under provincial jurisdiction, and one of the Provincial Governments had already taken action.

Mr. Gervais (Montreal) introduced a bill to amend the Criminal Code with regard to conspiracy in restraint of trade. The rigorous application of the present statute had proved detrimental to certain classes of trade, said Mr. Gervais, and he proposed that commercial men should be allowed to come together to discuss trade matters with the same freedom as workingmen.

Claude Macdonell's bill to amend the Copyright Act was read a third time.

To-day the House will discuss the French treaty and marine estimates.

The bill of Mr. Lancaster (Lincoln) to amend the Canada Shipping Act by requiring that matters and mates on Canadian vessels on inland waters and coasting voyages much be British subjects, was read a second time in the House yesterday, but further consideration in committee of the whole was decided on. Mr. Brodeur expressing doubt that the Canadian Parliament had jurisdiction, and that the bill might conflict with the British Shipping Act. The Lancaster bill will again be taken up after the consideration of the general act.

Mr. Lancaster, in moving the second reading, said it was not an act of retaliation, but he urged its acceptance because it was a good thing for a nation to have its vessels officered by its own citizens.

Mr. McCarthy (Simcoe) was in sympathy with the bill if it would secure the object desired. It was time that we had a policy of Canada for Canadians in regard to our marine.

Dr. Reid (Grenville) said he knew American citizens, officers of Canadian vessels, who have never been domiciled in Canada.

Dr. Sproule supported the bill, but Mr. Purdee (Lambton) feared that it would bring furious retaliation on the part of the United States. There were many marine officers who had taken out naturalization papers in the United States, but kept their domicile in Canada.

Mr. Maclean (Lunenburg), while expressing sympathy with the principle, would vote against the bill because in the Maritime Provinces it was impossible to obtain a full complement of officers for some ships.

Mr. Brodeur did not see why a difference should be made between sailors on inland waters and those operating sea-going ships. To his mind it was more urgent that sea-going ships, which might be requisitioned in case of war, should be officered by British subjects. It had been shown that out of 3,659 certificates issued to masters and mates on coasting, inland and minor waters, only seventy-nine were issued to men coming under the three years' domicile requirement, and of the seventy-nine only fourteen were issued to Americans.

Will Bring In a Bill.

Mr. Brodeur thought we would have power to amend the clause in view of the fact that we had already required three years' domicile. Mr. Brodeur still doubted. He proposed to bring in a bill later in the session which would arrive at the object desired by Mr. Lancaster, and this would be submitted to the Home Government.

Mr. Sinclair (Guysboro) declared the bill was vicious and would irritate the Americans. He would confine restriction to the upper lakes. Mr. Borden said the British North America Act gave to the Parliament of Canada exclusive jurisdiction in respect to inland waters. It was a matter of importance to ascertain if an act of the Imperial Parliament repealed our own statutes regarding merchant shipping, and possibly it would be advisable to refer the question in the Supreme Court. On the bill being referred to committee of the whole. Mr. Brodeur read the opinion of Mr. Aylesworth, that it might conflict with the British Shipping Act, and he suggested that further consideration be deferred until his own bill was before the House.

The committee rose at 6 o'clock and the House adjourned.

ONLY A Common Cold,

but it becomes a serious matter if neglected. Pneumonia, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh or Consumption is the result. Get rid of it at once by taking Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

Obstinate coughs yield to its grateful soothing action, and in the racking, persistent cough, often present in Consumptive cases, it gives prompt and sure relief. In Asthma and Bronchitis it is a successful remedy, rendering breathing easy and natural, enabling the sufferer to enjoy refreshing sleep and often effecting a permanent cure."

Mrs. C. Townsend, Lockport, N.S., writes: "I feel it my duty to let you know of my experience with Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I was troubled with a cold and severe cough all the time, and very severe spells of Asthma. The doctors did all they could for me, but could only give me relief for a short time. I happened to see your medicine advertised and purchased three bottles, and it gave me great relief, and I do not cough at all. I do not know how to express my gratitude for what Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup has done for me."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup 25 cts. per bottle at all dealers. Put up in yellow wrapper, and three pine trees the trade mark. Refuse substitutes. There is only one Norway Pine Syrup and that one is Dr. Wood's.

OPPOSE ST. LAWRENCE DAM.

Mr. Gervais Protests Against Spoiling River's Beauty.

Ottawa, Feb. 13.—The disastrous results that would follow the construction of a dam across the St. Lawrence near Cornwall were brought to the attention of the House yesterday by Mr. Gervais (Montreal), who moved for the correspondence between the Government and international waterways commission on one part and the St. Lawrence Power Co. and Long Sault Development Co. of the other part.

It would be an outrage, and Mr. Gervais, to permit the obstruction of the St. Lawrence, and there was a keen feeling throughout Eastern Canada that this piece of commercial vandalism should be prevented. Mr. Graham agreed the proposition would be a shock to every Canadian. Tourists from all parts of the world had glorified in the beauties of the river, and any attempt to mar it was bound to be resented. He doubted if the work could be done without jeopardizing property on the Canadian side by floods, and the Government would have to be satisfied regarding the property question, as well as navigation interests.

Mr. Gervais asked if the United States had the right to undertake work of this kind on international waterways, in view of existing treaties, and Mr. Graham said nothing would be allowed to interfere with international arrangements. The Canadian section of the international waterways commission was discussing the question seriously.

Mr. Borden asked whether the Government had statutory power to make arrangements, and Mr. Graham replied that the company would have to come to Ottawa for a charter.

Dr. Reid declared the proposition was monstrous, while George Taylor said any Government which sanctioned such work would itself be damned. Mr. Haggart was glad of Mr. Graham's assurance. Nothing should be done pending the report of the waterways commission. We had thousands of water powers, and nothing should be done to mar the beauty of this spot.

R. L. Borden said there was the further consideration that these water powers belonged to the people of Canada, and nothing should be done to exploit this great natural resource without consulting the people's representatives in Parliament.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier assured the House that the Government would not deal with the question till all interests had been consulted. The motion was carried.

Two Years For Eloper.

Woodstock, Feb. 13.—Thomas Roseellee, aged 26 years, was yesterday sentenced to two years in Kingston Penitentiary at hard labor, by Police Magistrate Ball, for stealing a quantity of furniture from George A. Leney of Stratford.

A charge of forgery was laid against the prisoner, but on this he was not convicted. Roseellee eloped with Leney's wife. He said that his crimes were committed for the woman's sake.

Danger Not Yet Over.

London, Feb. 13.—The Times yesterday published a long despatch reviewing events in Portugal. It says that the situation is improving daily and that the Government adheres to its policy of conciliating public opinion, but that it would be a mistake to consider all danger over.

Twenty Years' Sentence Ends Long Career of Fraud.

BLACKMAIL WAS THE CHARGE

Von Veltheim Played For High Stake of $80,000—Wealthy Rand Magnate the Victim.—Prisoner Had Married Seven Women and Robbed Them All — Was Formerly Accused of Murder.

London, Feb. 13.—Carl Ludwig Von Veltheim, Germon-Boer, but a naturalized American, who posed as a baron, was sentenced yesterday to 20 years' penal servitude at the Old Bailey, having been convicted of attempting to blackmail Solly B. Joel, a wealthy London and South African financier and mine owner, out of $80,000.

Von Veltheim was arrested months ago in Paris and extradited to England. He has served in the German army and navy; was once in the Bulgarian army and has had many adventures in Australia, America and Japan. He went to Cape Town in 1897 and ten years ago shot and killed Wolfe Joel, a brother of Solly Joel, at that place. He was arrested and tried, pleaded self-defence and was acquitted. Some years afterward a body recovered from the Thames was identified as Von Veltheim by his wife, but later the adventurer was discovered serving in the Bechuanaland police.

Before sentence was passed on Von Veltheim, the police told a remarkable story of his career of crime and fraud. According to this recital Von Veltheim has committed bigamy with no less than seven women. This list includes a woman he married in 1904 at Yankton, South Dakota, and a young American woman in Paris by a mock priest.

The prisoner is alleged to have obtained a large sum of money from most of his "wives."

The police allegations against him include charges of theft and blackmail and the assertion that he is a deserter from the German navy.

VICTIM MADE GREAT FIGHT.

Defied Lynching Party and Severely Wounded Ten.

Valdosta, Ga., Feb. 13.—Attacked by a mob of lynchers just across the Florida line, Jack Long, a white man, fought his assailants desperately, wounding ten of them and forcing the others to kill him in the fight.

Long was accused of killing James Sapp, a wealthy citizen. A son of Sapp had killed a brother of Long and escaped. Long saw the father of the slayer and shot him to death. Long was arrested and 50 men visited the prison and took the prisoner out to hang him. Long fought the mob to a standstill in the prison, but was knocked down by a mob.

He was beaten to death before he was finally hanged. Four of the members of the mob were wounded so badly that they may die.

Eagle Point Arrives.

Philadelphia, Feb. 13.—The Eagle Point arrived here shortly after two o'clock. The web crankshaft of the steamer broke during a violent storm and the ship rolled helplessly in the rough sea. It was found almost impossible to repair the damage, but Chief Engineer Jack took the engine apart bit by bit and practically remodeled it, finally putting it in such working order as to permit the steamer to proceed slowly.

There are 48 men in the crew, and in addition the steamer carried eight cattlemen. The fresh meat gave out and all hands were put on short rations. Capt. Lloyd said he was spoken twice and offered assistance, but declined the proffered aid with thanks, as he was confident that his engine room staff could effect the necessary repairs.

Anti-Home Rule Campaign.

Dublin, Feb. 13.—An appeal for a fund to maintain an anti-home rule campaign in Great Britain has been issued. It is signed by Lord Lansdowne, the Duke of Abercorn, the Marquis of Londonderry, the Marquis of Ormonde, Viscount Iveagh, Baron Ardilaun and other Irish Unionist peers.

The appeal describes the danger to the cause of union as imminent and asks for a large sum of money, so that the methods by which home rule as advocated by Gladstone was defeated, may be resumed.

Jail For Suffragettes.

London, Feb. 13.—Nearly fifty women suffragettes who on Tuesday made a raid on the House of Commons were arraigned in the Police Court yesterday and sentenced to pay a fine or one month's imprisonment. All but two of the women preferred to go to jail rather than pay the fine.

STRATHCONAS AFTER CROWLEY IN BEST GAME PLAYED

A Peterborough commercial traveller, who saw the recent game in Edmonton between Edmonton and Strathcona, in which Crowley was so badly used by the Strathcona seven, in an interesting letter home tells of the mixup between Crowley and Dunderdale of the Strathcona team. It is apparent that the blow was struck in self-defense and that the losers from across the river were doing their best to put the ex-local cover point out of the game. The letter in part is as follows:

The great hockey match is over. Our hockey is tame to what they play up here. The game started off well, but you could see that the Strathcona team, every man had it in for Crowley.

After Edmonton had scored the first goal, they just got started on the second when Strathcona went down the ice, and one of the Strathcona players gave Crowley a slash in the face, knocking two of his front teeth out, but big Bill went right on playing. The fireworks started when one of the new men that the Strathconas had brought from Winnipeg, thought he would try and lay Crowley out with a jab of his hockey stick in the groin. Well, he did double up Bill, but he straightened up, dropped his stick and hit the fellow with his fist in the face. His heels went up in the air and they carried him off.

They all went off the ice.

We waited and waited, the band played, the boys sang songs, and over two thousand people stamped their feet for one hour; then the Edmonton bunch came on the ice. The referee had a talk with Whiteroft, then rang his bell and skating over to the dollar seats called out the game is all off, but Fred Whiteroft went him one better, for jumping in front of him, he yelled, "Keep your seats, ladies and gentlemen, the game will go on at once," and he skated all around the rink, calling out, "Keep you seats, the game will go on at once." You should have heard the shouting, "You're the stuff, Whiteroft," and sure enough, in another three or four minutes they were all back on the ice. All bets were declared off, and they started to finish the first half. Whiteroft and Millan, the boys will remember, Jack Millan, the star from Norwood, of some years ago, just scored goal after goal, and the small boys kept counting one, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve and so on. They had left Crowley off and put a spare man in his place.

Big Game Will be Played on Friday of Next Week.

A treat is promised for the local hockey fans on Friday night of next week, when the Stratheonas, city league team, will be seen in action against a picked team from the balance of the city league teams. The arrangements have practically been completed for the game, which promises to be the hockey event of the season. The "All Stars" will line up as follows. Point—Nichol, Norwood.
Cover—Ferguson, High Lifes.
Rover—Quinn, Lakefield.
Centre—Kempt, Norwood.
Right—Rose, High Lifes.

The Strathconas will play their regular city league team. They will be in the best of shape as they have been practising steadily and are confident of beating the All Stars. On paper th clatter look most formidable and at any rate it will be a game for the spectators to enthuse over.

QUAKERS BEAT G. T. R. SEVEN

Porridge Men Have Yet to Drop a Game This Season.

The unbeaten Quaker Oats Company's team registered another victory last night when they trimmed the G.T.R. seven by 8 goals to 3 in a lively game of hockey at Brock street rink. The Quakers had much the better of the play when in close to the nets and although in centre ice toh G. T. R. halved up the manipulation of the rubber they could not work in on the citadel. Pratt and Rightmyer were the stars for the Quakers, and Morphet and Curry played well for the losers. S W Rose refereed satisfactorily and the teams were as follows:

GRACE CHURCH TEAM THE VICTORS

Defeated a Picked Team From the Central School Easily.

The Grace Church hockey team easily outclassed a picked team from the Central School on the former team's rink last night, with a score of 9—3. The school team had the heavier men, but they were handicapped by small ice and could not keep the pace.

The goals were scored by H. Munroe, I. and L. Fitzgerand, 2, for the school. The Grace Church goals were made by H. Hawkins 2, L. Gilgour 3, H. Clancy 2, H. Gilgour 1, N. Gilgour 1.

Parnell, of the church team, played an excellent game and Fitzgerald played good hockey for the school.

It was a fairly clean game, the only penalty being one minute for Stevens.

The line-up was as follows:

Grace Church—9.		Central School—3

LINDSAY WON FROM PORT PERRY

Middets Almost Certain to Go Into the Intermediate Semi-Finals.

Port Perry, Feb. 12.—Lindsay defeated Port Perry here to-night in the third round of the O.H.A. intermediate series by 5 to 3. The half-time score was 3 to 2 in favour of Lindsay. The game was strenuous in spots, and a good many penalties were inflicted.

Port Perry may default the return game to be played in Lindsay next Friday, as some of their players are leaving the town.

The line-up—

Lindsay — Goal, Newton; point, Keyle; cover, Sullivan; right, Stoddart; centre Taylor; right, Cotey; left, Randall.

SENIORS MAY PLAY OFF HERE

Local Fans May See Kingston and St. George's in Action.

Peterborough hockey fans may get a chance to see a senior game on local ice this year. Kingston defeated St. Georges, of Toronto, in the Limestone City last night by 13—9, thus tying up the two teams for the championship of the eastern senior district. The play off may take place here, as Peterborough is midway between the two cities and the teams are sure of a good rink and large crowd. The game would attract as much interest as did the Smith's Falls-Marlborough game of a few years ago. The O. H. A. will decide the matter at once, and it would not cause much surprise if the two teams were ordered to play off here.

SPORTING NEWS AND VIEWS.....

True to promise and report, the famous wood-chopper, "Can" MacDonald, had taken up his skates and departed hence, and in his place the Brantford management produced "Eddie" or "T." Howell, the famous Paris-Peterborough-Sault Ste. Marie defence player, who a couple of seasons ago was the king of O. H. A. defence players. Despite a short retirement of the game and the need of a little more practise, Eddie, in Dutch parlance, "was all to the mustard." His presence afforded great weight to the defence, and although he afforded but little offensive work he was strong in front of the nets, as the visitors found and when he was adorning the fence they shoved in several goals. Eddie was greatly disgusted at the game put up by Mickus, and he has prevailed upon Brown to secure Jones, last season with the Soo in the International League.—Toronto News.

Schaeffer, who replaced Walter Miller, was distinctly a big, juicy "jemon." Miller is worth three Schaeffers, as the crowd took great pains to inform Captain Brown. What little combination the Brantford's forwards attempted -the big chap seemed to take special delight in breaking up without any aid from the opposing team, and he was without doubt a huge handicap.—Toronto News.

TWITS THE PREMIER ON "BALDERDASH"

Sharp Repartee in Legislature Over Question of "Balderdash."

HON. MR. WHITNEY FORGOT

Member For South Brant Creates an Incident—Debate Is Continued by Three Speakers—Mr. Gamey Retaliates—Brings to Light Several Errors — C. W. Smith Chaffs the Minister of Agriculture.

Toronto, Feb. 13.—There was a moment of sharp repartee in the Legislature yesterday afternoon between the member for South Brant, Mr. T. H. Preston, and Premier Whitney. It all centred around the Premier's use of the now famous word "balderdash." About a year ago the leader of the Government applied this word to a portion of a resolution aiming to give the mineral wealth to the settler. The other day a Government measure was introduced practically along the lines of the resolution of a year ago. Mr. Preston pointed out that as far back as 1904 the Liberals had favored such a policy, and even a Conservative convention had passed a resolution also favoring it. Then the member for South Brant gently twitted the leader of the Government about being so unfamiliar with it as to use the word "balderdash" when practically the same resolution was brought up in the House, but by a Liberal. This roused the ire of the Premier, and he hastily replied to the effect that he was familiar with details of the resolution, and thereby got deeper into the mire.

The debate on the address was continued first by Mr. C. N. Smith, Sault Ste. Marie, who finished his speech of Tuesday by making a special plea in the interests of Ontario's pulpwood. Then followed Mr. R. R. Gamey, Manitoulin, who spoke for about an hour and a half. Mr. Preston only spoke a few minutes, when he moved the adjournment, and he will conclude his address to-day.

In resuming the debate Mr. Smith (Sault Ste. Marie) facetiously tendered an apology to the Minister of Agriculture for having held him wholly responsible for the purchase of a blind mare for $1,500. The speaker had since learned that another member of the administration was present and assisted in the purchase of the decripid mare.

Continuing, the member for the Soo pointed out that there was in Northern Ontario over 150,000 square miles of minerals and timber that were inaccessible and undeveloped. To open up this country he suggested to the Government the advisability of building two lines of railway from the great lakes north. Many of the immigrants, now a charge on the public, could be given employment on the work of construction, and the enterprise would more than pay for itself in opening up and developing a greater Ontario than has been.

Quoting statistics to show the export of pulpwood to the mills of the United States, Mr. Smith advocated the appointment of a Government commission to look into the whole matter, and to seek to develop the timber richness of the province along practical lines.

In concluding, Mr. Smith alluded to Mr. McKeown's query, "where is the Opposition's Moses?" "We don't want a Moses," declared Mr. Smith. "Moses lived for 120 years and then died outside the promised land. There is another figure in history we are interested in. There was a great Alexander of the past who conquered the world and wept because there were not others to conquer. We Liberals have our Alexander." (Opposition applause.)

Mr. R. R. Gamey (Manitoulin) alluded to the previous speaker's "pathetic plaint that in giving the settlers the mineral and timber rights of the north country the Government had stolen the Liberal clothes." Why, declared Mr. Gamey, it was the Liberal Government that took these rights from the settlers.

Continuing, Mr. Gamey said that the Conservatives had been twitted because they were proud of their honest Premier. Mr. Smith had declared that every Premier of Ontario had been honest.

"There is," he continued, "a kind of honesty that will keep a constituency vacant for two years. Well, that's the kind of honesty you had prior to 1905. There is a kind of honesty that would call the Legislature hurriedly and prematurely to close off an election trial in which a Minister of the crown was involved."

Continuing, Mr. Gamey took up the spruce and pulpwood questions the member for the Soo had alluded to. The present Government had, he said, decreed that all Ontario's pulpwood must be manufactured into pulp within the province. No stealing of old Liberal clothes there. The former Government had allowed the forests to be depleted to aid the mills of the United States. Moreover, they handed out fat concessions of the public lands to political favorites for mere songs."

Mr. Smith—"When and to whom?"

Mr. Gamey—"Just before the elections, to a certain Mr. E. F. B. Johnston, K.C., of Toronto. You may have heard of him. If you haven't, I have." (Laughter and applause.)

Mr. Gamey, proceeding, said the present Government had established a system by which all pine timber and other sales of the public domains must be made at public auction. Business principles now prevailed and the day of graft was over. No one was stealing the old clothes—nobody wanted them. It was well they should stay buried.

"If the great Alexander we have heard about," observed Mr. Gamey, "ever conquers, I have faith enough in him to think that he would never think of resurrecting the old clothes."

Mr. Gamey reviewed the administration of Hon. Mr. Cochrane, "its freedom from graft, its business principles and its great results for the province." He bespoke what had been done in laying new roads and encouraging the upbuilding of schools. This work would be carried on to a still greater extent in the future. "The present Minister of Mines," he concluded, "has consecrated himself to the upbuilding of a greater Ontario." (Government applause.)

Mr. Preston (Brant) moved the adjournment of the debate.

SCORES POLICE CHIEF.

Lawyer Attacks Detective For Treatment of Bowin.

Detroit, Feb. 13.—The trial of Percy Bowin, the 18-year-old Canadian boy charged with the murder of Mrs. Welch, has been set for Feb. 24, but Mr. Kennedy, Bowin's attorney, says he cannot be ready before the March term of the recorder's court. Judge Phelan said that if necessary the trial would be postponed until March, as he would insist upon every opportunity being given the young man to prove his innocence.

The judge overruled Mr. Kennedy's motion to quash the information against Bowin on the ground that he had been induced to plead guilty in the police court by Captain of Detectives McDonnell. Mr. Kennedy violently assailed officials of the police department, accusing them of taking advantage of Bowin's youth and ignorance of legal matters, in an effort to railroad him to prison.

"Will you do any training down there?"

"Oh, yes; I expect to get there about Sunday, and next week I'll get acquainted with the city and the climate."

Just before leaving the city "Davey" was insured for $5,000 through the generosity of a local man who has taken a deep interest in him and his advancement. The insurance expires at the end of thirty days.

Ye Olde Tyme Concerte Repeated Successfully

For the Third Time the Production Was Given at St. Andrew's Church Last Night—Large Audience Delighted With the Programme Rendered.

THOSE WHO TOOK PART

For the third time "Ye Olde Tyme Concerts of Musick" was given by the choir of St. Andrew's Church last night, on this occasion under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society. The production was, if anything, better than when given in November last, and the large audience present showed its appreciation by long-sustained applause after each number. The old time costumes, the old time scenes, with songs of the days of Auld Lang Syne sympathetically and effectively rendered by chorus and soloists, constituted a programme that was thoroughly delightful for its variety and interest.

Once more the choir of St. Andrew's and its leader, Mr. F. C. Froeland, with the assisting singers, scored a triumph. The work of rehearsing for the production has been patiently gone through in the past weeks and the artists reaped their reward last night in the appreciation that was evidenced by the audience. The same study of details and the same variety and smoothness which characterized the previous productions was in evidence last night and the whole programme went through without a hitch. The programme was lengthy but uniformly good throughout and was never wearisome to the audience. The effect of the chorus work was wholly pleasing, the voices blending splendidly, while the numbers were rendered with vim and precision. Careful training and much time and care spent in rehearsing were indicated by the success with which the programme was carried out.

The costumes worn by those taking part were of the olden days and the effect was quaint and thoroughly pleasing. Antique articles of furniture were used in decorating the stage adding to the thoroughness of the representation of the picture of the conditions of the years gone by.

The programme followed very closely that given in November, although there were a few slight changes. Owing to the absence of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Davey, who took part in the first productions, their numbers were dropped. All the soloists won fresh laurels for themselves. It is enough to say that their work last night was fully up to the usual standard, the appreciation of the audience being a sufficient guarantee of that. Those taking part are to be congratulated upon the magnificent success they achieved last night, and thanks should be extended to the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Andrew's for having been the means of providing such a delightful programme for the music lovers of Peterborough.

The solos by Mrs. Davidson, Mrs. Evans, Mr. Freeland and Mr. Thompson were rendered in splendid voice and all four of these artists excelled themselves in their offerings last night, their numbers being much appreciated.

Two splendid duets were included in the programme, being given very effectively by Mr. and Mrs. Firth and Mr. and Mrs. Greenslade. Several humourous quartettes were among the most popular numbers, repeating the triumphs scored on the previous occasions on which they were heard. One number that was thoroughly in keeping with the spirit of the occasion was the rendition of an instrumental duet by Mrs. McClelland and Mrs. Greenslade upon the old time spinet which was kindly loaned for the occasion by Mrs. Martin, King street. The instrument is two hundred and fifty years old, but is still of service and the number by the two talented ladies was heartily encored.

Miss Mowat, who took the part of granny, in especially clever fashion deserves great credit for her recitation "Wee Willie," which was received with much approval by the audience.

Mr. Frank Clarke's banjo solo, "Blue Bells of Scotland," was cleverly rendered and a hearty encore was given, to which he responded with another selection.

Mrs. Hopwood and Mr. David Moore whose numbers on previous occasions were much appreciated, were unable to be present last night, and they were greatly missed.

The Olde Tyme Concerts was originally the idea of Mrs. Charles McClelland, who did a great deal of work in connection with the costumes and other details, and she deserves great credit for the way in which th eproduction was carried out.

The Grandfather's Clock, which is over two hundred years old, was loaned by Messrs. Clarke & Son, the George street jewellers, and the thanks of the Ladies' Aid Society is offered to them and to Mrs. Martin for the use of the old spinnet and to Mrs. Davidson, who loaned the old time spinning wheel and cradle that were used in the production.

The scenery used was the property of Mr. R. J. Devey, and was loaned for the occasion by Mr. Morphet, who has charge of it during Mr. Devey's absence. The gentlemen's wigs were supplied by Mrs. Byrne, George street.

At the conclusion of the programme light refreshments were served by the members of the Ladies' Aid Society.

Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. McFarlane are to be congratulated upon securing such an attraction for the Ladies' Aid Society.

CELEBRATION OF ST. VALENTINE'S DAY

To-day is St. Valentine's day, and the various signs go to show that the postmen are having a very busy time. Yesterday in the shops where valentines were displayed for sale, a rushing business was done. St. Valentine's day has been restored to popular favour. Let no one suppose that St. Valentine's day is less popular than it was in the years of long ago. The trade in these dainty love messages appears to be on the increase. There is still quite a demand for the comic valentine, but dealers say that this class of valentine is dying out, to a certain extent. In its stead has come the dainty, artistic little thing that the love-lorn young man sends to the maiden fair. The post card valentine appears to make quite a hit. They are of neat appearance, and contain a verse. Some of them are really humourous. Then, there are the valentines which are very costly, just as the more expensive Christmas cards. There is a big demand for these.

THE MARKET HAS BEEN GOOD

The Farmers Have Attended in Large Numbers This Week.

The market opened up well this morning with quite a number of farmers in at an early hour. The sales were restricted to hay and hogs, with the buyers of the latter well represented. The offerings of hay were easily disposed of and to-day has closed a week, outside of Saturday, that has been the brightest in some time.

TORONTO MAN SHOOTS HIS WIFE AND HE THEN TURNS THE REVOLVER ON HIMSELF

Woman Is Still Living But Her Husband Is Dead—A Family Quarrel the Cause.

WAS NOT A FRIEND TO WORK

Examiner Special.

Toronto, Feb. 14.—Jas. Fecheley, 62 Euclid avenue, shot his wife this morning and then committed suicide by shooting himself in the brain. The woman is expected to recover. Feehely and his wife had not been on good terms for some time owing to the man's dislike for work, and a week ago the woman, who has been conducting a grocery store on Euclid avenue, ordered Feehely away from the place.

Feehely made several attempts to be taken back, but his wife refused to have anything to do with him. This morning he went to the house about 9 o'clock and made a final request to be taken back, but his wife refused. Thereupon he whipped out a revolver, shot the woman, and then turned the weapon on himself. The woman has four children, all by a first husband.

Prominent Civil Engineer On A Visit To His Brother

Mr. Alexander Potter of New York On a Visit Which He Has Planned For Eight Years—Saw the Lift Lock.

IMPORTANT CONTRACTS

Mr. Alexander Potter, C. E., of New York City, is visiting his brother, Rev. J. G. Potter, at the St. Andrew's manse. Mr. Potter, accompanied by his wife, arrived in the city last night and will remain until Monday. The family's home was in Halifax and Mr. Potter is a graduate of the Lehigh University, Pennsylvania. Among the most important tasks he has undertaken was the engineering of the large trunk sewer through the State of New Jersey, being of service to ten cities.

BACK AS MYSTERIOUSLY AS THEY WENT

Pair of Buttoned Boots Were Returned Quietly to Brock Street Rink.

The gentleman's buttoned boots, taken from the Brock street rink, one week ago, arrived back last night, safe and sound. They were taken from the middle upstairs room, and this morning Mr. Jack Thimpback discovered them in the upstairs room on the east side of the rink. The loss of the boots was mentioned in the Examiner at the time, and had the necessaryr esult. The owner appreciates very much the action of the party who took them.

PAPER THAT IS JUST A CENTURY OLD

A Copy of the Liverpool Courier in Possession of Mr. Ridyard.

Mr. Ridyard, an employee of the G. T. R. has an old paper which he prizes very highly. It is a copy of the first publication of the "Liverpool Courier and Commercial Advertiser" which is exactly a century old. It was first issued on January 6th, 1808, but the copy in possession of Mr. Ridyard which he showed to the Examiner has been surprisingly well preserved.

The Courier this year has issued a brochure tracing the history of the paper from its inception to the present time and giving illustrations of the various department and machines.

Forester's Carnival To-night

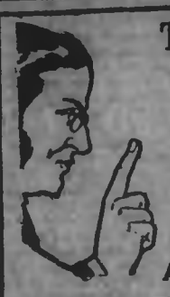
There Comes a Time



when letters blur, when lines run together, and reading becomes difficult, especially in the evening. This blurring is caused by the eye not being able to focus at the normal reading distance—thirteen inches.

The vision in the distance is as clear as ever, and this fact leads many to believe that glasses are unnecessary, but this is just the time when the first pair of glasses is needed. A continuation without glasses causes an undue strain on the muscles of the eye, and a dull headache is the result, a person gains nothing by going without glasses when they are needed. In fact they gain much by having glasses fitted when the first blur indicates failing vision. ALL WORK GUARANTEED.

A GOOD SHOWING

The pessimist, the knocker and the fault-finder, like the poor, we have always with us. We have political preachers of blue-ruin, who claim that the country is going to the dogs under the management of the Laurier Government. But, to use a homely figure, the proof of the pudding is in the eating. Since the Liberal Government assumed the reins of power in 1897, the whole country has been inundated by a wave of prosperity and the on-flowing tide shows no signs of recession. True, a little financial stringency has affected certain financial and industrial interests, but on the whole the prosperity of the people does not show anything like a disturbing diminution. The customs returns are a pretty sure indicator of the prosperity of the people and the reverse. If the people have money they will make purchases; if they make purchases the retail merchants must supply them and to supply the latter the wholesale merchant must of necessity import goods. In so doing the importer pays customs duties and the volume of these bears a very close relation to the purchasing power of the public. The national revenue from customs continues to be of large volume, the last returns as embodied in the monthly financial statement make a good showing. The financial statement of the Dominion for the month of January and for the first ten months of the current fiscal year shows an increase of $384,337 in the total revenue for the last month as compared with January, 1907, and an increase of $9,374,542 for the ten months. The total expenditure on consolidated fund account for the ten months was $86,332,534, an increase of $10,650,229. Of this increase of $2,023,244 is chargeable to the January figures for payment of subsidy increases to the provinces, amounting to $1,500,000, and interest charges on the public department totalling $2,023,459, both falling due last month.

For the ten months the surplus of revenue over expenditure on consolidated fund account amounted to $24,691,738. The total expenditure on capital account, as entered on the books of the finance department up to January 31st, was $22,245,499, of which $17,446,976 was chargeable to public works, railways and canals. The National Transcontinental Railway is, of course, responsible for much of this amount. The total net debt of the Dominion at the end of last month was $259,504,813.

HOME LIFE ASSOCIATION

In another column is presented a summary of the report of the annual meeting of the Home Life Insurance Association of Canada, held in Toronto Feb. 11th, and an excellent report it is, showing satisfactory results as the outcome of careful and energetic and business-like management. The assets of the company, which show a sound and substantial condition, have been materially strengthened during the year, operating expenses have been reduced, and the operations of the year show a surplus for the first time in the history of the Association. As a whole the annual report and statement show a sound and healthy condition of the business and interests of the company. The risks are selected with the greatest care, the business on the books is of the best character. While the assets of the company have been placed upon a position of indisputable soundness and profit-earning power, an all round improvement is to be noted in every department of the business of the company, especially in the matter of business management, which has resulted in continuous betterment since the present board assumed charge of the Association in 1905. Such satisfactory results in a year when many adverse economic condition emphasize the care and prudence bestowed upon the management. The attention of the reader interested in life insurance is directed to the annual report of a well-managed Association, to be found in another column.

Undisputed Facts About

Zutoo

Zutoo tablets are now recognized as being without doubt or question, the best and only safe remedy on the market for headaches and colds.

They have practically displaced all other cures, and are now the only one used to any extent.

The reason is doubtless found in this further fact.

Zutoo tablets not only cure headache and colds but, unlike many other remedies, do not affect the heart, nerves or stomach.

Live As Canadians Live, Says Englishman In a Letter

Is Satisfied With the Country, His Work and the People and Tells How He Succeeded—He Likes Canada.

HIS VIEW OF CONDITIONS

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir—Although I noticed that you had said you would publish no more letters about Englishmen's impressions of Canada, I am taking this liberty as I do not wish to refer to the statements in the other letters. It seemed to me that they bordered too closely on the personal and did not reflect credit on those who expressed their opinions of their fellow-countrymen, and the manner in which they had succeeded or failed since leaving home.

It is a little more than four years, Mr. Editor, since I first came to Canada, and while I will ever prefer the old country to all others, still I have been well treated here and will probably remain the rest of my days. I had no trouble in securing employment in the C. G. E. works at my trade. I noticed a great change in the conditions in the shop, but I was prepared to do just as the others were doing, and to say nothing about it, but do it as well as I could. A man of ordinary disposition and ability can get along in the C. G. E. works, at least that is my experience and I know many others who are at the works and who will likely stay there as long as they follow the Canadian idea.

The motto which an Englishman about to follow as soon as he arrives in Canada is "Henceforth I am a Canadian" and if he follows the customs of the people he will soon be one of them.

In my estimation those who flaunt England in the face of the Canadian at the time are mere jingoes and I have found that spirit manifested by the average Canadian is a loyal to the Crown as any of us.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your forebearance, I am, yours truly,

H. K. S.

RURAL MAIL DELIVERY

Those who advocate for Canada rural mail delivery—and everybody is in favour of the principle—might be interested in the experimental service in the United States. For only a partial service, covering only a small section of the United States, the service will cost next year about thirty-six millions of dollars. The population of the United States is about twelve times greater than that of Canada, but the area of Canada is greater, and the cost of rural mail delivery would be as great, if not greater. Can Canada afford to spend half her national revenue in rural mail delivery? Some highly consistent Conservatives condemn what they call the extravagant expenditure of the Liberal Government, and stand ready for condemning it for not introducing rural mail delivery. Would it be wise to introduce the principle of rural mail delivery? Suppose we had what the Conservatives so wildly hope for—a return of their party to power. What would be the outcome of post-office management by a party which, when it was in power, made the post-office a burden on the treasury and ran it at a loss of $750,000 a year? What would be the consequence if, attaining power, they added the cost of rural mail delivery to the tune of twenty-five or thirty million dollars per year? The Liberal Government took charge of the postoffice, drew it out of the hole into which Conservative mismanagement had plunged it, set it on its feet, and while introducing many improvements and large extensions and reducing the rate of postage, made it earn a surplus. Rural mail delivery may be a good proposition for Conservatives to make political capital out of, but with our widely-spread population, its cost, as indicated by the expense of the United States, would be embarrassing.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The scheme for the damming of the St. Lawrence near Morrisburg to create power is damned. The speeches of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. G. P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, indicate that there is not the slightest danger of such a project being entertained.

THE WILLIAMSONS HAVE GONE

Gypsy Settlement Gradually Becoming Extinct.

The gipsy settlement is gradually becoming extinct in Peterborough and the police authorities are not at all sorry. During the month of January the Williams were very prominent in police circles, and on several occasions were fined for being drunk and disorderly. The last case was that of George Williams, and he promised to go to Detroit at once which his family. The bad conditions of the railways made it difficult for the Williams family to leave the city, but on Wednesday evening they gathered their worldly belongings and set out for the city across the line.

INSPECTOR OF POST OFFICES

Mr. H. Merrick of Kingston in the City To-day.

Mr. H. Merrick of Kingston, Inspector of Post-offices, arrived in the city last night and registered at the Oriental Hotel. Mr. Merrick's visit to Peterborough is to inspect the local post-office, which he commenced this afternoon. The new postal delivery is claiming his attention especially this year, as it has been instituted since his last visit. It is expected the new system will meet with Mr. Merrick's approval, and his report should be of interest.

ASLEEP IN FRONT OF POLICE STATION

Was Found by a Young Man Returning From a Party.

About 3 o'clock this morning a youth, returning from a party, found an old man asleep in a cutter outside the police station. The youth thought he was drunk, and after awakening him said he would take him into the police station. The old man was very much surprised to find out where he was, and said he had been asleep. He had hired the cutter last evening and drove out to the country to a house on business and did not leave there until after one. At Auburn he allowed his horse to jog along, and feeling tired, leaned his head back to the seat and went to sleep. The horse had stopped in front of the police station to take a drink, and no doubt would have remained there till morning had not the young man passed that way.

TEA IS SCARCE AND LIKELY TO BE SCARCER

Shortage All Over—Higher Prices in the Near Future.

An extensive tea importing firm in Toronto recently received a business letter from Ceylon containing the following extract:

"All over the world there is a shortage of common tea. Buyers in every country are simply covering their wants from hand to mouth and waiting in hope for a drop. The output of tea will not materially increase for the next four of five years. In fact, in regard to Ceylon, I look to see a steady falling off owing to so much tea land having been interplanted with rubber. I reckon that there are 50,000 acres of this, which means in due course reducing the yield of tea from this land by 25,000,000 pounds per annum. As against this there is a steadily increasing consumption, and the two things combined, in my opinion, point to higher prices for tea in the future than we have ever seen in the past, and it is a factor which should be carefully studied."

Would it not be a wise act to lay in a few packages of John's Tea just to forestall the prospective high prices? This Tea is a mild, aromatic blend that has caught the popular taste, and those who have used it declare that the tea at the bottom of the neat air-tight packages is invariably as fragrant as at the top. It will not stale. J. John, 282 George street, Peterborough; Opera House Block. 2d33

GREEN'S MOVING PICTURES

Positively the largest and best collection of moving pictures in Canada is that owned by Prof. Green, which is booked to appear at the Grand Opera House here for five nights and the usual matinees, commencing Tuesday, Feb. 18. The collection embraces masterpieces from the European and American producers and of a variety to suit all tastes—the young, the old, the gay and the serious are catered to. With the latest machine and up-to-date electrical attachments the pictures are shown absolutely flawless, clear and distinct. Each scene is lucidly explained by a competent lecturer, and enhanced by clever sound effects. It gives such a tone of realism that one feels himself an integrag part of each picture. Peters, a Peterborough vocalist of much promise, who has been with Prof. Green for several months and has made a pronounced hit wherever he has appeared. He is the possessor of a rare voice, peculiarly adapted to that style of songs. Each song will by illustrated by 24 magnificent art coloured pictures. The regular house orchestra will be in attendance at each performance. This attraction comes highly recommended by press and public, and the management of the Grand does not hesitate in recommending it to its patrons. This being the initial visit in Peterborough popular prices will prevail. Adults 35 cents (reserved seats); children 10 cents. Seats on sale at theatre box office at usual hours.

TWO WIDOWS AFTER THE MONEY

Former Ottawa Man Leaves Double Claimants to Estate.

A FIGHT FOR A FORTUNE

Strange Story of Matrimonial Tangle to Be Told in Court—Clergyman Said to Have Investigated For the Second Wife—Estate Valued at $52,000 — Judge McDonald Appoints Two Executors.

Prescott, Feb. 14—Two women, both claiming to be the wife of the late J. G. Warnock, the Ottawa horseman, who died in Brockville recently, are fighting for the estate of the deceased, valued at $52,000. Warnock lived for many years at Ottawa with Agnes Wilson, who passed as his wife, and by whom he had four daughters.

Casting her adrift last October, he married Eva McCallum, his shop girl, and they came to Brockville. Warnock willed his four children each $5,000, and the balance to Mrs. Warnock, No. 2. The first wife by that name promptly filed a caveat and her solicitors made application before Judge McDonald to have an administrator appointed pending litigation. This the judge to-day granted, appointing the executors, Messrs. W. H. Brown and A. H. Swarts of Brockville as special administrators, in a bond of $8,000.

An affidavit filed by Mrs. Eva Warnock, the alleged second wife, throws some interesting light on the matrimonial tangle. She states that before her marriage she caused careful enquiry to be made by the minister, who afterwards performed the ceremony, and swears that the clergyman satisfied himself and assured her that Agnes Wilson was not the lawful wife of James Gregory Warnock.

Continuing in the affidavit, she claimed to have seen a document executed by Agnes Wilson, in which she released all claims upon the deceased in consideration of $3,000, and certain household furniture. Agnes Wilson, or Mrs. Warnock No. 1, is said to be in possession of a certificate certifying to her marriage with Warnock at Ogdensburg, N. Y., in 1891. The Brockville widow is in deep mourning while the other alleged widow is making her home in Ottawa, where she instituted legal proceedings to annul the last will and testament of the dead horseman. Her daughters are living with her. The case is arousing great interest in the courts.

DASHED TO DEATH

Nova Scotia Miners Fell 700 Feet Down the Pit Shaft.

North Sydney, N.S., Feb. 14.—Another mining horror in which two men were sent suddenly into eternity, occurred at the Winning pit of the Nova Scotia Steel & Coal Co. yesterday.

The victims are Malcolm Stuart, brother to Mayor Stuart, and also a member of the Town Council, and John Dorsey, ex-councillor. Both were underground managers in the Winning.

The accident occurred about seven o'clock yesterday morning when the men got into the cage. No sooner had they got into the big iron structure than through some defect a hook which held a strong wire rope to the cage became detached and they dropped with an awful crash nearly 700 feet below.

Both men were crushed beyond recognition.

Dorsey leaves a wife and 12 children; Stuart leaves a wife and one adopted child. Owing to the popularity of both men the town is cast in gloom over what is one of the worst mining accidents in its history.

Stops Itching, Heals the Skin

AND FOR THIS REASON THERE IS NO CURE FOR ECZEMA SO SATISFACTORY AS

There is always a certain amount of mystery about all medicines that are taken internally, but not so when Dr. Chase's Ointment is applied to raw or inflamed skin, for the benefits are self-evident.

It is because Dr. Chase's Ointment possesses in a remarkable degree the ability to stop itching and heal raw skin that it has become known the world over as the most successful treatment for such disease of the skin as eczema, salt rheum and psoriasis.

By all means tone up the system by the use of such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, but also cure the eczema by the local application of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

The wretched stinging, itching sensations will soon disappear under this treatment and gradually and naturally the raw sores will become smaller and smaller until they entirely disappear.

But there are scores of ways in which Dr. Chase's Ointment is useful in every home, and especially so where there are children who suffer from teething eczema, chafing, insect bites, hives, poisoned skin or any form of skin irritation or eruption.

Mr. O Wiley, who is employed as sniper by the Kennedy & Davis Milling Company, Lansdowne, Ont., states: "I used Dr. Chase's Ointment for eczema on my little girl some two years ago, and soon brought about a thorough and permanent cure. She had suffered for considerable time, and though we tried a great many remedies, Dr. Chase's Ointment was the only preparation to prove effective. I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Chase's Ointment, as it certainly effected a prompt and permanent cure in this case."

Test Dr. Chase's Ointment in any case of itching skin or eczema that refuses to heal, and you will be surprised at the results.

Mothers use Dr. Chase's Ointment for the chafing and skin troubles of their babies in preference to many-fluid pore-clogging powders; 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

London, Feb. 14.—The subject of a general arbitration treaty such as has been concluded between France and the United States, was mentioned in the course of negotiations now going on regarding the submission to The Hague of the questions under discussion between Canada, the United States and Newfoundland.

Great Britain, it was learned yesterday, is hopeful that such an understanding will be brought about.

Second Victim Dies.

Her husband was killed at the time of the accident.

Martin Rebuts Laurier.

Victoria, B.C., Feb. 14—The Laurier and McBride Governments on the Asiatic question were roundly condemned by former Attorney-General Joseph Martin before a crowded meeting of the Asiatic Exclusion League last night.

Martin declared Laurier should have given notice of the abrogation of the treaty when Japan last year broke her pledge given by Nosse, when the Japanese treaty was adopted. Lemieux's assurances contained no definite promise by Japan. The Ottawa Government was flim-flammed by Baron Hayashi's letter.

Premier Laurier should accept Chamberlain's advice and pass the Federal Natal Act. He declines to do this, and disallows the British Columbia Natal Act to please his corporation and commercial friends.

McBride was blamed for retaining office after the refusal of Dunsmuir to assent to last year's act. The Speaker was wrong in deciding the official actions of a Lieutenant-Governor could not be discussed in the House. Finally both Ottawa and Victoria Governments should be turned out.

Archbishop Obdurate.

Montreal, Feb. 14.—Since Archbishop Bruchesi placed the ban on mixed marriages, eighteen applications have been made to him for dispensations. Miss De Lery Macdonald, unable to secure a dispensation to be married to A. Shepherd by a Catholic priest, will be married by a Protestant minister, and the ceremony will take place during the Lenten season, a time proscribed by the Catholic Church. Miss Macdonald is a relative of Sir W. C. Macdonald, the tobacco king.

FRANCO ENDORSED.

Portugal Cabinet Decides Not to Rescind His Dictatorial Decrees.

Lisbon, Feb. 14.—The Cabinet council has resolved not to rescind the dictatorial decrees promulgated during the last days of King Carlos' reign, except those considered offensive to the public dignity. This unexpected action of the Cabinet has caused the utmost astonishment.

The council of state has decided to pardon all the sailors imprisoned for the fleet mutiny in April, 1906. King Manuel, who presided, inserted the following at the beginning of the decree:

"It is my dearest wish to begin my reign by availing myself of the prorogative of pardon which the constitution give me."

Thick Neck Saves Life.

Toronto, Feb. 14.—William Salmon, aged about 50, attempted to commit suicide yesterday morning by cutting his throat with a razor. His landlady discovered him standing before his mirror. Had it not been for the heavy roll of fat in Salmon's neck he would have succeeded in completing the deed. He was removed to St. Michael's Hospital and will recover. Salmon was employed by the G.T.R. as a freight handler and had not been working steadily during the last six weeks.

Mrs. Debie Aspires.

Chicago, Feb. 14.—The Tribune says: Mrs. Jane Dowie aspires to her husband's place as head of the Christian Catholic Church, and believes she is destined to bring the warring factions at Zion together.

To Hogue Bryce.

Montreal, Feb. 14.—The corporation of McGill University will bestow the honorary degree of LL.D. on Hon. James Bryce on Monday, Feb. 24. On the same day Mr. Bryce will speak at the Canadian Club.

$50,000 Fund.

Montreal, Feb. 14.—The Anglican Synod have decided to appoint a new strong committee to raise the $50,000 required for the Archbishop Bond memorial fund.

In Receiver's Hands.

Lima, Ohio, Feb. 14.—On the petition of B. K. Russell, of the National Consolidated Oil Co., a million dollar concern, with outstanding bonds of $200,000, was placed in the hands of a receiver yesterday, George W. King being named. The receivership, it is stated, followed default upon semi-annual interest due on the bonds.

Powers Not In Accord.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 14.—The Novoe Vremya publishes an article dealing with the breaking up of the concert of powers hitherto engaged in pressing the Porte's consent to the introduction of judicial, financial and administrative reforms in Macedonia.

Asphyxiated While Thieving.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 14.—Martin Brady and John Bertolet were asphyxiated here Wednesday while trying to extract money from a quarter-in-the-slot meter which had been wrenched from its fastenings. The man had been drinking heavily.

Passed Prohibition Bill.

Jackson, Miss., Feb. 14.—The Senate yesterday passed the statutory prohibition bill by a vote of 36 to 4. The bill is effective Dec. 31.

SHORT STORIES.

Of all callings the waiter's shows the greatest mortality, 23 per 1,000.

The Connecticut supreme court will shortly put gowns on the reporter and clerk.

Shower baths will be used by the Cleveland police to sober up drunks before trial.

Between Jan. 1 and Nov. 1, 1907, the fire loss of the United States was $189,765,300 compared with $424,400,200 in the same ten months of 1906.

A father and mother left their baby on a street car in Cleveland. The child rode to the end of the line and was cared for till the frantic father arrived.

The Lackawanna Railroad company has issued an order to the clerks at Scranton, Pa., that they must not assume on their books, as tuberculosis may be transmitted.

Fire recently destroyed the house in the town of East Peoria, Ill., where the prima donna Emma Abbott first sang. Recently the building was used for a dwelling, but it was formerly a schoolhouse.

A girl was so interested at a dance at Riverside, N. J., that she did not know that her arm had been broken by a fall on the floor. A surgeon said it was the worst fractured elbow he ever treated.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

Herbert Kelcey and Effie Shannon are reported to be doing well in their new play, "Bridge."

Frederick Paulding has written a play, "The Great Question," in which Jessie Bonstelle will appear.

Madge Lessing has one of the leading roles in "The Prince of Pilsen," now being produced in Paris.

William A. Brady is to produce a new political play, called "The Intruder," by Thompson Buchanan.

Grace Van Studdiford, Camille D'Arville and Helen Bertram are some of the singers now appearing in vaudeville.

Harry B. Smith has been engaged to write the book for the new musical play in which Sam Bernard will be the star after the expiration of his contract with Charles Frohman.

Lilian Albertson, the stately beauty who attracted much attention as the governess in "The Silver Girl," is to be the star of "Paid In Full," which was originally intended for Annie Russell. Ralph Delmore and Hattie Russell will be in the cast.

TALES THEY TELL.

Secretary Shields of the water board in New Orleans has a spaniel that delights to catch bugs and take them to the yard for the chickens to eat.

A Sturgeon (Mo.) man says he sent his overalls to a laundry, forgetting to remove his watch. The watch, he declares, went through the wringer and continues to keep good time.

Mrs. Schaller of Manayunk, Pa., bought a life size marble statue of Venus, which was placed in the parlor. When her husband came home late at night he thought the statue was a burglar, and Venus was smashed.

A Greenfield (Mo.) citizen says that when his dog saw two preachers approaching his house he trotted around the corner and returned with two plump chickens, which he deposited near the door and then went to sleep.

MODES OF THE MOMENT.

Braid is seen everywhere on street and house costumes alike. Soutache and the flat silk braid of plain weave are preferred to more fancy kinds.

The return of the tailored shirt waist—and its return is assured—bespeaks for the trotteur skirt the severest simplicity, as anything else naturally would be out of keeping.

Shaded satin and velvet have been revived and are being used for trimmings on cloths, as also are cords formed of silk and wound into fanciful border and other effects. In black this latter idea is particularly pleasing.—New York Post.

PITH AND POINT.

Lots of men are their own Jonahs.

Wise is he who knows when not to be patient.

The man who lives for himself alone dies unmourned.

When some men start out to look for the deserving poor their first stop is in front of a mirror.

Greatness will show up in a great man just as certain as littleness will show up in a little man.

Every man believes there is a reward laid up in heaven for him, but he is never in a hurry to claim it.—Chicago News.

ABOUT MEN WHO USE TOBACCO

Evangelist in Chatham Says He is a Dirty Christian.

"I would not say that a man might not be a Christian and not use tobacco, but I do say he would be a dirty Christian." That was one of the striking statements made by Evangelist Camp at the Y.M.C.A. meeting in the opera house Sunday afternoon. The hall was filled and Mr. Camp gave an excellent talk on the breaking of bad habits. A feature of the service was the excellnet singing by the men's choir, Mr. Richardson and a quartette composed of Messrs. Anger, Camp, Richardson and Willson.

"A bad habit," Mr. Camp began, "is a mighty bad thing, for you know a habit gets stronger and stronger. The more you are enslaved the more it becomes a part of yourself. Down deep in the heart of every man is a desire for the right life. Because of the deceitfulness of sin we recognize some of our bad habits and some we do not. Men make pledges with themselves that they will not drink, smoke, chew or swear. They keep these pledges for a while, but there is always something in a man that pulls him back to his old self. How can a man overcome his bad habits? There are some I was one of them myself, who think they can do it by will power. But there is only one way to overcome sin and that is to yield to God."

Mr. Camp went on to show that before being rescued from the power of sin one must be given a victory over the penalty of sin, and though the soul was mat with countless temptations, by yielding to God it would remain unspotted.—Chatham News.

SHORTAGE OF TEA IS REPORTED

So Reads Letter From Ceylon—Scarce All Over.

The following is an extract from a letter from Ceylon just received by a prominent tea firm:

"All over the world there is a shortage of common tea. Buyers in every country are simply covering their wants from hand to mouth and waiting in hope for a drop. The output of tea will not materially increase for the next four or five years in fact, in regard to Ceylon, I look to see a steady falling off owing to so much tea land having been interplanted with rubber. I reckon that there are 50,000 acres of this, which means in due course reducing the yield of tea from this land by 25,000,000 pounds per annum. As against this there is a steadily increasing consumption, and the two things combined, in my opinion, point to higher prices for tea in the future than we have ever seen in the past, and it is a factor which should be carefully studied."

The Fays In Court In The United States And The Result

Peterborough People Will Remember Their Visit Here—Judge Says They Have Not Sole Right to Their Name.

EXPOSED BY ASSISTANTS

Almost every theatre-goer in Peterborough remembers the Fays. They gave a week's performance in Peterborough two years ago, which was the talk of the city, as apparently John T. and Eva Fay manifested powers that savoured of the supernatural. The following article gives an idea of how their performances were carried on, as revealed in court. The Fays secured an injunction restraining other people from using the name "The Fays." However this was recently quashed and reasons are given herewith:

"Equity does not bind rogues," says Justice Houghton, referring to fortune tellers and other persons deceiving the public with pretensions of occult powers, who came in for a scorching yesterday in a decision rendered by the Appelate division of the Supreme Court.

The decision reverses a judgment granting to John T. Fay and Mrs. Fay a permanent injunction restraining two former employees from using the name "The Fays" to advertise performances given by them in which they expose the tricks of the Fays.

The Fays gave a performance in which Mrs. Fay, blindfolded, bound to a chair and covered over with a cloth, pretends to answer intimate and personal questions written by members of the audience on slips of paper passed around by ushers who, however, would tear the slip off the pad and leave it with the writer. The performance, aided by various mechanical and light effects was certainly mystifying to the average person, but Herbert Lambourne and another employee, having fallen out with the Fays, came forward and showed how telephonic and other signals, including carbon paper devices, were used to delude the public.

Judge's Opinion

The Fays complained that their business was being ruined by this exposure and got a permanent injunction. In reversing this Justice Houghton for the Appellate division says:

The situation disclosed is such that equity should not interfere at all. The plaintiffs are engaged in deceiving the public, and the most entertaining part of their performance is in effect fortune telling. In such a business they can get no property rights in a name or appellation which a court of equity will protect. The property right which the plaintiffs assert they have in the term "The Fays," and which they would have if their business was without deception is similar to the right to the use of a trade mark. Equity will not interfere to protect a party in the use of a trade mark where the name or phrase as such is intended and calculated to deceive the public. A party invoking the aid of equity to restrain the infringement of a trade mark must himself be free from fraud in his representations to the public.

Persons who pretend to tell fortunes are defined to be disorderly persons. The pretence of occult powers and the ability to answer confidential questions from spiritual aid is as bad as fortune telling and a species of it, and is a fraud upon the public.

It is no answer that no one ought to believe the pretences. It is the half doubt and the half belief that make and hold the audience. If every one wholly disbelieved curiosity would soon be satisfied and the entertainment would lose its attraction.

All the justices concurred in reversing the court below.

TRIALS OF NATIVES OF THE NORTH

Bishop Stringer Returns to Dawson City —Tells of Death by the White Plague.

AN INDIAN RECEPTION

In yesterday's issue an article, from a Dawson City paper, referring to the departure of Bishop Stringer for the Peel River District, on Jan. 10th, appeared. Below is a despatch dated from Dawson City, on Feb. 13, referring to the home-coming again of the reverend gentleman:

The Right Rev. Bishop I. O. Stringer of the Church of England, has returned from his hazardous trip of 125 miles northward through the wilderness and forest, and over the Rocky Mountains, on a visit to the Peel River tribe of Indians.

The coming of the bishop was the greatest event among the simple, yet industrious tribesmen in many years, if not in a lifetime. Every preparation was made in a humble way for the reception of the great chief of the church. The primitive dwellings, mostly tents, set on a few rounds of logs, and heated by Yukon stoves, were in the neatest conditions, and the greatest hospitality was extended the great visitor.

The White Plague

The bishop held several services in one of the largest meeting places, as many as seventy-five being present. Fifty were communicants. In addition to celebration of the holy communion, confirmation and other services, the bishop made the rounds to the tents of those who were not well, and distributed among the members of that tribe medicines sent by the police at Dawson. Some were suffering various minor ailments, and the wife to Richard Martin was found in the last cabin between the Dart and Blackstone Rivers, sinking slowly but surely to her death, trugged down by the dread white plague. The bishop had met all the members of this tribe ten years ago, at Herschel, and it was with a face beaming with joy that the smiling, faithful Christian woman welcomed the disciple of the Master to her feathbed in the wilderness.

The bishop spent considerable time reading to the natives from the Takudh Indian Bible, prepared by Archbishop MacDonald, the pioneer missionary.

A WAGES AWARD

Board of Investigation's Interesting Report in the Telegraphers' Case.

THE EMPLOYERS HAVE INTERESTS

Not to the Public's Advantage That Properties Should Be Made Unprofitable.

The following, which will appear in the February "Labour Gazette" is from the Report of the Board of Investigation under the Lemieux Act, composed of Prof. A. Shortt, J. G. O'Donoghue and W. Nesbett, K.C., which recently adjusted the dispute between the Grand Trunk Railway and the telegraph operators:

"The board were much impressed by the suggestions that the same board had recommended a higher rate of pay to the telegraphers in the service of the Canadian Pacific than they were prepared to recommend in the present instance. We are glad to be able to report that the parties appreciated the reasons why the members of the board could not in this instance see their way to the recommendation of any higher rate than that finally agreed upon between the parties, and we desire to put upon record some of the reasons why we came to this conclusion.

"We thought, under the present conditions, that the offer of the company in the matter of increase of wages was all that could be justified. There are many considerations entering into the question. In our view, there is the right of the men to receive a living wage, and that right is paramount. The workman is entitled to get a fair day's wage for a fair day's work. What, however, often seems to be ignored is that capital and labour are both necessary in order to produce a profit, whether it is in the operation of railways, in manufacturing, or in any other branch of trade. The aim of the worker should be to secure a fair share of this profit. But there is also to be considered the position of the man who advances the money to enable the undertaking to be carried on which gives employment. He, too, is entitled to receive a return for his money and his risk. A hundred millions of the capital stock of the Grand Trunk Raiway receives no dividend whatever. If such dividends on the preferred stock as are now being paid are still further reduced by the wages bill being increased, what must necessarily follow? The company cannot obtain further money for expansion, for it can be more remuneratively employed in other undertakings. This certainly would be a disadvantage to the vast numbers who find employment on railways. Then there is the constant demand of the public for the betterment of the service and equipment, for increase of facilities, the bettering of the roadbed and general improvement in the accommodations. These can only be obtained where the parties asked to advance the money can see some possibility of return for the advance. Our experience on a number of these boards has led us to the conclusion that there seems to be an oversight on the part of the public of two things: First, that there is a continual demand for an increase of expenditure upon the part of the company for facilities, and, second, a continual demand for a reduction of the tariffs which furnish the monies necessary to provide these facilities and accommodations. The growth of earnings is not keeping pace proportionately with the growth of expenses. If the operating expenses and the wages to employees must be increased from time to time, and the public so demand, very serious considerations must be given to the proposals for the reduction of freight and passenger rates, inasmuch as every reduction directly affects the ability of the railways to pay the wages asked by their employees. There is no doubt that the cost of living has greatly increased, and that the employees of a railway company are entitled to be better compensated to meet such increased cost, but surely they are not entitled to be compensated at the sole expense of people who have invested their money and who would in return be deprived of their means of livelihood. The public should bear their share. The railway employee spends his money for the benefit of every other member of the community from farmer to manufacturer, and if the employee has to obtain more money to meet his increased cost of living, other classes of the community who receive the benefit of the money he spends should contribute their share towards enabling him to get the money he has to spend; and it is for the foregoing reasons that, under the present conditions, and having in view all the surrounding circumstances, we thought that the offer of increase made by officials of the Grand Trunk Railway Company had gone as far as could be justified, though not necessarily to the limit which the telegraphers ought to receive under other circumstances. The deterring of the investment of capital in railway undertakings would certainly not be a benefit to the community at large, and if the property of lenders is to be practically confiscated between the demand of the public on the one side, and the demand of the employees on the other it must lead to a general reduction of wages or a shrinkage in the number of employees, with a much greater ultimate loss to labour. It has been suggested that this state of affairs may be met by the state becoming sole owner of the railways. To accomplish this, the capital necessary to make railways and work them would still have to be found. The mere fact of state ownership does not bring capital down from the skies like the manna to the Israelites in the desert. If borrowed by the state, interest must be paid for it, and probably at a higher rate than the state now has to pay, for two reasons, first, because of being larger borrowers, second, because of the risk incident to industrial undertakings. If raised by taxation, this would be nothing more than getting it from the collective resources of the country. The wages, other than the living wage before referred to, which are paid by railway companies to their employees, must, therefore, disguise it as we may, depend upon what a company earns after the interest on capital employed is paid. This may equally be said of all industrial and commercial undertakings, and no amount of vague philanthropic talk can alter this fact any more than it can alter the fact that two and two make four.

Health and Vitality for old People

As old age creeps on vitality is lowered, the heart beats more slowly, the blood becomes thin and watery, and the power of resistance is lessened. It is the old people above all others who require the new life and energy, which come with the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Thousands of old people depend on this treatment, because it calms and quiets the nerves, gradually and certainly enriches the blood, builds up the system and instils new life and vigour into their shrivelled arteries.

MEETING OF POULTRY MEN

Promoters Assured of the Formation of An Association Here.

The promoters of the proposition to form a poultry association in Peterborough are receiving good assurance that many will be on hand on Tuesday night in the Council Chamber to assist. They have mailed notices to all those whom they believe are interested, but desire everybody to be present, even if they have not received notice of the meeting other than through the press.

All the prominent poultry fanciers are working hard to arrange the organization, and as they will have the support of President Leary of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, and many others, there is little doubt thatt he association will be formed.

Mr. Geo. Paxman, who has already issued several notices, has received letters from Villiers and other outside places, and many are expected from the rural districts.

BURNT DAM BRIDGE IS DANGEROUS

Government Surveyor Rogers Thinks it Should Be Repaired.

The Havelock Standard says: Mr. Rogers, a Provincial Government surveyor, who has been employed in making a survey of the Belmont and Crow Lake districts for a new geological map to be issued by the province, called on the Standard last week and complained of the very dangerous condition of the bridge at Burnt Dam, Belmont. Mr. Rogers thinks, and rightly too, that the bridge at that place should be equipped with substantial railing at each side.

A ST. VALENTINES DAY OF THE PAST

Dust Blowing in 1877—Otonabee Farmer Sowing Grain.

This morning a citizen, in a reminiscent mood, induced by the mild, spring-like weather, said that he recalled that on St. Valentine's Day, 1877, the dust was blowing about the streets and that the late Joseph Redmond, of Otonabee, sowed grain on that day. Yet the spring was very late in coming and many of the farmers did not finish their seeding till nearly June. Those who regard this open "spell" of weather need not think that it spells spring—we shall probably have many a howling winter storm before the wild violets open their blue eyes and spring is with us in earnest.

MISS STRICKLAND GIVES ADDRESS IN OTTAWA

Was in Peterborough a Short Time Ago —Talked on India.

The Ottawa Journal says: Miss Strickland, a missionary from the Punjaub district of India, addressed a large gathering last night in St. Matthew's church. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary and was very interesting. Miss Strickland gave a brief description of the country, its climate and agricultural prospects. She then explained the work of the school in which she is interested. The hospital is much used by the natives, and the pupils of the school, who are children of Mohammedans, Hindoos and Sikhs, are mostly patients who have been sent in by the doctors. Once a year Miss Strickland, in company with a Bible woman, makes a tour of thirty villages visiting the women and aiding them in every way. The one great hindrance in the work is lack of workers and an invitation is extended to persons interested to attend the other meetings in St. John's, Friday evening, All Saint's Monday afternoon and hear of the work and workers in India.

VAGRANT MUST LEAVE THE CITY

Said He Had $160 in Trust at Coldwater —Slept in the Station Two Nights.

A middle-aged man bearing the noble name of Edward Marlborough appeared before His Worship this morning on a charge of vagrancy and having no visible means of support.

He pleaded guilty, but asked to be let go, and he would never return again.

His Worship allowed him to go on condition that he would leave the city to-day, and if he did not comply he would be sent to the Central for six months.

Marlborough came to the magistrate some days ago to ask a few favours from him. He said he had been working in Coldwater for a month and had left $160 with a man there, and wanted the magistrate to wire him for the money. His Worship would have nothing to do with the man and refused to send the telegram. He was without money and a place to sleep, so Marlborough came to the police station where he spent the past two nights.

This morning he told his old story and said he was an employee of the Toronto Construction Company. He said he would leave the city to-day and go back to Coldwater.

He has been most popular in social and other circles and will be greatly missed.

OBJECTS TO AUBURN WHISTLE BLOWING

Writer Says That Its Blasts Are Altogether Too Long—A Nuisance.

HEARD AT THE HOSPITAL

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—As a resident of the north end of the city I would like to call attention through your paper to what I consider is an abominable nuisance. I refer to the whistle of the Auburn Woollen Mills, which, unlike all the other whistles in the city, tries to see how long it can blow. It is far worse than a G. T. R. freight engine about a half-mile out of the city, which generally whistles continuously until near the station.

The man who operates the Auburn whistle has possibly good intentions and wants to awaken the people, but in the morning he goes too far with it. The C. G. E. whistle does not continue blowing until the people's nerves are unstrung by the shrill blast. The people of the north end have endured the whistle referred to long enough, and it is now about time that residents of the locality were shown some consideration.

The hospital is near at hand, and from the harm that the whistle does to those who are unfortunate in being confined with illness, this alone should deter the company from prolonging their whistle.

Now, Mr. Editor, I think the Auburn Woollen Co. have overlooked this matter in the past and if they do not consider it warrantable that shorter whistles would be more agreeable to those who have silently suffered from them, let them ask the people and they will learn the general feeling. At any rate it would be a nicer spirit shown to make the change, as the company would surely not be a loser.

Thanking, etc.

PREMIER GIVES HIS WORD

Story of a Promised Postmastership Is Exploded—Other New Brunswick Political Affairs Aired—Hon. Mr. Pugsley Is Attacked In His Absence—Bill on Telephones and Telegraphs Next Week.

Ottawa, Feb. 14.—The absence of Hon. William Pugsley in New Brunswick, where the provincial election is on, was seized upon by Mr. Crocket (York, N.B.) as the text for an attack on that Minister and a general review of the Robinson Ministry.

Mr. Crocket called attention to the improper use of Federal patronage in connection with the New Brunswick elections. It was well known, he said, that when Hon. William Pugsley ceased his exploitation of the Government of New Brunswick a few months ago, to turn his attention to the larger opportunities which this Government afforded, that he left a Government so thoroughly discredited that very few who formerly supported it would give it any countenance and that men of capacity and reputation could not be induced to join it. The Government which Mr. Pugsley handed over to Mr. Robinson, therefore, found itself in great difficulty.

Mr. Crocket went on to say that the Robinson Government held on till its statutory term had expired and when it was necessary to prepare for the elections, so discredited had Mr. Pugsley left the Government that it was impossible to procure candidates and again the patronage of the Government was called into play. Although in the last House the Provincial Government held three seats in the City of St. John, it was necessary in order to secure a ticket to offer another Federal office. It had been stated openly that Mayor Sears of St. John was slated for the position of postmaster of St. John.

Mr. Lemieux denied that any promise had been made Mayor Sears.

Mr. Crocket, however, thought Mr. Pugsley was capable of looking after the interests of the party in that section of the country.

In the County of York there had been a transaction. Although the Government held four seats there, it was unable to get four candidates in the county and was forced to go into Westmoreland for the claims agent of the I.C.R., who stipulated that he was to receive a portfolio and in the event of defeat was to be provided for by the Federal authorities.

In Kent a Federal Government employe had been induced to accept nomination. Mr. Crocket said in Queen's and Sudbury, the Liberal candidate was going around with a Public Works engineer to influence the electors there.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied that Mr. Crocket was evidently taking newspaper reports too seriously. He could assure the hon. member that Mayor Sears had not been promised the St. John postmastership.

"Will the Prime Minister say there is no intention whatever to appoint Mayor Sears to an office under this Government?" asked Mr. Crocket.

"So far as I know and am concerned there is none whatever, and I have something to say in these matters," replied Sir Wilfrid. "So far as I am aware, no promise or intimation of any kind has been made to Mr. Sears."

Sir Wilfrid also gave an unqualified denial to the report that another Liberal candidate had been promised the custom office in Fredericton.

Dr. Daniel enquired if it were not true that Dr. Ruddick of St. John had been appointed quarantine officer.

Mr. Fisher said it was true.

Dr. Daniel protested against this interference in local affairs. He was sure that when Mayor Sears read the Prime Minister's denial he would get after the Minister of Public Works and ask him who was to be believed in this matter. Notwithstanding Sir Wilfrid's denial there was evidently an understanding between Sears and Mr. Pugsley.

Mr. Crocket observed that this was no change at all. Postmaster Smith was charged with having attended a meeting of Liberal campaign workers: As to the postmaster of Woodstock, he had a letter from that official denying that he had spoken at public meetings in the Liberal cause.

Mr. Lemieux said that the postmaster, in his letter declared he had never spoken at a meeting in his life. His name was Smith, and the candidate was a Mr. Smith, and the postmaster thought it might be the names were confused.

"Does the Postmaster-General think it likely that it was the Conservative candidate who attended the Liberal rally?" asked Mr. Borden amidst laughter.

George Fowler said that as to the denials, the Minister had made lots of them before.

Mr. Lancaster contrasted the case of Postmaster Smith with that of the postmaster at Beamsville, who had been dismissed for partisanship. The enquiry showed that all he had done was to remark, after the election, that Mr. Gibson, the Liberal candidate, was "in the soup."

Dr. Roche (Marquette) called attention to the despatch from Regina to the effect that R. E. A. Leach of the "Thin Red Line" notoriety, had been appointed by the Federal Government to superintend the distribution of seed grain in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Dr. Roche asked if Leach was the officer in charge of distribution or would be connected with it in any way.

"As far as I can gather, the despatch is in the main correct," replied Hon. Frank Oliver.

"If I am in order," Mr. Speaker called attention to the rule which forbids a member being interrogated giving more than a direct answer.

Mr. Foster asked if it was correct in regard to Leach, and the Minister said Leach was "employed in that connection."

"What's the matter with Wagner?" asked Mr. Bennett of Simcoe, but Mr. Oliver said as to him he did not know.

R. L. Borden questioned the Prime Minister as to some items of legislative program mentioned in the speech from the throne. There was a bill as to telegraph and telephone companies, boundaries of Manitoba, annuities, amendments to the Election Act and other bills.

Sir Wilfrid replied that the bill respecting telegraphs and telephones would probably be down next week. The election bill was about ready. The bill on annuities would be down on Monday. In re boundaries of Manitoba, the legislation of Manitoba had laid before the House a petition in which the position they had taken previously in regard to that and other matters had been materially altered, and it might be expected at no distant date.

RIOT IN HOUSE.

Japanese Representatives Enact Wild Scenes in Discussing Finances.

Tokio, Feb. 14.—After an exciting debate lasting six hours, which developed into a riot on the floor of the House of Representatives, the financial budget was passed by a majority of 192. Speaking on both sides occupied a long time, and towards the last they howled at the chair and charged favoritism, the Opposition members demanding an apology.

The chair suspended the session for half an hour, and upon resuming the chair apologized handsomely to the Opposition.

Impressive speeches were made during the debate, all making a point of the feature that more than one-half of the budget was expended in armaments. It was also urged that the financial measures of the Government did not contain provisions to prevent an outflow of gold, while the balance of trade had a tendency against Japan, fear being expressed that the basis of the gold reserve might be endangered. Upon the side of the Ministry the principal speakers eloquently argued that it was both unwise and dangerous to publicly discuss the nation's finances from a pessimistic standpoint, thereby creating unnecessary alarm abroad. He called attention to the natural resources of Japan, which were only awaiting development by cheap capital.

STOPPED THE JAPS.

British Columbia Officers Held They Could Not Pass Educational Test.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 14.—A conflict in the courts over the Natal Act seems imminent. One hundred and seventy Japs are now being detained in quarantine here. Failing to pass educational test in the new act, they are likely to be excluded. Should this happen the action of the provincial authorities a conflict will result.

The Japanese consul will not only claim rights under the treaty, but also that their arrival and detention in quarantine happened two days before the Natal Act passed, the act does not apply.

The steamship companies are also likely to refuse to accept the rejected immigrants, the companies being under the Federal and not the Provincial immigration regulations. The penalty is $500, imprisonment in default for violation of the act by immigrant or person or corporation assisting him to evade it.

Nova Scotia Legislature.

Halifax, N.S., Feb. 14.—The Provincial Legislature opened yesterday afternoon. The Lieutenant-Governor's speech was not lengthy. It referred to the past year as "one of continued general prosperity throughout the Dominion, and to Nova Scotia's success as having rewarded the industry of the people.

There was nothing in the nature of new legislation proposed.

HAD THIRTY-TWO BOILS ON HIS BACK AT ONE TIME.

TWO BOTTLES OF BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS CURED HIM.

Boils are simply evidence of the bad blood within coming to the surface.

Just when you think you are cured of one, another comes ready to take its place and prolong your misery.

The only way to rid yourself of boils, pimples, and all skin blotches and blemishes, so that they will never return to bother you again, is to have the blood thoroughly cleansed of all of its impurities.

For this purpose there is no other blood medicine to equal Burdock Blood Bitters.

It has been on the market for over thirty years, and in that time we have received thousands of testimonials stating positively that it will cure the worst known cases of boils.

Mr. James Combs, Eden, Ont., writes: "I think Burdock Blood Bitters a great medicine for boils. I had them so bad I could not work. I had thirty-two on my back at one time. I used only two bottles of B.B.B. and they completely cured me. I cannot recommend it too highly.

ONLY ASKS FOR A FAIR DEAL

Mr. Preston Urges an Honest Provincial Redistribution.

MR. WHITNEY IS EVASIVE

Can Only Speculate as to the Date of the General Election—Member For Brant Advocates Advanced Educational Reform—Mr. Hoyle Replies—Continuation of the Debate in the House.

Toronto, Feb. 14.—The Legislature yesterday afternoon devoted itself to a continuance of the debate on the speech from the throne. Mr. T. H. Prescott (Brant), in a thoughtful address, advocated advances along the lines of educational progress. He urged the Government to pursue a fair and just course in its redistribution measure and protested against the proposal to give Toronto too great a representation.

Mr. Preston (Brant) resumed the debate by stating that the mover of the address was not quite fair in stating that prison labor competition was a legacy from the previous Government. "Had the late Government remained in office a little longer," said Mr. Preston, "no such legacy would have been left. The former Government was already well under way in dispensing with it, and the wooden ware contract had been abolished." But the new Government, he continued, had made a new contract in binder twine.

"Prompted by a useful lesson in East Hamilton," he added, "and prodded by the Labor organizations, a special committee was appointed to look into the matter. Then they discovered that there was no contract at the model Manafield reformatory—"

Hon. Mr. Hanna—"Oh, yes, there were two of them, with a rate of 4 cents per hour."

Mr. Preston—"Well, that's a better rate than yours."

Hon. Mr. Hanna—"But ours was 4 1-2 cents on the same basis."

Mr. Preston said that Manafield was just waiting the termination of these two contracts to abolish the system.

He added that it was a principle of the Liberals that the three-fifths local option clause should be repealed. Was the Government going "to steal these clothes, too?"

Hon. Mr. Hanna—"Too many holes in them."

This, Mr. Preston continued, was the last session of a Provincial Parliament.

The Premier—"How so?"

Mr. Preston—"Is it not?"

The Premier—"A general election is not necessary for two years yet."

Hon. Mr. Mackay—"Oh, no."

The Premier—"Let me explain. The statutory term of the present Parliament expires in March 1909, and it is not necessary to bring a Parliament together for 12 months after that time."

Mr. Preston—"Have I, then, the right to assume that there will be no general election this year?"

The Premier, laughing—"You have the right to surmise either way, making your own choice."

Proceeding, Mr. Preston said a redistribution was assured anyway. This was reasonable as there had not been a redistribution since 1894. He hoped it would be done by independent commission or by a committee fairly representing both parties.

The Premier—"I am surprised that there should be any doubt as to its fairness."

Mr. Preston—"The Prime Minister need not be, after what his party did at Ottawa."

The Premier—"Heretofore Ontario has never experienced anything but a gerrymander. A redistribution on fair and proper lines will be an innovation."

The member for Brant said it had been intimated in the press that Toronto was to have four additional members. He did not think this was warranted. Toronto was aided in representation by her press and the fact that several of the Cabinet Ministers resided in the city. It was also recognized that urban representation should be below rural representation.

After deprecating the prevalence of child labor and urging advanced prohibitive legislation along those lines, Mr. Preston turned his attention to educational affairs. He advocated the abolition of a fee in the high schools and all distinction between lower and high schools. It should be a continuous course and vocational courses should be provided for boys of 12 to 14 years. "It is a reflection on our educational system," said Mr. Preston, "that there are 20,000 young people in Ontario studying with an American correspondence school, and only 2,000 in our own technical schools." Mr. Preston hoped that the province would never concede to the Dominion Government the right to control technical education.

The Premier—"It will never do so."

Mr. Preston—"That's right. Do not sell your birthright for a grant, though I believe the Dominion ought to come to the aid of the province with a substantial grant."

Mr. Preston concluded by urging the inauguration of a course of moral training in the schools.

Mr. W. H. Hoyle (North Ontario) followed. Why was it, he asked, that in all his campaign the new Liberal leader had said nothing about the three-fifths local option clause? He sarcastically alluded to the plebiscites taken by the Dominion and Provincial Liberal Governments, when prohibition was carried by over three-fifths majority. And the Liberal leaders did nothing. They claimed that the expression of opinion wasn't strong enough. In church and state there was a call for a strong expression of public opinion on important changes.

"The church to which I belong requires a two-thirds majority," observes Mr. Hoyle.

"What's the name of that church?" put in the irrepressible Mr. Clarke (Northumberland) amid Opposition laughter.

"If my hon. friend is interested Mr. Hoyle, "was more familiar with the character of the churches he would never ask that question." (Government applause.)

As to Mr. Preston's observations on education Mr. Hoyle had no quarrel with the manner or matter of his words. All that he advocated had been foreshadowed by the present Minister of Education in a speech at Brantford, and a Government bill was now in preparation along the lines indicated. The present Government had already doubled the grant to the technical schools.

Mr. Hoyle directed attention to the fact that during the last year the Agricultural Department had issued to the farmers of Ontario over three times as many bulletins as the Liberal Government had issued during the whole 25 years of its tenure of office. He declared the references of the member for the Soo to a blind horse was unfortunate.

"We tried the menagerie business in the past," he declared, "and we found it a lamentable failure. (Laughter.) I thought our friends over the way had had enough of the old horse and were glad to see it finally go to the glue factory, without trying to resurrect it." (Renewed laughter and applause.)

After Col. Atkinson (North Norfolk) had spoken briefly, Col. Hugh Clark (Centre Bruce) moved the adjournment of the debate.

BRYCE IN OTTAWA.

He Will Consult Government on Important International Questions.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Ambassador Bryce leaves for Ottawa to-morrow to take up with the Canadian administration the details of negotiations affecting Canada and the United States, which it is hoped to conclude and to embody in a treaty which will close all pending matters between the United and Great Britain.

Negotiations providing for the submission of the Newfoundland fisheries question to The Hague are already under way. The visit of Secretary Root to Ottawa some months ago paved the way for negotiations in which he is now engaged, and it is expected that Mr. Bryce will encounter comparatively little difficulty in reaching an understanding with the officials at Ottawa on points which remain to be settled.

The various questions which are to be made the basis for this treaty may be summarized as follows:

First—Transit free of duty of merchandise across portions of American and Canadian territory.

Second—Transit of merchandise without payment of duty until arrival at points in interior.

Third—Application of alien labor laws to citizens of the United States and of Canada.

Fourth—Reciprocal mine owning rights.

Fifth—Conveyance of American prisoners through Canadian territory, and vice versa.

Sixth—Reciprocal salvage and wrecking rights.

Seventh—Use of logging booms in St. John River.

Eighth—Disposition of certain pecuniary claims.

Ninth—Exemption of Canadians coming temporarily to United States from paying a head tax.

Tenth—Distribution of power from Niagara Falls.

It would afford the utmost gratification to the President and Secretary of State to see every question between the United States and Great Britain disposed of before the close of this administration, and while it is entirely possible that arbitration of the Newfoundland fisheries question may not be concluded, ratification of a treaty providing for its arbitration would be regarded as virtually disposing of that troublesome and long-standing contention.

Artilleryman Cut Down.

Kingston, Feb. 14.—The Horse Artillery officials have Driver Odell in confinement for attempted suicide. He is said to have first attacked his wife, beaten her, and then going upstairs tried to commit suicide with a razor, but evidently quailing at the scratch made, he strung himself up with an apron. A hurry call was sent, and a river pilot, Gus McDonald, saved the man's life, for he was quickly cut down. Odell has been in trouble before with his wife.

Troops to Preserve Order.

Washington, Feb. 14.—By direction of the President, Acting Secretary of War Oliver yesterday ordered a company of infantry from Fort Gibson in Alaska to Fairbanks, in that territory, to preserve order during the mining strike in that section.

Jumped From Brooklyn Bridge.

New York, Feb. 14.—John Grant, an unemployed printer, jumped from the Brooklyn bridge yesterday, and although he landed among floating icecakes in the river, 200 feet below, escaped with only a few minor hurts.

Love Messages Have Gone Forth In Great Numbers

Cupid Was Busy To-day and Yesterday in Peterborough—History of the Day.

A REMARKABLE VALENTINE

To-day is St. Valentine's day, but the girls in these days are not such early risers as the amourous maiden who long ago, when Hamlet went sighing around Denmark, sang his immortal ditto on the day. It is safe to say that very few maidens were found standing in snow banks beneath their lover's windows this morning. Such a strenuous method of demonstrating true love is now obsolete.

The modern method is, of course, to send the dear one half a pound of stationery, covered with flamingly red hearts, and pictures of little boys wearing nothing much more than a feather duster on each shoulder, which appendages entitle the wearer to bear the name of Cupid as well.

Ofcourse, some of the "comic" cards have been sent to the usual victims. The man who is fond of spirits of the liquid variety, has received from a friend the customary epistle in which he is addressed as "You red-nosed old lobster," and others have received other missives which might or might not be appropriate.

Are More Moderate

Many years ago the verses accompanying the comic valentines contained much more sting and vinegar than do those of the present day. Some of the verses were spiteful, malicious, malevolent and malignant without being funny of humourous, but to-day they run more to inoffensive bainage and hints at the foibles, weaknesses, or eccentricities of the recipient.

The most remarkable valentine in existence was manufactured yesterday by an Examiner newsboy for his own personal use. It is printed upon a sheet or paper several feet long in letters several inches high, and is a unique piece of workmanship in every detail. In this particular valentine, the youthful manufacturer addresses himself to a certain Miss Dot Dash, offering to be her complimentary ticket until she renders him worthless by punching a hole inhim. He calls her his "Sweet lump of becawax," and "mugful of honey," an other beautiful terms that breathe the true spirit of St. Valentine's day.

Is Centuries Old

According to tradition, St. Valentine was a Roman bishop who lived in the third century. He was such a kindly old man and took such a sympathetic interest in the love affairs of his young friends of both sexes, that very soon after his death he was canonized as the patron saint of lovers. It became the custom of lovers to keep the genial old gentleman in remembr by exchanging gifts. The maiden presented herself to her favourite youth as his valentine, and he in return gave her a few bigatelles, accompanied by several kisses and at least one distinct smack. TThese good old customs continued on from ancient times and after two thousand years, although slightly modified, have lost none of their charm or vigour.

The immediate predecessors of the present race of bachelor girls were the tribes of the "middle ages," known as the Old Maids. Those Old Maids were the ancient damsel. By the law of chivalry, he had to become her valentine for the ensuing year, and had to take her to the ice races, and hockey matches, sports now archaic, but at that time very popular. Naturally, when the year was over, and the youth was released, he would satirize the old vampire to whom he had been forcibly attached, and thus the comic valentine sprung into existence and it with us yet, lest we forget.

RUGBY HOCKEY ATHLETICS

SEASONABLE ....SPORTS....

BOWLING BASKETBALL CURLING

GREAT PRESS GAME WILL BE PLAYED ON WEDNESDAY 26TH

Wednesday, February 26.

Paste that date in your hat, mark it in red ink on your calendar, for on the evening of that day the Review and Examiner hockey teams will engage in the most stupendous, the most colossal, the most exciting and the most scientific game of hockey ever seen in the local ice box. After five hours' deliberation on the part of the managers of the two teams last night the above date was finally decided upon, and the local telegraph offices, which had extra staffs on for the occasion, flashed the exciting tidings to all parts of the civilized world. When the news reached the Legislature it was moved by Hon. Mr. Whitney, seconded by Hon. A. G. McKay, and carried by an unanimous vote, that the Legislature adjourn for February 20 and take in the game in a body. The executive of the Eastern Hockey League decided to cancel all games for that date and the members of the Wanderers, Ottawas, Victorias, Shamrocks, Quebec and Montreal teams will be here to get a few pointers.

Both teams will be stronger than ever before, and the Review has already figured out where they will put the cup. The Examiner team, with its usual modesty and reticence, is saying nothing, but you can take this as a quiet tip that by time the Examiner seven gets through with the Review septette the latter will look like Tweed just after the explosion.

The Review management is keeping up its work of underground practice, and yesterday Messrs. Yokome and Crane were indulging in a hockey duel in the basement, when they had the misfortune to lose the puck. Since then practice has been suspended.

SOUTH ENDS BEAT THE GRAFTERS

Tripled the Score on the Red and White Team Last Night

The South End team put it over the Grafters in a hard but cleanly fought game at the Brock street rink last night, by a score of 3—1. At half time the teams were even up. The South Enders scored first and the Grafters quickly retaliated, leaving the score at the turn one all. In the second half the South Enders scored twice on rushes by Milloy, with passes to Kenneally in centre. Kenneally scored all three of the South Ender's points, while Staunton netted the puck for the Grafters' lonesome tally. Henry, Milloy and Kenneally starred for the winners, while Staunton was the pick of the Grafters. Leo Derocher refereed satisfactorily and the teams were as follows:

South End.	Grafters.

Henry...	...Buller

STRATHS TO PLAY IN MADOC

Will Meet the Trent Valley League Leaders Next Week.

The Stratheonas, city league champions, have arranged a game with Madoc, the leaders of the eastern section of the Trent Valley League, and will play an exhibition contest in the eastern town on Wednesday of next week. The Madoc team have not lost a game this season, and will no doubt prove a hard aggregation to beat on their own ice, but the Strathconas are in good shape and ready for a strenuous game. Last year the Strathconas played twice in Madoc, a tie game resulting the first time, while on the second trip Strathconas lost by 12 goals to 4, after holding Madoc to a tie 4—4, well into the second half.

SPORTING NEWS AND VIEWS.....

Wherever F. C. Waghorne referees there is always something doing. Last night "Wag" officiated at Midland, and to-night he was slated to go to Picton, necessitating close train connections. A special train to Barrie was booked to leave Midland last night at 11.30, but instead left at 11 o'clock, much to "Wag's" astonishment, that worthy being engaged in hiscustomary pastime of holding a post-mortem on the game.

However, the mere fact that there was no train until 11 o'clock this morning did not phase "Wag." He hired a horse and cutter and drove all night across country, 35 miles to Orillia, arriving at the station as the Cobalt express was pulling in from the north. "Wag" arrived in Toronto in time to get a cup of coffee and catch the Montreal express for the east, so that he'll be on the job at Picton to-night.—Toronto Star.

The defeat of the St. George's by Kingston last night ties up the Eastern Senior O. H. A. district.

Major Cunningham and Manager Steacey of the 14th Regimental team and Bert Short and Charlie Morrow of the Saints tried to reach an agreement on the play-off last night, but failed. Both favoured home-and-home games, which meant big gates, but the Saints' players said they could not get away again for a Kingston trip, so neutral ice was discussed.

Kingston wanted Belleville, but the Saints desired Peterborough or Port Hope. They deadlocked, so now it is up to the O. H. A. executive.—Toronto Star.

Bill Hancock, the popular O. H. A. official, claims Collingwood will be the team to beat for the intermediate championship. On their own ice they are unbeatable, says Bill.—Toronto News.

Bookhorn Hockey team journeyed across country last Wednesday in spite of the drifts and played Youngs Point on their rink among the lumber piles. They went down to defeat however by the score of 6 to 3 before the Point stalwards. On the same day Lakefield juniors played the Point juniors a tie game, the score ending 2-2.

Kidney Disease for Twenty Years

Mrs. Caswell Reid, Orrville, Muskoka, writes: "For twenty years I was troubled with kidney disease, and have recently been completely cured by using three boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I had tried a number of remedies but nothing appeared to do me much good until I used this splendid medicine."

Music and Drama

THE BANKER'S WIFE

Another big audience was present at the Grand last night when Marks Bros. Dramatic Company presented the favourite melodrama "The Banker's Wife." The scenes of this stirring play are laid in New York and Colorado and the action is lively with many exciting climaxes that keep the interest at a high pitch. May A. Bell Marks, in the dual role of Mabel the Banker's Wife, and Reddy, a Colorado waif, was as usual most successful. Ed. Hubbard made a very "bad" villain, and Arnold C. Baldwin gave a finished portrayal of the part of David Holt, the banker. The other roles were in good hands. New specialties were given, the illustrated songs "Red Wing" and "She is a Grand Old Lady," being rendered.

ANNUAL MEETING

—OF—

THE HOME LIFE ASSOCIATION F CANADA

The Annual Meeting of the Home Life Association of Canada was held on Tuesday, February 11, in the offices of their fine building, corner of Adelaide and Victoria streets, Toronto.

There was a large attendance of shareholders and policyholders. The President, Hon. J. R. Stratton, occupied the chair, and Mr. J. B. Kirby acted as Secretary. The statements presented indicated that the general affairs, interests and business of the Association were in a satisfactory and promising condition.

The Assets of the Association presented a good showing. In spite of the financial stringency, the interest on loans was, with a few insignificant exceptions—due to temporary inability through isolated crop failures—met with gratifying promptitude.

The Assets of the Association, amounting to $869,772, have been carefully examined and found to be in excellent condition.

The first mortgage account during the year ending December 31, 1907, shows an advance from $166,375 to $266,815, the security in every case being first-class.

During the year an increase of $86,983.02 brings the figures of net ledger assets up to $509,556.14. Net outstanding premiums and agents' balances have been reduced from $49,461.30 to $41,083.38, a ratio of nineteen per cent.

The cash premium income of the Association totalled last year $193,154.15. The percentage of interest to net ledger assets for the year is nearly double that of 1905, when the present board assumed office. The average for the past year has been 5 1-2 per cent.—two per cent. in excess of the rate of interest upon which Reserve calculations are based. At the end of the year Reserves on policies amounted $718,574, while the assets for the protection of the policyholders totalled $1,644,925. The total insurance in force at the end of the year was $5,449,394, covered by 4,341 policies.

The payments to policyholders last year amounted to $76,693. These consisted of death claims, which are well within the actuarial estimate authorized by the Dominion Government, amounting to $52,216.27, and the balance consisted of matured and endowment policies, annuities and cash surrenders amounting to $26,476.73.

The meeting regarded it as a cause for congratulation that the past year has been marked by a reduction of operating expenses of $25,144.73, in pursuance of the policy of the board to keep expenses to the lowest point consistent with effective management. The result of the operations of the year show a surplus, the first time in the Association's history, not a large one, but gratifying as indicating an advance condition.

As a whole, the annual report and statement shows a sound and healthy condition of the affairs and interests of the Association. The business on the books is of an excellent character, hardly susceptible of betterment. The all-round improvement in every department of the business of the Association, and especially in that of business management must be very satisfactory. With the affairs of the company shown to be in a generally sound condition, with the business policy of the board sound and progressive, with unexceptional policies to offer, and with reasonably good conditions of prosperity prevailing, it needs no undue optimism to predict a prosperous future for the Home Life Association of Canada.

After congratulatory and explanatory remarks by the President, Vice-President, General Manager, and Shareholders, the report was unanimously adopted.

Directors — Hon. J. R. Stratton John S. King, Esq., Jas. L. Hughes, Esq., D. W. Karn, Esq., J. S. Hough, Esq. K.C.; J. W. Lyon, Esq., Rev. A. L. Gee, George Amyot, Esq., Jno. Sheridan, Esq., Thomas W. Boddy, Esq., Jno. Curtis, Esq., E. L. Goold, Esq., J. H. Spencer, Esq., J. K. McCutcheon, Esq., Prof. J. F. Tufts, Esq., Jas. J. Warren, Esq., Charles E. Stevenson, Esq.

Advisory Directors—Hon J. W. Longley, Thos. McCaffery, Esq., Ashmore Kennedy, Esq., Chas. May, Esq., S. A. Bedford, Esq.

At the close of the annual meeting the Board of Directors met and elected the Hon. J. R. Stratton, President. Messrs. J. L. Hughes and John S. King, Vice-Presidents, and J. K. McCutcheon, Managing Director.

MINISTER AT YOUNG'S POINT WALKS 20 MILES ON SNOWSHOES

Examiner Special.

Warsaw, Feb. 12.—Mr. John Selkirk and family arrived on Sunday and have taken up residence with Dr. Munro.

Miss Dora Payne is spending a week in the city a guest of Miss Bertha Wareham.

Miss Ida Jory is in Oshawa on a visit with Mrs. R W Dixon.

The many friends of Mr. S R Payne will be pleased to know that he is improving in health and is again able to be about the house.

Messrs. Frank and Sim Robeson who have been guests of their sister, Mrs. Wason, left on Saturday for their home in Cando, North Dakota.

Miss Ethel Richardson, Peterborough, is a guest of Miss Laura Jory.

Mrs. N Stephens arrived here on Saturday. Much sympathy is felt for Mrs. Stephens on account of the death of her husband which occurred at Carberry, Man.

"Where there's a Will there's a way" is an old familiar adage that was thoroughly exemplified on Sunday last by Rev. H F Batterbay and a friend from Young's Point. On account of the storms that occurred on the three Sundays prior to last, it was found impossible for Mr. Batterby to reach here from Young's Point to hold service and although Sunday was a typical Canadian winter day yet the roads were blocked for some miles; this however, did not prevent the minister making the minister making the trip which is 20 miles here and return, on snowshoes.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Institute will be held in the town hall on Thursday, Feb. 13th.

Court Warsaw, No. 230 C.O.F. met in their hall on Tuesday evening of last week.

The members of L.O.L. No. 284 held their regular meeting in their hall on Thursday evening.

The machinery of the Selkirk sawing and planing mill having arrived at the station the work of transferring and setting up will no doubt be hurried along and it will not be many days before sawing will be commenced.

Why Should Peterborough Not Accept Carnegie's Offer?

Mr. Dumble Would Advise the Acceptance of His Money—The City Needs a Library.

THE MAINTENANCE OF IT

Editor Examiner,—

The people of Peterborough are discussing the question of a public library. Nearly all the peoples of other communities have already settled this question, and in nearly every city and town in Ontario they point with pride to a handsome edifice called a "Carnegie Library." The latest library opened is at Belleville, where the people accepted from Mr. Harry Corby, the maker of "Corby's whisky," a very useful and handsome building to be used as a public library. The papers do not mention any hesitation on the part of the people in accepting the gift on the ground of "tainted money"—Corby's whisky is said to be good whisky.

Now, as to Peterborough, it will be admitted,

1—That a free public library is a desirable thing.

2—That we need one.

3—That if we don't get one it will be our own fault.

The Nicholls Estate years ago gave us $10,000 to support a library—this produces an income of $400 a year.

The same Nicholls Estate recently very graciously gave us a splendid business property, worth about $15,000 —an unhammelled, unconditional gift, that means $600 more per annum.

The Ontario Government will give an annual grant of $160 a year. Here is an income of $1,160 a year.

There is a man in the States who stands there with $25,000 or $30,000 in his outstretched hand, which he offers us as a gift to erect a library building.

We have the site—the southeast corner of the Central Park—opposite the Y.M.C.A. Even a building, say 60 by 100 feet, will take up very little room, and will be an ornament to the park.

Experience shows that to keep up a public library, cost of heating, salary, new books, etc., requires about ten per cent. on the cost of the building. If we erect a $25,000 building the annual expenditure required by Mr. Carnegie will be $2,500. I have shown that we already have from the Government and Nicholls Estate an income of $1,160 a year. All then required from the city is $1,320 a year to make up the Carnegie requirement of $2,500. If the people want a library, the people must pay for what they want. Did the people refuse the $25,000 gift from the Nicholls Estate? Did Belleville refuse the Corby money? Should we refuse $25,000 from Carnegie? The people of Peterborough are a level-headed people, not fools, and they will not refuse the splendid public building which Mr. Carnegie so generously offers to erect and give them as a free gift. With our splendid Collegiate and Public Schools and the new Normal School with its 300 or 400 young teacher-pupils, dare we hesitate to complete our splendid educational equipment which will give us the proudest educational status amongst the rising cities of the Dominion, and that especially, when others bear nearly three-fourths of the entire expenditure?

I am, sir,

Your obedient servant,

D. W. DUMBLE.

HONEST BILLIE DROPS DEAD AT HASTINGS ICE RACES

Hastings, Feb. 3.—There was great exciting at the first day's ice racing here to-day. Good horses are here from Port Hope, Belleville, Ottawa and other places. To-day the events were the named race which was won by Dr. Wilson's Lady Belle, with W. Henson's Jay second in a close race of five heats. Honest Billie owned by L. A. Huyake of Hastings was trotting a close second in the first heat when he staggered and fell dead on the track, never moving a muscle after he had dropped.

In the 2.36 class L. G. Bennett's Port Hope, Queen City won in straight heats but Major Hamburg owned by Ashley of Foxboro second; Jim K. owned by Ketchenson, Belleville third and A. M. Walsh's Godfrey's Pride fourth.

To-morrow there will be some exciting events and a big crowd is in attendance.

Honest Billie at that time owned in Barrie by Mr. Gilks, was one of the horses in action here at the recent winter meet of the Peterborough Turf Club.

ALDERMEN FOR TWO YEARS

Executive of Ontario Municipal Association Discussed That Point.

MR. S. R. ARMSTRONG BACK

City Clerk Armstrong arrived home last night from Toronto, where he was in attendance at the meeting of the executive of the Ontario Municipal Association, which was held at the Queen's Hotel on Wednesday night. At the meeting the changes which the association is asking the Legislature to make in the municipal laws were discussed and some alterations made. At the general meeting in August resolutions embodying these changes were passed and the executive meeting was held for the purpose of getting these into proper shape. Among the most important changes is the one proposed by Peterborough, to the effect that aldermen be elected for two years instead of one.

Yesterday morning the executive had an interview with Provincial Secretary Hanna, and explained the details of the changes they are asking for to him.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS

A SMILE IN EVERY DOSE

The mother who, in her gratitude for what Baby's Own Tablets have done for her child, said that "There's a smile in every dose," coined a very happy and true phase. The tablets cure all the minor ailments of babies and young children, and make bright, smiling, happy little ones. Mrs. John Young, Auburn, Ont., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for more than a year and I think they are the best medicine that can be given a baby. They are splendid at teething time, and for stomach and bowel troubles. You don't need a doctor if you keep Baby's Own Tablets in the house." That's about the highest praise a mother can give, and it's true, every word of it. You can get the Tablets from any medicine dealer or, by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CUTTER KNOCKED OVER BY A STREET CAR

Shafts Were Smashed and Occupants Thrown Into the Road.

A young American couple who have been in the city visiting for a few days had a narrow escape yesterday while out driving. They hired a cutter from Bruce Lee's livery and after driving about for some time turned down George street. At the corner of Edinburg street they were struck from the rear by a George street car and the cutter was turned over, throwing the occupants into the road. The shafts of the conveyance were badly smashed and both the man and his wife were shaken up in the fall. The street car was soon brought to a stop and the men in charge came to the assistance of the young couple.

The driver of the cutter is very indignant over the matter and told the men in the livery barn that he would come on the street railway company for damages.

The band will be present and there will be an hour's skating after the races.

This distressing complaint is successfully dealt with by the Zam-Buk treatment. Zam-Buk subdues the pain, allays the inflammation and enables rest and comfort to come to the worn-out sufferer.

Mrs. E Boxall of 75 Scott street, St. Thomas, Ont., writes—"I consider it my duty to write of the benefit derived from using Zam-Buk. For some months I was a constant sufferer from bleeding piles. I had used a great many ointments but got no relief until I had tried Zam-Buk. It cured me and I have had no return of the trouble. Since my cure, I have advised others suffering with a similar complaint to use Zam-Buk, and in each instance have heard satisfactory reports."

when letters blur, when lines run together, and reading becomes difficult, especially in the evening. This blurring is caused by the eye not being able to focus at the normal reading distance—thirteen inches.

The vision in the distance is as clear as ever, and this fact leads many to believe that glasses are unnecessary, but this is just the time when the first pair of glasses is needed. A continuation without glasses causes an undue strain on the muscles of the eye, and a dull headache is the result, a person gains nothing by going without glasses when they are needed. In fact they gain much by having glasses fitted when the first blur indicates failing vision. ALL WORK GUARANTEED.

RESOURCES OF CANADA'S FERTILE NORTHLAND LYING TO THE NORTH OF THE SASKATCHEWAN WATERSHED

An Enormous Tract of Land Once Thought To Be Inaccessible and Comparatively Barren, Are Unspeakably Rich In Timber and Minerals.

SOME VERY VALUABLE INFORMATION COLLECTED

Thousands of Miles of Agricultural Land Fit For Settlement---Authentic Statistics By R. E. Young For The Government.

In the minds of many Canadians the idea is inherent that the vast country lying to the north of the Saskatchewan watershed and west of Hudson's Bay is unfitted for agriculture and that its value to the Dominion lies in its annual production of furs, already exploited, its vast timber forests, known but not yet brought into service, and its mineral wealth, as yet unknown and almost absolutely unexplored.

For some time past it has been realized by numbers of far-sighted people that after a few more years' inflow of immigration at the present rate, Canada's future expansion as an agricultural, lumbering, mining and industrial country will depend upon the exploitation of the natural resources of this far north land, together with the northern portions of Quebec, the districts of Keewatin and Ungava, on the coasts of Hudson's Bay, the immense Mackenzie and Peace River districts, and the Yukon territory.

The trend of settlement in Canada, and also in the United States, has been westward, following the construction of railways. The land in the railway belts—the more southern part of Western Canada—is being rapidly filled up, as the older railway lines throw out their branches northward, and as the location and construction of the new, National Transcontinental Railway proceeds. Attention is, therefore, already being drawn to that portion of Canada, hitherto supposed to be not only inaccessible, but comparatively barren, which lies still farther north.

Exhausting Available Lands

R. E. Young, of the Department of the Interior, in 1903 prepared a statement showing that the enormous influx of immigrants and settlers would in a reasonable time exhaust the available lands for free homesteads in the present settled portions of the western provinces, and calling attention to the practically unexplored hinterland of Canada.

Mr. Young also had a map of the northern portion of Canada prepared which contained all available information from any source regarding the possibilities and resources of the country. As a result of Mr. Young's investigations, the matter was taken up by the House and a select committee of the Senate was appointed to inquire into the resources and value of that part of the Dominion lying north of the Saskatchewan watershed, east of the Rocky Mountains and west of the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan, and the Mackenzie territory. The districts of Keewatin and Ungava were also brought within the scope of the investigation.

In February, 1907, the committee commenced its work, and by March 30, 1907, when it completed its labours, the evidence collected formed a valuable collection of information on points hitherto practically unknown.

Capt. E. J. Chambers, of the Senate, edited and condensed into narrative form from the evidence given before the committee, and the Hon. Mr. Oliver decided to issue it for public information as a publication of the Department of the Interior. The book is now available, and copies will be sent free on application to the Department.

Invaluable Maps

Three large maps of the country under investigation accompany the volume, and these contain a wealth of detail not hitherto found in any previously published maps. There are also charts showing the average possible hours of sunshine during summer in these districts, the isothermal lines, isobars, and the summer temperatures.

The area dealt with in this volume is of stupendous extent. The area of those portions of Alberta and Saskatchewan lying north of the Saskatchewan watershed may be set down at 250,000 square miles, or 160 million acres. Ungava has a total of 354,965 square miles. This is, by more than 300,000 square miles, twice the combined area of the four original provinces of Confederation, namely, Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. It is exactly 272,873 square miles greater than the combined area of the seven older provinces and of those portions of the two new provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta which lie south of the Saskatchewan watershed.

The vast region north of the Saskatchewan valley and west of Keewatin, which may be broadly described as the great Mackenzie Basin, is very much more valuable, according to thoroughly authentic and well substantiated evidence, than was at one time supposed; and is capable of sustaining a very large and prosperous population. The settlements in this distant region, while insignificant in number and extent as compared with its vast area, are important as demonstrating practically and unquestionably the great possibilities of this territory as an agricultural and industrial country, and also as emphasizing the importance of exploring and surveying such areas as are likely to first attract the stream of settlement which is bound to set in before long.

Good Agricultural Land

According to one witness, who has had exceptional opportunities for familiarizing himself with the country and its resources, there is in the Peace River section of this country as much good agricultural land fit for settlement, and yet unsettled, as there is settled in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta to-day.

W. F. Bredin, member of the Alberta Legislative Assembly, who resides at Lesser Slave Lake, after a careful computation, estimates the area of agricultural lands available in the unorganized territory of Mackenzie and Northern Alberta at not less than one hundred million acres.

Owing to the attention which has been drawn to the Peace River country of late by reason of the almost immediate construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway through it, the evidence of those witnesses who dealt with this portion of the country is perhaps of most vital public interest at the present time. H. A. Conroy, of the Indian department, W. F. Bredin, F S Lawrence, of Fort Vermilion, and J K Cornwall all gave evidence on this district. Mr. Conroy, who has been travelling through the country for eight or nine years gave some interesting details. From the southeast end of Lesser Slave Lake to the valley of the Swan hills, is a beautiful country, some portions heavily timbered, other parts open. The finest grass in the world grows there, blue top, some of it 6 and 7 feet high. The basin all round the lake is fine agricultural land. The blue grass grows on the high land not in sloughs. It is very good grass, and does not form sod. Probably four tons to the acre would be an average crop.

There is a good deal of open country all around the south side of Lesser Slave lake. About 40 miles north there is some 20 miles of rolling prairie country. The feed is excellent. The Prairie river country is the finest piece of the northwest that Mr. Conroy has seen. Most of it is level and open with nice bluffs of timber, mixed, with some spruce and poplar.

Between the Little Smoky river and the Lesser Slave lake the country is open. Along the banks of the Smoky is very tall fine spruce timber. The country north of Dunvegan, all along the river, is fit for agriculture on both sides, and for a long distance back.

The evidence given by Mr. Bredin is fully as favourable from an agricultural standpoint as that given by Mr. Conroy. His judgment is that from the mountains to Peace point, a distace of seven or eight hundred miles and for an average of seventy-five miles back on each side of the Peace river, there is a tract of land fully equal to the soil on any similar length of the Saskatchewan. A great deal of it is clean prairie especially on the north side, the balance being covered with scrub and small timber.

With regard to its possibilities for ripening grain and vegetables, he said, that on his own ranch at Grand Prairie he had raised vegetables and oats every year for six years. He has had cattle there for five winters, and the average length for feeding them during the five years was six weeks each winter. All the country is good for stock. Both slough and upland hay is abundant. Pea vine and all the usual northwest small fruits grow there. At Lesser Slave lake, they have had magnificent crops.

FineSample of Wheat

F S Lawrence showed the committee a sample of No. 1 hard wheat raised in the Peace River country in 1906. It was an average sample of the 22,000 bushels held, at that time he obtained it, in the Hudson's Bay company's mill at Fort Vermilion. The grain raised there for some time past has been of the quality known as the Ladoga. This has changed so materially from the sample originally obtained from the Ottawa experimental farm that it now bears no resemblance, the original stock being a soft wheat, while the sample produced is as hard as Red Fife.

As to the soil, many supposed that the Peace river valley, as a valley, was a low lying section of land in the bottom of the river. It is spoken of as "The Valley" by many people, and they think that it extends from the mountains on to the Arctic ocean.

The river bottom proper only consists of points or flats in the bottom of the bed of the river, which "bottom" is practically about two miles in width, whereas the great Peace river valley proper, what is properly called the Peace River valley, is in reality a broad tract of country. When you once get on to the height of land, this so-called "valley" covers miles in width, and extends from the Rocky mountains on to Lake Athabasca, into which the Peace river drains. The banks are very high where the Peace river leaves the mountains—that is the banks of the river to set up on what is spoken of as the height of land. At Fort St. John the banks are about 1,000 feet in height, and it would be quite a problem for a farmer living up on the height of land to get water from the river. When you reach the Peace river crossing, which at present is the terminus of the road or trail from Edmonton, the usual route to the north, the banks are 800 feet in height, and where the road winds down the banks to get into the valley or bottom of the Peace river, it is about one mile long, that length being necessary to get suitable grade to get down to the bottom of the river.

From the Peace river crossing as the river swings to the north and east, the banks gradually become lower, and when Wolverine Point, about 200 miles to the northwest of the Peace river crossing is reached, the banks are about 200 feet in height. From thence to Fort Vermilion the banks become lower, and at Fort Vermilion you find the banks from 100 to 150 feet in height.

Rich Black Loam

You will find the same conditions on the upper part of the river as in the lower. It makes great bends, and on alternate sides of the river you find wide flats, where there is probably the richest soil there is in that northern country, made up of alluvial deposits, all black soil. There are places on the lower parts of these points which get flooded, perhaps once an seven or eight years. Nearly all the points, however, are above the high water mark, and when these flats are cultivated, the soil yields the heaviest of crops. On these flats cultivation of the soil was first undertaken in that part of the country and it was supposed by many that they comprised the only part of the Peace river or northern country from Edmonton into the north that was suitable for cultivation. For many years experiments were carried on on the flats People supposed that when they undertook the cultivation of grain on the height of land they would get into the muskeg and swamp that adjoined the river in many places, and grain could not be raised; but this has been proved to be a fallacy. The sample of grain witness had produced, was largely taken from the height of land or table land near Fort Vermilion. The table land is sometimes called "bench land," and this bench land in some places is very wide, There are places in it, as at the south of Fort Vermilion, and to the north and west, where there is 100 miles of this land on each side of the river before you come to the mountains.

This land is not all suitable for cultivation. It has its swamps and its muskeg, and its low patches of land, that you will find in almost any country where you have a large growth of scrub timber, but the larger part of this land as the witness had found by travelling over the country away from the river, is suitable for settlement.

Great Yield of Wheat

Mr. Lawrence has farmed at Vermilion for over twenty years, and has never had a failure in wheat in that time. There is no rush. He has raised as high as 65 bushels of wheat to the acre. That was his biggest yield, and was accomplished without the aid of fertilizer.

All the witnesses are agreed as to the great quantity of timber to be found in the Peace River country and adjacent territory. The spruce is large and fit for saw logs, some being three feet across the stump. All the rivers have belts of timber on their banks except where the fires have destroyed it, and most of it is spruce and black bark poplar, the latter growing quite large, as much as three to four feet through the stump, at times.

Small Fruits in Profusion

The tomatoes were not fully formed and witness did not think they ripened. They grew them under glass. The strawberries ripened at any time. In fact they had ripe strawberries before that, also raspberries, currants, gooseberries and saskatoons. The wheat that Mr. Stewart saw there was just in the shot. He inquired when it was sown and was told May 20. It seemed incredible until it was remembered that there is scarcely any darkness during summer there. There was about 20 hours' sun each day, and the heat was greater for several days at a time than anything Mr. Stewart has ever experienced in Ottawa. Along the lower Athabasca and at Fort Chipewyan, Mr. Stewart and his fellow travellers had it over 100 in the shade for several days. There was a thermometer on the steamer in the shade. It continued all night. That Arctic heat was something quite unexpected. The hot wave extended down to the Arctic sea that year as Mr. Stewart ascertained from Indians, who had come from Rampart House, near the Alaskan boundary to meet the steamer the Wrigley.

Fort Good Hope in latitude 66.16 is 970 miles farther north than Edmonton, yet Mr. Stewart saw cabbages, onions and other garden vegetables growing in the gardens there. Beyond this he did not see any until he got to Fort Yukon. When you get beyond Fort Good Hope the frost is so near the surface of the ground that it is pretty hard to raise anything. At Fort Macpherson, and in that neighbourhood where the portage is crossed, you are on frozen soil. The vegetables at Fort Good Hope looked as good as any others. The soil there was very fertile. As far as Fort Good Hope on this side of that place and around Providence, the country is a fine one; banks twenty-five and thirty feet high, level something like the Saskatchewan at Prince Albert. It is a wooded country.

In this portion of the country, bordering on the Arctic circle it would be quite reasonable to suppose that crops would mature much later than farther south, but the contrary is the case, due to the greater length of the day. There is at least two hours' more sunshine day during the summer at Fort Simpson than at Edmonton and points further north have as high as nineteen and twenty hours per day of sunshine. As sunshine is the great factor in maturing crops, it is not surprising, therefore, that barley, wheat and oats are all ripe and ready to cut by the end of July at Providence, 580 miles north of Edmonton.

At Fort Simpson, 170 miles north again from Providence, cauliflowers, cabbage and cucumbers are grown in precisely the same manner and under the same conditions as in Alberta.

One hundred and forty miles north of Fort Simpson is Fort Wrigley, where the Hudson's Bay company's people put in a vegetable garden every year.

A very valuable point established by the enquiry was with regard to muskeg lands. A very large proportion of the northern country is composed of muskeg. These muskegs are properly speaking timbered swamps, and in their present condition are useless for agriculture, being composed of moss sometimes three feet or more thick soaked with and lying in water.

MARTIN-ORME PIANOS

A recognized authority, Mr. Puddicombe, director of the Ottawa Conservatory of Music, says in part:

June 30, 1905.

I was greatly surprised and delighted with the Martin-Orme Piano I played on last night. I found it to be one of the most grateful of all the upright pianos I have ever tried.

That was two years ago. Mr. Puddicombe writes now:

I have had ample opportunity of testing the Martin-Orme wearing quality in the Conservatory here, and it is perfectly satisfactory.

SAYS THIS IS BEST

A leading health journal in answering the question, "What is the best prescription to clean and purify the blood?" prints in a recent issue the following:

Fluid Extract Dandelion one ounce;
Compound Salatone, one ounce;
Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, four ounces.

Shake well and use in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.

A well-known physician states that these are harmless vegetable ingredients, which can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy.

This mixture will clean the blood of all impurities. In just a few days the skin begins to clear of sores, boils and pimples. It puts vigor and energy into run-down debilitated men and women. For many years Sarsaparilla alone has been considered a good blood medicine. But while it built up and made new blood, the impurities remained within and the good accomplished was only temporary. Sarsaparilla, however, when used in combination with Compound Salatone and Extract Dandelion, works wonders. This combination puts the kidneys to work to filter and sift out the waste matter, uric acid, and other impurities that cause disease. It makes new blood and relieves rheumatism and lame back and bladder troubles.

THE OLD FASHIONED DOCTOR

It is interesting to note how the medical profession is getting back to first principles. For some years we have been swamped with new synthetics, many of them heralded to cure the incurable, but now the leaders of the profession are returning to the well known herbs whose value has been proved by years of experience. These physicians do claim, however, and rightly so, that formerly there was not sufficient attention paid to the preparation of the herbs nor to the quality, and so it is a satisfaction to see the King Palmetto Company offer a combination of these old and esteemed remedies with a positive guarantee as to the purity of the ingredients and of scientific skill in the manufacture. They print the formula plainly on the wrapper and intelligent people can readily appreciate its value in all cases of stomach, liver and kidney trouble. King Palmetto Compound regulates the bowels and cleanses the system, and in thus purifying the blood will immediately relieve and eventually cure many of the diseases caused by impure blood, such as rheumatism, gout, eczema, etc. It is a specific for muddy and sallow complexion and pimples. Send for free sample to King Palmetto Co., Bridgeburg, Ont. King Palmetto Compound is sold at $1.00 per bottle, and guaranteed by

Red Saunders

...By...

HENRY WALLACE PHILLIPS

COPYRIGHT, 1908, BY McCLURE, PHILLIPS & COMPANY

This is the famous story of Red Saunders, big Red, tough Red of the plains and mines. We shall follow this expansive man through his days of toughness and sinfulness up to the great day of his life, the day that shall bring the metamorphosis of Red. This trumpeter will not give the story away by indicating how this transformation shall come about—whether through the remorse or repentance of Red, his conviction of sin, his fear of the damnation of the wicked, his yearnings for the peace that passeth understanding, or whether it shall be the love of woman that shall bring this giant to his knees and make him as a little child. The trumpeter will only promise that this conversion of Red shall be one of the most interesting and delicious episodes in all fiction, which the reader will enjoy and doubtless remember through all the years of his life.

CHAPTER I.

REDDY and I were alone at the lake beds. He sat outside the cabin braiding a leather hat-band—eight strands and the repeat figure—an art that I never could master.

I sat inside with a one-pound package of smoking tobacco beside me and newspapers within reach, rolling the day's supply of cigarettes.

Reddy stopped his story long enough to say, "Don't use the 'Princess' Slipper,' Kid—that paper burns my tongue—take the 'Granger'; there's plenty of it."

Well, as I was saying, I'd met a lot of the boys up in town this day and they threw as many as two drinks into me; I know that for certain, because when we took the parting dose I had a glass of whisky in both my right hands and had just twice as many friends as when I started.

When I pulled out for home I felt mighty good for myself—not exactly looking for trouble, but not a-going to dodge it any, either. I was warbling "Idaho" for all I was worth—you know how pretty I can sing? Cockeyed Peterson used to say it made him forget all his troubles. "Because," says he, "you don't notice trifles when a man bats you over the head with a two by four."

Well, I was enjoying everything in sight, even a little drizzle of rain that was driving in in rags of wetness when a flat-faced swatty at Port Johnson halted me.

Now, it's a dreadful thing to be butted up death by a nanny goat, but for a full raised cowpuncher to be held up by a soldier is worse yet.

To say that I was shot under the collar don't give you the right idea of the way I felt.

"Why, you cross between the last rose of summer and a bobtailed flush!" says I, "what d'yer mean? What's got into you? Get out of my daylight, you dog robber, or I'll walk the little horse round your neck like a three ringed circus. Come, pull your freight!"

It seems that this swatty had been chucked out of the third story of Frenchy's dance emporium by Bronc Thompson, which threw a great respect for our profesh into him. Consequently he wasn't fresh, like most soldiers, but answered me as polite as a tin horn gambler on May day.

Says he: "I just wanted to tell you that old Frosthead and forty braves are some'ers between here and your outfit, with their war paint on and blood in their eyes, cayoodling and whoopin' fit to beat hell with the blower on, and if you get tangled up with them I reckon they'll give you a hair cut and shampoo, to say nothing of other trimmings. They say they're after the Crows, but it's a ten dollar bill against a last year's bird's nest that they'll take on any kind of trouble that comes along. Their hearts is mighty bad, they state, and when an Injun's heart gets spelled the disease is d——d catching. You'd better stop awhile."

"Now, cuss old Frosthead and you, too!" says I. "If he comes crow hopping on my reservation I'll kick his pantalets on top of his scalp lock."

"All right, pardner," says he. "It's your own funeral. My orders was to halt every one going through. But I ain't a whole company, so you can have it your own way. Only if your friends have to take you home in a coffin, don't blame me. Pass, friend!"

So I went through the officers' quarters forty miles an hour, letting out a string of yells you might have heard to the coast, just to show my respect for the United States army.

Now this has always been my luck: Whenever I made a band wagon play somebody's sure to strike me for my license, or else the team goes into the ditch a mile farther on, and I come out about as happy as a small yaller dog at a bobcat's caucus.

Some fellers can run in a rhinecaboo that 'd make the hair stand up on a buffeler robe and get away with it just like a mice, but that ain't me. If I sing a little mite too high in the cellar, down comes the roof a-top of me. So it was this day. Old Johnny Hardluck socked it to me, same as usual.

Gosh a'mighty! The liquor died in me after awhile, and I went sound asleep in the saddle and woke up with a jar to find myself right in the middle of old Frosthead's gang, the drums "boom blipping" and those forty odd red tigers "hyah-hyahing" in a style that made my skin get up and walk all over me with cold feet.

How in blazes I'd managed to slip through those Injuns I don't know. 'Twould have been a wonderful piece of scouting if I'd meant it. You can most always do any darn thing you don't want to do. Well, there I was, and, oh, doctor, but wasn't I in a lovely mess! That war song put a crimp into me that Jack Frost himself couldn't take out.

It was as dark as dark by this time. The moon just stuck one eye over the edge of the prairie, and the rest of the sky was covered with cloud. A little light came from the Injuns' campfire, but not enough to ride by, and, besides, I didn't know which way I ought to go.

Says I to myself, "Billy Saunders, you are the champion all around, old fashioned fool of the district. You are a jackass from the country where ears less'n three foot long are curiosities. You sassed that poor swatty that wanted to keep you out of this, tooting your bazoo like a man peddling soap, but now it's up to you. What are you going to do about it?" and I didn't get any answer neither.

Well, it was no use arguing myself conundrums out there in the dark when time was so scarce. So I wraps my handkercher around Laddy's nose to keep him from talking horse to the Injun ponies and prepared to sneak to where I'd rather be.

Laddy was the quickest thing on legs in that part of the country—out of a mighty spry little Pinto mare by our thoroughbred Kentucky horse—and I knew if I could get to the open them Injuns wouldn't have much of a chance to take out my stopper and examine my works—not much. A half mile start, and I could show the whole Sioux nation how I wore my hair.

I cut for the place where the Injuns seemed thinnest, lifting myself up till I didn't weigh fifteen pound and breathing only when necessary. We got along first rate until we reached the edge of 'em, and then Laddy had to stick his foot in a gopher hole and walloped around there like a whale trying to climb a tree.

Some darn cuss of an Injun threw a handful of hay on the fire, and as it blazed up the whole gang spotted me.

I unlimbered my gun, sent the irons into Laddy, and we began to walk.

I didn't like to make for the ranch, as I knew the boys were short handed, so I pointed north, praying to the good Lord that I'd hit some kind of settlement before I struck the north pole.

Well, we left those Injuns so far behind that there wasn't any fun in it. I slacked up, patting myself on the back, and as the trouble seemed all over I was just about to turn for the ranch when I heard horses galloping, and as the moon came out a little I saw a whole raft of redskins a-boiling up a draw not half a mile away. That knocked me slabsided. It looked like I got the wrong ticket every time the wheel turned.

I whooped it up again, swearing I wouldn't stop this deal short of a dead sure thing. We flew through space, Laddy pushing a hole in the air like a scared coyote making for home and mother.

A-ways down the valley I spotted a little shack sitting all alone by itself out in the moonlight. I headed for it, hollering murder.

A man came to the door in his underrigging.

"Hi, there! What's eating you?" he yells.

"Injuns coming, pardner! The country's just oozing Injuns! Better get a wiggle on you!"

"All right—slide along. I'll ketch up to you," says he.

I looked back and saw him hustling out with his saddle on his arm. "He's a particular kind of cuss," I thought. "Bareback would suit most people."

Taking it a little easier for the next couple of miles, I gave him a chance to pull up.

We pounded along without saying anything for a spell, when I happened to notice that his teeth were chattering.

"Keep your nerve up, pardner!" says I. "Don't you get scared—we've got a good start on 'em."

He looked at me kind of reproachful

"Scared be darned!" says he. "I reckon if you was riding around this nice cool night in your drawers, your teeth 'ud rattle some too."

I took a look at him and saw, sure enough, while he had hat, coat and boots on, the pants was missing. Well,

"Well, watch," says he.

if it had been the last act, I'd have had to laugh.

"Couldn't find 'em nohow," says he. "Hunted high and low, jick, Jack and the game—just comes to my mind now that I had 'em rolled up and was sleeping on 'em. I don't like to go around this way—I feel as if I was two men and one of 'em hardly respectable."

"Did you bring a gun with you?"

He gave me another stare. "Why, pardner, you must think I have got a light and frivolous disposition," says he, and with that he heaves up the great grandmuncle of all the six shooters I ever did see. It made my forty-five long look like something for a kid to cut its teeth on. "That's the best gun in this country," he went on.

"Looks as if it might be," says I. "Has the foundry that cast it gone out of business? I'd like to have one like it, if it's as dangerous as it looks."

"When I have any trouble with a man," says he, "I don't want to go pecking at him with a putty blower, just irritating him and giving him a little skin complaint here and there. I want something that'll touch his conscience."

He had it, for a broadside from that battery would scatter an elephant over a township.

We loped along quiet and easy until sun up. The Grindstone Buttes lay about a mile ahead of us. Looking back, we saw the Injuns coming over a rise of ground 'way in the distance.

"Now," says my friend, "I know a short cut through these hills that'll bring us out at Johnson's. They've got enough punchers there to do the United States army up—starched and blued. Shall we take it?"

"Sure!" says I. "I'm only wandering round this part of the country because this part of the country is here—if it was anywheres else I'd be just as glad."

So in we went. It was the steepest and narrowest kind of a canyon, looking as if it had been cut out of the rock with one crack of the ax. I was just thinking, "Gee whiz, but this would be a poor place to get snagged in," when bang! says a rifle right in front of us, and m-e-arr! goes the bullet over our heads.

We were off them horses and behind a couple of chunks of rock sooner than we hoped for, and that's saying a good deal.

"Cussed poor shot, whoever he is," says my friend. "Some Injun holding us here till the rest come up, I presume."

"That's about the size of it—and I'd like to make you a bet that he does it, too, if I thought I'd have a chance to collect."

"Oh, you can't always tell—you might lose your money," says he, kind of thoughtful.

"I wouldn't mind that half as much as winning," says I. "But, on the square, do you think we can get out? I'll jump him with you if you say so, although I ain't got what you might call a passion for suicide."

"Now you hold on a bit," says he. "I don't know but what we'd have done better to stick to the horses and run for it, but it's too late to think of that. Jumping him is all foolishness; he'd sit behind his little rock and pump lead into us till we wouldn't float in brine—and we can't back out now."

He talked so calm he made me kind of mad. "Well," says I, "in that case let's play 'Simon says thumbs up' till the rest of the crowd comes."

"There you go!" says he. "Just like all young fellers—gettin' boostyle right away if you don't fall in with their plans. Now, sonny, you keep your temper and watch me play cashion

Chronic Coughs Cured

Mrs. Joseph Eccles of Dromore, says: "I took 4 or 5 bottles of Psychine, and a cough I had continually for nine months disappeared. It is the best remedy for chronic coughs that I ever used."

Thousands of living witnesses pronounce Psychine the greatest medicine in the world. It is not a patent medicine, but a prescription of a great physician. "Meaning how?"

"You see that block of stone just this side of him with the square face toward us? Well, he's only covered in front, and I'm a-going to shoot against that face and ketch him on the glance."

"Great if you could work it!" says I. "But Lord!"

"Well, watch," says he. Then he squinched down behind his cover, so as not to give the Injun an opening, trained his cannon and pulled the trigger. The old gun opened her mouth and roared like an earthquake, but I didn't see any dead Injun. Then twice more she spit fire, and still there weren't any desirable corpses to be had.

"Say, pardner," says I, "you wouldn't make many cigars at this game."

"Now, don't you get uneasy," says he. "Just watch."

"Biff!" says the old gun, and this time, sure enough, the Injun was knocked clear of the rock. I felt all along that he wouldn't be much of a comfort to his friends afterward if that gun did land on him.

Still, he wasn't so awful dead, for as we jumped for the horses he kind of hitched himself to the rock, and, laying the rifle across it and working the lever with his left hand, he sent a hole plumb through my hat.

"Bully boy!" says I. I snapped at him and smashed the lock of his rifle to flinders. Then of course he was our meat.

As we rode up to him my pard held dead on him. The Injun stood up straight and tall and looked us square in the eye. Say, he was a man, I tell you, redskin or no redskin! The courage just stuck out on him as he stood there waiting to pass in his checks.

My pardner threw the muzzle of his gun up. "D—n it!" says he. "I can't do it. He's game from the heart out. But the Lord have mercy on his sinful soul if he and I run foul of each other on the prairie again!"

Then we shacked along down to Johnson's and had breakfast.

"What became of Frosthead and his gang?" Oh, they sent out a regiment or two and gathered him in—'bout twenty-five soldiers to an Injun. No, no harm was done. Me and my pard were the only ones that backed up against them. Chuck out a cigarette, Kid; my lungs ache for want of a smoke.

CHAPTER II.

"HOW did I come to get myself disliked down at the Chanta Seechee? Well, I'll tell you," said Reddy, the cow puncher. "The play came up like this. First they made the Chanta Seechee into a stock company; then the stock company put all their brains in one think, and says they, 'We'll make this man Jones superintendent, and the ranch is all right at once.' So out comes Jones from Boston, Mass., and what he didn't know about running a ranch was common talk in the country, but what he knew about running a ranch was too much for one man to carry around. He wasn't a bad hearted feller in some ways, yet on the whole he felt it was an honor to a looking glass to have the pleasure of reflecting him. Looking glass? I should say he had! And a bureau and a bootblacking jigger and a feather bed and curtains and truck in his room. Strange fellers used to open their eyes when they saw that room. 'Hello-o-o!' they'd say. 'Whose little birdie have we here?' And other remarks that hurt our feelings considerable. Jonesy, he said the fellers were a rank lot of barbarians. He said it to old Neighbor Case's face, and he and the old man came together like a pair of hens, for Jonesy had sand in spite of his faults. That was a fight worth traveling to see. They covered at least an acre of ground; they tore the air with upper swats and cross swipes; they bellered, they jumped and they pitched, and when the difficulty was adjusted we found that Jonesy's coat was painfully ripped up the back and Neighbor Case had lost his false teeth. One crowd of fellers patted Jones on the back and said, 'Never mind your coat, old horse; you've licked a man twice your age,' and the other comforted Neighbor, saying, 'Never mind, Case, you can ease your mind by thinking how you handed up that rooster and he fifty pounds lighter than you.'

"Jonesy put on airs after that. He felt he was a hard citizen. And then he had the misfortune to speak harshly to Arizona Jenkins when Old Dry Belt was in liquor. Then he got roped and dragged through the slough. He cried like a baby while I helped him scrape the mud off, but not because he was scared! No, sir! That little runt was full of blood and murder.

"'You mark me now, Red,' says he, the tears making bad land water courses through the mud on his cheeks. 'I shall fire upon that man the first time I see him. Will you lend me your revolver?'

"'Lord, Jones, see here,' says I. 'Don't you go making any such billy-goat play as that. Keep his wages until he apologizes. Put something harmful in his grub; but, as you have respect for the Almighty's handiwork as represented by your person, don't pull a gun on Arizona Jenkins. That's the one thing he won't take from nobody.'

"'D-d-darn him!' snivels Jonesy. 'I ain't afraid o-o-of him.' and the strange fact is that he wasn't. Well, I saw he was in such a taking that he might do something foolish and get hurt, so I goes to Arizona, and says I, 'You ought to apologize to Jones.' What Zony replied ain't worth repeating. 'And you along with him,' he winds up.

"'Now, ain't that childish?' I says. 'A six footer like you that can shoot straight with either hand, and yet ain't got generosity enough to ease the feelings of a poor little devil that's fair busting with shame?'

'PHONE COMPANY ON KNEES.

Manitoba Makes the Bell System Glad to Sell Out.

The Manitoba Government recently took over the Bell telephone system within the province and will operate it under Government ownership. When the electors of the province decided in favor of Government ownership of telephones a year ago the Provincial Government at once called for tenders for the necessary poles for the construction of Government lines all over the province.

In the spring a start was made on the construction of local systems in Winnipeg and Brandon, but still the Bell company held on to its strong position despite the offer of Premier Roblin to purchase all its lins within the province. When winter came and the ground was too hard for further work, reports for the progress made by the Government telephone system were published in the various papers, and this aroused the Bell people to action.

The result was President Size asked for a conference with the local Government to discuss the sale of the system which he had so scornfully turned down in the spring. A conference was arranged, and at the outset President Size said the company was willing to sell at every wire and every instrument in Manitoba for $4,000,000. This offer was rejected, and eventually President Size suggested $3,300,000 as a suitable figure, and as the Government engineers had estimated the value of the system at $100,000 less than this amount the price was accepted. A meeting of the shareholders of the company was held in Montreal to ratify the deal made by the president, as there was not a dissenting voice in fact, to quote one despatch "the shareholders jumped at the offer and decided unanimously to sell to the Manitoba Government."

For the last twenty-eight years the Bell company has defied competition in Manitoba and its rates have become a burden to every business house and user of telephones within the province, and was looked upon as invincible until the people of the province voted strongly in favor of Government lines.

The purpose of the Manitoba system completely cuts off the Bell from its lines in Alberta and Saskatchewan, and is expected the local Government of those provinces will also purchase the Bell lines, as they are now carrying on an aggressive campaign. Government owned 'phones already have some 800 miles of pole line under operation.

Quaint Quebec Customs.

When we keep holiday in Quebec, says a writer, we do so in earnest. We have quite a number of them, too — many. I have heard working French-Canadians say. We may or may not keep what the other provinces call "national" holidays, but our days are of obligation. Upon such days the judge comes down from the bench. The court house, the city hall, the banks, the French newspaper offices, the French stores, all are tightly closed. A vast silence falls upon a cosmopolitan city. From out this silence comes the booming of the great church belle. The people pour out to mass, dressed in their best. After their prayers they will move about, and visit and engage in diversions of one sort or another. The street cars run. The great concerns which are controlled by English-speaking capitalists are going. The trains rush over the level crossings. But this is the curious thing—while you have, on the one hand, a remorseless modernity which cares little about religious compulsions; you have, on the other, the candid avowal that man does not live by bread alone; that there is a God in the world, of whom it behoves human creatures to take cognizance, and that is is of less consequence to lose a day's pay than to starve the spiritual nature, which is the only thing that can endure.

The city has, in spite of desire sophisticating effects, and one must go to the country to note the absolute sense of devotion. Upon the holy day, the farmer, however urgent be the call of the simple fields, becomes a devout creature who must dress in his best, go to church however distant, and abstain from labor for the rest of the day. He does not murmur, for a little contents him, and it is not a great matter if that idle field still remains idle. For, after all, why should one care about the strenuous life of which hints come from the great city now and then? There is enough to eat; there is a patch of tobacco; there are the church and the cure to remind us of death; there are the calm processes of nature which speak of God; there is the graveyard in the distance in which we shall all lie at the last; there is the vast dome of the sky whose calmness rebukes all hurried creatures. Enough, then; let us do our little bit of work, and eat our food, and smoke our pipe, and tell stories in the evening, and say our prayers, and ask the cure for guidance, and so pass our days in quietness, not caring to lay treasures up on earth.

Knock For Begbie.

Principal Peterson, of McGill, has lodged a dart in Harold Begbie, who complained that we have "no Milton minded men in Canada, no captains and fuglemen whose moral grandeur and fervor of imagination exalt the nation and throw a glamor about its destiny." Speaking at Winnipeg Principal Peterson remarked that it is too soon to expect much from Canada. It took England three hundred years after Shakespeare to produce a Harold Begbie, so Canada may fairly ask for more time.

SEIZED BY THE BRITISH.

German Warehouse Confiscated By Warship—Alleged Contraband.

It is stated that a warehouse belonging to the Hamburg firm of Wonckhaus, and situated on the island of Abumtas, in the Persian gulf, has been confiscated by the commander of the British warship Lapwing on the ground that it contained contraband goods. The Hamburg firm has called upon the German Foreign Office to take energetic steps for the recovery of damages.

The firm issues a lengthy statement, in which it brands as ridiculous the assertion that the confiscated building held contraband, and alleges that the action of the British commander had no other object than to checkmate a successful German commercial enterprise, his real object being to transfer the oxide business which the Hamburg firm was conducting to British hands and to rob the Hamburg-American line of a profitable freight traffic.

The statement further declares that the Lapwing brought an Arabian sheikh to the island of Abumtas, and that after the German firm's copies had been driven back to the Persian mainland the sheikh prohibited the Germans from further working the oxide mines, although they had a contract for that purpose. The sheikh then fired upon the German firm's representative.

Commenting upon the affair, the leading Hamburg journal says:

"The British procedure is an act of violence of the worst kind and an outrageous breach of the law, which constitutes the sharpest contrast to the assiduous assurances of friendship of the British press.

"We must insist that the German Foreign Office shall take strong measures."

Good Enough to Charge For.

When William H. Scott was managing clerk in the early sixties for the firm of Cleveland & Titus, a client came in and wanted an opinion right away. No member of the firm was in. Accordingly, Mr. Scott, with some hesitation, wrote the opinion. When his principal, Mr. Cleveland, came in, he explained the circumstances and showed him the opinion. Mr. Cleveland looked at him with a smile and then read it with care. "Humph," said he; "pretty poor opinion, but it will do to charge."—New York Times.

A Caustic Reply.

A gentleman once said to a barrister, "That was a very good sermon of your father's today." To which he replied: "Yes. He must have cribbed it from some one." But the father overheard this remark and reminded him that the Bible says, "The ox knoweth his owner and the ass his master's crib." This caustic reply silenced the barrister.—London Telegraph.

The Rapid Rise of Clive.

The evidences of Clive's genius, said Lord Curzon, were incontestable. In nine years he had risen from being a poor and unknown clerk to be one of the most famous captains of his own or any other age.

His Early Struggles.

"Tell me about your early struggles, grandpa."

"Oh, I never had no early struggles, Johnny. I allus took things jest as they come."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Hereditary.

Guardian—How does my niece get on with her music? Is she making any progress? Musicue—I regret to say that she is not. Her time and fingering are very defective, and all I can do to correct them makes no impression on her. She will run the scales to suit herself. Guardian—She inherited that from her father. He was twenty years in the coal business.

Napoleon and His Snuff.

In the late thirties and early forties of the last century a favorite spectacular play at Astley's in London was "The Battle of Waterloo," in which an actor named Gomersal gained renown as Napoleon Bonaparte. His imitation of the emperor was so lifelike that the great Duke of Wellington invited him to Apsley House, and the interview affords an amusing illustration of the actor's close conscientiousness in attention to the most minute detail. After complimenting his guest the duke remarked:

"I observe, Mr. Gomersal, that you do not use a snuffbox in the part, but make the emperor take his snuff loose from his waistcoat pocket. Permit me to enable you to supply the omission," and his grace presented the actor with a very handsome silver "tabatiere."

Gomersal pocketed the casket and stomached the criticism in silence, but when he reached home he wrote to the conqueror of Waterloo and respectfully pointed out that the omission was of set purpose and absolutely true to history, "Boney" being in the habit of dispensing with a snuffbox and taking the powder loose from his waistcoat pocket, which he had made lined with chamois leather for that purpose.

BRITISH CONSOLS.

Origin and History of This Feature of English Securities.

Almost all the debt of England consists of the funded debt, so called, and the greater part of this is made up of "consols," which is an abbreviation of "consolidated stocks," of which we read every day in the papers, and the price of consols is the financial pulse of England.

Consols were created in 1752 by statute 25 of George II., chapter 27. But no scrap of paper ever represented a consol until, to facilitate commerce, in 1870 a statute was passed allowing the government to issue certificates to represent them. The property that all the world asked the price of every day was unrepresented by any monetary securities until 1870, and even now very few certificates have been issued.

Now, this is a consol, and this is its history: Originally some one had loaned the government £100, and the government had caused his name to be enrolled on its books as a creditor, from whom it had received that amount and to whom some day it might, if it chose, repay it. It need never do so, but until it did it must pay him an annuity of £3—that is, he received 3 per cent on his money as long as the government chose to keep it, but the government could pay it back at any time it chose to do so. This creditor then owned a consol—that is, he owned such a debt from the government as just described.

If he wished to transfer what rights he had—that is, his 3 per cent per annum—and the right to his £100 when, if ever, the government chose to return it, he could go to the Bank of England with his transferee and receive the purchase price from him, and the stock would be transferred to the man paying the consideration, and that man's name would be placed on the government's book in the place of the former owner, and thereafter the transferee would receive the £3 a year and the £100, if it was ever paid back. But no paper passed except the receipt for the purchase money which was given by the buyer and which the bank official checked with a red mark.

These receipts were not certificates of ownership and were seldom preserved, never except for purposes of identification when the new owner went to draw his first dividend. After that they were destroyed. It is true in old times the owner of a consol was given a tally, which was nothing but a block of wood with notches on it split in two so that a portion of each notch should be on each half, and the government kept one half and the owner of the stock the other.

These showed the state of the account between the government and its creditor, but this was an antiquated system of keeping accounts, brought down from the days when writing was little known, and at last they were abolished by act of parliament and burned. There were so many of them that when they were thrown into the furnaces these became superheated, and the parliament houses burned down, which perhaps served the authorities right for keeping the antiquated system so long.

From Different Viewpoints.

Some years ago a party of American travelers, journeying leisurely up the Nile, expressed a desire to celebrate Washington's birthday in some appropriate manner. Their chef accordingly prepared a great frosted cake, upon which he executed in confectionery a representation of George Washington after having familiarized himself with the life and achievements of his subject. As represented in sugar, Washington wore a turban on his head and a great sash across his breast, he was smoking a long pipe and before him a chorus of dancing girls were performing. This was the way the greatness of George Washington looked to the Arab chef.

In China many amusing instances of a similar kind may be found. "Pilgrim's Progress" as recently translated and illustrated by native artists shows Christian with a long pigtail, the dungeon of Giant Despair as the familiar wooden cage of Chinese criminals, while the angels are arrayed in the latest productions of Peking dressmakers.

A Chinese publication once described Americans as "living for months without eating a mouthful of rice" and never enjoying themselves by "sitting quietly on their ancestors' graves; but, instead, jumping around and kicking a ball as if paid for it."

LACKS VISION OF FUTURE.

Canada Is Disappointing Says British Journalist.

There is no Milton-minded men in Canada, no captains and fuglemen whose moral grandeur and fervor of imagination exalt the nation and throw a glamor about its destiny, writes Harold Begbie in The Daily Chronicle. In a young country whose brow is bright with the dawn, and whose feet move with strength on the high mountains, we look for the statesmanship of a Moses, the prophecy of an Isaiah, and the rejoicing poetry of a Shakespeare. We expect inspiration. We demand glory.

But Canada disappoints. She speaks to us in no solemn and majestic tongue. She sings to us with no lyrical sweetness. In the dawn streaming with increasing brightness on her path, she sees no outline of the Throne of God, she hears no quiring of the young-eyed cherubim. She is conscious of the greatness of her future, but that greatness is all of the market-place and the wharf. She goes forward to take her inheritance, not with hymn and song, but with the grim masterfulness of a merchant entering his counting house.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is a good man and a dexterous politician. He is not a great man. He cannot trust himself to make the righteous and passionate appeal to the nation which would rid it forever of its corrupt and abominable politicians. He dismisses ministers whose iniquity is brought home to them; his own virtue is known to the people; his incorruptibility is accepted by Englishmen and Frenchmen; but he has nothing of that Gladstonian passion for honor and purity which can away multitudes and set a whole nation in the way of righteousness. His long, lean, ash-colored Egyptian face reminds one when it is animated by his rhetoric of Henry Irving, and when it is sphinx-like in repose of Benjamin Disraeli. Like these two men, he is a picturesque orator, an adroit politician. He uses events, he does not make them; he watches opportunely, he does not fashion destiny. Fortunate is it for Canada that among so many base and pliant politicians there should be this central pillar of honesty and self-respect; but happier would it be for her and for us, if the chief pilot of her fortunes had the lofty soul of a Milton and the spacious mind of Garibaldi. Politics are the curse of Canada, and the praise which history will bestow upon the French-Canadian Prime Minister is that he mitigated the curse. Genius alone can remove it.

OPEN UP NEW COUNTRY.

Contemplated Work of C. P. R. In the Northwest.

Mr Wm. Whyte, second vice-president of the C. P. R., who has recently been in Montreal in connection with the work of settling the company's appropriations for railway expenditure in Western Canada during the coming year, has now practically completed his work. The appropriations that have been settled upon do not provide for any new colonization lines of striking importance, but show that the company will confine its attention mainly to continuing the work it has already begun in thoroughly exploring the vast and fertile portions of the provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta that lie within a distance of from two to three hundred miles north of the company's main line.

The principal work decided upon for this year, Mr. Whyte announced, will be the completion of Pheasant Hills branch clear through from Sheho to Wetaskiwin, on the Calgary-Edmonton line, thus giving the company a far shorter route between Edmonton and Winnipeg than it has at present, besides opening up much new country. In order to complete this line a section of 83 miles will have to be built from Sheho to Lanigan. From Lanigan to Asquith, 24 miles west of Saskatoon, there is a section already completed. From Asquith the company will build a stretch of 200 miles west to Hardisty, at the crossing of the Battle River, and that will complete the line, for the rails are already laid from the Battle River to Wetaskiwin.

CULINARY CONCEITS.

Boned sardines or anchovies are added to the potato salad by some cooks. The German cook adds boned herring.

Most housewives fry pork sausages, but they are excellent and not so greasy when broiled. Prick the skin of each sausage once in the center before cooking.

A turkey of eight or ten pounds should be roasted twelve minutes to the pound. Squash and potatoes take from twenty to thirty minutes to cook and pies half an hour if the oven is very hot. For after dinner coffee allow three cupfuls of boiling water to one of ground coffee.

Ordinary fried eggs are delicious with browned butter. Put three tablespoonfuls of butter in a frying pan. Set the pan over a brisk fire. Let the butter turn a light brown color, then add two teaspoonfuls of good vinegar. Shake the pan slightly to mix the butter and vinegar well. Then pour it around and over the eggs. Serve immediately.

From Bristol a claim to estates worth half a million sterling is made in Romantic circumstances by Edward Swymmer Radford, an elderly ex-builder, of Bristol, as heir to the Swymmer family, well known in the city two centuries ago. Radford says that his mother was the daughter of John Swymmer, who belonged to families in Galway and Bristol, and the extinction of both lines leaves him sole heir. The Galway estate has been in Chancery for two centuries.

A committee appointed by the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings to report on the condition of Winchester Cathedral, states that the north wall, which has broken away from the transept, is leaning outwards, and still seems moving. The south wall of the south transept overhangs very much, and there, too, movements seem to continue. The aisle vaults show cracks, and there have been recent falls of stone at two joints.

Among the prisoners placed in the dock at Sunderland Police Court, recently, was a man named Callum, who was charged with housebreaking. While the officers on guard had their attention engaged by being questioned, the man slipped from the dock into the body oof the court by means of egress provided to permit of prisoners going to the witness box. Unnoticed by the officers, he then calmly walked out of the court.

The prompt delivery of the mails at Harwich, Essex County, a few nights ago, was due to the intelligence of a horse. The animal, which, was drawing the mail van, bolted when two miles fro mthe town and threw its driver. Nevertheless, it trotted into the town and stopped at the post office not a minute behind schedule time. An hour later the driver, covered with blood and mud, limped into the office.

Leonard Phillips was charged in London a few days ago, with the theft of the three miniatures belonging to Queen Alexandra, which were stolen recently from the studio of her engravers in London, and which were recovered during the night. Phillips, who is a young man was apprehended by the aid of a salonkeeper to whom he sold the pictures for $10. They were worth $,000.

Mr. William James Palmer of Dalston, Middlesex, who died last month, leaving £33,917, bequeathed to his housekeeper property worth about £10,000, together with his wearing apparel, portmanteau, umbrella, and satchel, "knowing that she will respect my wish that these latter articles shall not be sold."

IRELAND

Considerable damage has been caused at the base of the new north groyne in Wicklow Harbour by the heavy seas, which have recently prevailed. There was a strong north-east gale, and the seas tore away several wooden groynes displaced hundreds of tons of huge boulders, and then attacked the new coast defence works which have just been completed. Over thirty yards of the latter were carried away, and the huge waves washed up on the promenade and ran over the adjoining streets into the river. A large portion of the contractor's plant was displaced, and the tramway was torn up. Terrific seas broke over the new groyne, where two large steam cranes are held up, the rails having been washed away. At high water fears were entertained for the houses at Castle View Terrace, but, the wind having changed more to the north, the seas became less destructive as the tide receded.

An audacious robbery with violence was perpetrated on one night recently, at Carmoyle, County Armagh, Mr. Thomas Tynam, a farmer,, was sitting at the fire in his own house, having a smoke ,when suddenly a bag or covering of some sort was thrown over his head by two men, and he was forced to the floor, Whilst one of them sat on him, the other went through his pockets and annexed £7 odd. After a severe struggle Mr. Tynam freed himself and his assailants, who appeared to be tramp navvies, made off. The police are investigating the matter ,but no arrests have yet been made.

Lord Pirrie has been appointed Comptroller of the Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland's household, in succession to Viscount Powerscourt. He is one of last year's peers. He was born in Quebec in 1847, at the age of 15 entered the firm of Harland and Wolff ,and when only seven-and-twenty was made a partner of the great shipping firm of which he is now chairman and chief owner. Lord Pirrie was Lord Mayor of Belfast in 1896 and 1897, and in the latter year was made a Privy Councillor.

It is announced that early in the coming session of Parliament, says the Pall Mall Gazette, Mr. Birrell will introduce his Irish University Bill, to provide for the establishment of a national Roman Catholic University. He will ask for a Government grant of £30,000 annually, reckoning for yearly expenditure of £40 a student for 600 students.

SCOTLAND

The record of the doings of the divorce courts of the Court of Sessions, Edinburgh for 1907 shows that during the year 309 actions of divorce have been raised. In only threes of these was decree refused, while two cases were held over. There were 27 actions of separation and aliment, one of adherence and aliment, two of declarator of marriage, and two of declarator of nullity of marriage, making a grand total of 341. In the actions of divorce, decree was granted in 99 instances on the score of adultery, and the remainder for desertion. 123 wives were responsible for the raising of actions against their husbands as against a corresponding total of 99. Glasgow easily headed the list among Scottish towns with the large record of 57 divorces. Edinburgh followed with 33 while Dundee had 13, Leith 3, Aberdeen 4, Perth 3, and Greenock 1.

The Rev. Robert Anderson, senior minister of Anderson United Free Church Kilsyth, Stirlingshire died recently at Kilsyth. He was about eighty four years of age, and was in the sixty-first year of his ministry. In 1847 he accepted a call to become colleague and successor to his father in the Relief Church, Kilsyth. The combined ministry of the father, who was a minister for sixty-nine years, and son in one charge thus came to practically 130 years, a record that is believed to be unequalled. A brother of the deceased clergyman, Dr. William Anderson, of John Street Church, Glasgow, celebrated his golden jubilee, while another brother, the Rev. David Anderson, Ceres, who survives, is in the sixty-eighth year of his ministry.

A particularly mean case of theft took place recently in Hamilton, Lanbugler in the Highland Light Infantry armoire. William Jackson, a young bugler in the Highland Light Infantry Militia, pleaded guilty at Hamilton Burgh Court to the charge of stealing from the house of his sweetheart a wooden tobacco pipe and a purse containing over £2 in money. The accused had been left alone in the house for a short period. Police inquiries afterwards resulted in the stolen money being found in Jackson's socks. The magistrate sent accused to prison for one month.

The Lord Provost of Glasgow, presiding at the annual meeting of the Glasgow Savings Bank the other day, called attention to the money spent in Glasgow on theatres. He said that this expenditure last year was £250,000 of which £178,000 was spent on admission to music halls. He asked for a strong expression of public opinion against what he described as a growing evil, and in favour of provision of more pennies to meet the times of dull trade sickness and old age.

THE VILLAGE COUNCIL MEETING WAS HELD

Omemee Salvationist Has Stormy Trip—Ladies' Walking Club

Examiner Special

The new village council sat last night for the first meeting, presided over by the new mayor, George Griffin.

Mr. Wm. H. Kennedy was again appointed assessor.

Several new and important projects are in view, including fire protection, cleaning of streets, grants to the village band, etc., which are receiving careful consideration.

Miss Thaine, dress and mantle maker, returns to-day for a well-earned holiday to her home in Campbellford, after doing a very successful business.

There have been many large shipments of live stock from here to-day from Isaac Richardson.

There is about four feet of snow on the level. It is expected to see tremendous floods this spring and no trouble will be experienced in sailing around the Trent Valley waters without a propeller of "alligator," which will serve the purpose later on. Preparations are already being made for the summer resort hotels.

Are You Strong?

Do You Eat and Sleep Well? —Or Are You Pale, Weak and Miserable?

Has your nerve given out? Have you lost confidence in yourself? Has work become such an awful burden that you look upon it with horror?

There's just one thing left to do, and that is to take Ferrozone and get your system into good shape again.

It's quite impossible for anyone to be weak or nervous that uses Ferrozone. It contains so many strength-giving properties benefit is bound to result from its use.

Ferrozone possesses the power to kindle new vitality and vigor where almost a dying condition of weakness exists.

It is an extraordinary and magical tonic, containing more actual nourishment and strengthening elements than you can get at in any other way. As a blood purifier, nerve strengthener and appetizing tonic there is simply no equal to Ferrozone. Of this we are positively sure.

It is crowned with the success of splendid cures; will restore anyone to health who uses it. The following letters from people who have actually experienced what Ferrozone can do will clearly show you just how beneficially it acts:—

No Medicine Ever Did So Much Lasting Good as Ferrozone.

"It would be difficult to express my thanks for the benefit I have received from Ferrozone," writes Miss Eva Wright, of Fleeceville. "I was so weak and miserable that I could scarcely go around the house. My head ached, there was a dragging weakness in my limbs, and I felt as if every spark of life had left me. Ferrozone improved my appetite, toned up my blood, and soon made me well. Nothing I ever used did me half the good I got from Ferrozone."

The Great Tonic, Ferrozone, Brought Back Life.

"I am anxious to speak a good word for such a magnificent tonic as Ferrozone," says E. P. Gerow, of Yorktown. "I was wrongfully worn out. I was apprehensive, and lacked confidence. It was simply due to my very weak state. The only remedy that really did me lasting good was Ferrozone. It rebuilt my strength, has made me as vigorous and happy as a man could be. In the whole range of medicines I never used anything with half the merit I found in Ferrozone."

Though you spend a thousand dollars on doctors, you can't get a more vitalizing, strengthening tonic than Ferrozone. It is the best that money, combined with scientific research, can produce. If anything in this world will make you strong it must be Ferrozone. Others have proved its worth. You can easily do so for yourself. It will send new vital energy and renewed youth singing through your veins. It's nature's own remedy—a true food tonic.

COLD SETTLED ON THE LUNGS

Mrs. Irwin Bennett, Parrsboro, N. S., writes: "I feel it my duty to write a few words in praise of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I took a bad cold which settled on my lungs, and made it almost impossible to breathe at times. I coughed constantly and could not sleep at nights. A friend told me how Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup had helped her, so I procured some, and before I had taken one bottle my cough was gone and I could lie down and sleep at night."

A BLESSING TO MANY PEOPLE

May Mean Much Less Sickness Here When This Prescription is Known

IS A HOME MADE REMEDY

This is a message that will bring happiness again into many families and sunshine into the lives of hundreds of disheartened and discouraged men and women here. It requires just a little inconvenience, for it can't be bought already prepared. It is a simple home recipe now being made known in all the larger cities through the newspapers. It is intended to check the many cases of rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble which have made so many cripples and invalids and weaklings of some of our brightest and strongest people.

The druggists here have been notified to supply themselves with the ingredients and the sufferer will have no trouble to obtain them. The prescription is as follows: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one half ounce; Compoung Kargon, one ounce and Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle. The dose is one tablespoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

Recent experiments, even in severe hospital cases prove this simple mixture the remedy for Rheumatism, because of its positive action upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys. It compels these most vital organs to filter from the blood and system the waste impurities and uric acid which are the causes of rheumatism. It cleanses the system, strengthens them and removes quickly such symptoms, as backache, blood disorders bladder weakness, frequent urination, painful, scalding and discoloured urine. It acts as a powerful stimulant to the entire kidney and bladder structure, puts new life into them and invigorates the entire tract. It makes the kidneys clean the blood. The Dandelion will take care of liver trouble and constipation, and is fine for the stomach.

All the ingredients, states a well-know local druggist, are of a vegetable extraction, making it a safe and harmless prescription at any time.

Those who suffer and are accustomed to purchase a bottle of patent medicine should not let a little inconvenience interfere with making up this prescription. Wherever this becomes generally known, states a large eastern publication, it ruins the sale of the patent medicines and so called rheumatism and kidney cures, which is its best endorsement of virtue. 10 ber is cut off, and the sun allowed to set upon the moss, it dies and the moisture, which has been held and protected by the moss, disappears.

RESOURCES OF CANADA'S FERTILE NORTHLAND

At Fort Chipewyan the Roman Catholic mission has a farm which was originally muskeg, right among the Laurentian rocks which was treated in this way, and is first class soil. They grow wheat there which obtained a medal at the Centennial exposition.

After returning from his first trip in 1902, Mr. Stewart wrote his annual report to the department, and he read a few sentences therein written, as he had prepared his report when the matter was fresh in his memory.

"The principal tree between the Rocky mountains and the plains is the spruce, mostly the white spruce, an from its position near the prairie there is no doubt that it will be more sought after to meet the increasing demands from that quarter."

"The country along the upper waters north of the Saskatchewan and the Athabasca and Peace river is partly prairie and partly wood. The varieties of timber are principally aspen and balsam poplar, the former predominating, and white spruce. The poplars as we go north seem to increase in size and height, and as we approach Lesser Slave lake and between this lake and the crossing of the Peace river. Below the junction of the Smoky they grow very clean and straight trees, not over a foot or fourteen inches, but reaching a height of 17 or 18 feet, making excellent building timber, as well as fencing and fuel.

All Kinds of Timber

"I never saw as fine poplar as I saw there. A considerable number of poplars were over a foot, but a foot would be a fair average. I have seen poplar on all parts of the prairie country, but never saw any growing up as straight.

Mr. Stewart explained that spruce for commercial purposes grows to the Arctic sea. He was astonished to find that the limit of tree growth extended as far north as it does. He thought it extended probably ten degrees further north in this district than in Labrador. The different kinds of trees that we have in the Mackenzie basin include white spruce, black spruce, the larch or tamarack, which is found as far north as the spruce, the jack pine and the balsam. Mr. Stewart did not see any balsam in the Arctic circle; aspen, white poplar, balm of Gilead and birch are all found down as far as Fort Macpherson. The natives make their canoes out of birch bark at Fort Macpherson. The size of the timber becomes less as you get towards the north. There is timber growing near the superstructure is now being put the junctions of the Peace and Slave rivers, probably 14 inches in diameter. Below Fort Good Hope the timber is smaller. Some of it has been made into flooring, and lumber is made from the timber there. There is a large supply of spruce suitable for pulp.

North of the Saskatchewan

Quite a considerable amount of attention in the report is devoted to the country north of the Saskatchewan watershed, and several witnesses gave important information regarding its possibilities. Ven. Archdeacon McKay who probably knows the country better than any other white man, and who has his headquarters near Lac la Rouge, 150 miles north of Prince Albert, has grown wheat successfully for seven years at that point.

One hundred miles still farther north, at Fort Stanley, on the Churchhill river, they are raising grain and vegetables. In the Board of Trade at Prince Albert there is a very fine sheaf of wheat which came from this point. As pointed out by R. S. Cook, mayor of Prince Albert, the secret lies in the gradual slope of the country, the lower altitude of the country further north neutralising the natural tendency towards severer climate in such a marked manner that there is little or no difference in climate between Stanley Mission, with its tributary country, and Prince Albert.

The country around Stanley will be an excellent country for agriculture. Seventy-five per cent. of the soil is good, capable of being cleared up and subjected to farming operations; and the area is at least 250 miles square.

All through this portion of the country there is timber, wherever it has not been destroyed by fires. In some places it has been killed by fires for the time being particularly in the rocky country. The fires seem to be more destructive in that class of country than in the other part. Archdeacon McKay explained that he put up a sawmill at Lac la Rouge last year, and it is run by water power. The logs sawn there are the kind of timber found in that part of the country. They average seventeen logs to the thousand feet. They would be logs fourteen or fifteen feet long. The diameter would be about two feet across at the butt—good, large logs, clean timber, very much the same timber as at Prince Albert. This good timber is scattered all over the country, sometimes for miles.

Snowfall is Moderate

The snowfall here is not heavy, little more so than in the Prince Albert section. As a rule, frost comes in September, and wheat is generally sown on May 5, potatoes being planted from May 20 on. In summer the weather is quite as hot as Prince Albert, and the days are longer.

There are also statements as to the mineral possibilities of the northern portion of these vast tracts by many witnesses. The evidence of A. Von Hammerstein as to the beds of tar sands which extend for many miles along the Athabasca river about 150 miles north of Edmonton, is particularly interesting. These sands are impregnated with oil gum, something the nature of tar. He considers there is in this locality evidence of enormous wealth in petroleum. He also refers to the extensive and valuable deposits of salt in the same locality, and he speaks of the wonderful natural gas well at Pelican Rapids, on the Athabasca. This well has been burning continuously for 11 or 12 years, and is considered the largest gas well in the world. Almost anywhere in that district natural gas is found, says Mr. Von Hammerstein, and in his boring camps the natural flow of gas is used for lighting purposes.

An interesting field of speculation as to the possibilities of mineral exploration in Canada is opened up by considering a few facts on some of the more recent mineral development which has taken place. The gold output of the Klondike may be placed at over $118,000,000 to date; the output in gold, silver and copper from the Le Roi and adjoining mines at the Rossland camp, $37,000,000; the wonderful coal deposits at Fernie, estimated to last at the present rate of consumption upwards of 6,000 years; and finally the Cobalt silver district, including the greatest silver mines in the world; all these are discoveries of the past twenty years.

Unprospected Country

Now, a line drawn across the map of Northwest Canada, from the mouth of the Saskatchewan northwest to the Athabasca river near Fort McMurray, and thence northwest again to the Yukon, divides the country into two portions, about one-third lying south of the line. The two-thirds lying north are practically unprospected. In this vast country are immense mineral probabilities. Here and there a Government surveyor or explorer has found indications of wealth in gold, silver, copper, oil, sulphur and salt, and everywhere coal is found.

From Cumberland House, northeastward towards the Nelson river, is a district underlain by the Kewatin and Hyronian rocks. These are the same rocks which are now being found to be so rich in northern Ontario. There has been no exploration or prospecting of these, and their very existence is but barely known. No one can say as to whether they are to be a barren portion of rocks found rich in minerals everywhere else, or whether they will in future be the scene of perhaps even greater discoveries than have been made at Cobalt. Northwest again of this, and about 500 miles north of Prince Albert, there is an area of sandstone with large possibilities of copper, being the same formation which is found to be so rich in that mineral around Lake Superior. At Dubawnt Lake copper-bearing rocks are found, undoubtedly the same belt which extends across the Coppermine river, where the natives make implements from the copper found.

Everywhere on the rivers, and nearly always in close proximity to the mineral indications, waterpowers of all capacities are found, and these will doubtless become a strong factor in the development of the mining of the future in this country.

Possibilities of Fisheries

Not alone in minerals and forestry were the industrial possibilities outlined, but the fisheries also formed an absorbing subject of interest. At a time when Lake Winnipeg and Lake Superior are practically fished out and Lakes Manitoba and Winnipegosis show signs of being depleted as fast as the government can supply spawn to replenish them, it will come as a surprise to most people to learn that the fish taken from these lakes is not a particle when compared to the possibilities of exploitation contained in the vast net work of lakes to the north. Whitefish, jackfish, sturgeon, gold trout swim in all the lakes and rivers, and in the Mackenzie and Slave rivers the incessus is abundant. In none of these waters has there been any commercial fishing, except in those lakes convenient to the Saskatchewan, and only two companies are operating there.

A report on the climate of these districts accompanies the other evidence and is compiled [illegible]

VALUABLE MIXTURE FOR COLDS

Inexpensive, and can be Mixed at Home.

Now that the season is coming on when people suffer most from troublesome coughs it is well to have a remedy in the house. The following simple mixture, known years ago as the Tolene cure, can be made at small expense:—

Fluid extract Licorice.....	½ oz.
Fluid extract Cascara.....	½ oz.
Elixir Tolene	1 oz.
Best rye whiskey.....	6 oz.

Take a dessertspoonful every two or three hours. Children in proportion.

This mixture is said to break up a cold and cure any cough that is curable in a few hours. The ingredients can be bought separately and mixed at home.

MEAL TIME MISERIES

Indigestion Can be Cured by the Tonic Treatment of Dr. Williams Pink Pills

There is only one way to cure indigestion and that is to give your system so much good, red blood that the stomach will have strength enough to do its natural work in a healthy, vigorous way. Many dyspeptics dose the stomach with tablets, syrups and other things alleged to assist in digesting food, but these things merely give temporary relief—they never cure indigestion—and the trouble grows worse and worse, until the poor dyspeptic is gradually starving. In case of indigestion a half dozen boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are worth all the mixtures and so-called pre-digested foods in the country. These pills cure indigestion because they strengthen and tone the stomach, thus enabling it to do the work nature intends it should do.

Mr. Paul Charbonneau, St. Jerome, Que., says:—"For months I suffered tortures from indigestion. After every meal the misery was intense, so that I finally ate most sparingly. I tried several so-called indigestion cures, but they did me no good. My general health began to run down. I suffered from headaches and dizziness and pains about the heart. Often after the lightest meal I would be afflicted with a smothering sensation. Finally my mother induced me to try Dr. Williams Pink Pills. Under the use of this medicine the trouble began to disappear, and in less than a couple of months I had completely recovered my health and can now enjoy a hearty meal as well as any one."

It is because they make new, rich blood that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills always cure indigestion, dizziness, rheumatism, heart palpitation, neuralgia, sciatica, St. Vitus' dance and the headaches, backaches and other undesirable ills of girlhood and womanhood. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville Ont.

CLEARLY WOMEN

Erroneously Thinks by Scouring Her Scalp That She Cures Dandruff

Cleanly woman has an erroneous idea that by scouring the scalp, which removes the dandruff scales, she is curing the dandruff. She may wash her scalp every day and yet have dandruff her life long, accompanied by falling hair, too. The only way in the world to cure dandruff is to kill the dandruff germ, and there is no hair preparation that will do that but Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide, by killing the dandruff germ, leaves the hair free to grow as healthy nature intended. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide. DO WE VALUE OUR POETS?

"Katherine Hale" Pleads For Canadian Literature.

Miss Amelia B. Warnock (Katherine Hale) recently lectured on "Canadian Literature" in the Greek Theatre, Toronto. With excellent literary expression and discrimination Miss Warnock made an eloquent plea for the upbuilding of national art in the fabric of our growing nationhood, and showed an intimate first-hand knowledge with her subjects. The lecture is Miss Warnock's contributions in a campaign for a more intimate knowledge of and appreciation for the work of the growing school of Canadian literateurs. In the interests of Canadian literature and art it is to be hoped that Miss Warnock will be given many opportunities of repeating her lecture before Canadian audiences.

The lecturer deplored that so few Canadian women are acquainted with the literature Canada has thus far produced, especially among those who have made the instruction of the young their life work. Commencing with the works of the early French-Canadian writers, she traced the development to the present day, and referred among others to the works of Robert Christie of Nova Scotia, Mayor John Richardson, Wm. Courtenay, Alexander McLachlan, John Reid, and Chas. Mair among the early school of Canadian writers, and among the recent writers Isabella Crawford of Peterboro, whose poems were published posthumously two years ago; Dr. Drummond, Ethelwyn Wetherall, Archibald Lampman, Chas. G. D. Roberts, Bliss Carman, "the pagan among our poets," and William Wilfrid Campbell. Among the women poets mentioned were Pauline Johnson, Jean Blewett, Mrs. Sheard, Marjorie Pickthall, Helen Merrill, Isabel Eccleston McKay, and Miss Coleman, and among the novelists Ralph Connor, Gilbert Parker, Harvey J. O'Higgins, Agnes Laut, Norman Duncan and W. A. Fraser.

Of Sir Gilbert, Miss Warnock said that "In the Seats of the Mighty" the author showed all the craft and efficacy of the artist, but that since then he had "traveled extensively, entered Parliament and been made a Knight, all of which seems to have had a bad effect upon his work. His books have been getting worse and worse, and to-day he is no longer an artist."

Some passages from Harvey J. O'Higgins' "Dark Days" were likened to the charm of Barrie and Stevenson. Among the illustrative readings given by the lecturer were Roberts' "The Wrestler," Carman's "Who is the Owner?" and Jean Blewett's "Chore Time."

Ranchman Forced to Retire.

American farmers by thousands have flocked across the "line," says a writer from Calgary, driving the ranchers before them, until the large ranch is now practically extinct in Western Canada, but a few small ranchers still are located on the foothills of the Rockies, where the farming invasion has not yet reached. Last year the Canadian cattle exported put $12,000,000 into the pockets of the cowmen, but the cowmen have to get out of the way of the wheat elevators and the binders.

A cowboy rides away on the "round-up" and returns ten weeks later to find a brand new town with popcorn roasters on the streets and His Majesty's postoffice where he had left the bare range. It is swift work. Then along comes the railway and the "town" gets on the map and there is a new "city of the plains," with a population of several hundred. As soon as spring opens up the American farmers will rush northward to secure land, for the harvest of 1907 proved that Canada can raise No. 1 wheat when all other wheat raising territories have failed.

Already a few Americans have commenced the trek of 1908 and emigration authorities claim that during the present year the number of Americans settling in Western Canada will eclipse all previous records. The building of the Grand Trunk Pacific and the branches of the Canadian Northern, Canadian Pacific, and Great Northern railroads will open up vast tracks of country hitherto unavailable for settlement owing to their great distance from railroad facilities, and there is room for millions when it is taken into consideration that less than one quarter of the available land in Western Canada has been taken up and less than one-tenth put under cultivation.

The foreign element in Western Canada is being gradually replaced by Britishers and Americans, but here and there may be found a settlement of Doukhobors, Galicians, Icelanders, Swedes, Poles, or some other of the Slav races.

Canadian-Bred Minister.

Dr. McNamara was given a royal reception at the Duke of York's Military School when he detailed the story of his life to the 600 boys there the other day. Dr. McNamara, in an address that was brilliant, inspiring, epigrammatic and full of aphorisms, outlined his early life in Montreal, where he was born, a soldier's son, and indicated the ruggedness of the path from the barrack room to the treasury bench. Subsequent speakers included other members of the Government, who expressed their appreciation of the grit and talent of the Canadian-born statesman, who was one of the crown's most popular

FOR BENEFIT OF THE CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY

Peterborough Ladies Attend Charity Concert in Toronto.

The "at-home" given last evening at the Temple building in aid of the Children's Aid Society was a grand success. The rooms were in splendid trim for dancing, and the kind exertions of Mrs. O. B. "RED SAUNDERS" BEGINS IN TO-DAY'S ISSUE

The Examiner has received another interesting story for its readers, the opening chapters of which are published in to-day's issue. It is entitled "RED SAUNDERS," and is from the pen of that well-known emotional writer, H. Wallace Phillips. The story is one replete with heart interest, and once the opening chapter is read, commands the attention of the readers to the conclusion. Those who began "RED SAUNDERS" will find it a tale above the average. H. Wallace Phillips is a prominent character sketcher who has studied human nature with a keen eye and who has the rare talent of expressing his thoughts in words to the best advantage. The succeeding chapters of the story will appear from time to time, and none should be missed.

AN EXCEPTIONALLY GOOD SHOWING MADE

Says Toronto News, of the Home Life Association Statement.

The Home Life Association, whose annual statement appeared in these columns in full yesterday, says the Toronto News, presented, despite the financial stringency, an exceptionally good showing. All the interest on loans was met with gratifying promptitude. The assets, which are in the band of shape, now amount to $869,772.

METHODS BY WHICH A BUSINESS OF $1,000 PER WEEK WAS BUILT UP IN PETERBOROUGH ON A CAPITAL OF ONLY $2.50

Fourteen Years Ago Mr. R. C. Braund Began Business Here—First Week's Sales Were Only $3.15.

THE SELECTION OF CLERKS

The visible assets of Mr. R. C. Braund, when he arrived in Peterborough fifteen years ago, were represented by the munificent sum of two dollars and fifty cents. There were, however, in his possession invisible assets, else he would not now be the owner of a business averaging $1,000 a week, growing steadily all the time, and city property worth possibly $25,000. These invisible assets consisted of a stout heart, a sterling integrity and a determination to succeed.

That he was not in possession of a greater amount of this world's goods when he landed in Peterborough was not due to any spendthrift qualities, nor to lack of industry. He had been an officer in the Salvation Army, and, as those who are familiar with the work and life of those so engaged know, the emoluments incidental to it are not conducive to a heavy bank account.

His invisible assets, in the shape of mental resources, however, have stood him in good stead, and by their aid he has built up a business totalling $50,000 a year, from a small beginning in one room in a corner of his residence.

His success stands unrivalled in a city in which the majority of the business houses have been developed from small beginnings. The story of his advancement reads like a romance and is not without its interest for those who, like him, are working to build up successful and prosperous businesses.

Mr. Braund, himself, attributes his success to his buying. He believes that this is altogether the most important end of the business. His schemes, however, for attracting the fickle goddess of success are many and varied. He does not believe in following set rules and regulations, while admitting that there are fundamental business rules which no business man can afford to ignore.

As has been stated, he arrived in Peterborough with the last half of a five-spot in his trousers' pocket. After he had been there a couple of days he was ready to return to Toronto, and would have done so had his financial condition made it possible. But by this time his little hoard had dwindled to such an extent that he hadn't enough left to buy his ticket. He decided to make the best of the situation and remain—a decision which did not reflect any particular wisdom, since he could not get away.

A Sensible Course

His first "job," and one which he held for six months, was that of night operator in the office of the Bell Telephone Company, and he received 85 cents a night.

Such an income was productive of little or no financial gain, so he resigned his eleven-hours-a-day job to become the helper in a grocery store. Another half year was spent in this position, and he saved a little money, when he adopted a sensible course and married. Setting up housekeeping, however, was a serious drain on his financial resources. His wedding, though, marked the beginning of a new era in his career. He secured a small house on the corner where his store now stands, and in a room opening on the street placed a small stock of groceries to begin with, getting the goods from his employer up town. It is a somewhat significant fact that Mr. Braund's business now exceeds considerably that of the store from which he secured the goods to get his start. He still continued to work up town, while his wife attended to the tiny store, so that his wages, together with the profits from the sale of his own goods, produced the capital with which he was able to add to his stock.

At the end of the next year he found that his business had grown to such an extent it became necessary for him to give his own time to it, and in order to do this he resigned his position and enlarged his store by taking in another room, and it was at this time that he added dry goods to his stock, and this department has been gradually assuming larger proportions, until at the present time it is the most important end of his business, although he handles general lines.

A rule which he has adhered to rigidly throughout his business life has been to buy only such goods as he knew he could pay for within the time specified in which to secure the cash discount, which he has always taken advantage of, regardless of its amount, or the period. In this alone he has saved hundreds of dollars, which a less careful man would have lost.

His first store was an apartment about 20 by 12 feet in a corner of his dwelling, and his first week's business amounted to three dollars and fifteen cents. In six months he was doing a business of $100 a week, and

HARNESS, HAY AND DRY MAPLE DISAPPEARING FROM WARSAW SHOPS AND DUMMER FARMS

An Epidemic of Petty Thieving—Bridle Goes In Broad Daylight—Ton of Hay Stolen.

SHERLOCK HOLMES WANTED

Examiner Special.

Warsaw, Feb. 15.—Opportunity may make the thief but Mr. Wm. Jackson, the saddler, maintains that the thief made the opportunity on Tuesday afternoon and incidentally made away with a four dollar bridle that hung with its mate at the front of the shop. At any rate the bridle was stolen in broad daylight on the main street and though the guilty party was seen in the act Mr. Jackson has not yet apprehended him.

This is not the only case of petty stealing that has been heard of recently. Another case is that of a farmer residing within a mile of the village, losing during last week from an old barn, what was estimated as a ton of hay besides a large quantity of corn stalks.

There was a time several years ago when a wood pile was quite safe if it was within sight of a residence, but just now it appears that the only way for the proud owner of a cord of dry wood to do is to pile it in the kitchen and guard it at night with a shot gun.

A Mitt not Maple

It was only last week that a villager on going to his woodshed on Thursday morning for wood found an piece of a pile of dry maple a red and blue homemade mitt. From tracks made in the snow it was evident that a hand sleigh had been used by this marauder who was covering in covering his tracks after he left the sidewalks. The mitt from its peculiar pattern looks familiar to the party who lost the wood so he is going to take the part of Sherlock Holmes and unravel the mystery.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE HERE, IN JANUARY

The Dry Goods Review, referring to the conditions in Peterborough in January says: The usual calm, after the abundance of sales of the Christmas season, prevails in the dry goods section. Local merchants report, however, that the volume of sales during January is fully up to the average for that month, and in the goods specially advertised, business has been particularly good. Peterborough merchants are heavy advertisers, and the good results following the generous use of printers' ink are apparent.

SPLENDID CONCERT BY YOUNG MEN

Newly Formed Young Men's Literary Society Doing Good Work.

The Young Men's Literary Society of St. Peter's T. A. S. held their regular meeting last night with an attendance of about fifty members, showing that the boys are taking an interest in the work. The feature of the evening was a debate on the subject "Resolved that the country affords a man better opportunities than the city." Messrs. Jas. McNichol and Frank Hickey upheld the affirmative and Messrs. Herb Conroy and Leonard Henry the negative. Rev. Father Kelly acted as judge and critic and decided in favour of the negative.

Rev. Dr. O'Brien kindly accepted the duties of chairman, and besides lending material assistance by pointing out the fine points of debate also spoke generally upon the current events of the day.

The following musical programme was rendered:

Opening chorus—The Glee Club.
Vocal solo—Mr. Harry Quinlan.
Instrumental duet — Messrs. M. O'Brien and R. Robertson.
Comic song—J. O'Brien.
Piano solo—Harry Theobald.

The Glee Club is just newly formed but it was one of the best numbers on the programme. The next meeting will be held on Friday evening Feb. 28th.

EXPLANATION OF THE STRANGE PHENOMENON

In a recent issue of the Examiner appeared an article referring to a somewhat strange phenomenon observed by a resident of Keene at the Keene station. The reference reached the Scientific American, New York, and here is its explanation:

"Your clipping does not suggest anything new or strange. It was known 25 or 30 years ago that a telegraph sounder would act as a receiver for speech, just as the telephone does. The voices heard may be on the telephone circuit and act upon the telegraph lines running near the telephone lines. In this way the current could be transferred across to the telegraph line and so reach the sounder."

THE CHEESE BOARD

Annual Meeting Held To-day—Mr. J. Riddell Re-elected President—Letter of Condolence to Mrs. Wrighton.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

The thirty-first annual meeting of the Peterborough Cheese Board was held this afternoon in the Bank of Montreal, President John Riddell presiding. In opening the meeting the president addressed the members on the importance of the cheese industry, and also referred to the death of Mr. Wrighton, a former member. In this regard, the Board decided to send a letter of condolence to the wife of their esteemed friend.

The balance on hand as shown by the treasurer's report was $24.06.

The election of officers resulted as follows:—

Pres.—John Riddell.
1st Vice-Pres.—John Coughlin.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Wm. Switzer.
Sec.-Treas.—Edward Hawthorne.
Auditors—W. A. Anderson and W. J. Bullock.
Arbitrator—Geo. A. Gillespie.

The inspector was appointed substitute to Mr. Gillespie, to act in the event of any dispute arising between the arbitrator and any of the factories.

In connection with the election of officers, the board decided to have them elected on the occasion of the annual meeting of the board, and it was moved that if there is any outstanding motion on the books contrary to this that it be rescinded. This was carried.

Those present at the meeting were Messrs. John Riddell, E. Hawthorne, Wm. Switzer, Ald. Geo. A. Gillespie, A. Fairbairn, John Miller, G. W. Mann, Geo. Johnston and William Hannah.

THE CARNEGIE LIBRARY

Conditions Which The City Will Have to Carry Out If Mr. Carnegie's Money Is Accepted.

PAY 10 PER CENT. YEARLY

In connection with the Carnegie public library scheme, there have been many inquries from interested citizens as to the conditions which must be fulfilled in the event of Mr. Carnegie's grant being accepted.

These conditions are brief and quite simple. The city in the first place must provide a site for the building and must then expend annually, ten per cent. of the amount provided by Mr. Carnegie for the maintenance of the library. For instance, if the city accepts $30,000 from Mr. Carnegie it must spend $3,000 each year to keep up the library.

There are no other requirements. No condition is imposed that the building must be called a "Carnegie" library. There are several places in Ontario, notably St. Catharines, in which libraries built with Mr. Carnegie's assistance exist, and which are not called Carnegie libraries, although a brass tablet inside shows that the buildings were endowed by Mr. Carnegie.

LIBRARY QUESTION AGAIN

Subject Should Have Careful Consideration, Says Mr. Moore, Before Debt is Incurred.

THE OFFER IS EXPLAINED

To the Editor of the Examiner:

The city should, of course, have a good library, and a good and convenient building in which to house it, but it is not nearly so clear, that the Carnegie proposal is the one which the City should adopt to secure this end. The subject must, indeed, have careful consideration, before the interminable debt, included in the offer, is incurred.

Suggestions are being made that the city should ask Mr. Carnegie for $30,000, and agree with him to raise by taxation yearly for ever, for upkeep of the library, ten per cent upon this sum. These are his terms, and they will, if acceded to, create a perpetual annuity charge of $3,000, which based on the value of money at four and one-half per cent. will represent a capital of over $66,000, and at four percent. of $75,000; and if the public offering for our debentures, will be considered to, and will in fact form a liability, to the extent of one or other of these amounts, depending on which rate is used. I think it would be better to borrow the $30,000, on thirty or forty years debentures, and provide that the city shall make a suitable yearly grant, for maintenance, which with the other well known sources of income, will place the library board in a prosperous condition. But it is eminently a case for calm thought, before involving ourselves with Mr. Carnegie's benevolence, carrying with it a never ending incumbrance. Most people like to know their debts are paid some time.

It will be understood I am not contending for a $30,00 dgrant, any more, no less, but am using this figure for illustration only.

Your Obedient Servant,
W. H. MOORE.

FARMERS CONSIDER THAT MARKET SHOULD BE ROOFED OVER THE WALK

As this morning's drizzle trickled off the farmers' hats and dropped down their necks while they stood on the market waiting for purchasers of their produce, a conversation was begun regarding the absence of protection from the weather. The opinion was expressed that the board walk, on either side of which the farmers exhibit their goods, should be covered. One of the men said that in every city where the market is extensively attended, there is a covering provided in order that the farmers can display their produce.

It is not within the limit of human endurance to stand on an open market during a three hours' rain. The general opinion is that if the city officials would give more attention to the market it would be more successful and a more extensive farmers' trade would be the result. At present the water leaks through the roof at the top of the stairs, and even in the main hall a large water spot was evident this morning. These are items of moment that should receive attention, and there are other conveniences that would make the Peterborough market ideal and would encourage the farmers to bring in their produce.

MANY ARE INTERESTED IN TUESDAY'S POULTRY MEETING

The following card has been sent to all those known to be interested in the organization of a Poultry Association:

Your attendance is requested at a meeting to be held on Tuesday, Feb. 18th, at eight o'clock p.m., in the City Council Chambers, when the proposal to organize a Poultry Association in Peterborough, will be discussed by the poultry men of the city. You are urged to come yourself, and to bring any of your friends interested in the proposed scheme, to assist in the carrying out of the project.

It has been thought by many that an Association formed along the lines prevailing in other places, would have a tendency to bring together persons having a love for pure-bred fowl, and also be conducive to producing a better type of pure-bred poultry in this district.

You are, therefore, asked to be present on the occasion of the first meeting to lend your assistance.

INSTRUCTIVE LECTURE BY DR. M'CULLOCH

On First Aid To The Injured and Drowning.

Dr. Malcolm McCulloch's address to the boys of the Knox Church Boys' Club last night was an instructive one. He spoke on first aid and referred principally to the aid that should be given to the drowning and the injured. He also spoke of the assistance a runner might render himself who has taken cramps on the road. A couple of boys were on the platform whom he used to illustrate his lecture.

Rev. Mr. Keith and Mr. Wilkie gave brief addresses. The chairman was Mr. M. Williamson.

Popular Cure for Croup

Anyone who has tested Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, as a cure for croup, will not hesitate to pronounce it an unqualified success. It is wonderfully prompt in relieving the cough, clearing the air passages and soothing the excited nerves. Many mothers who realize the suddenness with which croup comes on keep this great medicine promptly on hand for use in case of emergency.

THREE-FIFTHS

Our evening contemporary, with a new-found zeal—of the revenue brand—for temperance savagely attacks the Examiner for daring to quote two authorities which called attention to the unfairness of the city council of Toronto cutting off licenses whose holders have been compelled by the commissioners to spend thousands in improving their premises. Yet it can come to the defence of the three-fifths clause in the Whitney local option law, which temperance people pronounce an outrageous handicap. Majority rule is essentially British. A man elected a member of Parliament by a majority of one is as much a member as if he had a thousand or ten thousand majority. If our contemporary is so anxious to defend the Whitney Government for the enactment of the three-fifths handicap, why does it not advocate the three-fifths majority for Conservative nominating conventions. If this had been applied at the last Conservative convention the Conservative nominee, who was nominally successful, would have hardly had so easy a success in knifing Mr. Phelan and sidetracking Mr. Garvin, by means of subsidized delegates, with expenses paid and pledged to "vote against Garvin. "O, what a tangled web we weave, when first we practice to deceive," and much more so if we make an organized business of it.

CANADA AND THE NEW MISSION MOVEMENT

If we believe the verities of the Christian religion we must believe the inspired axiom that "righteousness exalteth a nation;" so that national advancement and religious advancement are practically convertible terms. In this regard the new laymen's missionary movement is a matter of national significance, not exclusively a mere matter of church movement.

But the question comes up whether or not this new movement may or may not result to the disadvantage of Canada. In this way; there seems to be a disposition on the part of the leaders of this movement, to unduly exalt the claims of foreign missions, as compared with home missions. This was shown by the remarks of Mr. Shenstone in his address at the Baptist church Laymen's Banquet on a recent occasion. There is no disposition to disparage the importance of foreign mission work. It has its place in church economy.

Canada is peculiarly situated in relation to missionary work. We are a young country. In the past we have grown slowly, especially in the matter of population. Immigration has filtered in gently and our new population has been so evenly and generally distributed among what may be called the native population, that they have been assimilated, that is Christianized and civilized by virtue of combined contact and environment, so that we have not been seriously troubled with the foreign element problem. But things have changed in the past few years. Canada has forged ahead; she has assumed a more prominent place in the eyes of the world and is attracting population, receiving a large volume of immigration. The opening up of the great west has led to a large and steady impour of immigrants, placed by circumstances in widely separated communities. Many of these new citizens are foreigners, with foreign ideas and with modes of thought and moral ideals incompatible with Canadian standards of manhood, morals and citizenship. In the West, especially there is not a sufficient element of the Canadian leaven to produce the assimilative ferment necessary to create the civilizing conditions that have heretofore obtained in the older provinces.

While foreign missionary enterprise has its place and function of the vastest importance, it might be left to Christian nations less peculiarly situated than Canada. Great Britain is not troubled with the foreign element, nor lacking in church centres and means of evangelization in the same degree as Canada. In Great Britain the home mission need is, as compared with Canada, practically non-existent, so that foreign missions present to the churches there a call to duty which does not come with the same force to this country where the home need dwarfs the foreign need; where the home field expands with illimitible stretch and insistent calls for the Gospel of Christianity and civilization. The Canadian Church may neglect foreign missions with no more direct result than the sense and penalty of neglected duty. The Church, however, in neglecting home missions, incurs not only the same penalty, but incurs the added risk of national corruption and retrogression. If we do not christianize the thousands of foreigners pouring into our country we shall have created conditions that menace our civilization and our very existence as the freest, most moral, most law-abiding country in the world.

We need an accentuation of the home mission movement, not only in the interest of the transformation, in both a religious and civil sense, of the foreign element of our new population, but in the interest of the moral permanence of those who come to us from the mother of Christian nations, from the cradle of Christian civilization. If we neglect the newcomers from the home land; if, through our default, they are deprived of the services and sacraments of the Christian religion, the only true civilizing influence, even these citizens will deteriorate, and untold consequences of evil to the state will inevitably ensue. If we do not provide for morally regenerating and Canadianizing our foreign population as they come, we shall have the same acute form of foreign peril that prevails in some parts of the United States, where the foreign element, congested in colonies, forms centres and sources of disregard of divine and human law approaching anarchy, with its intensely evil train of consequences.

Without for a moment disparaging the claims of foreign missions upon the liberality and energies of the churches, it cannot be disputed that the claims of home missions are paramount. As the Canadian "Courier" points out, the leaders of the latter-day mission movement, especially those in the West, who best know conditions and needs, admit this. Mr. J. A. M. Aikins, one of the leading Methodists of Manitoba, at a meeting in Grace Church, Winnipeg, said very emphatically that the money contributed for foreign missions could be used to better advantage in raising the standard of life and civilization among the foreigners in Canada, and Mayor Ashdown, Rev. C. E. Manning and Professor Osborne spoke in terms of similar import of Canada's first duty to those of our own national household. As the founder of Christianity recognized the claim to his first care of the "lost sheep of the house of Israel," his own fellow-countrymen, so it seems that to Canadians, comes, as a first call, attention to the claims of our fellow citizens, both as a matter of duty of religion and of good citizenship.

WOMAN'S POWER

The healthy woman; strong mentally and physically, whose ambition and magnetic influence urge men to deeds of grandeur and heroism; such women are all-powerful.

Weak, sick and ailing women have little ambition; their own troubles occupy all their thoughts. They dwell upon their pains, suffer from nervousness and headaches; often are extremely melancholy, and avoid society. For thirty years has been saving women from this awful condition.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Mrs. John Scott, 489 Grand Trunk St., Montreal, writes Mrs. Pinkham: "I was very much run down in health from a female trouble, was thin nervous, very weak, and suffered from bearing down pains. Indeed I did not care whether I lived or died.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured me of all my troubles. I gained in flesh, and am free from backache, female trouble, sick headaches, and nervousness.

"I heartily recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for all women's ailments."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice.

REASONS FOR OPTIMISM

The Canadian Courier gives six reasons for optimism which are based upon a conservative view of the outlook. These reasons are:

"The Bank of England's rate of discount has been lowered from seven to four per cent. Another world-wide money crisis has passed.

"In 1907 Canada received 17,000 more British emigrants than did the United States.

"Last year 117,586 British emigrants left for Canada, while only 14,369 went to Australia.

"The Grand Trunk Pacific hopes to have its line from Edmonton to Winnipeg in operation by September. The distance is 794 miles.

"The Dominion Government has decided that every man in the West who has a farm, some horses and a seeding machine, shall have plenty of seed grain.

"The mild weather has made living less expensive and has saved hundreds of thousands of dollars for the railway companies."

The Courier might have gone further. To these reasons may be added others supplied by the Victoria Colonist. There are the large expenditures which the Canadian Pacific is going to make; the great outlay in connection with the eastern section of the National Transcontinental Railway and the Canadian Northern Railway; the certainty of a large influx of settlers, who will be attracted by the splendid manner in which the Dominion has come through a very hard year; the growing confidence of the people of Canada in their own country. The air is full of reasons for optimism.

Wit and Wisdom

People with plenty of money are not always well bred, but they are always, says Peter, pretty well buttered.

It is the little pleasures that make life sweet, as the little displeasures may do no more than afflictions, to make it bitter.

Every person has two educations, one which he receives from others and one more important, which he gives himself.

Energy will do anything that can be done in the world; and no talents, no circumstances, no opportunities will make a man without it.

This life is full of gladness and mayhap it is the gateway to another; and to live well here is surely the best preparation for a life to come.

Sandy—"Don't you love to hear the music of the bells coming over the water?" Mandy—"Yes; I adore everything that has a ring to it."

Aunt Clara—"What would you do were you to see a ghost?" Young Visitor—"I'd run for dear life, for I'm quite sure I should be paralysed with fright."

"Now, Hannah, just look at these chairs! There must be an inch of dust on them." "Well, ma'am, you know yourself you haven't had a caller for nearly a week."

It is an honourable thing to be rich. It is not dishonourable nor discreditable in any sense, so long as he who acquires it has remembered and has practiced the golden rule.

Procrastination has been called the thief of time. It is also the purloiner of opportunity, of wealth, and of all the comfort, ease, luxury, independence, and varied gratification wealth affords.

Said an ambitious youth one day to a young lady—"Don't you think I'd better dye my moustache?" caressing the faintly visible progeny. "I think if you let it alone it will die itself," said the lady.

"No," he said as they congratulated him on his engagement, "I'm not so particularly charmed with the girl, but I expect to be happy. Her mother is about the best tempered woman I know of."

Repeated failures probably prove that the world is on to your curves.

Young men often start in a business they want to go in, when they should go into a business they ought to go in.

A New York judge says that it is the bad cooking on the part of wives that drives men to drink. However, it is cheaper to hire a good cook, than to indulge in the liquor habit.

"When you feel that you will die if you don't marry her," says the Rev. Mr. Mitchell, of Cleveland, "then you are in love and it is time to marry." But even if you don't take the good doctor's advice the chances are greatly in favour of your not dying."

"Light living is conducive to long-Pevity," says the Philadelphia American. But the Eskimos are the shortest lived people in the world, in spite of their fondness of a candle diet.

The love you liberate in your work is the love you keep.

Shed no tears over the lack of your early advantages. No really great man ever had any advantages that he himself did not create.

Do not join the knockers club and avoid all fellowship with the folks who are trying to wear the face off the clock.

Learn from your mistakes, but don't cry over them. We best redeem the past by forgetting it.

Do not disparage rivals, nor run down another man's goods. If you do not know what to say, say nothing.

To repeat an unkind remark is as bad as to invent a lie.

Folks who do not do more than they get paid for, never get paid for any more than they do.

The Rev. Dr. Newman Smith, of New Haven, was asked by the representative of one of the worst of modern newspapers for "a bright, terse interview about hell" for its Sunday edition. Dr. Smith very kindly complied with the request; his article was as follows—

"Hell, in my opinion, is the place where the Sunday edition of your paper should be published and circulated."

PIPE APPEARS TO BE DOOMED

Has the Cigarette Got the World in Its Grip?

Examiner Special:

London, Feb. 13.—Is the pipe doomed in this country? Tobacco is popular in the United Kingdom as it has never been before, but it is in a form which would be unrecognizable to old time smokers. Each year now the people of the country are spending $125,000,000 on tobacco. Here is an expert's estimate as to how the money goes:

Cigarettes... ... ...$75,000,000
Pipe tobacco... 45,000,000
Cigars... 5,000,000

"The cigarette has gripped us as it has gripped the rest of the world," said one of the most prominent of London tobacconists. "The clay pipe is practically dead; other kinds of pipes are being relinquished for cigarettes. Even hardened pipe smokers are giving way. Cigar smokers are coming into line, too.

"The chief reason is the convenience of the cigarette. The hustling age does not allow of the leisurely pipe in business hours. In walking from one office to another or in returning from lunch there is just time for a cigarette. So the pipe is reserved till night.

"Then, when night comes, the cigarette often triumphs over the pipe. For the cigarette smoker ever relinquishes them when once they have exerted their influence. They appeal to all classes. Connoisseurs smoke them, and the brainiest smokes them in preference to his clay pipe. The sale of cigars is diminishing, but that is due not only to the fascination of the cigarette, but also to the fact that cigars, from various reasons, are more expensive."

Eighty per cent. of the men in this country are, it is calculated, users of tobacco in some form or other. The average consumption of cigarettes is eight by each person each day. Pipe smokers consume at least six pipefuls a day. Assuming that a cigarette lasts 10 minutes and a pipe of tobacco 20 minutes, it is possible to estimate the time which 80 per cent. of the men in this country spend in smoking each day.

The figures are: Cigarette smokers, 1 hour 20 minutes; pipe smokers, 2 hours.

TEA IS SCARCE AND LIKELY TO BE SCARCER

Shortage All Over—Higher Prices in the Near Future.

An extensive tea importing firm in Toronto recently received a business letter from Ceylon containing the following extract:

"All over the world there is a shortage of common tea. Buyers in every country are simply covering their wants from hand to mouth and waiting in hope for a drop. The output of tea will not materially increase for the next four or five years. In fact, in regard to Ceylon, I look to see a steady falling off owing to so much tea land having been interplanted with rubber. I reckon that there are 50,000 acres of this, which means in the course reducing the yield of tea from this land by 25,000,000 pounds per annum. As against this there is a steadily increasing consumption, and the two things combined, in my opinion, point to higher prices for tea in the future than we have ever seen in the past, and it is a factor which should be carefully studied."

Would-be buyers were set to lay in stocks of John's Tea just to forestall the prospective high prices? This Tea is a mild, aromatic blend that has caught the popular taste, and those who have used it declare that the tea at the bottom of the neat air-tight packages is invariably as fragrant as at the top. It will pay to call at D. John, 382 George street, Peterborough; Opera House Block. 2d38

BABY'S OWN TABLETS A SMILE IN EVERY DOSE

The mother who, in her gratitude for what Baby's Own Tablets have done for her child, said that "There's a smile in every dose," coined a very happy and true phase. The tablets cure all the minor ailments of babies and young children, and make bright, smiling, happy little ones. Mrs. John Young, Auburn, Ont., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for more than a year and I think they are the best medicine that can be given a baby. They are splendid at teething time, and for stomach and bowel troubles. You don't need a doctor if you keep Baby's Own Tablets in the house.' That's about the highest praise a mother can give, and it's true, every word of it. You can get the Tablets from any medicine dealer or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

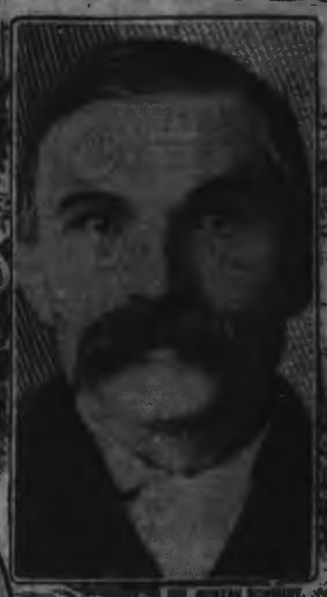
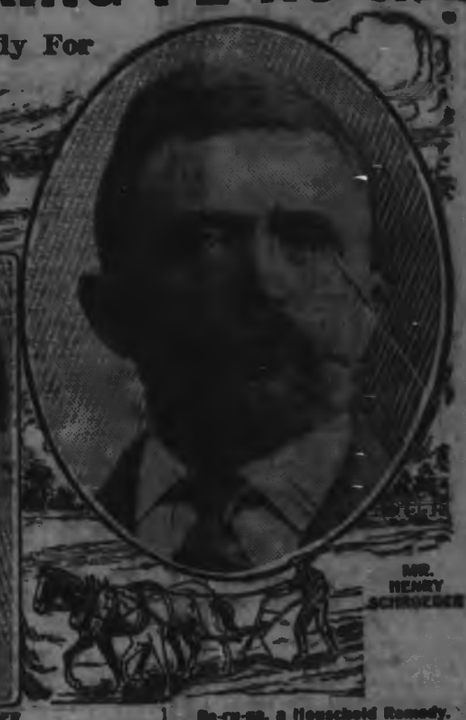
Pe-ru-na, a Most Reliable Remedy For All Climatic Ailments.

MR. GEO. H. THOMPSON.

MR. W. J. TEMPLE.



MR. GUSTAV SCHMIDT.



MR. HENRY SCHROEDER

Chronic Catarrh of Head and Throat Lasted Thirty Years.

A Letter Praising Pe-ru-na.

Mr. Gustav Schmidt, Spring Valley, Ill., writes:

"I had catarrh of the head and throat for over thirty years. It became worse every year. About three months ago I commenced to take Peruna and Manalin, and now I am entirely cured of that troublesome sickness. Your medicine is surely a blessing to mankind. You can truly say that you have not lived in vain, Doctor, and I thank you for the good you have done me. May you enjoy a long life to help suffering humanity."

Mr. Geo. H. Thompson, At Work On the Farm and Feeling Well All the Time.

Geo. H. Thompson, Craft, Miss., writes:

"I have been cured of catarrh by your medicines, Peruna and Manalin. I had been afflicted with catarrh of the stomach about all my life, and was taken bad every Spring and Summer.

"I used several kinds of patent medicines, but they did me no good. I then took a treatment under an M. D., which did me but little good. By this time I had come to where I could eat nothing but a little soup. I had severe pains, had lost in weight and could not do anything. I began taking your medicines, Peruna and Manalin. I then weighed 128 pounds, but after taking several bottles of Peruna and one bottle of Manalin, I weighed 168 pounds.

"I am now at work on the farm and feel well all of the time. I eat all I want to and my friends say that I look better than ever before. I will ever praise Peruna for its healing power."

Pe-ru-na is a Systemic Remedy.

If Peruna proves efficient for catarrh in one place, it will be equally potent in any other place, because it is a systemic remedy.

The people generally are very much misinformed as to the nature of catarrh.

Catarrh is usually believed to be confined to the head, nose and throat. Lately we sometimes hear of catarrh of the stomach and catarrh of the bowels. Seldom, if ever, do we hear of catarrh of any other organs.

It is not because these organs are not subject to catarrh, nor that catarrh of these organs is not a very common disease, but simply because it is not generally known that affections of these organs may be due to catarrh.

Climatic Ailments Overcome By Pe-ru-na.

Mr. W. J. Temple, R. F. D. 8, Delaware, Ohio, writes:

"I am a farmer and so necessarily must be exposed to all kinds of weather. About three years ago last winter, I was taken sick with bowel and stomach trouble.

"One doctor called it ulceration of the bowels, another called it colitis. Another doctor helped me temporarily.

"Then a druggist recommended Peruna and I followed his advice. I took altogether five bottles and I consider myself a well man.

"Before using Peruna, it was utterly impossible for me to do a day's work, but now I can do farm work without the least trouble or fatigue. I consider Peruna the best medicine and tonic on the market.

"I had not eaten a meal for five years without distress until I took Peruna. I have recommended it to several friends with good results."

DR. HARTMAN, THE FARMER.

Dr. S. B. Hartman, the inventor and original manufacturer of Peruna, is one of the best farmers in the Middle West.

His farm comprises several thousand acres of the best land in the State of Ohio, located near the City of Columbus.

As an importer of French Percheron and German Coach horses, the Doctor has not an equal in this country.

The fowl-raising department is a marvel of ingenuity and perfection; but, perhaps the dairy department is where the Doctor shows his greatest sense of order and sanitary science.

His milk cows, of the purest Jersey stock, have all been subjected to the tuberculin tests, and he gives to the City of Columbus a pure milk, certified by the Board of Health.

The milk stables, the milk men and the whole process of milking are absolutely faultless.

The Doctor himself, 70 years of age, is the managing head of the farm.

He himself supervises the working details of every department.

He is a model of strength and vitality, and since Peruna is the only remedy he ever makes personal use of, his physical condition is a testimonial to the efficacy of Peruna of greater value than could be framed in words.

Dr. Hartman is one of the few doctors who take their own medicine and his splendid physique and strength in his old age are an eloquent argument for Peruna very difficult to gainsay.

Dr. Hartman, being a farmer himself, knows what the farmer needs and in speaking of Peruna to the farmer he speaks to his own kind of people.

Pe-ru-na For Bowel Trouble.

Mr. Stanly Bell, Ashley, Ohio, writes:

"I was afflicted with rheumatism so badly that it was painful for me to move. I took two or three bottles of Peruna when I began to feel better. It also gave me relief from bowel trouble."

MR. J. B. ALEXANDER.

A Necessity in the Home.

J. B. Alexander, publisher of the "Fruit and Floral Guide, a Magazine of Horticulture," published in Hartford City, Ind., says of Peruna:

"I was afflicted with catarrh of the throat and head for over ten years. I was treated by many physicians, but grew worse until I was seldom able to go out in cold weather.

"About one year ago I was advised to try Peruna, which I did, and I am now entirely well of the catarrh.

"Peruna is a necessity in our home. With the first symptoms of a cold we use it, and are never afflicted with catarrh.

"I advise all who are afflicted with catarrh to try Peruna. There is certainly nothing equal to it as a catarrh medicine."

71 Years Old and Able to Work.

Mr. John G. Hirdler, Garfield, Kas., writes:

"I was injured by a fall on the railroad and my entire nervous system was impaired by the same. The help of a physician was useless.

"I then tried Peruna and after using it for three months was entirely well. I am 71 years old and my work on the railroad is hard and tedious, but I can work like a young man in all kinds of weather, heat, cold, rain, snow or storm alike."

Pe-ru-na, a Household Remedy.

Mr. Henry Schroeder, Raley, Mich., writes:

"I suffered for almost ten years with catarrh of the stomach and all doctoring was of no avail. I took nine bottles of Peruna and two of Manalin and am now entirely cured.

"I recommend the medicine to all who are afflicted with this disease. It is my household friend."

One of Dr. Hartman's Grateful Correspondents.

Mr. W. R. Callahan, proprietor of Big Hill Farm, and prominent fruit grower and stock raiser, Gleanar, Va., writes:

"I write to express my kindness toward you and your good medicine, Peruna.

"I had a very bad spell of sickness and could not eat anything at all. My head, stomach, in fact, my whole body ached, and it looked as though nothing would do me any good. I had almost given up.

"I decided to try a bottle of your Peruna and before I had taken half the bottle my appetite came to me and my head became all right. In fact, I was all right all over. Peruna cured me."

While Peruna is not confined to any one class of people, yet it is probably true that the farming class more than any other, rely upon Peruna for the prevention and cure of all climatic diseases.

YOUTH'S IMPRESSION OF HIS FIRST STOLEN RIDE ON A TRAIN

From Norwood to Peterborough On a Way Freight—Young Man Contributes an Article Describing His Introduction To The Life Of The Knights Of The Road.

I had fully determined to steal a ride on the C.P.R. from Norwood to Peterborough. I was staying in the village at the time but returned home to Peterborough almost every Friday night, returning again on the Monday morning train. For the first month (September) I bought my ticket without fail and was not guilty of even the suggestion of trying to beat my way. However, I began to notice certain facts about the grades on the line and the arrangements of the trains which opened my eyes to the fact that I might safely come home with my fare in my pocket instead of it going towards paying the expenses of shovelling snow off the C.P.R. after the winter storms.

I first learned that a mile or so west of Norwood there is a rather steep grade which freights bound for Toronto have considerable trouble in negotiating and in fact one can actually catch on a car at the top of the incline. It was this that decided me to make an attempt at beating the company for fifty-five cents and besides I would have the experience of riding on a freight. Why let such an opportunity go by I up after years I would vividly recall my first trip on the bumpers and during the early days of that week my imagination ran riot. What if I should be caught and taken to jail and finally sent to Central Prison as many other knights of the rail had fared? The fact that it was my first offence o fany kind would scarcely save me and at any rate the papers would have my name and the disgrace of a police court trial was in itself intolerable to think of.

By Friday night I had fully made up my mind that I would start out early in the morning and take any chance that presented itself in the way of rolling stock. I had tried to induce my chum to come along with me but he could not see it in the same light and it only remained for me to try my luck alone.

How I Started

Saturday morning found me awake at half past six with the October sun just beginning its shortening course in the southern sky. The sidewalk was covered with frost and as I walked down to the station I was debating whether it would not be more advisable to wait for the local and go to Peterborough as all honest men do. I was wavering in my determination when I finally decided that I would stand by my decision. I walked past the station with as nonchalant an air as I could assume and pretended to linger around for a few minutes and then started to walk the track in the direction of the grade. I had gone only a short distance when I heard a faint whistle in the east. I judged it to be the way freight and if it did not stop at Norwood I would miss it as I could not reach the grade first. My only hope in catching it was that it should stop at the station and I may say that my innermost wish was that it should pass through and leave me to the local.

About ten minutes after, the freight arrived in sight and slowly pulled up at the station. I walked down the track towards it and learned that a load of hubs from Finlay's factory had to be taken on and merchandise from one of the cars left at the station. I hid behind the ash house for a while and then when I heard the train whistle I sneaked out onto the track and began to walk towards it. The crucial moment had come. I tried to look at the freight as it approached me as if I were the most unconcerned person in the neighbourhood. I noticed a coal car about the fourth from the tender and momentarily decided that I would try it. The train was beginning to get up steam speed as I swung on to the rear of the car and climbed inside every nerve was tingling and my hands fairly trembled.

Between Two Fires

I sat down on the floor of the car to collect my thoughts and was just beginning to appreciate the cool morning breeze when a shower of cinders from the engine passed over me. I hurried to the other end and sheltered myself behind the preceding car. I was thoroughly contented. The situation was so new, and the motion so exhilirating that I forgot everything else. I rode merrily along enjoying myself to the utmost. I waved my hand at a ploughboy who had just begun his day's labour and laughed at the sectionmen whom I passed in a twinkling. I happened to turn around to look at the familiar hills of Norwood when my gaze caught the caboose of the van and in each of the two windows was clearly silhouetted a man's head—the conductor and brakesman I thought. I hurried back to the rear of my open car and endured the cinders until we reached the grade when I jumped to the ground and nimbly missed the rear steps of the van.

A Narrow Escape

As I sat on the second step I crouched close against the van hoping that it any one opened the door they would not see me unless they came out on the step. Nothing eventful occurred as the train rolled merrily on and for the first time I realized the meaning of the music on the road. The wheels kept up their incessant fumble with a regular crescendo and decrescendo of sound that lulled one so monotonously was its regularity I was awakened from a reverie by the turning of the knob of the door and looking around I saw a frying pan and a man's hand swing outwards and its steaming contents thrown into the air. Evidently the men had been boiling pork for their breakfast, at least the odour suggested it. I had not been seen and besides had escaped the boiling water except for a drop or two.

At Indian River the train stopped and I jumped from the steps and ran ahead of the van so as to keep out of sight of the officials. For the rest of the trip to Peterborough I picked out another coal car not far from the van. I scouted around the cars until the train started again and climbed into my palace coal car and rode through to Peterborough without the cinders. The train stopped at the canal and from there I walked to the station where I arrived just as the local rolled across the bridge and the city clock struck eight bells.—S. S.

LARGE BUSINESS GROWS FROM SMALL CAPITAL

in three years he bought the house. He has made, during the fourteen years since he commenced business, seven additions to his store, which is now 66 by 33 feet, and two storeys in height, and in it he does a business of $1,000 a week on an average, and he states that it is still growing.

Selection of Clerks

Mr. Braund, asked for his recipe for business success, stated hi belief that the first requisite is honesty and truthfulness with the public. He always tells the customer, as nearly as he can, the quality of the goods he is selling.

In setting a price on his goods he takes into consideration, not only the cost, but the value, in his estimation to the purchaser. Because two articles happen to cost the same it does not necessarily follow that they should be marked to sell the same.

The problem of buying has been made a study with Mr. Braund, and he attributes his success very largely to the exercise of care in this important feature. He advises his fellow merchants to use their brains more in their buying. He claims that as a result of his care in buying, practically 100 per cent. of his stock is good, and very little is carried over from one season to the next.

Another factor contributing to his success in his selection of clerks. "I do not look around for the smoothest and most polished clerks," he remarked, "but I aim to get those upon whom I can rely, and who will endeavour to become part of the business, which they are assisting, and which furnishes the means of their subsistence." His clerks are allowed, and, in fact, encouraged to look over all invoices and books in connection with the business. He places implicit faith in the honesty of his clerks, who are not engaged until he has satisfied himself that they are in possession of these qualifications.

Considerable advertising is done by Mr. Braund, and the form which he favours is that of hand bills. He uses the newspapers, but not continuously. This is not because he does not believe in the efficacy of newspaper publicity under ordinary circumstances, but in his particular case he thinks the most direct results come from the hand bills, on which he quotes prices, making a leader of an article of acknowledged merit at a price which will at once be recognized as extra value.

The above article appeared in the February number of the Dry Goods view and represents how a business of $1,000 a week can be built on a capital of just $2.50.

"I Want The Proof" You Say

WHEN TOLD THAT NERVOUS EXHAUSTION AND PROSTRATION ARE THOROUGHLY CURED BY

What is more discouraging and disheartening than trying to cure nervous exhaustion and prostration by means of ordinary treatments? Because you do not look sick and are suffering great pain, and because they cannot realize your feelings of weakness, helplessness and discouragement, your friends fail to show much sympathy for you, and most doctors are simply helpless in the face of exhausted nerves.

Of course you need not expect Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to work a miracle and cure you in a day or a week, but you can be absolutely sure that you will be benefitted, to at least some extent, by every dose of this great restorative that is taken into the system.

The dreadful weakness and helplessness which makes life miserable to you and leads to all sorts of dark forebodings, will gradually and certainly give way to strength and vigour under this treatment, headaches will disappear, your appetite will improve, you will sleep and rest better and you will find that day by day your nervous system is being built up to health and strength.

That Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is actually bringing about just such cures is proven in thousands of cases of which records are kept on file in these offices. The invigorating, upbuilding influence of this great medicine will surprise you if you only persist in its use.

Mrs. D. O'Connor, 278 Simcoe street, Peterborough, Ont., states: — "My heart has given me a great deal of trouble lately. The least undue exertion affected it, and brought on weakness and fainting spells. My nerves were also very unsteady, and I became so bad that I decided to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which was highly recommended to me. Now I am happy to be able to say that I am completely restored to health. My nerves are strong and steady, the action of my heart regular and the dizzy spells have ceased to trouble me."

STRANGE LADY WANDERS ABOUT

Has No Particular Place of Abode—Carries Two Large Telescopes.

A lady about thirty years of age and wearing a wedding dress has been wandering around the city since Sunday night. She carries two large telescopes which are filled to their utmost capacity, and she seems to be worn out with fatigue. She called at Wheeler's confectionery store Monday afternoon and asked to leave her telescopes there, and also asked for a bun. Both requests were complied with, and when the clerk in the store asked her a few questions regarding her name and history she tried to evade the questions. She said she came from Alnwick, but when asked her name and if she was married she only replied with vacant looks about the store.

The clerk then recommended her to see Rev. Dr. Langfeldt about getting work, but she landed in St. Joseph's Hospital. The kind nuns recommended the lady to a home in the city, but she went some place else. Yesterday afternoon she returned to Wheeler's store and got her telescopes. She said she had been wandering around since Sunday, but was going to stay in a house on Hunter street.

DEMANDED MONEY IN EAST CITY

Was About to Go Behind the Counter When Customer Came In.

A middle-aged man dressed in a dark suit and wearing a black peak cap entered Wheeler's confectionery store a few evenings ago. He stepped up to the counter and stared at the lady clerk.

"Will you give me a quarter?" he asked.

The young lady was not in the least afraid and told the intruder she did not have it.

"Then will you give me something to eat?" was his next question.

"No," said the young lady; "if you want anything you can talk to the boss; he is down in the yard; but you will never get anything from me."

The intruder then grew violent and told her he would tear her lights out and throw them on the floor.

The young lady grew very pale; she was alone, and did not know what to do.

The man was keeping up a continual flow of profanity and was about to rush behind the counter, when a customer came in. The would-be burglar changed his voice and skipped out the door. The lady hustled to the barn to get the men, but it was too late. The intruder had escaped and the men could find no trace of him.

The young lady was seen by the Examiner to-day and said that drunken men were in the habit of coming into the store late at night and raising a disturbance, and she thought the police should watch East City a little better.

Foresters Carnival Was As Usual A Great Success

Disagreeable Weather Interfered Somewhat With the Attendance---Some Novel and Clever Costumes Were In Evidence---Ben. Dusty Captured the Mile Open Racing.

Although the decidedly unfavourable weather and the numerous counter attractions interfered somewhat with the attendance at the thirtieth annual carnival, under the auspices of Court Peterborough No. 29, C. O. F., held in the Brock street rink last night, the success of the affair was fully up to the average. The attendance was perhaps not as large as last year, but there were nearly as many masqueraders and the costumes were, if anything, superior to any that have been seen here, more originality and taste being shown than is usually the case, with the result that the judges had difficulty in making their awards. There was the usual profusion of gypsies and negroes, tramps and old maids, which characterizes every carnival, but many of the masqueraders appeared in novel costumes that were decidely clever. The special prize for the best costume representing a business costume aroused considerable interest and was won by Mr. W. Mellis, whose representation of the Canadian Cordage Co., was very cleverly designed. Other contestants in this event were Mr. Ernest Reid, representing the Best Stove Company, and Miss Kennedy, the Examiner, both costumes being well planned.

The scene at the height of the carnival was a brilliant and striking one. Fierce-looking Indian chiefs skated arm in arm with gypsy fortune tellers, Weary Willies were companions for court dames, and jesters and negroes were found accompanied by smiling Japanese belles and pretty shepherdesses. The rink was a riot of colour, with the varicoloured raiment of the masqueraders, and the flags and bunting profusely used in decorating the rink. A section of the 57th Band played a choice programme of waltzes and two steps from the gallery, and after the judging was completed many not in costume took advantage of the opportunity to indulge in an enjoyable skate, the ice being in a splendid condition considering the weather. To look at the scene it was hard to imagine that outside a warm rain was pouring down and that the thermometer was away up above the freezing point. The condition of the ice was one of the surprises of the evening.

The Winners

The judges were Messrs. A. G. Carruthers, R. Hicks and W. E. Loch, who made their awards as follows:

Special prize for best costume advertising business enterprise, W. Mellis, Canadian Cordage Co. Prize—Oak rocking chair, value $4.50.

Following is the list of those in costume, as complete as could be obtained. Owing to the fact that many of those in costume merely signed their initials instead of their surnames, it has been necessary in some cases to guess at the sex of the masqueraders.

The Skating Races

The skating races, which took place at eight o'clock, were very interesting, although a couple of them were rather one sided. The mile open race was easy for Ben Dusty, of the Stratheonas, who outclassed his field of five with the exception of Allen and won handily in the fast time of 3.45. There were five entries in addition to the winner, A. Allen, A. Sollett, F. MacGibbon, W. O'Rourke and Norman Stabler. Dusty took the lead at the start, closely followed by Allen, and set such a hot pace in the first few laps that his field was killed off. Sollett and Stabler dropped out and O'Rourke was lapped when the race was half over, and MacGibbon in the fourteenth. During the last half Dusty steadily drew away from Allen and won by a margin of nearly a lap. Allen was an easy second.

The boys' half-mile race, eight laps around the rink, was won easily by Hugh Burritt, of the Chieftains, with Wilfrid Stratton second. The real race was for second place, Stratton who had a secure position, falling in the seventh lap and B. Lees gave him a good battle for the position, Stratton winning by a few yards. The other entries were Percy Armstrong, Ed Hogan, Wm. Hamilton and Walter Jackson. Burritt went to the front at the start and had no trouble in maintaining his lead.

There were only two entries in the partner's race, eight laps around the track, Miss Hazel Craig and Ben Dusty and Miss Nora Fitzgerald and Harry O'Brien. The former pair won by over a lap and there never was any question as to the result. Mr. Alex Gibson performed the duties of starter and judge in an efficient manner.

Messrs. D. S. Harvon, chairman; J. R. Metheral, treasurer; J. H. Smith, secretary and the other members of the committee are to be congratulated upon having added another to the long list of successful carnivals held dunder the auspices of Court Peterborough.

Mr. Selkirk is a practical man at the business, and the new industry is one that is needed in Warsaw. At the present time farmers and others who require lumber dressed have to drive a considerable distance with it, but when the new mill is in operation this will all be done away with.

Would it not be a good idea for the assessors when going their rounds to take a memorandum of all houses which are not numbered and report the same to the City Engineer, who could give instructions to place a three or five cent tin number at the expense of the city, which is greatly needed by all concerned?

GIGANTIC FUR SACRIFICES AT CLARKE & CO'S FUR STORE

The Greatest of All Fur Sales Brought About by a Change of Business—Mr. McWilliams Takes Over the F. A. Clarke & Co. Stock.

Furs are still seasonable and will be for eight or ten more weeks yet. Valentine Day would be altogether too soon to adopt the "off with the old, on with the new," suggestion; but it certainly will be a good day, as well as a wise act, to start to buy fure at saving prices. If you will only read the examples of fur sacrifices announced in Mr. F. N. McWilliams' re-organizing sale, which appears in to-day's issue of the Examiner, it will be seen that your money will go a long way just now. In fact, it looks as if money never went farther in fur buying, and that if there is any virtue in values or power in prices every one who can should buy furs during this sale. The reductions would certainly justify you in buying furs for next season, if not for present needs, when such values as these are offered. Read Mr. McWilliams' advertisement and learn the reason for such sacrifices just now.

GREEN'S MOVING PICTURES

This company, which opens a five nights' engagements in the Grand Opera House here on Tuesday, Feb. 18th, is the most popular organization of its kind in Canada. It is the only attraction that exhibits in Ontario three times a year on a regular route, the S.R.O. sign is in evidence oftener than for any other attraction, and it is such a strong magnet that it draws among its patrons many who have never seen the inside of a theatre. The Galt record last June for three performances was 5,210, in Cobalt, the capacity of the spacious theatre was tested to its utmost on every occasion; in Fort William, in October every available seat was sold before the doors were open for one solid week, and three matinees, and in the American Soo, Green held the record of attendance, putting in a continuous run of two months, while thousands were attracted every day during the summer months in 1904 at Brittania-on-the-Bay, Ottawa's elite summer resort. This phenomenal success is the result of careful management, and giving the people their money's worth. Prof. Green spares no effort nor money to procure the best films photographed, and the most up-to-date machine to project them flickerless and true to life. A feature of these entertainments will be the illustrated songs by Mr. Bertha V. Peters, a native of Peterborough, who has gained the distinction of being the best singer of illustrated songs in the business. On the initial visit, the prices are: Adults 15c. All All seats reserved. Seats on sale at theatre box office, at the usual hour. Children under 12 years, 10 cents. Gallery only 10 cents.

The Plan for Wednesday Night's Concert, "A Trial By Jury" will open on Monday morning at 10 o'clock at McDermid and Jury's upper store.

REASON FOR THE DECLINE

Below will be found the result of the milk tests for the past month it which it will be seen that the examples do not average as high as usual. Below 3.5 per cent. is not considered good and some of the samples fall below that standard. This is accounted for by Mr. Downham, proprietor of the local creamery, on the ground that it is a bad time for milk just now, owing to the fact that many new cows are giving milk. HORSES DISAPPEAR OUT OF SIGHT

So Says Mr. Crowe in Referring to the State of the Roads.

Mr. "Joe" Crowe, proprietor of the Warsaw stage is authority for the statement that the roads were never in a worse condition, not mentioning of course, the few days during which the big storm was raging.

"The horses go right down out of sight," says Mr. Crowe, "every time they get onto a snow bank."

Literally speaking this can scarcely be the case for Mr. Crowe reached the city almost on scheduled time and his horses were here also.

PEAT FUEL IN THE NEAR FUTURE

Mr. E. V. Moore in Ottawa—The Question Receiving Much Attention, He Says

READ A LENGTHY PAPER

Mr. Ernest V. Moore, manager of the Condepsed Peat Fuel Co., of this city, has just returned from a trip to Montreal and Ottawa in the interests of his work, and reports that the developments of the past year have done a great deal towards restoring confidence in the future of the peat fuel industry, which the failures of some years ago almost completely destroyed. In Montreal Mr. Moore read a lengthy paper on the present position and the prospects of the peat fuel manufacturer more particularly describing his own plant, which was in successful operation at Victoria Road, Ont., last summer. Much interesting discussion was indulged in by a number of prominent engineers present, particularly as to the suitability of this now established fuel for use in producer gas plants, either for fuel or power, all of which tended to confirm Mr. Moore's statements.

In Ottawa Mr. Moore had an interview with the Director of Mines, Dr. Eugene Haamel, who is at present making extensive preparations for research as to the possibilities of peat fuel, for which it is expected an appropriation will shortly be granted by the Government. The Director of Mines expressed himself as convinced that this fuel cannot be gotten on the market too soon, and one of his assistants is at present making an exhaustive report on the many successful plants now in operation in Europe. One Swedish firm have over a score of producer plants now running continuously, and in a highly satisfactory way on peat fuel exclusively, and as conditions in Canada are quite as favourable as to the quality of the peat and the demand the question of becoming better acquainted with this Canadian resource becomes one of public interest.

Mr. Moore, after consulting the best engineering authorities, on their advice is patenting a number of the devices he has been using, as he is confident that in more than one respect he is ahead of the European methods.

Altogether Mr. Moore reports that the peat fuel question is again receiving serious and substantial consideration and that it is only a matter of a short time till it will be on a firm business operating basis in Canada. The present interest in the use of producer gas for which this fuel is well suited and the interest and aid shown by the Government are sufficient stimulus to attract the eye of even very conservative capital.

FAREWELL LECTURE ON MONDAY

Capt. Hurd at the Barracks—Lt.-Col Gaskin Will Speak To-morrow.

Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. Gaskin, general secretaries for the Salvation Army for Canada, with headquarters at Toronto, are in the city to-day, and will speak at the local barracks to-night and at the three services to-morrow. The women will be presented with certificates, and in future will be able to conduct services at the jail and other branches of the league's work.

At 11 o'clock the subject will be "Notable Birthplaces," in the afternoon "Battlefield Stories," and at 7 o'clock he will address the Army on a "Study in Botany. All three addresses promise to be very interesting and there should be a good attendance. On Monday evening Capt. Hurd will deliver his farewell lecture, with the aid of stereopticon views, on the life of London, entitled "Paying the fare." COMMISSIONER WILL NOT BE HERE

Will Come in the Fall—Barracks to Be Renovated.

Commissioner Coombs will not be here on the 28th of this month, but will lecture in the Opera House some time next fall. Staff Captain Goodwin and Mr. R. C. Braund, of the local Salvation Army corps have been in Toronto interviewing the commissioner, and have just returned. It was found impossible to have the lecture on the 28th, as first proposed owing to another engagement for that date, and the commissioner expressed his willingness to come here in the fall instead. The building scheme was also discussed and it was decided to begin the work of renovating the barracks in the course of a few months. The plans were drawn by Staff Captain Miller, who was here some time ago, and the building will present a very creditable appearance when finished.

Health and Vitality for old People

As old age creeps on vitality is lowered, the heart beats more slowly, the blood becomes thin and watery, and the power of resistance is lessened. It is the old people above all others who require the new life and energy, which come with the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Thousands of old people depend on this treatment, because it calms and quiets the nerves, gradually and certainly enriches the blood, builds up the system and instils new life and vigour into their shrivelled arteries.

POSTAL RATES WERE TALKED OVER

House Discussed the Recent Changes in Regulations.

HON. MR. LEMIEUX EXPLAINS

Postage on Legitimate Newspapers Again Reduced — Country Purged of Nasty Literature — Injury to Canadian Printing Trade—Illiterate Immigrants — Protests Against Misrepresentation.

Ottawa, Feb. 15.—On orders of the day being called yesterday afternoon in the House, Postmaster-General Lemieux rose to answer the enquiry of Mr. Armstrong (Lambton) as to changes in the postal regulations with regard to second-class matter. Up to July of last year, he said the post-offices of the two countries had an arrangement for carrying mail of this class at rates in effect in the country of origin. The Department found the number of newspapers and periodicals placing a heavy burden on the service, and besides a national spirit had developed in Canada and representatives went to Washington to arrange for a change in the regulations, with the result that rates on this class were increased to 4 cents a pound.

The rate had been one-half-a-cent and Canada had been a great sufferer because of classification of United States authorities, which recognized a type of newspaper which, according to our ideas, was not a newspaper. New regulations were brought into effect last year, but he found that the great trouble was not the daily newspapers, and it was decided to relax the regulations by giving legitimate daily newspapers of both countries access to the mails at the rate of one cent a pound.

Mr. Armstrong asked what object was gained by not giving the same rate to the weekly or semi-weekly papers.

Purged of Nasty Literature.

Mr. Lemieux said the postoffice was obliged to accept only such weeklies and periodicals as came under our classification. By this classification the country had been purged of a great deal of nasty literature. He went on to say that on representations being made last year, that the new regulations worked a hardship on magazine publishers, inasmuch as subscriptions were fixed at a rate to cover the old postage, it was decided to remit the difference in postage up to the first of this year.

Claude Macdonell mentioned the practice of United States publishers, of sending in loose leaves to be bound in Canada under the regulations. These bore the imprint of a Canadian publisher, but only the binding was done here, and this practice was unjust to the Canadian printing trade.

Mr. Lemieux said the rate on this class was raised in May last.

Dr. Worthington (Sherbrooke) thought there should be an exception in favor of technical magazines, but the Postmaster-General pointed out that those could be sent to Canada and remailed to subscribers at the rate of one cent a pound.

The Opposition leader referred to the decision to reimburse the magazine publishers for their extra outlay on postage. If that were the proper method, might it not be applied in the case of the manufacturer, whose business was injured by a change in the tariff.

Mr. Borden did not think there had been any change in the character of some of the United States dailies entering Canada, and hoped when the Postmaster-General attempted to reform regulations again he would give the matter full consideration.

David Henderson (Halton) hoped that when the Postmaster-General reduced the rate on drop letters in cities he would also consider rural municipalities.

Unsuitable Immigration.

Mr. Clements of West Kent drew attention to the class of immigration to Western Ontario.

He alluded to the return moved for by Mr. Gordon, to which Y. S. Waugh, the immigration agent in Kent, told of an immigrant who, when asked if he could talk, said "no," as he had never seen a cow. He said he had opposed the North Atlantic Trading Co.'s contract and on the same principle he opposed large expenditure for immigration to Ontario. There should be no misrepresentation to intending immigrants. For himself he had all sympathy for the pitiful condition of many of those misguided immigrants.

"We could have taken care of a few," said Mr. Clements, "but when they come in by the carload it becomes a serious matter."

Kind Words For Mr. Waugh.

Mr. Gordon of East Kent read a number of letters from immigrants near Chatham highly recommending the efforts of Agent Waugh. Mr. Gordon even congratulated the Department of the Interior and its agents on placing the large number they had last year.

Mr. Clements asked if the hon. member approved of placing the large number that were dumped into Kent County.

Mr. Gordon replied that he was credibly informed a large number had been placed by others than the Government agent.

Uriah Wilson referred to G. Miller, an extremely partisan Liberal, who had last year received $200 for placing immigrants, and who, it was said, had taken money from persons for procuring them help. Mr. Wilson also criticized the alleged action of Agent Miller in neglecting to look after a number of immigrants who had arrived in Napanee upon a wet and stormy night.

J. S. H. Bergeron criticised the translation of titles of private and public acts of Parliament. He quoted several instances which bore out his complaint of lack of uniformity.

Mr. Borden also cited instances of lack of uniformity of rendering in the translation of titles.

Sir Wilfrid admitted there was lack of uniformity, but observed that translations could not be got to agree on the correct rendering of certain words or phrases.

Mr. Borden suggested that at least they might get together and agree upon terms.

Mr. Leich's Appointment.

Dr. Roche (Marquette) again called attention to the appointment of R. E. G. Leich in connection with the distribution of seed grain in Alberta and Saskatchewan and asked what his duties were to be.

Mr. Oliver said Leich was inspector of Dominion land agencies and could ascertain who were the real homesteaders. For that reason it was thought he might be placed in charge of seed grain distribution.

Dr. Thompson gave verbal notice that on Friday next he would discuss the treaty-making powers of the Dominion and move on going into supply that Canada be consulted on all matters affecting her interests.

The House spent the evening in committee of supply, but progress was slow. Mr. Jackson (Elgin) described a trip of a couple of Cabinet Ministers, accompanied by a score of Liberal politicians, to bye-elections meetings. They used the Government cruiser Vigilant.

Mr. Bennett feared the Government would want people to pay for horses and carriages for their election campaigns. Had the Vigilant a piano on board. Being answered in the negative, Mr. Bennett said the Minister was behind the times, for Mr. Hyman, who was a merry soul, had one on the Government yacht Paeny, together with a mahogany table costing $100, and other elaborate furniture.

By what right did the Government use the people's cruisers for their election expeditions asked Dr. Sproule.

"By right of majority," suggested Bennett.

"The majority on cruiser," added Dr. Sproule.

Then the item under consideration passed.

At the request of Claude Macdonell the Hamilton Radial Electric Railway Co. bill was laid over till Monday. The bill was down for consideration in committee of the whole.

An act to incorporate the Ruthenian Catholic Mission of the Order of St. Basil the Great in Canada was finally passed.

Quebec Bridge Damage.

Ottawa, Feb. 15.—Senator Landry called attention of the Upper Chamber to the report from Quebec that the main pier of Quebec bridge was liable to damages by ice, owing to the fact that the wreck of superstructure was still adhering to it.

Hon. Mr. Scott said he would bring the matter to the attention of his colleagues. If the company did not take steps to protect the pier, which cost a good deal of money, the Government should do something.

A Marrying Scoundrel.

Berlin, Feb. 15.—A bogus American, "Colonel" Schiemangk, has been sentenced by the Criminal Court to three years' imprisonment, the loss of his civil rights for five years after his release, and to perpetual police supervision, as well as to pay a fine of $300. Schiemangk having been convicted of wholesale marriage swindles by means of advertisement, whereby he succeeded in obtaining considerable sums of money from women.

Schiemangk was born in Germany, but served in the First Artillery, U.S.A. He was promoted to non-commissioned officer, but finally deserted. He is an accomplished linguist.

Roblin Defends Purchase.

Winnipeg, Feb. 15.—In a sensational speech in the Legislature Hon. R. P. Roblin made a bitter attack on Rev. Dr. Duval, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, for stating in an interview that the Government paid too much for the Bell telephone system. He stated that Expert Dagger, who had first made the charge, was discharged by the Government for incompetency.

Appeal For Autocracy.

Moscow, Feb. 15.—The nobility, in congress assembled in Moscow yesterday, adopted, by an overwhelming majority, a Loyalist address to the Emperor, dwelling upon the dangers of the present system of Government and concluding with a virtual appeal for the restoration of autocracy.

Smallpox at Vancouver.

Vancouver, B.C., Feb. 15.—Two cases of suspected smallpox were removed to the city pesthouse yesterday from a Water street boarding-house frequented by longshoremen. The authorities took prompt and vigorous measures to prevent the spread of the disease.

Cordite Inspector's Suicide.

London, Feb. 15.—(C.A.P.)—Capt. J. H. Thompson, chief inspector of explosives, who was special commissioner on cordite in Canada in 1891, committed suicide. He suffered from nervous trouble.

HAD A STAB-LIKE PAIN THROUGH THE HEART.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS CURED HER AND SAVED HER LIFE.

There is no one, we imagine, who thinks about deliberately to do injury to the heart, yet in the excitement and excesses of present-day living, the nervous system is done violence to, and the heart and nerves being so intimately bound up with one another, disorganization of the one means disease and disorder of the other.

When you find your heart the least bit out of rhythm, your nerves unhinged, don't wait until you are prostrated on a bed of sickness. Take Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. They'll put you in such condition you'll never know you have a heart, make your brain clear and active, your nerves strong, your blood rich and pure, and your whole being thrill with a new life.

Mrs. John G. Yeaves, Little Rocher, N.B., writes: "I was troubled with a stab-like pain through my heart. I tried many remedies but they seemed to do me more harm than good. I was advised by a friend to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after using two boxes I was completely cured. I cannot praise them enough for the world of good they did me for I believe they saved my life."

Price 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

FIREFIGHTER DIED AT HIS POST

New York's Deputy Fire Chief Killed While Fighting Flames.

RESCUERS RISKED LIVES

Kruger Had Been In Brigade For Thirty-Six Years—Was Leading His Men Through a Dark Cellar—Filled With Smoke and Deadly Gases—Fell Through Trap Door and Was Drowned.

New York, Feb. 5.—Deputy Chief Charles W. Kruger, known for many years as "The Grand Old Man of the Fire Department," lost his life yesterday while leading his men in a desperate fight against flames in Canal street.

While working his way cautiously through a cellar filled with smoke and gases, Kruger plunged through a trap door into a sub-basement filled with water. He was dead when taken out, but in the few minutes which elapsed between the time the old man fell and his body was drawn out, more than a score of men had risked their own lives in an effort to save that of their leader.

"I knew it would happen this way," said one of Kruger's men when the chief's body was being carried away. "I have been to many fires with him. He was always in the lead. He never said, 'Boys go into that place or this place,' he always led us himself. He said, 'Boys follow me.' And that's just what he said this time when he led us into that basement."

36 Years a Fire-Fighter.

Kruger was 57 years old, and had been a member of the department for 36 years. Several years ago Kruger was acting chief of the department for a time while Chief Croker was temporarily under suspension.

The fire started at 217 Canal street and before it had been subdued swept that building from basement to roof, spread to two buildings adjoining, routed the tenants from several surrounding tenement houses and threatened the Church of the Most Precious Blood, in Baxter street.

It was after the flames in the upper part of the building had been brought under control, that Kruger took his men to the basement. A great pile of excelsior in bales was blazing furiously, and attempts to reach it with streams from the street had been unsuccessful. After several attempts to get at the fire from the outside, Kruger asked permission of Chief Croker to take his men through the basement of 215 and cut a hole through the wall to 217 where the fire was burning. Croker consented, and a moment later, with a dozen men behind him, Kruger plunged into the cellar.

The place was filled with smoke, and the deadly fumes of illuminating gas which flowed from broken or melted pipes, but the men pressed cautiously forward in the darkness. Just in the middle of the cellar Kruger stepped on a trap and plunged into six feet of water in the sub-basement.

Then began a desperate fight in the gas-filled cellar to save the chief. He could do little to help himself, and when Battalion Chief Galvin plunged into the dark hole and raised the old man's head above the surface he was unconscious. It required the combined efforts of twenty firemen, weakened as they were by breathing smoke and gas, to draw Galvin, who still clung to Kruger's body, from the pit.

The property loss as a result of the fire is placed at $50,000.

ANARCHIST AT MONTREAL.

Emma Goldman Does Not Approve of Murder of King Carlos.

Montreal, Feb. 15.—The famous anarchist, Emma Goldman, showed up here yesterday to the great surprise of her friends, but they at once started in to organize a demonstration. She will deliver three lectures, two in Yiddish and one on Sunday next in English.

Miss Goldman started in to say that while she did not approve of the murder of King Carlos, that monarch had placed himself against the people and had to be removed. All oppressors of the people and robbers of the constitution will, she opines, suffer in the same way.

Carlos Escaped Bomb.

Lisbon, Feb. 15.—It has been learned that a bomb was found under the landing stage where King Carlos landed on the day of the assassination. It had failed to explode because of a defect in the fuse.

A number of persons have called at the late home of Buica, one of the dead assassins, to give money to his mother-in-law for the support of his children.

Shortly before the crime Buica had competed with the King in a shooting match, beating His Majesty by several points.

Hydrophobia Scare at Chippawa.

Welland, Feb. 15.—Chippawa citizens are excited over the prospect of an epidemic of hydrophobia. On Monday a collie dog bit Mr. Darr, his wife and daughter. He attacked Mrs. Lister and bit another dog before he was killed.

DISASTROUS BLAZE AT BUFFALO

Heavy Loss to Courier Lithographing Co. and Times Office.

NEWSPAPER LOSES PRESSES

$150,000 Worth of Circus Poster Plates Destroyed In Wrecked Annex—Three Stores and Two Dwellings Burned Out at Athens—Farmer's Bank Damaged—Theatre Fire Causes a Panic.

Buffalo, N.Y., Feb. 15.—Fire which broke out on the fourth floor of the plant of the Courier Lithographing Co., 197 Main street, and extending through to 204 Washington street, yesterday, caused a loss estimated at $250,000. The plant is one of the largest of its kind in the country. Just after the fire was discovered there was a series of explosions, supposed to have resulted from the fire communicating with certain explosives used in the art department.

The press department of The Buffalo Evening Times adjoining was damaged to the extent of $30,000. The Evening News has offered The Times the use of its presses and The Times will be run off to-day from The News' presses.

Besides the large quantity of valuable machinery in The Courier building the company had just finished the plates for a $180,000 contract for circus posters, and these were in an annex which was wrecked.

The Baker-Jones Printing Co. suffered a loss of $50,000, and the R. H. Thompson Paper Co. $10,000.

Brockville, Feb. 15.—Thursday night at 11 o'clock the village of Athens, the home of A. E. Donovan, M.P.P., suffered a $20,000 loss by fire in the heart of its business district. The fire started in a tinshop, and before long three fine stores and two dwellings were destroyed, together with their contents.

The Farmers' Bank was damaged also. The loss will total about $20,000. All the buildings were the property of William Parish, a retired merchant of that place.

Medicine Hat, Alta., Feb. 15.—Thursday night fire broke out in the Edison Theatre, causing a panic. The building was entirely gutted, and damage was done to about the extent of $3,000. Charles Ness, the owner of the threatre, who was operating the moving picture machine, was badly injured.

Liquor Detective Acquitted.

Whitby, Ont., Feb. 15.—Christian Hansen was acquitted by Judge McCrimmon in the Criminal Court here last night on the charge of perjury. The case grew out of the prosecution of Donald Christie of Saint Field for selling liquor without a license.

Hansen is detective in the service of the Provincial Secretary's Department and bought native wine of Christie on Oct. 29 last while working in Brock Township, where local option is in force.

The trial occupied two days and many witnesses on each side were examined. There was strong corroboration of Hansen's story.

Ten Seamen Drowned.

Portland, Ore., Feb. 15.—The American ship Emily Reed, 113 days out from Newcastle, N.S.W., for Portland, with coal, went ashore yesterday at the mouth of the Nehalem River, on the Oregon coast, and broke in two. Ten seamen were lost, while six were saved, including the captain and his wife.

Not a Miracle But Medical Science

Dr. T. A. Slocum, Limited,
Toronto, Ont.

Gentlemen:—

"Some time ago I began to lose flesh and failed every day until I had to quit work. My physicians and all my friends said I had contracted consumption. I failed from 165 pounds down to 119. I was advised to go to the Rockies or to the coast. I went to both places under heavy expense. I continued to fail, and was advised by the doctors to come home as nothing more could be done for me. Hope seemed to have left me.

"I tried Psychine and since starting its use I have gained from 119 to 141 pounds. I have used $10.00 worth of the medicine. I am a well man and I cannot say too much in praise of Psychine. The strongest recommendation would be weak in view of the fact that I believe it has saved my life. It is without doubt the best remedy for run-down conditions and weak lungs.

"I sincerely hope and trust that you will continue your good work of saving run down people and consumptive from the grave. Wishing you and Psychine continued success, I remain, one of Psychine's best friends."

NOTES OF THE GREAT PRESS GAME

Movements of the "Gladiators" As Revealed Day by Day.

The report that the Review team is strengthening up for the big press game on February 26 is coloured by the arrival in the city last night of Mr. C. H. Sawle, formerly of the Review, and now of Preston. It is understood that he is here for the purpose of making arrangements for bringing east a number of stars from Guelph, Berlin and Brantford for the benefit of the Review team. The Examiner will have no imports, but will put on the ice the old reliable line-up and have no fear but to the result.

It is said that Manager D. U. B. MacRae will retire from the battle line and will be found guarding the nets. He will find the Review citadel about the busiest place on the ice.

"Dinny" Dobbin of lacrosse fame has been resurrected by the Review for the game. Mr. Dobbin discovered hockey, but there have been many improvements made on the patent since his time, as he will find out fifteen seconds after the referee blows his whistle and runs for life. "Miss" Crane will not be a participant, having received word from her dressmaker in Paris that her costume will not be completed in time for the game, whereupon "Miss" Crane wept a few salt tears and resigned herself to the inevitable. "Put Me Among the Girls" from "The Time, the Place and the Girl" is now her favourite song.

Mr. Yokoma, "The Flower of Japan," will endeavour to play centre for the Tory seven. The role does NOT fit this talented artist like the proverbial glove, but he is no worse than the rest of the seven imitations that will endeavour to trample the proud name of the Examiner in the dust, or rather the slush.

Manager MacRae has issued training rules to the bunch and expects the Review seven to faithfully carry them out. Eating more than nine meals a day or working more than fifteen minutes each hour are strictly forbidden. Each player must be in bed on the same day on which he arises, and is expected to attend a chalk talk every evening in the basement, at which lectures will be given by well-known athletes. Any man that knows more about hockey than the manager is expected to resign, but it is likely this rule will be suspended inasmuch as Mr. MacRae will be the only one left if the requirement is adhered to.

NO SENIOR GAME FOR PETERBOROUGH

Kingston and St. George's to Play Home-and-Home Matches.

Peterborough will see no senior hockey here after all in view of the following despatch from Toronto:—At a meeting held at noon to-day at the office of the Turner Lumber Company it was decided that the St. George's and 14th Regiment team of Kingston should break their tie in Group No. 1 of the senior O. H. A. series by playing home-and-home games.

President D. J. Turner of the O.H.A. tossed for choice, and Major A. B. Cunningham of Kingston called for his team, winning the toss. He chose the last game at Kingston. These dates were then arranged:

Tuesday, Feb. 18, Kingston at St. George's.

Friday, Feb. 21, St. George's at Kingston.

Goals count on the round.

Stratford has practically won the Western district and will meet the winners of the Saints-Soldiers' games on a date or dates to be fixed.

YOUNG'S POINT FINISHED ON TOP

Trimmed Septette From Eastwoodville By Score of 5 to 3.

A despatch from Young's Point says that the hockey team of that progressive burg turned the tables on Buckhorn in the second game of the series. The game ended in the score of 5 to 3, with the Point hanging on to the big end of the stick, despite the fact that two of their regular players, W. Young and W. Walsh, owing to accidents were unable to play. For the losers White and Allan shone, while the stars in the Point team were Harold Young and Robt. Quinlan.

The line-up was as follows:

Buckhorn	Young's Point.

Eastwood	F. Fitzgerald

Purser	Walsh

THE BRIDGENORTH GAME CANCELLED

Strathconas Are City League Champions For Second Time.

The Strathconas are City League champions, the executive of the league having decided to cancel the game with Bridgenorth, which leaves the red and white team at the top of the heap with no defeats. The Straths have won the league championship for two years in succession and have never been defeated in a City League game since entering that organization.

To-day's action of the executive leaves the standing as follows:

	Won.	Lost.
Strathconas	4	0
Norwood	3	1

SPORTING NEWS AND VIEWS.....

Mr. W. H. Cavanah, the left wing of the Peterborough hockey team of two years ago, who is now in Rockford, Vt., writes to the effect that he has had his first hockey for two years recently, and scored five out of seven goals for his team. He states that one of the players down there is a second Whitcroft and may come west next year. With Cavanah in Vermont, Crowley and Whitcroft in Edmonton, Harold Armstrong in Ottawa, and Rowell and Miller in Brantford, Peterborough hockey players are pretty well scattered just at present.

THE TRIALS OF A POLITICAL STUMPER

Interesting Story in To-day's Issue of Toronto Saturday Night on the East Peterborough Election Campaign of 1905.

A good story is told in Peterborough of an incident that occurred during the last provincial elections. The day for the nominating of the candidates throughout the province was drawing near and those who were in charge of the Liberal organization in East Peterborough were anxious to secure a good speaker for the joint meeting that is always held at the close of the nomination proceedings in the village hall of Norwood, the east riding capital.

Mr. N. Jeffrey, a well known Western Ontario Liberal stumper, was communicated with by telephone, and was asked to come to Peterborough on nomination day to speak for the Liberal candidate. It turned out afterwards that lot had not been made plain to Mr. Jeffrey that it was at Norwood in East Peterborough and not at the city in West Peterborough, that he was to speak.

The day for the nomination proceedings arrived and Mr. E. S. Clarry, of Peterborough, who was assisting in the Liberal organization in East Peterborough, took the train to Norwood, expecting to find Mr. Jeffrey on board and to meet Mr. Anderson the Liberal candidate in Norwood. He was very much surprised to find that Mr. Jeffrey was not on board the train, but concluded that he had probably arrived at Norwood the night before. However, after arriving at Norwood, where the Liberal candidate, Mr. Anderson, already was, his hopes were further blighted by learning that Mr. Jeffrey was still nowhere to be found. The situation was desperate. The Conservatives had Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, one of the leading barristers of Peterborough, and now a leading member of the Winnipeg bar, to be their chief speaker Mr. Anderson made no pretence at speaking and his chief orator had not arrived. When the gravity of the situation was being discussed Mr. Clarry was called up over the 'phone from Peterborough, and informed that Mr. Jeffrey had by mistake got on the train at Peterborough thinking it was there he had to speak, but stating also that he was being put through to Norwood as fast as a team of horses could bring him.

However, the hour for the joint meeting was already at hand. It was decided that Mr. Moore, the Conservative candidate, should speak first, Mr. Anderson, the Liberal candidate, next, then Mr. Dennistoun for the Conservatives, and when Mr. Jeffrey arrived, if he ever did arrive, he was to follow Mr. Dennistoun. The minutes soon flew by. Mr. Anderson's speech in the matter of brevity was only surpassed by that of Mr. Moore, and soon Mr. Dennistoun was at it. He waded in at a terrific clip on the alleged inquiries of the Ross Government. He spoke of the disorganization of the North Renfrew the cruise of the Minnie M, the ballot switching, and the bribery generally that had been charged against the Provincial Liberal party. A statement made by Mr. Dennistoun which afterwards caused roars of laughter, was, "Now gentlemen, the gentleman who is to follow me—I don't know his name, will tell you that the Conservative party has no policy. Just watch and see if he doesn't, notwithstanding the planks of the Conservative party I have enumerated to you. Just wait and I'll bet you he will say that our party has no policy."

The Liberals in the audience were becoming very restless. Their anxiety for the arrival of their speaker grew intense. Mr. Clarry kept running to the door of the hall and looking up the street of the village in the hope that there might be some sign of their speaker. The roads were very heavy by reason of a fresh fall of snow, and it was doubtful if he would arrive in time. As Mr. Dennistoun was giving his final words of advise to the electors of East Peterborough, however a team of chestnut horses attached to a cutter bespattered with snow and steam from the poor animals, hove in sight. It was Mr. Jeffrey. He was cold and hungry, not having had anything to eat since early morning.

"What have they been talking about? What shall I speak on?" were his first words to Mr. Clarry.

"Talk corruption to beat the band, and prove that they are the worst," was all the answer that Mr. Jeffrey got in reply.

When he entered the hall Mr. Dennistoun had concluded. The Liberals in the audience gave a sigh of relief. The chairman introduced Mr. Jeffrey to the meeting and with nembed fingers and cheeks that were still red with the cold he started his introductory remarks.

"I assure you, gentlemen, that it affords me a great deal of pleasure in speaking in a riding that has for so many years been represented so ably by your former member, Hon. J. R. Stratton."

Then there was an uproar of laughter The Liberal candidate looked pained and Mr. Clarry sprang accross the platform and held a hurried whispered conversation with the speaker and explained to him that he was not in West Peterborough, which had been represented by Mr. Stratton, but in East Peterborough, which had for many years been represented by the late Thos. Blezzard.

Having been geographically set right Mr. Jeffrey once more waded in to deal a passing tribute to the alleged Tory platform. "Why gentlemen they have no policy," shouted Mr. Jeffrey, and the audience once more went wild with amusement, remembering Mr. Dennistoun's statement of some minutes before. But Mr. Jeffrey was not long in getting warmed up to his subject. He talked about the corruption of former Conservative Governments, quoted statistics to prove that since confederation more Tories had been unseated than Grits, and assured the audience that the Tories were past masters in the art of corruption whem compared to Grits. He aroused great enthusiasm, made a good campaign speech, notwithstanding the fact that he had not heard the previous speakers' remarks and charges. At the conclusion of the meeting stalwart old Liberals from the surrounding townships crowded around Mr Jeffrey, tightly grasped his hand, and expressed their joy on that he had arrived in time to save the day for the party. But Mr. Jeffrey could not tarry, his train was about due to carry him back west. Soon he was on board anxiously awaiting the first call to supper, for it was now after five o'clock and he had not had anything to eat since early morning. But he had played the game and he had the satisfaction of knowing one week later that Mr. Anderson, the Liberal candidate, was one of the few Liberals elected east of Toronto.

I have much pleasure in testifying to the marvelous good which I have received from the use of the famous tablets "Fruit-a-tives". I was a great sufferer for many years with serious liver disease and severe constipation. I had constant pain in the right side and in the back and these pains were severe and distressing. My digestion was very bad, with frequent headaches, and I became greatly run down in health. I took many kinds of liver pills and liver medicine without any benefit, and I was treated by several doctors but nothing did me any good, bloating continued. As soon as I began to take "Fruit-a-tives" I began to feel better, the dreadful pains in the right side and back were easier and when I had taken three boxes I was practically well. 150

THE ICE RACES IN HASTINGS

Examiner special.

Hastings, Feb. 14.—Hastings people were in a high pitch of excitement today over the races. Although the weather might have been more favourable, the track not being in very good condition, having a considerable quantity of water on it. The races commenced at 2 o'clock on Tuesday. The green, or farmers' race, was run first and the following owners entered horses: Dr. Wilson, Mr. James Stinson, Mr. Sam Heatherly, Mr. J. Conroy and Mr. Taylor Huycke.

In the first heat, Dr. Wilson's horse fell and Mr. Stinson's won the first, Heatherly's and Convey's coming next, Mr. Taylor Huycke's horse also fell, but to rise no more, as it died almost instantly on the track. The race continued and Dr. Wilson's horse won it by a close margin. Mr. Stinson's took second place, and Mr. Heatherly's third. Dr. Wilson's horse did well under the circumstances and the people of Hastings were overjoyed that first money was taken in the village and not by an outsider.

The first heat of the 2.18 was easily won by City Queen, but in the second heat she cut one of her front feet which greatly hindered her in the next heats. She had a very hard horse to compete against in Jim Kay, and she won by a very close margin in the last heat.

In the matched race Biron Jay won two heats easily, but in the last heat it was closely contested by Godfrey's Pride, driven by his owner, Mr. Dick Walsh. This horse seemed to have hard luck, the cutter breaking in the first, the interfering straps troubling him in the next and she lost the last by a mere accident in breaking close to the stand.

SLUSH! THE BYWORD USED TO-DAY

Water, water everywhere,
And the sidewalks inundated.

The submarine condition of the pavements in many parts of the city was not the most delightful sight that greeted pedestrians to-day. Many in fact, were making a mess like ducks and here and there a few uncomplimentary things were said of the drains which were not in the best of condition. As a result, many a lakelet and lagoon of a few hours birth decorated the road side and several streets would qualify for the Venetian Order of Canals.

BUS BROKE DOWN; PASSENGERS WALKED

Accident to the Oriental Bus Yesterday Afternoon.

The Oriental hotel bus, while returning from the G. T. The near sleigh was broken in some way and further progress made impossible. No one was hurt, although the driver had a spill.

HOUSE HAS SHORT SESSION.

Legislature Sits For Half-Hour on Routine Business.

Toronto, Feb. 15.—The brief session of the Legislature yesterday was devoted to wiping three questions by members off the order paper.

Mr. O. B. McCoig (West Kent) enquired: 1. Has the Government decided to grant fishing licenses to fishermen on the River Thames this year. 2. If, not, is it the intention of the Government to make any provision for granting licenses to fish in Lake St. Clair, to those fishermen deprived of licenses on the River Thames?

Hon. Dr. Reaume, replying, said the Government had decided last year not to grant licenses for seine fishing on the River Thames for two years. Fishermen thus deprived of their licenses might procure licenses to fish in Lake St. Clair or elsewhere by an application in the usual way without special provisions.

Hon. A. G. Mackay asked: Does the Government intend, during this session, to introduce further legislation in the matter of guarding life in case of accidents through fire, imperfect construction relating to ingress, egress, or otherwise, in public buildings?

"The Government has under consideration," replied Hon. Mr. Matheson, "legislation governing moving picture exhibits and other matters."

"Is that any answer?" queried the Liberal leader.

"I think so," was the Provincial Treasurer's brief response.

Mr. J. A. Auld (South Essex) asked: When did the Government purchase the steamer "Lurline." 2. From whom. 3. What amount was paid. 4. In what year was the boat built. 5. Who inspected the hull before purchase. 6. What amount of repairs were made after purchase. 7. On what date was the steamer wrecked. 8. What effort was made to save the steamer. 9. Has the wreckage been sold, and if so, to whom, and for what amount. 10. What was the amount of insurance held, and has the insurance money been paid?

Hon. Dr. Reaume replied to the queries in order: 1, Oct. 4, 1907; 2, J. Walker; 3, $10,000; 4, 1888; 5, Wm. E. Redway; 6, none; 7, Oct. 28, 1907; 8, the services of the Molten Dredging Co. of Goderich were secured; 9, the engine and boiler were sold to the highest bidder for $950; 10, none.

Hon. Mr. Foy's measure respecting inquiries concerning public matters was put through its committee stage without discussion.

MANY CHILDREN SCALDED.

Boiler Explodes at Public School—Pupils and Teacher Injured.

Adrian, Mo., Feb. 15.—An explosion of a boiler in the basement of the public school yesterday tore away the floor of the primary department and precipitated a teacher and 60 pupils into the basement, burning and scalding many of them frightfully. The teacher and half of the pupils sustained severe injuries. Many of the children were taken out in an unconscious condition, and some of the larger boys engaged in the work of rescue were overcome by smoke.

A son of M. D. Spangler suffered the most serious injuries, his hands being blown almost off and his body scalded. Miss Maud Morgan, the teacher, was found under a pile of hot cinders and other rubbish. She was severely burned. The son of William Bulleck was thrown through a window and severely cut. The older boys of the school jumped into the basement at the risk of their lives and continued their efforts at rescue until every child was found.

The cause of the explosion is unknown. The building is a two-storey brick, containing ten rooms. The property damage was $8,000.

Court Interpreter Arrested But Convict Confesses the Crime.

Montreal, Feb. 15.—The peace and crown office safe at the court house was robbed of $1,700 in December and A. Hobeika, a Syrian court-house interpreter, is awaiting trial before the Court of King's Bench on a charge of being the thief.

J. A. St. Julien, his lawyer, announces that he has received a confession from a convict at St. Vincent de Paul that he committed the robbery. This man is George Pigeon, who was recently sentenced to serve seven years' imprisonment on various charges of robbery and forgery. Pigeon had only completed a five years' sentence a short time before and soon resorted to his old tricks.

Mr. St. Julien is going to investigate the confession.

WRECKED BY TORNADO.

Fierce Storm in Texas—Several Killed and Many Injured.

Tyler, Texas, Feb. 15.—Tyler was swept by the most disastrous tornado in its history before daylight yesterday. Coming from the southwest, the storm swept over the main residential quarter of the city, leaving a trail of death and devastation.

The known dead in Tyler are C. A. Francis, agent of the Dallas News, and his wife and baby, an aged negro, Moses Lee. Francis' body was found a hundred yards from his wrecked home. The body of his child was found in the street. Mrs. Francis was in the wreckage of the building.

Six seriously injured persons are reported. The death list in Tyler may reach a dozen, and the injured will probably aggregate two score.

Twelve buildings were wrecked. In the confusion it is difficult to compile an accurate list of the casualties.

It is impossible to ascertain the loss of life in the rural regions, but it is known that the tornado swept everything clean for a distance of five miles. Three miles from town the wind demolished the home of Irwin Franklin, severely injuring Franklin, his wife and their four children. The tornado tore a path through Tyler, 100 feet wide. Buildings, telephone and electric light poles were laid flat in the storm's path, while great damage was done in other parts of the city.

Little Towns Wiped Out.

Hattiesburg, Miss., Feb. 15.—A tornado passed over Jones County, north of here yesterday and three small towns, Moselville, Laurel and Nose, are reported blown away.

The noon northbound passenger train got a few miles north of Laurel and could not proceed because of the wreckage, and returned to Laurel. The passengers said they saw half a dozen dead negroes, but could not estimate the probable number dead. At Service, Miss., near Laurel, the home of Ike Holloway, white, was blown away and two of his children killed.

Boy's Head Cut Off.

Prince Albert, Sask., Feb. 15.—Earl McLeod, the 8-year-old son of J. D. McLeod, proprietor of the Prince Albert Hotel, was instantly killed yesterday morning. He went to the station on his father's 'bus and while the driver was checking trunks, the horses started up. The lad could not hold them, and as the 'bus overturned the edge struck the top of the boy's head, cutting it off.

Prince Expelled From France.

Paris, Feb. 15.—The Italian Prince De Forlosa, a well-known member of the Travelers' Club, has been expelled from France by a decree signed by Premier Clemenceau. The prince asserts that he is the victim of the intrigues of his personal enemies. On the other hand, the police states that the decree of expulsion was issued because their attention had been called to his mode of living, which was far beyond his means.

The prince has instructed the Maitre Clemenceau, brother of the Premier, to begin suit to rescind the decree.

Maritime Express Wrecked.

Moncton, N.B., Feb. 15.—The Maritime Express, No. 34, was wrecked one mile west of Memramcook yesterday. Part of the engine and the postal and Pullman cars are off the track. The cause is said to be a broken rail. The train was in charge of Driver Lightbody and Conducter John Berry. An auxiliary left here at 1 o'clock. No one was hurt. This makes five accidents in three days.

Rioting in Bombay.

Bombay, Feb. 15.—Serious rioting occurred here Thursday evening during the course of the celebrations of the Muharram, the first month of the Mohammedan year, arising from disputes between the Sunnites, or orthodox section, and the Shiahs, the second great division of Mohammedans.

Eventually the troops were called out and cleared in the streets.

A Marvelous Improvement.

It has remained for Canada to give to the musical world one of the most important inventions of the century. This is the Harmonic Tone-Prolonging Bridge, which is so marked a feature of the New Scale Williams Piano. This bridge isolates the tone from the plate, and makes each note clear and distinct. Those who have listened to the full, rich, mellow, singing tone of the New Scale Williams Piano can testify to its purity volume and carrying power.

New Scale Williams Piano is perfectly balanced—treble, middle and bass being beautifully proportioned. This is a noticeable feature in concert work, and is highly praised by artists. Mr. E. T. Murray, leader of the famous "Black Watch" Band says, "The tone is more like a fine Baby Grand than an Upright." And the Harmonic Tone-Prolonging Bridge is but one of many exclusive features in these—Canada's finest pianos. 4

KIDNAPPED HER CHILDREN.

Plucky Woman Arrested After an Adventurous Drive.

Detroit, Feb. 15.—Mrs. Bessie Rumble, who kidnapped her two children, Hazel, aged 7, and Winnifred, aged 5, from the Children's Aid Society in Chatham, Ont., last Friday and drove from Chatham to Robert's Landing, nearly 20 miles, in an open wagon, with the thermometer hovering around the zero mark, and then drove across the St. Clair River on the ice to the Michigan side, was arrested Thursday night by two immigration inspectors. With Mrs. Rumble were found her husband, Albert, who arrived in Detroit Thursday, and Miss Lizzie Siddle, aged 21, who landed in Detroit about three months ago.

The inspectors say they will all be deported.
